Program Changed For Present Needs

To add emphasis to agriculture's war work and to avoid confusion with civilian defense organizations, the former USDA defense board has been changed to Nebraska USDA war board, Chairman Almer Chestern announced.

Rationing Tires Problem Solved

Ben Sugarman Proves to Be As Sweet as Name Even To Men Picketing.

Tire rationing isn't going to bother an eastern man as long as freezing weather prevails. He stuffed four cast-off tires with sawdust, wired them to the rims of his car and soaked the sawdust with water. He had solid tires when the thermometer was 20 below. He admits they are a bit bumpy, but so are the roads.

to found an abandoned baby boy in the hallway of her home.

Things are reversed for a Chicago man. He has four good tires but no car. His machine caught fire and firemen saved only the tires.

Ben Sugarman of Chicago, proved as sweet as his name. Noting two men picketing his place of business, he placed a bench outside with this sign, "For pickets only. Courtesy of Ben Sugarman Photo Co."

It's a new question and answer game. A pistol totter knocked at a door and, when the lady answered, he asked: "Is your husband home?" "Yes," was the answer. "Has he a gun?" questioned the hold-up man. "Yes, and here he comes," replied the lady. The gunman fled without waiting to see.

Out in Washington a car left a curve and went down a 250-foot embankment. The driver crawled out and hitch-hiked to a hospital where he was found to have a cracked rib.

When a hopper for "bagging" ice cubes jammed in Chicago, a dairy worker jumped into the hopper to fix the trouble. His foot caught in the narrow end of the chute and two tons of ice cubes fell around him. The man was trapped until workmen removed the ice.

A census enumerator at Fairbanks, Alaska, wants to count a dead Eskimo. His frozen body was found beneath six feet of ice. The census includes all who were alive on October 1, and friends of this Eskimo definitely remember seeing him alive that day.

A holdup on the installment plan is a new wrinkle. Two men held up a Los Angeles man. The latter had no money but his false teeth fell out. The robbers grabbed the $45 teeth and said they would hold them for security until the cash was advanced. They told the man to meet them on a certain corner. If he couldn't pay all, they would do so several times so he could pay by installments.

"Fear of light" is a physician's diagnosis of a Missourian's blindness. The man had regained his sight and then suddenly a bright light flashed and all went black again. "He will see again when his fear of light is broken by a firm conviction that he can see," said the doctor.

Some 24 years ago when a Whittier, Cal., building was erected, 45 large brick swastikas were constructed in the structure as Indian goodluck symbols. Now the store has spent $2,500 to have these nazi emblems removed.

A young man in California, who has no legs, has had motion pictures taken of himself horseback riding, bicycling, ice skating, diving and swimming. He will show these to persons afflicted with physical handicaps to encourage them in overcoming these.

"You can't keep an old fire horse away from fires." An hour after a Detroit fire marshal resigned as chief after serving 29 years, the man was unable to resist the scream of sirens and answered an alarm.

A Kansas City man parked his car on a street while he stopped at a cafe for coffee. He heard a crash and went outside to see that his car had dashed downhill, struck a viaduct and was demolished. "And that'll be $3 for improper parking," was the order of an unsympathetic officer.

Soon some of the purest blood of American cattle will be flowing in the veins of human beings who require blood transfusions. Scientists have found how to segregate the albumin which is one of the most important elements in the blood.

A 6-month-old Tennessee baby boy is astonishing specialists with his acrobatics. He hangs from a bar for a full minute and a half. He has been at this since he was 4 months old. It must be the spinach, his parents think, for he eats lots of it. He also drinks much milk.

A city fireman canvassing for fire volunteers in Albany's defense effort, rang a doorbell just before a blackout. Even the blackout hardly obliterated his flushed face—it was the home of City Fire Chief Fleming.

Speaks in a New York
GOVERNOR Griswold talked to the Women's National Republican club in New York City Saturday night, and in the course of his speech he made plain the rugged qualities and straight thinking of inhabitants of Nebraska and other mid-western states.

We are at war, fighting the mightiest military machine the world has ever known. And we are fighting that war, not as republicans, not as democrats, but fighting shoulder to shoulder, as loyal patriotic Americans, willing to die if necessary to preserve our way of life.

Treachery Revealed
TREACHERY in influential British circles is revealed in the arrest of Premier U Saw of Burma, who is charged with conspiring to help the Japs. Manifestly as a pretense, Saw conveyed gifts to Prime Minister Churchill on a recent visit to London.

Fortifying Leadership
ALMOST simultaneously with complaints from a senate committee charging inefficiency and delay in essential activities came appointment of Donald M. Nelson to direct the nation's wartime production.

Harry Surber Dies, At Home in West
Harry Surber, about 65, former resident of Wayne, died January 2 in Washington, Wash., according to word received here. Deceased went from here to Belden and later to Page. Fifteen years ago he moved to Washington. He leaves his wife and three children, Mrs. Anna Ziegler, John and Erwin, all in Washington. John Surber of Wayne, and Dan Surber of Belden, are surviving brothers. The late E. A. Surber was a brother.

WILBUR
(By Staff Correspondent)
J. A. Gifford spent Saturday at Cliff Pears' home. Wendell Ballinger was in Hartington Sunday. Tommy Johnson spent the weekend in the Albert Watson home. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Block and sons spent Thursday at Don Lutt's. Mrs. Wm. Hansen helped Mrs. Verne Larsen last Wednesday morning.

men and treasure. Washington appropriates plenty of money, but, according to complaints from the senatorial committee, it has been slow in assembling and directing its forces. The country is solidly and squarely behind the national effort, and it hopes for early and effective leadership at the seat of government. The appointment of Nelson and the readjustment of Knudsen seem to be steps in the right direction.

Deadlock Still On
THE COMPTROLLER office of the state normal board is still up in the air. A majority of the board is apparently for the system and for the present incumbent, whereas the governor, whose endorsement is required by law, refuses to endorse. It is reported from Lincoln that the board suspended action in trying to settle the matter at its meeting the first of the week on account of the absence of the governor from the state. Decision is now delayed until the next meeting. One board member expressed the hope that the governor would change his mind. The governor may entertain a similar hope regarding the board. Anyone who knows the governor's mental fiber, is not likely to suspect him of vacillation. What would please the most people, bent on economy and efficiency in public service, would be to allow the comptroller to deadlock into peaceful extinction, shifting responsibilities to college heads where they belong.

Ernest Winkler, former German youth leader who was imprisoned at one time because he refused to subscribe to nazi policies, reports that Hitler plans to invade the United States as soon as the weather will permit. According to the Winkler idea, the threatened program calls for sending twenty bombers at one time in the expectation that half the number will survive to wreak damage. Before the weather becomes sufficiently inviting, we hope naval and coast defenses will be amply ready to receive invaders with such a fierce hail of shot and shell that none will be able to land.

Buying Argentine beef in competition with the American farmer has been a source of disagreement for a long time. It was done to help the good neighbor policy, and develop reciprocal trade relations. But such acts of substantial friendliness in conflict with local agriculture have not persuaded the South American country to break with the axis powers and cooperate with the balance of the western hemisphere in defending free governments at a critical juncture. Perhaps we have overdone manifestations of generous good nature.

Not giving just money, but giving of the spirit is emphasized in a recent article by Donald Culross Peattie. He detailed little services—invaluable services—that involved no cash, but gave sustaining personal helps. "So will we all be better," he said, "and live larger, richer lives, as we find courage to show our hearts. For—it's a queer thing—I've noticed in this world that the more you give yourself away, the more there is to you."

Among Hitler's nefarious policies is one to destroy an able general and then camouflage his feelings by putting on a big funeral and calling for a state of mourning. He has a knack of helping a leader out of the way if he is unable or unwilling to serve his purpose, and then expressing profound regret. Hitler is an arch-devil in the role of deception.

In youth we often felt uneasy lest the world would become so nearly perfect that it would come to an end—an idea encouraged in religious circles. We wanted to see more and do more before the final wind-up. But events in the last twenty years have jolted us into the conclusion that the millennium has been put off indefinitely.

Evidently nature did not intend to permit its human products to grow without work and responsibility. It has fixed things so they cannot develop within soft berths.

Senator Glass says the effort to avoid inflation may be worse than inflation.

TRIPLE-A
Mark Sullivan, columnist, says the parity price plan for agriculture, as attempted by the new deal during the past nine years, has proved unworkable. When the AAA was adopted early in 1933, different experiments—killing surplus pigs and curtailing agricultural production—were tried until the supreme court declared the law unconstitutional in January, 1936. Then the triple A appeared in changed form. Sullivan points out that the war caused an uprising in all wages and commodity prices during 1940-1941, and that whereas an effort was made to put a ceiling under prices for a number of years, now the effort is directed to putting a ceiling over prices. In view of the war, evidently the triple-A is not now needed to raise prices, and farm values cannot be expected to be reduced below costs of labor and commodities. As an agricultural regulator it would seem that the triple-A has, with some other bureaus, served its purpose and could be dissolved without disadvantage to farming and with a saving to the federal treasury. During the war, farm prices are certain to be properly remunerative.

Old Car Numbers Make Interesting Display in Wayne
The request that old car plates be turned in to the state in an effort to conserve steel brings to light an interesting hobby of Mayor M. L. Ringer, that of saving his plates from the earliest year he had a car. These plates dating back to 1912 are now on display in his office window and soon will be turned over to the state for conversion into more plates.

In the earliest years Mr. Ringer recalls that the state did not provide the plates for cars. An owner wrote to Lincoln for his number and, after getting this, he provided his own plate. Sometimes in numbers, like those used in houses, were bought at stores and tacked onto a board or piece of leather. Others chose to paint numbers on boards.

At first also numbers were assigned all over the state in the order in which applications arrived at Lincoln. No designation as to county was made. Mr. Ringer's first number was 3214. First plates made by the state were distributed in 1915. The county designation was instituted in 1922. Then the counties were listed in order according to the number of cars registered in them.

Writes from West.
Mrs. A. G. Schach of Waver, formerly of Wayne, is leaving Long Beach, Cal., this week to return home with her daughter and son-in-law who drove west to get her. Mrs. Schach reports considerable rain in southern California recently. An interesting show here this month was that of pigeons from all parts of the country. Mrs. Schach saw some from Lincoln and Wymore.

Observes Anniversary.
Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Haller of Wayne, quietly observed their 56th wedding anniversary Tuesday. Mrs. Antone Lerner baked and decorated a birthday cake for them. R. W. Haller of Winside, called Monday afternoon. Mrs. Walter Phipps and W. B. Hyatt were Tuesday callers.

Buys Hildur Farm.
Walter Savidge this week bought the F. O. Hildur farm east of Wayne near the Bell school.

OPTIMISM.
"Isn't this a peach of a morning?" exclaimed the boy who delivered our Sunday morning newspaper. And it was. Earlier cloud streaks were melting before the warming sunshine. The air contained a touch of frost, but not sufficient cold to give discomfort. The newspaper delivery boy was buoyant under the inspiration of the stimulating elements. He was thinking of the beauty of the world—not of the titanic struggle to defeat designing tyrants and to preserve precious freedom. He was thrilled by the mild winter atmosphere which no doubt enhanced his appreciation of the useful work he was performing and of the larger jobs he would undertake within the circle of free enterprise. He was probably not contemplating what might happen if the world were subjugated by evil-minded dictators. Elders must be spurred to the task of insuring a free-social order to ambitious young people everywhere. They deserve advantages justly accruing to initiative and genius and energy. They should be privileged to plan and work and reap merited rewards. They should not be relieved of labor or responsibility, but they should be protected in their God-given right to employ and develop inherent talents. To guarantee that right is the task in hand, and it must be pursued to the end that human slavery cease everywhere forever.

Dixon County News.

From Ponca Journal for February 26; 1885: Dr. Hasson, Mr. Herrick and the writer left a trip to Florida. The men left New Orleans and went to Lake de Forns, one of the most beautiful resorts in Florida. It is 82 miles east of Pensacola and 20 miles from the gulf. It is the highest point in the state, being 300 feet above sea level. The area is covered with pine forests and has no marshes or underbrush where malaria is said to develop. The Florida Chautauqua association has buildings enclosed in a park and there are programs of educational and religious nature. The hotel is gorgeous with thickly carpeted floors, etc., and colored people in swallow-tail coats attend to every desire. The cost is 75 cents per each meal and lodging. There is no business at Lake de Funiac. The land, being sandy, raises nothing but fabulously high prices are asked for it. The fir trees are cut for lumber. The region is too far north for raising oranges, and cattle feed there are sawrany.

Appeals to Farmers To Produce Quality

Farmers of Wayne county are being asked to help in the nation's sugar effort by eliminating food waste and by producing farm crops of highest quality. The appeal comes from H. C. Darger of Chicago, coordinator of the national cream quality program, who is especially interested in avoiding waste of cream. Mr. Darger estimates that American farmers lose 40 million dollars annually because of unfit cream.

Good quality cream can be produced by care on the farm and by frequent marketing. Mr. Darger explained. Sanitary precautions are easy and inexpensive.

Carefulness, the Chicagoan states, includes washing and scalding dairy utensils and separator with boiling water after each use, cooling the cream, delivering or shipping cream often to insure arrival at market in good condition. Mr. Darger further advises that cream should not be kept too long even in cold weather as it is likely to develop old, rancid flavors. A cave or cellar may be of right temperature but it will likely spoil the delicate flavor. Cooking odors and stored vegetables also affect the flavor and cause the resulting

Opportunity Auction

35 Milking Shorthorn Cows and Heifers

2 Bulls

20 Poland China Bred Sows

Will be Sold in the Sales Pavilion at Laurel, Nebraska

Friday, January 30, 1942

SALE STARTS AT 1:00 P. M.

We offer you a fine lot of young cows and heifers. 20 of these will calve in early spring; balance are open heifers. These cattle have all been bred and raised by us. The herd was established in 1920 and herd sires of the best breeding have always been at the head. All of breeding age have been bred to Hollandale Grenadier 1910650, bred by Hollandale Farms, Milton, Iowa.

If you want a cow that will produce two things that nearly everyone needs, beef and milk, buy a MILKING SHORTHORN. We have cows that produced 58 1/2 lbs. of butterfat in 30 days, and also produce calves that will go to the block with the best. We have been keeping around 40 cows, milking all we could, and the rest raising their calves; private selling the surplus. We are compelled to reduce the herd on account of scarcity of hired help upon which we must depend entirely, and you all know what that means from now until the end of this war. We have in the past 12 months sold 22 bulls, ranging in age from 9 months down to 1 day.

The young stuff in this sale are sired by Baron Buttercup 1951386, whose dam has a record of 10,469 lbs. of milk and 424 lbs. of butterfat. Hollandale Grenadier, our present herd sire, is an outstanding bull, and comes from one of America's best herds. Hollandale Farms have only Record of Merit cows.

These cattle will be offered to you in the rough, as they are out rustling in the stalk fields every day. We do not keep them; they keep us.

The sows offered are all gilts, mostly March and April farrow and are bred to farrow in March and April. We are proud of this offering and you will be if you buy one. They are well grown; the easy feeding kind, broad, long and deep, weighing from 300 to 400 lbs. All are bred to New Design. This boar you will like. He is broad backed, long, heavy ham, and low down pig. One that is always fat. You must see these gilts. It's a pleasure to raise this kind, even though we do not raise them for pleasure. If you are in debt, get hold of the tail of one of these and see what a good job she will do to pull you out.

We invite you to attend this sale. Drop us a card if you would like to have our catalog. This herd may be seen at any time at the farm 4 miles north of Allen, Nebr., at junction of highways 9 and 20, 26 miles west of Sioux City, Iowa, on highway 20.

Take Active Part To Help Defense

Community Is Responding Wholeheartedly to Aid National Drives.

Red Cross war relief solicitation and rabbit hunt, sale of defense bonds and stamps, collection of papers and magazines, gathering of books for soldiers and sailors, gathering of old car plates in the movement to conserve steel are among the national activities in which Carroll is taking an active share.

Collect for Red Cross.

The drive for Red Cross war funds reached $155 Monday following solicitation and a special drive in St. Paul Lutheran church. Mrs. Ed. Trautwein, Mrs. Perry Johnson, Mrs. Don Brink, Mrs. W. R. Scribner, Mrs. Chas. Whitney and Mrs. N. A. Warth canvassed Carroll last week and realized $130 for the fund. Rev. C. E. Fredrickson and his church committee added $25 to this. Mrs. Trautwein, chairman, reports that some additional contributions are yet to come in.

Plan Rabbit Hunt.

As another means of aiding to the Red Cross fund, the Lions club is sponsoring a rabbit hunt next Sunday afternoon. The committee in charge met Thursday evening to arrange for this. Sixteen captains were chosen and each will have five helpers. This group of 80 and all others who wish to join will meet in town at 1 o'clock and then go to a section north of town to start the hunt. One section at a time will be covered with the hunters working from the outside toward the center. It is the plan to cover several sections in the afternoon. The rabbits will be sold on the Sioux City market and the proceeds added to the Red Cross fund.

Will Collect Books.

Good books that will be of interest to men in service are being gathered. Miss Winifred Stephens, librarian, and members of the library board, Geo. Linn, P. G. Stephens, Mrs. Chas. Whitney, Mrs. Otto Wagner and Miss Beatrice Tift, met Saturday to plan for the book drive. The solicitation committee was named as follows: Mrs. John Gettman for southeast vicinity, Mrs. W. H. Wagner for northeast vicinity, Miss Winifred Collins for Catholic church, Mrs. J. H. Owens for Presbyterian church, Mrs. Chas. Whitney for the library, Mrs. Hans Rethwisch for the Woman's club, W. R. Scribner for Lions club, Mrs. Arthur Cook for Lutheran church, Miss Tift for school, Rev. C. G. Stevens for Methodist church, Mrs. T. P. Roberts for Congregational church. Books may be left at the Stephens cafe, public library, bank or Linn produce station.

Gather Car Plates.

To assist in gathering old car plates for the defense effort, Lions club last week decided that those may be left with Geo. Linn at his produce station. Mr. Linn will see that the plates are taken to Wayne.

Papers and Magazines.

Boy scouts, led by Supt. A. H. Jensen, will gather papers and magazines from homes of the vicinity. Lions club is sponsoring the drive and will turn over to the scout troop the funds received from sale of the paper.

Promote Defense Sale.

At last week's meeting, Lions club decided to promote the sale of defense stamps and bonds. Geo. Linn was appointed to place posters in all business houses. It was also decided that each firm buy stamps and also have some on hand for sale to those who wish to buy.

Elmer Buss called Friday morning at Clifford Parker's.

Dr. A. Texley has opened an office in Plattsmouth and moved his equipment there this week. He has practiced medicine in Carroll the past 42 years. Mrs. Texley plans to go to Plattsmouth soon. Dr. Texley's move leaves Carroll without a doctor.

Church Is Raised To Make Foundation

St. Paul Lutheran church was raised Monday in preparation for starting work on the new basement. Excavation was completed earlier. If weather remains favorable about two weeks, the church can then be lowered onto the new basement walls. Interior finishing will then go forward.

Windows Broken Here by Pheasant

A window pane and storm window were broken Sunday noon in the P. J. Church kitchen by a pheasant that flew against the house. The family was eating dinner in the dining room when a crash was heard. The bird, evidently blinded by something, struck the kitchen window from the south with such force that both glasses were broken. The bird was not even stunned.

COUNTY BOARD

charge of the patient during the course of the disease, the burning of same, or the application of a disinfectant solution to render same inert. Concurrent disinfection is of the greatest importance, for the organisms which cause communicable diseases are for the most part parasitic and depend upon their residence in the human system for their propagation. Under the usual conditions outside the body the bacteria of human disease will not grow and soon die. The communicable diseases, therefore, must be collected in covered receptacles. Bed linens and linens such as night-gowns used by patients should be changed at least every forty-eight hours, where this will not interfere with the well-being of the patient, immediately placed in a disinfectant solution such as 2 per cent liquor cresolis compound U. S. P. 5 per cent solution carbolic acid, or an equivalent disinfectant solution.

Terminal disinfection:
It is now generally accepted that terminal disinfection is much better and in more accord with modern scientific research than fumigation.

Therefore, fumigation is no longer required in the following diseases: Chickenpox, diphtheria, influenza, measles, meningococcus meningitis, mumps, pneumonia, poliomyelitis, rubella (German measles), scarlet fever, septic sore throat, smallpox, typhoid fever, and whooping cough.

When a board of health having jurisdiction is satisfied that a person who has suffered from any of the foregoing named diseases is no longer a source of danger to others, it shall see that the following procedure as to terminal disinfection is carried out before such persons or premises is released from placard or quarantine.

First: The patient and those in contact shall be bathed with an antiseptic solution. This should be done by bath of warm water and soap, then washing of the body with a mild antiseptic solution. Bichloride of mercury in strength of 1 to 5000 is recommended for this purpose, care being taken that patient does not get the same in mouth or eyes.

Second: Everything in the sick room or that has come in contact with the patient and that is of no special value (papers, magazines, clothes, wooden toys, etc.) should be burned.

Third: Before removal from patient's room, washable clothing, linens, used by patient and by those in contact shall be immersed in a 2 per cent solution liquor cresolis compound U. S. P. 5 per cent solution carbolic acid, or an equivalent disinfectant, and remain in such solution for half an hour, then boiled for half an hour.

Fourth: Blankets and other articles presenting free surfaces and not too thick can be made safe by exposure in the open air to direct sun rays for three or four days, or sufficiently long to get fully twenty-four hours of direct sunshine. Such articles as rugs, carpets, etc., treated in the same way should, in addition, be brushed with a 2 per cent solution liquor cresolis compound U. S. P., a 5 per cent solution carbolic acid, or an equivalent disinfectant.

Fifth: Thorough washing of the wood work, wood and metal furnishings with hot water and soap, combined with disinfection through the use of a 2 per cent solution liquor cresolis compound U. S. P., or a 5 per cent solution carbolic acid of door knobs, open crevices, and such room furnishings as may have come in direct contact with patient's hands or hands of attendants, may be relied upon to protect against reinfection from the room. The need of repairing, calcimining, painting, etc., is left to the discretion of the board.

Who is responsible: The county, city, or village board of health within the jurisdiction of which the premises are, are primarily responsible. The board may use its discretion as to permitting this to be done under the supervision of the attending physician; provided, that in all cases the board within whose jurisdiction the case is, has the right to supervise the disinfection.

Cost of terminal disinfection:
This is to be borne entirely by the people who reside in the premises. Not necessary to disinfect premises for those in contact.

Whenever anyone is to be "quarantined out" after having been in contact with a communicable disease it is not necessary to disinfect the premises at that time; provided, that the disease still exists in the premises. In these cases, disinfection is only necessary when the patient is to be released from quarantine.

Whereas, application is made by the Winside State Bank, Winside, Nebraska, that it be designated a legal depository of county funds for the year, 1942, pursuant to the laws now in force in the state of Nebraska, and

Whereas, in lieu of a surety bond for the protection of such deposits, said bank offers as security therefor the following described securities to be deposited in Live Stock National Bank, of Omaha, Nebraska, in escrow as provided by law, to-wit:

- $10,000 U. S. Treasury Bonds, 2 3/4%, due September 15, 1959, Nos. 24546-55 inc., $1,000 each, March 15, 1937, and subsequent coupons.
- $2,900 U. S. Treasury Bonds, 2 1/2%, due September 15, 1967-72, Interims Nos. 83201, $1,000; 23317, 23331, 23350, $500; 89093-4-5-6, $100.
- $1,100 U. S. Treasury Bonds, 2%, due December 15, 1951-55; Nos. 8092, $100; 8035, $1,000.

Be it therefore resolved, that the Winside State Bank, Winside, Nebraska, is hereby designated as a legal depository of county funds for Wayne County, Nebraska, for the period beginning January 13, 1942, and ending January 12, 1943, and that the deposit of said securities as a pledge to secure deposits of the public moneys of this county be approved as now held.

Dated January 13, 1942.

BUILDING and REPAIRING GUIDE

Modern Methods of Remodeling Make Homes More Comfortable

MODERNIZATION BENEFITS EVERY ONE IN FAMILY.

During the past several years, the building industry has taken great strides forward in the remodeling and modernization of outdated and uncomfortable homes.

Where once the remodeling of a home was considered a major undertaking risked only by the more hearty home-owner, it has now become an everyday occurrence that incurs the home-owner a minimum of inconvenience and expense.

Old Homes Well Built.

Most of the older types of homes lend themselves easily to modernization and improvement. Oftentimes, the finished product is more striking than many newly constructed homes simply because there is always an air of pleasing individuality retained.

Actual Cost Low.

Though many home-owners appreciate the advantages of modernization, they are often scared off by the thought of what it would cost to modernize and improve their own home. But here again is a point that modern methods of remodeling have solved simply. Since modernization does not necessarily mean the tearing down of the old and the building of new, but merely the creating of a new face, the cost can understandably be placed at a figure within reach of almost any home-owner. For the home-owner with a limited budget, modernization is the answer to the question of more genuine comfort and livability from an outdated home.

THE KNOT-HOLE

Volume 8 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, January 22, 1942. Number 13

The lady was sipping her first glass of beer when she suddenly exclaimed: "Why, this tastes just like the medicine my husband has been taking for the past twenty years!"

The government has asked that you, as a farmer, raise more vital food this year. In order to do this you will need more and better machinery, and more and better equipment of other sorts. If you are going to buy these things, you will need a place to keep them. Do you have adequate storage space? If not, let us figure with you on your needs.

Prices of farm products will be higher this year than for many years past. If a better hog house would save you one pig out of each litter, you could easily afford that hog house.

Better housing of pigs means more money in your pocket. See the different types of hog house plans we have to offer you.

The boy sat in the rumble seat. His head was in a whirl. His eyes and mouth were full of hair. His arms were full of girl.

Healthier chickens mean chickens on the market earlier, with more profit to you. Proper poultry housing makes the difference, whether in selling spring fries or in egg production. Talk over your poultry housing problems with us. We may have the answers.

Get your order in now for that brooder house you are going to want this spring. If you have a house that is getting old and drafty, perhaps all you will need to do is insulate it. Insulation pays big in chicks saved by preventing drafts, eliminating bunching of the chicks, and requiring less heat to keep the brooder house warm, thus cutting down the possibility of fires due to overheated stoves.

"You look all out of sorts. What's the matter?"
"Plenty. On account of my rheumatism the doctor told me to avoid all dampness — and you've no idea how silly I feel sitting in an empty bathtub going over myself with a vacuum cleaner."

It's still a few days until spring, so don't get caught napping. If you used up most of your coal during that early January weather, fill your bin again right now. Just call 147 for the coal you will be needing.
