Middle West Not Likely to Ascend to Boom Standard

THE ATLANTIC and Pacific coasts are reported booming under the influence of high-tension armament building. The middle west will not experience a similar upswing, but its improved condition ought to be strengthened long after defense plans have been completed and fighting nations have returned to peaceful pursuits because the food needs of an impoverished world will be greatly increased. While the farm areas are not likely to fly feverishly high, they will not fall so far nor hit so hard when the inevitable collapse comes. Industrial centers east and west will be flattened to a lower level than farm sections when artificial prosperity disappears. If different parts of the world can get sufficient food to meet requirements, farm production everywhere will be stimulated, and markets should be satisfactory.

Modern Education Discussion Topic

Stress Safety Education In February Program To Be Conducted.

"What is right and wrong with public education" was the topic for Parent-Teacher meeting Monday evening at the city school, Mrs. Paul Mines and Mrs. H. A. Welch were chairman and turned the discussion over to Supt. N. F. Thorpe. The question of extra-curricular activities was considered. It was concluded that though some children have too many outside activities, most students do not have enough. Some felt that parents should determine whether or not a child has too much to do and others thought teachers understood abilities better and should decide. The inclusion in high school of diversified courses was also considered. Some thought home making should be taught to prepare girls for such duties. Some mothers said that this is their special privilege and duty.

Regarding the teaching of democracy, it was shown that schools do include such training in with other subjects. Some felt that the home and others that the church should be the basis for instilling principles of democratic life. Individual guidance is receiving stress in schools. Supt. Thorpe explained the home room plan instituted in the local school, each teacher guiding about 30. Mrs. A. C. Thompson, Mrs. J. H. Pile, Miss Clara Chilson and Frank Sullivan were on the committee serving. Safety education will be the theme February 17 when the 2nd and 3rd grades are in charge. Mrs. Everett Roberts, Mrs. R. M. THE KNOT-HOLE

Vol. 8 Wayne, Neb., Thur., Jan. 23, 1941 No. 8

"Mama, Daddy's lying in the hall unconscious with a piece of paper in his hand and a large box at his side."

"Oh, goody, my new hat has arrived!"

Why not a new house this spring? You've been planning one these many years and there's no time like the present to make that dream home come true. Monthly payments will be little, if any, larger than the first. You are now paying.

Another car of that best of all hard coal came in the first of the week. Now is the time to lay in your supply for the balance of the winter. Call 147.

"You must remember, dear, you waived certain rights when we were married."

"Yes, love, but it wasn't a permanent wave."

"What are the young man's intentions?"

"Well, he's been keeping me pretty much in the dark."

Water softener is still only for the average cistern. Why bother with hard water when you can have soft water for so little?

Don't let your coal bin run dry! The weather may change at any time to one of those howling blizzards for which this country is noted. Keep a good supply of Black Hawk on hand and be ready for anything.

"Well, the days are getting longer. I didn't know you had been married that long."

For that new home, for those new farm buildings, for that repair job, insist on 4-Square lumber. Whether you do the work yourself or hire a carpenter, it saves you time, it saves money.

Paralysis Fund Ball Scheduled

half going to the chapter of the national foundation for infantile paralysis and the other half remaining in the county where it was contributed. The funds received at the headquarters of the national foundation for infantile paralysis—half of the dimes and dollars contributed—is used first to finance research. Every day, medical scientists in research laboratories from New York to California are pursuing their relentless search for the cure and the prevention of the disease so that some day it may be conquered once and for all. "Remember that this is your fight. Infantile paralysis is the enemy of your home just as it is the enemy of the home next door or the home a thousand miles away." Wayne county's fund provided $200 this winter toward buying two iron lungs at Norfolk.

Clinics Reveal Unified Effort

about 75,000 pounds of bromo grass seed are raised in this locality each year. This is marketed and much of it rebought by farmers here. It was suggested that a seed house might be established in Wayne for handling this and other such seed marketing. R. L. Larson, Chamber of Commerce president, Earl Merchant, chairman of the program committee sponsoring the series of clinics, and Secretary W. H. Sweet express great satisfaction in the results of the clinic. They showed that Wayne has many who are interested in helping the community and who are willing to cooperate to this end.

In connection with the clinic plan, the results of the same sort of clinic conducted by Prof. W. A. Wollenhaupt in his advanced business class at the college are interesting. They reveal a cross section of opinion of young people coming to Wayne. Many in this group were interested in seeing Wayne improve its recreational facilities. They suggested greater use of the auditorium for recreation, possibility of having a municipal pool, community dances, greater use of parks, bowling for men and women, and city recreation director. Better bus and train transportation were also favored by the young folks. Clinic committees are meeting this week to summarize the results for presentation at the Chamber of Commerce meeting January 31.

'Phone Cables to Be Laid Underground

New Plan Will Safeguard Service Across Country In Near Future.

Work has begun on twin underground telephone cables which will span the 1,600 miles between Omaha and Sacramento to link the telephone cable networks on the two sides of the continent, the American Telephone and Telegraph company announced recently. The new cables will supplement several existing "open wire" transcontinental lines. They will increase transcontinental circuits initially by about 50 per cent, supplying a quantity of circuits able to meet practically any future demands of national defense or other major emergency, and will ultimately almost triple present cross-continent facilities. The project is expected to cost nearly $20,000,000. Construction permits have been issued for the Omaha-Denver section and applications for the remainder of the work will be submitted to the Federal Communications commission in the near future.

Sudden Attack Fatal Tuesday

came to this country from Scotland and his great grandfather served in the Revolutionary war. Mr. Horney was serving as mail clerk when he met and married Margaret Hufford of Holdrege. The couple later went to Shreveport, La., where Mr. Horney was in business for some time. The family had to leave the south on account of Mrs. Horney's health and 23 years ago came to Nebraska, locating at Wayne where Mrs. Horney's brother, J. E. Hufford, lived. Mr. Horney served as city clerk in 1920 and 1921. In 1922 he entered the lumber business here and was associated with P. A. Theobald until 1939.

Mr. Horney is survived by his wife, a son, James O. Horney of New Orleans, and a daughter, Josephine, now Mrs. A. L. Monken of Seattle, Wash. Both left their homes Tuesday on hearing of their father's death. Mr. Horney plans to arrive this afternoon about 2 and Mrs. Monken will be here early Friday. There are three grandchildren, James Daniel Horney who is a student at Georgia Tech, Margaret and George Monken. Mr. Horney had only one brother, Brigadier General Otis C. Horney, now retired and living at San Mateo, Cal. He will be unable to come.

Mr. Horney was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Presbyterian church. J. E. Hufford came from Omaha Tuesday and Mrs. Hufford will come for the funeral. Geo. Hufford also plans to come from Hastings.

Vital Bill

CONGRESS is now deeply engaged in the question of passing the "lease-loan" bill. Objections as it stands are based on the powers granted the president, and arguments pro and con will be sharply pressed. In speaking Saturday night, John P. Kennedy, administration's recently resigned ambassador to Great Britain, said most Americans want to give fighting democracies all possible aid, but just as numerously and insistently want to avoid direct participation in the war. Kennedy opposes as unnecessary and inadvisable the surrender to the executive of authority belonging to congress as proposed in the bill.

Kennedy thinks this country can keep out of the war and can serve the world better by keeping out. He would have the "lease-loan" bill safeguard our own democracy while assisting the cause of democracy generally.

It is a reasonably safe guess that the bill will finally be passed in changed and modified form, limiting presidential power without interfering with main objectives.

Japan bristles as it contemplates trouble with the United States, and it sides over closer to other totalitarian powers whose aid it expects. Dictatorships and democracies are thus arrayed on two conflicting sides, with a test of force for final supremacy threatened. Common sense, of which, however, the world has been sadly lacking of late, would suggest peaceful settlement of differences rather than ruthless slaughter in which even winners are big losers. But probably the war has gone too far to stop until participating nations have been exhausted and the ruin has been made complete.

On retiring from office, Senator Burke registered as a republican, expressing the conviction that the republican party nearer satisfies the demands of democracy than the democratic party's descendant, the new deal party. Questioned as to his future, Burke said he would settle down to the practice of law in Omaha. Some speculation has developed as to a successor to Senator Norris in two years, and Burke is mentioned as a possibility. In this connection it is reported Kenneth Wherry, republican state chairman, is nursing ambitions.

The story of John Wanamaker's start in business is being revived. It is said when he cleared $48 he put the entire amount into newspaper advertising. With that investment he began a career that landed him at the top in American merchandising. A timid soul would have refused to devote all his initial earnings to something so intangible as advertising. Not so with Wanamaker, and he learned from experience that no investment in business was so certain of desired results as liberal and persistent use of newspaper columns.

Bills introduced in the state legislature Monday increased the total up to that time to 85. A Lincoln report states that members are lugging around in their pockets numerous bills which they expect to launch in due time. Viewing or anticipating the bill influx, an early demand for a sifting committee has developed. This committee will see that the legislative hopper is not overly clogged. It will also threaten darkness for many bills on which ambitious members had pinned their hopes.

President Roosevelt is expected to retain his present cabinet, according to a Washington report. Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins are the only ones left from the original new deal cabinet, and we can see that the service would not be impaired in the least if Ickes and Miss Perkins could persuade themselves to retire.

Probably the reason some of us hit a low level in achievement is because we aim too high on the start. The fellow who must do big things or nothing is likely to do nothing, and arrive nowhere in particular with ambition trailing and hope blasted. The little things that come along for attention are the ones that count as a foundation for higher goals.

The president and vice president were inaugurated Monday according to schedule, and each subscribed to the customary old-time oath. Crowds were not so large as usual, and people attending were in a somber mood—due to war threats—usual gaiety noticeably absent. The president's speech was mostly restricted to ideas upholding democracy.

Nebraska City and Beatrice, both staid and among oldest towns in the state, may experience unusual boom days if prospects develop as expected, the Lincoln Journal reports. Nebraska City is fighting on an oil well and Beatrice on a big munitions plant, but each refuses to threaten its blood pressure by growing excited.

The main cost for the proposed municipal water softening system would fall on users, as we understand. The city's investment would be somewhat under $300. Those who do not have cisterns or softeners would doubtless welcome the improvement. The cistern is satisfactory if enough rain falls to keep it supplied. In recent years of short rainfall, cisterns have suffered, and the demand has increased for ways to tame hard water for laundry and bathing purposes.

The Saturday Evening Post suggests that foreign high-brows who are in this country because it is safer and more comfortable to be here than elsewhere in the world, should not presume on the privileges of our freedom by telling us how we ought to think and feel and behave.

Raise More Hogs?
(LeMars, Ia., Sentinel)

The debate (on the advisability of increasing hog production) illustrates one of the difficulties of crop control through government or other agencies. Opinions differ as to what is the wisest course and most farmers prefer making up their own minds to having decisions made for them by the government or by some farm group.

No Overproduction of Meat.
(Omaha Journal-Stockman)

Apparently livestock farmers have taken their cue from the department of agriculture and no longer do they entertain any fears of an overproduction of cattle, hogs or sheep. From all parts of the country come reports that stockmen are getting ready to expand their operations because of the gratifying advance in market prices as well as the prospect that meats of all kinds will be valuable commodities during and after the war across the water. Of course there is one point that must always be kept in mind by livestock producers. The world will be "dead broke" when the war is over and the people who are most in need of food may be the least able to buy and pay for it. In any event, however, people are going to have to eat.

Iowa School Enrollment.
(Omaha World-Herald)

The decline in school enrollment which Nebraska has experienced in the last nine years has been felt in Iowa, too, according to figures from the Iowa state school superintendent's office.

Between 1930 and 1939 Iowa public school enrollment declined from 554,655 to 509,200, a decrease of 45,455 or eight per cent. This compares with a decrease in Nebraska of 48,686 or 15 per cent.

The larger rate for Nebraska probably reflects to some degree our 4.5 per cent loss of population during the past decade. But a reduced birth rate, common to all states, remains the most important factor. In Iowa as in Nebraska the heaviest decline has taken place in the grade schools. Iowa is now educating 14.8 per cent fewer children in the grades than it was nine years ago.

Security for Democracy.
(Norfolk Daily News)

To the stirring words of President Roosevelt's inaugural address might be added this thought—that the security of our democracy does not rest on words, or emotions, or on a nation's will to live. Democracy can have no secure foundation unless its economic system is functioning soundly.

Millions of people still believe that while Hitler may be a menace to the American way of life, the greater danger is from the fact that our economic system hasn't been working well. We know that the stimulating effect of immense production for war, or defense, is temporary and is likely to be followed by a reaction into depression and discouragement.

These millions would be more hopeful of the future if they felt the administration was as alive to its failure to bring about normal healthy expansion of business and industry to the point where they could support the people in comfort, as it is to the danger of a physical or economic invasion by the Nazis.

Year of Proof.
(Industrial Press Service)

Walter Lippman, columnist of the New York Herald Tribune, who is not given to false optimism, recently came forth with an assurance and a prophecy which everyone in this country ought to read. We quote from it:

"If this mighty continent goes to work as it can go to work when it goes all out, the year 1941 will see the end of doubt, division, and fear, and the gathering together of an America which is true to its past and equal to anything that the future may bring. Then we shall not only sleep well at night; in the day, having the consciousness of working hard and to a single purpose, we shall have done with anxiety."

"For this we depend upon the government for the plans, the specifications, the leadership. But for the results we depend upon the directors, the managers, the technicians, and the employees of American industry. The defense of America is in their hands. They are not the conscripted employees of a totalitarian state, and it is for them to show that a free industry can in fact keep the world free."

"If they succeed, as I believe they will, their success will insure the future of free industry by the only means through which its future can now be insured—by an overwhelming proof of its superiority in the struggle for existence. . . . If now the free peoples are defeated, there will be no future anywhere for free industry."

"But American industry will not fail in the test. . . . The world will see this year the proof that this young continent possesses the energy which, throttled down in these ten years of depression and confusion, will pour forth to astound the world."

Americans with faith in their country believe these words with all their hearts. They know that the year ahead is one in which this nation will again prove its industrial and its democratic power, and they face their part in that test with real confidence.

HOPE AHEAD.

Under the caption, "Self-Disciplining or Slavery," Will Durant, philosopher, writes at length for a current magazine, pointing out that too much liberty, too little self-restraint have weakened the human fiber. If his assumption that "the basic current of our age is return from liberty to discipline" is true, there is strong ground for hope. He says in one paragraph: "Every truth is tempted to expand until it becomes a falsehood. Every virtue is made a vice through excess, and nothing fails like excess. In all the realms of our democratic life liberty has run its course from stimulus to disorder, from beneficence to disintegration." Encouraging self-discipline to avoid automatic calamity, Durant says this in conclusion: "There would be a certain zest in this disciplined freedom; only the weakling wishes to live without obligations and penalties. Helped and manned by the selected and trained intelligence of a vigorous and inventive people, such a democracy could build an ordered liberty and a just prosperity toward which all the world would long to move."

Series.

downs for a painfully long time. But tough going may now be followed by a term of years in which rewards will justify the effort and cost. In times like we are now entering farm values should be more dependable than bonds or cash if inflation even in modified form happens to follow. Anyway, the farm business is in the long run the one to stick to. And as one author remarked recently, the farm population—usually sturdy and reliable—is the surest hope for civilization.

THE DOPE FOR TODAY
(Published by Request)

Wake up and get up, and then put up or shut up. Get a bull-dog grip on yourself right off the bat, and stick it.

Let out your belt and grin all over your face. Brise the pancakes even if they are soggy, and snicker at the joke. Cheer up, and stay there.

Go to work in the morning, and then work. Have something real to do, and then do it.

Don't putter. You will never put'er over if you putter over little things. That's the little man's job.

Boost. If you can't see anything to boost, kid yourself a little. Boost yourself, your business, your employer, the president, the state, the crops, or anything at all, but boost. It clears the way for you to climb.

Don't knock. That's the woodpecker's business. Slinging mud at your competitor dirties your hands and puts him in the limelight. If he knocks you, put him on your payroll. He helps you.

Stand up straight, don't crawl; there's a high-stepper behind you. Size up your man from the eyes down, not from the feet up. If you can't push, then pull, and if you can't pull, get out of the way. Quit work at night and then quit. Forget it. Tomorrow's another day.

At Wayne City School.

Jaqueline Andersen of the 2nd grade, brought a miniature school-house similar to Wayne high, for the town the children are making. Children and plants are at the windows in the schoolhouse. Janice Dery brought a house which can be used for a play house. Donna Lee Westre made a sign, "Welcome to Friendly Village," which was placed at one end of Main street. Rowan Wittse brought tinker toys which are used to hold the sign up. Rowan also made a filling station for the town. Warren Price made a farm at the edge of town. A milk wagon and horse deliver milk to the residents. Vivian Hofeldt is a new student in the 2nd grade. She came from the country.

ECONOMY.

In state legislatures, as in congress, the demand for reduced appropriations strikes what the other fellow wants. If one has a cherished idea that requires public funds, he is unwilling to allow the spirit of needed economy to interfere. He is anxious to have the hearing process take hold elsewhere. Also traditional spending by the legislatures is hard to modify. We understand the legislature just getting under way at Lincoln, is following the time-honored custom of voting to members more postage stamps than they can usually use, and of ordering printed for distribution far more copies of the daily record than needed to satisfy the demand. We understand truck loads of wasted materials were lately hauled from the state capitol to the junk heap. The daily press furnishes in brief and readable form news of legislative happenings, and the verbatim reports of what the solons say are evidently largely wasted. Why not cut useless costs at headquarters? It would be practical to trim in many small ways and not reserve for showy retrenchment the impairment of established and essential institutions.

Back in 1876, U. S. Money Also Went South-American

The United States government, through the Import and Export bank, loaned the Brazilian government 50 million dollars. With a portion of that loan Brazil will pay two American firms, using American materials, for rehabilitating and electrifying a part of the railways of Brazil. In time the American government will get its money back through taxes paid by the contracting firms and those employed by them in this country, and in other ways. The system is all too complicated for us ordinary mortals to understand, but it is the process through which creditor nations, of which we are now the greatest, encourage foreign trade. "None of the American money put into the attempt to build the first railroad in South America ever came back," explained J. P. Clark, believed to be the only man now living who participated in that ill-fated project.

To his cronies in the Adventurers' Club of Chicago, he is known as "Dad" Clark. The expedition, of which he was a member, left Philadelphia in 1876, bound for the head-waters of the Madeira river, to build a railroad around the falls and rapids along the border between Brazil and Bolivia. Of the 941 men in the expedition, 250 died as victims of jungle fever or the poisoned arrows of Bolivian head-hunting Indians. The project was bankrupt before the road was completed. Another American expedition finished the job in 1912, with American capital. It is a narrow gauge and its one train makes one round trip over its 225 miles of track each week.

Mason Warner, a Chicago advertising executive, made a trip over the line this past summer and brought back movies to show "Dad" Clark the railroad he helped build.

'Stray Cats' Too Have Their Day

In the Hoover-Roosevelt campaign of 1932, Gov. Henry Allen of Kansas headed the republican publicity department. At the opening of the campaign he was quoted as saying, "the party would not seek, did not need or want, the support of the rural press." Early in September of that year that statement was being discussed by a group of rural newspaper men in a Chicago hotel. Ollie Little of the Alma (Kan.) Record expressed the predicament in which rural republican editors found themselves.

"Politically, we are a bunch of stray cats, with no place to hole in," said Little.

Two days later that statement and the reason for it was expressed to President Hoover. He took immediate steps to correct the situation by directing Everett Saunders, the national republican chairman, to communicate with all rural newspapers and seek their support.

In the recent campaign, the republicans created a rural press section, under the direction of Herman Roe, editor of the Northfield (Minn.) News. Serious consideration is now being given to making the rural press section a permanent feature of the republican committee organization. The statement about "political stray cats" started by Ollie Little back in 1932 made the recognition of the rural press as a medium which molds public opinion in America.

More Production, Not More Cost.

Wheeler McMillen, editor of Farm Journal, tells me that while running a weekly newspaper at Covington, Ind., he learned practical economics was the application of horse sense to a problem. I am not an economist, but it looks to me that America is forcing prices beyond their intrinsic value.

If we get two dollars instead of one, but must spend the two dollars to buy what we formerly bought with one, what have we gained?

It does not even take "horse sense" to realize it is much easier to increase outgo than to increase income.

American prosperity will be measured by production of things people want, more than by charging higher and still higher prices for the things produced.

Forcing prices beyond a point that represents intrinsic value creates a demand for more and cheaper money. More and cheaper money represents the first steps in inflation. Extreme inflation means individual and national bankruptcy.

That is a bit of Wheeler McMillen's "horse sense" economics.

Joy of Journalism

Hon. Guy U. Hardy is editor and publisher of the Canon City (Colo.) Daily Record. He was nominated for, and elected to congress in 1918. It was my privilege to be the first to advise him of his nomination by a republican convention, a nomination he did not seek and did not want. He continued as an influential member of congress for 12 years. Now he finds more pleasure in running his small city daily than he found in Washington.

Legislative News Letter
William A. Crossland
State Senator

The flood of legislative bills has begun. During the first 10 legislative days 83 bills were introduced. They cover a wide range of subjects from women for jury service to abolishment of various state bureaus and commissions. We will presently group and summarize them for you. You will find a copy of every bill in the office of the county clerk and the county superintendent and the library, state teachers college and Wayne Chamber of Commerce. We will be glad to send you a copy of any bill in which you are interested.

Ten more legislative days remain in which members may introduce bills. Predictions are that fewer bills will be introduced than in past sessions. Of course only a small portion of the bills are finally enacted into law. In the 1939 session of the legislature, of the 523 bills introduced, 138 or about one-fourth were enacted into law, six were vetoed by the governor and 379 or about three-fourths failed.

We believe in fewer bills, carefully prepared, after consultation with interested groups or those affected, reasonably certain to meet a given need and condition or promote the general welfare. The demand for any proposed legislation should be unmistakable. It costs time and money, taxpayers' money to determine whether any of the large number of bills will serve a useful purpose or fill an actual need. The legislator who is willing to introduce any measure for any person on any subject is not saving the taxpayers' money. If the folks back home were consulted before a bill was introduced, there would be fewer bills to consider. Any legislation having a measure of support is always welcome and fares well but many doubtful proposals of individuals fail by the way side.

A senator's legislative record should not be judged merely by the number of bills he introduces, but also by the number of doubtful bills he prevents from becoming laws. Many able senators introduce few bills, only needed legislation, not needless legislation. In the 1939 session, 21 senators or about one-half of the legislature, each introduced five bills or less, 15 of them from six to 10 bills, six of them from 11, 23 and 25 bills respectively. The last three senators introduced 69 bills, almost as many as the 73 bills introduced by the first group of 21 senators.

Almost daily hearings are being had on the subject of gas tax exemption for gas used in farm tractors and the proposal seems to be making headway. It appears that many favor the "refund" plan, that is, refunding the gas tax after purchase rather than reducing the price by the amount of the tax at the time of purchase.

CONGRESS
KARL STEFAN

Czechs in Washington are planning to go to New York on March 7 next, to attend the Masaryk birthday celebration. A strong organization of the Czechs has been formed in New York. There is some plan to put "new blood" into the backers of the Czech provisional government which has headquarters in New York.

Three hundred uniformed policemen from New York, Detroit, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities, along with sixty-five detectives from other towns will be here to help the secret service. The Washington metropolitan police and capital police take care of the inauguration crowds. Inspector Thompson of the district police force who selects these outside policemen says he picks those who are expert at apprehending pickpockets and confidence men. The additional force has all been selected and the books are closed. The men will be here ahead of time to get some instructions. They get their train fare and $15.00 a day while they are here. No one west of Illinois is brought here for this service because of transportation costs.

Faster and faster the United States is getting into the atmosphere that preceded the last war. Herebefore, members could not get about all the statistical information they sought. Not now. Most everything is now of a highly confidential nature. Only members of certain major committees, such as appropriations and military affairs are now invited to conferences in the war department where an officer gives these representatives of the people this confidential information—all of it "off the record," in order that these members can know just what is going on. It is all very mysterious and alarming.

The budget of the United States government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, is a document containing 1071 pages of finely printed figures of sums wanted by the regular agencies of our government. Members of the appropriations committee receive instructions to study these figures closely before listening to department heads and bureau chiefs who are already appearing before sub-committees to justify the budget approved estimates.

The soil conservation service has asked for about 26 million dollars, but the budget cut that service down to a little over 18 million dollars. Nebraska has a score of soil conservation districts and farmers are asking for additional ones. A. E. McClymonds, regional conservator for Nebraska, has been in Washington attending a conference for several days. He reports the soil conservation program in Nebraska is going forward in fine shape, but expansion cannot be made if appropriations are cut too deep. He feels, however, that the service is highly improved from the early days when it started with about 60 million dollars, a sum more than double the current allotment. In spite of the lower appropriations, he feels the work is equal to, if not better than that done earlier.

Although the administration permitted budget approval of money for parity payments to agriculture next year, members favorable to that item are told to be ready for a fight from, industrial sections which have always fought this farm item.

On Monday morning, January 13, William Knudsen, director general of the office of production management, national defense advisory commission, sent the following poster to all plans at work on national defense programs with instructions that it be posted in a conspicuous place:

"To all defense workers: The president of the United States said: 'I appeal to the owners of plants; to our managers; to the workers; to our own government employees; to put every ounce of effort into producing these munitions swiftly and without stint. And with this appeal I give you the pledge that all of us who are officers of your government, will devote ourselves to the same wholehearted extent to the great task which lies ahead. We must be the great arsenal of democracy. For us this is an emergency as serious as war itself. We must apply ourselves to our task with the same resolution, the same sense of urgency, the same spirit of patriotism and sacrifice as we would show were we at war.' Let's get squarely behind our president's appeal. Let's work together building that great arsenal of democracy in record time. Increase production—that's our No. 1 job. Let's go! This first plant bulletin follows the president's speech—the president's budget request for "full out" aid to Britain and the first announcement of "crack down" orders aimed at any obstruction of current policy. From now on many new bulletins and orders will start coming indicating our closeness to war.

A number of married men have written this office asking if they could enlist in any of the branches of our army or navy. After checking this carefully with the recruiting services in the war department, the navy department and the United States coast guard, it has been learned that they do not accept enlistments of married men—that is, original enlistments, at least—because of the complications that may and frequently do arise in the case of married men during the period of enlistment contract. This policy appears to be so fixed now that exceptions are scarcely possible.

There are some members of the appropriations committee who used to work nights and days over the new budget books as they came in. In this year these committee statisticians are quitting their usual laborious methods. They say they can't figure it all any way. If appropriations are going to be made here to take in the entire world of democracies, the supplemental appropriation bills will be so numerous and so tangled that two to three sets of books will have to be kept. Members know now that the first requests for appropriations now before them are just the beginning of new money demands that are in the offing. Only future events will disclose what these demands for money will be. Based on the "blank check bill" which is the new nickname for the lend-lease bill, veteran members of the appropriations committee say it is impossible to keep up with expenditures under their old time methods.

Every member discussing the matter is strong for our own defense and most of them hope Britain wins it war. There are many here, however, who feel that we are going to get into the war under the pretense of defense. Some say privately that, "if we are in it, and time is really essential, we better cast off our mask and get right in."

A man who writes political statistics came into the office with the statement that steel is going sky high. He tells friends that he is now buying seven years supply of razor blades and will become a razor-blade hoarder. Behind the scenes it is said here that civil aviation training has not met requirements and that something is going to be done about it. Those who seem to know, say in secret sessions that those in power so far as aviation is concerned, are not satisfied with what civil aviation training has accomplished thus far. There may be some radical changes made very soon.

There is a mad rush to learn Spanish in this capital. A lot of the women writers who figure that the first lady may make a trip to South America soon, are working hard to learn a few words of the language. They think they will be invited to go along to write up the southern tour.

The annual convention of Women's clubs has drawn women from parts of the United States to the national capital. Along with the army of experts on national defense and industry, the hordes of new government employees and army and navy men, these convention delegates find these accommodations difficult to procure. Inauguration visits have reserved rooms many months ahead of time. Among the Women's club visitors from Nebraska are Mrs. C. R. Caley of Springfield and Mrs. Walter Kichel of Tecumseh.

Christian Science Services

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Church of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 26.

The Golden Text is: "Thou art near, O Lord; and all thy commandments are truth. Concerning thy testimonies, I have known of old that thou hast founded them for ever" (Psalms 119: 151, 152).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people" (Matthew 4: 23).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The best sermon ever preached is Truth practiced and demonstrated by the destruction of sin, sickness, and death. Knowing this and knowing too that one affection would be supreme in us and take the lead in our lives, Jesus said, 'No man can serve two masters.' We cannot build safely on false foundations. Truth makes a new creature in whom old things pass away and all things are become new. Passions, selfishness, false appetites, hatred, fear, all sensuality yield to spirituality, and the superabundance of being is on the side of God, good" (p. 201).

Wildcats Host to Braves Saturday

Powerful Sioux Falls College Five Comes to Hill Court For Return Encounter

Resuming play after almost two weeks spent entirely in drill with no games on the schedule, Coach Jim Morrison's band of Wildcat cagers tangle with the Sioux Falls college Braves on the Hill court Saturday evening. The game is a return engagement of an early season encounter, at Sioux Falls which the Wayne men dropped by a 41 to 23 count.

Showing the results of intensive practice sessions during the past two weeks, the black and gold men are displaying a brand of team work and ball handling far superior to that evidenced before the holiday recess.

The Wayne mentor has been working his men in units of two or three men, and will have various combinations of these units in readiness for the invasion of the Braves, promising to give the Dakotans all they can handle — and possibly more.

Aberle by Bob Goodbar and Lyle Aberle, each over 6½ feet tall, and high-scoring Forward Houk, the Braves have enjoyed a successful season so far, defeating the Peru State cagers at Peru by almost the same margin they won from the Wildcats.

Starting for Coach Morrison will be Magdanz and Gother, to cope with Goodbar and Aberle, in addition to Anderson, Best and Whitmore. As a unit to replace his two tall men, the Wayne coach plans to use Nitz and Fitch. Ready to replace the three-man starting unit will be Lauriant, Ahern and Retzlaff. Bob Lenhart has been showing a good bit of improvement the past week and may probably see some action Saturday.

Two Games Away Next Week.
Tuesday of next week, Coach Morrison takes his Wildcats to Lincoln to meet the Nebraska Wesleyan cagers in a return game the Wayne men winning here in December. Friday, January 31, the black and gold court men invade Peru for their second NIAA tilt against the strong Peru State Bobcats. Each team has a loop victory over Kearney, and this game is expected to have an important effect on the race for conference honors.

Former Resident To New Position
Miss Frances Kiker of Norfolk, formerly of Wayne, has resigned her home economics and English teaching position at Atkinson to accept a similar one at Scottsbluff. Her new work started Monday with opening of the new semester.

Food Stamp Plan Approved in Cedar
The federal food stamp plan for distribution of surplus food commodities will be inaugurated in Cedar county March 1. The county will provide a revolving fund of $6,000 which will permit relief clients to obtain more food. About 575 families are eligible in that county.

Announce Quotas.
County draft quotas in nearby counties include 24 in Cuming, 17 in Dakota, 17 in Dixon, 25 in Knox, 37 in Madison, 19 in Pierce, 10 in Stanton, 20 in Thurston.

Assistant Is Named.
Dr. J. P. Hahn of Hartington, has been named assistant examiner for draftees in Cedar county. Dr. R. P. Carroll of Laurel, is chief examiner.

To Make Pairings For Tourney Today

Pairings for the Wayne town basketball tournament sponsored by the Legion beginning February 3 are to be made today. Teams entered by Wednesday are Winfield, Oakland, Belden, Walthill, Allen, Battle Creek, Coleridge, Wayne Merchants, Wayne Ramblers, Dixon, Metz Bakers of Sioux City and Schuyler.

Wayne at Top In College Loop

Present top honors in the race for supremacy among the nine Nebraska colleges are held by Wayne, Peru and York, each with two wins and no losses. Doane, with three wins and one defeat, is the only other team near the top at this time.

In the NIAA loop, Wayne and Peru, each with a victory over Kearney, are in a tie for first place. The high-scoring Chadron Eagles are scheduled to play their first loop game late this month.

Blessing Leads Scorers.
Individual scoring honors in the NIAA loop are held by Paul Blessing of Kearney, who has scored 21 points in two conference games. Bud Best, Wayne guard, is listed among the top six, tallying 11 points in the Wildcat's encounter with Kearney.

Prep Plays Two Games at Home

The Wayne Prep cagers will host team twice during the next week, meeting the strong West Point cagers here Friday evening, and entertaining Fred Murray's quint from Laurel high school Tuesday evening of next week. The Little Wildcats will then journey to Wisner Friday, January 31.

Town Team Formed For This Season

Aldo Molinari has organized a town basketball team to play in the Legion tournament and the rest of this season. Other members are Elwood Morris, Joe Lindahl, Faye and Bob Webb, Jack Stubbs, Virgil Smith and Darrel Johnson. The business houses in Wayne sponsoring the team are Kirkman's, Gay theatre, Paul Mines, First National bank, Brown-McDonald, Nuss, Corryell and Safeway.

Norfolk Cagers Here Tomorrow

Lanky Six-Footers to Tangle with Coach Morris' Blues at Municipal Auditorium.

Coach Elwood Morris' Wayne high cagers will entertain Ray Baxter's band of six-footers this Friday evening at the municipal auditorium in one of the Blues' biggest games of the season.

With two victories in the past week to their credit, Coach Morris is by no means easing up on his boys. Instead he has been giving them an extra amount of work on defensive play against type of play used by tall teams in an effort to stop the high-scoring invading quint.

The Panthers come to Wayne with a season's record of only one defeat in five starts, losing to Jackson high of Omaha, 22 to 23, in two overtimes. They scored victories over Wayne Prep, Atkinson, Fremont and the previously undefeated Albion high team.

With seven men six feet tall or taller, the Norfolk team is one of the tallest in the state. Coming after Don Barry and Jack Farmer, each 6 feet, 4 inches tall, are such "pygmies" as Don Mahoney and Glenn Stover, each 6 feet, 2 inches, Bob Peterson, 6 feet, 1 inch, and Bob Bridge and Bob Eckert, each an even 6 feet tall. The eight-seventh semester eligibility rule this week removed two lettermen, Larrabee and Warner, from the Panther ranks, but Baxter has several promising new men who will ably take their place.

Paced by Forward Eckert, leading scorer to date, the Baxter men include such veterans as Center Barry, second high scorer, Forward Bridge, leading scorer of last season, and Jack Farmer, outstanding defensive guard.

Probable starters for Coach Baxter, with an average height of 6 feet, 2 inches, are Eckert and Bridge, forwards; Barry, center; and Farmer and Stover, guards. Bridge and Eckert started against Wayne last year.

Prepsters Outscore Pierce Five Friday

Catch Joe Lindahl's Wayne Prep cagers Friday evening defeated "Dutch" Henke's Pierce high basketballers, 35 to 24, in a high-scoring game. Sparked by Bloss, who scored 13 points, the Little Wildcats held an 18 to 13 margin at half time, increasing this during the final period of the game. High scorer for the Pierce side was Romley, with 8 points.

The box score:

Wayne (35)	Pierce (24)
Bloss	4 5 3 Way	0 0 0

Install New Bleacher Seats at College Gym

Installation of a complete, new set of bleachers in the college gym this week is expected to solve seating problems at the games. The new roll-away type of seats will accommodate more people than did the old type, and with less disturbance, while at the same time allowing more room on the playing floor. Although not entirely completed this week, part of the new bleachers will be ready for use at Saturday night's game.

Blue Quint Wins Two Past Week

High Cagers Win from South Sioux City Friday, 22-15; Nip Pilger Tuesday, 32-24.

Wayne high's cagers added two more victories to their string during the past week, winning at South Sioux City Friday evening, 22 to 15, and defeating Pilger here Tuesday evening, 32 to 24, bringing their season's record to 6 wins and 2 losses.

Wayne 22, South Sioux 15.
With both teams playing strictly defensive ball during the entire first quarter, scoring was held to a free throw by Berry of Wayne, and a field goal by Curry of South Sioux.

Opening up in the second period, the Blues hit a scoring streak that brought baskets by Hossie, Hockom and Berry, while Wiegards and Keller lallied for the Cardinals, making the half time score 12 to 7 for Wayne.

The Cardinals started the third quarter with a free throw by H. Roger and a fielder by Wiegard and then stopped, while the Wayne lads added to their score with counters by Powers, Berry and Smith.

After Berry tossed a fielder early in the last period, the South Sioux lads staged a desperate scoring drive that brought baskets by Wiegards and Keller, to bring the final count to 22-15 for Wayne.

The box score:

Wayne 32, Pilger 24.
Displaying considerable improvement in offensive floor work, Coach Morris' cagers had little trouble with Pilger Tuesday evening in a game that was delayed almost an hour because of the snow storm.

Starting off with a powerful drive and air-tight defensive the Blues enjoyed a 14 to 4 advantage at the first quarter with Wayne scores provided by Derry, Grquist, Hockom, Smith and Berry, while Jones and Puls scored for the visitors.

The second period was fairly even, Berry and Smith tallying for the Blues while Jones and R. Miller added six for Pilger, to make the half time score, 17-30, Wayne.

Holding the Pilger team to fielders by R. Miller and B. Miller, the Blues added 15 points in the third frame with scores by Berry, Derry, Hossie and Sund.

Enjoying a 33-14 lead at the end of the third quarter, the Wayne lads seemed to ease up in the final period, failing to score a single

To Retire at 79.
Washington, Jan. 22 — Justice James Clark McReynolds, outspoken opponent of much new deal legislation, notified President Roosevelt today that he would retire from the supreme court February 1 after 26 years of service. The veteran jurist, who will be 79 years old February 3, was the only member of the tribunal described by administration officials as "conservative."

To Fix Thanksgiving Day.
Lincoln, Jan. 21—As far as the unicameral legislature is concerned, passage of a bill designating the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving day in Nebraska will be but a formality.

Thirty of the 43 members introduced such a measure today. They represent one more vote than is necessary to pass it with the emergency clause.

Sen Ernest Adams, Omaha, who headed the list, said he planned to "get in touch with other states to see whether they have a definite date for Thanksgiving set and to let them what we're doing."

"We think it is about time to end the confusion that has existed the last two years. And it isn't a partisan matter, either, since at least eight of the co-introducers are democrats."

Existing statutes in Nebraska merely authorize the governor or the president to fix the date.

Governor Griswold has indicated he favors the last Thursday in November.

Former Editor at Albion Dies at 82

Albion, Neb., Jan. 21—Arthur W. Ladd, 82, former editor, postmaster and city official, died last night.

Ladd, 82, was born at Oneida, Ill. At 15 he began working as a clerk in restaurant, dry goods and grocery stores, and finally as assistant postmaster at Oneida.

While in the postoffice he bought a small card printing outfit and when let out of postoffice with a change of administration he started the first paper at Oneida at the age of 18. A friend loaned him $60 to begin the venture and with his savings he bought a small printing outfit and published a paper for three years.

Stuffed Beef Steak To Cherokee Man

Take a tender slice of round steak, one inch thick, remove the bone, trim and spread over it a plain bread stuffing, seasoned with salt, pepper and two or three drops of onion juice. Roll and bind with twine. Have ready a roasting pan, in which you have fried two pieces of salt fat pork. Lay the roll in pan and brown it, then add ½ cup of boiling water, dredge with salt and pepper, and a thick coating of flour. Cover closely and bake in hot oven ½ hour.

A Lovely, Simple Dessert

By BEULAH V. GILLASPIE
Director, Seafest Laboratory Kitchen

IT'S a real delight for all the family—for children and adults both. And it is a lovely dessert for guests at any time. Simple to prepare, too. Served with the chocolate cake squares as shown above, this "Floating Island" will bring any tired appetite to new life!

CHOCOLATE FLOATING ISLAND

3 cups milk
2 squares chocolate
¼ cup sugar
1½ tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup confectioners sugar

Heat 2½ cups of milk and the chocolate in a double boiler until the milk is scalded and the chocolate is melted. Beat with a rotary beater until smooth. Mix the sugar, flour and salt and stir in the remaining ½ cup of cold milk. Add to the hot mixture and cook, stirring constantly for 3 to 5 minutes or until thickened. Continue to cook for 10 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Add about one-half of this mixture slowly to the slightly beaten egg yolks, mixing well. Return to the double boiler and cook, stirring constantly for 1 minute longer. Add the vanilla. Chill and pour into serving dishes. Beat the egg whites until stiff and beat in the confectioners sugar and a few grains of salt. Drop by spoonfuls on gently boiling water and cook for about 5 minutes. Remove with a perforated spoon, chill and serve on the chocolate custard. Serve six. Serve with chocolate frosted cake squares.

Carl A. Forsberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Per Forsberg, was born in Linköping, Sweden, November 21, 1860, being 80 years, 1 month, 27 days of age at the time of his death.

Deceased emigrated to America in 1882, coming to Dixon county in 1884.

Mr. Forsberg married Miss Mary Johnson of Omaha, March 6, 1901. They moved to a farm two miles southwest of Concord, where they resided until eight years ago when they retired and moved to town.

Mrs. Forsberg passed away four years ago.

Mr. Forsberg is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Helen Anderson of Concord, Alice of Beverly Hills, Cal., Eleanor and Edith of Omaha, and two granddaughters, Alice and Mary Anderson of Concord, three brothers, August, Victor and Edward and one sister, Mrs. Hilma Johnson, all of this community. Two sisters, Mrs. John Peterson and Mrs. John Carlson, preceded him in death.

Mr. Forsberg was one of Dixon county's sturdy pioneers. He was a man of honest, upright character who always did his share toward the church and for the community in general. May his memory and kind deeds be cherished by all who knew him.

Last Sunday we enjoyed reception of new members. We bid them a continued welcome. May we all share the blessed and joyous fellowship as offered in the church.

The following is a one-minute radio broadcast sent out over the air from some of our leading broadcasting systems Saturday evenings: It is sponsored by the National Committee for Religious Recovery, which is composed of a national group of patriotic and staunch laymen. Attention America! Tomorrow you may enjoy America's most sacred heritage, the right to worship in the church of your own choice, so why not go to church on Sunday? With war, strife and hatred running wild, civilization is at stake. The preservation of religion means the preservation of civilization and a good citizen should attend and support his church regularly. Come and bring your children to our Sunday morning service. Remember— "Just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined." And every parent owes his child the knowledge of God whose light still shines for those who seek it.

Always welcome to our church services and Sunday school at Concordia.

Interesting Hobby Develops Into Entertainment Feature

That a hobby may develop into a worthwhile business venture is proved by Mrs. Arlowyne Wingett of near Wayne, whose early liking for horses has led her to train the animals for performances. And Mrs. Wingett pursues this hobby in addition to her home-keeping and her other activities which are part of life on the farm.

Mrs. Wingett thinks her fondness for horses must have started when she was a baby for she has a picture which her family took of her on a horse when she was still in long dresses. Mrs. Wingett spent most of her life on a farm and has always liked horses. She finds them very intelligent and easily handled by those who like them.

For some years Mrs. Wingett has ridden horses daily for pleasure and for such errands as bringing in the cattle from pasture for her husband, Glenn Wingett. Two years ago, after friends had admired her ability, she consented to put one of her horses and a couple of colts through some tricks at the county fair here. One of the colts was only 3 months old but even then it had been taught several acts. The feature proved so popular that other fairs and celebrations sought Mrs. Wingett for entertainment. She has already booked fairs and "free days" for the coming season.

One of Mrs. Wingett's performers is Black Mischief, a 3-year-old mare of Morgan breeding, which she started training when the animal was 3 months old. This is one of the three she first showed at the fair. Black Mischief learns easily. And Mrs. Wingett has proved an efficient trainer for the mare does a variety of stunts such as playing sick and rolling over, bell ringing, picking up a handkerchief, rolling a barrel, teetering, standing on a box and posing.

Silver Rhythm, another of Mrs. Wingett's horses, is an American bred stallion that is 6 years old. Silver Rhythm is seven-gaited, which is unusual. He has five saddle gaits, the walk, trot, single foot, canter and rack, and two high school gaits, the park walk and cake walk in which he dances to "O Suzanna." He also does such other stunts as pivoting, kneeling and mounting the pedestal.

Two colts are also in training at the Wingett farm and will soon be adept in the maneuvers.

One must have a deep fondness for horses and must pursue training every day in spite of bad weather to gain greatest success in this interesting hobby, according to Mrs. Wingett.

Books Accessioned At Wayne Library

Thrilling new mystery stories have just been unpacked and placed on the shelves at the Wayne public library. These include: "Devil's Work," written by Carolyn Wells, using the Adirondack mountains to form the background for a murder which shows the authors' finesse in plot development and her command of suspense and foreboding; "Three Thirds of a Ghost," by Timothy Wabner, in which Jupiter Jones wades into an autographing party and finds himself up to his neck in murder; "I Wanted to Murder," the story of a handsome bachelor, written by Clarissa Fairchild; "The Verdict of Twelve," written by Raymond Postgate; and "Telling of the Jury which tried the case of a woman accused of poisoning her small nephew, 'Black Plumes,' by Margery Allingham, telling the story of the Ivory family, founders and owners of the great art collection, and what happened when the dark shadow of murder fell over them all; "The Saint in Miami," by Leslie Charters, a true Saint novel, this time presenting present-day world affairs with a devil-may-care graciousness; "The Secret of the Marshbanks," by Kathleen Norris, a well-guarded family secret and murder being the unusual elements in this novel.

Another popular book received is "Invitation to Live," written by Lloyd C. Douglas. The tremendous popularity of "Green Light," recent book by Douglas, was due to the inspiring central character, Dean Harcourt of Trinity Cathedral. Now he appears again in this novel in which Barbara Breckinridge, pursuing a frivolous and purposeless career, is startled by the terms of her great-grandmother's will. She was asked, among other things, to attend the service in Trinity Cathedral on the first Sunday after her graduation from college. Dean Harcourt's sermon sends the girl out on a curious adventure which is delightfully unfolded in this book.

"One Foot in Heaven," by Hartzell Spence, tells of a Parson who had a good time with his work, especially when he was being inducted into a new life by the bombing and big cities have lost their lives by a disaster in a life bombing and big cities more have been injured or have lost their homes and everything they possess. Do not think, however, that life here has come to a standstill on that account.

Unity and Cooperation Inspire British Chapter Serves In Relief Work

The unity of purpose and the wholehearted cooperation of all freedom loving people inspire Britishers to face the future in hope and confidence according to a letter written by Mrs. Will Farley of Plymouth, England, to her cousin, Mrs. A. K. Rice of Tekamah. A copy of the letter appears in a paper received by the A. L. Irelands here.

"In the international field the scene changes from hour to hour as the totalitarian states threaten to overthrow the democracies. Presently right will triumph and civilization and progress will come into their own again. Let us not think that final victory will be attained without that sacrifice and suffering of which our prime minister spoke when he said, 'I have nothing to offer you but blood and toil and sweat and tears.' We have had much evidence of this price we have to pay. Several thousands of civilian population in London and other big cities have lost their lives by a disaster in a life bombing and big cities more have been injured or have lost their homes and everything they possess. Do not think, however, that life here has come to a standstill on that account.

"You probably wonder how it feels to be 'under fire' continually. I recall hearing a broadcast describing life at critical times in the civil war in Spain, how people dodged bombs by running under doorways and sometimes by lying flat in the road or in a ditch. It all seemed to be happening in another world from our own and we little thought that these seemingly fantastic events would soon become grim reality to us. You would be surprised how used one gets to the feeling that bombs may drop on you at any minute of the day or night. Life goes on exactly as usual before, apart from certain inevitable interruptions which are quickly put right. No one is in the least perturbed or panicky. All get on with our work and, save for the subconscious feeling that 'Jerry' might be up above, we never think anything about it."

Mrs. Farley described the dug-out her husband has had constructed in the garden. A stone wall about four feet thick and 14 feet high separates the garden and yard and space was bored in this. The shelter has been fitted with seats which may be converted into beds and electric lights are installed. The bake house fire nearby keeps it warm. Most people have shelters of their own making. Meals are often taken to the shelter, and people do their knitting and clerical work there.

"However horrible may be bombing, it is nothing compared to the slavery, concentration camps and spying in Nazi-controlled countries," continues Mrs. Farley. "Under dictatorship the people are allowed to know only what their rulers like to tell them and as there is no free press and no criticism they have no means of verifying what they are told. Thousands of Poles are being shot, their

Wayne county Red Cross chapter bettered $750 for flood relief work in northeast Nebraska, $449.50 for war relief and sent $286.06, half of the membership drive, to national headquarters this year. The chapter also provided health services, clothing, transient relief and life saving locally. Amount on hand and receipts for the year totaled $2,941.76. Disbursements were $2,112.39, leaving a balance of $829.37.

Wayne had 422 members and other parts of the county 111. Half of the membership funds went to national headquarters for general disaster relief and the rest remains here for local work.

All members of the Red Cross are urged to attend a meeting Wednesday evening, January 29, at 7:30 in the Woman's club rooms.

Postal Service Prospect Bright

Remodeling of Presbyterian Church Is Started Here Fifteen Years Ago.

Early days from the Wayne Herald for January 22, 1925. Wayne's request for free postal delivery and for a new post office building are receiving favorable consideration in Washington. The improvements will likely be realized within a few years.

Remodeling estimated at $18,000 will be done at the Presbyterian church. An addition will be built and the whole structure improved. The church was organized in 1881, the year Wayne started. Rev. G. N. Lodge was the first pastor, and Rev. Penton C. Jones is serving now.

The Hoskins bank, Geo. Bruse pool hall and Elmer Thorngren pool hall at Hoskins were entered and robbed. About $40 in all was taken.

Miss Elizabeth Welsh, formerly of Wayne and now of Lincoln, was married to Verne Lewellen of Green Bay, Wis., in January, 1925. Ewan Hamer and Miss Jessie Swihart of Carroll, were married December 20, 1924.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan observed their 55th wedding anniversary January 20, 1925.

The Lesman loader company in Des Moines, has experienced a successful year with an increasing demand for its product.

Children at the Crossroads

Post-Prohibition Problems.

The highly-organized gangs of bootleggers were blotted out upon the repeal of prohibition, but not so their small, scattered brothers. These find a great number of their customers among minors to whom legitimate dealers will not sell liquor. Consequently we now encounter much drinking by children.

In an attempt to trace the bootleggers an officer went onto the dance floor and arrested three intoxicated young persons, one of whom was a girl, 16 years of age, who had been a ward of the juvenile court for two years. Thus bitter disappointment was the fruit of months of patient effort on the part of a hopeful

The following rules and regulations in regard to disinfection are hereby adopted:

Disinfection The word "Premises" used in this section shall mean all places where it is necessary to disinfect.

Disinfection includes: (A) Concurrent Disinfection. (B) Terminal Disinfection.

Concurrent Disinfection: Is required during the existence of any of the following diseases: Chicken pox, Diphtheria, Influenza, Measles, Meningococcus Meningitis, Mumps, Pneumonia, Poliomyelitis, Rubella (German Measles), Scarlet Fever, Septic Sore Throat, Small pox, Tuberculosis (pulmonary), Typhoid Fever, and Whooping Cough.

Terminal Disinfection: Is the collecting of the communicable discharge of the patient during the course of the disease, the burning of same, or the application of a disinfectant solution to render same inert. Concurrent disinfection is of the greatest importance, for the organisms which cause communicable diseases are for the most part parasitic and depend upon their residence in and upon the body of their propagation. Under the usual conditions outside the body the bacteria of human disease will not grow and soon die. The communicable discharges, therefore, must be collected in covered receptacles. Bed linens and linens such as night-gowns used by patient should be changed at least every forty-eight hours, where this will not interfere with the well-being of the patient, immediately placed in a disinfectant solution such as 2 per cent liquor cresolis compound U. S. P., 5 per cent solution carbolic acid, or an equivalent disinfectant solution.

Terminal Disinfection: It is now generally accepted that terminal disinfection is much better and in much more accord with modern scientific research than fumigation.

Therefore, fumigation is no longer required in the following diseases: Chicken pox, Diphtheria, Influenza, Measles, Meningococcus Meningitis, Mumps, Pneumonia, Poliomyelitis, Rubella (German Measles), Scarlet Fever, Septic Sore Throat, Small pox, Typhoid Fever, and Whooping Cough.

When a Board of Health having jurisdiction is satisfied that a person who has suffered from any of the foregoing named diseases is no longer a source of danger to others, it shall see that the following procedure as to terminal disinfection is carried out before such persons, or premises, are released from placard or quarantine.

First: The patient and those in contact shall be bathed with an antiseptic solution. This should be done by bath of warm water and soap, then washing of the body with a mild antiseptic solution. Bicarbonate of mercury in strength of 1 to 5000 is recommended for this purpose, care being taken that patient does not get the same in mouth or eyes.

Second: Everything in the sick room or that has come in contact with the patient and that is of no special value (papers, magazines, clothes, wooden toys, etc.) should be burned.

Third: Before removal from patient's room, washable clothing, linens, used by patient and by those in contact shall be immersed in a 2 per cent solution liquor cresolis compound U. S. P., 5 per cent solution carbolic acid, or an equivalent disinfectant, and remain in such solution for half an hour, then boiled for half an hour.

Fourth: Blankets and other articles presenting free surfaces and not too thick can be made safe by exposure in the open air to direct sun rays for three or four days, or sufficiently long to get fully twenty-four hours of direct sunshine. Such articles as rugs, carpets, etc., treated in the same way, should, in addition, be brushed with a 2 per cent solution liquor cresolis compound U. S. P., a 5 per cent solution carbolic acid, or an equivalent disinfectant.

Fifth: Thorough washing of the wood work, wood and metal furnishings with hot water and soap, combined with disinfection through the use of a 2 per cent solution liquor cresolis compound U. S. P., or a 5 per cent solution carbolic acid or of door knobs, open crevices, and such room furnishings as may have come in direct contact with patient's hands or hands of attendants, may be relied upon to protect against reinfection from the room. The need of repapering, calcimining, painting, etc., is left to the discretion of the Board.

Who is Responsible: The county, city or village Board of Health within the jurisdiction of which the premises are, is primarily responsible. The Board may use its discretion as to permitting this to be done under the supervision of the attending physician; provided, that in all cases the Board within whose jurisdiction the case is, has the right to supervise the disinfection.

Cost of Terminal Disinfection: This is to be borne entirely by the people who reside in the premises.

Not Necessary to Disinfect Premises for Those in Contact: Whenever anyone is to be "Quarantined Out" after having been in contact with a communicable disease it is not necessary to disinfect the premises at that time; provided that the disease still exists in the premises. In these cases, disinfection is only necessary when the patient is to be released from quarantine.
