Alfred Obst Is Fatally Injured In Gun Accident

Rifle Trips Trigger When Youth Takes Firearms Up to Examine.

Alfred Obst, 22, was fatally injured Thursday afternoon about 5:30 when a .22 caliber rifle accidentally discharged a .410 gauge shotgun, the charge of which struck him in one side of the face and killed him instantly.

Alfred and his older brother, Herbert, 25, went to the field with a rack to get fodder. They decided to take their guns along to shoot rabbits.

Funeral rites for the youth were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 at St. Paul Lutheran church with Rev. G. Gieschen and the Hiscox service in charge.

Surviving Alfred are his parents, three sisters, Mrs. Louise Rushman of Wayne, Helen and Norma Jean, at home, and four brothers, Herbert, Arnold, Melvin and Norman all at home.

Seventy Years Old.

The West Point Republican, published by E. M. Von Seggern for 24 years, has just had another birthday. It was founded 70 years ago, and is one of the oldest weekly publications in the state.

Strikes Out of Order.

Many things do not make sense in these troublous times, and one of them is inability to avoid strikes in plants devoted to carrying out defense plans at a time when increased production is urgent.

Services Are Conducted for Mrs. Ferne Pippitt at Church Sunday.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 for Mrs. Ferne Pippitt, 49, of Hoskins, who passed away Thursday evening in a Norfolk hospital following an illness of several months.

Deceased leaves three children, Bette Pippitt and Kathryn Pippitt, who are in school at Wayne, and Paul at Hoskins.

Now Comes Rosen-blatt.

Some individuals prefer poor publicity to none, and perhaps that is the reason Harold Ickes keeps up his attempts to discredit the newspapers.

Like Ickes, Rosenblatt misunderstands and misinterprets motives of the newspapers.

Blaze Damages Winside Store

Fire Department Arrives Before Manager Knows Danger Threatening.

Fire of undetermined origin damaged the Farmers Union store at Winside extensively Tuesday afternoon. Wm. Meyer, manager, and Julius Eckert, assistant, who were in the office at the time, were not aware of the blaze in the back of the building until the fire department arrived.

The damages amount to over $500. The fire started in the battery charging room. Drums of oil in the room were badly swollen but fortunately didn't explode.

Camp Celebrates Unusual Record

Supervisors Commend Boys At Winside for Two Years of Safety.

Two years without a lost time accident is the remarkable record made at Winside CCC camp. During this time the boys worked a total of 52,000 man days and had driven a total of 250,000 miles under the supervision of the soil conservation personnel and not a single boy was injured seriously enough to cause him not to be able to go to the field to work.

To Commemorate this splendid record the boys were served a special steak dinner by the army on Friday, November 15.

Jaw Is Fractured In Auto Accident

Lloyd Bermal, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bermal of Pierce, suffered a fractured jaw Saturday evening about 7 when his car and one driven by a man from Broken Bow collided at the corner six miles west of Winside on the Hoskins highway. Mr. Bermal was taken to a Norfolk hospital. Both cars were badly damaged.

Takes Own Life At Nearby Farm Early Thursday

Mrs. Harry C. Fisher Found Lifeless by Husband On Return Home.

Mrs. Harry C. Fisher, 44, took her own life at the Fisher farm a mile south and a half mile west of LaPorte church southeast of Wayne Thursday morning, November 21, about 9 o'clock.

Mr. Fisher took Harriet Ann Fisher, 8, only child in the family, to the parochial school Thursday morning to a program. When he returned alone about 9:30 he found his wife's lifeless body hanging by a rope in the chicken house.

Mrs. Fisher had been failing in health for several years and had consulted a doctor just the night before. She had been very dependent for some time.

Funeral rites for Mrs. Fisher were conducted Sunday at 2 at the Hyspe funeral parlors in Wakefield with Rev. W. A. Gerdes in charge.

Mrs. Fisher's maiden name was Helen Bertha Lubbers. She was born June 28, 1896, in Thurston county, Neb. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith.

Mrs. Fisher was an active worker in the church in Wakefield during her residence there and had been faithful in St. Paul's church south of Wakefield.

Deceased leaves her husband and daughter, her mother, Mrs. Johanna Lubbers of Pender, five sisters, Mrs. Herman Asmussen of Pender, Mrs. Henry Tonjes of Wisner, Mrs. Herman Freese of Walthill, Mrs. Henry Schademam of Pender, and Mrs. Thomas Tuite of Omaha, and two brothers, John Lubbers of Pender, and Henry Lubbers of Linn Grove, Ia.

Tragedy Takes Lives of Couple On Thanksgiving

Former Resident Here and In Wakefield Perishes With Her Husband.

Gas fumes from a fire starting in their home while they were sleeping took the lives Thanksgiving day of Mr. and Mrs. Amer Lentz of Yakima, Wash., the latter a daughter of Mrs. Irma Brown of Wakefield, and formerly of Wayne.

The fact that the blaze destroyed the entire home and all its contents delayed receiving information of the tragedy here until Saturday. It is supposed that a friend of the couple knew family connections here and sent word.

Raymond Brown of Minneapolis, a twin brother of Mrs. Lentz, has contacted authorities at Yakima several times in an effort to learn details.

The bodies will arrive the last of this week in Omaha when funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon from the Kenneth Gold & Son funeral home. Burial will be at Avoca, Neb.

Mrs. Lentz was formerly Rita Brown. She was born at Wilcox, Neb., January 15, 1908. She lived in Wayne from 1920 to 1925 and attended the Wayne high school.

Mrs. Lentz leaves her mother, Mrs. Irma Brown of Wakefield, her twin brother, Raymond of Minneapolis, a sister, Mrs. Julia Tobias of Omaha, and a brother and a sister, John and Miss Frances, both of Wakefield. Mr. Lentz leaves his father, L. R. Lentz and a sister, both of Columbus, Ohio.

Pioneer Passes At Home Near Wayne Monday

Rites for Henry W. Lessman Will Be Conducted at Church Today.

Henry W. Lessman

Henry W. Lessman, one of the earliest residents in this vicinity, passed away Monday morning at 2 o'clock at his home five and a half miles northeast of Wayne.

Funeral rites will be conducted this Thursday afternoon at 1 from the home and at 1:30 from Immanuel Lutheran church with Rev. F. C. Doctor and the Beckenhauer service in charge.

Henry W. Lessman was born in Hultshausen, Synova, Germany, August 10, 1851. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith in his native land.

Mr. Lessman moved to Illinois and married Miss Sophie Voight at Quincy November 17, 1873. The couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1923 and would have celebrated their 60th wedding a few months after Mrs. Lessman's death March 26, 1933.

Mr. Lessman bought land north of Wayne in 1883 and the family moved here in 1884. Mr. Lessman was a progressive farmer and was also active in providing his community with good telephone and mail service, also improved roads.

Mr. Lessman leaves five children, Mrs. Fred Flege, Mrs. James Hank and Paul Lessman of this vicinity, the last named being on the home place, Charles Lessman of Sidney, and Herbert Lessman of Des Moines. Four children preceded him in death, Mrs. Henry Bartling, Mrs. Fred Luth, George Lessman and Harry Lessman.

CHRISTMAS PLANS IMPART ENLIVENED SPIRIT TO WAYNE

WAYNE is in step with metropolitan centers in getting pre-Christmas activities started early. It has been the habit in rural communities like Wayne to lag behind and thus give large cities a considerable lead.

Disbarment Is Heard in Court

Bar Association Charges Against Wayne Lawyer Under Adversement.

Disbarment proceedings filed against C. H. Hendrickson, Wayne attorney, were presented before the state supreme court Wednesday last week.

The state bar association recommended that Hendrickson be disbarred for "professional misconduct" and for "violations of the canons of the bar association."

Webb Rice of Norfolk, attorney for Hendrickson, urged that the court "use caution against his client because of his long career as an attorney and the fact that no client has suffered injury because of his record."

Assistant Attorney General Beek said: "There is evidence that Hendrickson conducted himself in such a manner that the attorneys of his home bar should testify against him, and this is of itself evidence against Hendrickson. After all the years of his practice at the bar, not one single attorney appeared to testify in his behalf."

Red Cross Drive Is Nearing Close

Workers Are Urged to Make Reports to Chairman Last of Week.

Wayne county Red Cross drive is to be completed this week and all workers are urged to leave reports as soon as possible with Mrs. Frank Heine, chairman, or at the Herald office.

Urge Residents To Arrange for Lighting Homes

Will Broadcast Christmas Music in Wayne During Holiday Period.

Residents of Wayne are urged to plan for their Christmas home lighting as the committee hopes to have the city in attractive array by Sunday, December 15.

Lyle DeMoss and his radio entertainers from Omaha, presented a pre-Christmas feature at the auditorium Wednesday afternoon.

A loud speaker system has been installed atop the State National bank and Christmas carols will resound through the business district during pre-holiday weeks.

The pre-Christmas opening held in Wayne Friday evening was attended by a large crowd. Windows of the business houses were attractively decorated with new Christmas merchandise, made especially effective by special lighting.

The free public dance held in the municipal auditorium attracted many. Brownie Walters and his Cornhuskers from Sioux City furnished music. The auditorium was decorated with Christmas wreaths and festoons put up by Chamber of Commerce members.

Children visited Santa Claus at his igloo at the city hall Saturday. He will greet children again this Saturday from 3 to 5.

First of the free movies is set for December 7.

The Chamber of Commerce has designated next week as mailing days early so they will be sure to reach their destination in time and so post office congestion will be relieved.

Funeral Rites Are Conducted

John R. Phipps Passes at Wayne Late Wednesday After Brief Illness.

Funeral rites were conducted Friday afternoon at 2 from the Hyspe parlors for John R. Phipps, 79, who passed away here Wednesday evening, November 20, after a week's illness. Rev. W. F. Dierring, Presbyterian minister, officiated, and Mrs. T. T. Jones sang "The Old Rugged Cross." Interment followed in Greenwood cemetery.

John R. Phipps was born March 16, 1861, at Muscatine, Ia. He grew to manhood there and married Miss Harriett Emma Davis at that place July 2, 1882. The couple lived in Iowa for a few years and then went to Watertown, S. D. They lived at Yankton seven years before coming to Wayne 28 years ago. Mr. Phipps engaged in the oil business. Deceased retired in 1933.

Mrs. Phipps died here in 1920. Surviving Mr. Phipps are two children, Walter L. Phipps of Wayne, and Mrs. Gertrude Nesselroad of Attila, Kan. There are seven grandchildren. Mr. Phipps also leaves three brothers and two sisters. Ben of Spearfish, S. D., Willis and Ela of Bagley, Ia., Mrs. Arta Schoonover of Louisville, Minn., and Mrs. Hannah Johnson of Bagley.

Relatives here from a distance for the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Phipps of Tekamah, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Davis of Craig, the men nephews of Mr. Phipps, and Frank Brownson of Marshall, Minn., father of Mrs. Phipps.

Palbearers were J. H. Pile, Geo. Bornhoff, Van Bradford, Henry Foltz, W. A. Hiscox and Dale Lindsay.

Winside Cagers to Play Home Games

New Auditorium Available To School for First Home Game Schedule in Years.

For more than a decade Winside high school "homeless" basketball teams have been making a mark for themselves in north-central Nebraska competition. Year after year these scarlet and white clad Ramblers have been turning in winning seasons—all without the benefit of a home court for return games or even practice facilities.

But this year it's a different story. Winside's new municipal auditorium has been made available to the high school and fans there will get a chance to see their boys play host on nine different occasions in this, the first year of basketball played at Winside in almost a quarter of a century.

Couch Quillen Fox, former Wayne State star, has been working out with a squad of twenty-two boys, including four letter-men, Earl Davis, Kenneth Baird, Jack Neely and Waldon Smith. Another veteran of last season, Larry Davenport, will probably be able to play later in the season. John Lynch, transfer student from Omaha Tech, will be eligible for play at the opening of the second semester, and his addition is expected to bolster the team considerably.

The Ramblers played their first game of the season Tuesday evening when they tangled with the high school alumni.

Season's Schedule. The season's regular schedule is as follows: Dec. 3, Carroll here; Dec. 10, Belden here; Dec. 19, Wayne Prep here; Jan. 7, Laurel there; Jan. 10, Wisner here; Jan. 21, Beemer here; Jan. 24, Coleridge there; Jan. 28, Carroll here; Jan. 31, Stanton here; Feb. 4, Belden there; Feb. 7, Sacred Heart at Norfolk; Feb. 11, Laurel here; Feb. 13, 14, 15, Carroll tournament; Feb. 21, Wausa here; Feb. 28, Coleridge here.

Transact Business In City Monday

C. R. Lindstrom, instructor in mechanical arts at Peru State Teachers college, has been granted a leave of absence by the state normal board which met Monday at Lincoln. Mr. Lindstrom has accepted a position in the national defense program.

E. L. Rouse, acting president of Chadron State college, reported to the board that 48 men and two women had received pilot certificates under the CAA student pilot training program. He also reported that 18 men and two women had been graduated in May and 30 men in August from the CAA course.

Dr. J. T. Anderson and Dr. Walter Beattie of Wayne, attended the board meeting.

Sullivan Tutors Wayne Gridders To Fine Record

Blue Are Only High School Team in State to Hold All Opponents Scoreless in Undefeated Campaign.

Frank Sullivan, who last week completed his first season as head football coach at Wayne high school, has this year turned in quite a record with his blue and white gridders—a record that stands all alone in state high school competition. The Wayne eleven is the only Nebraska high school team that completed the campaign undefeated, untied and unscored on, chalking up the best season in 40 years of football at Wayne high.

In eight games the Blues chalked up a total of 104 points while blanking all opponents. Margins of victory ranged from the opening 6-0 win at Pierce to the 26-0 trouncing over Hartington.

Four Losses in Three Years. Coach Sullivan, a graduate of the State Teachers college at Greeley, Colo., has tasted defeat only four times in three years of coaching eleven-man football teams. In his previous duties at Edgar high school he tutored squads that were consistent winners and leaders in that conference. Starting the season here with eight veterans, Sullivan drilled his boys so efficiently that they seemed to improve with each encounter. That he did a praiseworthy job is further evidenced by the selection of three members of his team to all conference posts and the unanimous choice of two others for the all-conference second team.

With the loss of ten men, most of them linemen, the Blue's momentum is already on the look-out for likely prospects to form a capable front line for his returning star backfield which is expected to perform even more brilliantly in next year's campaign.

CONGRESS AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

This town had a great Thanksgiving day. It is enjoying the biggest boom in history, and advertisements say that people who live here "should be thankful for all the good business they are getting."

This congressional office has many farm bulletins which are available to people throughout the district and those interested in same should write to the congressional office for a list of these bulletins which will be sent to them on request.

Reporters representing the agencies which get out financial gossip letters to customers, are making the rounds of members again. Several of these say they have information that there may not be any new forms of taxation or inflation next year, but there will be increases in all kinds of taxation and possibly some more groups. These same reporters say that another report has started circulating indicating that if there is a stalemate in the war next spring, there may be some kind of a peace move started.

Members of the Dies committee tell their colleagues, after issuing their "white paper," that there is some sabotage in the United States. They admit that they are not getting as much support in their investigations of communistic activities as they are in their work with other "isms."

This congress, if it quits by Christmas, will have a long record. The new congress convenes on January 3. The president will be inaugurated on noon January 20, in front of the capitol building.

Fortyfour democrats joined the republican bloc and defeated the motion to adjourn this congress, sine die. Many members stated that in view of the present emergency, this congress should remain in session even though only a few members stay in the city.

The Walter-Logan bill which would put a curb on federal bureaus and get a closer check on their activities, may be taken up in this congress if the proponents of the measure have their way.

Former Governor Arthur Weaver has been in town several days on personal business. He tells friends that he has just sold 5,000 bushels of apples from his orchards to a Nebraska chain store system.

The White House painting and repairing have been completed and visitors are again allowed to visit the usual portion of the grounds and the building. The ban against visitors, according to reports, was not due to the war but merely because of the repair work. The additional police around the grounds are still on the job.

Although the 76th congress appropriated and authorized over 25 1/2 billion dollars, it is not known at this time just what the bill for the next fiscal year will amount to. That it will be very large is indicated by the news that the army alone will come in for a primary budget of over 8 1/2 billion dollars.

Those who failed to get parts last Sunday are asked to see their teachers. Juniors and seniors are asked to come to rehearsals as they will comprise the choir for the play.

A Christmas cantata, "The Heavenly Child," by Hamblen, will be presented by the choir at a candle light service December 8 at 8 p. m. Everyone is welcome. The choir has worked hard for several months and a large attendance will be a reward. Come and bring your friends.

Next Sunday a new church year starts. Let us begin the new year with attendance at church to prepare ourselves aright for the celebration of the birth of our Lord. Then you will know the joy and peace of real Christmas which the world without cannot know.

Christian Science Services

"Ancient and Modern Neuro-nancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, December 1.

The Golden Text is "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else" (Isaiah 45:22).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places" (Ephesians 6:11,12).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple within in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing. Christian experience teaches faith in the right and disbelief in the wrong. It bids us work the more earnestly in times of persecution, because then our labor is more needed" (p. 29).

Travel in Air Is Found Safer Than on Roads

Absence of ditches and traffic jams makes flying in the air safer than driving on the road, according to Lieut. Dale Everton who has been visiting here and with his folks at Crofton before going to San Diego to be stationed in coastal defense.

Mr. Everton, who was in the Kirkman drug store here before leaving about two years ago for Florida, where he joined the marines, received his flight training at Pensacola and Miami. He was graduated November 5 from the advanced course in dive bombing, machine gunning and torpedo bombing. In San Diego he will be attached to the Second Marine Aircraft group. He will do patrol duty and will fly off aircraft carriers. His duty may take him as far as the Philippines.

Dale's class included 52 when training started in Florida and 19 finished the work. A good many find they are not adapted to flying. Training for the marines demands clear thinking and quick decisions. The men are leaders in guard service and are trained to go into the lead either with the army or navy.

One in the middle west probably does not realize how tremendous are the preparations for defense. One of the very large new flying fields is at Corpus Christi, Texas. Many recruits in all branches of service are being trained. Coastal guard will be greatly strengthened and will extend farther than ever out into both oceans. Every strange ship approaching shore will be investigated.

Munitions and airplane factories are under extra heavy guard. In spite of this, recent destruction in plants indicates that some secret foreign agents are attempting to hinder defense preparations.

Dale has had the privilege of using the new bomb-sight which he acclaims as a wonderful invention. The army and navy each has one type of bomb-sight, and one has been given to England for use in the west. He will serve two more years with the marines.

George Goetzke, 76, of Pilger, died last week.

Tease Appetites With Coffee "Strips"

JUST three times as good are these snack-specialties coffee strips with coffee in the batter, coffee frosting on top and fragrant hot coffee to drink with them! You can have your own snack bar for afternoon coffee with this simple basic recipe. Just varying the topping to suit yourself! Coffee is one flavor which bears repeating, as this recipe for these easy-to-do's will prove to you.

Coffee Strips: 1/4 cup shortening, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1/2 cup cocoa, 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1/2 cup double-strength coffee, freshly made, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Combine sugar, corn syrup and coffee in saucepan. Cook slowly stirring constantly until sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking until the syrup forms a hard ball in cold water (254° F.). Add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff. Add syrup slowly beating constantly until frosting is stiff enough to spread on cake. Sprinkle 1/3 of the top of the frosted cake with shaved bitter chocolate. Leave 1/2 plain and on the remaining 1/2 pecan halves placed at intervals.

Lot Case Argued In Supreme Court

In oral arguments Wednesday last week the supreme court in Lincoln was asked to reverse the district court decision affirming a transaction between Walter S. Bressler, Wayne city clerk, and Donald S. Wightman. Bressler bought lots which the city was foreclosing on for paying tax assessment and later decided these to Wightman for $1,500. C. H. Hendrickson attacked the transaction and appealed to the supreme court after the district court had approved the sale. H. E. Simer was attorney for the city. Decision of the supreme court is expected within a few weeks.

Training Indians To Support Selves

Women from Macy address Wayne Club Friday on Plan Followed.

To make Indians self-supporting is the aim of training at the Indian school at Macy, according to Mrs. M. R. Mortensen who addressed Wayne Women's club Friday afternoon at the club rooms. Mrs. Mortensen's husband heads the Macy school, the only one of its kind in Nebraska.

There are 360,000 Indians in 192 tribes on 200 reservations in the United States. Two types of schools are established, according to Mrs. Mortensen, the boarding schools and day schools. The Macy institution is a day school with 405 children attending, 130 of them whites. Teachers are all civil service employees and must have degrees, there being 22 employees and 12 teachers. About 250 of the children are brought in three large busses from the vicinity to school each day.

Training in the school, from kindergarten through high school, is designed to make Indians self-supporting. In connection with the school are 80 acres of land which the boys farm. Half of the produce goes to the school and half to the boys. Thoroughbred stock and chickens are raised. Girls are taught best home keeping methods. They learn canning, sewing, cooking, etc.

A doctor and nurse check the health of students and marked improvement is noted. Cleanliness is also emphasized. An eye specialist and dentist also examine pupils. Hot lunches are available at noon in the school and 35¢ take advantage of these. Graham crackers and milk are served to little folks in the morning for many of the children come to school without breakfast.

The work is designed also to help fit the Indians into society. High school parties are conducted once a month and at these proper manners are stressed. Each year the 5th graders are taken to Sioux City, 6th graders to Lincoln and the high school to Omana. Students learn much from these inspection trips.

The school works also with parents, conducting training each Wednesday for 345 adults. The fact that all must work for what they get is stressed. A canning kitchen is conducted Sunday to help women preserve garden produce.

Contrary to general belief, the Indian population is increasing rather than diminishing, according to Mrs. Mortensen.

Mrs. G. W. Loud, whose husband is a missionary at Macy for the Reformed Church of America, told that Indians are very religious and superstitious but to them stealing seems no sin. The whites taught them two of their bad habits, drinking and swearing. One difficulty in teaching the Bible at Macy is that the Omaha tribe has no written language. The old and young are most receptive in the religious teaching and the middle aged just don't care much about such things. The weather is too cold, too warm or too nice for them to go to church. Sunday school is attended by 90 now and the number increases to 200 at Christmas. In addition to services, the missionaries hold cottage meetings and social times and do social welfare work.

Miss Marie Stabler, accompanied by Miss Irma Lois Whitted, both of Winnebago, sang "Indian Dawn" and "Pale Moon." Miss Dortha Mortensen also came with the Macy group.

Miss Dolores McNatt sang "By the Waters of Minnetonka" and "Pale Moon." Mrs. H. A. Welch was her accompanist.

The club women decided to provide Christmas baskets for three families.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. E. Gailey, Mrs. J. T. Gillespie, Mrs. Irve Reed, Miss Harriet Fortner and Mrs. Chris Nielsen. The club meets December 6 when Mrs. Hobert Auker gives a book review.

Call to Church at Altona Is Declined

Rev. A. H. Grosse of Cedar Bluffs, who was extended a second call to be pastor of Altona Trinity church, has declined the offer. Rev. Walter Brackensick has been serving the church in addition to his duties at Grace church the past year. The Altona congregation will meet again next Sunday to extend a seventh call.

To Tulsa Convention.

Mrs. Victor West is in Tulsa, Okla., this week as delegate from the Nebraska conference to the jurisdictional convention of the Woman's Society in the Methodist church. Delegates are present from Louisiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. From Tulsa Mrs. West will go to Dallas, Texas, for a short visit with friends.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express sincere thanks and appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us during our bereavement.—Children of the late August Loberg.

To Repeat Play at Popular Request

Wayne college Alpha Psi club will reproduce the three-act comedy, "Seven Sisters," November 29 at the college auditorium because of many requests for the second presentation.

The club members who will take the parts are Ruth Harm, Betty Ellis, Eileen Polius, Laverne Maurer, Dorothy Nyquist, Donna Lou Freichs, Loren Lindburg, Willetta Walters, James Kingston, Ellis McShannon, Kenneth Pierson, Harold Loeche, Henry Laurent and Bill Hawkins. Miss Lenore P. Ramsey is director.

The farce is built around certain national traits of character and social conditions of old Hungary. Many difficulties encountered by a domineering Hungarian widow who attempts to line up eligible marriage partners for her seven daughters is portrayed. The daughters' choices differ from those of their mother.

Purchasing House.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bradford are purchasing the E. C. Perkins house at 715 Window street. The deal is in charge of M. L. Ringer.

Suplt. and Mrs. L. C. Sheppard and Norma and Gladys of Albert City, Ia., were week-end guests in the K. D. Hansen home.

PROFESSIONAL DISTRESS

NERVE STRAIN—
MENTAL ANGUISH

Doctors and their social duties sometimes have a hard time making connections, and often are the despair of their family and friends.

It may not be generally thought that the modern Doctor takes the case of the patient as much to heart as the old family physician, but those who live close to Doctors will tell you a different story. The Physician who tries to divert his mind, or fulfill social obligations, with a seriously ill patient in his thoughts, is a very absent-minded theatre companion or bridge partner.

The Doctor expecting a momentary summons, is not free from mental strain or wakeful nights. When he finds the case beyond human or scientific help, only the immediate family grieves more than the Doctor. Of course it is up to the Doctor not to show distress, and to keep nerve strain under leash, but modern Physicians take their profession seriously, and want just as sincerely to make and keep you well as the old-fashioned general practitioner.

Get acquainted with your Doctor.

Christmas Plans Started in Wayne

Proposed Missouri Bridge Arouses Speculation in Ponca Years Ago.

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for November 27, 1924: Christmas festivities started off in Wayne with plans for decorations, programs and treats.

Mrs. Richard Ritze, nee Louise Schumacher, died November 15, 1924, at the age of 52.

Adolph Rohlf of Winside, died November 23, 1924, at the age of 58.

The 14th fire in the vicinity northwest of Wayne destroyed a corncrib containing grain and machinery at the R. H. Cross farm. C. F. Montgomery is selling his Carroll hotel equipment.

A new highway to be started across northern Nebraska will pass through the country near Waterbury and Dixon.

Mrs. Richard Ritze, 52, formerly of Wayne, died at Wisner November 15, 1924.

Miss Marjorie Parmenter, Pierce county superintendent, and Attorney O. S. Spillman were married November 10, 1924.

Mrs. Richard Williams, nee Marie James of Carroll, died in Canada in November, 1924, aged 80.

Dr. S. S. Gibson of Randolph, and Miss Ruth Bartels of Carroll, were married November 27, 1924.

Mrs. Thomas Rawlings of Wakefield, sprained her back when she fell at home.

Red Cross roll call in Wakefield amounted to $146.

Temperature dropped to 12 above zero.

Mr. Lowry of Winside, underwent an operation on his eyes in Sioux City.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hoffman of Winside, born November 20, 1924, died three days later.

Wakefield plans a community Christmas tree.

The Henry Bruner is moving from Winside to California.

In Wayne in 1895.

From Wayne Herald for November 28, 1895: M. P. Savidge is building a new residence... Frank Hood killed a large wolf while hunting... The thermometer dropped to 10 below zero... Sam Hood bought the interest of M. K. Rickabaugh in the barber shop of Rickabaugh & Son... Many farmers have finished husking corn... Elmer Lundberg will begin teaching near Winside and Ed. Lundberg northeast of Wayne... New officers of the Knights of Pythias are Dr. T. B. Heckert, Ed. Reynolds, W. H. McNeal, Nathan Chace, W. L. Sedgwick, Robert Armstrong, H. D. Blanchard and P. L. Miller.

Ponca Events in 1886.

From Ponca Journal for November 25, 1886: The business of shoveling out of snow drifts called out a large shovel brigade... All postoffices were closed four hours out of respect for Ex-President Arthur whose funeral was held in New York... Another riproarious storm is predicted the middle of December and he suggested that due precautions be taken at once to prepare for the onslaught... It is ascertained that the new bridge over the Missouri will have to be about 50 feet above high water mark to allow steamboats to pass beneath it. There are bluffs to receive the Sioux City end of the bridge, but on the Nebraska side there are no bluffs nearer than Jackson. A bridge across the river therefore means a bridge from Sioux City to Jackson, and the track all that distance will have to be 40 to 50 feet above the earth's surface. When a train passes along, it will to South Sioux City spectators present a startling appearance as it winds its way far overhead among cobwebs and rafters of the universe.

But It's True

THE WOMAN WHO WATCHED A MAN EXECUTED FOR KILLING HER !!!

ON MARCH 6, 1876, IN LONDON, THOMAS THOMAS WAS PUT TO DEATH FOR BUTCHERING JANE KENT, AND THROWING HER BODY IN THE THAMES. JANE HAD NOT BEEN KILLED, SHE HAD STAGED THE 'MURDER,' LEAVING BLOOD-SPATTERED CLOTHES ON THE RIVER BANK, AFTER WATCHING HER MURDERER BEING PUT TO DEATH. SHE HAD HUNG HERSELF ON HIS BODY, SHE WAS ARRESTED AT ONCE AND PUT TO DEATH FOR THE KILLING OF THOMAS THOMAS.

Mr. Thomas, 55, married and the father of six children, got to thinking that Jane was pretty nice. He told her he was going to leave his wife and marry her. But he changed his mind and that aroused Miss Kent's wrath. She decided to kill him. Later she changed her mind, framed things so it looked as if she had been put to death. After witnessing Thomas' death, however, she felt sorry. And so, all in all, she set the stage for one of the world's most peculiar crimes.

Wayne County Rural School News

Copies of Report Sent to Directors

Copies of "An Educational Program for Nebraska," the report compiled last April as a result of the survey made by the state planning board, have been mailed by Supt. F. B. Decker to each school director in Wayne county. He asks each to read the report and then pass it on to other members of his board. The 10-point program proposed in the report suggests: A single board of control for higher education; designating the university for professional training, except some teacher training; designating teachers colleges to train rural and elementary teachers; establishing a state technical school in one of the teachers college plants; establishing a state board of elementary education; establishing six-year high schools in several cities; cutting down small four-year high schools; elimination of normal training from high schools; and merging all small rural schools.

Income on School Funds Is Reported

Total income on Nebraska school lands and investments for the biennium ending June 30, 1940, was $1,053,209.98, according to a report of the board of educational lands and funds. This sum is divided among school districts of the state every six months.

In 1864 the act which was passed to admit Nebraska as a state provided that sections 16 and 36 in every township were granted to the state for support of schools.

Some of the land is still retained and is leased for an income to help schools. Other land has been sold and the money invested, the income on the investments also being added to the fund.

Thanksgiving Dinner.

Pupils and patrons of district 88, taught by Mrs. Ella Hoimes, enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner together Tuesday noon last week at school, all but one family being present. Supt. F. B. Decker was a guest. Women of the district prepared the covered dish dinner.

Price of an Untruth.

A fixed rule of our juvenile court is that of offender must apologize to the offended person for the wrong he has done and must make restitution in case of theft or of damage to property.

If a boy or girl has been apprehended while stealing from an individual or from a store, the court finds out first how much money is involved. Then, in event the offender is eligible to probation, he must go to the offended person to apologize and arrange to repay the amount stolen. The necessary sum must be earned by the offender; it cannot be paid by the parents.

Sometimes after one of these erring youths has apologized, the business man concerned will call the judge and say, "I'm not interested in getting the money

Health Seal Sale To Be Conducted

Sale of Christmas health seals will be conducted through grade school pupils of the county between December 2 and 9. Supt. F. B. Decker distributed seals to teachers at institute in October.

That was Stolen.

The youngster feels pretty bad about it, and he has probably learned his lesson.

Then we explain it isn't a matter of the money but the principle at stake, that the offender has taken another's property and must repay it by his own efforts.

Usually the plan works out well. At present we have one lad delivering papers at 4 o'clock in the morning to repay a small amount he obtained from a business man by telling an untruth. Consequently he is learning the value of money and is paying his debt to society. Incidentally he is developing a business of his own, which will give him a foundation for future success.

BY MISS MIRIAM HUSE

Fleers Escape Luckily Monday

Mrs. Herman Fleer Wakened By Smoke Filled House In Early Morning.

The Herman Fleers escaped fortunately when Mrs. Fleer was awakened about 2:30 Monday morning by smoke in the house coming from a fire in the basement. When the Winside fire department arrived the smoke was so dense in the basement that the men were unable to enter even with gas masks. Water was poured into the basement for a half hour, until the fire seemed to be out.

The fire had started in the coal bin and had spread into the wall. It had almost broken through and had charred the wall. No wires are near to have caused a short and the furnace is not close enough.

The smoke and water damage amounts to about $150 and is covered by insurance. The house had just been redecorated this summer. The smoke damaged the upstairs, too.

Fleer's fox terrier sleeps in the basement and was smothered by the smoke.

Eight Master Farmers for 1940

Ed Erickson
Potter, Cheyenne Co.

George W. Fagot
Lexington, Dawson Co.

John Rasmussen
Plainview, Antelope Co.

Alex Peters
Lyons, Burt Co.

Albert Lindstrom
Sterling, Logan Co., Colo.

Albert Peterson
Minden, Kearney Co.

Gus Bremer
Stanton, Stanton Co.

H. S. Mehaffey
North Bend, Dodge Co.

Eight farmers—seven from Nebraska and one from northeast Colorado—were named Master Farmers for 1940 at the annual banquet in Lincoln, Tuesday night, November 28.

They are Gus Bremer, Stanton; Ed Erickson, Potter; George W. Fagot, Lexington; H. S. Mehaffey, North Bend; Alex Peters, Lyons; Albert Peterson, Minden; John Rasmussen, Plainview; and Albert Lindstrom, Sterling, Colo.

Sam R. McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska and publisher of The Nebraska Farmer, sponsor of the project, presented Master Farmer medals to the eight men.

A committee of three judges, Dr. H. C. Filley and Dr. F. D. Keim of the Nebraska College of Agriculture, and W. H. Brokaw, director of the Nebraska Agricultural Extension Service, selected the Master Farmers, their decisions based upon detailed questionnaires submitted by candidates and upon first-hand reports of each farmer written by members of The Nebraska Farmer editorial staff.

Five of these farmers have passed the half-century mark. Their average age is 50 years. The youngest is 43 and the oldest is 57. All were born on farms, and began farming in the same county in which they now live, five of them having started on their present farms.

These eight farmers have accumulated property which today has a net worth of $349,135.05, or an average net worth per farm of $43,641.88. The highest net worth is slightly more than $65,000 and the lowest slightly over $32,000. Only two have any indebtedness, leaving an average net indebtedness per farm of $3,687.50. They have made money through all the years and their total cash receipts in 1939 were $111,261.41.

The average yield of corn for all these farmers is 21 bushels per acre; wheat 16.5; oats 34; barley 31; alfalfa 2.6 tons. With the exception of two farmers who grow wheat extensively, only a small portion of the crops grown is sold, but is fed to livestock on the farm. Modern, comfortable, convenient homes are found in all these Master Farmers' places. Water systems are found on all the farms and sewage disposals and furnaces on all but one. All have electricity available for lights and power.

Here is a thumbnail sketch of each Master Farmer:

Gus Bremer, Stanton (Stanton county), probably tops the Omaha market as consistently as any person in the Midwest. This spring he rang the bell five times with six carloads of cattle. Prior to this year he has topped the Omaha market 13 out of 16 times.

Mr. Bremer was born on the farm, where he now lives, in 1888. He attributes much of his farming success to the proper handling and feeding of livestock. On his 336 acres of fertile, nicely lying Stanton county farmland, he raises all the alfalfa and corn that the weather will allow him to raise, and feeds it to his Angus and Hereford steers. In his feedlots today are 500 head of high-quality Hereford and Angus feeders.

Mr. Bremer depends upon the traditional cattle feeding ration, corn and alfalfa, to fatten his cattle for market. He believes Nebraska cattle are second to none from the standpoint of being good feeders. For the most part, he buys his Angus and Hereford steers direct from the Nebraska sandhills.

His feedlots are ideally located along the north edge of the Elk-horn valley west of Stanton. The lots are protected from chilly north winds by the rim of the hill just north of the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Bremer have all the modern conveniences in their large, well-built home. They have four small children, the eldest of whom is 10, and all attend the rural school nearby.

Ed Erickson, Potter, (Cheyenne county), is a wheat farmer, and operates 2,000 acres. He was born in 1890 in a dugout north of Potter. In 1918 and 1919 Mr. Erickson used many old steamer tractors and 10-bottom plows to break up prairie land in Cheyenne and Keith counties for wheat.

Half of his wheat ground is summer fallowed each year. The fallowed ground is plowed early in the spring and worked through the summer with rod weeders to conserve the moisture and kill the weeds. It is then sowed to wheat the last of August or the first of September. That gives the wheat plenty of time to grow up and mat the ground to keep the soil from blowing.

Mr. and Mrs. Erickson's home is a verdant shady nook in the vast area of wheatland during the harvest season. The 10-room, stucco, all-modern house is surrounded by a neat, white picket fence. Inside the fence, Mrs. Erickson has planted bluegrass, flowers, shrubs, and shade trees, making their home a secluded spot of beauty.

The most important outbuilding on the Erickson farm is the shop. There Mr. Erickson and his son, Donald, have everything in mechanical equipment and both know how to use each tool in the building. During the long winters they pull into the shop and completely overhaul each piece of equipment. They have three large crawler tractors.

George W. Fagot, Lexington, (Dawson county), lives north of Lexington, on a nicely arranged, well landscaped farmstead. This farm home was established as a homestead by Mr. Fagot, father in 1873.

The Fagots were pioneers in irrigation. One of George W. Fagot's earliest childhood recollections is the construction of the irrigation ditch in Dawson county in 1894. The use of this irrigation system throughout the year, he says, is responsible, to a large extent, for the good crops produced in that county. A pump irrigation system was installed in 1937 to supplement the ditch water and insure a stable supply of water if the ditch failed. Plenty of irrigation water and maintenance of soil fertility have been two of the chief reasons for regular crops on the Fagot farm.

Soil fertility is maintained by keeping at least one-half of the farm in alfalfa, plowing under all stalks and stubble, and spreading all manure on the land. Mr. Fagot has changed his corn planting from listing to surface planting, making the rows 36 inches wide and spacing the corn kernels about 12 inches apart in the rows. Hybrid corn is used and the soil is fall watered. He finds this thicker planting of corn brings considerably heavier yields per acre.

Livestock plays an important part in his program. A fine group of Holstein cows, 50 breeding ewes, seven brood sows and 60 feeder cattle, also a flock of turkeys make good use of the feed produced.

Two sons and one daughter attended the same country school as their father and have now taken their places in the community as good, substantial citizens. All children participated in 4-H club work and Mr. Fagot served as a local 4-H club leader for 12 years. Mrs. Fagot, too, has had her part in making the home a vital part of the life of her family. Flowers, shrubs, and a lily pool contribute much to the beauty and charm of the well-kept home.

Albert Lindstrom, Sterling (Logan county, Colorado), started to farm as a homesteader on a raw piece of Colorado prairie land in 1908.

The original homestead has been added to, from time to time, until today he owns 800 acres of good wheat land. These 800 acres, together with 320 additional rented acres, comprise the total farm which is handled under a very carefully planned system of summer fallow. Years of experience have proved summer fallow to be wise for that area.

After taking off a crop of wheat he leaves the stubble stand through the winter to catch snow, and the following May basin lists the land and maintains the basins until August. The basins are partially leveled before seeding. From 20 to 25 bushels of seed is sown, per acre, with a deep furrow drill. Tenmarq is the variety which has proved best for his conditions. Since starting summer fallowing 25 years ago, his average yield of wheat has been 20 bushels per acre.

There are a hobby of this Master Farmer. An exceptionally fine evergreen windbreak provides protection from the winter blast. Mr. and Mrs. Lindstrom have pioneered the bleak Colorado prairie together. They have wrested a living from the raw soil and have established a comfortable home where many would have become discouraged. Their children have received college educations.

Mr. Lindstrom's philosophy is, "We have had lean years as well as plentiful ones, but we find that one good business practice is to keep expenses below income."

The H. S. Mehaffey family, North Bend, (Dodge county), made good during the drought. Mr. and Mrs. Mehaffey could not depend upon good times and increased land values to make any wealth for them. This couple was married just before a depression, purchased a farm just before the largest economical collapse of all time, but through good management, perseverance, and resourcefulness, they have money in the bank and live in one of the loveliest farm homes in the state.

Married in the spring of 1919, this couple started farming on a rented farm with nothing but good credit in their pockets. Reviewing early financial reverses, Mr. Mehaffey declared, "Finally these war debts were paid and my wife and I vowed to pay as we go and stay out of debt. I credit this policy with helping a great deal."

The principal income for this family is from a home-grown herd of Guernsey cows, a large flock of White Leghorn chickens and beef cattle and hogs.

In the heart of the depression, Mr. and Mrs. Mehaffey found their friends in a nearby city would like some high-quality butter, eggs and fat fries. Mr. Mehaffey drove in with a load of these supplies periodically and their friends told other friends about the good products. Fruitful business developed. Started as a depression move it is still continuing. Mr. Mehaffey drives the round trip of 125 miles every Saturday. The Mehaffeys have replaced nearly every building and fence on their once rundown farm. A beautiful new home was built in 1936 and Mr. Mehaffey constructed a concrete curb around the yard, installed steel posts and fences, and with his wife's aid, landscaped the lawn, arranged shrubbery and planted many trees both inside the yard and out. The Mehaffeys have two children, Jack, a freshman in college this year, and Maxine, a senior in North Bend high school.

Alex Peters, Lyons, (Burt county), another proof as to the reliability of corn, alfalfa and livestock for farming profits is found on the Alex Peters farm. Alex and his brother, Claus, operate a 531-acre farm in partnership, have more than 200 acres of corn and more than 50 acres of alfalfa. They have succeeded in keeping a surplus of feed ahead and have not been forced to sell off livestock because of shortages.

The Peters brothers started out to farm in the spring of 1906. The buildings and fences were in very poor condition and the roofs leaked badly. However, in later years, they improved the place, put up almost a complete set of buildings, repaired the others, fenced the farm hog tight, tiled some of the lowland, and built a modern home. After the great war, they fed more cattle than they had previously. Grain was high-priced and they sometimes had to pay quite a premium over the market price to secure it. They bought 160 acres more land, which proved a great benefit in supplying feed.

Alfalfa hay and pasture have been key crops in the Peters' farming setup. They have had a smaller percentage of their land in corn than most farmers in their community.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Peters were married in 1935 and they have one son, Alex, Jr.

Albert Peterson, Minden (Kearney county). Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peterson, through superior farming practices and wise planning, are getting ahead, year by year, in spite of faith-shaking obstacles. Year after year of crop biting drought in Kearney county have left marks on most farms in this area.

There is one of the most pleasant farmsteads in any dry land area one is likely to see. Sweeping changes and relocating and renovating the buildings, planting trees, rebuilding fences and other steps of modernization have been accomplished by Mr. and Mrs. Peterson.

After many early financial setbacks, Mr. Peterson decided to get into livestock feeding. "We have raised cattle and hogs and have sold eight to ten cots each year since that time," he remarked. "Livestock brought us out of the red and put us on the right side of the ledger."

Mr. Peterson bought his first farm of 160 acres in 1928 and his second 160 acres in 1935. Together with his sons, Ronald and Clifford, he farms 960 acres of land.

The Peterson barnyard is heavily graveled and is so clean it looks as if it had been swept with a broom.

Within the last 12 years Mr. Peterson has planted over 1,200 young cedars. For protection against livestock, each row of trees is enclosed by a fence.

With tri-county water a year ago last spring, Mr. Peterson took 907 bushels of corn off a 28-acre field. Across the fence, the corn made nothing. This fall, he has very good fodder from the same spring-irrigated field.

He has a Hereford cow herd numbering more than 40 and markets annually many Spotted-Poland hogs. He depends heavily upon grain and forage sorghums.

John Rasmussen, Plainview, (Antelope county). Hidden behind tall cottonwood trees that have been growing for more than 40 years, are the neat white buildings of Mr. and Mrs. John Rasmussen who live in northeast Antelope county.

In the summer time the lawn and flowers around the house are beautiful. The front yard is fenced and the grass extends like a neat carpet completely out to the edge of the country road. Mr. Rasmussen was born and grew to manhood on the place his father homesteaded in 1884. A sod house was his earliest recollection of a home.

The breeding of Hampshire hogs and Hereford cattle is credited by Mr. Rasmussen as being the principal reason for any progress that he has made.

"I like livestock," he says, "and I have faith in my belief that livestock will pay good dividends at all times whether we have drought or good crops."

Mr. Rasmussen's first business transaction turned out badly enough to kill the ambition of most any young man. He had saved up all the money he had earned for several months working out for the neighbors, loaned it to a party and lost every penny.

"I have found it a good practice," he declared, "to finish paying for one piece of property before buying another."

Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen have found that a flock of White Leghorn hens is a very profitable asset.

All the buildings on the Rasmussen farm are painted white and each is in excellent condition. One outstanding point about these buildings is that each is used at all times. No building is vacant and no investment is wasted.

Doris Nelson went home with them to spend a week.

Miss Evelyn Day, a student at Luther college at Wahoo, spent the Thanksgiving holidays at home.

Who Gets the Beer Taxes?

Since 1935, beer excise taxes amounting to $2,574,376* have been turned over to the State Assistance Department for the support of Nebraska's needy (aged, dependent children and the blind).

Taxes paid by the brewing industry help to balance the state's budget and lighten the tax load on the individual citizen.

The beer industry of this state, employing about 9,000 Nebraskans, invites your cooperation in protecting these benefits. We ask you to patronize only law-abiding retailers and to report violations to the public authorities or to this Committee.

Plates of Teeth Carved of Wood

Train Travels Some Distance With Engineer Missing Before Stopped.

A Chicago cabinet maker told the truth when he said he carved his own false teeth from a cherry tree in the back yard. He had bought three sets of teeth and none fit, the last costing $100. The man said he was tired of biting his cheek so he went home and cut his own plates from the tree. Right afterward he enjoyed a supper of cakes and sausage. He admits he doesn't wear the plates all the time because the taste is none too good.

A conductor of an Iowa train realized something must be wrong and set the air brakes to stop the train. It was discovered that the engineer had fallen from the train when it was 12 miles back and the train had proceeded until the conductor stopped it.

During the early November blizzard a message at Tilden, Neb., traveled 500 miles to reach its destination 15 miles away. A student became ill while attending a county high school. Telephone lines were down so school officers telephoned a short wave radio station at Grand Island. The message was sent from there to Omaha. A phone call from Omaha to O'Neill to Deloit informed a neighbor of the parents and the neighbor walked the last half mile to tell the girl's folks she was ill.

Clayton Myers, 19, of Kansas, started last week on a 5,000 mile trip to the Panama riding the bicycle he bought eight years ago for $1.50. He has $29 for expenses. The youth carries a bed roll, extra suit, shaving kit and camera. He hopes to escape cold weather and see the country.

A Salt Lake child coughed up a penny plus tax. The mother was worried that the child had swallowed a penny and took him to a doctor. The lad not only coughed up the penny but also a retail tax token.

Lindbergh avenue in Brownwood, Texas, has been changed to Corrigan to honor a native son.

Two women, each one past 100 years old, registered as aliens in California. Both are Mexicans and are in good health. One was born in 1824 and the other in 1834.

Informed that a body tied in a canvas sack was stuffed under a culvert, officers rushed to the scene and found a tramp enjoying a nap in his own private sleeping bag. He finished his siesta in jail.

A motorist who had gone through stop signs to evade an officer explained to the court that he had to elude pursuit for he had no driver's license. The man got a double dose for himself.

A Los Angeles barber who set a trap for ants, found out that it takes 30 million ants to make a gallon.

A North Carolina prison has had poor food for a few days. The prison had four cooks and all four escaped.

Three children who were made orphans when their parents were accidentally killed, were adopted by another couple. A short time later their foster parents were fatally injured.

An eastern candidate offered turkeys as prizes in a contest preceding the election. His opponent won one of the birds.

Noticing a steady glare in the rear vision mirror of his car a Kansas man drove to one side of the road expecting another to pass. No car passed. Then the driver saw flames. He jumped out. His car had evidently caught fire because of a leaking exhaust pipe and the machine was practically destroyed when he noticed the blaze.

A St. Louis boy miraculously escaped when he fell 270 feet into 90 feet of water in an abandoned quarry. The youth landed with enough wind to swim 50 feet to shore.

Wm. Bocca, 37, who had given blood 106 times to restore health to his three sons, died from a disease that set in because of his weakened condition.

voted outstanding for its thoughts. It follows: "I am thankful that I live in America and not over in Europe where there is war. I'm thankful for my home, my parents, school and all my friends. I am thankful I do not have to go to other countries where I might not know anyone. I am thankful I have plenty to eat and warm clothes to wear. I am thankful that I don't have to be afraid every time airplanes fly over and that I don't have to go to an air raid shelter. I am thankful that I live on a farm and not in a city because airplanes drop bombs on cities. I am thankful that little children from other countries may come over here and find homes, food, clothing and shelter. I am thankful I live in a large country that can defend itself if we do go to war."

District 69.

(Lozein Baird, teacher.)
With two days of vacation for Thanksgiving and two days' dismissal last week because of the storm, only 16 days of school were held the past month.

Appropriate decorations have been made for a more pleasant room.

Gerald Grone has finished reading "More Dick and Jane" and started his primer.

Six who have had perfect attendance the past month are Lowell Mann, Darrell Gamble, Marilyn Claussen, Marilyn Gamble, Adelyn Claussen and Billy Gamble.

Special days were observed this month. For armistice day pupils studied the origin of the holiday and made a large American flag which is on display in the room. For Thanksgiving day they studied about the Pilgrims, Mayflower and first Thanksgiving. Pictures brought to school were mounted on a large card for Thanksgiving dinner.

The 7th graders finished reading "Evangeline" and are reading "The Courtship of Miles Standish."
In geography the 3rd and 4th graders are traveling in imagination through the hot, wet lands along the Amazon river.

The 3rd and 4th graders learned the poem, "In November," and illustrated each verse with a free-hand drawing with each verse written below in best penmanship.

Bobby Simonin celebrated his 7th birthday November 10.

District 80.

(Ruth Edna Larson, teacher.)
A frieze showing the journey of the Pilgrims from England to Holland and then to America is displayed at one end of the room. The pictures were drawn by 5th, 6th and 7th graders. They help create a better understanding in the lower grades.

Jockey Irving Anderson Maintains High Record

Riding 116 winners since the first of the year in the nation's leading races, Irving Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Anderson of Hoskins, has again maintained his reputation of being one of the country's leading jockeys. Irving arrived Sunday last week from Baltimore and leaves the first of December for Florida where the four-month winter racing season opens December 20. Enroute he will make a short stop in Lexington, Ky.

Irving has been a full fledged jockey four years. This summer and fall he rode in New York and Baltimore. His record of 116 wins was made in 640 races.

The Wayne county youth used to be with the Calumet stables, but he is now beginning his second year with the J. H. Whitney stables. Mr. Whitney, whose headquarters are in New York, is taking 27 horses to Florida. When Mr. Whitney enters a race Irving is under contract to ride for him. In races in which Whitney does not place horses, Irving is eligible to jockey for others. The youth rides about one-third of the time under the Whitney contract.

Irving's greatest thrill came in 1939 when he rode Bull Lea to victory in the $50,000 Widener challenge cup race in Miami. Bull Lea defeated the favored Stagedhand three times in five races. Irving rode Bull Lea in the five races.

The greatest thrill this year was when Irving rode Wool Wool to victory in the $20,000 Flamingo stakes at Miami last spring. This race is about as important at Hialeah park as the Kentucky derby. In fact it used to be called the Florida derby. Wool Wool, half-brother of Bull Lea, is the smartest horse the jockey has ridden.

ers November 15 on her 10th birthday.

Pupils take pride in their desk tops which have been sandpapered and varnished.

All but three had perfect attendance the third month.

Lower grades constructed standup Pilgrims and turkeys in art.

The 7th graders have been reviewing areas of figures and circles.

The 5th and 6th graders have been constructing maps which compare areas and populations of continents and countries. Study of the changes in seasons is being started.

Christmas gifts and a program are being planned.

Visitors in November were Supt. F. B. Decker and Bette Hokamp.

School was held November 16 to make up for school dismissal for one day of the storm.

Thanksgiving vacation is set for November 28.

Miss Larson visited November 16 and 17 at Ed. Rethwisch's.
