Fall of Tobruk
THE fall of Tobruk to the axis with surrender of 25,000 men and large quantities of equipment, presented an unfavorable turn in the war the first of the week. Suggestion that the disaster in Libya will delay allied invasion of the continent of Europe is only speculative and does not come from authoritative sources. The proper time to project a formidable force from England must be left to the judgment of leaders conversant with the facts. It is likely a powerful second front will suddenly materialize without advanced publicity as sound precaution would advise.

War trends of the past week have tended to depress hope for early victory. It is noted, however, with high satisfaction that whenever and wherever duly equipped Americans are engaged in even approximately equal numbers results are successful and run true to American traditions. There is reason to believe trained American soldiers, adequately supplied, will soon turn the tide of battle in favor of the allies. Americans are fired to win high objectives, and nothing is stronger than that spirit combined with intelligently directed skill.

But over-confidence must not be allowed to slow down the war effort. Reverses and victories will come, but the country is not safe until knock-out blows have been struck and enemies have been completely overwhelmed. The crisis is serious, and it must be met by determined and sustained action.

Taking Vacations
IT IS expected people will keep themselves refreshed for tough war experiences, but it is assumed there will be no long, care-free vacations until the clouds disperse and peace has been restored. Touching the subject, the Omaha Journal-Stockman makes this observation:

"This is vacation time for most schools and colleges but to thousands of American families the usual summer vacation is 'out for the duration.' The boys and girls must have their summer vacations in the interest of public health but thousands of men and women are in the service of their country and, with them, vacations are over for 1942 and no one knows how much longer. This war is serious business and more of us are coming to a realization of the fact every day."

Highest possible taxes on big corporations would not go far in meeting the country's indebtedness, as figures show, and it is plain that contributions must come from sources ranging down to lowest incomes. A sales tax is under consideration, because it seems to be the only kind of tax that will reach everybody without overburdening anybody, but it is approached tremblingly by congress in the belief that it is unpopular, and that it is especially an unhappy thought during a campaign.

L. W. Needham, who has held the county clerkship for one term, and who has given highly satisfactory service, has decided not to run again. The clerkship is confining and exacting, and for one who has been comparatively free from the whip of incessant details, it is not a comfortable berth. Therefore, he proposes to retire from it, turning deaf ears to the whisperings of politics, for which he has no inherited or acquired liking.

William Edward Johnson, who is retiring from the lieutenant-governorship, has filed for congress in the First district as expected. He had been looking around in Washington lately, and from observations evidently decided he could do more as a congressman than as a lieutenant-governor to help the social order. His field for campaigning will be limited to a mere district, but it will necessarily be intensified by some sharp competition.

Rubber mats under cuspidors in public places are being removed and turned over to the government to help meet the rubber shortage. This will require expert marksmanship on the part of tobacco chewers. In view of long and successful experience, if a school of instruction is set up to teach faultless aiming and perfect reception, we expect to be called on to head it.

A story picturing the horrors incident to the attack on Manila tells of the bubbling gaiety of men and women at a popular hotel there. While the city was being bombed, society birds were engaged in wild hilarity. If the festive group survived terrible consequences of which the writer was uncertain, at least the result must have had a powerfully sobering influence.

Congressman Karl Stefan has introduced a bill to provide for manufacture of rubber from alcohol produced from agricultural crops. Turning grain to profitable uses, in addition to feeding, gives promise of a market after the war demand ends.

Straining at a goat and swallowing a camel is suggested by the Washington proposal to raise the postal rate on second class mail matter and reduce rural free delivery. It is pointed out that the abused franking privilege causes post office deficits.

Most cities and towns have abolished firecrackers and other explosives as means of expressing patriotic emotions. Anyway, powder is needed in the war, and it should not be wasted in making unnecessary noise.

The noise of frogs reminds us of the difference between a wet and dry season. When drouth was at its height and a popular source of distress, no frog had the courage to be heard.

July 2 is the last day for filing for offices, and for some places no candidates have thus far appeared. Office-holding is losing old-time attractiveness.

If any one were overly optimistic in the past, he had it pretty well whung out of him by the news from different war theaters this week.

Bureaucracy
(Lincoln Journal)

The late Arthur Mullen, in his book "Western Democrat," written of his death-bed, expressed apprehension over the growth of bureaucratic government. He doubted if the powers given to bureaucrats in Washington over the states would ever be returned, and predicted that they would gradually unless checked, take over more and more of the powers reserved by the constitution to the states.

His book was written in 1939. He noted that near the turn of the century there were three commissions in Washington costing the government less than a million dollars, a little more than 800 thousand to be more exact. By 1930 the number had grown to more than 30 commissions and bureaus, costing the government well up in the millions, about ten times the cost in 1900. By 1938 he had lost the count and said no one could tell offhand the number. Gradually government had been more and more centralized, and state powers had been taken away.

Mr. Mullen, if alive today, would be more than ever shocked. If he had lost track of the number four years ago, he would be amazed at the multiplicity of commissions, bureaus and departments now functioning.

The trend feared by Mr. Mullen then, and by many others who apparently made up a minority, has continued, is continuing, and gives signs of going on and on.

The Senate and Economy
(Omaha Journal-Stockman)

We have always supposed that our representatives in the lower house, being closer to the people than the senators, were more responsive to popular opinion than the members of the upper house. This has been illustrated in the economic measures advanced and approved by the congress. Unfortunately many of the leaders of the senate apparently have the Washington point of view rather than the nation-wide ideas of economy.

The average citizen, who has been told time and again that maximum economy by everyone is vital in this war period, has a right to complain. Some of the appropriations approved by the senate seem downright fantastic. One, for instance, is to finance restriction of sugar production—in spite of the fact the country is short of sugar, and severe rationing has been imposed. Another is to pay for administration of price limitations on coal—in spite of the fact that the DPA has complete and unquestioned authority over all prices. Still another makes financial provision for unnecessary travel by bureaucrats—in spite of the fact that all transportation facilities are needed for real war purposes, and that there is talk of rationing passenger travel in the near future.

Action of the senate in repudiating the popular moves in the direction of economy are difficult to understand. The action, however, will eventually carry its own punishment. This is no time for extravagance in either public or private business.

A Land of Plenty
(Industrial Press Service)

The vast production machine that has been set up in this country will mean far more than victory over the axis. It will mean a new and better world after this war is over. Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, expressed this opinion in a recent speech when he said:

"We are fighting for something. For a generation we have been living on the edge of a new world; we are only now beginning to realize it."

"For the first time in the history of the human race there can be enough of everything to go around. Poverty is not inevitable any more. The sum total of the world's greatest possible output of goods, divided by the sum total of the world's inhabitants, no longer means a little less than enough for everybody. It means more than enough. The possibilities in that simple statement are beyond calculation—and what we are fighting for is the right to turn some of those possibilities into realities."

This war is only part of the picture which we face today, according to Mr. Nelson. "For if the war is costing us a fearful price, it is also developing for us new techniques and new abilities. It is placing at our disposal an industrial plant—a set of developed resources—that will simply be beyond price. We shall have the most magnificent opportunity any nation ever had. To accept that opportunity we need only have the good pioneer sense not to be frightened by it just because it calls for new mental attitudes and new habits of thought."

The industrial miracles that we have recently seen performed in this country show us that the pioneer spirit of America is still alive, and manufacturers promise us that after the war is over the huge production facilities and new techniques that have been developed will be turned over to civilian needs so that this may truly be a land of plenty.

JOBS.

Doubtless high wages are often paid at government war plants, but getting a job is not always a snap, according to a story told by an Omaha World-Herald reporter who ran the gantlet of ceremony and red tape at Mead in landing a place. He started his effort for work on June 5, but he could not make himself stick anywhere until June 16. He bumped up against numerous delays. His application required information about his weight, color of eyes and hair, and birthplace and about the birthplace of his parents. He had to belong to the union and start paying dues. It was pointed out that many who hovered around for jobs were put off from time to time. The sensible conclusion is that one who has a fairly good job, is better off to stay with it. He is more permanently and satisfactorily situated than even one who receives much greater wages.

make people feel better—that spur them to accept their jobs with courage and hope.

Opinions in the Wayne territory as to when the war will end, vary largely. Some contend it will be a long, hard war. Others believe it will be hard, but not long. These latter believe when the huge American production gets into full operation, the enemy war machines, built up over the years, will be outclassed and crushed. I wish for an early and decisive victory, and that may be a strong incentive for thinking so.

In view of unavoidable spending to support the war, and the increased need for labor and production, a growing demand exists to dissolve costly peacetime bureaus—agencies made unnecessary by the world conflict. In the judgment of many, the fewer non-essentials now exist, the stronger the economic structure to stand the trial of reconstruction.

I think the new law to increase the pay of soldiers meets general and hearty approval. Those who stand the brunt of battle should be treated as generously as those who are working in war production plants and filling other places behind the lines.

UNREASONABLE.

When one big fellow jumps on another big fellow, and the latter happens to be too strong to be exterminated, and then when the aggressor does not win according to plans and complains that his victim is stubbornly and cruelly resistant, one wonders how the complainant can justify such a low appraisal of the world's thinking. Herman Goering, high in Nazi ranks, in speaking to his fellow countrymen, blames the Russians for the way they have met and fought the invaders. Goering seemed to think Nazi might or Russian neighborhood would lead to surrender without serious trouble. Goering explains how terrible the Russians are, causing distress and disappointment. The Nazi leader had previously pledged early victory. But things did not work out as expected, and the propagandist imposed on credulity with an empty explanation. "The world may begin to wonder," comments the World Herald, "what sort of a generation Hitler has produced. It seems to accept the propaganda of the Goerings, to tolerate the Himmlers. Able military leaders that tell Hitler the truth, and refuse to lead German soldiers against intolerable odds are broken or banished, and Hitler followers accept such action without protest."

AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C., June 17, 1942.

On May 29, a big Russian plane settled down on the Potomac river in Washington near the army air field. A Nebraskaan and his son watched 13 Russians come ashore. Some days later the 13 Russians reboarded the plane and flew away. Later, word was received from Moscow that the Commissioner had returned safely. Then, the newspaper released a story seven days old, that Molekov had been in Washington and had completed some very important diplomatic deals with our government. Newspapers who knew Molekov was here, kept the secret well.

Shall Uncle Sam sell 125,000,000 bushels of his surplus wheat for 85 per cent of the parity price of corn for feeding purposes and for the purpose of making grain alcohol? The house voted no, because some members thought alcohol makers would be getting wheat for as low as 50 cents a bushel and because they feared it would wreck the program of parity prices for both corn and wheat. A compromise may be reached in conference so that the wheat can be sold cheaper for feed, but not cheaper to the big alcohol makers.

The WPA appropriation bill, cut about 68 per cent as compared to the preceding appropriation, has gone to the senate. The amount left in the bill is around $200,000,000. A lot of WPA work will have to be eliminated. Even some of the district and state offices may be closed. The senate may make some changes in the bill. The WPA hereafter will have to confine its activities to war work. Airport construction will be continued.

The king of Greece talked to the house members the other day. He made a decided hit with the members because of his modesty and quick recognition of American humor. As members passed in line to shake the king's hand, one member said: "I was in your country once. I'd like to go back there again." "And so would I," the king replied.

Hundreds of people gathered around the capitol to witness the arrival of the king of Greece when he came to visit the house of representatives. In the capitol, as the king passed through the crowd, was Miss June Butler of Norfolk, Neb., who has been visiting friends in Washington.

The adoption of a resolution introduced by the Third district member has cleared the way for printing as a public document the record of proceedings in commemoration of 60 years of service in the house of representatives by William Tyler Page, author of "The American Creed." Copies of the document will be available for free distribution within a short time.

July 1 starts the new fiscal year for the federal government. That is one of the reasons why the appropriations committee has been working morning and afternoon in a dash to get all regular supply bills passed. Budget experts are already working on appropriation estimates for the fiscal year 1943.

The Czech town of Lidice which was razed after the Nazis executed all the males and sent away the women and children, had a population of 450 people according to Secretary Palle of the Czech legation here.

Americans returning from Europe, some of them after having lived there for many years, predicted that there will be a "long armistice" after the present war. They appeal unanimous in their belief that the United States will be depended upon by most Europeans to act as the judge and also as the policeman.

Judges in some of the Washington courts have a bright future. They can retire for life on full pay which is $9,500 a year, after they have served 20 years. Some of them are as young as 24 years.

Corn is about 10 inches high in Maryland and Virginia. Small grain is in excellent shape. Henry Yenny of Norfolk, who is here visiting his daughter, says Nebraska corn is ahead of corn in this section of the country.

Base season in some parts of Maryland opens July 1. For lakes, and about the middle of July for rivers. Hard heads, sea bass, and speck are the fish Nebraskaans are catching in the bay near Washington.

Some senators are concerned about government appointees in the states to positions of considerable authority and at salaries exceeding $5,000 per year. Accordingly, those positions are being made subject to senate confirmation. In this way, they explain, the people's representatives can control the appointments. "If we don't do that," says one member, "we may see the day when government appointees drawing big salaries will control most of the activities of the states." Bureau chiefs urge members to oppose this sort of legislative limitation.

The news here is that the Japs are coming to Nebraska. An internment camp may be located near Cambridge, Neb., where not less than 5,000 Japs will be held for the duration of the war. These Japanese are expected to work on the Republican river flood control project and do some fruit and vegetable farming under pump irrigation. The plan as explained here is for the government to buy up a lot of land and agree to let the present owners buy it back after the war and after the Japanese have been sent back to California.

$80 millions. Those three countries were among the poorest in Europe when the war opened, and the larger and richer countries doubtless held billions of our securities. When it is our people in Europe will have been largely destroyed, and the investments will have no recourse. The foreign investments here will be intact and relatively more valuable. How far foreign properties and cash in the hands of the alien property custodian will become available for rehabilitation purposes after the war, is not discussed by the planning groups which are figuring out means and methods of re-establishing world prosperity when the carnage ceases.

The proposal to extend gasoline rationing over the entire country in order to conserve rubber has landed in the White house, and the president is endeavoring to determine the need for it. It is apparent that there is plenty of gasoline to supply the middle west, and that in some of the western oil states there is a bothersome surplus as the refineries continue operations to obtain lubricating oils and other by-products. In the 7 eastern states the shortage is due to lack of transportation. But the eastern interests demand nationwide rationing to "conserve rubber" as well as to turn transportation facilities to increase the eastern gas supply.

President Roosevelt has held up the plans of Mr. Henderson and other bureau chiefs until he can gather data on the whole question. The statement repeatedly is made that the rubber supply would be sufficient were full use made of the immense piles of used rubber tires and other used rubber. The president seems to attach considerable significance to such statements. He proposes to collect millions of tons of used rubber. Odd as it may seem, there is a lack of information as to this secondary rubber supply.

There was no inclination on the part of the 137 congressman, mainly from western states, to obstruct any rationing or other program advanced as necessary to win the war, when they met in caucus to discuss gas rationing. There has been so much confusion in the WPB and OPA, and such a great lack of authoritative information, that they desired to know what are the actual facts. Some of them criticized Mr. Henderson and his bureau chiefs for their inclination to rush through new regulations without regard to the welfare of millions of people doing their best to cooperate fully in winning the war. They welcomed the action of the president in his determination to have the facts to act upon.

The congressional caucus appointed a committee to call at the White house and consult the president. Their call was satisfactory, and the president seemed to be of like opinion as to the propriety of quantity production of regulations by new agencies in an exercise of great authority without first weighing all sides of intricate problems.

A new pipe line from Texas to Illinois is one step which has been decided upon and approved by the WPB to meet the oil and gas transportation problems. It will cost $45 millions, require 125,000 tons of steel and be ready for operation by December 15. In the meantime it is hoped that ways and means will be found to obviate nationwide gas rationing.

President Roosevelt has made another call for appropriations, in the amount of 39 billions of dollars, which will make it the largest single appropriation bill ever considered by congress. It will bring the total of war appropriations to $200 billions. It is proposed for adding to the immense supply of men, materials, planes, tanks and shipping to overwhelm the axis.

Recent visitors in the Third district office include the following: Mrs. F. Wiechelman and Mrs. Clarence Schager of Rantolph, both of whom have been visiting their daughters here; Russell Bartels of Wayne; Earl Trofholz of Schuyler; Ray and Omer Hoffman of Neligh; Jack and Bob Thomas of Oakdale, now working in Washington; Anna Groke of Columbus; Dorothy Hyde of Silver Creek; Jean Douglas of Clarks; June Butler of Norfolk; Theodore Dohrman of Wayne; John Jones of Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yenny of Norfolk, who have been visiting Mrs. Yenny's niece, Mrs. Geo. Clark of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rockwell, formerly of Norfolk and Homer; and Sheila Schaum of Creighton, now working here.

When congress was called upon to acknowledge a state of war with the Balkan countries, Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary, the commerce department released the statement that the property holdings of our citizens and corporations in Rumania were $53 millions, in Hungary $45 millions, and in Bulgaria $7 1/2 millions, a total of over $100 millions. Most of such investments abroad were made by some of the big oil companies. The holdings of cash and securities by the citizens of those countries in our own land were "frozen" when they joined up with the axis powers and amounted to more than

New Pupils Enroll For Summer Term

A number of new students are attending summer session of Wayne training school. These include: Mary Margaret and Nancy Campbell, kindergarten; Bob Carhart, 2nd; Lois Boyce, 3rd; Donna-beth Bressler, 5th; David Cahart, Dorothy Asay, 7th; Marilyn Bressler, Doris Baird, 8th; Bob Miller, 4th; Omata, was a student for a few days.

The grade school boys are taking swimming lessons at 8 in the morning. The girls take lessons at 3 in the afternoon.

Prof. John R. Keith is organizing instrumental music work for the summer sessions and for next year.

The 8th Nebraska geography class has written to a number of Chambers of Commerce in the state and have secured much interesting information.

The 6th grade have a hobby work period each afternoon at 3. At this time each child can work on whatever he wishes. The first two groups made model airplanes. One group of girls did embroidery work. Another group of girls did some tin work. A waste basket of reeds, book cases, tie racks, letter holders, pen holder trays and bird houses are other projects made. Many of these were made in connection with Father's day. Flower pots were also designed. The children furnish their own lumber in the form of cheese boxes and other crates. The project for next week will center around carving for the boys and the transfer of designs to muslin.

Youth Made Ensign With Coast Guard

Bud Bornhoft was graduated June 19 from the coast guard academy at New London, Conn., and was commissioned an ensign in the service. He is one of 12 picked to stay at the academy for a month's further training. He will then be located on the Atlantic coast. The youth will be an officer on a ship with about 10 men helping him. The duty of such crews is to study for emergencies.

Bud enlisted in a cavalry in the reserves who were commissioned at the training center as the same time that four-year students finished the work in three years. The school at New London is the coast guard training center corresponding to Annapolis and West point schools which serve the navy and army.

Miss Beulah Bornhoft, who went east June 11 and arrived home Tuesday, attended the graduation. She also visited the Carl Petersons, formerly of Wayne, at Coventry, Conn. She and Bud and a friend spent a week-end in New York.

Miss Bornhoft likes the east because of its natural beauty. She found cities busy and trains heavily crowded.

June Is Deadline

June is the latest time recommended for planting Legum solum in Nebraska. The latest date for planting Legum is to sell as on hand at the county extension office or can be obtained from the agronomy department, college of agriculture, Lincoln. Anyone planning to plant solum for forage would do well to plant Legum, since it is an excellent forage variety and if isolated from other sorghums 30 rods or more and grown from pure seed, will produce a crop for industrial use.

New Grain Storage Publication.

"Small Grain Storage Structures" is a new publication of the Nebraska agricultural extension service which gives much detailed information, including drawings, about construction of bins of various kinds for small grain. A temporary bin made of snow fence or wire cribbing lined with two thicknesses of building paper and having a wooden floor is illustrated, and described. A free copy of "Small Grain Storage Structures" can be obtained from the county extension office. Ask for Extension Circular 723.

Jim Bray of Ponca, former Wayne student, is in the air corps as mechanic's helper.

Price Regulation To Be Effective

Stores May Charge Lower But Not Higher Figures On Merchandise.

Office of price administration requires that price ceiling regulations be put into effect by July 1, according to word received by A. R. Ellis, chairman of Wayne county rationing board. Maximum price fixing on cost-of-living commodities was decided upon as a means of avoiding inflation. The ruling requires that prices do not go higher than the maximum of March, but permits lower prices.

The highest price charged in March, 1942, means the highest price which the retailer charged for an article actually delivered that month. If he did not make any delivery of that article during March, then his highest offering price for delivery of that article during March. The regulation applies to all commodities and not merely to commodities listed as cost-of-living commodities.

Each retailer must keep for examination by OPA his customary sales records and also reports showing the basis upon which he determined maximum price for each article sold. Every retailer must display prominently his ceiling prices for all cost-of-living commodities in his store. A list of maximum prices for all cost-of-living commodities offered for sale in each store will be filed with the county rationing board. These March maximum prices and the list of cost-of-living commodities must be available in each store for anyone wishing to examine them.

All cost-of-living commodities must be marked on either the commodity or the shelves or bin. Such marks must bear the words "ceiling price" or "our ceiling price."

Lists for Ceilings.

Articles designated as summer seasonal commodities are for maximum prices: Men's and boys' clothing, summer suits, separate sack and sport coats, summer sport trousers or slacks, summer slacks suits, outerwear shorts, washable summer neckties, straw hats, washable summer hats, beach helmets, bathing suits, trunks, shirts, robes, pull-overs, cardigans, rubber bathing shoes, beach wear shoes; women's and girls' clothing, playsuits, sunsuits, bathing suits, robes, rubber bathing shoes, hutters, washable hats of woven fabric, beach bags; girls' clothing, outerwear shorts, slacks, overalls, slacks suits of cotton or rayon; infants' clothing, sunsuits, bathing suits, straw or cloth sunbonnets, carriage and crib netting; furniture, rattan, metal and wood chairs, tables, settees, gliders, umbrellas for outdoor or porch use and beach pads; rubberized or coated slip covers for outdoor furniture, summer rugs; toys, sand boxes, wading pools, toy sailboats, summer boats, electric fans, ventilators, room coolers, flower boxes, holiday novelties, picnic blankets, screens, slat shades, sprinklers, sun glasses, trivets and aprons.

Commodities designated by the price administrator as cost-of-living commodities are: Tobacco, toiletries, sundries, packaged household drugs, infants' food, ice cream, men's and boys' clothing, women's and girls' clothing, infants' clothing, yard goods, footwear, fresh beef, pork, other meat products, canned fruits, vegetables and juices, and other groceries and household sundries, appliances and equipment, furniture, furnishings, hardware, agricultural supplies, ice, fuel and automotive supplies.

THE HOME FRONT

Victory News from the Nebraska Advisory Defense Committee. Those who attended the state air raid warden instructors' school certainly discovered no frills in Nebraska's civilian defense set-up. Not a fan or bubble dancer on the entire program. Students were kept busy from 8 a. m. to 9:30 p. m., each day except Wednesday, June 17, when graduation ceremonies were held at 3 p. m.

Stress naturally was placed on the many general and special duties of air raid wardens, and on gas and fire defense. Control center organization and operation, aircraft warning service, and the air raid warning system were thoroughly covered. Much of the instruction was given by means of demonstrations and specially prepared civilian defense films.

Nebraskans are assured that Robert M. Armstrong, Governor Griswold's newly appointed secretary, is honest. The Armstrongs recently found a carton containing three five-pound sacks of sugar in the back of their car. After recovering from the shock, they returned the precious stuff to the store indicated by an accompanying sales ticket. The rightful owner soon had his sugar. Such action in these rationing days surely proves complete trustiness.

The Nebraska agricultural extension service, under Director Brokaw, is working on its rural fire prevention program with the cooperation of local civilian defense committees. Fire wardens are being appointed in each precinct. Their work will be largely preventive, but in certain districts they may also organize to control prairie and grain fires. Farmers in some Nebraska communities have already received civilian defense fire fighting training. Town fire departments will cooperate with the rural groups.

That an air raid warden's duties are many and diverse is proved by the program of Nebraska's air raid warden instructors' school. Several special lectures were given. Robert J. Stein, M. D., Lincoln psychiatrist, spoke on "Civilian Morale." Keith Martin, director, Kansas City art institute, lectured on "Blackouts and Camouflage." "Map Making" was handled by Robert N. Riddle, state highway engineer.

The Pawnee Chief runs a column, "The Boys in Service," which is filled with news direct from local men in the armed forces. Whole letters are sometimes included. On June 3 the Chief said: "Evidently the boys appreciate their free mailing privileges. At least that's what we surmised when we noticed one envelope that had written in the upper right hand corner, 'Free, Much Obligated.'"

Twentyfour western Nebraska counties were represented at two recent successful nutrition meetings. The first, held at Alliance June 10, drew 116 persons, and 66 attended the North Platte meeting on June 11. At each meeting groups discussed nutrition courses, community needs, working plans, and organization. Existing organizations will be used, where possible, in developing community nutrition programs.

Nebraska consumers should inform themselves about price control regulations in order to cooperate fully with busy merchants. Price Administrator Leon Henderson recently said: "It is no easy task for the retailers in this country to adjust their operations to the price control program and I urge the public to be tolerant of misunderstandings and honest mistakes over the next few weeks. Willful violators will be punished, of course, and penalties are severe."

Authentic price control information may be secured from county war price and rationing boards in Nebraska.

Christian Science Services

"Christian Science" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, on Sunday, June 28.

The Golden Text is: "Laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, as newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby" (1 Peter 2:1,2).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light" (Luke 11:33).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The term Christian Science was introduced by the author to designate the scientific system of divine healing. The revelation consists of two parts: 1. The discovery of this divine Science of Mind-healing, through a spiritual sense of the Scriptures and through the teachings of the Comforter, as promised by the Master. 2. The proof, by present demonstration, that the so-called miracles of Jesus did not specially belong to a dispensation now ended, but that they illustrated an ever-operative divine Principle. The operation of this Principle indicates the eternity of the scientific order and continuity of being" (p. 123).

Services in Woman's club room Sunday at 11.

Allis-Chalmers believes: That WAR BONDS are today's best and safest farm investment.

That American farmers, by buying WAR BONDS every market day, can make total victory the climax to total war.

The quickest and surest way to achieve it is for farmers themselves to take the leadership. That is the aim of the "Win-the-War Bond Contest", sponsored by Allis-Chalmers in cooperation with the U. S. Treasury Department.

Industrial Arts To Locate Talent

Prof. G. T. Williams Tells Kiwanis Members of Need to Train in This Line.

Current Trends in Industrial Education" was the subject of Prof. G. T. Williams' address to the Kiwanis club Monday. The average adult thinks of wood-work when industrial arts is mentioned, but according to Prof. Williams, of the industrial arts department at the Wayne college, there are now two fields, industrial arts and vocational industrial education. Industrial arts in the grades is a means by which children can express themselves and has been needed for many years. In industrial arts, working with metal, leather and wood, affords them an opportunity to try many things. The teachers can find the talents in this broad scope of trials.

Vocational industrial education, offered to senior high students or adult classes, is used to pick trades. The word priorities affects shop work because the more expensive materials have to be left out. The work has to be done with materials easily attained. Students learn to use the one material for many things. The courses are more specialized so pupils do one job well.

Demands of industry are affecting the supply of school teachers, continued the professor. The industrial art teaching positions are being filled by less trained instructors or the smaller schools are taking the departments out.

Prof. Williams told of a teacher who accepted a position at Fort Knox, Ky., in the "blitz" college, leading charge of training men for industrial jobs. From this school 8,000 are graduated in a year and 50 teachers have been taken out of the teaching profession to train men. It is difficult to estimate gain and loss in the schools. to attain the best types of education and meet the needs of America," according to the speaker. Prof. Williams mentioned that the aim of the student is books, scholar knowledge, preacher character, minister service, philosopher truth, artist beauty, epicurean happiness, stoic self control, Christian self denial, democrat self government, statesman cooperation, ruler loyalty, patriot patriotism, judge justice, aged man wisdom, youth achievement, soldier courage, efficiency, banker wealth, dreamer vision, child play, maiden love, man work, friend friendship, teacher personality, biologist growth, psychologist development, sociologist adjustment.

In closing Prof. Williams quoted the following poem: "We are blind until we see that in the human plain nothing is worth the making if it does not make the man. Why build these citizens glorious if man unbuilded goes? In vain we build the world unless the builder also grows."

Dr. Victor West, who was in charge of the program, introduced the speaker. The international Kiwanis convention was held at Cleveland, O., this year from June 14 to 18. Fred G. McAllister of London, Ontario, Canada, was elected president. The convention will be held at Denver, Colo., next year.

NEWS ABOUT THE WAR From Office of Emergency Management

The scrap rubber campaign which continues until June 30 affords real opportunity for every housewife to be of real service to the war front. Hot water bottles, rubber gloves, floor mats, jar rings, tires on baby buggies, rubber heels, rubberized cloth are among the many things wanted. All scrap is taken to filling stations and they in turn sell it to government reclaiming agents. Any excess above the 1c a pound paid for the rubber will go to the USO, army and navy relief or Red Cross.

WPB allows additional elastic fabric for garments for persons whose physical health requires special care.

American babies will ride in carriages but these will be made mainly of wood instead of iron now.

Precious stones have been placed under the price control regulation. Nearly 2,000 kinds of war jobs can be handled in part or entirely by women. They are being trained in machine cutting, press and saw operators, angle benders, coil winders, amplifier grinders, cable splicers, mechanics, helpers and lathe operators. Women and girls are in special demand for stenography and typing. Any wanting such work are asked to fill out blanks at the nearest post office.

WPB is urging a return to use of the old oaken bucket. An order reduces by 30 per cent the amount of iron and steel available for pails and tubs. Metal is available for hoops and handles providing the metal is not more than 15 per cent of the total weight of the article.

WPB is permitting use of coarse carpet wool in manufacture of floor coverings.

A movement is under way to secure adequate supply of farm labor to take care of harvesting in the midwest.

Maximum prices have been placed on boxes and baskets to be used as containers for fruits and vegetables.

Wood is challenging metals for a place on the war front because of development of plastic-plywood. This is made by putting together many sheets of thin wood, their grains crossing at right angles, with synthetic resin glue under heat and pressure. The result is a material which, weight for weight, has a greater tensile strength than steel, greater resistance to fire, oil and water and above all is almost inexhaustible.

Repainting or redecorating without authorization is permitted for maintenance and repair.

It is the patriotic duty of every citizen to keep well. Sickness and injuries have resulted in the loss of six million work days every month.

America is just beginning to work at full speed, according to Donald M. Nelson.

WPB plans to start a campaign in July for recovering and saving an estimated two billion pounds of cooking fats wasted every year. Fats make glycerine and grease which are explosive.

Mrs. Carlos Martin is newly elected secretary-treasurer of the general association. Next year's spring meeting will be in Obert church.

All churches of the district, including Chambers, Tilden, Norfolk, Obert, Wayne and Pilger, were represented. Attendance was good and the program was inspiring. Miss Lettie Archer, missionary from China, gave interesting messages of how mission work is carried on in China in spite of war conditions. The workers move inland.

Besides the three mentioned from Wayne, the local church was represented by Mrs. Clarence McGinn, Miss Margaret Wade, Mrs. G. A. Wade, Mrs. R. B. Standley, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Westberg.

Lieut. Smith has been decorated by both the Chinese government and by his own comrades. He shot down five Jap planes in two encounters, and once he got three in a single day. Outnumbered in many flights, the youth has several times managed to bring a badly damaged plane home safely. Lieut. Smith has been with the "flying tigers" in China for a number of months.

Stefan Seeks Fifth Term to Congress

Work in Washington Will Prevent Him from Much Time at Home.

Karl Stefan

Karl Stefan of Norfolk filed this week for reelection as congressman from this district. Stefan is now serving his fourth term in the house, having first been elected in 1934.

The last legislature redistricted the state, reducing the number of congressmen from five to four. This was made necessary by the drop in population. In the redistricting, Boyd, Holt, Wheeler and Greeley counties were taken out of the Third and placed in the Fourth district. The Third district was given six new counties, all located south of the Platte river. They are Hamilton, Polk, York, Seward, Butler and Saunders.

Congressman Stefan is a member of the appropriations committee, and due to his length of service, is one of the highest ranking members. On account of his work on this committee, it is seldom possible to leave Washington for any length of time, and the voters will not see much of him during the coming campaign.

"It's hot here in Washington," says Karl. "I would like to spend a little time at home and eat some good Nebraska fried chicken. But the appropriations committee must meet almost every day to pass upon the billions of dollars which are necessary to financed our nation in war time. Nothing is important now except winning the war. It is my duty to remain on the job here during this emergency. I hope my friends will write me occasionally, so I can keep in touch with what the people at home are thinking."

Iowans Wed Here.
Harold Schlumbohm and Miss Arma Koll, both of Rapid City, Ia., were married Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at Our Redeemer's Evangelical Lutheran church by Rev. W. F. Most. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson of Sioux Falls, S. D. attended them.

Red Cross Chapter Is Active in Work

Women Are Invited To Help With Sewing at Rooms Two Days a Week.

Wayne county Red Cross chapter is active in production of needed garments for the war emergency.

Mrs. Frank Heine, production chairman, reports completion of 119 skirts for refugees. The chapter has received 196 yards of cotton materials for blouses. These are being cut and are ready for making. Women who can help with the sewing are invited to do so. The rooms are open Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2:30 to 5, and garments may be taken home for finishing if preferred.

Sewing is also organized at Carroll and Winside. Mrs. Ed. Trautwein has charge at Carroll, and Mrs. E. S. Moses and Mrs. F. I. Moses at Winside. Women in those vicinities may secure cut garments from these women.

Sweaters made by Red Cross workers are appreciated by recipients. The following letter from Private Floyd Swenson of Rockford, Ill., who is stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., came this week to Mrs. Heine:

"We men who were so fortunate as to receive hand woven sweaters of the Red Cross unit here in camp were asked to drop the chapter by whom the sweaters were sent a word of thanks and appreciation. I received my sweater last evening and am surprised and highly pleased with the quality and workmanship and evidently faithful labor put into each garment knitted. I wish to thank you very, very warmly for my sweater made by your chapter. Truly the American Red Cross is an institution well worthy of highest praise. Your chapter is a worthy unit of Red Cross and I wish you every good praise and fortune in your untiring work."

Second One Victim Of Fire at Wisner
Mrs. A. G. Behlers, 66, of Wisner, who suffered severe burns May 20 at the home of a son, Albert, died Wednesday last week. Miss Evelyn Glaubius, 19, burned in the same accident, died May 21. Several women had been making soap in the wash house at the Behlers home. As a result of adding kerosene to quicken the fire, an explosion ignited Miss Glaubius' clothing. Mrs. Behlers tried to put out the blaze and was badly burned.

Mrs. Behlers leaves her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Elmer Lueschen, four sons, Lee, Albert, Ervin and Theodore, one sister, Mrs. John Lutjen of Pender, and two brothers, Ferdinand and Wm. Reich of Pender. Funeral rites were Friday at Wisner.

Home Near Wisner Destroyed by Fire

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the farm home and most of the contents Tuesday night last week at the Ervin Strudthoff place seven miles northwest of Wisner. Cries of the baby wakened Mrs. Strudthoff about 11 o'clock and enabled her to get the three children to safety.

Mr. Strudthoff had gone to the home of his parents for a party. Mrs. Strudthoff, not feeling well, stayed home with the children. When the blaze was discovered, Mrs. Strudthoff took the children to the barn and then ran to a neighbor's for help. As the first neighbor was not home, she had to go farther. By the time the Wisner department arrived, the house could not be saved. Some clothing and a few pieces of furniture were rescued.

At the request of the family, an investigation was conducted and the fire was pronounced of accidental origin.

Chet Walters was in Lincoln Saturday.

Youth Takes Crack At Italian Warships

Women Are Invited To Help With Sewing at Rooms Two Days a Week.

Lieut. Bill Dwyer, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dwyer of Randolph, was one of three Nebraska fliers who took part in the Mediterranean battle last week.

The youth who got a crack at Italy's warships, started his career as flier at Norfolk where he took the civil pilot training work in 1940. He was quiet and intensely in earnest about his training. Instructors stated, Dwyer received his private license in January, 1941. He enlisted in the air corps in February, 1941, and went overseas May 25 this year.

Dwyer grew up on a farm and was graduated from St. Francis high school in Randolph.

William E. Johnson Files for Congress

Former Wayne Resident Is Seeking Office From First District.

William E. Johnson, Lincoln, lieutenant governor, filed Saturday as republican candidate for congress from First district. Johnson formerly lived in Wayne.

The state official was recently rejected for a commission in the navy air corps because of physical reasons.

Johnson, 36, was first elected lieutenant governor in 1938 when he defeated Terry Carpenter. He was reelected in 1940, receiving the largest vote ever given a candidate for state office other than governor.

"The all important issue in this campaign," Johnson said, "is the successful prosecution of the war. For more than a year, I have assisted in preparation for the war effort by encouraging the development of aviation training facilities and also in the procurement of qualified young men for the air forces."

Johnson has recently learned to fly and is now president of the Aeronautical Association of Nebraska and a director of the National Aeronautical association, Lincoln chapter. He has been active in assisting in increasing the number of flight training centers in the state and in assisting the air services in the procurement of aviation cadets. He is married and has four children.

Fifty-three Years Ago. From Ponca Journal for June 27, 1889: Dr. Wilkinson, Dakota county treasurer, had one of his legs badly broken when he was thrown from a buggy by a runaway team.

Amputation of the leg may be necessary. A man came to town with a wagon load of fire extinguishers.

To show the effect of the method by which he could extinguish fire, he built a sort of coop in the street, filled it with straw and saturated it with kerosene.

Then he set fire to this and made a great blaze. When he had a great conflagration, he turned on the extinguisher to show its worth.

Then bystanders built a ten times bigger fire. When this was as hot as the second edition of hades, the man was invited to use his apparatus.

He squirted and squirted. Sometimes he seemed to get ahead of the fire but more often the fire was ahead of him.

The fire continued to rage and roar. The conclusion is that a fire that could be put out with six pails of water could also be extinguished with the man's apparatus.

But for a regular first class fire the medicinal auxiliaries are six.

While ushers lighted tapers for the candlelight ceremony, Miss Donna Underhill sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." The bride and groom were accompanied by the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Alfred Harms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess gown of white nylon set off with lace panels, long flowing sleeves, sweetheart neckline and short train. The fingertip veil was caught in a halo of lace. The bride wore a light, gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white Bible with a message of gardenias and streamers of staphenotis.

Need To Protect Against Raids Is Shown In School

The importance of air raid precautions for small midwestern towns was stressed at the state school of instruction conducted in Lincoln from Sunday through Wednesday last week under sponsorship of the American Legion.

County Supt. F. B. Decker represented Wayne county and will provide the instruction gained to various groups throughout this area. The fact that the middle west is not protected with defenses may make this area more vulnerable to raids than highly guarded centers.

The need for blacking out small towns in case of raids was stressed as advisable because such lights could serve as guides to darkened strategic points. Location of such centers would be an easy task with the aid of maps and lighted small towns.

The reason that smoking is not permitted in blackouts, the men were informed, is that in normal atmosphere a lighted match can be seen at a distance of six to eight miles. On clear nights the light of a match is visible as far as 20 miles.

Kinds of gases, defense against gas and the use of gas masks were included in the instruction. The men practiced the use of masks. Detailed instruction was given in setting up air raid warning systems. The group had instruction in various types of incendiary and explosive bombs and the means of protecting against these.

Motion pictures were used for this work, and one of these showed the worst London raid, that of December 29, 1940.

Blackouts and camouflage were explained in detail. FBI men also spoke on subversive activity, espionage and sabotage. Instructors were mainly Legion men who had attended a similar school conducted under supervision of the army. All states are organizing or have organized this training and defense councils will sponsor further distribution of instruction.

The Legion was asked by the president to promote this training. Governor Dwight Griswold spoke at the closing session and presented a certificate to each of the 136 attending.

Miss Patty Love went to Sioux Falls, S. D., Friday to visit a few weeks. Dr. and Mrs. D. N. Banton, with whom she visits, met her in Sioux City.

McPheeran Youths In Pacific Zone And Navy School

The Adam McPheeran received word from their son, Harold, who is with the United States marines in the Pacific war zone. In the letter, which was dated June 1, Harold said he was fine and a little browner on account of the climate. He told that a group of the boys had breakfast with the natives, who sang for them and danced native rhythms. The meal consisted of bananas, other fruits and the native drink.
Archie L. McPheeran, another son of the Wayne folks, was graduated from the Athletic Instructors' school at Norfolk, Va., June 5. This training school for athletic directors to carry out the physical fitness program of the navy is headed by Commander Gene Tunney. The Wayne boy was coach the past year at Pierce, Neb., and started his training at Norfolk, Va., April 22. He has been chosen to remain on the school staff as an instructor. As soon as one of four new naval bases opens up, he will be sent to take charge of a company of men. These new bases are located in Idaho, California, Maryland and New York.

The program, in charge of the former heavy weight champion, is to make the navy the service with the highest possible physical fitness with due regard to normal duty, to assist in maintaining the highest state of morale by providing skilled leadership for recreation and physical fitness activities in the navy, to provide adequate facilities to keep the navy physically fit and to act in a supervisory capacity when actual instruction is not needed, to educate the personnel of the navy in methods whereby physical fitness may be attained. The primary purpose of the physical fitness program was to condition the 30 percent found in poor physical condition into able-bodied seamen and also to keep the other 70 percent in good physical condition.

Marriage Service Is Performed Here

Miss Juanita Belle Fisher Bride of Harold Pallas At Church Sunday.

A pretty candle-light ceremony performed in the First Methodist church at 8:30 Sunday evening, saw Miss Juanita Belle Fisher become the bride of Harold Pallas of South Sioux City. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Geo. Beebe before an altar banked with fresh flowers, ferns and candles.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Artie Fisher, wore a white chiffon floor-length gown, with lace yoke and lace inserts at the waist. The sleeves were long and full. Her finger-tip length veil, edged in lace, was caught at the temples with orange blossoms. She wore a gold locket, gift of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Lorraine Asmus, was dressed in floor-length light blue organza made with a lace yoke and short puffed sleeves. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pallas of South Sioux City, wore a teal blue suit and had a white carnation boutonniere. Milton Pallas, South Sioux City, brother of the bridegroom, served as his attendant. He also wore a teal blue suit and a white carnation boutonniere.

Miss Bonnie Lou Fisher, small sister of the bride, dressed in blue satin dress and carrying a white candle, and Frank Pallas, brother of the bridegroom, dressed in white and carrying a blue candle, lit the candles at the altar before the service began.

Miss Margaret Pallas, sister of the bridegroom, served as ring-bearer. She wore a blue organza dress and carried the ring on a blue satin pillow.

The ring-bearer was followed to the altar by the bridegroom and his attendant, who waited there while Connie Sue Troutman, flower girl, dressed in blue organza and carrying a white lace basket with blue ribbon inserts, preceded the bride and her attendants down the aisle.

Kenneth Slingerman, cousin of the bride, sang, "I Love You Truly," before the ceremony. Miss Eulalie Brugger played the wedding march.

Daniel Pallas, a brother of the bridegroom, and Gordon Fisher, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

A reception was held in the church basement following the ceremony. About 125 were present. The tables were decorated in blue and white, the bride's colors. The bride's table had a three-tier wedding cake, baked by the bride's mother, and blue and white individual nutcrs. On each side of the cake were blue candles. Brick ice cream with the name of the bride and bridegroom in blue was served.

Miss Arlene Asmus, Miss Marie Post, Miss Margaret Harper, Miss Norma Jean Gillispie and Miss Ruth Gormley served as waitresses. They were dressed in white dresses with blue aprons.

Songs and readings were given by various persons at the reception.

NEBRASKANS HAVE A RIGHT TO KNOW THE RIGHT ANSWERS!

Q. What truth is there in the statement that there is as much bootlegging today as there was under prohibition, when bootlegging flourished?

A. There is no truth to the statement, particularly as to conditions here in Nebraska. During prohibition days, there were many large "stills," operated by gangs, which produced great quantities of cheap, poisonous liquor to supply the bootleg trade. Since repeal, there have been virtually no "stills" operating in Nebraska. There have been some isolated cases of bootlegging, but nothing as compared with conditions that prevailed during prohibition. It is a fact known to enforcement officers that when legalized sales are voted out, the bootlegger moves in.

Q. What about the idea some people have—that beer should be forbidden to soldiers, in camps and elsewhere?

A. Secretary of War Stimson said: "The War Department is convinced that temperance cannot be attained by prohibition. Experience has proven that the present policy of the Department is the most effective way to insure temperance." Secretary of the Navy Knox said such prohibition would be "a suppression and invasion of American rights." Beer was specifically exempted from General Pershing's order to the first A. E. F. in France, prohibiting certain beverages.

Q. What use does the State of Nebraska make of the more than $450,000 received annually from taxes on legal beer?

A. This revenue, amounting to about one-twentieth of all tax revenues received by the state, is used for:

- Old Age Assistance
- Aid to Dependent Children
- Aid to the Blind
- Child Welfare Services
- Aid to Crippled Children
- Distribution of Surplus Commodities

Three Restaurants Ready Each Day to Serve Man Enroute to Work.

An automobile, near Charleston, S. C., out of control left the road, climbed an embankment, knocked down a wire fence, ploughed through the side of a house into a bedroom, and jarred a sleeping girl from her bed. The car finally came to rest in a hallway amid a litter of timbers and half the bathroom fixtures. The driver, the girl and her sister were injured, but not seriously.

Three restaurants have places ready for Sam Feltenheimer each morning and he needs them all. One supplies his orange juice, the next his oatmeal, and the third his coffee as he strolls down to the bus stop.

Wherry Files for The U. S. Senate

Kenneth S. Wherry who operates farms, a law office, a Ford agency and a hardware, furniture and undertaking business from an office in a corner of the Wherry Bros. store in Pawnee City, has announced his candidacy for the United States senate on the republican ticket.

Wherry, whose 1910 candidates' caravan and intense party organization received national recognition and secured for him the appointment by National Chairman Joseph W. Martin of western director of the party in 22 states, told the state central committee meeting at Hastings that he was resigning as state chairman to make the senate race.

Wherry said that "the first objective of the American people and their representatives should be to overcome and disarm those nations whose political philosophy is aggressively incompatible with the American form of government, American standards of living and individual freedom. America's most powerful weapon is overwhelming production and this power should be developed to its fullest extent by efficient, courageous and unified effort of every American. The necessary efficiency in the war effort which will bring the war to a successful termination at the earliest moment with a minimum loss of American lives and property, can only be accomplished if political leaders abandon their efforts to burden the war effort for political advantage and to sponsor controversial political, social and economic reforms."

A BUSTED HOT WATER BOTTLE MAY HELP WIN THE WAR!

REMEMBER the old time ballad which says, "For the want of a rider a battle was lost?" Well, we're not going to lose this war, but a leaky hot water bottle may supply the extra ounce of scrap rubber that will more quickly give the Axis the ax.

Uncle Sam wants that old rubber right now!

Yes, the government wants every disused or worn out article made of rubber that can be sent to the nation's stock pile, and wants you to help get it there in a hurry.

Oil Industry is collecting it!
Starting June 15th, and continuing through June 30th, gasoline stations from coast to coast will help collect scrap rubber and will pay...

A penny a pound in spot cash for every pound contributed by you... so take all the old rubber

you can collect to the nearest gas station today. None of the oil companies will receive one penny profit for this service to the nation. Through the cooperation and efforts of thousands of dealers and gasoline company employees, the scrap rubber will be turned over to the government and will be paid for by Uncle Sam on the basis of $25 per ton (2000 pounds). The difference between the amount paid by the oil companies and the amount paid by the government has been pledged to the USO, Navy Relief, Army Relief and American Red Cross.

May help avert gasoline rationing in Central West
Since a shortage of rubber is considered the main reason for the threatened rationing of gasoline in the central states, this is one important way to do your part, and it may help ward off the need for curtailment of this vital commodity.
