THE KNOT-HOLE
 Vol. 8 Wayne, Neb., Thurs., Jan. 16, 1940 No. 7

These dinky new cars on the market aren't going to be such a help. It's a lot harder picking one out of a guy than lifting it off.

If your roof has leaked this winter, don't wait to re-shingle. It is an easy job to put new shingles right over your old roof on one of these warm days it is so easy so often. And it makes a swell job, too.

If you have let your coal bin go during the warm spell we have had, don't forget that February usually means real winter weather. Fill your bin again, and be safe.

"Goodness gracious, how did you get all mused up like that?"

"Oh, I went riding with a crude oil salesman."

Black Hawk, $9.75. Everybody knows it. We're just reminding you.

"Why not a new oak floor right over your old, worn-out floor? It doesn't take much time, makes very little mess, and can be done for less than you think. Let us price a new floor to you!"

"My dad takes things apart to see why they don't go."

"So what?"

"You'd better go."

That's me all right!

Caribbean Sea and Panama Canal Provide New Experiences Aplenty

Nothing serves better to make one realize how near the war is to America than to sail slowly from Norfolk, Va., down through the Caribbean to the Panama Canal. So writes Randolph Leigh of McLean, Va., author and traveler, who sailed from Norfolk, Va. in November on board his 68-foot schooner Lanscar II enroute to the Gulf of California where scientists and experts will spend nearly a year exploring and charting little known regions of the gulf. It is in this party that Kenneth Petersen is traveling as amateur radio operator. In this article, published in a New York paper, Mr. Leigh tells of the current war problems.

"Going into Kingston, Jamaica, for instance, we were boarded by a squad of Canadian soldiers and were piloted through an elaborate mine field. Gasoline for refueling was issued only under special permits.

"In Kingston I was informed that President Roosevelt was in some jeopardy during his recent visit of inspection there. My informant said that mines were laid by the enemy at the harbor entrance a few days before his arrival. British mine-sweepers, constantly active in that area, made a special effort to do a thorough clean-up job on that occasion and evidently succeeded, but there was relief in official circles in Jamaica when he was safely outside British waters.

Another thing which adds to the confusion, or at least the nervous strain of navigating these waters is the persistent rumor that the foreigners have out a number of small vessels which act as decoys or false lighthouses. The idea, of course, is that a false beacon will disrupt navigation, not only by the actual wrecks caused, but also by creating confusion as to the reliability of the genuine lights. I can testify to the fact that on the night of December 8-9, something out of the ordinary was going on around Cape Macey. At about 3 a. m. that night the Lanscar II sighted what seemed to be the Cape Macey light, and accordingly, changed her course to the southwest. There is absolutely no other beacon of this type in that vicinity. Nevertheless dawn found us near the rocks on the north coast of Cuba, when, if we had passed the real light we would have been below the south coast. Three other vessels, we later learned, had trouble that night in that area, but, ironically, the only one that came to grief was Italian.

"The defense work now in progress on the canal is tremendous. There is already an acute shortage of workmen, despite the fact that Panama labor is being drawn on heavily. I have seen large military projects under way in France, Germany and England in various years, but I have never seen anything comparable with the work here, particularly on the Pacific side."

Mr. Leigh tells that "defense work has only just begun and that here on we shall have the equivalent of 10 Gibraltar and half a dozen Suezes." He also says that the main entrances of the big defense units are carefully guarded while the lesser entrances are policed by aliens.

Kenneth Petersen Writes.

In his diary of events, Kenneth Petersen makes observations as follows:

"Wednesday, December 11—We arrived at Kingston about 9:30 p. m. last evening. Immediately we were accosted by army officials and first inspection of the ship's papers carried out. This completed, they assigned a pilot who directed us to a secluded cove where we remained the rest of the evening. This morning we had a more rigid inspection. A little later the doctor arrived and inspected the health certificates. Finally we were directed into the harbor where we saw palms and green foliage everywhere. One thing that attracted my attention immediately was that all the big oil and gas tanks were camouflaged by green paint of various shades. Mr. Leigh and myself thought all was clear so we went ashore to try and get some radio parts. The native life seems very peculiar to me. There are few sidewalks so a lot of the time one has to walk in the street. The city is overrun with little lizards. These are about six inches long and scampers here and there over the sidewalks and earth. I did happen to run into one pretty place, a flower garden which contains beautiful flowers of all colors, palms and other such green foliage. On my way back to the ship I was accosted by beggars and peddlers. They can immediately see that I am an American in being consequently that I am fairly prosperous. When reaching the boat I found it was somewhat of a jail breaker. In reality it was not supposed to have gone ashore. As a result a policeman has been stationed here on the ship permanently. The view from the boat is absolutely beautiful. Full moon, water smooth as glass, lights twinkling on shore and above it all towers gigantic beautiful mountains.

"Thursday, December 12—We're off again, sailing the briny sea once more. For some reason I don't know, the water is very blue. It was so dark and filthy most picturesque. Now and then it deviates from the main part, along which we are moving into small tributaries and little inlets and passages. A little while ago we entered the first cut of the canal. A great cut leaving 50 feet of water in a channel about 400 feet wide. On both sides the foliage is green and beautiful, sloping up the great hills or sides of the hills through which this passage has been cut. One cut is through a hill, the top of which now hovers 500 feet above the water level. This great cut is known as "Gallard Cut." After about 15 miles we arrived at a single lock, dropping us about 20 feet. From here for about 15 minutes we motored along the canal waters, seeing white herons and pelicans on shore. We then arrived at the last set of three locks, dropping us about 70 feet to the level of the Pacific ocean. We moved into the Balboa docks and docked at Pier Seven. The Panama Canal is an engineer's paradise.

Contrasts Are Noted.

"Wednesday, December 18—After docking at the pier at Balboa about 5:30 last night, we spent a very quiet evening. After breakfast this morning I went into Balboa to see the city and find out about radio parts. Balboa is the American-owned portion of Panama City and is made up entirely of United States government buildings and employees' homes. There are no stores outside of the American commissary. Here everything is sold to employees of the government at cost. United States ships can buy supplies from the commissary storehouses. I got on a bus and headed for the Panama-panama owned portion of the city. Immediately everything turned filthy and dirty. Meat markets display their wares wide open, hanging their meat on dirty hooks on filthy table tops. I entered the center of the city which is a little cleaner. On my way back I passed a cemetery, surrounded by a high wall. Looking through the iron gates I saw that nearly all grave-stones were beautifully carved with some sort of design or other. If the grass had been mowed it would have been very pretty, but there was high grass and weeds growing everywhere. It doesn't do much good to get in the shade on such hot days, but the evenings are cool and fresh. I believe we will remain here all day tomorrow and leave the next for Acapulca, Mexico."

Southwest Wakefield

Joe Johnson was in Sioux City with cattle on Sat. Wednesday.

Paul Olson, LaVern, Glenn and Myron, also the twins, were Sunday afternoon and luncheon guests in the Ed. Gustafson home.

Lawrence Ring was in Emerson Monday attending a national farm loan association meeting. Plans were made for a dinner there, February 22.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ash in the passing of the former's father, Chas. Ash, at his home in Wayne. Funeral services Tuesday were attended by a number from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lund drove to Stock Island, Ill., Tuesday morning to visit their son, Dale, who is recovering from a recent operation. They were accompanied by Mrs. C. L. Bard who will spend the time with her sister, Mrs. Linda Lundstrom. They expected to return late Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herrman spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Swanson in Wayne while Twila attended the basketball game. Sunday afternoon they visited Mrs. John Wennerberg. They report the condition of Mr. Wennerberg, who is now being treated at a Wayne hospital, as being unchanged.

Rural Schools

District 81.

(Arlene Koehler, teacher.)

Stanley Soden is the only one with perfect attendance for the half year.

About $15 was cleared from the Christmas program December 20. A Christmas party was held December 24 and vacation extended from December 25 to January 2.

New Year's resolutions were made and all will try hard to keep them.

LeRoy Schulz and Gary Troutman have been ill several weeks with the flu.

The 5th and 6th graders completed booklets on South America after studying that continent.

The 3rd and 4th graders studied the Dutch and made a Dutch scene in the sand table. They wrote stories and found Dutch pictures for a booklet.

For this month's health inspection Ronald Grone and Bobby Moses are captains. They are drawing parts of a snow man until they have it completed.

Glenna and Phyllis Baird spent their Christmas vacation in California. After their return January 6 they gave interesting reports.

Dolores Baird was a visitor.

Feggy Pals club elected as officers for this semester the following: Glenna Baird, president; Alice Baird, vice president; Phyllis Baird, secretary-treasurer; Stanley Soden, news reporter. Committees were appointed and meetings will be held each two weeks.

Naval Bases and the Cost

In Hawaii we have a naval air and army base that is valuable as an outpost for the protection of our western coast line. It is valuable because the government has expended half a billion dollars or more to fortify it. Before an enemy could capture the vast stores of oil, munitions and other war supplies, it would have to silence the great guns on Diamond Head, and others on the Island of Oahu. The enemy would have to land against the opposition of a full division of the United States army stationed there.

The eight spots selected on eight British islands in the Atlantic, and turned over to the American government, will be valuable as outposts for our Atlantic seas coast when they, like Hawaii, have been heavily fortified and garrisoned. To attempt to use them as air and naval bases until they are protected would be about as practical as to leave a stack of watermelons in the center of the public square without a guard over them.

To fortify these eight new air and naval bases will mean an expenditure of from four to six billion dollars. Where is such a vast sum to come from? Including the appropriations congress has voted for armament expenditures during the next 12 months, the federal government's indebtedness is more than 60 billion dollars. That means an obligation of over $460 for each man, woman and child; it means a mortgage of over $2,000 on the homes and farms of each family of five; it means an annual inter-charge of over $70 for each family of five.

We pay that whether or not we realize it.

Notes for the Crops

View With the Sunshine

The train wound its way around hills, over valleys, through an occasional tunnel, across frozen rivers, ever westward across the Dakotas and into Montana.

From the car windows we saw a world blanketed in crystal white snow. More snow was falling and a blizzard across the snow, some distance from the tracks, was a farm house. Smoke, the clean smoke from a wood fire, was coming from the chimney.

Pete and Mary were keeping the home fires burning while dad and mother were wintering in the southland. Pete was also keeping about the lines of communication between the house and the barn and cattle sheds. Between times he worked at the wood pile, that three might be ammunition with which to repulse the blitzkrieg of cold. He cursed the ever-falling and drifting snow which caused him labor and difficulties.

Far away in the southland, dad and mother read of the heavy snowfall in their state. Mother, hoped it would not inconvenience Pete and Mary, but they were young and capable. Father gloried in the moisture the snow was bringing to insure next summer's crops, and thanked providence for it.

From the snug coziness of the Pullman we admired the beauty of the scene, enjoyed the howling of the blizzard, and congratulated ourselves on having chosen a northern route to the warmth and sunshine of the west coast.

It was all in the point of view.

Sun Seekers

Should you wish to know who, as a class, are the great travelers of America during these winter months, just go to Florida or California and count the number of visiting farmers and their families. Thousands of them escape the ice and snow of the northern states by going south for the warmth, the sunshine and the privilege of being out of doors—not for the night clubs and the gaming tables.

Rich and Poor in Same Camp

Nothing I can think of would be more beneficial than a universal citizenship training law. A law which would provide six months at least in camp for every young man between the ages of 19 and 21 years. Put the workman's son and the banker's son under canvas together and under exactly the same conditions. Give them an opportunity to get acquainted and become "buddies." It would break down the forming of class distinctions in America. It would create a race of better Americans. It would demonstrate the equal opportunity for all.

While in such camps, military discipline and training would be essential, the one greatest purpose would be a training in citizenship, a training in mutual understanding.

The idea would be more popular as a citizenship training law than as a military training law.

Winslow is a Thriving Town

Winslow is a thriving town in southern Indiana. Ask any business man there the reason for the town's prosperity and he will point to A. J. Henshaw and the Winslow Dispatch. Henshaw is but one of thousands of American towns in which the local editor and his paper is the foundation on which town growth and prosperity are built.

A SUBSTITUTE
A writer recalls that the late Prof. William James proposed many years ago the need of a substitute for war to keep a nation strong...

Raymond Clapper, columnist, notes that the administration's thirst for a non-partisan attitude is blown askew by failure to permit republican congressional leaders in on a conference over the "blank check" bill...

A spectacle in statesmanship: Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, charged that the administration's British aid bill is "the new deal's triple A foreign policy" which "will plow under every fourth American boy..."

Governor Griswold's inaugural address is acclaimed a sound, constructive line of reasoning. He is not disposed to burn any red fire, make extravagant promises or find fault...

The weather this week has caused the world hereabouts to be covered with a glare of ice, and unless one is upholstered with an abundance of adipose tissues and plenty of tough, resilient muscles...

People as a rule are anxious to give England implements of war to defend the cause of democracy, but they see no helpful reason why this country should hurry into war and send its young men to perish in foreign lands...

It is doubtful if tax money is often misused. People want to pay less for more. They want what they cannot afford—individually, collectively, nationally...

We are looking forward to the designation of a day when no one will solicit funds for anything. Won't that be glorious—a whole day with no one appeal?

George W. Marsh was buried the other day, but we will go on voting for him for years to come. We're still electing Dan Swanson every two years, although he's been gone these many years...

A German institute, referred to as "the fifth column institute," estimates that there are 9,000,000 people of German blood in the United States. What the "fifth column institute" does not understand is what democracy with its freedom can do to the blood of those who came from totalitarian countries...

No wonder the department of agriculture has expressed the fear that the present deluge of hogs on the market may forecast a drought later on. Department statistics show that packers under federal inspection in the United States last month killed the second largest December volume of hogs on record...

Christian Science Services
"Life" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 19.
The Golden Text is: "I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely. He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son" (Revelation 21:6,7).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands... For in him we live, and move, and have our being" (Acts 17:24,28).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. Time is finite; eternity is forever infinite. Life is neither in nor of matter. What is termed matter, as unknown to Spirit, when included in itself all substance and is: Life eternal. Matter is a human concept. Life is Divine Mind. Life is not limited. Death and finiteness are unknown to Life. Life ever had a beginning, it would also have an ending" (p. 468).

Wakefield Department--Wayne Herald

By Miss Miriam Huse

New Structure Proposed Here

E. J. Hunter Draws Plans For Community Center Being Promoted.

Wakefield city council, firemen, Lions club, American Legion and Auxiliary are considering the possibility of constructing a Community Center building on the site of the old auditorium. E. J. Hunter of Wayne, is drawing the plans. WPA labor would be available. Some of the material from the old building would be salvaged and used for the structure.

The city has a 100 by 150 foot lot with the exception of a 50 by 50 space sold previously. On the main floor of the proposed building the Wakefield fire department would have a meeting room and place for their trucks at the north, according to Mr. Hunter's plans. A community meeting room with kitchen adjacent is also on the north towards the west. The auditorium with a seating capacity of 350 is to the south of the rooms just mentioned. The auditorium has a stage to the east with dressing rooms and storage space under the stage. The city council meeting room is planned for the southwest corner. The American Legion rooms would be adjacent to the auditorium to the north or over the city council rooms. A ladies' parlor and check rooms are on either side of the main entrance.

If the new building becomes a reality, organizations sponsoring it propose financing the structure either by bond issue or from current city receipts. In case a bond issue were necessary, present tax levies would remain unchanged as paving bonds will soon be retired and the levy provided for them would care for the building bonds.

Son Is Born.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Bressler of Wakefield Thursday at the Coe hospital.

Many Food Stamps Sold for District

Participation in December Shows Increase Over Month Before.

Federal food stamp sales in Wayne county stores totaled $19,374 in the seven months the program was in operation in 1940, June 3 to December 31, according to figures announced by Henry C. Cassell, Norfolk, district representative of the Surplus Marketing Administration.

In the 10 counties in northeast Nebraska in which the stamp plan is operating, the 1940 sales totaled $473,998.50, including $157,999.50 in free blue stamps. Orange stamp sales totaled $315,999. The stamp plan has been operating since June in Knox, Pierce, Wayne, Stanton, Madison, Boone, Platte, and Nance counties, and since November 1 in Cuming and Colfax.

The gross sales in the various counties under the stamp plan are: Knox, $19,374; Pierce, $23,550; Wayne, $19,374; Stanton, $21,675; Boone, $81,075; Platte, $86,836; Nance, $56,536; Cuming, $4,087.50; Colfax, $10,151.50.

Participation in the 10 northeast Nebraska counties jumped in December to 13,721 of the 18,041 eligible to receive benefits, or 76.1 per cent. This is 4.1 more than in November.

The total amounts spent in both orange and blue stamps in the various counties in November and December are:

County	Nov.	Dec.
Madison	$14,916	$18,197
Platte	12,003	13,338

Symphony Band Gives Concert

High School Musicians and Directors to Be Guests At College Today.

Wayne college symphony band of 70 pieces, directed by Prof. John R. Keith, presents its annual mid-winter formal concert at the school auditorium this Thursday evening at 7:30. High school band directors and their students from northeast Nebraska towns are to be special guests. The public is extended a cordial invitation to the program.

Prof. Keith has arranged a varied concert which will have an appeal to all. The opening number will be the Bach chorale which has become a tradition with the director. "If Thou Be Near," new transcription by Mehlmann, and "The Crusaders' Overture," by Buehler, are included as a special courtesy to the visiting bands and directors. These compositions are listed for national music competition festivals to be heard frequently in music contests this spring.

Widely divergent national characteristics will be portrayed in the overture to Saint Saens' second opera, "Princess Jaane" or "The Little Yellow Princess," and Geo. Drum's familiar Irish tunes, "Ireland."

In the closing group will be Beethoven's stirring and triumphant "Egmont" overture, also two ultra-modern numbers. These will display the band's versatility in interpreting music of all periods.

"Mood Mavne," one of these, has special significance as the composer, Russell Howland, now teaching in Fort Collins, was a classmate and friend of Prof. Keith at the University of Illinois. The closing number is Morton Gould's "Pavane," from his "Second American Symphonette." This selection was a special favorite when the band played in the Willard Bowl this fall.

Soil Conservation Spreads in Area

Agreements Are Signed on Seventyfive Farms in Camp Vicinity.

During the 18 months of operation of Winside CCC camp, soil conservation service technicians have completed 75 agreements covering 14,262 acres with cooperating farmers in Wayne, Stanton, Cuming, Dixon and Cedar counties.

A marked increase has been noted in the use of soil and moisture conserving practices on cooperating farms. Supt. E. P. Stipsky reports that during the past year 4,375 acres were contour farmed. Another featured practice has been the retirement of badly eroded land to grassland. Camp Agronomist Walter R. Harger reports that 1,229 acres were taken out of cultivation and seeded to permanent grasses. The majority of seedlings were a mixture of broom grass and alfalfa to serve as pasture or hayland.

The camp established 145 acres of trees on the first 51 farms and an additional 73 acres of trees are planned for the agreements signed recently. The average of new woodland plantings is 2.9 acres per farm.

Since the camp was opened two soil conservation districts were established in this area.

Soil Conservation Office Is Moved

The soil conservation office, formerly with the AAA office in the old post office building, this week moved into a new location which is in the newly completed Seymour office building. This will also serve as headquarters for the Wayne county district soil conservation board of which Albert Watson, D. Kai, Dan Leuck, Bernard Splitgerber and Walter Fenske are members.

Library Service Shown Inadequate

Yale Kessler Gives Report For University Women On New Books.

A survey showing that of every three persons in the United States one has no library service, one has inadequate service and only one has good library facilities should make Wayne people appreciate opportunities afforded here. Such a report was given by Mrs. G. W. Costerian Thursday evening for Wayne branch of A.A.U.W. at the Woman's club rooms.

About 45-million people in the United States have no access to libraries. Roughly one-third of the counties have no public libraries within their borders. Lack of community money, thinly and scattered population and little community demand account for inequalities between rural and urban areas. In 1935 Mississippi had a per capita wealth of $1,216 and California $4,007. That year the former state spent 2c per capita for public libraries and served 31 per cent of its people. California spent 77c per capita and served 98 per cent.

In general $1 per capita is accepted as a minimum for universal library service. In 1935 the United States spent 35c per capita. Massachusetts spent $1.08 per capita per year for libraries. Americans read an average of 3.67 books a year which if financed individually would cost about $7.

Nebraska maintained 266 public libraries with an average circulation of 3.31 books. All towns of 5,000 or over have libraries, but seven counties and 50 per cent of the population have no service. The per capita library expenditure was .22c. This state averaged 25th from the top in these figures.

Many leaders believe the regional plan is the solution. This plan makes a large county or several small ones a unit. Constant exchange between the central libraries and stations would, it is believed, serve all. The long-time plans call for state aid in addition to local funds, strong library extension agency, professional training for librarians and federal aid in the nation-wide movement.

Yale Kessler addressed the group on books of the year. He reviewed briefly "Dusk of Dawn," by W. E. B. DuBois, "Audubon's America," edited by Donald Culross Peattie, "Why England Slept," by J. F. Kennedy. Mr. Kessler showed a number of other new books.

Mrs. R. W. Raymond, Miss Ruth Ross, Mrs. W. F. Dierking and Mrs. H. D. Griffin served.

Books Are Missing. Mrs. E. S. Blair, librarian of the Wayne public library, requests that all persons who have checked out books from the library during the past year or two look about their homes and other places in an endeavor to find some of the books which are long over due.

Second Period Of Term Opens

Photography Is Completed For Annual Published At City School.

Second semester starts this Thursday at Wayne city school. The new schedule goes into effect today. Ground course for pilot training will be taken by 12. The number is lower than was anticipated because of a recent ruling requiring that the ground and flight courses be taken at the same time. This would necessitate repetition of the work for those who take pilot training. The ground course is, however, good scientific training and the group has enrolled with this in mind.

Eugene Gray is a new student in the sophomore class, bringing the high school total to 269.

Photography work for the school annual has been completed. Copy will be sent to engravers this week. Bob Bentback, photography editor, did an excellent job in taking group pictures and collecting interesting snapshots for panels.

Junior High News. The 8th graders completed a series of pictures which depict highlights in American history from exploration to the Civil war. These are in crayon on newsprint.

The 8th graders have completed such semester projects as Hitler and his lieutenants, the changing world, hall of fame, presidents of the United States, the three dictators, famous women, history of U.S. post office, the constitutional growth of the United States. Some of these were illustrated by student drawings and other pictures cut from books and magazines.

In Sixth Grade. Pupils have been studying the story of Marie Curie in reading. Many interesting facts about science were told, especially about radium.

Ships were designed and painted Monday in art class. The study of John Fitch and Robert Fulton was taken up in connection with transportation.

Fourth Grade News. Boys and girls in science are studying plant and animal life under the ocean. They are making a frieze on this.

For additional drill in multiplication tables the 4th graders have been singing the combinations to familiar tunes.

Interesting places where pupils have traveled were shown to others through the Delineascope.

Third Grade News. The 1st and 3rd grades tied for the dental honor roll with 15 each this week so the grades share the flag.

Colton spoolmen were made for covers of booklets on cotton. The study of wool is now being started.

Pupils in the symphonette class who have earned flags on the chart for playing the most pieces alone are Lois Russell, Helen Pile, Tommy Babe, Margie Conry, Harold Corzine, Richard Jensen, Betty Jeanne Miller, Irene Gilbert, Shirley Gildersleeve and Leon Stone.

The Safe Way club met Friday when Shirley Gildersleeve told a story and Betty Jeanne Miller taught a new song. Tommy Babe is program chairman for this Friday when 4th graders will be guests.

The baton twirling class of 12 is learning to use the baton while marching.

Second Grade News. "Friendly Village" is the name of the miniature town which 2nd graders have arranged on the floor in their room. From a list of stores and public buildings listed by the children, each selected one he would like to make. They have been experimenting with materials. Reno Pfeil found that a shoe box painted blue with a door cut in front and a flag rising on one side made a good airport. Betty Jeanne Rogge and Marlys Johnson brought houses made of wood. Donna Lee Westre brought one

Officers Elected For Men's Group

Chet Walters succeeded from vice president to president of Wayne Men's club at the group meeting in Hotel Stratton Wednesday evening last week. Supt. N. F. Thorpe, L. G. Reisbig and L. W. Ellis were elected directors, succeeding H. E. Ley, J. C. Carhart and R. K. Kirkman. Directors whose terms hold over are Armand Hiseox, Prof. Raymond Cherry and Mr. Walters.

H. D. Addison spoke to the club about his trip to the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena.

Books Reviewed For Wayne Club

College Librarian Speaks for Women's Group Here Friday Afternoon.

Books of 1940 were discussed for Wayne Women's club Friday by Yale Kessler of the college library. The speaker giving brief reviews of three, "Audubon's America," edited by Donald Culross Peattie, "Dusk of Dawn," by W. E. B. DuBois, and "Why England Slept," by J. F. Kennedy.

In the first named the author presents the life of the naturalist, Audubon, born in France and sent to this country to avoid service in Napoleon's army. Audubon's father set him up as a merchant in Louisville but the naturalist's love for bird life led to his failure in business but also inspired him to study and draw bird life, a pursuit which made him famous.

In "Dusk of Dawn" the Negro author presents his efforts to do something for the colored race whose welfare he regards as one of this nation's biggest problems. DuBois was born in New England in 1868 and after attending Fisk and Harvard started his life mission. He believes his race should be segregated so as to overcome inferiority complex and thus develop leadership among the colored group.

"Why England Slept" is written by the son of a former ambassador. In this survey of the 10 years preceding the present war Kennedy shows that England believed in the League of Nations, that nation was so earnest in not wanting war that people refused to believe great preparations were necessary. Kennedy thinks the original blunder was made when Japan was not stopped when she went into Manchuria. This move gave confidence to the dictators.

Mrs. E. S. Blair introduced Mr. Kessler.

Mrs. Clarence McGinn led the group in singing. Mrs. Russell Anderson being accompanist. The girls trio, Genevieve Lundak, Bonnie Hatch and Marion Miller, accompanied by Amy Howe, sang "Cassimere Song," Beryl Nelson with Velma Graybiel accompanist, sang "Death and the Maiden" Edw. Carstensen sang "Hills of Home," with Amy Howe accompanist.

On the serving committee were Mrs. T. T. Jones, Mrs. A. T. Claycomb, Mrs. Raymond Schreiner, Mrs. Albert Johnson, Mrs. Anna Juhlin, Mrs. R. J. Kingsley and Mrs. John Kay.

Plan Annual Ball Here This Month

Plans to make the annual president's birthday ball, held January 30, a success are going forward in Wayne under the leadership of Henry Ley who is the chairman of the committee in charge of the infantile paralysis fund. Each year a ball is held, half of the proceeds taken in stay in the county for use when the need arises. Recently $200 was contributed toward the purchasing of the iron lungs in Norfolk for use in northeast Nebraska. This money was from the birthday ball fund gathered in previous years.

Herbert Comett of Pilger, was painfully injured when kicked by a horse.

First Agreement Is Signed Here

Roy Day Is Earliest Making Plans for Soil Work On His Place.

The first agreement between farmers and the Wayne county soil conservation district supervisor was Saturday morning signed by Roy Day, who will March 1 move onto a 160-acre farm in Wilber precinct.

Last fall a district board of supervisors were elected by the Wayne county soil conservation district with Albert Watson chairman and D. Kai, Dan Leuck, Bernard Splitgerber and Walter Fenske other members. These supervisors together with the soil conservation service technicians and in cooperation with the CCC camp at Winside will assist Mr. Day in carrying out this agreement by mapping out the projects to be undertaken.

Crop rotation, contour farming, long time rotation of hay fields, planting of permanent hay and pasture, use of waste land for wood and post production, gully treatment, terracing, construction of diversions, controlling erosion and drainage ways, control of grazing, balancing of pasture, hay and feed crop production to live stock needs on a farm and relocation of fences and field boundaries will be the principal projects carried out.

Ed. Stipsky, head of the soil conservation service technicians office, reports that Friday 55 applications for soil conservation agreements had been received. It is expected that this number will reach 100 within the next six months.

These agreements are for a period of five years and are automatically renewable until all work is completed. In case of change of ownership of the land the agreement would be cancelled.

Services Conducted For Wayne Matron

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from the Baptist church for Mrs. Ben Nissen, 40, who passed away January 6 at her home southeast of Wayne.

Those from out-of-town who attended the rites were Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Stille, Fritz and Edna Bruns, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sieck, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Sieck, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. On the serving committee were Mrs. T. T. Jones, Mrs. A. T. Claycomb, Mrs. Raymond Schreiner, Mrs. Albert Johnson, Mrs. Anna Juhlin, Mrs. R. J. Kingsley and Mrs. John Kay.

Has Face Bitten By Dog Friday

Edgar Sederstrom had his face bitten by a dog Friday afternoon when he was trying to loosen the animal's collar. The dog had been tied back of the Meyer & Bichel shop to wait for its owner. Mr. Sederstrom saw that the collar had become tight and stooped over to relieve the strain. The dog tore his lower lip and then bit one of his cheeks.

"Why England Slept" is written by the son of a former ambassador. In this survey of the 10 years preceding the present war Kennedy shows that England believed in the League of Nations, that nation was so earnest in not wanting war that people refused to believe great preparations were necessary. Kennedy thinks the original blunder was made when Japan was not stopped when she went into Manchuria. This move gave confidence to the dictators.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS OF COUNTY PASS

William Loberg and Morgan Jones, who died last week, were directors in Wayne county schools. Mr. Loberg in district 50 and Mr. Jones in district 36. Ben Nissen, whose wife died the same week, is moderator in district 38.

Attendance Awards Are to be Presented

Wayne county pupils will again earn perfect attendance awards providing they miss not more than five days. The allowance of five days is given so that pupils will not make undue effort to be in school when they are too ill to do so. Some do not yet have their last year's perfect attendance awards. Superintendent F. B. Decker asks pupils either to get these from him or from their teachers.

Conduct Essay Contest.
 "What Does American Citizenship Mean?" is the subject of a state-wide essay contest for high school seniors, sponsored by the Federation of Women's Clubs. These essays are not to exceed 700 words and are to be in by February 1. Mrs. Ray E. Norris of Weeping Water, is director.

District 56.
 (Anna Fredrickson, teacher.)
 Visitors the past month were Miss Evelyn Otte and Mrs. Gus Johnson and Ruth.

Pupils having perfect attendance for the month of December are Darrell French, Marvin Pospisil and Janet Ramsey. Dale Ulrich and Darrell French gave birthday treats in school this month. Marvin Pospisil sold the most Christmas seals, 85. The school's total sales amounted to $3.15. Christmas gifts were made for parents by the children. A Christmas program was given December 20, and vacation extended from December 20 to January 6.

'Into the Right Channel.'
 Carl, a parochial school graduate, was brought before the juvenile court, charged with auto theft. A friendly lad of 17 years, he seemed even more mystified than his parents, teachers and friends by his irresistible impulse to take cars, drive them a few miles, and abandon them near the spot from where he had taken them. He readily confessed that he had taken five cars within a six-month period and had driven them from six to 18 miles each. A check-up by the police revealed that he had returned them all undamaged.

Any car with its key carelessly left in its place had a compelling attraction for him. When the judge asked him why he took cars after car, fully aware that he could be sent to the reformatory for the offense, he said, "I'd like to know why, myself. I often wonder if I'm sane." Carl came from an excellent home, and his parents were prominent citizens in the community. They felt disgraced by their son's conduct. He, too, was deeply grieved, not because of the consequences of his offense on himself but because of the suffering and humiliation he had brought upon his parents. The court was convinced that he wanted to understand his own actions and stop them. On one of Carl's visits to the juvenile court, a dope fiend appeared, writhing in agony, begging the police to send for the city physician to give him a "shot." Carl studied the fiend's every action, his every word, then remarked as he walked into the private conference room, "I am just as bad off as that poor fellow. He can't help his actions. But I've got to find a way to help mine."

Psychiatry failed to solve Carl's problem. The juvenile court, although it made an exhaustive study of his case, also failed.

With wisdom born of his need, Carl solved his problem alone. He procured a position with one of the large automobile manufacturing companies as a test driver and rightfully thrives cars, not his, in his heart's content and his employer's satisfaction.

District 23.
 (Celia Christensen, teacher.)
 Grades of 90 to 100 in December examinations were earned by Patsy Wert, Nadine Lage, Norma Willers and Norman Olsen in arithmetic, Nadine Lage, Norman Willers and Lois Lange in reading, Howard Persigehl, Norman Obst and Nadine Lage in grammar, Nadine Lage and Norma Obst in spelling, Norman Willers, Patsy Wert, Howard Persigehl and Nadine Lage in geography, Lois Lange meier, Norma Obst, Melvin Obst and Howard Persigehl in history. Perfect attendance records for December were earned by Esther Reek, Norman Willers and Howard Persigehl.

The 3rd and 4th grades won the spelling contest by getting their jigsaw picture together first. A Christmas card and letter from Robert Parker were enjoyed. Robert now lives in Montana, moving there from this district last spring. He told several interesting things about the mountain valley in which he lives. At the Christmas party December 24 games were played and gifts exchanged. A week's vacation followed.

"The Tip Top" is the name of a magazine to be issued each month.

District 49.
 (M. Elsie Tingle, teacher.)
 School resumed December 30 after a week's vacation. At a Christmas party December 18 gifts were exchanged and treats provided. A Christmas program was given December 20. Ice cream and cake were served. "Gifts of Myrrh," a two-act Christmas play, and "Renting the Pickaninies," a two-act dialogue, were presented by the six pupils. A tree, fireplace and large mechanical Santas, made by pupils, added to the room decoration. A social evening was enjoyed. Proceeds will be used for something useful.

Pupils who had perfect attendance for the term are Richard Wendt, Bobby Marshall and Dale Wendt.

District 20.
 (Mrs. Elvira Sullivan, teacher.)
 A picture of children making a snow man decorates the front of the four-page December school paper, The Beacon. Lois Tembe, 1st grader, is reading her eighth reader. Delmar Vahlkamp and Darlene Rethwisch are reading their 5th book. The latter earned 100 in spelling for the month. Gene Finn illustrated the story, "Chicken Little."

Betty Finn earned 100 in spelling. She and Ruth Backstrom illustrated a Christmas story. They made safety posters and a paper cutting of the flag salute. The 7th and 8th graders finished "A Christmas Carol." A roller skating party was enjoyed December 2. Parents brought dinner to school December 20. They were presented gifts which children made. These were magazine racks, book ends, letter holders, grocery pads, sewing boxes, what-not shelves and tie racks. Vacation extended from December 25 to January 2. Delmar Vahlkamp sold the most health seals, 65. Those who sold at least 10 are Donald and Lois Tembe, Betty, Gene and Richard Finn, Darlene, Lowell and Duwane Rethwisch, Morris Backstrom, Lorraine and Ralph Milliken.

Highway Signs Interest Driver

Officer's Cat-Like Ability Leads to Arrest of City Gamblers.

At Sumter, S. C., a tourist getting gas and oil glanced casually across the street at a highway sign, bounded to his car, pulled out a camera and began snapping pictures. The service station attendant was puzzled. He looked across the street at the highway sign which gave the mileage and directions to the towns of Elliott, Lamar and Darlington, and saw nothing unusual. The tourist explained: "My name is Elliott Lamar Darlington of New York."

A patrolman's ability to "meow" like a kitten brought about the arrest of 10 gamblers in Boston. A kind hearted gambler opened the door to let the "cat" in out of the cold. Police broke in and broke up a card game.

May Order Trees For Farm Planting

Wayne county farmers, under the Clarke-McNary forestry act which provides that the United States government will furnish seedling trees to those persons who desire to plant windbreaks at an average cost of one cent apiece, covering the cost of packing and shipping, have up to the present time ordered over 6,000 trees.

Those in Wayne county who have already taken advantage of this plan are: John Geewe, Wayne; Theo. Eckman, Hoskins; Carl Bronzynski, Winside; Fred Ulrich, Hoskins; Herbert C. Wehrer, Wayne; Dick Sandahl, Wayne; E. B. Svoboda, Pender; John Backman, Wayne; Harry Denesia, Carroll; Henry Albrecht, Randolph; E. A. Langenberg, Hoskins; Harold Olson, Wakefield; Herman J. Poddold, Winside.

The varieties of trees which are available are: Russian mulberry, American elm, cottonwood, green ash, honey locust, Chinese elm, hackberry, box elder, soft maple, Russian olive, caragana, wild plum, Austrian pine, Ponderosa (yellow) (bull) pine, jack pine and red cedar.

These trees can be ordered through the county agricultural office until March and Chet Walters, county agent, urges that all who plan to do so order now so as to get more of a choice in the many varieties. Last year the total number of trees ordered reached 9,500.
