May Organize in Eradication of Noxious Weeds

Will Circulate Petitions to Get Support of Land Owners in County.

Wayne county may organize to eradicate noxious weeds. This proposal, considered at a meeting of about 65 farmers at Wayne Wednesday last week and again yesterday, will be presented to land owners for their decision.

In the temporary organization Herbert Berg, is county chairman, Alfred Sydow vice chairman and Chet Walters secretary. Plectinct chairmen, chosen at last week's meeting, are Wm. Woehler for Brenna, Fred Jensen for Chapin, C. H. Morris for Deer Creek, Theo. Kling for Gardfield, Walt Fenske for Hancock, Wm. Riggert for Hoskins, Lawrence Ring for Hunter, Linn Bressler for Leslie, Clarence Bard for Logan, Herbert Bergt for Plum Creek, Lee Selton for Sherman, Leonard Pospisil for Strahan and Albert Watson for Wal-

The meeting to consider forming the proposed district was called in response to a card survey in which all but four of 88 expressed favor for such a program. Wayne county noxious weed district is the name suggested.

Petitions will be circulated and the district may be set up if 51 per cent of the resident land owners or those representing ownership of 60 per cent of the land favor the proposal. Following the petition circulation, the district asks that the county board and state department of agriculture hold a public hearing at which opinions for or against the matter may be presented. The county commissioners then decide if the district is to be formed.

Providing the county board declares the need for such a district, a referendum is held for electing a board of supervisors. The board then decides the procedure and enforces this.

Choose Own Methods. Farmers use the method they choose for eradication. Chemicals are recommended for small patches, and deep cultivation for large areas.

Cost of organization is spread evenly over the county, this being borne by the land owner. The law operation now provides some costs that would be eliminated by bills now proposed. One provision is that all notification must be by registered mail which is about 25c per letter. It is proposed to eliminate this. Another provision is that the legal notice concerning the district be published three times. The new proposal is that it be printed only once.

Tell of Cuming Plan. Joe Watson, Robert Munderloh and Mr. Conn of West Point, and W. L. Klatt of Lincoln, were here last week to explain the plan. The Cuming county men told of the organization that has operated there the past year. They explained that farmers there agreed to clean up at least three acres each the first year. The cost in the county was about $1,100 but the new laws proposed would reduce this. Cuming county is anxious that Wayne county organize as part of the water shed goes there. Mr. Klatt discussed the new proposals.

W. H. Swett volunteered the assistance of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce in any way possible.

With the opening of terms in the fall, schools of the county begin plans for the next fair. Also 4-H club projects are kept alive through the year, with the annual fair the goal. A bigger and better fair with each succeeding year is the ambition.

Bids Are Asked On Ditch Work By City Council

Floor Will Be Constructed In Airport Hangar to Fill Requirements.

Straightening Logan creek northeast of Wayne to improve drainage of city sewage will be contracted by Wayne city council February 25. At the regular meeting Tuesday the council voted to advertise for bids on the proposed work.

By agreement with the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, owners of the farm occupied by Lloyd Powers, the insurance firm agreed to dismiss damage action against Wayne city providing Logan creek were straightened for a distance of 250 feet near the farm, thus improving drainage.

The council decided on the ditch because of the saving to be effected. Straightening the creek is estimated at about $600 to $700 whereas a sewage disposal plant would cost from $50,000 to $60,000 besides requiring about $300 monthly operation.

The council will also have a floor placed in the airport hangar to comply with federal regulations. An oil mat floor will be built as this costs less than concrete. The floor is required in gaining approval of pilot training work.

Marry Saturday
At Atkins Home

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mead
Go to New York to Live.
In Schenectady.

Miss Betty Mae Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Atkins of Cozad and formerly of Wayne, became the bride of Clifford Mead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mead of Cozad, Saturday at 4 o'clock in the Atkins home, Rev. John Wichel of Hastings, uncle of the bridegroom, performing the single ring service in the presence of immediate relatives. The bridal party stood beneath an archway of green in which sweetpeas were entwined. Blue floor baskets at either side held pink carnations.

The bride wore an aquamarine blue dress with brown accessories. An emerald necklace was a gift of the bridegroom, and her bouquet was of gardenias and pink roses tied with pastel streamers. Miss Margaret Mead, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Her dress was aquamarine and she carried pink roses. Mr. Mead and his best man, Robert Bailey of Lincoln, wore conventional dark suits and rose boutonnieres.

A reception and wedding dinner followed at the Dixie Inn. A cake with miniature bride and groom and carriages decorated the tables. Mrs. I. E. Ellis of Wayne, Mrs. Grace Jeffrey of Holdrege, and Miss Jane Jeffrey of Omaha, were among out of town guests.

The young folks left Monday for Schenectady, N. Y., where Mr. Mead is employed with the General Electric company.

Brighten Birthday
For One in Hospital

To be in a cast in a hospital bed on one's 70th birthday did not present a very pleasant prospect for Mrs. W. E. Pfeils, who is recovering from a broken hip, but Wednesday last week turned out to be an unusually happy occasion. Mrs. Lindsay's daughter, Mrs. C. W. Pfeils of O'Neill, and sister, Mrs. Art Auker of Springfield, were responsible for planning the surprise, though bad roads prevented the latter from being present.

Mrs. Lindsay's nurse had copied with the "plotters" and held all mail which she thought might be something for the party.

The day was bright and sunny and Mrs. Lindsay ate dinner alone without the customary visit of children and grandchildren and the decorated cake. Soon after dinner, however, the nurse went to Mrs. Lindsay's room, loaded down with letters and packages which had arrived for several days. What a thrill! F.O.B. friends sent Mrs. Lindsay a quilt to be pieced for pastime, each block covered with the name of the giver. Happy memories are stitched into each block. From other Wayne and wide friends came cards, handkerchiefs, reading material and other gifts.

The mail man then arrived with 46 letters and cards, these from relatives and friends in Kansas, West Virginia, Missouri, Minnesota, Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, California, Iowa, Oregon, Illinois, included were 65 snapshots which brought happy memories of many whom Mrs. Lindsay has not seen for years and of some grandchildren she has never seen.

Included among Mrs. Lindsay's gifts were two bed jackets, diary, scrap books, 49 handkerchiefs and two holders, 111 cards, cereal set, wool robe with matching slippers, card and pot holders, plants, sachet bags, bath towels, candy, fancy powder, framed pictures, stationery, enlarged picture of O'Neill grandchildren and a year's subscription to her favorite magazine.

When the C. W. Pfeils of O'Neill, asked permission to see Mrs. Lindsay they were informed they probably would have difficulty finding her because the bed, table and chairs were piled high with gifts. Mrs. Pfeils brought the decorated birthday cake which was served with coffee to W. E. Lindsay, Miss Florence Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pfeils, Marjorie Cawil, Bob and Jacqueline of O'Neill, Mrs. John Pfeil and Melvin of Hardar, Mrs. Walter O. Nelson of Winther, S. D., Mrs. Martha Lutt, Mrs. Wm. Pfeil and children of Wayne, Henry Martin accompanied C. W. Pfeils and was a guest in the Herbert Peters home. A number of friends also called. The day closed when a friend sent in ice cream daintily trimmed in pink and blue.

Of Mrs. Lindsay's five children, only two, Florence of Wayne, and Marion of O'Neill, were able to be present. Maurice Montgomery of Winfield, Zola Bowers of Eskridge, Kan., and Poy Oman of Verdel, were unable to come.

Mrs. Elsie Wert Kay wrote a poem of tribute to Mrs. Lindsay's fine spirit.

Hoover to Speak
HERBERT HOOVER, former president and leading humanitarian, is devoting himself to the problem of conveying food from America to the helpless peoples of Finland, Norway, Holland, Belgium and Poland, and in a nation-wide hook-up Sunday night he will give an address concerning the giant task and the way to accomplish it.

Mr. Hoover handled the food problem in Belgium during the World war and he is not only fully alive to the present need, but he knows how to meet it. He wants to help heart-broken and suffering humanity, and it is doubtful if anyone in this land of abundance would deny to stricken peoples anywhere all possible aid.

In a speech November 13 on the blight of war and its attending horrors, Mr. Hoover turned from marching soldiers and martial music to the tragedies in devastated cities and among innocent non-combatants. In that speech Mr. Hoover said in conclusion:

"But I cannot forget the faces of the hungry, despairing, and terrorized women and little children, who are the real victims of modern war. I cannot forget the unending blight cast upon the world by the sacrifice of the flower of every race not only in the trenches but in the cradle. All that was dreadful in the last war beyond any words of mine! But it is far worse and there is far more of it in this war. It is not alone the vast increase in air power. But there is an increase in its ruthlessness and brutality. And while in the last war only one little democracy was invaded, today there are all these others—Turkey, the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse—War, Death, Famine and Pestilence—have come to them in a terrible host.

"Can you believe that American public opinion or the spiritual leadership of America has so lost its bearings as to be opposed to even an effort to aid those who lie in the ditch?"

"To show that American opinion is not indifferent to their sufferings is their only hope today.

"There are things in this world that are not silenced by ideological argument or armchair strategists or declamation as to who is responsible. They are not to be settled that way because of the teachings of Christ which have resounded down these two thousand years. That teaching gave to mankind a new vision and part of that vision was mercy and compassion. The greatest Teacher of mankind did not argue and debate over the ideology and the sins of the two thieves. And he thundered scorn at the priest and the Levite who passed by."

Just a Dog
LADDIE is a Kansas dog whose life was slowly ebbing away because his master had left him to join the army, located in California. The past week the animal was taken to the west coast to be reunited with the only person who could revive his spirits and renew his life. Latest reports indicate improvement—a desire to eat and fight fleas.

The dog is regarded man's most loyal friend—a loyalty but feebly reciprocated. No matter how impoverished in earthly chattels a man may become—no matter if his clothes are tattered and his hair is a riot of disorder—he holds the constant devotion of his canine companion with an occasional caress. And it is said the last to leave the mound that finally covers his lifeless body is his faithful dog.

We have often wondered if dogs have souls and are found in the great hereafter. To many, heaven would not be heaven without dogs. We have known men who are so selfish, vindictive and cruel that even a low canine order would feel a deep sense of shame on being in the same world with them. There are good and bad dogs as there are good and bad men, and viewing the world as it is at this writing, who are we to pronounce judgment and settle the problem of eternal survival?

Nebraska and Iowa legislatures are determined to settle the question of when to hold Thanksgiving day in November by passing laws conforming to the old tradition. If these proposed statutes are adopted there will be no more listening for the voice from the White House to know what day to fix for a united outpouring from grateful hearts. The president pushed ahead the time in the belief he was helping the subsequent holiday business, and the states divided, some following the executive's lead, while others dissented and stuck to the old custom. Calendar makers were thrown out of gear, and doubtless will remain out of gear until the president harmonizes with the long-established order which recognizes the last Thursday in November as the proper time.

Wendell Willkie told the senate foreign relations committee that passing the lend-lease bill with modifications would help democracy defeat dictatorship and that more help rather than less would keep the United States out of the war. He expressed the belief that collapse of Great Britain would soon subject the United States to attack.

We rather hesitate to express opinions about the weather and the ground as they tend to shape crop prospects through fear that our optimism will be given a tailspin before the year is over. But farmers generally express high satisfaction over moisture in the soil and seem confident of return to normal growing conditions.

The prospect is discouraging, but we still hope to live long enough to see national emergencies disappear and the peace and security of the country restored. We have been wrestling with emergencies for ten years, and they have not grown fewer in number nor less in intensity.

Passing the buck is an all-year sport, especially in politics. It means dodging burdens, shifting responsibility, getting under cover, blaming the other fellow, and altogether following lines of least resistance and least annoyance. It means cfeebled human fiber.

A Council Bluffs girl of 19 has been convicted of driving a truck while intoxicated and killing a pedestrian. She is thus headed for the penitentiary. A lifetime of regret follows reckless toying with hard liquor. The first drink of befuddling alcohol is the one to avoid.

When anyone emphasizes church affiliation or lodge membership as a way to gain confidence and capture business, he may expect to arouse suspicion. He may expect to defeat his purpose, and often surrender advantages to which he is entitled.

It is amazing how many different ways are figured out to skin unsuspecting travelers and how one never finishes running the gamut of such experience.

The new deal has been engaged in playing politics so long that it cannot conceive of the opposition being prompted by other and higher motives.

IN DISAGREEMENT.
Colonel Lindbergh's proposed "negotiated peace" is regarded a dangerous concession to dictatorship. He is doubtless right in comparing present fighting forces but whatever may be his good intentions, if he had his way in not granting war implements to the last hope to escape complete totalitarianism in Europe, and he would thus weaken the cause of free peoples everywhere. Lindbergh undoubtedly knows the relative powers of the contending nations, but evidently he does not take a long view which would guarantee world freedom rather than cause world enslavement. Walter Lippmann in the New York Herald-Tribune says "the colonel is reasoning in a circle." In conflict with the Lindbergh idea, Wendell Willkie expresses the opinion that sending war supplies to the democracies will keep us out of war, whereas failure to do so will get us into war.

Accord
kindly on the increased power desired. A Nebraska legislature may reason logically in the direction of withholding approval out of deference to the state's industrial and business institutions that have had tough sledding during recent years.

The Alien Way.
Spying, eavesdropping, tattling, magnifying suspicions, saying and doing things surreptitiously to gain desired or undesired aims do not fit into the American way of life. Such evils belong to countries dominated by dictators. Privilege and courage to speak the truth and stand by the truth still rank high in this land of the free.

WHITE SPOT.
Nothing would delight us more at this juncture than to proclaim Nebraska as the nation's "white spot" if freedom from drought and grasshoppers, and the agricultural production and sufficiency in maintaining existing institutions would justify the claim which has lately been based on absence of a sales tax and absence of bonded indebtedness which latter is happily fixed by the constitution. The "white spot" idea must logically include more than small taxation and no indebtedness to stick triumphantly in the minds of an onlooking world. If nature centers its consuming wrath on us and we cannot raise enough money in the usual way to take care of running expenses without sacrificing needed talent, we cannot consistently lift our heads in haughty mien over having no debts to pay. Normal production seems on the way back with little or nothing to fear from drought or insect pests, and thus we may in due time truly become the "white spot," properly heralded without strings or reservations.

CONGRESS AN OPEN BY KARL STEFAN

Important committees of the house and senate are called weekly now to attend confidential meetings at the war department. This procedure was started before and during the last war and indications are the program will be carried throughout this emergency. Mist of the talk at these meetings is "off the record" and is responsible to a lot of questions members have been addressing to the department in letters.

Cecil "Runt" Bishop is a new member of the house from Carterville, Ill. A year or two ago he used to travel over Nebraska organizing Lions clubs. He tells members that he once planned to open a snake canning factory at Long Pine, but found that the rattlesnakes of Nebraska were not large enough for the industry. Rattlesnake meat in the east costs around 75c a can.

The federal-aid road fund was cut five million dollars, but the 15 million dollars for feeder or secondary roads remains intact. What the amount for federal-aid roads will be in the next bill is problematical. It will all depend upon how long this emergency lasts. The roads committee is planning to ask for the same amount which will be around 100 million dollars.

The 1940 agriculture year book is out. It contains 1,215 pages. The cover contains a picture of what is generally believed to be a Nebraska farmstead. The book was not printed by the government printing office, but by a Tennessee printing establishment because the GPO here has too much work to do in connection with national defense printing. So the year book comes up by the carload from the south and is distributed from Washington. It's generally believed that the cost of printing in the government printing office is greater than the cost in private plants.

Members are now being bombarded to do something about lifting the British blockade and allow food to go to starving people in Europe. One objection to this is the argument that until Germany gives assurance that this food will actually go to the starving civilians, the blockade should not be lifted. Many here take the stand that Germany should make some contribution toward helping the starving people. That assurance has not yet come. Another opposition argument is that the blockade is helping England and not Germany. In the meantime the innocent are admittedly suffering.

Wayne-Chadron Battles Here to Decide Leaders

Week-end Games Here Are Headliners of Nebraska Collegiate Cage Calendar.

The spotlight of Nebraska college competition will be focused on the Wayne State games this week-end when Coach Jim Morrison and his Wildcats cagers entertain the Chadron State Eagles in two games Friday and Saturday evenings. Both teams are undefeated in state college competition, the Wildcats having six wins to their credit and the Eagles two.

With the NIAA loop title definitely at stake and top honors for all Nebraska colleges also playing an important part, these two games have been rated as the most important of the entire season.

Preparing his black and gold cagers for the invasion of the Eagles, Coach Morrison has been working his men overtime this week with special stress on scoring ways and defense formations against the expected basket-producing drives of the westerners.

Apparently realizing the full importance of the week-end tilts, Coach Morrison brings his Western Nebraska cage experts to Wayne this morning, planning to put in an afternoon's work-out on the Wayne court to accustom his men to the scene of battle.

The Chadron cagers, outstanding for their high-scoring offensive, have averaged almost a point a minute throughout the season, and for their two contests against Nebraska teams have piled up 93 points. Leaders for the Eagles are Cadwallader and Bruce, each of whom has a per game scoring record of 15 points. Completing his squad, Armstrong has ten other men all of whom are able hand-iclars and capable defensive players and are expected to test the mettle of the Wildcats to the fullest.

In an effort to cope with the Eagles' tactics, the Wayne mentor plans to start his best scoring forward line including Whitmore and Grier at forwards and Magdanz at center with Guards Anderson and Best stationed at the defensive floor posts. Ready to see action are such other Wildcats as Nitz, Fitch, Laurinat, Retzlaff and Allen.

Wildcats Defeat Hastings, 47-33

Gothier Leads Wildcats with 13 Points; Nitz Scores 11.

With Don Gothier again leading the way, Coach Jim Morrison's Wildcat cagers chalked up their sixth victory over Nebraska schools in as many starts when they downed the Hastings college Bynocs at Hastings Saturday evening, 47 to 33.

The black and gold cagers began peppering the basket in the opening minutes of the game and continued to find their mark in spite of the Coach McGraw's numerous substitutions. Gothier bagged four fielders and five free throws for a total of 13 points for his scoring honors, but Eddie Nitz was right behind with his five fielders and one free throw for a total of 11. Clay Richendifer paced the losers with 11 points.

Blue Tangle with Wakefield Friday

After closing their regular conference schedule at Plainville Tuesday evening, Coach Elwood Morris' Wayne high cagers go to Wakefield this Friday evening in a non-conference tilt. The Blues enter the game as heavy favorites and are expected to have little trouble downing the cagers at the neighboring city.

Wednesday of next week, the Wayne basketballers enter the North-east Nebraska conference tourney at Pierce, and tangle with the Hartington quint in the first round at 8:00 o'clock. The meet, which includes both first and second team games of loop members, continues through Friday, February 22.

On Tuesday evening, February 25, the Blues entertain the West Point high cagers in the local quint's last regularly scheduled game of the season. And from then will remain idle until the Class A district tournament at Norfolk beginning March 4.

Pieces will pay off $5,000 in paying bonds this spring.

Three Overtime Basketball Tilts On One Program

Ordinarily, overtime basketball games are well, just about ordinary. There are overtime games and more overtime games. But when all three tilts on one evening's bill run into extra periods it's more than just a little out of the ordinary. And that is exactly what happened at the municipal auditorium in Wayne Saturday evening.

Playing the first game of the program, the Wayne high seconds and the Wayne Prep seconds battled to a 17-17 tie and then played scoreless in the first overtime period. Taking the ball on the tipoff in the "sudden death" session, the high school seconds tallied two points when players flipped, one from close in to win, 19 to 17.

In the second game, the Schuyler high cagers downed the Wayne high quint, 34 to 33, on a long shot in the last three seconds of the overtime period. And in the evening's finale, the Wayne Merchants and Belton townies played to a 33-33 deadlock, and then hit a scoring streak in the extra period with the Wayne team finishing on top, 45 to 40.

Wildcats Still Tops in State

Week-end Victories Advance Wildcats to Undisputed Top Position in Nebraska.

Victories last week-end over Kearney and Hastings cage squads place Coach Jim Morrison's Wayne State Wildcats further in the lead in Nebraska college competition, bringing their record to six wins and no defeats. Only other contender at the present time is the Chadron State team which has but two victories in as many starts. The Doane Tigers, leaders of the NCAC, are holding down third place with five victories and one defeat.

Kearney Loses to Wildcats Friday

Antelopes Unable to Overcome Lead; Lose 44 to 25.

The Wayne State Wildcats continued on their NIAA victory drive at Kearney last Friday evening when they defeated the Kearney Teachers, 44 to 25, for their second win of the season over the Antelopes.

Headed by Don Gothier, who scored 13 points, the Wildcats started scoring with the opening of the game and enjoyed a 23-11 lead at half-time. Centers Newcomb and Blessing were high scorers for the losers with 8 and 7 points.

Coach Jim Morrison used all ten men who made the trip, with each man performing quite satisfactorily. Guard "Heinie" Laurinat, who received a twisted ankle in the game with the Phillips Oilers January 13, saw action for the first time since that date, although he has been doing light practice during the past three weeks. Apparently Heinie was no worse for the incident and showed up quite well.

Schuyler Nips Blues in 34-33 Overtime Tilt

Wayne High Cagers Present Surprising Power to Give Invading Quint Hard Tilt.

A long shot from the center of the floor in the last three seconds of the overtime period spelled defeat for Coach Elwood Morris' Wayne high cagers by a narrow 34 to 33 score, after they had played their most brilliant game of the season against a heavily favored Schuyler high quintet.

Fully aware of the caliber of their opposition, the Blues entered last Saturday's tilt determined to give all they had. As a result the game was a nip-and-tuck affair throughout. Starting in the first minute of play the teams battled on such even terms that the lead changed four times in the first period, with the score standing at 12-12 at the end of the opening quarter. Continuing in the same way through the second quarter, half time score saw Schuyler enjoying a one-point lead, 18 to 17.

The third quarter saw the visitors staging a scoring barrage that put them in front, 25 to 19, at the opening of the final period which turned out to be mostly Wayne. The score at the regular finish point stood at 30-30.

Tension during the extra session was extremely high, but both teams were careful not to commit too many fouls, realizing the preciousness of any gift losses at the basket. Enjoying a 33-32 lead with but three seconds remaining, the Blues felt they had pulled one out of the bag—and then it happened! That shot from the center, accompanied by a wish—almost a prayer—put Coach Odum's boys out in front and kept their undefeated record intact.

Most deciding factor of the game in the final analysis, however, turned out to be the ability and inability to let the two teams to convert their free throw shots into markers on the score board. While the Schuyler lads came through on every one of their eight gift tosses the Wayne lads converted only three of their fifteen opportunities.

Center John Berry led the Wayne scorers with 13 points, while Derry and Smith turning in exceptionally fine floor games. Leader for the victorious Warriors was the reliable Forward Bolton, who tallied 14 points.

How to Get a Discount on Your Rent

RENT is a major expense in families that do not own their own homes. In the past the only way to get your rent reduced was to move into cheaper quarters. . . BUT NOW, within the last few months, a situation has come about which offers a NEW . . . and much more interesting solution.

... because of the new 4 1/2 per cent interest rate, monthly installments on F.H.A. building loans work out A THIRD LESS THAN RENT on most any size house.

Strange as it may seem . . . a new home offering better accommodations than rental property costs less per month than the rent. . . FURTHERMORE, a good portion of the payment is SAVED because it reduces the principal of the loan each month.

With initial payments reduced to 10 per cent on small homes you can now reduce monthly and save part of each lowered payment by becoming your own landlord.
Let us give you the facts . . .

Preppers Win Again Tuesday

Preps Score Early to Defeat Beemer Cagers, 36 to 29.

Playing at Beemer Tuesday evening, Wayne Prep's cagers jumped into a good lead early in the first half and then repulsed a last half drive of the Beemer quint to win by a 36 to 29 count.

Paced by Don Echtenkamp, who scored 13 points, the Little Wildcats gained at 13-6 lead at the first quarter and held a 19-11 advantage at half time. Forwards Wendt and Katik led the losers with 8 points each. Kenneth Echtenkamp, former Prep cager who has been playing with Wakefield this year, returned to the Wayne school this week and played a part of Tuesday's game.

Schuyler Defeats Preppers, 30-23

Visiting Quint Finds Little Opposition in Battle with Prep Team Here Friday.

Coach W. A. Odum's Schuyler high cagers were too much for the black and gold of Wayne Prep here last Friday evening, the Warriors winning by a 30 to 23 count.

Sparked by Forwards Schmid and Bolton, the visitors went into the lead early in the game, Schmid scoring from the floor in the first minute. Although the Wayne boys tied the score several times in the opening minutes of the contest, they were never able to gain even a slight lead and as the game progressed the Schuyler team increased its margin.

Gerald Schmid and Willard Bolton, senior forwards, led the attack of the Warriors, the former with 10 points and the latter with 6. Schmid was outstanding with his ability to sink long shots whenever his team was unable to penetrate the prep defense.

Edwin Sprague was high scorer for the Prep team, bagging 9 points, but the best performance of the game were turned in by Forward Bloss and Guard Whorlow. Bloss, leader of the Wayne attack, was on almost every play and an addition did a very nice job of defensive work under the basket. Whorlow played a nice floor game throughout.

Legion Tourney Draws to Close

Interesting Fourteen-Team Meet Draws to Close Here Before Good Attendance.

The Wayne American Legion's fourth annual town team tournament came to a close last evening with the Metz Bakers of Sioux City and the native sons of Winside battling for the tourney championship in the feature game of the meet. The Wayne Merchants and Oakland, losers in the semifinals, were scheduled to meet in the other game of the evening to decide third place honors.

From a point of interest created, this year's meet was probably the most successful to date, with the caliber of play considerably higher than that of former years. With at least four above-average teams entered, several fast and interesting games were played in each of the three preliminary rounds.

In the semi-final games last Thursday evening, the Metz Bakers defeated the Wayne Merchants, 57 to 45, and the Winside Firemen downed the Oakland Merchants, 51 to 37, thereby winning the right to compete for tourney honors.

Awards presented last evening to the participating teams included an engraved Eversharp pencil to each member of the two finalists, the tourney basketball to the third placed team, and an engraved pen and pencil set to the outstanding player of the meet, selected by a board of impartial judges.

SEMI-FINAL GAMES.

Winside 51, Oakland 37.
Playing in the first game of the semi-finals last Thursday evening, the Winside Firemen displayed a smooth-working coordinated offense, along with an air-tight defense, to defeat the former college stars from the Platte Valley, the Oakland Merchants, by a substantial 51 to 37 margin.

The Firemen let their powerful scoring drive in motion with the opening gun and held an 8-0 lead after five minutes of the game, increasing this to 14-3 at the end of the first quarter. Oakland enjoyed a slight advantage in second period play, scoring 14 points to Winside's 10, making the half-time score, 24 to 17 with Winside leading. The Firemen, however, came back strong after intermission and scored 16 points in the third quarter while holding Oakland to 8 counters.

The fast pace of both teams throughout the game led to numerous infractions of the rules, 23 personal fouls being called on the Oakland players and 13 on Winside. Four Oakland players and one Winside man were removed with four fouls. Schulte, one of Oakland's star forwards was taken out after two minutes in the second half, and Center Patrick, another Oakland star, was removed after three minutes in the same period. E. Weible of Winside, was removed early in the third period. As a result of the loss of four players on personals, the Oakland team had only four men on the floor for three minutes of the final quarter.

Center Donald "Butch" Weible was the sparkplug of the Winside attack, taking scoring honors of the game with his 15 points. Forward Missett with 12 and Guard Frank Weible with 11 showed up exceptionally well.

Lewis Patrick, former high school coach at Winside, led the Oakland drive with 13 points. John Kyl, Wayne graduate, followed closely with his 11 points.

 Of special interest in our church work at large today is the unification of all Lutheran church bodies which recently took place in an official church meeting at Columbus, Ohio. Unitedly and potentially we will administer to the bitter needs of our own country and the whole world. Our church will have the strong voice of the protestants to boldly speak to this sinful world of the great needs of repentance and faith in Christ. Let us individually live such lives and be faithful that we might make use of this great opportunity of witnessing to the world. It depends on each member if unitedly we shall make this great message of Christ heard.

Democracy Works Where in Practice

Supt. M. F. Thorpe Speaks To Woman's Club at Program Friday.

Democratic principles should be practiced if children are to develop leadership in democratic government, stated Supt. M. F. Thorpe in addressing Wayne Woman's club Friday in the club rooms.

The problem of building citizenship differs now, Supt. Thorpe began. Schools have assumed more responsibility than formerly. Realizing this and also knowing the present world crisis, the schools have an opportunity and duty in even greater service.

In this country it is still possible for one to determine his position in life by his efforts. This is not true in dictatorships. Thus it is important that schools encourage individual initiative. It is also valuable for students to make decisions under guidance so they may make them more easily after school days.

Students of Prof. Russel Anderson furnished music. Miss Genevieve Lundak sang "Obstination," by Fontaine, with Miss Frances Blezek accompanist. Eldon Peuberg, accompanied by Miss Lundak, sang "Still as the Night," by Bohm, and Miss Blezek sang "My Sweet Repose," by Schubert, with Miss Blezek at the piano.

HIGH HONOR.

(The Idaho Journal of Education, January, 1941, reprinted in the Nebraska Educational Journal, February, 1941.)

The Idaho Delegate Assembly passed a motion according to recognition to the excellent work of Dr. Charles F. Dienst (now Deputy State Superintendent in Nebraska) in initiating the study of endowments that has resulted in enactment of the endowment amendment (to the Idaho State Constitution)—and, it is to be hoped, further corrections.

Dr. Dienst did much more than direct attention to the deplorable status of endowment funds. He made the endowments the theme of his doctor's thesis. He was responsible more than anybody else for legislative appropriations of $40,000 for auditing the funds. He kept doggedly hammering away despite virulent criticism and abuse. His indomitable spirit inspired others to continue the fight even after he had gone to other fields. Whatever corrections and improvements may be made in administration of our great endowments, he must be given credit for laying the foundation. All honor to Dr. Charles F. Dienst.

Wayne Is Host To Tournament

Northwest Region Holds Much Appeal

"We hear lots about war preparations here in Bingen, Wash.," writes Mrs. Allis Pollard, now of that place and formerly of Wayne. She goes on to say, "I saw ship building in Portland, not to inspect it, just at a distance. I saw the Kona, a ship from the Philippines, which brought 20,000 cases of canned pineapples and was taking out lumber. We hear a good deal of Alaska defense here, too."

Mrs. Pollard writes that she and Mrs. Newell Pollard, her sister-in-law, went to a woman's club at White Salmon. "They met this particular time in a lovely home overlooking Bingen, Hood River, Ore., and the Columbia. There was a display of old lace and a distinguished woman speaker from Portland. It was hard to keep one's mind on old lace and off the beautiful scenery."

"Newell likes his teaching very much," writes Mrs. Pollard. "Betty, his wife, had an operation a short time ago but is much improved now. Bernard is postmaster in a nearby town."

"Last Sunday was a perfect spring day," continues Mrs. Pollard. "We got up late as we went to Portland, Saturday to the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, travelling in the United States because of the war in Europe. After breakfast I climbed Bourdoyne mountain as far as the first shoulder, a stone cliff which no one can scale. I followed a ravine to its source and it was so steep that a few times I had to go on hands and knees."

"Newell took us, one day not so long ago, to Underwood Heights where we rambled through an old house, a veritable mansion built in the 1910 apple boom. It is fast falling into a state of disrepair and actual ruin, as are the expensive out-buildings. It seems it was too expensive to water the orchards then and there were not enough people to buy the apples."

"We see quite a few planes here as they fly up and down the gorge. However, they don't spit the air like they do in California, where they are testing planes constantly."

"The Hood river bridge," writes Mrs. Pollard, "is right here and is about a mile long. At present the toll is 75c per car and 10c per pedestrian."

Mrs. Pollard comments on the types of people saying, "Many of them are quite wealthy and the homes along the bluffs in White Salmon are lovely. The ladies were very cordial to me and I am sure will be friendly. Bingen and White Salmon are the gateway to the Mt. Adams recreational area. We saw that mountain, all glistening white, but showing a crater near one side of the top. All the peaks out here are extinct volcanoes."

"One day recently," continues Mrs. Pollard, "we went up into the mountains to see a silver thaw. It is heavy hoar frost or frozen fog covering everything and making a veritable fairy land. We have had only one snow here and it didn't even freeze. We do get quite a bit of rain."

"Bingen," writes Mrs. Pollard, "is noted for its spinach. They gather it daily here now, even Sundays. I believe they have lots of head lettuce, too."

Good Record Made By Wayne County

For the year 1940 there were 209 accidents on Nebraska highways which resulted in 246 fatalities. There were no fatal accidents occurring in Wayne county for the year.

For the month of December 615 accidents were reported, in 17 of which 26 people were killed. The accident of Christmas day, in which eight persons were killed, made the total so great. There was only one fatality north of the Platte valley except in the Omaha area, and none south of the Platte west of Hastings.

Since the safety patrol was increased last September, Nebraska has led all other states in reducing traffic fatalities. During December the Nebraska safety patrol made 350 arrests and 289 were convicted; 476 warning cards were issued; speeding, careless driving and stop sign violations received more warnings and more arrests than in November.

Wayne county had no fatal accidents in January this year and the state patrol writes congratulations to citizens here for their cooperation.

Did You Know?

According to the 1940 census returns six states, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Vermont, lost population.

Two state capitals, Boston, Mass., and Frankfort, Ky., decreased in population.

By percentage Florida had the greatest gain in population, 27.9 percent, while South Dakota lost the most, 7.5 percent.

California had the greatest numerical gain, 1,196,337, Kansas the greatest loss, 81,862.

The national gain in population of 7 percent is less than half that of the previous decade.

For the first time in our history the population center of the United States has moved eastward.

There are now 92 American cities with populations of 100,000 or over, a decrease of one.

The three cities over 100,000 that had the most rapid growth were Miami 55.6 percent, San Diego 37.4 percent, Washington, D. C. 36.2 percent.

Chicago had over 100,000 more families in 1940 than in 1930, yet its population had increased by only 20,000.

Until 1890 untaxed Indians were not counted in the federal census.

Deaf-mutes were not counted in the census of 1790.

These facts were compiled by Geo-Fax in the "Carto Craft Comments."

Children at the Crossroads Ernest L. Reeker

Two Years for $2.90

Putting into practice the admonition of Horace Greeley, "Go west, young man, go west," two boys pooled their resources and started out. Their funds were limited, and their old car occasionally needed repair parts.

Late one cold night they were stranded, broke and hungry, in an Oklahoma town. They drove into a small tourist camp, entered a filling station, and took candy bars and gasoline to the total value of $2.90. They slept in their car nearby, and the next morning were arrested on suspicion and taken to jail.

When we learned that they were in prison, we immediately contacted the Oklahoma authorities and succeeded in getting them placed on probation to the juvenile court of Madison county after they had served ten months of the penalty imposed upon them. A full and complete report of their treatment was made to the judge who sentenced them, and a demand made upon the governor of Oklahoma for a full and complete investigation of this case. We hope by our expose of this situation to the governor and the judge to prevent similar cruelties of the dark ages being practiced against other boys who might through some mistake be the victims of apparently insane officers whose crimes against offenders are often greater than the offense committed by their victims.

After the beating, an officer enjoyed himself by shooting rats with a revolver in the runway of the jail, and when the bullets would frochet about, he took particular delight at the fear the prisoners showed of being hit.
