

Lowered to Level of Other Vegetables As Health Builder — The Federal Tax — Presumably Heading for More Economy — To Prevent Accidents — For Conservation — Birth Records — Frost Would Help.

We rejoice in the freedom of children who do not like spinach any better than we like onions or castor oil. Dr. Ruth Leverton, associate professor of nutrition in the University of Nebraska home economics department, issued an emancipation proclamation in the course of a talk before the Nebraska Parents and Teachers Association at Norfolk last week. Dr. Leverton took spinach from its high perch as a health builder and flung it down among other leafy edibles which she pronounced just as desirable. She admits that spinach is healthful food, but no better than others of its class. If youngsters prefer other vegetables, they should be permitted to enjoy them. Despite numerous efforts at stouter nutrition, the speaker thinks our status in that respect is nothing to brag about. She places a ton of emphasis on the need of more milk for both young and old.

Adjusted to Parody. The wild scramble to buy things before the federal tax of 10 per cent went into effect October 1 inspired a New Yorker to write this parody:

'Twas the night before taxes "And all through the stores "Not a creature was idle "Not even the doors.

"Thangsgiving's been shifted "But quite unrehearsed "New taxes brought Christmas "October the first."

To Restrict Building.

A Washington report states that non-defense building promises to be cut 60 per cent next year to accommodate defense work. The government has been encouraging and helping private and public work programs, and a reversal of that policy, if extended to cover private construction, cause disappointment to persons who are now ready and able to make improvements. In right-about facing anticipation of needs, it is not surprising one bureau collides with another. The report indicates, however, that restraints will not be aimed so much at home building as at "pork barrel" public works projects. Action on the latter doubtless means to refuse requests to communities wanting to modernize quarters to supplant those that have long served. The order may be a way to escape needless non-defense spending and to get back to solid terra in economy practices.

Open Pheasant Season.

Dangers are involved in the open pheasant season which starts today, and every precaution should be taken to avoid accidents. Some farmers will be picking corn, and their safety and that of their animals should be carefully safeguarded. Many farmers, waiting for the corn to dry, will not gather their crop until after pheasant shooting ends, but their livestock may be in the path of stray bullets unless due care is observed. It is profoundly hoped the season may pass without accidents. Incidentally, as legalized pheasant hunting continues longer than usual, pheasant diet will be prolonged to the satisfaction of some and to the aversion of others. But the latter may be consoled by the reflection that the law which permits shooting pheasants does not compel one to eat them.

Paper Bag Secrecy.

Retailers are being made conscious of the scarcity of paper bags on account of defense requirements, and one suggests that the supply could be materially conserved by shoppers carrying their own containers. Anyway, of more importance than paper bags are the things that would go into them.

To Prove Nativity.

A woman writes to get the printed birth record of her son to establish the fact that he was born at a certain time and place and of certain parentage. It may be desirable to know the facts about foreign-born persons, but digging up birth proofs of native Americans strikes an older as an unnecessary task. Development of good citizenship, regardless of where or when one was born, would seem sufficient to shape satisfactory consequences.

Corn Crop Safe.

As we are led to conclude, nothing can now hurt the corn crop which is the largest and best in many years. Growth has been completed and a severe frost would help rather than hinder. In some fields which are sufficiently dry, husking will soon begin. Farmers who still find the machine struck a wagon gear pulled back of a car on the highway near Pilger. The boys were going east and were back of the wagon. A car and truck were approaching from the east. The truck passed the car and the boys were obliged to hit the truck or wagon or go into a ditch. They struck the wagon and the wagon reach punctured the radiator. J. M. Strahan went to Pilger for the group.

Cavour once said "The man who trusts men will make fewer mistakes than he who distrusts them."

DIETITIANS URGE PROPER VITAMINS IN FOOD CONTENT

WE ARE surprised so many people have lived to old age in view of lack of vitamins systematically administered in proper proportions in their early development. Only in recent years have we heard of the values contributed by different vitamins in the evolution of an individual. In considering foods, we are asked to be influenced by vitamin content—the kind we need to supply revealed deficiencies. As we understand, vitamin A leads the procession as a stimulant to growth. Vitamin B trots along not far behind pulling for appetite and weight. It would appear that one who puts on too much fat for comfort, should soft-pedal vitamin B. Vitamin C puts natural bloom into the cheeks, doing away with the need of rouge. Vitamin D is good for the bones and joints. Vitamin E is vital, as also is vitamin G which latter prevents lethargy. Many of us are manifestly lacking in G. It would seem that the average diet from soup to nuts contains enough of the different vitamins to round out sound health. It is possible increased longevity is due to heeding vitamin aids, though it is highly improbable one could eat what he relishes without satisfying the blueprints of top dietitians.

Report Is Given On Zoning Plan

Public Hearing Is Called To Pass on Proposals Of Commission.

Wayne zoning commission filed its preliminary report Tuesday with the city council and called for a public hearing on the proposals October 28 at 8 p. m. The plan divides Wayne into three zones, residential, business and industrial. The former two are to be located as they have naturally developed. The industrial zone is fixed around the railroad tracks and south.

Because of the difficulty in getting materials, a decision on the matter of sinking a well this fall at the new park north of town was deferred two weeks.

Paving of the block north from the northwest corner of Bressler park started Monday.

Revision of city ordinances has been completed and the council will check these over before they are printed. The council decided to have the steel tower at the power plant repaired. Allied Paint Co. of South Sioux City, will do the work for $50.

Leland Herman's 'Pee Wee' Helps Young Man Start His Purebred Herd.

A price of $1.05 per pound, the highest for any 4-H grand champion steer since 1938, was paid Friday to Leland Herman for Pee Wee, his Hereford beef that topped the Omaha Ak-Sar-Ben show. George Brandeis, Omaha, was buyer. The calf weighed 920 pounds and the $946.68 will help Leland realize his ambition to own his own purebred herd. His grand champion at the Omaha show last year weighed 880 pounds and sold for $1. From the two heaves he realized $1,800.28. Two per cent is deducted from the weight of calves for shrinkage.

After Leland had taken highest honors at Ak-Sar-Ben last year, he used part of his returns to buy two heifers for his commercial herd. He now has five heifers.

Pee Wee was a calf which Leland picked from the herd of his father, Walter Herman. The sire is a Pioneer bull and the dam is a Mischief Stawney. The calf was a lowest, typey steer, cherry red in color.

The calf's owner figures the sale of the champion in Omaha as practically clear profit as the prize money of $45 will pay for feed. Pee Wee was finished on rolled corn, steamed rolled barley, bran, mineral, alfalfa, prairie hay and Honeymead cattle feed.

The Ak-Sar-Ben reserve champion, an Angus belonging to Wayne Gosch of Ida county, Iowa, sold for 41c a pound or a total of $409.84.

Other Wayne county heaves entered at the Omaha show rated high and brought good prices. Berneal Gustafson took a red ribbon on a Shorthorn heifer. Others having calves in the show were Lester Lott, Merlin Albers, Carl Biermann, Billy Hoffman, Faith Gustafson.

Carl Biermann had two calves which sold for a total of $226.18. He received $12 for one weighing 1,040 and $11.85 for the other weighing 890. Lester Lutt got $14 for his 760-pound beef, the total being $102.31. Berneal Gustafson had two calves which brought a total of $208.93. One weighed 890 and sold for $11.75 and the other weighed 970 and sold for $135.90.

Faith Gustafson had two calves selling for a total of $217.77. One weighed 970 and brought $117.75 and the other weighed 879 and sold for $12.40.

While in the city the young folks showing beaves were royally entertained. Banquets were given in their honor. They were also guests at the horse show, theatres and radio station. They were taken through the bomber plant, stock yards and Joslyn memorial.

Address Is Given By Pastor Tuesday

Rev. Clarence P. Hall Gives Convocation Message For College.

Rev. Clarence P. Hall, pastor of Salem Lutheran church in Wakefield, addressed the Wayne college convocation Tuesday morning on the topic, "The Measure of a Teacher." The speaker stated that he was considering the question from the community point of view—the qualifications which the community has a right to expect of an instructor. A teacher should be measured, he declared, by four dimensions: Breadth of interest in various fields of knowledge; length of vision or looking ahead to the long-range welfare of the student; depth of character as shown in dress, carriage and the whole manner of life; and height of idealism as manifested in a love of teaching and a spirit of service. According to the speaker, these qualities will help a teacher to be happy and to obtain the most valuable results.

A girls' sextet, students of Prof. Leland Anderson, sang "I'll Go to Camelot," by Howarth. The first soprano were Dolores Marquardt, Scribner, and Dolores Thompson, Sloan, Ia.; second sopranos, Anita Olsen, Cherokee, Ia., and Hope Ellinger, Lesterville, S. D.; altos, Frances Blezek, Plainview, and Beryl Nelson, Wayne. The pianist was Patricia Sloan, Norfolk.

The concluding convocation number was a skit by the Spizz staff. This part of the program, sponsored by the yearbook staff, consisted of the mock-auction of an improvised mule, the sale of the first 1942 annual to come from press to the highest bidder. Dr. J. A. Moore, of the faculty, purchased the first Spizz that will be printed.

WAYNE COUNTY IN LIMELIGHT AGAIN AS PRIZE WINNER

BRINGING from the Ak-Sar-Ben livestock show the grand championship in 4-H club beef production to Wayne county two years in succession by Leland Herman, and an identical experience rewarding the efforts of Lester Lutt in 1936 and 1937 speak well for these boys and for the spirit of the organization that sponsors their activities. Many other 4-H club boys of the county are not far behind in quality production and any one of them may turn out top winner next year. Never before in Ak-Sar-Ben history had one boy captured the grand championship more than once. Wayne county furnishes two such examples. We are proud of the distinguished winners and of the 4-H group, and we are eminently satisfied to live in a county possessing so much merit—a county thus generously honored.

Send Seventeen For Examination

Remainder of Quota Will Be Filled As Notification Is Given to Men.

Wayne county will send 17 men to Fort Crook next Monday for examination for selective service. The quota is 22 and the additional men will be sent as soon as they are given due notification.

Local boards are advised to avoid undue hardships on college students when making selection for service. Students who are in training for occupations essential to national health, safety or interest are especially to be granted deferment, according to General Guy N. Henninger. To warrant postponement of induction, a student who is not in training for an occupation essential to national health, safety and interest must have entered college in good faith after being advised that his induction was not imminent. The board is notified to allow a student to finish a quarter or semester, if possible, before induction.

Conscientious objectors, assigned to work projects of national importance because of their opposition to military training, may apply for entry into the armed forces upon reconsideration, according to the army officer. Conscientious objectors completing service in work camp will be placed on reserve and will be subject to recall for additional participation in work of national defense.

Enlisted men who were in the registration age brackets last October or in July, must register when discharged from military service. They may be called to active duty as members of the reserve.

Registrants are advised to notify the local board of any changes of address.

Human Values Greatest Asset

Dr. Ray Bryan Gives Address To Kivanians Monday at Noon-Day Meeting.

Human resources are the greatest asset of any nation, stated Dr. Ray Bryan of the college faculty, in addressing Wayne Kivanians Monday following noonday luncheon at Hotel Stratton. To the savage, coal, water, etc., are of first importance, but to the educated person these become subordinated to human values. The educated man has an appetite for training. He seeks to improve himself and his associates.

Sincere appreciation for home and family life, also for high ideals in associations among individuals is the goal for successful human relationships.

Satisfaction of good work, selection of one's occupation, maintaining and improving efficiency are objectives for economic efficiency.

The aims of civic responsibility, added Dr. Bryan, are understanding of social structure and processes, defense against propaganda, respect for differences of opinion, respect for law, acceptance of civic duties and loyalty to democratic ideals.

The speaker closed by reading the poem, "Dad," which follows: "Only a dad with a tired face "Coming home from the daily race: "Bringing little of gold and fame "To show how well he has played the game.

"But glad in his heart that his own rejoice "To see him come and to hear his voice. "Only a dad, of a brood of four, "One of 10 million men or more; "Plodding along in the daily strife, "Bearing the whips and scorns of life "With never a whimper or pain or hate, "For the sake of those who at home await.

"Only a day, neither rich nor poor, "Merely one of the surging crowd, "Tolling, striving, from day to day "Facing whatever may come his way: "Silent whenever the harsh condemn, "And bearing it all for the love of them.

"Only a day, but he gives his all "To smooth the way for his children small, "Doing with courage stern and grim "The deeds that his father did for him; "This is the line for him I pent "Only a dad, but the best of men."

Quiet of Region Is Sharp Contrast

The peaceful, uncrowded appearance of the middlewest appeals to one after a trip along the west coast where thousands of troops are training and huge plants are turning out war supplies. This was the reaction of Mrs. P. A. Theobald who arrived home Sunday after spending a few weeks in the west. Mr. Theobald stayed in Palo Alto, Cal., with his daughter, Miss Marion Jo Theobald, to do some real estate work.

The Theobalds drove west, going through Idaho, Montana and Oregon. They reached Palo Alto in time to attend the 50th anniversary of Leland Stanford university. Besides visiting their daughter there they were also with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Theobald and children at Palmdale, Cal. Mrs. Theobald visited a sister, Mrs. Alice Horner in Redondo, and a brother, Fred Hyde, in Santa Monica. She also saw the Harlan Boyers at Long Beach, Mrs. Boyer being the former Dorothy Ellis of Wayne. She talked to Mrs. J. J. Coleman at Pomona and learned that Mr. and Mrs. Marlow Coleman are living in Palo Alto.

Though the west coast has an abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables, Mrs. Theobald found that cafes usually serve the canned products rather than prepare these.

Mrs. Theobald returned by train and found this method of travel just as crowded as highways.

Pass on Building Plans for Church

Building committee in charge of remodeling and enlarging the basement for Our Redeemer's Lutheran church met Monday evening with Architect E. J. Hunte to consider plans drawn. It is hoped to start the improvement within a few days.

In the basement, which is to be under the entire church, will be a dining room about 50 by 26. This will also be used for Sunday school. The kitchen will be arranged so conveniently and may have new built-in cupboards. New sink, stove and other fixtures, purchased some time ago, will be used. A new gas furnace will be installed in the furnace room to heat both the main church and basement. Ladies' rest room and lounge and men's rest room are also in the basement. Two entrances lead to the basement, one from the southeast corner and the other from the east. The former also leads to the auditorium.

Members of the congregation will donate labor for tearing out old walls and for excavation, also for carpenter work and painting.

On the building committee are Curtis Foote, Adolph Brinkman, Wm. Bleeck, Chas. Sieckman, Harvey Meyer, W. P. Canning and Rev. W. E. Most. The Aid society, sponsoring the improvement, is represented by Mrs. Canning, Mrs. Oscar Liedtke, Mrs. Harvey Meyer and Mrs. M. L. Ringer.

Industry Farsighted THE Industrial Press Service says "industrial management will never strike against defense." Industry is too farsighted to do that. Besides its determination to preserve itself by helping subdue alien threats, it knows any but a straightforward, constructive course would bring a storm of popular condemnation. On the contrary, two rival labor unions are seriously interfering with the machinery of defense building. An industrial head is quoted as saying:

"It builds armaments for the defense of freedom, while the principles and institutions on which that freedom rests are progressively being sacrificed. It worries whether we may not be preparing to defend the assassinated corpse of freedom rather than our liberties themselves.

"It sees, for the first time in the Republic's history, the individual's right to work made subject to the arbitrary whims of private organizations.

"Here is the basic log-jam of defense. Unless American industrial management has freedom to pursue its function of free enterprise and unless the American worker has the right to work, neither can contribute its full participation in the national defense program which the President requests, and which the people of the nation are entitled to get."

Morgenthau WE HAVE a circular letter from Henry Morgenthau, jr., secretary of the treasury, expressing alarm over the impending perils of inflation and asking us to help head it off by doing our part to prevent price upswings. We couldn't raise prices even if conditions warranted doing so. We think Henry could do more in the direction suggested by tackling new deal spark plugs, and persuading them to trim unnecessary bureaus and lay off unnecessary spending. Like other inhabitants of the erstwhile drouth area, like others keenly aware of things obstructing the wayfarer during a series of lean years, we are in no state of mind to celebrate the first peep of economic dawn—due to better crops and war-made demand—by going on a spending spree or trying to raise prices, which, in view of no wild demand for what we have to sell, we couldn't do if we would.

Writing for a current magazine, William Hard suggests existence of too much disunity in a country that more than ever needs unity and sense of individual responsibility. The example of weakness that invited totalitarianism in European countries should be heeded here. Hard points out that we have too many pressure groups in government working in conflict. He stresses the need of fewer bureaus and an impartial regard for all interests. He says we now have the task of all-out national defense, and this will inevitably be followed by all-out national recovery. Then a period of depression and unemployment will require wise and courageous leadership.

Attention to Russia's lack of religious freedom in the hope of reformation to strengthen support from religious peoples could draw assent from Stalin without disturbing his conscience—regardless of how he feels or what his subsequent reactions might be. Stalin is no exception to the rule among dictators to spurn the Christian's hope and rely wholly on human might. But Stalin happens to be caught under the wheels of the Nazi juggernaut, and while trying to save himself, he is serving the ends of democracy which is therefore contributing liberally to his resistance.

Governor Griswold's secretary, Val Peterson, who is growing in demand as a public speaker, named in a speech at West Point this week these five rules to observe in community growth: "1. Don't give free gifts, provide bargains. 2. Make your town a real trading post, a real service station. 3. Get acquainted with people in your trade area. 4. Be friendly, entertain and be entertained. 5. Don't talk about what your town used to do; talk about what it is doing today and tomorrow."

The Saturday Evening Post wonders if we are in the war, and if we are, when we got in. This question will be particularly tough on future historians who will want to light on accurate dates to hand on to posterity. Our descendants will know we were engaged in war, but they may not know when or where it started.

The Omaha Journal-Stockman strongly supports Congressman Coffee's protest against the importation of South American products in competition with American farmers. Besides protecting agriculture in this country, Coffee points out that revenues from a tariff are needed for defense purposes.

Congratulations to Wahoo in securing a government defense plant to cost $25,000,000 and to employ 3,000 men. Wahoo is about the size of Wayne, and its new industry will double its population without counting the families who will accompany the workers.

The value of the FBI and the Dies committee is heightened by evidences of subversive elements. These two important government agencies deserve more and more support as enemy termites are revealed.

The county corn husking contest next Monday will show a yield unequalled heretofore in many years. It will be a source of joy to huskers. The field selected is an index of most corn plots in the county.

A letter from President Roosevelt to Joe Stalin was published in Berlin first. The treachery revealed somewhere along the line is deeply disturbing. No wonder precautions are taken.

Slang creeps into conversation everywhere. "Let's beat it!" said a fellow to his wife, anxious to leave. A youngster who did not understand, hurried to the kitchen to get the egg beater.

Inducting dissatisfied industrial defense workers into the army would be the best assurance of uninterrupted production.

RAILROADS

The state railway commission is busy with hearings in connection with petitions from the Union Pacific and Burlington to abandon a total of 712 miles of their branch roads in Nebraska. Manifestly an organization that will give up its business must be prompted by inadequate returns. Simultaneous with proposed railroad curtailments is the demand of railway workers for higher wages. The companies are engaged in trying to shrink unprofitable holdings and dodge multiplied costs of operation. Pay to railway helpers is reported higher than at any time in the history of the industry. Whatever may have been the earning ability of railroads before advent of automobiles and trucks, they are certainly in a tight squeeze now with soaring labor demands added to increased competition. It is plain that abandonment of branch lines—habitually in the red—could reasonably be expected as a way to reduce exchequer headaches.

TRIPLE-A

Mark Sullivan, columnist, calling attention to Secretary Morgenthau's warning against inflation, advises modification of Triple-A restraints as one way to avert danger. He says it is within the power of new deal agencies, unaided by congress, to prevent inflation disaster. Farmers have a lot of stored wheat which they can't sell without paying a stiff penalty. This grain now commands a good price by reason of the war and increased need. Triple-A was instituted to raise prices, but apparently it is no longer useful for that purpose. Demand promises to make restraints sufficient. As pointed out, wheat should be released to give farmers and the public generally the benefit. As the international emergency is supplying the market with ample stiffs, the whole Triple-A program for price-fixing seems unnecessary. Most farmers would prefer handling their endeavors unhampered by government interference. Sullivan suggests as reason for perpetuating restrictions the desire of bureaucracy to retain control over the farmer. During the Triple-A at least until another price-depressing emergency arises would appear good sense.

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, October 19.
The Golden Text is: "There is one God and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time" (1 Timothy 2: 5, 6).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that he might live through him. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins" (1 John 4: 9, 10).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The atonement of Christ reconciles man to God, not God to man; for the divine Principle of Christ is God, and how can God propitiate Himself? Christ is Truth, which reaches no higher than itself. The fountain can rise no higher than its source. Christ, Truth, could conciliate no nature above his own, derived from the eternal Love. It was therefore Christ's purpose to reconcile man to God, not God to man. Love and Truth are not at war with God's image and likeness. Man cannot love divine Love, and so atone for himself. Even Christ cannot reconcile Truth to error, for Truth and error are irreconcilable" (p. 18).

To maintain high ideals choose music also that sustains those ideals."

Wayne High Blues Defeat Wakefield

Blues Maintain Record of Winning Season Friday In Hardest Game.

Wayne high's undefeated Blues gave Wakefield its first loss of the season at Wakefield Friday afternoon, 12 to 0. According to Coach Frank Sullivan of Wayne, this was the toughest game Wayne high gridders have had so far this year. Wakefield line out-weighted the Wayne line about 18 pounds per man. Wakefield made more first downs than their foes but lacked scoring punch. Throughout the entire game Wakefield didn't get inside Wayne's 20-yard line.

Kessler first scored for Wayne in the second period on a line plunge. The other score came in the fourth period on a pass from Kessler to Stull.

Substitutions were Derry, end; Larson, Del Jensen, tackles; Bob Meyer, guard.

Starting line-up for Wakefield follows: Bahde, end; Bard, tackle; Meyer, guard; Jensen, center; Nelson, guard; Korfh, tackle; Lundahl, end; Busby, quarter; McQuistan, half; Nuernberger, fullback; Benson, half.

She wore a gold cross, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried an arm bouquet of roses. For something old she carried a handkerchief belonging to Miss Wurster.

Miss Betty Baier of Wayne, was maid of honor, and Miss Florence Binns of Elizabeth, was bridesmaid. Each wore ankle-length light blue dress and carried an arm bouquet of gladioli. Little Doris Mitchell, flowergirl, was dressed in ankle-length gown of gold color.

Natives of Wayne Notice Changes in First Return Trip

Making their first visit here since they left 40 years ago, Frank Trevitt, Fuller and Ben Fuller of Washington, D. C., last week noted many changes in Wayne. The two brothers, natives of Wayne and now both residents of Washington, D. C., were driving to the west coast and stopped here Wednesday and Thursday.

The Fullers, who as boys lived in the house across the street north of the post office, were anxious to visit their old home but came just a few weeks too late to see its original style for the structure is being remodeled by E. J. Huntermer. They remembered some fine cherry trees on the place but these trees have died and been cleared away.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fuller, parents of the two, came to Wayne in the eighties and the former was an attorney. Mr. Fuller was elected mayor in 1890 and was active in the early settlement. Mrs. Fuller was an early member of the Monday club and took great pride in doing her part for the social life of the little village that developed into the city of Wayne. The two sons, only children in the family, were born in Wayne.

Mr. Fuller was bothered considerably with hay fever and his health led him to take his family to Washington, D. C., at the turn of the century. There Mr. Fuller established a business school, Ben, the elder of the two sons, was 12 years old when they left. Mrs. Fuller died in 1935 and Mr. Fuller died a few years earlier. Ben's wife has also passed away. Frank's family includes his wife and three sons, 8, 5 and 3 years old. Ben is a draftsman and Frank a lawyer and real estate man in the capital city.

Mrs. A. A. Welch, Mrs. Winifred Main, Mrs. J. T. Bressler and Mrs. A. M. Jacobs are among the friends of the late Mrs. Frank Fuller on whom the men called when here.

J. T. Bressler and David Carder were in Grand Island Friday.

Besides Mr. Hancock and son, Preston LeRoy, those here from out of town were Miss Alice Crockett of Nickerson, Rev. Loug, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Alfred, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Huff and Mrs. High-tree of Macy. Mr. Hancock and son will stay in the P. C. and Ralph Crockett homes for a while. Roberta Lee Hancock is in Houston with relatives.

Pallbearers were Chas. Alfred, K. N. Parke, E. E. Fleetwood, W. A. Crossland, Ben Ahlvers and Carl Wright.

College High Gridders Are Faster Than Opponents In Friday Battle.

Wayne prep six-man football team defeated Wausa 6 to 0 Friday afternoon at that place. The Wausa players were a little heavier than the Wayne boys, but not very fast. The passing of the Wayne gridders was very efficient. Warren Finn made Wayne's score during the first half on a pass.

Starting line-up for Wayne prep included: Mickey Gillespie, center; Warren Finn and Merton Ellis, ends; Dick Kirwan, quarter; Kenneth Echtenkamp, halfback; Durrell Hughes, fullback.

Others who saw action during the game were Bob Parke and Eddie Denkinger.

Wayne prep will meet the strong Hancock team under the college lights this evening. Hancock is rated as having the 8th best six-man football team in the state.

Grid Teams Tie In Even Battle

Wildcats and Doane Score Touchdown Apiece at College Friday.

Wayne Wildcats and Doane played to a 6-6 tie here Friday evening in a football game that featured long runs and passes. Penalties cost each team what appeared to be good prospects for another touchdown.

Wayne made its score in the second period on a 45-yard pass from Purtzer to Best. Then Best ran 10 yards for the score and Fitch failed to convert the kick for extra point.

Doane scored in the third quarter when Grosscup caught a 34-yard pass from Gerner on Wayne's 20-yard line and went for the touchdown.

Another time in the third Doane appeared ready to score when called back for pushing in the fourth period. Wayne missed a score when losing yardage on an off-side penalty.

Canadian Weather Contrasts Sharply

Extension of Railroad and Improvement of Ferry Center Early Events.

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for October 15, 1925:

Contrasted with Nebraska's Indian summer, Canada's variety of weather would make one feel as though he were being kneaded by a sharp-shod mule. This is the impression one gets after talking with Mele Shantz, Wayne student, who spent the summer in Alsask, Canada. That region had prospects of a good wheat crop but a prolonged rainy spell and then a sudden thrust of winter have almost prevented harvest. Snow covered the ground early and as much as three feet were reported at Calgary.

Burr Davis, Ed. Reynolds, Owen Brainard and Ted Mildner reported to Kiwanians on their experiences at Fort Des Moines and Fort Snelling.

Bethany Presbyterian singers from Carroll, with E. O. Davis director, will furnish a program for radio station WJAG, Norfolk.

Store Is Robbed Of Merchandise

Whiskey and Cigarettes Are Taken at Arthur Cook's Friday Evening

Whiskey and cigarettes valued at between $400 and $500 were taken Friday night from Arthur Cook's store in Carroll. Sheriff J. H. Pile and other officers are tracing clues.

The intruders, who entered the building about 10:30, tried to pry open the back door and small windows, but failed. They then broke a back window, crawled through and opened the door and window. All windows were held shut with nails and some were boarded over. The loot included 20 cases of whiskey, 29 cartons of cigarettes, a case and a gallon of wine. Not all the stock of these items was taken so it is thought the intruders left sooner than they planned. They did drink one bottle of whiskey, and left the empty container in the back of the store. Nothing else in the store was disturbed.

Lavon Bonta, returning home about 9:45 Friday evening, noticed a car parked back of the Cook store. As he passed, the car sped south out of the alley, east to the bank and then north on Main street until it left town. The drivers did not turn on their car lights as they hurriedly made their getaway. Lavern tried to get their car number but was unable to on account of the darkness. He thinks there were several in the car.

When Trucker Earl Miner of Laurel, brought supplies to the drug store Saturday morning he noticed the back door and windows open and notified Mr. Cook, who investigated and found the place had been robbed.

Mr. Cook had closed the drug store about 9:20 Friday evening when he and Mrs. Cook went to the A. C. Sabs home for a party. Mr. Cook usually stops in to look at the store after being away for an evening but on this occasion he went directly home as it was quite late when he closed that night.

The wine was found Saturday in a tin about a mile and a half from town.

Burglars have also been active at Belden and Pilger. They took $350 worth of liquor and cigarettes early Tuesday morning last week from the John Schram store in Belden. Farmers Union store at Pilger lost $200 worth of merchandise and Wm. Brockman's place $35 worth Saturday night, October 4.
