Married Saturday At Kearney Home

Miss Margaret Smith Bride of Carl M. Howard Last Week at Service.

The marriage of Carl M. Howard of Omaha, formerly of Wakefield, and Miss Margaret A. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith of Kearney, was solemnized Saturday afternoon at 4 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dryden of Kearney, Dr. Roy M. Spooner, Methodist pastor, officiating in the presence of 30 relatives and friends. Mr. Howard is a son of Mrs. Wilhelmina Howard and brother of Mrs. V. M. Huffman of this place, and the latter attended the wedding.

Miss Harriet Watts of Creston, Ia., sang "The Star" and "I Love You Truly," and Prof. Rupert Goodford of Midland College, Fremont, played Mendelssohn's march.

Miss Smith was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. H. V. Smith, Kearney. Mrs. Dryden served her sister as matron of honor, and I. V. Steinberg, Omaha, attended Mr. Howard. Flower girls were the bride's niece, Martha Kay Dryden, Kearney, and Edythe Morrow, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Morrow, Fremont.

The bride wore floor-length gown of horizon blue soft crepe with sweetheart neck, front drape skirt and elbow sleeves. Her hat was fashioned of fresh white blossoms. She wore a shoulder-length veil and long white gloves and carried white roses.

Mrs. Dryden's gown was a dusty rose chiffon with elbow sleeves, v-neck, shirred yoke, full graceful floor-length skirt. Her small hat was of fresh flowers in rose shade. Her corsage was of Delight roses with a touch of blue and orchid. The flower girls wore frocks of white organdy. The men wore white suits.

At the reception following the service, Miss Frances Springer, Fremont, presided at a table centered with a large bouquet of white gladioli. At either side were white taper entwined with smilax. Mrs. Herbert Keggall, Kearney, served the three-tier wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard left after the wedding for Omaha where they will be at home after September 1 at 503 north 40th street. Later they plan a motor trip to Massachusetts.

Mrs. Howard, a graduate of Kearney college, has taught in Fremont several years. Mr. Howard was graduated from Wakefield high school and the University of Nebraska where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is in the credit department of the Standard Oil Co. in Omaha.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Henry of Lodge City, Kan., and Mrs. V. M. Huffman of Wayne, the women being sisters of Mr. Howard.

Plan Rededication Service in Church

First Methodist church in Wayne will reopen Sunday for rededication services. In the past three weeks the church has been closed and extensive redecoration has taken place.

In the sanctuary the natural beauty of the rose-stained glass windows has been enhanced by a delicate thistle and gray wall scheme. The ceiling has been done in a rich ivory, and adjacent classrooms and vestibules harmonize with the central theme. Deep wine carpets have been laid in the middle aisles, on the pulpit stairs and altar floor.

All floors have been refinished, as has the altar rail and swinging doors. Gray linoleum with a rose tint has been laid in the vestibules and basement floors.

SAFeway Now! ALL FRESH FRUITS & VEGETABLES SOLD BY WEIGHT

Will Be Closed Friday, July 4.

Merely because of custom have many fresh fruits and vegetables been priced by the "piece," "dozen" or "bunch." Variations of size, weight and quality make value comparisons only approximate by this method of measurement. Only when the measure is by "weight," and not by "count," can accurate values be ascertained by homemakers, and enable them to get the most for their money. Therefore, SAFEWAY is now pricing by the "pound" all the following:—Cantaloupes, Beets, Carrots, Green Onions, Celery, Head Lettuce, Radishes, and Turnips as well as Citrus Fruits and other fresh fruits and vegetables. Tops have already been removed from Carrots, Turnips and Beets, and of course are not weighed.

THEY MAY LOOK ALIKE
... and ordinarily they would sell for the same price.
But
THERE IS OFTEN AS MUCH AS 40 PERCENT DIFFERENCE IN THEIR WEIGHTS!

Education Is Need In Peaceful Change

Dr. Albert Wiggam Looks to Society for Changes of Outmoded Ways.

The eminent psychologist, Dr. Albert Wiggam, distinguished author and speaker, and a "master in both arts," gave evidence of his versatility when he spoke on "Education for the New World" in the college auditorium Monday night.

Dr. Wiggam is a modern "scientific liberal." He hopes for a peaceful revolution and contends it can be accomplished only by education; a great deal of it by self education, if people will learn to keep their minds open and discard an opinion when it has become outmoded.

"We are already in the midst of a profound intellectual and economic revolution," stated Dr. Wiggam. There are more changes in our thought mechanism and ideologies than had ever before.

According to Dr. Wiggam, world progress through education has been bungled by three types of uneducated people: First, the ignorant man, harmless creature unless under the control of one from either other group; second, the emotional adolescent with the attitudes and behaviors of a child; third, the half educated, who believes everything he reads.

Speaking of accomplishing this great educational scheme to broaden the public mind, Dr. Wiggam said: "The aim of education is to give the student a fund of useful general knowledge. The pupil forgets one subject in learning another; his education leaks out faster than it is poured in."

A staunch advocate of modern education, Dr. Wiggam praised its progress, but warned that power, the right kind of power, will never be achieved unless man "organizes his knowledge toward some goal; unless he fills his head with facts that he can use and learns to use those facts."

Report of Library Shows Large Total

Wayne city library will close at 8 o'clock after July 1. The library report for the year May 1, 1940, to April 30, 1941, shows a total circulation of 24,666 books, with 15,838 loaned to adults and 8,828 to children. Twentyseven per cent of books loaned to adults were non-fiction, and 35 per cent fiction.

There are 4,890 adult books in the library, and 2,844 juvenile books, making a total of 7,734 books on the shelves. The library has 1,508 registered borrowers; 1,208 adults and 300 children.

The library board held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, July 24. The yearly report was read.

Miss Elsie Warnock has presented two valuable books to the library. They are "American Poetry and Prose," edited by Norman Corbridge, and "Book of American Literature," edited by Snyder. Both of these American literary surveys will be welcomed as modern, readable volumes for the education of young people in that subject and as enjoyable books for consecutive reading by adults.

The recollections of Perry Belmont, prominent congressional veteran, have been compiled by him into a volume called "An American Democrat," and presented to the library by the Carnegie peace endowment. Belmont is prepared to present a truly absorbing political history, having known every statesman of note for the last 75 years, including Stephen Douglas and Disraeli.

"The Mind of the South," another new book, is an old discussion with a new face; combines the southern culture with the modern industrial situation. "Foughten up America" is by Dr. Heiser who says: "For the years ahead we shall need to cultivate the physical toughness as well as the high spiritual and mental stature of our forefathers, for we may be called upon to live at a higher pitch."

Are Married Here At Church Service

Miss Alice Mae Young Bride Of William Nelson at Pretty Ceremony

Miss Alice Mae Young, daughter of Mrs. Mae Young, and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gildersleeve, prominent early settlers in Wayne, became the bride of William S. Nelson of North Platte, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Nelson of Sioux City, at 7 Saturday evening at the First Presbyterian church in Wayne.

Candle light from white tapers and baskets of all white gladioli banked against a green background of palms and ferns made a simple, impressive setting for the wedding ceremony at which Rev. W. F. Dierking officiated. Before the professional Prof. Albert G. Carlson played soft organ music and accompanied Mrs. K. D. Hanson who sang "I Love You Truly." At 7 Miss Marjorie Hook attired in a quiff chiffon, lighted the tapers. After this Mrs. K. D. Hanson again sang. Her second selection, "All Sweet Mystery of Life," was followed by music from the introduction to Wagner's third act of Lohengrin. As the bridal party proceeded down the aisle, the familiar strains of the wedding march from that opera were heard.

Miss Roberta Luers of Lincoln, the bride's only attendant, led. Her dress was buffed blue net over pink silk. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweetpeas and blue delphinium. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, David Young, of St. Louis, wore silk net, made with puffed sleeves. Chantilly lace banded the sleeves and sweet heart neckline, and fashioned small bows which were fastened to the full skirt and two and a half-yard train. A pearl necklace was her only ornament. Her fingertip veil was held by a seceder pearl tiara. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal lilies and maiden hair fern.

Mr. Nelson and his attendant, Lloyd Gildersleeve of Hartington, wore dark suits and white carnation boutonnières as did the ushers, Don Strahan and Lyle Seymour.

After the recessional of Mendelssohn's wedding march, a reception was held at the bride's home for about 40 relatives and friends. Mrs. (David Young of St. Louis, Miss Verma Anderson, Miss Marjorie Hook and Miss Helen Gildersleeve presided at the table which was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a wedding bell, white tapers and a border of baby's breath completed the decoration.

The young couple left that evening for a wedding trip to Colorado. They planned to stop first at their new home in North Platte before spending a week in the mountains. For going away, Mrs. Nelson chose a light blue felt hat and blue silk alpaca ensemble made redingote style. Her accessories were white and she wore a gardenia corsage.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nelson are graduates of Wayne college. Mrs. Nelson taught in Norfolk, and Mr. Nelson is with the General Motors acceptance corporation in North Platte.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Luers of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Johnson of Wakefield, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Olson of Tea, S. D., Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gilmann of Madrid, Ia., Miss Florence Young of Craig, Miss Louise Smith of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Anderson of Carroll, Miss Matilda and Miss Lena Johnson of Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Nelson of Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. David Young of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. J. Shurnway of Hartington, Miss Wilma Gildersleeve of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Radakor, Jane and Katherine, of Wisner, Lloyd Hahn of North Platte.

Notices Are Needed In Grain Harvest

With the small grain harvest about to begin in Dixon and Wayne counties, farmers are reminded by county agents of the noxious weed law requiring the use of threshing machine and combine notices. The rule is that every threshing machine and combine in operation in Nebraska must bear a notice containing provisions of the law and other regulations relative to cleaning the machines after operating on farms infested with birdweed, Russian knapweed, perennial peppergrass, leafy purple Canada thistle and puncture vine. Copies of the notices are available at the extension offices in Wayne and Allen. Ralph Cox, director of inspection, reports that additional inspectors have been employed to assist in enforcement of the law.

The two were returning from Omaha when they met the grader. The car driven by Donald turned over a couple of times and landed on the wheels. One of Val's knees was quite severely bruised. The machine was badly damaged.

Intelligent Public Need in Democracy

Dr. Arthur E. Traxler Gives Address on Reading at College Monday

Dr. Arthur E. Traxler, University of Chicago authority on teaching of reading, told Wayne college students Monday morning that modern society is more and more demanding a well-informed public. A democracy must have citizens capable of reading intelligently to form comprehensive opinions from the growing mass of printed material. Dr. Traxler said the multiplicity of all kinds of publications from "best sellers" to news weeklies is "proof enough" that people are reading more than ever before.

As a reading teacher, Dr. Traxler feels that this growing impetus necessitates serious attention to reading habits, not only in elementary courses but on through the advanced school years, even into junior college. He pointed out that modern instruction calls for extensive reading of supplementary material as contrasted with old-fashioned intensive concentration on a few pages. Many students find themselves unprepared to face this situation. Their reading facilities have not been developed to the proper degree. Such a predicament may cause them grief even in business life. They fail to follow directions or misconstruct printed statements and as a consequence deduce faulty conclusions.

Educators are now working on ways to improve the reading habits of the general public. The program is founded on a developmental, not remedial basis. It offers reading courses even to the junior college student. Their approach is a psychological one, an attempt to interest the pupil in his reading. With the proper guidance he is then expected to make his own progress.

In closing Dr. Traxler emphasized the fact that a high standard of literacy is one of the pillars of democracy. The good reader is invariably the good thinker. The man with initiative and his own ideas cannot be easily swayed by dictatorship. He has learned to evaluate printed material, if his formal reading instruction has been a progressive type.

Sisters in Wales Write Experiences Relating to War

Welsh youths who are prisoners of war fail to receive packages sent them by home folks, according to word coming to John Jones from his sisters in their native land. Idris Williams, son of Mrs. Maggie Williams of Carnarvon, North Wales, was captain of a ship which was torpedoed some time ago and since then he has been in a prison camp. His mother and two brothers, the latter also in the service, have sent him parcels but the youths writes that he has received none of these. The sister asks that Mr. Jones send from here as several boys in camp have received packages coming from this country.

Another sister, Mrs. Mary Evans of Cardigan, South Wales, sends word to Mr. Jones that her daughter paid 50 cents for a half pound of tomatoes for her children. The little folks need these in their diet as fruits are not to be had. Mrs. Evans writes that they still get plenty to eat though some shops are bare. Residents there are looking forward to getting fresh foods from their gardens.

A man from Belgium told Mrs. Evans that once he had a shop in his native country where now all towns are swept away. He told that three million people, including many women and children, were killed there in a week at the outbreak of the war.

The Welsh women, who wrote in early June, were disheartened by the news of the invasion of Crete. They are fearful of an invasion of the British isles, though they report everything fairly quiet during this moonlight period of the year. The sisters express appreciation to Americans for the great effort to help the cause of democracy.

Grass Conference Is Held in Dakota

The Northern Great Plains Grassland conference this year at Mandan, N. D., June 26 to 28, took on added significance with the demand for greater production of livestock and dairy products for national defense being made known. More good farm pastures are essential to the program, and grass is a crop which means as much to farmers in the northern great plains as anything grown. Besides being the cheapest livestock feed known, it stabilizes jittery soil and restores organic content destroyed by erosion or intensive cultivation.

The United States soil conservation service made considerable progress in the grass needs of northern great plains agriculture long before the agricultural defense program was started. It is responsible for the seeding of nearly a third of a million acres of northern great plains land to grass. Grass plantings fall into two general classes. Some is to establish permanent pasture on land which should be retired from cultivation. The rest will form the basis of farm rotation, and furnish feed for stock. Crested wheatgrass is best for ranchers in the western two-thirds of the great plains, and common grasses and brome grass are more valuable for the eastern farm lands. The right use of the grass after a stand has been established is important. Experimentation on this subject has uncovered necessary facts to be learned about the seeding and use of grasses.

Propose Forming Dixon Weed Area

County Agent Favors Such United Action to Rid County of Pests

Many farmers in Dixon county are interested in eradicating bindweed and other noxious weeds, according to Agent Howard Gillaspie. It is proposed that an eradication district be organized in all of Dixon county excepting corporate villages.

In organizing against bindweed each landowner who has some of the pest agrees to eradicate a portion each year until he has wiped it out. Each one who does not have such weeds agrees to watch for them and not let them get started.

Agent Gillaspie lists advantages of a bindweed district as follows: Will provide for county supervisors which you may elect yourself, to check on all noxious weeds in the county; cooperative methods of eradication results more effective; roads and right of ways will have to be cleared of all noxious weeds by those who control them; will give protection to lands which do not have them; will increase sale and loan value of the farms; will receive state assistance, mapping areas and such; will receive federal assistance by clearing of weeds on highways and, of course, the AAA payments are a factor to be considered.

Gypsy Dancer and Troupe to Appear
At Wayne College Tuesday, July 8

Jose Vega, who is appearing at the State Teachers college auditorium, Tuesday, July 8, under the auspices of the entertainment committee, is a gypsy of Arab and Spanish blood, and comes of a family of singers, guitarists and dancers. He has danced since he was 10 years old. His father, a North African gypsy, was his first teacher of Flamenco dancing, and later his aunt, Carmencita Vega, guided him through the field of the Spanish classical dance. While dancing in his aunt's troupe, he took lessons from the Flamenco guitarist, Rampepago, husband of the greatest Flamenco dancer, Carmen La Josefina, with whom Jose Vega studied further the intricate rhythms of the Flamenco art. Among his other teachers have been Antonio Triana, Soledad Miralles, Nina and Fidel Zabel, Angel Gansino and Aurora Arriaza. In his company of dancers which he will bring to Wayne is the famous Spanish motion picture star and dancer, Lolita Vega, whose last theatrical engagement this past winter season was at the great National theatre at San Jose, Costa Rica, where she co-starred with Tita Meriars, the great Mexican actor and singer. Lolita Vega was born in Algeciras, Andalusia, and is trained in both the Flamenco dances of the Moorish-Spanish gypsies and the classical dances of Iberia, which she learned from Aurora Arriaza. Both her acting and her dancing have strong and clearly marked individuality and bewitching charm.

The guitarist of the troupe is Manuel Cagancho Vega, brother of Jose, and a master of his instrument. A pianist, and a second girl dancer completes the group of five which, with the principal soloists, constitute the Jose Vega Spanish ensemble.

Friday the Thirteenth Has No Terror for Cedar,
County Family.

Friday the 13th has no terror for Cedar County families. The perfect host, that's Edward Vetter of Salt Lake City. Expecting friends, he covered his lawn with signs such as "Please pick the flowers," "Walk on the grass," "Leave the mud on your shoes" and "Food in the ice box."

It's a little late to mention it, but Friday the 13th holds no terror for Cedar county's most famous babies, the Feelemer triplets and twins. The triplets were 18 months old Friday, June 13, while the twins, born Friday, December 13, were 8 months old June 13.

Happy, the bantam rooster mascot of headquarters of the 11th field artillery, 2nd battalion, has lost his home. It learned to crawl. Happy entered army life as a chick of four months, the pet of Pvt. Ted Sutherland, in whose field he was permitted to roam. All went well until Happy's week peep maddened into a husky cock-a-doodie-doo that woke everybody in the tent.

Sonsa, 12 years old, will take on a bride, Kola, 10, Steve Kaslov, so-called king of gypsies, made the announcement. He said he didn't like kid marriages but thought this best. He explained that one who is married shares in profits but one unmarried receives nothing. On the wedding day Sonsa's mother presented Kola's father with a bottle of whisky.

At Edwarsville, Kan., last winter the tail of Clifford Bentions's bull, Ferdinand, was frozen off. Now the animal shows away flies with a length of frayed rope "grafted" to the stump.

Allen Moore, Jr., 14, flipped his baton more than 75 feet high and into the branches of a tree. Unable to climb the tree, he called the fire department. True to his motto, Allen caught the baton as the fire ladders jerked it down.

George Wylie, Leonard Lacy and Lloyd Tolles discovered a 14-pound catfish imprisoned in a milk can in the Arnold Janke home at Hoskins. The Vahlkamp's spent Thursday evening at Hjalmer Parson's.

Mrs. Carl Weymouth and Mr. Howard of Lusk, Wyo., were Thursday to Friday guests at the Raymond Ellis home. Mrs. Fred Kuns and daughter, Hazel, who had visited the former's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, returned to Lusk Friday with them. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vahlkamp, jr., entertained at dinner and luncheon Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vahlkamp, sr., Mr. and Mrs. Emil Vahlkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Vahlkamp and son, Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Allerman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Vahlkamp, sr., Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Vahlkamp and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Frevert, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Vahlkamp, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heier, sr., and Miss Wilma Janke.

Richard Sharpless, testified he waited eight years for his wife, Emma, to come back after she told him she was in love with another man and went away. "That was after our golden wedding anniversary," he added. "I'm 83 and Emma's 76. She isn't back so I want to insure my future happiness." He got a divorce.

At Tacoma, Wash., using only his bare hand, Robert Morton, 16, captured an eagle. The bird, with a wing spread of six feet, was returned to the zoo. Robert went to the hospital with ripped hands. He hopes his $5 reward will be paid him in bills. He's afraid there might be an eagle on a silver dollar.

Judge W. M. Bevins suspended the customary three-day wait for a marriage license for Henry Smith and Elizabeth Dickey. The bridegroom gave his age as 91, the bride as 63.

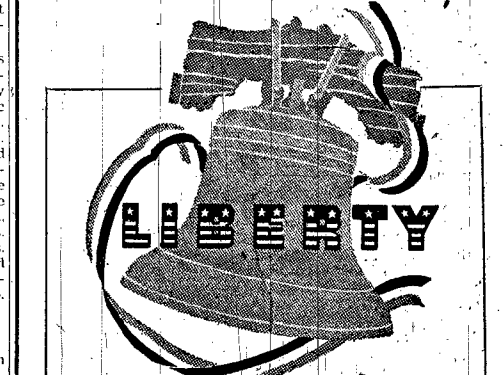

Six-year-old Lorraine Rogers of Los Angeles knows what the old adage "sink or swim" means. Lorraine, up until recently, couldn't swim a stroke. She fell into Echo park lake. The water was very deep and there was nobody around to help her. It was either "sink or swim" and Lorraine decided to swim. She managed to paddle dog fashion 20 feet to a nearby bathhouse.

Sheriff D. T. Keel can get back one of the four Peke county jail escapees when the new jail, now being built, is finished. But he'll have to notify the fugitive by mail. He said he received a card signed by Jim Rowe, one of the fugitives, which stated: "Dear sir: When the new jail is finished, drop a card to my wife and I'll be back to finish my term. Don't worry about me."

Hairstones come big in Oklahoma. During a storm Charles Boomer put his hand out the window of his car to test the weather. A hailstone broke the index finger of his left hand.

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hunter, Negroes, 11 days ago, undoubtedly weighed 20 pounds at birth," Dr. J. W. McPhetters, county health doctor reported. While the infant weighs under 17 pounds today, the physician said the loss was normal for new born babies.

A civic club has turned that old urge to, "let the big shots have it" into ready cash at a golden jubilee celebration. Here, man-for-two bits, may have a baseball at a target that overturns a seat, sending the occupant into a tank
