

Fifty Years Old Being Remodeled and Modernized - Values Then and Now - Getting Ready for Increased Food Production - Freedom of Worship - Good and Bad Human Qualities - To Help Democracy.

The brick building which is being remodelled by Dr. J. T. Gillespie for an optical office, was built by L. W. Roe and Geo. W. Fortner in 1891, moving their meat market into it on July 1 of that year.

Fifty years have passed, and a lot of water has gone over the dam. For many years slaughtering was done on home grounds fitted for the purpose. Meats were cured in the local field. Everything was home-made.

In 1893, when Governor Cleveland was trying to stem the tide of depression and calamity, grain and meat prices had advanced to the lowest level in history.

Following the preliminary shack days, buildings were made of substantial, plenty of material used and nothing neglected in careful workmanship.

Gardens and Fields. The Japs will be profoundly disturbed to learn that the Herald's Victory garden has been plowed and will soon reveal evidences of proper planting.

Sharp Contrast. The air was full of songs and sermons Sunday morning commemorating the Resurrection. Simultaneously, a slight turn of the radio dial brought stories of war's slaughter and ruin.

Demolishing Idols. It is disheartening to see one's idols demolished—to have one's high appraisal of an individual discredited. One believes he senses uniformly noble qualities in another, and then some pestiferous influence comes along and pours out tales of disparagement.

England and India. Seems to us the British are slow in catching on—tardy in the direction of highest wisdom. In our hazy world of limited observation we cannot see why demands of India are not readily granted.

American industry and the American farmer must produce to the maximum and we must raise and train an army of 7,500,000 men. This tremendous army can be raised only by requiring every able-bodied man from 20 to 44, without dependents, to serve in the armed forces.

YOUNG TREES TAKE PLACES OF THOSE CAUGHT IN FREEZE

THE TREE skeletons left in the wake of the disastrous freeze on Armistice day, 1940, in and around the Willow Bowl at the college, have been removed, and new ones, full of youth and ambition, have taken their places. Many trees of tender varieties perished under the terrific force of the November storm mentioned. Large and valuable orchards in the southeast part of the state were destroyed. In time the special beauty spot, in a wonderfully attractive college campus, will have its foliage restored. It is remembered that an unsightly sere spot on the campus, caused by an unsuccessful attempt to build an artificial lake, was transformed into the pleasing Willow Bowl or outdoor theatre. Midwest's Attitude
AN article in Look magazine charges that Americans — particularly in the middle west — do not take the war seriously enough. Referring to the central states, the writer gathered his inspiration from cities like St. Louis and Chicago. We think he would have found farm communities intensely serious — usually exceeding expectations in bond purchases, over-subscribing for the Red Cross, surrendering precious boys for the armed forces and getting squarely behind movements to increase agricultural and animal production.

Apathy to real dangers would seem more evident in Washington's too frequent emphasis on trivialities; also in its tenacious hold on costly and non-essential bureaus. Parading the idea of digging up the White House lawn for a garden seems utterly inconsequential and foolish. We think the middle west is aware of enemy threats, and only needs to know the facts and the pattern to follow to act promptly and decisively. It is not disposed to take dancing lessons to meet totalitarian savagery. It knows what its enemies have had in store for subjugated countries and what they would have in store for us if they could win. We think the author writing for Look did not look far enough in his quest for facts.

No Need of Waste
THE LINCOLN Journal says the argument that a government is unavoidably wasteful in a time of war is specious. Indifference to unnecessary expenditures not related to the war, incenses people who are mainly and vitally interested in defeat of the enemy. The Journal says in conclusion: "All the people are asking is that common sense be allowed to dominate the financial situation. They are asking now as they have been for weeks that all agencies not essential to the prosecution of the war or the health and safety of the people be either eliminated or their activities curtailed, if they are essential peacetime agencies, to maintenance of organization."

"They are asking that profiteering be eliminated, strikes forbidden, ceilings put on wages and prices; that the greedy contractors be run out of Washington along with the pressure groups, and that consideration be given to the fact that there is a bottom to public pockets. When Washington takes seriously all the imports of war then there will be no justification for the repeated charge that the people generally are lacking in realization of future possibilities."

Wayne's Mayor
HERMAN LUNDBERG, who was elected mayor without opposition, will make a capable successor to M. L. Ringer who has served satisfactorily for ten years. Many permanently valuable community improvements have been made under Mayor Ringer's administration. Among other things, he was instrumental in building the municipal auditorium in the face of determined attempts to obstruct it. He has had his shoulder to the wheel of progress through the years, and his good services will be remembered with feelings of appreciation and esteem. Mr. Lundberg will likewise be a progressive executive leader. He knows the city's affairs and needs, and he may be expected to adjust his activities to the trend of the times as influenced by the war emergency. He will justify popular confidence in his judgment.

Dr. A. L. Miller, head of the state department of health, warns people not to allow the fever of conservation to lead them to save used drinking cups that have served the general public. He points out that such cups cannot be re-used, according to a Nebraska statute which was adopted to insure best sanitation. The doctor says disease germs are often communicated by means of cups, emphasizing that an average germ will live on the rim of a cup for a considerable time awaiting opportunity to tackle an unsuspecting victim. As a safeguard to health, cups in public places must be destroyed after once having been used.

The street gambler or hawker, with a net spread to catch unwary victims, was common in primitive settlements of the middle west. The old-timer had little diversion, and he was often willing to take a chance in order to see the way a new trick worked if the cost were not overly burdensome. The cheap gamster set up business in the trade center, gathered a crowd and made wild promises. Then, before fleeing victims had time to get mad or grow dangerous, he quickly folded up his possessions and drove on.

Antending the labor law to suspend the 40-hour week, restrict union dues and cut out paying for the privilege of working is the intention of a pending bill which also would limit wages and prices. War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson's statement that most industries are willing to work for nothing to supply war goods if they suffer no capital impairment indicates that production plants would not oppose the proposed ceiling.

A writer suggests that the person who tries to capture material possessions to the sacrifice of responsibility in the war effort is in danger of losing both his substance and his liberty. Many in subjugated European countries did that very thing. But aroused Americans can usually be depended on to put soul above dollars.

A trade magazine reports that buying income increased from 67 billion dollars in 1939 to 91 billions in 1941, and that retail sales in January of this year increased 60 per cent over what they were in the same month of 1941. The magazine indicates that the tendency is to increase rather than curtail advertising.

Easter Sabbath was evidently picked for another surprise attack by the Japs who descended with bombing planes on the island of Ceylon. But they were the surprised ones. Defenders were ready and shot down twenty-seven of the attackers. It is certain there will be no more Pearl Harbor catastrophes.

An anonymous letter is a most aggravating form of cowardice, but no letter is advisable if face-to-face communication is possible. Especially ill advised is the habit of dispatching abusive letters in moments of rage. They reflect serious lack of restraint and may do irreparable damage.

It would appear from reports that Vice President Henry Wallace blew out a gasket inexcipitly as he exhibited wrath over Congressman Martin Dies' recent charges. Wallace should try harder to maintain the traditions of the vice presidency by keeping still and out of sight.

With the exception of a spot in the southeast part of the state, Nation's Business shows Nebraska's business more than twenty per cent above normal. Only a few small areas in the United States rank below normal.

We are glad to note the British are gaining a winning stride in their war operations. We had become fearful they would, from force of habit, keep on retreating after the war was over.

We sometimes wonder if lawyers are trained to dodge points by circumlocution and arrive at conclusions with emphasis on verbiage that means nothing rather than on facts that are vital.

Saturday was an ideal spring day. The atmosphere was warm, and the sun shone resplendently. It was the day before Easter, and people were in a mood to buy, and they did buy.

Wayne will soon entertain the annual district music contest, and a large number of participants and music lovers will be in attendance.

Anyone in defense industry who unnecessarily slows up production contributes to the perils of America's fighting forces.

In the Britain-India controversy, it is obviously out of order to advise Bellwether M. Gandhi to keep on his shirt.

WPA on Way Out.
(Omaha Journal-Stockman)

Over in Illinois the official report announces that they have pried 600 able bodied workers loose from their WPA jobs and put them to work on farms where men are badly needed. This is going on all over the country and the only opposition comes from the WPA supervisors who naturally fear that they will soon be losing their own well paid jobs.

Mr. Ickes' Etiquette.
(Lincoln Journal)

Brought out the other day during house debate on the 1943 interior department appropriation bill was an interesting breakdown of administrative expenses in the office of the secretary of interior.

The breakdown revealed, among other things, a payroll item of $3,800 for an "expert on social functions, customs and procedures."

Congressional eyebrows — some of them — lifted at this evidence of wartime self-denial on the part of an office whose executive, Harold Ickes, is a leading advocate of sacrifice for sacrifices sake.

And well they might. Thirty-eight hundred dollars is a lot of money to spend on etiquette, even for the untidy Mr. Ickes.

Ungrateful Colonials.
(Nation's Business)

Again our old friend, Professor Rex Tugwell, booms large in the news. First he made America over, then he sold molasses, now he is busy bearing the white man's burden as governor of Puerto Rico. The colonials don't like the democracy with which they are being dosed by their savior. Bolivar Pagan, resident commissioner and delegate to Congress from Puerto Rico, says the professor thought "that the island of Puerto Rico was a very nice place to test new social experiments with money that he promised would come from the federal treasury." As a starter, he proposed to divide up the land among the proletariat. That was unpalatable socialism even if it had been done fairly, but Pagan asserts that Tugwell's own political favorites are getting all the best land.

At home, Tugwell's big idea was to make America over by resettling people in his Greenbelts, Hightstown, and Happy Valleys. He didn't do so well with that idea. The government is now trying to turn loose of these community projects as fast as it can find buyers at ten cents on the dollar or less of its original investment. In going to Puerto Rico, perhaps he was applying the old proverb that a man is not without honor save in his own country.

BUREAUS.
Merle Thorpe urges in Nation's Business that the domestic war be laid aside while the foreign war is being prosecuted. He sees indiscretion in the feverish efforts of Washington's inner circle of new dealers to try to extend new deal policies at a time when a united, determined front is needed to combat foreign foes. As a matter of fact, the government bureau set up in 1933 to fight the depression have been made unnecessary by the war. Surplus in both the field of production and labor has been followed by scarcity. Low prices have been succeeded by high prices. Reasons for federal aid have disappeared, and there would seem no sound ground for continuance of depression agencies. In the all-out effort to win the war, demand will absorb supplies and keep everybody employed. The government could quit worrying about its superfluous bureaus by junking them.

ing the cause of democracy. Let India have the independence it wants, and if two opposing factions there later get into a fight, let them fight. England loses strength by trying to dominate unwilling subjects. Arose Indian resistance to the beastly Japs, and then, the allies victorious and democracy saved, let the natives whistle along as they please. This, of course, is a remotely outside view.

To Conduct Tryouts.
Wayne Players will hold tryouts next Tuesday for a play which will be sponsored by the Woman's Club.

Applies for Enlistment.
Wm. Armstrong who is employed in the Mines jewelry store, applied Tuesday for enlistment in the navy. He expects word soon from this branch of service.

Miss Mildred Dawson of Cleveland, Ohio, spent the Easter week-end with her brother, Edwin Dawson, at Brooklyn, N. Y. Edwin is located at an air field there. Miss Dawson also saw Everett Hale, formerly of Wayne. The Dawsons are children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dawson of Wayne.

LABOR UNIONS.
A Florida contributor to the Christian Science Monitor finds far more than the demand for a forty-hour work week and time-and-a-half for overtime in war industries as reason for outraged feelings against union labor leadership. Imposing an exorbitant tax for the privilege of working and forcing an employer to hire men regardless of their ability to produce are mentioned among other things as a form of tyranny entirely incompatible with democracy or the united war effort. The writer mentions the "very obvious disposition of the government and its departments hating to do with labor relations to coddle and uphold organized labor in its most unreasonable demands, while ignoring the most notorious abuses on the part of the labor unions." The writer makes plain that in a democracy labor is not the only element having "rights" and he suggests that congress assert itself or be supplanted by a congress that will do so.

CONGRESS
AS SEEN BY
KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C., April 1, 1942.
The protests against the construction of a $600,000 temporary information bureau building here have not abated. Eight federal agencies can furnish business men the same factual information that this new facility proposes to give them. Besides that, there are a lot of private bureaus here that specialize in the distribution of the same information. The rising demand is that in the interest of both efficiency and economy, these overlapping agencies be superseded by a consolidated unit.

The surgeon general of the army has issued an order stating that a man who has lost one leg, provided it is below the juncture of the middle and lower thirds of the thigh, and has a good artificial limb, may now be considered acceptable for limited duty in the supply service of the army.

The six per cent profit limitation placed in the new supplemental defense appropriation bill is not favored by some treasury officials. They say they will watch the profiteers with an excess profit tax.

Pacific coast members fear another attack on Hawaii and also on some parts of Alaska. These members want all Japanese moved from the coast because they fear sabotage. The government is moving the Japanese from the coast as rapidly as possible.

Charles Sheeler who used to run a drug store in Norfolk, is very ill at his home in California. Sheeler is a veteran of the war with Spain. Before his illness, he made efforts to get back into the army.

Blackout practice in Washington is said by officials to have been very successful. A new alarm system has been installed. New practice blackouts are on the program. Nearly every building is equipped with cards containing sound and shovels with which to extinguish incendiary bombs. Anti-aircraft crews do regular duty on the roofs of many buildings here.

Tourists visiting the capitol building are searched by guards. Excepting the regular business hours of the day, capitol hill employees must show identification cards to enter the capitol, senate and house office buildings and visitors must have passes. Permit cards to the house and senate galleries are now limited and each member is told that these cards must be issued to only those visitors who are definitely known.

Some day, Col. Starling who guards the president and his family, will write a book. He has made many notes. Starling has guarded the lives of six presidents.

Hearings on the proposed manufacture of grain alcohol in plants in the midwest continue. Some special corporations have been formed in the states. Money may be available from the R. F. C. The principal trouble is due to the war production board withholding the essential priority ratings on copper and steel without which the plants cannot be built. Some distilleries and breweries are planning to convert their facilities to the production of industrial alcohol.

Prohibition may not come during this war, but there may be some action on several bills which have been introduced, designed to prohibit the sale of liquor to men in uniform and to stop sale of all alcoholic beverages in or near army camps.

There is such a multiplicity of questions relating to war activities, and preparations are of such volume that they cannot be enumerated in limited space. That congress must face the issues is certain. That such issues are disturbing that unity of purpose which we need and must have to bring victory is unquestioned, but an aroused public can aid in meeting all issues and the determination to lick Japan and its axis partners will grow the stronger. There is no "half-way" open in the battle to save the nation.

Among the most aggravating instances of inordinate profiteering is that of an Ohio firm manufacturing patented devices essential to war planes. It received contracts running to 58 millions. It had a profit of over 100 per cent upon each device. It paid its president $146,000, other officials on a like scale, and a stenographer with a princely income of $3,000 per month. In addition to such enormous salaries, the officials, which own the company, and other employees shared in a bonus of $300,000, and made over 100 per cent on their capital stock. All this was over and above income, corporation and excess-profits taxes.

The salaries of officials of big corporations which are sharing so greatly in war contracts running into billions also are bringing about strange revelations. The administration is lending its investigation staffs to disclosing facts which have not been known. Among more notable instances is

NOTES ON WAR.
Office of Emergency Management.
Since farmers of the midwest are producing foods for the nation's vital battle fronts, the war production board revised its 1942 farm equipment program to meet increased demands for farm produce. The program will allow greater production of edible oil, sugar, potatoes and general food products. Higher priority ratings were given manufacturers of farm tools and equipment so that they can make more plow shares, beet cultivators, peanut pickers, potato planters, drills, lifters and other equipment. It is estimated that this will use 25,000 more tons of material, mostly steel and iron, but the increase in food production is needed.

Office of defense transportation is asking farmers to plan marketing together to save mileage. It is estimated that the saving can be 35 to 50 per cent.

Butcher shops and retail meat markets are asked not to raise prices of ham, bacon, pork chops or other pork products above mid-March prices. OPA put a ceiling on these.

WPB has issued an order prohibiting use of copper or copper alloy for zippers, hooks and eyes, snaps and grippers for clothes fasteners.

Metal and plastics will not be used for children's toys after June 30. Only enough will be allowed to hold together the pieces of wood and other non-critical materials which will be substitutes.

WPB has frozen sale or delivery of adult bicycles.

No new metal signs more than 36 inches square will be put up this year along highways.

The amount of metal for lawn mowers will be drastically cut but the order does not apply to mowers for harvesting crops.

WPB says the scare about scarcity of razor blades was false, for the supply is adequate and plenty will be manufactured.

Uncle Sam has ordered that every purchaser of tooth paste or shaving cream, when buying from a retailer, must turn in some kind of used tube.

Mrs. America's concern for the safety of her family is causing some real worry. Without any intent for hoarding, Mrs. America has been storing first-aid materials. As a result of her storage of surgical gauze, bandages and other essentials, the armed forces are threatened with a shortage of these supplies. Air raid casualties are usually of such severity that only trained field units are competent to attend the injured so storing such supplies is not necessary.

A special appeal is made for the saving of cardboard and corrugated material. Heavy shipments of army supplies in corrugated boxes has caused a scarcity of this material. All waste paper is needed but heavier materials are especially short. Boxes and bags, toothpaste and shaving tubes should be saved and turned in.

Mrs. America is asked to remember that clothes hangers are valuable. The 600 million made in 1941 used 27,000 tons of steel, enough to make a first class battleship or miles and miles of barbed wire. The hangers also used tons of enamel as well as much labor. Mrs. America should conserve hangers and turn them over for re-use.

WAR WORKER GIRLS IN UNIFORM

Eight young women employees of the Philadelphia Ordnance District Headquarters are shown in their new uniforms which they designed and purchased with their own funds. Wearing of the uniform is optional, but many girls prefer it because it is practical and military in appearance. Adoption of similar uniforms is considered by the thousands of women and girls in War Department Offices in Washington and elsewhere in the country. Overalls caps are Army type and the jackets are single breasted, similar to Army officers' blouses. Buttons are Army type. The skirts are flared, have deep single "kick pleat" in front and back, with pipped side fastener and a belt overlapping. Shoes are Army officer style with strap and buckle over instep and with spectator heels. Shoe color is "turf."

Course Completed In Gas Warfare by Wayne Young Man

Pvt. Wm. A. Lerner has just completed eight weeks' course in gas warfare at Edgewood arsenal in Maryland and expects to be transferred soon to California, Texas or South Carolina. He is with an air base unit and has been trained in the use of 42 mortar and the Browning 30 cal. automatic rifle. A company of negroes in the battalion adds "local color" when on review.

Mr. Lerner is the eldest enlisted man in his company but he writes that he manages to keep up with the "war babies" of 1918.

During his stay in Maryland Mr. Lerner has gathered some interesting facts about the state which was settled in 1634 by Lord Baltimore. The English, who established the early colony, still predominate, comprising 52 per cent of the population. The Germans constitute 20 per cent, and colored folks make up 16 per cent.

The average yearly rainfall in Maryland is 41 inches, and the mean yearly temperature 54. Some 84 per cent of the land is wooded with black oak, beech, gum, chestnut, walnut, poplar, locust, hickory and ash the common varieties of trees. Wild grapes, blackberries and raspberries are abundant, and the trailing arbutus, violet, laurel, wild rose and touch-me-not are common flowers.

Spring officially opens in Maryland when the Baltimore Oriole appears. The nuthatch, fish hawk, mocking bird, oriole and swallow are abundant in bird life. Some 41 varieties of ducks are known there. Timber rattlesnakes and copperheads are the only poisonous snakes. The state reports 200 species of fish. The oyster industry is important in the state. The tiny protozoa called noctiluca, found in the Maryland tidal area, gives off a weird light at night.

Maryland ranks sixth in the United States in kale, spinach and broccoli raising. Mr. Lerner writes that broccoli is served at nearly every meal. Coal, gold, copper, asbestos, marl and feldspar are found in the state. Tobacco, cotton and vegetables are raised.

Baltimore has 343 piers for shipping. That city is the center of Catholicism in the United States.

Edgewood arsenal, where the Wayne young man has been training, is 25 miles from Baltimore and includes 8,000 acres. Chemical warfare service was started in July, 1918, and that arsenal was first occupied by gas warfare trainees in 1941. History shows that the Greeks used chemical warfare in 500 B. C.

Aberdeen proving grounds are about 10 miles distant from the arsenal and the roar of guns from that center is almost constant. Air raid alarms and blackouts are common. Men carry gas masks at all times. Trainees must be able to detect many kinds of gas and smokes by smell.

DETROIT.—To help keep the guns, planes and tanks of the United Nations at the highest possible fighting efficiency, General Motors has launched a new and vital war training and field program beyond the scope of its huge production effort.

In announcing the program, C. L. McCuen, GM vice president in charge of engineering, advised the Army and Navy that General Motors will:

1. Help train the enormous number of mechanics required to keep a modern armed force in motion by maintaining schools for Army and Navy instructors.
2. Place its own engineers in the field to expedite reports on operating experience, so that its war products can be improved constantly.
3. Assist the Army and Navy in having replacement parts on the spot when needed. These expenditures totaling not less than $5,000,000 for the current year. It will involve training thousands of instructors in scores of centers throughout the country.

According to John E. Johnson, director of the training program, the activity opens a new chapter in the relationship of war contractors to their government.

Some GM divisions, such as Allison and Chevrolet, have had schools for Army instructors in operation for some time. These will be expanded. Other divisions will launch schools of their own.

Dictator Countries Abolish Scouting

Work Is Being Stressed in Democracies As Vital to Free Government.

Boy scouting has been abolished in dictator countries. This is one of the most important reasons that this work is being stressed in democracies. In the Covered Wagon area, comprising 24 counties in northwest Nebraska, 42,200 boys are of scout age and 31,560 have indicated they want to be scouts. But there are only 4,163 scouts and cub Scouts in the area. The reason is that funds are insufficient to carry on the work.

Boy scout leaders will conduct their 1942 financial campaign simultaneously this year in Covered Wagon area, this being the first time for using united effort.

T. S. Hook, Wayne, is chairman for Wayne district. R. E. Murek has been named initial gifts chairman. In addition to Wayne, the district known as Logan Valley includes Randolph, Belden, Winside, Laurel and Carroll.

Mr. Hook appointed Henry Reynolds local finance chairman. On the latter's committee are: L. W. McNatt, prospects; Ralph Berwick, initial gifts; K. N. Parke, publicity and arrangements; Larry Brown, general solicitations; Al Kern, audit.

The financial campaign will be held the week beginning Monday, April 27. It is probable that the week including Arbor day will be chosen each year for the drive. The initial gifts campaign started April 6.

The area is divided into four divisions, with Judge Lyle Jackson, Neigh, Judge A. E. Wankle, Stanton, Robert E. Moore, West Point, and Charlie Yant, Fremont, coordinators of the campaign in these.

The total budget for the 27 counties is $11,676.38. Omaha raised $21,500 last fall, leaving $30,118.28 to be raised in the rest of the district, which has about half the scouts.

Governor Dwight Griswold will speak Sunday, April 19, to open the drive, all radio stations in this area to carry his message.

Feed Calf Scientific Ration

COLSON'S HATCHERY SHOWS DAIRYMEN HOW TO SELL MORE MILK

MYRON COLSON is showing local dairymen how they can save a great deal of milk in raising calves. He is raising a heifer calf right in his hatchery with dry calf starter instead of milk.

This calf was taken off milk entirely when just one month old and hasn't had a drop since. All she receives is water, salt, a little hay and Purina Calf Starters, a well-known dry starting feed for calves.

Calves raised this way will grow just as fast and just as well as on whole milk. Many of our local dairymen, Mr. Colson says, have for years successfully followed this method of feeding—their heifer calves.

Of particular interest to local dairymen, today is the great quantity of milk which can be saved by this plan of feeding. Each bag of this calf starter will replace four cans or 350 pounds of milk, which can then be sold to help fill defense needs and to increase the size of the milk check.

Calf starter fed this calf costs less than half the money that milk will bring at the present U. S. average price. Mr. Colson invites all dairymen to drop into his hatchery and see how well his calf is growing.

At the end of the year the best butterfly receives a prize. James and Robert Jones, Donald Harmer and Melvin Bodenstedt had perfect attendance for the month. Those having the least stripes on the "spelling flag" to color are Norma, Marion and Virginia Larsen. The winners receive a defense stamp. Each pupil is the owner of a flower pot made from colored construction paper. In it is placed a tree branch. For each 100 received in arithmetic a pupil may place a crepe paper bow on the stem.

District 72

(Lynette Gifford, teacher) Dean Otte moved to another district March 9. A farewell party was given for him, and he was presented a gift as a remembrance. Lily Hubbard enrolled March 11 making a 5th grade. Darlene Peterson and Jimmy Bush earned 100 in spelling last week. Billy Evans brought a treat of candy Easter bunnies for his birthday March 5.

District 73

(Charlene Haight, teacher) The 7th and 8th grades have been reviewing for examinations. Dick Kai, LeRoy Giese, Earl Benen, Bob Hansen and Roy Bressler plan on taking them. The basketball, basketball and football sets which the school bought with proceeds from the Christmas program have been enjoyed. Darlene English has been absent a good part of the month because of illness. Library books are being closed. More defense stamps are being bought every month by children.

District 44

(Mrs. Wm. Jenkins, teacher) Kites were made for window decorations. Easter baskets and a blackboard border of rabbits also decorated the room. Orieta and Shirley Vleska and Darrell French are new pupils in the school. Orieta is in the 7th grade and Shirley in the 4th. They came from Howells, Neb. Darrell came from district 51. He is in the 8th grade. New library books are Little Men, Aesop's Fables, The Clue in the Diary, The Bobsey Twins in Eskimo Land, At the End of a Texas Rope and The Missing Katchina. The school also has a new set of 7th and 8th grade history books, The Building of Our Nation.

District 45

(Arlyne Polson, teacher) During the past month Sheldon Evjen, 6th grader, has enrolled and Durrel Campbell and Patsy Wilmer have moved from the district. March 15 was kite flying day. Three kites were made and brought to school by LeRoy and Lois Spahr, Donna, Dorothy and Carl Alvin, and Loren Ellis. All of the kites were nicely decorated, but Loren's kite was chosen as the most attractive. Lois' and LeRoy's kite flew the highest. Each of the children who made a kite was awarded a defense stamp. Warren Ellis was winner of this month's ciphering contest. LeRoy was the champion of the previous month. The health chart shows that Rosalyn Ellis, Dorothy Alvin, Lois Spahr, Donna Alvin and Ruth Shufelt have had perfect records since the beginning of the contest. Health monitors inspect to see that each pupil brings a clean handkerchief to school every morning, that the fingernails are clean, that the hair is combed, that the shoes are clean, and that the coats and overcoats are in order. Every week the Good Deed and Bad English boxes are opened and the contents are read. Cleo Shufelt has had the least number of offenses placed in the Bad English box and Sheldon Evjen has shown the greatest improvement in speech. Seventeen stones have been earned for the club castle. At present two of the stones are covered black and an attempt is being made to restore them. A miniature library is being built up by the pupils. Each pu-

liver, but very illiterate. To the surprise of everybody, especially democrats, Judge Isgrig announced that under no circumstances would he vote for John Stokes. When asked why he, a life-long democrat, refused to vote for his democratic neighbor he replied with plenty of profanity: "I ain't goin' to vote for no blankety blank man who's so durned blankety blank ignorant he spells Christ with a 'K'!"

About Nebraska

(By Will M. Maupin) It may be merely a coincidence, but somehow or other the general attorneys of the Union Pacific have usually been democrats, while the Burlington attorneys have been republicans. Far be it from this writer to inject religious bigotry into this column, but it will do no harm to relate a little incident relative thereto. During the campaign of 1928, when religion cut a tremendous figure in the result, William Jeffers, now president of the Union Pacific was walking from his home to the headquarters building. A friend caught up with him and began talking politics. He proceeded to roast Alfred E. Smith to a frazzle, abusing his stand on prohibition and denouncing his religious affiliations. Jeffers listened for a block or two, then finally said: "Isn't it a glorious thing to live in a country where a man is privileged to speak freely and worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience. You know, I'm a Catholic." The man grew white around the gills, stuttered a minute and then said: "Jeffers, that's an Irish name, isn't it?" "Yes, and I am an Irishman and proud of it." "O, well, Mr. Jeffers; you're an Irish Catholic. They are all right. It's the blankety-blank Roman Catholics I'm after." Speaking of religious differences, this writer's father was a minister of the Disciples church, better known as Christian church. He was a rabid republican. When he lived at Hennessey, Okla., he was introduced to Senator Owen, then democratic candidate for reelection to the senate. "I presume, senator, you are here for the purpose of showing us republicans the error of our ways," said father. "Yes, but times I am discouraged," said Senator Owen. "I'm reminded of the two hard-shell Baptists who went to a country school house to hear a Newlife preacher. About the middle of the sermon one hard shell leaned over to the other one and whispered: 'That fellow's about half right.' 'He's all right,' replied the other, 'but I'd go to hell before I'd admit it.' Sometimes, elder, I think a lot of you republicans are like the last hard-shell Baptist."

Government Restrictions Affect Telephone Users

The telephone business is now operating under definite government orders restricting the installation and replacement of telephone equipment. Some of these restrictions are:

1. Wall and desk telephones can not be replaced with hand telephones.
2. Extension telephones in residences can be installed only under certain circumstances.
3. Party-line service is the only service which can be provided in some localities for new applicants and for those who move.
4. Replacements and improvements, which under ordinary conditions could be made, now have to be deferred.

These restrictions will affect many telephone users but we shall do everything in our power to provide as adequate service as is possible under existing war conditions.

$450,000 Damage to Telephone Lines by Snow and Sleet Storms
Snow and sleet storms from March 16 to 28 caused more than $450,000 damage to telephone property of this Company and its subsidiaries in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

The storms caused
52,000 breaks in telephone lines.
Over 5,600 poles were broken or out of place.
Nearly 10,000 telephones were out of service.
More than 400 cities and towns were cut off from telephone communication with the outside world.

About 700 telephone men worked to get the lines in service as early as possible, often in deep snow, under blizzard conditions, and almost impassable roads. Except for some badly damaged rural lines, service in nearly all instances is now restored.
In the last five years, damage to the property of this Company and its subsidiaries from storms has amounted to about two million dollars.

We regret any inconvenience which may have been caused as a result of these storms and greatly appreciate the fine spirit with which our customers accepted the unavoidable interruptions of long distance and, in many instances, local service.
