

Close of Second Year for Wayne Chamber of Commerce Retiring from Farm Prospects for Agriculture — Proposition to Curb Buying Power — Corn Husking.

The second year in Wayne's experience with a streamlined Chamber of Commerce with an over-head to match is drawing to a close. Plans are maturing to elect new officers and start another year. In due time a canvass will be made to renew cash pledges.

In the meantime, contributors will consider things done as justification for the investment. The total cost runs about $5,000 per year. Whether the expensive setup would bring equal results is a question to be determined by those who supply the funds. To gain a preliminary expression, we will ask those interested to mark as judgment suggests and mail the following coupon to the Herald without revealing identity:

We are satisfied with results and the cost and would favor no changes.

We would reduce the set, up to one carrying greatly reduced cash overhead.

We would dissolve the present Chamber and return to reliance on other existing organizations for community service.

Just express your opinion by cutting out the coupon and putting an X in the square that you prefer, mailing same to the Herald. Results will be published in this column. We would like to have a full and fair expression.

Retiring from Farm. A. L. Ireland who will hold a public sale of farm implements next Tuesday, November 25, plans to locate in Wayne. He does not like the government's farm plan and believes he will be more contented to get away from it. Mr. Ireland was an officer in the Spanish-American war and saw service in Cuba. He belonged to the American force that freed Cuba from Spanish tyranny.

Upswing of Farm Prices. Speaking to a group of Nebraska farmers, Dr. Herman Haag, associate economics professor at the University of Missouri, predicted a substantial rise in prices for farm products and lands during next year. He says that farm products are the first to be influenced upward in the price spiral and the first to decline when the excitement is over. Haag says strong farm prices for six or eight years are likely regardless of how soon the war terminates. He recognizes a world-wide and long-continued demand for food products and large dependence on the American farmer to furnish them. He says a depression following the prosperity wave is unnecessary, but believes it is probable, indicating it will be a record-breaker when it comes. To modify this unhappy aftermath, people are urged to watch their steps and stay close to shore.

Resourceful Washington. We do not relish Washington's reference to "mopping up" people's buying power in order to avert the evil of inflation. The said "mopping up" process might well be started with the circles that propose it. Buying power in the middle west was mopped up long ago, and the fear that it will now, in view of enlarged crop and cash returns, buy more than it needs, has no foundation in fact. This area will not be hurt by ascending prosperity while it is getting back on its feet.

Another plan with two purposes has been launched for congressional consideration by Vice President Wallace who thus contributes what he believes is a bright idea to curb inflation and help the federal treasury. He proposes to include in the sale of certain commodities requirement to buy defense saving stamps. Besides heading off threatened inflation, the vice president thinks the middle west untapped field for treasury borrowing would be opened. It is reasonably certain that no field of promise will be long neglected.

Bigger and Better Crop. Corn husking has been going forward under favorable weather conditions, and what is said to be the biggest and best crop in the Wayne area for many years will soon be gathered and housed. A year ago snow and cold hampered the husking task. This year a larger crop, fully matured with higher prices and with mild elements contributes to the farmer's good fortune—happily contrasting with a series of loss; discouraging seasons.

College Teams Debate. Two Wayne college debating teams, under the direction of Miss Lenore P. Ramsey, Wednesday evening debated the proposition, "Resolved, That the federal government should control all labor unions." For one team the affirmative was upheld by Kathryn Schell, by Norfolk; and by Virginia Eberly, Randolph; the negative by Joe Smolks, Wayne, and Harrell F. Beck, Lyons. For the other team the affirmative was maintained by Joe Kirwan, Wayne, and Dwight Neville, Pilger; the negative by Robert Haas, Wayne, and Robert Conrad, Schuyler.

Club Hears Talks. International Relations club had on its program Monday evening a series of speeches on the topic of Pan-Americanism and Pan-American Countries. During this program, which was a Pan-American league study, Arlene Surber of Waterbury, spoke on "Peru"; Amber Richards of Bancroft on "Peru Through the Eyes of a South American Teacher"; Dorothy Johnson, West Point, on "South American Architecture"; and Harrell F. Beck, Lyons, on "Basic Issues Imperative to a Thorough Study of South American Problems."

Urges Action. Taking notice of the threat to defense production involved in numerous strikes, Otis A. Brumby, president of the Georgia Press association, has wired the head of every state press association to ask people to write the president and members of congress to adopt necessary action to restore and maintain uninterrupted service. Usually the demand is not for higher wages or shorter hours, but for more control over employing institutions. Blockading essential defense work without respect to the public welfare and in bold defiance of American authorities, is a most serious menace to orderly processes. Letters or telegrams to the seat of national government urging prompt and decisive action, are earnestly advised.

Red Cross Rooms. All Red Cross work which has been finished should be brought to the sewing rooms Saturday, November 29, any time after 10 o'clock. Ladies there will pack articles for shipping. The sewing rooms will not be open next week Tuesday and Thursday.

Rudolph Lage returned to York Monday after spending about a week with his mother, Mrs. Henry Lage, and brother, Louis.

Elect Officers For Wayne Club

Lawrence Shaw of Omaha Is Speaker for Kiwanians At Monday Program.

Wayne Kiwanians elected A. V. Teed president, H. E. Siman vice president, Herman Lundberg treasurer, R. K. Kirkman and W. A. Crossland directors at Monday's meeting. These men will be installed soon, probably at an evening dinner session.

Lawrence Shaw of Omaha, member of the staff of the Northern Natural Gas company, spoke, being introduced by Ray Harrison of Omaha. Mr. Shaw gave a history of natural gas development, the industry being less than a century old.

Discovery of oil preceded that of natural gas. Mr. Shaw explained. Oil was first found in the Drake well in New York in 1859. Discovery of gas followed. The first effort to pipe natural gas was in 1879 between Bloomfield and Rochester, N. Y., a distance of 25 miles. Canada line logs were used for piping and these proved unsatisfactory as gas seeped from them. The gas industry spread from New York to Indiana and then to Kansas and the Texas panhandle.

Principal development of natural gas in the middle west was between 1890 and 1900. In 1900 the annual sales of the product amounted to 20 million, and in 1911 they reached 500 million. The industry is about one-twelfth the size of the railroad business now. Main trunk and gathering lines in the middle west total 190,000 miles and the Northern Natural Gas company has 3,000 of these.

Carbon black is a byproduct of the gas industry which is becoming very important for use in paints, etc. This product is collected after burning coke with gas. Now for this the industry is beginning to use sour gas, which has too much sulphur for home burning, and the plan will conserve the "sweet" gas. Of the total annual output of 500 million pounds of carbon black, the Texas fields furnish 450 million, L. E. Brown, new member, was present Monday.

Dean Clarence McGinn had as his guest Dr. R. P. Cuff, H. B. Craven brought his son-in-law, Merrill Whitman of Canal zone, and C. P. Harrison had his brother, Ray Harrison of Omaha. Yankton club was represented by five members. President Lawrence Arnold, Nathan Steinbach, Virgil Boyles, Harold Leninger and Clarence Cowman comprised this delegation.

School Men Meet At Wayne College

Dr. K. O. Brody, head of extension at the university of Nebraska, spoke to the Four-County School Men's group at the college last Thursday evening. His subject was "The Improvement of the School Curriculum." He surveyed educational programs for the last ten years.

On the gain side, Dr. Brody pointed out that "we have better trained teachers, better text books and the teachers understand the children better." On the loss side, he says that "we are losing our appreciation of the home and family life, the size of our family is decreasing and the small town is literally bleeding itself to death by permitting the cream of the young people to go to larger populated centers."

Dr. Brody urged small communities not only to function as a service station for the rural areas, but also to develop productive industries of their own and thus provide opportunities for the young people to remain in their home communities.

BOYS APPRECIATE REGULAR RECEIPT OF WAYNE HERALD

MANY soldier and sailor boys from Wayne county are regular recipients of the Herald, and words of appreciation from them are ample compensation for the service we are thus able to render. Doubtless the home newspaper ranks second only to letters from home as a source of comfort and courage. It enables the boys to keep in close touch with people and events of personal interest to them. The boys are moved from time to time, and on changing locations, they should notify this office promptly to avoid interruptions in the service.

M. Lavalle Suffers Injury When Using Machine on Minnesota Farm.

M. Lavalle, 57, Waseca, Minn., formerly of this vicinity, suffered the loss of his right arm in a corn elevator October 18, according to word received this week from Mrs. Lavalle by the Albert Bastians.

Compile Results Of Weed Survey

Acres of Bindweed and Other Unwanted Growth Are Noted in Report.

A summary of the survey made this summer by five young men from the state agricultural college in Lincoln shows an estimated total of 2,920.84 acres of bindweed on Wayne county farms. The county has 369,920 acres of land under cultivation. The bindweed area is the main part of the total of 2,996.34 acres of noxious weeds throughout the county.

In addition to the bindweed on farms, the county has 6,805.2 square rods of bindweed along roads, 518.8 square rods of knapweed, 1,952.3 square rods of leafy spurge, 2,250.4 square rods of Canadian thistle, 542 square rods of peppercorn and 19.2 square rods of pepper vine.

The acreage of bindweed on farms is estimated as follows for precincts: Hunter, 146.18; Strahan, 407.66; Deer Creek, 180.77; Brenna, 86.21; Leslie, 18.12; Logan, 109.82; Plum Creek, 98.58; Wilbur, 482.18; Chapin, 452.12; Garfield, 337.37; Sherman, 94.24; Hoskins, 104.84; Hancock, 242.84. The 104 square rods of bindweed along roads in Hunter precinct is the smallest. The largest on roads is 1,567.3 square rods in Chapin precinct.

Warren Sals of Wayne county, was one of the five who made the survey. Mr. McVickers, Mr. Bermingham, Mr. Seviok and Mr. Fisher are others who assisted. Though the records cannot be absolutely accurate, they are fairly so because farmers of the county gave exceptionally good cooperation to the five.

One hundred Wayne county farmers bought chlorate this season to eradicate bindweed, and many others are getting rid of the weeds by deep cultivation.

Gets Commission In Navy Reserve

Franklyn Henkel Is Picked To Direct Training for Men in Service.

Franklyn E. Henkel, coach and instructor at Clarinda, Ia., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Henkel of Wayne, has been commissioned chief boatswain's mate first class in the U. S. navy reserve and is at home until he is called to Norfolk, Va. He is one of a dozen chosen from midwestern states to receive this commission in the navy's new physical education program for its men. The national movement to provide such training in the navy is headed by Gene Tunney, former world champion heavyweight boxer.

Tests showed that men who are given systematic exercises are not only better fitted physically but are also more alert mentally. To supply this need, Gene Tunney was chosen to select outstanding young men over the country, give them six weeks' instruction under his direction and then send them to navy bases to conduct such training for navy men.

Mr. Henkel received an invitation recently to meet Gene Tunney in Omaha when the latter was touring the country to pick candidates. After conferring with the former boxing champion in Omaha, Franklyn was invited to take the rigid physical examinations and he passed these successfully. He then sent college credentials and letters of recommendation to the department of navigation in Washington. Ten days later he received word that he had been accepted. He was sworn into the navy reserve Monday last week. Franklyn resigned his teaching position in Clarinda and came home Friday as he is subject to call any day.

A new class of 25 is started every two weeks in Norfolk, Va. The group in which Franklyn will likely be called includes 25 men from middle western and from Rocky mountain states. After six weeks these men will be sent to navy bases in this country or on some of the island possessions. There they will direct the physical program among navy men. Their period of service is for the duration of the emergency.

New Quota Fixed In Flying Course

Eligible Young Men Should Register at College by Early December.

Preliminary applications are now being taken for the course in civilian pilot training for the second semester at Wayne college. The anticipated quota for Wayne is one unit of 10 trainees and two alternates. However, if sufficient applications are received before December 1, a request for an increase in the quota will be made. Those who wish to take advantage of the governments free flying lessons should register at once with the college registrar or one of the C. A. A. instructors.

Men who have reached their 19th but not their 25th birthday by February 1 are eligible for the course, if they are sophomores in college, or have two full years of college work, if not enrolled in college. The federal government pays the $365 for the flying and ground school instruction. The only expense to the student is $12 for a physical examination and $7 for insurance.

The purpose of the course is to train pilots for civilian and military pursuits. The government wishes to find eligible men who are physically able and willing to prepare for army or navy flying. A western divorce seeker reveals that he met the little woman through a do-cant chain letter. Even in this outlying districts one doesn't get much of a wife for a dime.

Every dime spent in equipping your house with storm sash is a dime that will not pay in dividends in added comfort to your family. If you do not have storm sash on every window in the house, invest a few dimes and make yourself really comfortable.

It won't be long until you'll have to put off re-shingling that roof until next spring. Can you take that chance? Re-shingle now, and the wife, not sorry.

are not fooled by propaganda, and they have high sense of responsibility to the public. In view of the complete service given by American newspapers through their reporters and correspondents, the government's highly expensive mimeographed sheets circulated from numerous bureaucratic sources would seem wholly unnecessary. American newspapers perform the service better without cost to the federal treasury. The present plan wastes paper and money needed for defense.

A Real Christian civilization has inculcated truth as an indispensable virtue through the centuries, but it is probably practiced less today than at any time within recorded history. Churches and public schools have always regarded the lie as a pernicious creature of the devil. In all walks of life, the fellow who juggled facts was looked on with suspicion and disdain. Deceiving the public seems a part of the present war policy abroad, and the example is highly injurious to the rank and file. But the files of truth must be kept burning by institutions that cling to it as supremely essential.

The masses are eager for overthrow of totalitarianism and preservation of the American way of life. They want to see labor unions forced to quit striking in defense industries. They want to see needless non-defense spending abolished for duration of the emergency. They are willing to sacrifice much, but they want waste stopped and brakes put on Washington's dream boys who are rich in impractical ideas. They do not want to forfeit gains made during 150 years of national development.

State Tax Commissioner Frank Brady is quoted as expressing the belief that increased taxes will awaken people to their responsibility to government and lead them to demand more economy in public expenditures. He thinks the fifteen per cent tax on payrolls will be a sort of salutary surgery on persons not hitherto tax conscious. If one recovers from the operation he will be a more thoughtful citizen, taking more active interest in the affairs of government.

The Lincoln Journal says the anti-picketing law, which one attorney calls unconstitutional, has been in the Nebraska statutes for twenty years. In short, the law makes it unlawful for any person or persons to obstruct orderly business by picketing or otherwise. It would seem the constitution should shield business from coercion or force—that no special law should be necessary to protect people's legal rights.

So many midwesterners have relatives in southern California that when a severe earthquake is reported, anxiety is greatly increased. Last week's vigorous shakeup which destroyed valuable properties at Los Angeles, Long Beach and other places, fortunately caused no fatalities.

EDUCATION.
The financial report from the state department of public instruction, filed the first of this year, shows a decrease in expenditures for education in contrast with increase in other branches of public service. Speaking of relative values the report says: "Provisions for homes must always take precedence over provision for education—but this same relation does not hold between educational and other governmental services. Since the defense of the country, as well as the economic security of the people, whether in peace or war depend largely upon the intelligence and discipline of youth in the classrooms today, it is imperative to consider the support of public schools as basic to all other requirements of government." In one paragraph the report states: "Educational interests have rightfully given way to the claims of the needy and the aged in this period of economic emergency. Now the chief concern must be for national defense. But the inevitable result of this predominant emphasis on public expenditures is weakness instead of strength in the citizenship of the state. In contrast, expenditures for education mean constructive contribution to individual welfare and community progress. Finally, public confidence requires the state to make good its own guarantees for the program of citizenship."

Norris Quoted
SENATOR Geo. W. Norris is quoted as saying he will retire from public life at the expiration of his present term, but James C. Quigley, Nebraska's democratic national committee man, says pressure will be brought on him to run again. The senator is now serving his 33rd consecutive year and is 80 years old. Leaders in both political camps are believed looking on anxiously. Governor Dwight Griswold and Ken. Wherry, republican state chairman, are said to have the nomination in mind. Terry Carpenter, who sold much of his oil business recently, will likely find a reason to file for the democratic nomination. There will be other candidates on both sides, and a lively race is in prospect. Even though Senator Norris may be persuaded to change his mind, there is assurance of plenty of candidates.

Fixing Prices
RESTRICTING commodity prices without putting a ceiling over wages is causing sharp disagreement in Washington. Comparatively small industries cannot understand how they can make the grade with curbed selling prices and unlimited wage demands.

The proposition to add to social security payments a fifteen per cent payroll tax simply means that an employer would have to raise wages to cover the cost. Additional burdens which, according to reports, may be postponed until next year, will give industries and businesses, used to narrow margins of profit, some real problems to anticipate.

PUBLIC SERVICE.
Public officials on down the line from Washington would, we believe, more fully in trench themselves in public favor by looking squarely at problems and buckling down to the task of solving them without reference to any prospective vote harvest. Dodging responsibility often defeats its purpose—cultivating popular support. Playing politics while neglecting duties invited from the electorate may be attributed in considerable measure to weaknesses of the primary law which tempts office aspirants to pull every string that suggests influence over the voting population. The primary is a pleasing democratic process, but in practice it is confusing and costly and often leads incumbents to overlook statesmanship and public service in trying to curry favor. But legislatures lack the acumen or courage to modify or abolish the institution, and so it is doubtless here to stay without change. Accepting the primary as inevitable, each officer should be bent on doing his job well, and then resting on sheer merit, trusting the public will understand and give credit where credit is due.

Pioneers Honored By Woman's Club

Special Recognition Given to Four Groups Here at Program Friday.

Pioneers in Wayne Woman's club were given special recognition Friday at the group's program in the club rooms.

Mrs. Harry L. Keefe of Walthill, pioneer worker in Nebraska club work and one-time state president, was introduced as guest speaker by Mrs. Clarence Wright. Mrs. Keefe spoke of the history of the state federation work from 1888 to 1940, and indicated some special contributions of the various state presidents, all but one of whom she has known since she came to Nebraska to live in 1898. She also reported in some detail concerning the Golden Jubilee convention held at Atlantic City last year. In this connection she told the club that Mrs. S. A. Lutgen contributed a portion of a plaque given at that national meeting.

Mrs. E. E. Gailey gave a thoughtful analysis of "What It Means to Be a Pioneer Club Woman," and appropriately presented to Mrs. Clarence Wright for recognition four groups of women who had made special records of service to the club. In the first group were pioneer club women who had served continuously from 1919 to 1941. They are Mrs. E. W. Huse, Mrs. Harry McMillan, Mrs. Fred Berry, Mrs. S. A. Lutgen, Mrs. Fred Blair, Mrs. William Beckenhauer, Mrs. A. McEachen, Mrs. Clyde Oman, Mrs. H. H. Hahn and Mrs. George Crossland.

The second group, listed as the several club presidents from the beginning to date, included Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis, Mrs. E. W. Huse, Mrs. D. J. Canvaugh, Mrs. C. Shultheis, Mrs. E. J. Hunter, Mrs. Holhart Auker and Mrs. L. A. Fenske, who is now serving.

The third group mentioned those who have given, unusually long official services to the club. Mrs. J. H. Hahn, Mrs. E. W. Huse and Mrs. George Crossland.

The fourth group presented members whom the club had given to the district, state and national federation for special service. They are: Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis, four years district chairman, four years state chairman; Mrs. Clyde Oman, district treasurer four years; Miss Martha Pierce, district chairman two years; Mrs. J. R. Best, district chairman two years; Mrs. S. A. Lutgen, district chairman four years, state chairman three years, general federation chairman three years, district vice-president two years, district president two years. Each lady so recognized was given a red rose by Mrs. Wright.

Mrs. Lutgen gave brief extracts from the history of the local organization which she has recently written for the records. She told the club of interesting early days and enterprises, showing that it had not only offered opportunity for self-expression to its members but that it had contributed much to the culture and welfare of the community throughout its history.

Mrs. Lutgen expressed special appreciation for the many services rendered the club by F. S. Berry and E. J. Hunter.

Mrs. Clarence McGinn, accompanied by Mrs. Carrie Welch, directed group singing. Mrs. Clarence Wright was in charge of the program. Refreshments were served by the hostesses: Mrs. Rollie Ley, Mrs. H. E. Ley, Mrs. J. C. Miller, Mrs. Jennie Schrupp, Mrs. C. L. Pickett and Mrs. O. R. Bowen.

The next club meeting will be held in the auditorium November 21 with Wayne Project clubs as guests. The topic will be "Rural Life." Mrs. William Hasebroeck, president of the Third district, will be guest speaker and Mrs. Don Wightman will present a concert play.

WINSIDE Basketball Games Arranged for Team

Winside Will Play Heavy Schedule of Games in Basketball Season.

The 1941-1942 basketball squad at Winside high school will play a 17-game schedule and not a single game on the list is a "breath-er," as announced by Supt. E. P. Wendt, in announcing the season's schedule. In addition the team will enter two tournaments, the Carroll invitational and the district class B meet which is usually held in Wayne. Prospects for the team are fair, with a number of veterans reporting and some new men developing fast. Missing from the squad through graduation are such stars as Smith, Davis, Misfeldt and Baird, who were regulars on the team which won the Carroll invitational tournament a year ago.

The season's play will get under way on Tuesday, November 25, when the high school alumni will clash with the high school team in the annual tussle, which is usually won by the ex-high school boys who were the great players of former years. H. C. Trautwein who is managing the alumni squad will present a team that will include Smith, Davis, Thompson, Wacker and others who were prominent in high-school athletics in years just passed.

The first outside competition for the 1941 squad will pit them against the strong Beemer quintet here on Friday, December 5, in a battle which will find the home team striving for their first victory over Beemer in the last five years. Beemer's line-up will be studded with stars who were on the team which defeated Winside twice a year ago by big margins.

The 1941-1942 schedule is: November 25, alumni; December 5, Beemer; here; December 9, Carroll, there; December 12, Laurel, here; December 19, Wayne, prep. here; December 23, Randolph, here; January 13, Belden, there; January 20, Meadow Grove, there; January 23, Coleridge, here; January 27, Beemer, there; January 30, Stanton, there; February 3, Carroll, here; February 6, Laurel, there; February 10, Randolph, there; February 13, Carroll invitational tourney; February 17, Sacred Heart, here; February 24, Belden, here; February 27, Coleridge, there; March 4-7, class B tourney.

Wayne prep and Sacred Heart of Norfolk, are respectively district class B and class C defending champions, having won the crown in last year's tournaments. Other towns to present exceptionally strong teams include Beemer, Meadow Grove, Stanton, Laurel, Coleridge, Carroll and Belden.

Members of the Winside high school squad are: Richard Farran, Norris Hansen, Herbert Jaeger, Warren Marotz, Leo Voss, Bruce Wylie, Walter Gaebler, Howard Voss, LeRoy Witter, Marvin Barner, Billy Cary, LeRoy Hershfeld, Warren Jacobsen, Jack Krueger, Carl Jorgensen, John Lynch, Jack Teely, Don Pfeiffer, Billy Podoli, John Ritz, Bob White and Lowell Savigard. Practice sessions are being held daily. All squad members have been given a thorough physical examination and pronounced fit for athletic participation. Supt. E. P. Wendt is coaching the squad this year.

Methodist Church.
(George Beebe, pastor)
Church school at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11.
A car of young adults attended the rally at Stanton. We hope to organize a Fellowship in Winside soon.

Next Sunday is Missionary Sunday. Come and share your blessings with others. Write and Lower.

Should Supply Needs

Farmers who will need milk cans, pails, strainers, kettles, cream pans or milk-making equipment for 1942 will do well to place orders soon, according to word coming to Agent Howard Gillaspie of Dixon county. Diversion of steel to defense needs has made it necessary to restrict civilian use of the metal.

Ponca city water has been tested by the state department and is reported of safe quality.

Heated Debates Mark Sessions of Spit and Argue

"Hitler is a cheese—nor are his axis buddies any roses—it is time for the British to do something about something—Roosevelt is right—Roosevelt is wrong—who is this Lindbergh—Lindbergh's okeh—Lincoln never would have signed the tax bill—the world is in an awful mess—it's a good old world after all, etc. etc." So goes the trend of talk at the Spit and Argue club in Long Beach, according to a report sent by Miss Laura E. Lyons, formerly of this place.

"This 'university by the sea,' composed of all students and no teachers, just folks who want to talk things over, has a special platform erected for the group at the Pine avenue approach to Rainbow pier in Long Beach. Oratory hangs over the place like smoke from an autumn bonfire. Charges and counter charges fill the air along with snags and pigeons as oldish men engage in heated debate.

Elbowing his way into the crowd of spectators, one reporter heard two men arguing the strike situation. One man with a mustache and goatee favored the government's taking over the unions so that all dues would be paid into a fund which would help defray the cost of preparedness. The other man, wearing an old blue necktie, most decidedly disagreed. "Let the unions alone," he shouted. It was touch and go from the very start. Now and then one of the debaters would say something that would touch off a flurry of arguments through the crowd like a steam letter-offer.

Water Now Available

Water from the Colorado river became available for use in Long Beach just recently, writes Miss Lyons. Though it is not planned to turn the flow into the city system for general use at present, it is available in an emergency. The river flow is linked to the Long Beach system by a 20-inch main. It will make the Long Beach water 75 per cent harder than here before. Long Beach has had soft, artesian water, but many people think it is too odoriferous and has too strong a taste of sulphur. Miss Lyons adds that she personally likes this water.

Improvements Planned

The western city will have a 3,500-foot pier extending directly south from the center of Rainbow pier as a terminal for the Wigley company of Catalina island.

A three-story addition is planned for the community hospital at a cost of $70,000.

Immense veterans' cemetery at Sawtelle, west Los Angeles, is now the final resting place for 19,000 war veterans. This is to be enlarged to provide for 18,000 more.

A new $70,000 chapel and crematory were dedicated there in August. A big industrial work shop for hauled and barracks for others are nearby. Originally the site was for Civil war veterans.

A clipping sent by Miss Lyons tells that Clarence Patten, 52, was about the happiest man in Los Angeles when he passed tests for the navy. His seven sons, whom he had raised since death of Mrs. Patten in 1927, are all enlisted in the navy.

Miss Lyons reports that an earthquake was felt at Long Beach October 22 at 11 p. m. but no damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, the latter formerly Ella Pipenstock, took a long auto trip this fall with friends, going to the Columbia river and other places of interest in the northwest.

Miss Alice Elizabeth Hofeldt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hofeldt, and Charles Del Curto, Jr., were married October 2 at Trinity Lutheran church. The former's brother, Hugh Hofeldt, was organist at the wedding. His wife helped serve at the reception. The couple went to Sequoia park. Mr. Del Curto is in the postal service.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hofeldt was baptized and named Wayne Frederick at services in the Methodist church.

Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Downing, formerly of Wayne, gave a party recently for little folks on the occasion of the first birthday of their daughter, Sandra Mary.

Marry at Holidays. Miss Jane McCaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling H. McCaw of Norfolk, at one time of Wayne, and Marion Judson Smith of Boulder, Colo., will be married at the Christmas holidays. Miss McCaw attended Rockford, Ill., college and the University of Nebraska. She is affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Mr. Smith, graduate of the university in Houston, Texas, is a member of the engineering college faculty at the university in Boulder.

Project Club Group To Be Entertained

Women of Wayne county project clubs, about 200 in all, are invited to be guests of Wayne Woman's club Friday, November 21, at a 2:30 program in the auditorium. Mrs. W. H. Hasebroock of Scribner, district president, will be speaker. Mrs. D. S. Wightman is in charge of a one-act play being directed by Mrs. H. E. Ley. Characters are taken by Miss Greta Hackenberg, Mrs. Henry Reynolds, Mrs. R. P. Cuff, Mrs. J. A. Moore, Mrs. Clara Heylman and Mrs. Wightman. Mrs. S. A. Lutgen is chairman of the serving committee.

Nine New Students From Wayne County

Wayne county is represented by 18 students at the university in Lincoln this term and nine of these are new. Two of the new students, Richard Claycomb and Twila Herman, are sophomores in the college of agriculture. Richard is affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity. Stephen Briggs and John Harrington are both freshmen and are enrolled in the college of business administration. John is a pledge to Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Kenneth Baird is a freshman in the junior division; Herbert Temme, freshman in college of engineering; Constance Owen, junior in teachers college and affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi sorority; Barbara Heine, freshman in arts and sciences; and Myfanwy Rees, junior in college of agriculture.

Prospects Are Good For Large Planting

More than one million trees will probably be obtained next year by Nebraska farmers under provisions of the Clarke-McNary law. Earl Maxwell, extension forester at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture, said that improved moisture conditions in most parts of the state during the last few months are responsible for prospects of such extensive planting of trees. He went on to say he recommends that the planting location be plowed in the fall and left roughened to hold water and snow except where erosion by wind is likely. Another moisture conservation measure is placing a temporary snow fence on the north and west sides of the planting site.

Farmers may soon obtain application blanks for purchase of Clarke-McNary trees from County Agent Chet Walters. Red cedar trees will be distributed to 11 counties next spring. They are not being distributed in Washington, Douglas, Sarpy, Cass, Otoe, Nemaha and Richardson counties because of the danger of spreading red cedar rust to apple trees.

Black forest, apricot, choke-cherry and tamarix have been added to the species available. The application blanks give additional information so farmers can better pick trees suited to their localities.

Honor Herman Dinklage

Herman Dinklage was awarded the trophy given this year at the 9th annual Wisner feeders' day program November 8. Don Cunningham of Sioux City, formerly of Wayne, was toastmaster. The 4-H beef raised by Richard Cline of Wisner, was served. Ed. Luther had charge of the program. Fritz Dinklage and Henry Albers, veteran feeders of the community, were introduced. Wisner's winning judging team, John Dinklage, Lee Winther and Gerald Putjeter, was presented. Lyle DeMoss of WOW entertained.

Has Position in West. Donald Eilson, who went to California a few days ago, has taken a position in Glendale. Warren Eilson and two sons of Pender, left Tuesday last week for the same vicinity to seek employment.

To Conduct Drive For Iron Supplies

Agent Chet Walters has been asked to conduct a campaign among farmers to sell old iron. Each person having iron is urged to dispose of this to any dealer.

Care should be taken, Mr. Walters advises, to remove any assemblies or parts which might be of use to the farmer or his neighbors. It should also be remembered that new machinery will be scarce so any part that might be usable should be kept.

Clubs in Livestock Raising to Start

Boys and girls in Wayne county who wish to join or organize 4-H livestock clubs should do so at once. Calf club members should have their heaves on feed as soon as possible. Swine and sheep club members should plan their projects soon also. Agent Chet Walters will be pleased to discuss any type of club work with young folks who are interested.

Have Husking Bee

A corn husking bee was held November 17 for Mrs. Walter Hansen of Allen, whose husband was fatally injured last week in a corn picker accident. Sixty acres were finished. Mr. Hansen lived in Wayne county until he moved to Allen a couple of years ago.

County Expense Estimate Is Cut

Hearing on Proposal Is Set For December at Court House.

Estimated expenditures for Wayne county in 1942, placed by commissioners at $161,529.18, show a decided decrease over last year's $173,906.40. They are also somewhat lower than $163,536.82 estimated in 1940. A hearing on the proposed budget is set for December 8 at 2 o'clock at the court house.

To compile the estimate of income for 1942 the board anticipates receipts of $25,700 from the gasoline tax, $12,000 from auto license fees, $14,200 from miscellaneous receipts, $73,200 from 1942 tax levies. A balance of $36,029.18 on hand will complete the $161,529.18.

The board expects in 1942 to spend $67,842 in the general fund, $23,000 in the bridge fund, $39,000 in the road fund, $15,187.18 for road dragging, $10,000 for county relief, $2,000 for soldiers' and sailors' relief, $2,500 for the county fair.

The engine pulling the westbound passenger train was stalled in Wayne when a flue blew out. It was necessary to get another engine to take the train on to Norfolk. Cotton forming part of the window decoration at the J. R. Rundell grocery caught fire from a Christmas tree candle and caused some damage before the blaze was put out with buckets of water.

In Dixon County. From Ponca Journal for November 28, 1885: Talk about the productive quality of soils! Dixon county takes the prize. Isaac Bobier of Limegrove, cut down a cottonwood tree which he planted 12 years ago as a mere whip. The tree measured 19 inches across and was 60 feet tall. Thanks to pleasant weather, the corn crop is practically gathered. It is estimated that the yield is 40 bushels to the acre. James Westbrook met with an accident which could have proved fatal. He was standing by a lamp when a bottle of alcohol in his hand broke and the liquid spilled over his clothing. The liquid caught fire and Mr. Westbrook was badly burned about the hands and chest. The fire was smothered with a quilt. Mr. Sparks of Ionia came to town for supplies. He stayed over night and left a sack of flour under the hay in the back of his carriage in the livery stable. Other groceries he carried to his hotel room. In the morning the flour was missing.

Health Seal Sale Will Be Conducted

Rural School Funds Raised Furnish First Aid Kits In All Districts.

The annual sale of health seals will start through schools in Wayne county November 24 and continue one week, half the proceeds to remain for health work in Wayne county and the other half to be used for such work in the state.

Supt. F. B. Decker handles the funds raised by rural school children. Each rural district is provided with first aid kits and supplies. Additional supplies are kept available at all times to replenish those used.

Town schools keep their funds separately and health work is promoted as each town sees fit. This year's seal bears the picture of a lighthouse shedding its beams over the world.

The health seal sale is a national movement started to fight tuberculosis. It has grown to include other health services. The drive has no connection with the Red Cross.

District 16: (Lillian Kabes, teacher) Leota May Koll, Donald Koll, Richard Koll and Mary Jean Koll had perfect attendance the first two months of school.

Many Take Tests. Because of the scarcity of teachers, Supt. F. B. Decker expects that the number taking teachers' examinations at the court house November 22 will be larger than usual. Those who complete 12 hours of college work and pass the state tests will be eligible to teach at close of the first semester.

Water Reports Come. Wayne county rural districts sending drinking water samples for tests by the state department received favorable reports except for one. The water from this one has not been used for some time. Children bring their own drinking water in containers, this being a practice followed in a good percentage of schools.

CONGRESS AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C., November 13, 1941. Neither military nor naval attaches of the axis powers are now allowed to attend any of our maneuvers and they are no longer in any of our training camps. The exclusion, however, does not apply to military, naval or air attaches of certain other foreign governments such as the Central and South American governments and some of the allied European governments.

But the experts have more figures to their new plan which will increase general income levies by 15 per cent. That increase also will apply to employers and employees whose incomes are above the exemptions. Secretary Morgenthau's figure experts state that the purpose of the scheme is not alone to raise more money for war and national defense purposes, but also to drain off the earnings of the people, compel them to buy less, and thus stave off inflation.

Still another feature of the proposed measure is a provision requiring self-employers, such as farmers and small business operators, to submit periodical reports and accompanying tax payments. Small farmers who have been exempt from federal income taxes, because of their limited incomes, are expected to be drawn into the income-tax class by the recently increased prices of their products. The ways and means committee has not given out further information as to the new treasury bill.

It is presumed that it also includes general sales taxes, although generally it was not anticipated that the general sales tax would be proposed for several months to come, possibly not until after the 1942 elections.

The banking and currency committee in the house labored three months on the hearings on the emergency price control bill, which, in the main, was the proposal of the price administrator, Leon Henderson. Scores of witnesses were heard, and the testimony fills more than 2,000 pages. Then the committee spent another week in almost continuous session endeavoring to perfect Mr. Henderson's bill. The rub was, and still is, that Mr. Henderson and his big staff of price fixing experts wanted to exempt ceilings on profits, wages and salaries, but did want a limit on what the farmers should receive for food products. The prices to be fixed upon industrial commodities were to be based on costs of production, including wages, materials, depreciation, and reasonable profits. But prices on farm products were to have a ceiling of not more than 10 per cent above so-called "parity" based on 1909-1914 prices of farm products and manufactured commodities, utterly regardless of the cost of production and reasonable profit to the farmers. None of the experts appearing before the committee explained why the farmers as well as industries should not obtain the costs of what they sell.

The government economists originated the "parity" scheme, under which the labor of farmers and their families, and other costs and losses, are not taken into consideration in figuring parity. But even now, most farm-product prices are below this artificial parity standard. The committee amended the bill so as to prevent

Principal among the new taxes proposed are pay-roll taxes for increasing the social security funds. There is a surplus social security fund now of nearly 4 billions, paid in by employees and their employers. Federal bonds have been issued for such funds, and they have thus been turned into the general fund and used in the regular expenditures of the government. By adding 1 per cent for employers, and 1 per cent for employees to the social security taxes, it is expected that another 900 millions will be paid in each year.

Among recent visitors in the Third district office were Mr. and Mrs. Gould Dietz of Omaha; Ralph Olson, formerly of Newman Grove, now of Washington, D. C.; Edwin Leach, formerly of Howells, who has been employed at the government printing office and has now been transferred to Omaha; Samuel R. Davenport, formerly of Nebraska; O. W. Carroll, president of the Nebraska Central college of Central City; and Robert Simmons, jr., of Lincoln, who is now located in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Henderson from fixing prices for farm produce below the average of from 1919 to 1929. That amendment now is under strong fire in financial circles, and an endeavor will be made to strike it out when the bill comes to the floor.

An odd angle to the situation is that those who are opposed to cost-of-production prices for the farm, make no protest of what consumers have to pay for processed food products. In Washington eggs are now selling at 60 cents per dozen; butter at 42 cents, and recently was four cents higher, and aged domestic cheese about 50 cents. Pork chops sell for 50 cents, and a dressed chicken costs from $1.06 to $1.50. Other prices would show even greater differences as to what the farmer gets and what the consumer pays. On the average the farmers get only 46 per cent of the consumer dollar. The price fixing experts desire to reduce the amount the farmers receive in order that the distributors' larger share may be protected. That is their idea of a cure for inflation.

Among recent visitors in the Third district office were Mr. and Mrs. Gould Dietz of Omaha; Ralph Olson, formerly of Newman Grove, now of Washington, D. C.; Edwin Leach, formerly of Howells, who has been employed at the government printing office and has now been transferred to Omaha; Samuel R. Davenport, formerly of Nebraska; O. W. Carroll, president of the Nebraska Central college of Central City; and Robert Simmons, jr., of Lincoln, who is now located in Washington, D. C.

An Assault on Advertising.

(Omaha Journal-Stockman)

While no direct assault on the freedom of the press has been officially made there have been many insidious and indirect attacks by federal bureaus and the source of these spotadic assaults has served to put publishers as well as the public on guard.

The greatest threat to our vaunted freedom of the press is not the possibility of censorship. Rather, it is the imposition of unnecessary economic controls masquerading as steps in the national defense interest.

So far the threat has been directed at the advertising department. The attorney general sent a questionnaire to many advertisers to find out how much and in what ways they spend money, and for what purpose. It has been proposed in Washington that brand names be eliminated, and that articles be sold as soap, candy, or what have you. This, of course, would virtually kill advertising.

And without advertising support, the cost of a newspaper would be out of reach to most buyers.

There is a very general impression that advertising adds considerably to the retail price of goods. The fact is that when it has been intelligently used to increase the sale of articles in common use, it has resulted in improving the quality and lowering the price.

Some interesting testimony on that phase of advertising was given before the house judiciary committee by W. S. Farish, president of Standard Oil company (N. J.), which spends millions each year in advertising. He told the committee:

"Although the sums expended for advertising by some companies are large, it is easy to exaggerate the part of the customer's gasoline dollar which is spent for advertising. If all the advertising expenditures of the industry were charged to gasoline alone, it is probable that they would represent less than a quarter of a cent per gallon."

As a matter of fact, a large proportion of the advertising money has been applied to other products and services. Even if it were all covered in the price of gasoline, it would not mean much to a motorist who learned that on a purchase of 10 gallons, he had contributed 2 1/2¢ for advertising and 60¢ for state and federal sales taxes.

Miss Nell Curran of Emerson, who is employed in Sioux City, fractured both wrists in a fall. She just recently recovered from a broken ankle.

Of Commerce Aroused by Herald's Questionnaire—Disagreements Prompted Move for Expression—Results Should Be Salutary—Letters from Broken Bow and Wahoo.

Questions propounded to members of the Chamber of Commerce in this column last week brought many and varied repercussions. Currency of complaints over things done to justify the investment amounted to a demand for a show-down, and the newspaper questionnaire was adopted as the easiest, though probably the least revealing and conclusive, way to crystallize opinions. In this imperfect survey, it is presumed those most critical accepted the opportunity to express themselves, whereas those who are satisfied ignored it as impractical or inadequately comprehensive. It is impossible to know how many, if any, non-contributors voted. Thus, only 70 votes were received—four to maintain the status quo, 34 to modify the setup and 32 to abolish it entirely. Seventy deducted from a total of about 200 paying members leave 130 who were not sufficiently impressed by the questionnaire to vote. How non-participants feel is of course uncertain. What some of the 130 lacked in disposition to vote was made up by discussion, sometimes arousing fiery disagreement, sometimes reflecting unwitting misinterpretation of motives. Even those who protest that the questionnaire was ill advised—to a high majority democratic will admit that it caused a salutary awakening.

No one questions the good intentions and high purposes of the officers and directors. They have devoted much time and effort to public service. Any mistakes made have been errors of judgment, and they may be faulted in shaping a future course. Errors may be avoided or minimized by exchange of opinions and by constructive criticism.

It is well to note here with emphasis that substantial public spirit enlarges trade volume and thereby reduces retail prices, as may be easily ascertained by contrasting Wayne's retail prices with those of less enterprising communities. An evident fact!

The suggestion that the affairs of the Chamber are of no concern to the general public, but belong purely to contributors, is perhaps strictly true, though all here and in the neighborhood interested in Wayne as a trade and social center want to know what is being done to make this community more attractive and likeable. While perhaps not their direct responsibility, they have a sort of communal interest, an interdependent business relationship, and they would like to know what is spent for what. If they understand that dollars of the business district are going into improvements or services of warranted and often permanent value, they are eager to tell the world and relish coming here and bringing as much of the world with them as possible. Therefore, a detailed statement, not merely saying a certain department of the Chamber has spent so much money, but mentioning the main things bought and paid for, and letting everybody know what is being done in cash outlay and public spirit to fashion a bigger and better town, could be published to the advantage of the organization and the community. "That is a live, progressive town, and that is my town," says the regular visitor whose chest expands as he contemplates the definite cost and effort behind a community that justifies public favor.

A letter from Broken Bow says that town which is a life community about the size of Wayne, does not have a full-fledged commercial organization, but adds that some citizens think it should have one. What is called a Public Service club with a secretary drawing $100 per year, and a committee of public work, and the reported ambition of the club is to employ a half-time secretary to devote himself to matters of public interest. Retailers who seem to have been at variance with the Public Service club, because of divergent questions of policy, have what is called a Booster club to sponsor retail enterprises of which there have been three during the past year. This club has prepared a budget to take care of pre-Christmas activities. It would seem from the letter that public service is intermittent and not planned to cover any considerable period of time.

Writer of the letter makes this concluding observation: "I have observed several towns of three to five thousands with yearly budgets of $3,000 to $5,000 and with paid secretaries. In practically all instances they are up and coming towns and seem to be well satisfied with their results. It has been my observation that if the secretary is energetic and has the assistance of the leading men of the community, he can accomplish a great deal for the town."

Another letter says Wahoo— "in proximity to the proposed government building plan—has a Chamber of Commerce with the city

Pioneer Woman Passes at Home

Funeral Rites Conducted for Mrs. Grace A. Cavanaugh Here Friday Morning.

Funeral rites were conducted at the home in Wayne Friday morning at 10:30 for Mrs. Grace A. Cavanaugh, 73, who passed away Wednesday morning, November 19, at 5 o'clock. Rev. W. F. Dierking, Presbyterian minister, officiated and Mrs. H. A. Welch played piano selections to open and close the rites. Committal, in charge of the Beckenhauer mortuary, was in Greenwood cemetery. Mrs. Cavanaugh had been ill the past 18 months and her condition had been critical for two weeks. Mrs. Cavanaugh's maiden name was Grace A. McMakin. She was a daughter of Samuel McMakin and Mary Cossitt McMakin and was born at Galesburg, Ill., January 11, 1868. When she was a child the family moved to Galva, Ill., where they lived until 1886 when they came to a farm southeast of Wayne. Deceased attended Nebraska Normal college here and taught in the south part of Wayne county.

The marriage of Miss Grace A. McMakin and Daniel J. Cavanaugh took place at Wayne, September 26, 1891. The couple lived at Windsor 28 years. There Mrs. Cavanaugh was a charter member of the Eastern Star, and she was instrumental in organizing the public library. The Cavanaughs moved to Wayne in May, 1919. Deceased had been active in public life since 1924 until 1940. She served the Wayne Woman's club as president nearly 20 years ago and had always been an active member. She was also interested in D. A. R. work. She affiliated with the Presbyterian church and Eastern Star lodge, always contributing generously of her time and talents.

Mr. Cavanaugh died June 24, 1930, and was buried at Wayne. Surviving Mrs. Cavanaugh are her only son and her daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Cavanaugh, and two grandchildren, Tom and Catherine. She also leaves one brother, Charles McMakin of Wayne. An aunt lives in Indiana.

An unusual coincidence is that three grandfathers are buried on the family plot here. Mrs. Susan McMakin, born in Maryland in 1804 and dying here at the Samuel McMakin home in 1900 at the age of 96, is the eldest. Mrs. Mary McMakin, who died four years ago at the age of 87, is the second, and Mrs. Cavanaugh the third.

Noted Scientist Dies in Omaha

Services Are Conducted for Miss Caroline Stringer Monday Afternoon.

Miss Caroline Stringer, 69, noted science instructor and pioneer of Wayne, passed away at an Omaha hospital Saturday, November 22, after being in failing health two years and in serious condition about year.

Vesper services were conducted Monday afternoon at 4 in the Garden chapel in Omaha. Rites at the Beckenhauer mortuary here Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 were in charge of Rev. Harold Buckles, and committal followed at the family plot in Greenwood cemetery.

Caroline Effie Stringer, daughter of Mark and Matilda Stringer, was born at Newcastle, Neb., April 17, 1872. In 1880, before the city of Wayne was established, the family located on a farm east of the present site of this place. The Stringers moved into Wayne in 1886.

Deceased was graduated from Wayne high school in 1886 with the second class finishing the world. Miss Stringer's special field was natural science and she received wide recognition for her ability. She had done research work at Harvard and abroad as well as in other schools of this country.

Miss Stringer began her career in Wayne county rural schools and then taught in the city school here. She was elected to the Omaha school system in 1904 and was in high school there until she automatically retired in 1937.

Miss Stringer is survived by one sister, Mrs. Alice Hensel of Bloomfield, Ia., and two brothers, George of Wrenshall, Minn., and Otis of Wayne. Another brother, Mark, died in 1924. Wayne Carrier To Be Retired

Proposal to Reduce Rural Routes to Two Is Now Being Considered.

Albert Bastian completes 24 years of faithful service as mail carrier for Wayne post office November 30 when he will retire on pension, having reached the age of 65 years. Proposal of the federal inspector is that Wayne's three routes be consolidated into two.

Mr. Bastian is a native of Wayne county and has spent all his life here excepting about three years in South Dakota. When he started serving a Wayne rural route a quarter century ago he had a car but was required to have a team in reserve for emergencies. After some years the service was declared a motor route and carriers were then no longer required to keep teams. Though flood waters, snow drifts and mud-soaked roads often made traveling hard, Mr. Bastian has been able to make the trip practically without interruption. He has never had an accident on his route.

Wayne used to have four routes, one and four serving territory to the north and two and three to the south. Some years ago the four were consolidated into three, each of the new routes being lengthened to about 40 miles. The proposed reduction to two routes, one north and the other south, would extend the distances to about 65 miles.

The change to two routes, recommended by the inspector, is now under consideration in Washington. Unless protests are filed, the proposal will likely become effective in January or February. Until that time Wm. Weber, substitute on carrier three, will serve in Mr. Bastian's place. If the reduction is made, the two remaining carriers, Wm. Thielman and F. A. Milder, will continue the service on the new plan.

Returns Are Good In Annual Drive

Red Cross membership drive shows good returns on early reports received by Wm. Beckenhauer, about $300 being turned in to date. Less than half of the reports have been filed. Though the busy corn picking season is delaying work in the country, returns are most gratifying. Mrs. F. I. Mosos reports $37 in Brenna. Mrs. A. W. Dolph $26 in part of Plum Creek and E. P. Clauwe $18 in part of a precinct. All solicitors are urged to complete their work as soon as possible. Carroll had $620.

The Red Cross expects to complete 30 hospital kits by the first of December. Sewing is nearly finished, and women are making 40 sweaters for army and navy men.

An X-ray revealed no broken bones.

The dial telephone system is being installed at Howells, Neb.

Leiting, Everett Siuoren Newman, George Robert Ahlvers and Richard Alexander Wallace.

Dies Suddenly In Kansas City

Shirley Ann Payne Is Taken Seriously Ill While Attending School.

Shirley Ann Payne, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene L. Payne of Douglas, Wyo., died suddenly Monday, November 17, while in Kansas City attending school. She had been ill but three days. Her condition became critical Saturday, and physicians performed a major operation in an effort to save her. The parents of the girl were Wayne residents in their youth, attending school here. Mrs. Payne was Goldie Kimbell before her marriage. They moved from here some 20 years ago. Mr. Payne is a cousin of the late Frank Powers of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Payne and Sonny and Bud Nylan were on their way by motor to spend the holidays with Shirley Ann and her elder sister, Betty Jane, a student at Christian college, Columbia, Mo. A telegram reaching them at Norfolk told of the serious condition of their daughter and they hurried their trip to Kansas City and reached the bedside before death came.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church, Wednesday, November 19, at 10. Paybearers were all former classmates of Shirley Ann.

Shirley Ann Payne was born June 12, 1925, at Douglas, Wyo. She attended grade school in Douglas and one year of high school. Last September she enrolled as a student in Loretta Academy at Kansas City.

Hearing Is Set To Cut Trains

ANNUAL RED CROSS CANVASS SUPPOSED TO END THIS WEEK

THE ANNUAL Red Cross drive for funds, now in progress, is supposed to end on Thanksgiving day, but Chairman William Beckenhauer says the time of the canvass may be extended somewhat on account of the busy corn picking season. Sixteen solicitors, less than half the number in the field, have reported. Results so far do not encourage the belief that the full quota of $975 for the county will be realized. Returns from rural precincts are larger than usual. Benefits from extraordinary crops stimulate the farm population generally to contribute more generously to a worthy cause. Chairman Beckenhauer profoundly hopes the county will be able to make the expected showing. He cannot be certain until all have reported.

He suffered a fracture of the skull above the eyes, cut forehead requiring several stitches, cracked pelvis on the right side and broken right arm just above the wrist. Mr. Hahlbeck was putting putty in nail holes preparing to apply a second coat of paint to the west side of the house. The extension ladder on which he stood suddenly buckled, causing him to fall head first onto steps leading to an outside basement entrance to the house. Mr. Hahlbeck was rendered unconscious but regained consciousness soon after being taken to the hospital by his two helpers and other workmen at the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Hahlbeck had planned to leave early in December for Los Angeles to attend the wedding of their daughter, Miss Coletta Hahlbeck, and Alan Bollman, the date being set for December 20.
