Stroke Is Fatal At Wayne Home

Rites Are Conducted Here For Mrs. Alvina Korff Sunday Afternoon.

Mrs. Alvina Korff, 77, suffered a fatal stroke of apoplexy Wednesday afternoon, June 24 about 5:30 when out in the yard at her home in Wayne, Mrs. Korff and her daughter, Mrs. Anna Soehner, had enjoyed visitors in their home that afternoon. Afterward Mrs. Korff went to the yard to look at her flowers and she was taken suddenly ill. A doctor was summoned immediately but she did not regain consciousness and died within a few minutes.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 from the home and at 2:30 from St. Paul Lutheran church with Rev. G. Gieschen and the Hilscock mortuary in charge. Mrs. R. C. Hahlbeck and Mrs. Robert Nelson sang "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and "Rock of Ages." Committal followed in Greenwood cemetery where the Legion Auxiliary had rites.

Alvina Thies, daughter of Albert Thies and Lona Scharp Thies, was born near Nebraska City January 13, 1865, and thus reached the age of 77 years, 15 months and 11 days. She was baptized in infancy into the Christian faith. She grew to young womanhood in Otoe county and was confirmed by Rev. W. Rosenstengel April 2, 1882.

Deceased was married to John Henry Korff at Nebraska City December 25, 1884. Twelve children were born to this union, 10 of whom survive.

In 1923 the Korff family moved to Cedar county where they lived until 1918 when they came to Wayne, their home since. Mr. Korff died December 28, 1927. One son, Carl, was killed in action in France during the World war, six days before the Armistice was signed. Another son, Fred, died in 1935.

AN ABUNDANCE OF RAIN IN JUNE IS BIG AID TO CROPS

WHILE June has been unseasonably cool for corn, moisture has been ample and the ground is in shape to contribute to luxuriant growth. The same month last year was free from hot weather, but subsequent months made up for that delinquency, and crops were abundant. The rainfall of the past month exceeds that of a year ago. Last year July was ahead of June in moisture, and August was not far behind. The soaked condition of the soil at this time gives large promise, and it is hoped no calamity comes along to interfere and frustrate expectations. Rains have usually been gentle and trickled deep into the ground. The theory expressed by experts during drought years that we would never again have sufficient moisture has been effectually exploded. The ones who believed in cycles of dry and wet years have been supported by experience.

Filings to Close In State Today

Number of Candidates Here Is Smaller Than Usual For County Office.

Filings for Wayne county offices close this Thursday evening, and to date the political posts have not proved very popular. Primaries are set for August 11.

Phil H. Kohl filed Monday as candidate for secretary of state on the democratic ticket. He entered his name in Wayne county, though he is now in Lincoln.

Frank Erlebeen became a candidate Monday for reelection as commissioner in district One. He is on the republican ticket.

Tom Pryor filed Saturday on the democratic ticket as candidate for commissioner in Third district.

Frank F. Korff, clerk of the district court, and J. J. Steels, treasurer, entered their names on the democratic ticket as candidates for reelection.

Youths Register In Wayne County

Men in Twenty-Year Group Will Likely Be Called To Service in Fall.

The local draft board registered 131 young men between 18 and 20 at the local office Saturday and Tuesday. Winside reports 26 and totals from Carroll and Hoskins have not been received. The board anticipated that 255 would be in this age group for the fifth registration, and this goal will likely be reached. As men were allowed to register at any place, cards for some will be transferred here from other points.

The 20-year-olds may be called for induction by fall, according to Gen. Guy N. Henninger. Boards will meet July 20 to place men of this age on file according to serial numbers, the oldest first. In case of identical birthdays, cards will be arranged alphabetically. Questionnaires will be sent soon to the men who are 20.

Men under 20 are not liable for military service and probably will not be classified until they reach that age.

First Essential Is to Win War

Dr. J. R. Johnson Stresses Sacrifice as Need in Keeping Freedom.

"Our Heritage and Our Responsibility" was the subject of the address given by Dr. J. R. Johnson Wednesday morning at a patriotic program in college chapel. "The four freedoms are our heritage and it is our responsibility to keep them."

Dr. Johnson contrasted the present with the first Fourth he can recall. He bought a whistle, shot a few firecrackers and planned to save a dime for a medicine show but found he had lost the admission price so he was satisfied with the free act.

Three nations have observed their independence in July, Canada which gained dominion status July 1, France which has in the past observed Bastille day July 14 and America whose Declaration of Independence was signed July 4. "The price of liberty is eternal vigilance and France is now paying for relaxing her vigilance," stated the speaker.

"Today we are locked in a life and death struggle to preserve democracy. Each should pledge himself to do everything he can to maintain this freedom."

Dr. Johnson traced the history of the American freedoms and showed that struggle and sacrifice have always been the price paid. High motives rather than greed have prompted this nation.

Three million Americans first established this democracy which has grown to a position of great world influence. Pioneering required adaptability and courage. The present crisis requires more rapid adjustment than ever before. The immediate job is to win the war. "America is to have and to hold if we show pioneer courage and sacrifice," concluded Dr. Johnson.

Prof. John R. Keith presented the string ensemble in "Serenade" from "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" by Haydn, and horn quartet in "Hunter's Chorus" from "Der Frieschutz," by Weber. These groups led the audience in singing "Star Spangled Banner" at close of the program.

Offenbach; "My Bonnie," Paul Yoder; "Star Spangled Banner."

Ask for Volunteers. Any who wish to volunteer their assistance in registering those applying for canning sugar July 8 at Wayne auditorium are asked to leave their names at the Chamber of Commerce.

FOR FOURTH Since the Fourth holiday falls on Saturday, Wayne business houses will remain open Friday evening to accommodate customers. Farms will observe the holiday. Residents of the area are urged to take advantage of the Friday evening opening to secure supplies for the weekend.

Former Carroll Man Sentenced

R. R. Miller Pleads Guilty To Embezzlement Charge In District Court.

R. R. Miller, 33, arraigned before District Judge A. E. Wenke here late Tuesday afternoon, pleaded guilty to charge of embezzling $4,032.28 in funds belonging to the village of Carroll. He was sentenced to serve 18 months on each of seven counties, the sentences to run concurrently. He is also assessed a fine in twice the amount of the sum embezzled and to pay costs. Sheriff J. H. Pile took Miller to Lincoln Wednesday to start serving time.

Court proceedings filed last November 25 by Mayor E. G. Stephens charged that Miller, who served as manager of a light plant at Carroll for about a year, in seven occasions converted to his own use funds which he collected for light and water bills there. The dates and amounts follow: November 4, 1940, $186.30; December 2, 1940, $91.23; January 31, 1941, $379.17; March 3, 1941, $321.45; April 20, 1941, $120.84; May 5, 1941, $84.81; June 2, 1941, $219.48.

After Miller admitted the shortage, the Carroll board agreed to allow him to remain in the employ of the village and to repay $45 a month from his salary. Miller stayed a couple of months and paid on the amount. Then he disappeared.

Miller, who was employed on a dairy farm in the west, was apprehended at Tacoma, Wash., recently. Sheriff Pile went to Tacoma a couple of weeks ago and brought him here for trial.

In county court last week Miller waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to district court with bond fixed at $2,900. He was unable to furnish bond.

As Miller was without means to employ counsel, the court appointed Harry E. Siman to appear in behalf of defendant. County Attorney Burr R. Davis prosecuted the case.

After hearing the case, Judge Wenke entered the sentence and directed the sheriff to execute this forthwith.

Overrules New Trials.

The district judge overruled two motions for new trial in the case of Doris Fay and Alma May Carlson against R. W. Bartels, administrator of the estate of Nels Carlson. Last week the court ruled that evidence shows that the two girls are daughters of Carlson and should have a share in his estate. They were awarded the sum of $8,250. G. Oldenburg, consul of Sweden, and Administrator Bartels filed motions for new trials and both these were overruled. Both excepted.

June Maintains Record for Rain

Sharp Lightning in Sunday Morning Storm Strikes With Minor Damage.

June maintained its record of bringing a good quantity of moisture to this area. The amount as recorded at the State National bank is 5.22 inches, this being about the average for the month. A record kept at the bank shows that since 1914 the heaviest rainfall in June came in 1924 when 8.07 was the total. The smallest was 1.08 in 1933.

Rainfall records in Wayne for the month just past are as follows: June 1, .38; June 6, .30; June 10, .20; June 16, .10; June 22, .30; June 29, 2.20; June 28, .70. In June, 1941, the month's total was 2.75.

In the Saturday night and Sunday rains this week, Wakefield reports .55 of an inch, Winside .87 and Carroll 1 inch.

Sharp lightning accompanied the Sunday morning rain in Wayne. A transformer and meter were burned but near the Dallas Gifford place south of Wayne. Several fuses were knocked out in Wayne.

Showers fell Wednesday to start the July record.

Rainfall for 1942 to date has reached the total of 10.81. The same months last year brought 11.94. The entire year of 1941 gave 26.46 which was the greatest amount of moisture recorded here in any 12-month period in the record kept since 1914. The smallest precipitation for the years was 12.23 in 1939.

Rubber Campaign Moving Forward

Chairman C. C. Stirtz Asks All to Search Premises To Increase Total.

Wayne county now has about 40 tons of rubber to add to the quantity being raised in the national salvage drive. This includes amounts from Wayne and Winside. Other towns will report soon.

C. C. Stirtz, county chairman, expects that the county will collect at least 50 tons in the campaign.

Since the response over the country in June failed to produce the quantity of rubber needed, President Roosevelt has extended the drive through July 10. Everyone is urged to search premises for all possible scraps of rubber and turn these in at some service station. A cent a pound will be paid for the rubber.

THREAT TO REVIVE NIGHTLY NUISANCE OF USELESS NOISE

DURING nights preceding the Fourth a year ago, some mischievous boys bombarded the air with torpedoes and firecrackers to the harassment of sleepers, especially the sick. Fuses were used in setting off the explosives so that their escape well beyond the scene of the noise. Thus, cops had difficulty in detecting and overhauling the guilty, and, as we recall, no prosecutions took place. Setting off explosives last Saturday night, frequently repeated until nearly morning, suggests likely repetition of the annoying delivment. Firing any form of explosive within the city limits is clearly in violation of a local ordinance with due penalty fixed. There are plenty of ways to employ excess energy in these times without deliberately defying a city ordinance and acting in opposition to pre-described rules.

Holding of Fair Still Uncertain

Wayne County Board Meets On Monday to Consider Question Further.

In view of the fact that state and county fairs have been ruled out during the war emergency, the question of holding the annual fair in Wayne county is still undecided. The fair board met Friday evening to discuss the matter but voted to convene again next Monday, July 6, to consider the question further. In the meantime members of the board will seek public opinion on the matter. It is also expected that additional word may be received from Washington by that time.

Defense Transportation Director Joseph Eastman last Thursday issued the order that fairs are to be cancelled for the war duration as a means of saving rubber. Cars and trucks farmers now have must last until new sources of rubber are developed, Eastman explained.

In a later statement Eastman explained that there might be situations in which it would not be necessary to cancel fairs. If the trip to the fair were not farther than to market, if the bulk of transportation could be handled by travel systems already in operation and if the fair dates are so early as to make postponement impracticable, the director agreed that festivals might be held.

Congressman Karl Stefan in congress urged that all entertainment be treated alike. If fairs are to be cancelled, he demanded that professional racing and other sports also be put for the duration. "Farm communities are willing to cancel fairs and 4-H activities providing the same treatment is accorded to all," Stefan stated.

Wayne county fair was set this year for late August.

All trainees will be enlisted in the army air corps on a reserve basis. They are expected to go on to advanced training at the conclusion of the program here. If men are available to fill the quotas, similar courses will be given throughout the year.

No Superior Race.

A mere excuse for self-assurance may be found in the belief that one's nationality is superior and that all others are inferior. As a matter of fact, it is the quality of the individual, not his national origin that counts in the march of civilization. People are good or bad regardless of race connections.

Dictatorships, bent on war and conquest, have carefully cultivated brute instincts. They dull fine sensibilities in the hope of gaining objectives through force. On the other hand, free peoples, engaged in peaceful pursuits, and without thought of international banditry, are not at once prepared in spirit no more than in training and equipment to meet the ruthless agents of oppression and slavery. It is necessary to be steered to kill and destroy in order to perpetuate human liberties. It is necessary to adopt a measure of savagery in conflict with Christianity in order to preserve the ideals of Christianity and the ways of independent aspirations. It is not race source, but heredity and environment, differing in individuals without color of nationality, that fashion character and radiate beauty or ugliness.

Proposed Consolidation.

A union of churches is proposed to develop greater strength. Divergence in religious views is based on man-made rites. All agree on essential spiritual values which presuppose freedom of conscience and freedom of worship. The end is the same. Any instrumentalism that aims at one supernal destination and whose influence is consistent with unselfish living standards would seem sufficient. The church must be made stronger than ever to guard against destructive ugliness aimed at it by enemy evils now in a titanic clash with the forces of liberty.

To Join Armed Forces.

Dr. C. F. Dienst, deputy state superintendent, former head of the Wayne city school, has received a call to join the country's armed forces. He has taken a leave of absence from his state-house responsibility. It was hoped he would be in position to enter the race for the state superintendency to succeed the present incumbent, Chas. V. Taylor, who, however, has filed for renomination after having served since 1926. Two top candidates in the primary will be pitted against each other in the election. We regret that Dr. Dienst is but of the running. No man in the state is better informed about school matters or is more sincerely devoted to the training and welfare of young persons. As a major in the army, he will impart a proper conception of human values to young persons under his command.

Useful Young People.

Encouraging reports come from widely separated sections of the country to the effect that young persons who are not old enough to join the armed forces, are giving much of their time and energy to tasks they are able to perform in behalf of the war effort. Rather than loaf and play, they are helping on farms and in other places where scarcity of labor has developed by reason of the military obligation. These young persons will be better suited for useful citizenship.

Children should be persuaded to modify diversions in the interest of wholesome balance in their lives. They have more facilities for amusement and recreation every day than their fathers and grandfathers had on rarely provided gala occasions. Work that will send (Continued on Page Six)

THE KNOT-HOLE

Vol. 9 Wayne, Nebr., Thurs., July 2, 1942 No. 2 "We were surrounded by natives," he related the explorer. "They uttered savage cries, danced madly and beat the earth with their clubs."

"Sounds like golf," said the bored listener.

As war demands increase, the amount of goods available for civilians will decrease. War goods must be transported from one place to another, which means that fewer freight cars will be available for civilian goods.

This simple adds up to the fact that there will not be many freight cars to haul coal next fall. Everyone who can should fill their bins now, leaving the bins of the coal dealers free to handle the coal of those who cannot possibly buy coal at this time. Remember - this is war.

When you paint you don't paint for today alone, but for a good many tomorrows as well. That is why it pays to buy good paint, for that is the only kind that stands up on any building. Glidden is the "Tested" paint, the kind you see advertised in your regular magazines. And by the way, have you seen "Color for America" yet?

"I don't seem able to tell my garden plants from their neighbors. How do you distinguish between them?" "The only sure way is to pull them up. If they come up as a plant, they're weeds."

The only way to be sure you are going to have the buildings you need, when you need them now. Come in and talk over your building problems with us. It always pays to play safe.

"Vot is ethics? Vell, I will show you. Suppose a lady comes into the store, buys a lot of goods and pays me ten dollars to much. Then ethics come in. Should I or should I not tell my partner?"

Win the War First. It is plain to practical thinkers that the first and chief essential right now is to win the war, and that to save the world from unseizable bondage, it must be done regardless of sacrifices imposed.

Relief from exhausting war will ease the hard road back to a peaceful basis, but it will not be a joy ride. On the contrary, it will require cool judgment and steady hands. Touching the after-war period, and the frequently expressed idealism in high Washington circles, the current Nation's Business makes this observation:

That the people should do for the government and not the government for the people is forcibly suggested by an editorial in Sunday's World-Herald.

Spending and spending and electing and electing won't win battles. Only doing and doing and fighting and fighting can do that.

But the indictment returned by the military committee of the house indicates that we at home—we and our government—are still unable to grasp the realities of war.

The mistake made by those organizations and individuals who have undertaken to abolish poverty is proceeding upon the assumption that the sole cause of poverty is to be found in the economic field.

Our concern is not so much for more benefits for labor organizations as for the perpetuation of the business and industrial units that furnish employment.

Don't think people haven't got your number. They know whether you ring true or false, whether you will come up to the scratch and do what you say you will do, or whether you are a staller and sidestep.

Advertising Means Freedom. There is a close and vital connection between advertising and the freedom of the press. In fact, it is impossible to conceive of a free press without the freedom of advertising.

On the climb through most of last week, swine values edged even higher Monday and Tuesday on the Sioux City market.

only way to an easy conscience and safe landings is to tell the truth unless tact suggests keeping silent.

Radio announcers emphasize disagreement in pronouncements. Two correct forms in conflict give annoyance. One announcer says Se-vas-to-pol and another Se-vas-top-ol.

A national ban on Fourth of July fireworks, firecrackers and other explosives to save essential powder for the war effort would seem in order.

Some one suggests turning in rubber stamps to meet the rubber shortage. Then the minority in congress would suddenly become the majority.

Advertising Means Freedom. (Omaha Journal-Stockman)

There is a close and vital connection between advertising and the freedom of the press. In fact, it is impossible to conceive of a free press without the freedom of advertising.

Speaking before the Advertising Federation of America a few days ago Thomas E. Dewey declared "There can be no freedom without a free press, and there can be no free press unless it is able to print its papers without subsidy from any man, any single industry, or any government.

Some there are who would restrict and circumscribe the privileges of advertisers. In fact this is a hobby of some bureaucrats who conceive it to be their duty to regulate the commercial, industrial and social life of America.

A free press is one of the "four freedoms" for which we are spending blood and treasure today and unrestricted advertising is a prerequisite of a free press.

The Breaking Point. (Industrial Press Service)

You remember the fable about killing the goose that laid the golden egg. According to Donald Nelson, Chairman of the War Production Board, America seems to be in danger of committing the same mistake.

"The 94 per cent tax must be paid in cash," he wrote, "but the profits are not cash. They are 'book' profits, including inventory, price rises and other items which may never materialize.

Industry was one of the first groups in the country to insist that taxes be placed at rates so high that only enough money would be left over for survival.

But Mr. Nelson objects to the tax on other grounds as well. "Such a tax," he wrote, "is likely to result in a reduction of efficiency in the conduct of business and may even endanger the full success of our war production program."

If they can do that, if they can use their enormous wartime plant capacity for making peacetime goods, chances are that instead of a prolonged post-war depression, America can go forward to the highest standard of living we have ever known.

Abolishing Poverty. (Lincoln Journal)

The mistake made by those organizations and individuals who have undertaken to abolish poverty is proceeding upon the assumption that the sole cause of poverty is to be found in the economic field.

The vagaries and weaknesses of human nature are responsible in a great degree for the poverty of many. Indulgence in drink and drugs that have not only sapped earnings but decreased the earning power, contribute heavily to the low economic condition of great masses.

When Lincoln was a wide open town the chief support of vice came from the working classes. When Attorney General Sorensen utilized the powers of the county to stop gambling at Omaha races he presented evidence to show that as a result of such indulgences many families were impoverished and merchants unable to collect for the necessities of life furnished families of addicts.

Fifty-five percent of the national income is represented by wages and salaries paid to workers, yet the majority of those who reach sixty-five years, the life insurance companies report, belong in the dependent class.

Convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses in connection with spiritualistic seances in Omaha, three persons were given 30-day jail sentences.

TO BE CONSISTENT.

Calling over commodity prices is accepted as a desirable safeguard against the dangers of inflation, but limitations on wages are considered equally important.

them to bed early and bring them to meals with robust appetites is wonderfully salutary.

It is regretted that boys—suppose they were boys—who disturbed Wayne neighborhoods by shooting firecrackers contrary to a city ordinance and in violation of generally accepted decencies, through the night and until early Sunday morning, could not devote their habits with present day responsibilities.

Makes Suggestions In Labor Problem

Harvesting of small grain is a bigger problem for many farmers in Wayne, Pierce and Stanton counties than ever before, especially for farmers who do not own full harvest equipment.

To solve this problem, in the face of labor shortage and the lack of storage space, Mr. Verzal offers some suggestions. Farmers will small acreages of oats and barley might bind the crop before it is ripe enough to combine.

Community or cooperative use of harvest equipment is urged as one way to beat the labor problem and to utilize each item of equipment in a vicinity.

Mr. Verzal cautioned against neighbors with limited resources bidding against each other for scarce and high-priced labor.

On the climb through most of last week, swine values edged even higher Monday and Tuesday on the Sioux City market. Second day of the week brought a good run of 9,600. Largest of the season and biggest for June in a number of years, but for all that the top moved a nickel higher than Monday.

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is infinite, the only Life, substance, Spirit, or Soul, the only intelligence of the universe, including man. . . God is what the Scriptures declare Him to be.—Life, Truth, Love. Spirit is divine Principle, and divine Principle is Love, and Love is Mind, and Mind is not both good and bad, for God is Mind, therefore there is in reality one Mind only, because there is one God" (p. 330). Build New Wall.

A new concrete wall is being built to replace the iron railing around the basement stairs at the First National bank building.

Karl Liewer of Osmond, has been appointed a cadet to West Point military academy.

Major in Reserve Is Called to Duty

Dr. C. F. Dienst, Lincoln, deputy state superintendent and former head of Wayne school, a major in the infantry reserve, has been ordered into active service and will report at Lowry Field, Denver, July 4. Dr. Dienst, who has leave of absence from his duties in the superintendent's office, will not be replaced immediately, according to State Supt. C. W. Taylor.

Dr. Dienst rose to the rank of captain in the last war, in which he saw service through the Argonne and St. Michel offensives and with the army of occupation in Germany.

Dr. Dienst has been active in the reserve corps since the Armistice and with the C. M. T. C. at Fort Crook.

Civilian Defense Must Be Success

Chairman Ralph M. Carhart Explains Volunteer Plan For Kiwanis Club.

Civilian defense has to be effective. If local volunteers do not accomplish this objective, federal authorities will step in and make the program successful. This necessity of bringing about results in civilian defense was explained Monday to Kiwanians by R. M. Carhart, Wayne county chairman. Rationing, once a part of civilian defense, is now divorced from this, the speaker told. When the defense program was first set up, it consisted of the county chairman and five committees. Now the organization has been standardized with a county chairman and executive committee supervising work of various divisions, such as protection, services, volunteers, etc.

Airplane spotting, one of the duties of civilian defense, is now in effect only in areas about 30 miles wide along the coasts. "If we do not through volunteer service provide such duties when the call comes, the government will designate others to do so," Mr. Carhart explained. Defense through civilian volunteers is a better situation than federal control.

Such activities are expensive in time and money in case this is a short war. But, providing the war should be long, the effort and cost would then seem small. Mr. Carhart told that Patrick Hughes of Washington, D. C., visited Wayne Friday to check over the defense setup. He was well pleased with progress and suggested only minor changes.

Wayne county has about 700 volunteers registered for various duties, and Mr. Hughes explained that this area should provide at least 2,500 helpers. He suggested that if necessary an office girl be secured through WPA to care for enrollment and cataloging so that various services might be readily available in case of need.

The visitor was well pleased with training provided. Through the Red Cross, first aid and home nursing classes have been conducted. It is urged that this instruction be taken by many more because doctors will be called for service. Such training provides for emergencies that might arise, especially when physicians become scarce. Nebraska has 350 doctors in the armed forces and more will be called.

F. B. Decker has taken air raid warning instruction which will be passed on. Firemen have had special training. Logport men have guarded the airport. Many volunteers must feel the obligation to learn about services they can render and must volunteer these services, the speaker explained.

The Pacific coast learned the need of training to avoid hazards. Blackouts there resulted in confusion and trouble until volunteers were trained.

Mr. Carhart asked that every individual offer some service in civilian defense.

The speaker was introduced by C. L. Pickett.

The club voted to make summer attendance at Kiwanis optional. The men will dine together each Monday and may occasionally have programs.

War Effort Intense. The constant roar of patrol planes, the sight of hundreds of balloons floating over most vulnerable spots, vast construction of ships and employment of thousands of men and women in defense work make one realize the seriousness of the war situation, writes Vernon H. Cassel, who went to Los Angeles recently from Wayne. People in the west show no evidence of the "jitters." They realize a big task is to be done and everyone is doing his share to accomplish results.

Funeral services were held Wednesday last week for Fred Finely, deceased last week a farmer near Randolph for the past 30 years.

Mr. Jacobson is 58 years of age, has two sons, one in high school, the other a college freshman. He has been in school work since 1907. Mrs. Jacobson was Esther Ross of Dakota City, prior to her marriage.

Day to Register For Sugar Fixed

All Not Yet Accommodated Come to Auditorium in Wayne Wednesday.

Because Wayne county rationing staff has been unable to prepare sugar purchase certificates as fast as applications are made, the board has closed the office to this phase of work until next week. Plans are to open Wayne auditorium Wednesday, July 8, when all who have not yet done so will register for canning sugar.

Volunteer help will be secured so that many may register in a short time. The staff will be on duty from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. except from 12 to 1 and 6 to 7. All in Wayne county who have not yet registered for sugar for canning are asked to plan to do so in Wayne next Wednesday.

In the meantime Miss Gladys Vath and Mrs. Marie Brittan, who are in the rationing office, plan to write certificates for those who have made application.

The county ration board has made trips to Winside, Hoskins and Carroll and no more such special registrations are planned for canning sugar. At Winside about 450 (bid) applications, and at Hoskins Wednesday last week 175 registered. The board was in Carroll Wednesday this week.

Workon Highway To Be Contracted

Tarantula Is Dreaded Pest On Indian Reservation In Early Years.

Early Days from Wayne Herald for July 1, 1926:

State board lets contracts at Lincoln for grading the new highway from Winslow west to the county line through Hoskins. The board will also arrange for graveling the five miles yet uncontracted from Altona to the Cuming county line. It is understood that the entire distance between Winslow and Wayne will be improved this year. The highway north is being graded in Cedar county and it is expected that Wayne will be joined with the improved road to Yankton within a year or two. The Wayne-Wakefield road is being "shouldered" and a new steel bridge built. A new bridge just north of Wakefield is nearing completion. The big hill just east of Carroll is being lowered.

Since the Fourth of July falls on Sunday, some towns are observing Saturday and others Monday. Wakefield has its celebration Saturday. Hoskins, Hartington, Colebrook and Pierce are among the points observing Monday.

Filing of candidates for the August primary has been completed and the list includes: State representative, August Wittler and Henry Korff; county clerk, C. W. Reynolds; treasurer, J. H. Henrich, J. J. Steele and Ray Ash; sheriff, W. R. Thomas and Alfie Stephens; attorney, C. H. Hendrickson, H. D. Addison and J. E. Brittain; superintendent, Miss Pearl Sewell; commissioner, First district, Frank Epleben and John Minihan; commissioner, Third district, David Koch, Nels J. Johnson, E. O. Behmer and T. J. Pryor.

The fair board has arranged for a dynamometer to test the pulling power of horses.

Henry Dorman and August Longe were bruised when their car turned over near Wakefield. A machine passing them, caught theirs.

L. M. Owen sold 120 acres south of Wayne to Mark Simpson for $250 an acre.

G. W. Box, manager of the Union hotel, and Mrs. Ella Gillespie were married June 24, 1926.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smolsky June 28, 1926.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mejer June 28, 1926.

A daughter, Marcella, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Brugger June 27, 1926.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. August H. Wittler June 26, 1926.

John T. Johnson, 56, died in Wakefield June 22, 1926.

Charles Schwartz and Miss

Anna Gradert of Wakefield, were married June 27, 1926. Harry Mitchell, Miss Gertrude Pritchard and Miss Edna Smith have been chosen teachers at Concord.

Rees Richards of Carroll, underwent an operation in Norfolk. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Linn of Pharr, Texas, June 21, 1926. Mr. Linn formerly lived in Caprot and Mrs. Linn, who was Nina Bamper, lived in Wayne. Graves is being placed on the highway south of Laurel.

Henry Willers, who lives near Pilger, had his hands and arms badly burned when gasoline which he mistook for kerosene exploded in a stove.

Al. Marten sold his residence in Winslow to Dr. B. E. Katz. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ruhlow of Hoskins, June 22, 1926.

An effort is being made to consolidate Dixon and Concord school districts.

Early Wayne Events. From Wayne Herald for July 26, 1906: Crops give promise of an immense harvest this fall. F. S. Benser installed a new gas lighting system in his store at Hoskins. S. E. Auker bought cattle in western Nebraska. Rev. David Neely of Baltimore, brother of W. A. Neely, preached in the Presbyterian church. Warren Clonson who has been with his brother in the Carroll hospital, has bought the Randolph Reporter. Charles Booth and Miss Bertha Cook were married in July, 1906.

Frederick Barholz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barholz of Winslow, was instantly killed when struck by lightning in July, 1906. Mrs. Henry Lessman was injured in a runaway. Mrs. Robert Baird, 36, died in July, 1906, from blood poisoning which developed after she was poisoned while working in her garden. Lack of wind in this area and farmers are having to resort to power for pumping water for stock. John Kate was in Ponca to consult Dr. Porter whose incubator invention the former bought for his new factory in Wayne.

From Dixon County. From Ponca Journal for July 4, 1889: A tremendous rain fell. The crop will be immense and every farmer will have reason to rejoice this fall. Hartington is experiencing a big boom and buildings planned for this season are estimated at $100,000. Elk Point is also experiencing rapid growth. Maj. N. S. Porter, who is in Indian territory allotting land to Indians, writes that that country has many desirable things but it also has some others, such as snakes, scorpions and tarantulas. The tarantula is an enormous black spider as large as a saucer and with a diabolical combination of teeth and an immense reservoir of deadly poison. When one is bitten by one of these spiders, he is advised to lay aside his temperance principles and drink some whiskey. If none of this is to be had, he usually makes out his will and the battle between man and the poison is about equal. A big-mouthed tarantula crawled into Maj. Porter's tent and first he thought he was bitten. By the energetic action of Dr. Frank Porter, who was with him, the poison was extracted and the officer came out all right.

Although many of the Japanese who have been moved from the Pacific coast are citizens of the United States, many of them are known to hold dual citizenship. Some of those who were born in this country and went back to Japan for a few years and underwent the Shinto instructions are called "kabos." They are said to bear allegiance to Japan notwithstanding their claim of American citizenship. The house committee on immigration and naturalization is working on the problem presented by these cases of divided allegiance.

There is much confusion in Washington about sugar. Sugar rationing continues. Letters are received from the wives of farmers who are wondering what they are going to do for sugar when the hungry harvest hands come in from the fields. Some experts here hold a meeting and indicated that there may be some new policies regarding sugar rationing because they found more sugar on hand than they expected. Midwest members who have been campaigning for more sugar for the American housewife are charging that the current sugar shortage is the result of failure on the part of federal officials to permit increased sugar production in our own country at a time when they were urged to do that.

The American sugar beet acreage in 1941 was reduced 16.2 per cent or from 979,000 acres to 828,000 acres. Our mainland sugar cane area was also cut drastically. At the present time there is no quota on sugar beet acreage, but that relief came at a very late date.

A year ago officials told the American consumers that sugar supplies were ample and that rumors of impending shortage were without foundation of fact. Defense officials declared that they were prepared to avert a buying panic should the situation tend to that. The secretary of agriculture in his annual report for 1940, remarked that sugar is one of our agricultural imports that can be produced in the United States. The fact is that we raise, domestically less than 30 per cent of the sugar that we consume. The remainder comes from our offshore possessions and foreign countries. Under the agricultural adjustment program, large sums of money have been paid to sugar corporations to produce less sugar. The figures of the department of agriculture in the Congressional Record for May 20, 1942, show that the following corporations received the largest sugar benefits: Luce & Co. Puerto Rico, $614,843.01; Fajardo Growers, Puerto Rico, $528,839.15; Oahu Sugar Co., Hawaii, $510,662.64; U. S. Sugar corporation, Florida, $470,007.41; Eastern Associates, Puerto Rico, $447,959.73; Waialua Agriculture Co., Hawaii, $444,225.97; Ewa Plantation Co., Hawaii, $443,021.49.

With no sugar coming from the Virgin islands at this time because most of the sugar cane there has been used in the manufacture of rum, and with the curtailment of sugar coming from Puerto Rico which exports great quantities of rum to the United States, there is a general movement in the United States at this time to grow larger quantities of sugar beets and domestic cane in order that the American housewife and American consumers generally may have future assurance of more nearly adequate sugar supplies.

The Porto Rican American Sugar Refinery, Inc., at Mercedita, Puerto Rico, writes the Third district office that their production of sugar this year will be the largest in their history. They state that the falling off of shipments of sugar to the United States is beyond their control. They also state that not more than 35 per cent of their new crop of sugar can be moved during 1942 and possibly no sugar at all in 1943. The letter from this sugar company further states: "Just why rum shipments increased while sugar movement was severely restricted is one of the mysteries the writer is unable to explain."

The house passed without a dissenting vote, the 42 billion, 820 million dollar bill making appropriations for the military establishment for the fiscal year which will end June 30, 1943. Broken down, the bill includes over 10 billion dollars for the pay, subsistence, clothing, medical care and welfare of the personnel of the army. The air corps gets over 11 billion dollars and ordnance nearly 10 billion dollars. Other items in the bill are for training and education, the signal corps, the engineer corps, chemical warfare, sea-coast defenses, transportation and equipment, construction and maintenance of establishments, miscellaneous supplies and civil components. The lend-lease item, largest in the bill, amounts to 12 billion, 700 million dollars and is intended for financing the supply of defense articles to the united nations.

Debate on the 42 billion dollar war department appropriation bill developed that about a third of our army will be in aviation in the future. The report on the bill indicates that our enlisted strength in the army will be over 4,500,000 persons during the present year.

When the new 42 billion dollar war appropriation bill is finally signed, the total amount of money appropriated, including contract authorizations and recommendations for war purposes for the fiscal years 1941, 1942 and 1943, for the army and navy, including coast guard and lend-lease, will be $202,023,339,537. If other expenditures are taken into consideration, such as construction, another 10 billion dollars would have to be added to this gigantic total, making the appropriation and contract authorizations for those three fiscal years 212 billion dollars in round figures.

One military expert in debating the gigantic funds for the war department predicts that the time will come, due to modern warfare, when all water surface craft will be outmoded and long range bombers - land based - will be the most effective weapon. He predicts that they will even replace the airplane carrier which is now replacing the battleship. He states that the airplane carrier is as vulnerable a target as is the obsolete battleship. While much of the discussion in the hearings on the military establishment appropriation bill was off the record, there is much to indicate that the prediction of this expert that water surface craft will be replaced by land-based bombers, has not gone unheeded. The lessons learned in the Midway and Coral sea engagements are reflected in great emphasis being put on land-based aviation.

Renegotiation of war contracts is bringing back hundreds of mil-

ions of dollars into the federal treasury. From the day Albert Engel of Michigan learned that out of an expenditure of 800 million dollars for cantonments, about 250 million dollars were actually wasted, congress has had several committees investigating expenditures. The result is that the navy investigators have reported that about half a billion dollars have been turned back into the treasury and the army investigators report that $1,337,000,000 will be turned back into the treasury as a result of renegotiation of contracts.

This 42 billion dollar army supply bill is the greatest single appropriation ever made by any parliamentary body in history and it exceeds the total military cost of our nation's participation in World War I by about two billion dollars. Experts here say that it will make the United States army the best paid, the best fed, the best equipped and perhaps the largest army in the world.

Workon Highway To Be Contracted

Tarantula Is Dreaded Pest On Indian Reservation In Early Years.

Early Days from Wayne Herald for July 1, 1926:

State board lets contracts at Lincoln for grading the new highway from Winside west to the county line through Hoskins. The board will also arrange for graveling the five miles yet unsurfaced from Altona to the Cuming county line. It is understood that the entire distance between Winside and Wayne will be improved this year. The highway north is being graded in Cedar county and it is expected that Wayne will be joined with the improved road to Yankton within a year or two. The Wayne-Wakefield road is being "shouldered" and a new steel bridge built. A new bridge just north of Wakefield is nearing completion. The big hill just east of Carroll is being lowered.

Since the Fourth of July falls on Sunday, some towns are observing Saturday and others Monday. Wakefield has its celebration Saturday. Hoskins, Hartington, Cole-ridge and Pierce are among the towns observing Monday.

Filing of candidates for the August primary has been completed and the list includes: State representative, August Wittler and Henry Korff; county clerk, C. W. Reynolds; treasurer, J. H. Henrich, J. J. Steele and Ray Ash; sheriff, W. R. Thomas and Archie Stephens; attorney, C. H. Hendrickson, H. D. Addison and J. E. Brittain; superintendent, Miss Pearl Sewell; commissioner, First district, Frank Erleben and John Minihan; commissioner, Third district, David Koch, Nels J. Johnson, E. O. Behmer and T. J. Pryor. The fair board has arranged for a dynamometer to test the pulling power of horses.

Henry Dorman and August Longe were bruised when their car turned over near Wakefield. A machine passing them caught theirs.

L. M. Owen sold 120 acres south of Wayne to Mark Simpson for $250 an acre.

G. W. Box, manager of the Union hotel, and Mrs. Ella Gillespie were married June 24, 1926.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Smolky June 28, 1926.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Meier June 29, 1926.

A daughter, Marcella, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Brugger June 27, 1926.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. August H. Wittler June 26, 1926.

M. E. Way bought the Farmers Union property here for $7,000. He plans to erect oil tanks.

Ben Hennessy, brother of Tom Hennessy of Carroll, died in Norfolk June 25, 1926.

Mrs. Burton Kimbell of Wakefield, underwent an operation at a Wayne hospital.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lundahl of Wakefield, June 28, 1926.

Charles, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Paul of Wakefield, was taken to Sioux City with mæsoid trouble.

John T. Johnson, 56, died in Wakefield June 22, 1926.

Charles Schwarten and Miss

Anna Gradert of Wakefield, were married June 27, 1926. Harry Mitchell, Miss Gertrude Pritchard and Miss Edna Smith have been chosen teachers at Concord.

Rees Richards of Carroll, underwent an operation in Norfolk. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Linn of Pharr, Texas, June 21, 1926. Mr. Linn formerly lived in Carroll and Mrs. Linn, who was Nina Barnett, lived in Wayne. Gravel is being placed on the highway south of Laurel.

Henry Willers, who lives near Pilger, had his hands and arms badly burned when gasoline which he mistook for kerosene exploded in a stove.

Al. Marten sold his residence in Winside to Dr. B. E. Katz. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ruhlow of Hoskins, June 22, 1926.

An effort is being made to consolidate Dixon and Concord school districts.

Early Wayne Events.

From Wayne Herald for July 26, 1906: Crops give promise of an immense harvest this fall. . . F. S. Benser installed a new gas lighting system in his store at Hoskins. . . S. E. Auker bought cattle in western Nebraska. . . Rev. David Neely of Baltimore, brother of W. A. Neely, preached in the Presbyterian church. . . Warren Closson who has been with his brother in the Carroll index, has bought the Randolph Reporter. . . Charles Booth and Miss Bertha Cook were married in July, 1906.

Frederick Barholz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barholz of Winside, was instantly killed when struck by lightning in July, 1906. . . Mrs. Henry Lessman was injured in a runaway. . . Mrs. Robert Baird, 36, died in July, 1906, from blood poisoning which developed after she was poisoned while working in her garden. . . Lack of wind has put windmills out of commission in this area and farmers are having to resort to power for pumping water for stock. . . John Kate was in Ponca to consult Dr. Porter whose incubator invention the former bought for his new factory in Wayne.

From Dixon County.

From Ponca Journal for July 4, 1889: A tremendous rain fell. The crop will be immense and every farmer will have reason to rejoice this fall. . . Hartington is experiencing a big boom and buildings planned for this season are estimated at $100,000. Elk Point is also experiencing rapid growth. . . Maj. N. S. Porter, who is in Indian territory allotting land to Indians, writes that that country has many desirable things but it also has some others, such as snakes, scorpions and tarantulas. The tarantula is an enormous black spider as large as a saucer and with a diabolical combination of teeth and an immense reservoir of deadly poison. When one is bitten by one of these spiders, he is advised to lay aside his temperance principles and drink some whiskey. If none of this is to be had, he usually makes out his will and the battle between man and the poison is about equal. A big-mouthed tarantula crawled into Maj. Porter's tent and first he knew he was bitten. By the energetic action of Dr. Frank Porter, who was with him, the poison was extracted and the officer came out all right.

John T. Johnson, 56, died in Wakefield June 22, 1926.

Congress

AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C., June 25, 1942.

The king and queen of England, the king of Greece, the king of Yugoslavia, the queen of the Netherlands and other members of royal families have visited our nation's capital. More are coming. Believe it or not, some Washington society dames are practicing how to curtsy. Some take lessons on how to do it from English instructors.

Washington "parasites" are not following the suggestions of the executive branch of the government that they leave and make room for war workers. One rich woman owns what is called a castle. She has nine servants and tells friends she lives in the house all alone.

"Am Chinese," "Am Filipino." Signs like that are worn on their clothing by some of our fellow citizens. That is to let people know they are not Japanese.

Tip to stenographers who want foreign service; Learn Spanish along with shorthand and typing. There will be a big demand for young men and young women who master the Spanish language and who are good stenographers.

Reply to questions about jobs:

If you are a good typist or a good business machine operator, you can almost surely get a job in one of the government agencies. If you are a good stenographer you are in as much demand as if you are a trained nurse. There is a great shortage of trained nurses.

The supply of gasoline is not deficient. Means of transporting it to the Atlantic seaboard are not adequate. Sugar may be more plentifully supplied to consumers after certain perfections of procedure in the office of price administration. The rubber situation continues bad. We hope and expect that there will be some priority ratings on materials for grain alcohol plants in the not distant future.

The conferees have agreed on the new defense highway bill. The total authorization has been increased from $150,000,000 to $260,000,000, of which $10,000,000 is to be made available for access roads to sources of raw materials.

The Porto Rican American Sugar Refinery, Inc., at Mercedita, Puerto Rico, writes the Third district office that their production of sugar this year will be the largest in their history. They state that the falling off of shipments of sugar to the United States is beyond their control. They also state that not more than 35 per cent of their new crops of sugar can be moved during 1942 and possibly no sugar at all in 1943. The letter from this sugar company further states: "Just why rum shipments increased while sugar movement was severely restricted is one of the mysteries the writer is unable to explain."

Glenn McAfee of Norfolk has been training for 12 weeks at Fort Belvoir, Va. The other day he came to the capitol to say goodbye. He had been graduated as second lieutenant in the U. S. army engineers. He is one of the many young men Uncle Sam has taken from the ranks for officer training because of ability to learn quickly.

John Bouchal has gone to Nebraska to "get good food." For five months he was in a German concentration camp where he learned the value of food. He's going to tell schoolmates around Wilber, Neb., about his experiences as a German prisoner and also how people in Europe value food.

A nephew on a cruiser in the Atlantic writes: "Please write to us. Letters from home make us feel so good." Uncle Sam is encouraging relatives of soldiers and sailors to write letters.

Although many of the Japanese who have been moved from the Pacific coast are citizens of the United States, many of them are known to hold dual citizenship. Some of those who were born in this country and went back to Japan for a few years and underwent the Shinto instructions are called "kibis." They are said to bear allegiance to Japan notwithstanding their claim of American citizenship. The house committee on immigration and naturalization is working on the problem presented by these cases of divided allegiance.

There is much confusion in Washington about sugar. Sugar rationing continues. Letters are received from the wives of farmers who are wondering what they are going to do for sugar when the hungry harvest hands come in from the fields. Some experts here hold a meeting and indicated that there may be some new policies regarding sugar rationing because they found more sugar on hand than they expected. Midwest members who have been campaigning for more sugar for the American housewife are charging that the current sugar shortage is the result of failure on the part of federal officials to permit increased sugar production in our own country at a time when they were urged to do that.

The American sugar beet acreage in 1941 was reduced 16.2 per cent or from 979,000 acres to 828,000 acres. Our mainland sugar cane area was also cut drastically. At the present time there is no quota on sugar beet acreage, but that relief came at a very late date.

A year ago officials told the American consumers that sugar supplies were ample and that rumors of impending shortage were without foundation of fact. Defense officials declared that they were prepared to avert a buying panic should the situation tend to provoke it. The secretary of agriculture, in his annual report for 1940, remarked that sugar is one of our agricultural imports that can be produced in the United States. The fact is that we raise, domestically less than 30 per cent of the sugar that we consume. The remainder comes from our offshore possessions and foreign countries. Under the agricultural adjustment program, large sums of money have been paid to sugar corporations to produce less sugar. The figures of the department of agriculture in the Congressional Record for May 20, 1942, show that the following corporations received the largest sugar benefits: Luce & Co., Puerto Rico, $614,643.01; Fajardo Growers, Puerto Rico, $528,839.15; Oahu Sugar Co., Hawaii, $510,062.64; U. S. Sugar corporation, Florida, $470,007.41; Eastern Associates, Puerto Rico, $447,959.73; Waialua Agriculture Co., Hawaii, $444,225.97; Ewa Plantation Co., Hawaii, $443,021.49.

With no sugar coming from the Virgin islands at this time because most of the sugar cane there has been used in the manufacture of rum, and with the curtailment of sugar coming from Puerto Rico which exports great quantities of rum to the United States, there is a general movement in the United States at this time to grow larger quantities of sugar beets and domestic cane in order that the American housewife and American consumers generally may have future assurance of more nearly adequate sugar supplies.

The Porto Rican American Sugar Refinery, Inc., at Mercedita, Puerto Rico, writes the Third district office that their production of sugar this year will be the largest in their history. They state that the falling off of shipments of sugar to the United States is beyond their control. They also state that not more than 35 per cent of their new crops of sugar can be moved during 1942 and possibly no sugar at all in 1943. The letter from this sugar company further states: "Just why rum shipments increased while sugar movement was severely restricted is one of the mysteries the writer is unable to explain."

The house passed without a dissenting vote, the 42 billion, 820 million dollar bill making appropriations for the military establishment for the fiscal year which will end June 30, 1943. Broken down, the bill includes over 10 billion dollars for the pay, subsistence, clothing, medical care and welfare of the personnel of the army. The air corps gets over 11 billion dollars and ordnance nearly 10 billion dollars. Other items in the bill are for training and education, the signal corps, the engineer corps, chemical warfare, sea-coast defenses, transportation and equipment, construction and maintenance of establishments, miscellaneous supplies and civil components. The lend-lease item, largest in the bill, amounts to 12 billion, 700 million dollars and is intended for financing the supply of defense articles to the united nations.

Debate on the 42 billion dollar war department appropriation bill developed that about a third of our army will be in aviation in the future. The report on the bill indicates that our enlisted strength in the army will be over 4,500,000 persons during the present year.

When the new 42 billion dollar war appropriation bill is finally signed, the total amount of money appropriated, including contract authorizations and recommendations for war purposes for the fiscal years 1941, 1942 and 1943, for the army and navy, including coast guard and lend-lease, will be $202,023,539,537. If other expenditures are taken into consideration, such as construction, another 10 billion dollars would have to be added to this gigantic total, making the appropriation and contract authorizations for those three fiscal years 212 billion dollars in round figures.

One military expert in debating the gigantic funds for the war department, predicts that the time will come, due to modern warfare, when all water surface craft will be outmoded and long range bombers—land based—will be the most effective weapon. He predicts that they will even replace the airplane carrier which is now replacing the battleship. He states that the airplane carrier is as vulnerable a target as is the obsolete battleship. While much of the discussion in the hearings on the military establishment appropriation bill was off the record, there is much to indicate that the prediction of this expert that water surface craft will be replaced by land-based bombers, has not gone unheeded. The lessons learned in the Midway and Coral sea engagements are reflected in the great emphasis being put on land-based aviation.

Renegotiation of war contracts is bringing back hundreds of mil-

ions of dollars into the federal treasury. From the day Albert Engel of Michigan learned that out of an expenditure of 800 million dollars for cantonments, about 250 million dollars were actually wasted, congress has had several committees investigating expenditures. The result is that the navy investigators have reported that about half a billion dollars have been turned back into the treasury and the army investigators report that $1,337,000,000 will be turned back into the treasury as a result of renegotiation of contracts.

This 42 billion dollar army supply bill is the greatest single appropriation ever made by any parliamentary body in history and it exceeds the total military cost of our nation's participation in World War I by about two billion dollars. Experts here say that it will make the United States army the best paid, the best fed, the best equipped and perhaps the largest army in the world.

Civil Service Openings. The U. S. civil service is seeking custodial officers and modified nurse. Applicants for custodial officer positions should be men between 25 and 58, in good physical condition, fearless and of strong character. Requests should be made with the commission's Washington office not later than August 11. No age limit is placed on public nurse applicants who send their requests to the civil service position in Washington, D. C.

The result is that the navy investigators have reported that about half a billion dollars have been turned back into the treasury and the army investigators report that $1,337,000,000 will be turned back into the treasury as a result of renegotiation of contracts.

This 42 billion dollar army supply bill is the greatest single appropriation ever made by any parliamentary body in history and it exceeds the total military cost of our nation's participation in World War I by about two billion dollars. Experts here say that it will make the United States army the best paid, the best fed, the best equipped and perhaps the largest army in the world.

Debate on the 42 billion dollar war department appropriation bill developed that about a third of our army will be in aviation in the future. The report on the bill indicates that our enlisted strength in the army will be over 4,500,000 persons during the present year.

When the new 42 billion dollar war appropriation bill is finally signed, the total amount of money appropriated, including contract authorizations and recommendations for war purposes for the fiscal years 1941, 1942 and 1943, for the army and navy, including coast guard and lend-lease, will be $202,023,539,537. If other expenditures are taken into consideration, such as construction, another 10 billion dollars would have to be added to this gigantic total, making the appropriation and contract authorizations for those three fiscal years 212 billion dollars in round figures.

One military expert in debating the gigantic funds for the war department, predicts that the time will come, due to modern warfare, when all water surface craft will be outmoded and long range bombers—land based—will be the most effective weapon. He predicts that they will even replace the airplane carrier which is now replacing the battleship. He states that the airplane carrier is as vulnerable a target as is the obsolete battleship. While much of the discussion in the hearings on the military establishment appropriation bill was off the record, there is much to indicate that the prediction of this expert that water surface craft will be replaced by land-based bombers, has not gone unheeded. The lessons learned in the Midway and Coral sea engagements are reflected in the great emphasis being put on land-based aviation.

Renegotiation of war contracts is bringing back hundreds of mil-

ions of dollars into the federal treasury. From the day Albert Engel of Michigan learned that out of an expenditure of 800 million dollars for cantonments, about 250 million dollars were actually wasted, congress has had several committees investigating expenditures. The result is that the navy investigators have reported that about half a billion dollars have been turned back into the treasury and the army investigators report that $1,337,000,000 will be turned back into the treasury as a result of renegotiation of contracts.

Improvement Seen For Carroll Man

Doctors are hopeful about the condition of Ewan Hamer, who suffered injury June 30 in a fall at his home. They think that Mr. Hamer, who has been an invalid for some years because of arthritis, may be able to get about better after his recovery in a Sioux City hospital. The fall jarred Mr. Hamer's hips; the right limb, which was broken above the knee, was set Monday. Mr. Hamer has had three blood transfusions, two June 20 and one June 21. Mrs. Hamer is remaining with him in the city.

Likes to Listen To Young Talkers

Training of Firemen Has Advantages It Seems From Experience.

The telephone company at Tacoma, Wash., apologized and offered to change H. H. Sizer's number when they learned it was the one listed in the front of the directory for dialing instruction. "No!" said Sizer, who talks to lots of youngsters making their first telephone calls. "Their conversation is refreshing."

This fireman business must be good training. Henry M. Sarwasi, 78-year-old ex-fire laddie, fell from the top of a 25-foot tree he was trimming at Denver. He walked away and told a police surgeon that he wasn't hurt. The surgeon agreed.

A smartly-dressed, soft-spoken gunman held up Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Delashmutt at their home in Denver, obtaining $250. As he departed he shook Delashmutt's hand and wished both "good night."

Governor Payne Ratner, his plane forced down in a pasture at Barnard, Kan., had no luck with thumb-wagging. He and his pilot hiked to a farmhouse and phoned for a ride. A motorist who had ignored the pair met them in town and learned one was the Kansas governor. "My wife," he apologized, "thought you were a couple of magazine salesmen."

When a daughter was born to Frank C. Weber, he decided he wouldn't have those sleepless nights that most fathers go through. Thus he invented the baby rocker. It is simply a quiet one-sixth horsepower motor mounted on a small wooden platform. There is a rocker arm with a hook on the end which hooks onto the baby buggy. The gentle rocking soon puts the baby to sleep.

At Wenatchee, Wash. a truck turned over and spilled seven tons of peas—fresh frozen—onto the pavement. The highway department got out its snowplow and saved the mushy mess—last turning into soup in a 90-degree sun.

How he was to get a family of eight and its furnishings into a home four feet wide is puzzling John Aldridge at Joplin, Mo. The circuit court ruled that 14 feet of the Aldridge residence—only 18 feet across—had been built on the wrong side of the property line. When Aldridge was awarded his share, the owner of the 14-foot section built a wire fence down the property line—inside the house. The Aldridges crowded their belongings into the remaining four feet.

It's illegal to go down to watch the trains come in at Los Angeles. The city council adopted an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to loiter around railroad stations and bus terminals.

Capt. Hugh Mays of Tallahassee, Fla., was dismayed when his company of home guards, neatly dressed in new uniforms, broke ranks without orders and dispersed, yelling in pain. Capt. Mays officially dismissed the already dismissed company when he learned the reason. He had halted the unit on a big ant bed.

Mrs. Lena Rose of Los Angeles, stepped off the curb into the path of an automobile driven by Mrs. Rose Berger. That was with Rose avenue and Speedway. They took Mrs. Rose to a hospital and she insisted that her own doctor be called. "Where does he live?" asked the nurse. "At 16 Rose avenue," replied Mrs. Rose.

In true cowboy style, a Los Angeles messenger boy on a bicycle bulldozged a runaway horse in downtown Los Angeles. John Bishop overtook the animal, leaped from his wheel to the reins and pulled the horse to a stop. The steed had thrown and injured seriously its rider, Isaac Sacks, 82.

Thieves who invaded the offices of the W. W. Stewart Auto Sales company didn't overlook much. They ransacked the place, took $8 in a cash box, consumed a dozen bottles of soft drinks, took the keys for the cars in the adjoining used car lot, stole a used car and returned it smashed; then took a later model which they didn't return.

Josephus Daniels, U. S. ambassador to Mexico, in a telegram congratulating Director Norman F. Chambliss on the annual strawberry festival at Wallace, N. C., recalled that he earned his first money by picking berries. He added: "The people I picked for still owe me 25 cents, and I'll give you the regular commission to collect."

Russel Grant, patriotic Kokomo, Ind., youngster who swallowed an angle worm on a dare to get money to purchase war savings stamps, apparently has achieved his aim. Employees of a local manufacturing company are collecting funds for a $25 dollar bond for the 10-year-old boy.

Mildred Sessums, 16, whipped up a cake—the third she ever baked. She didn't like the looks of the icing so she didn't take it along to the state fair. But after one look at the cake exhibit, she scurried back after hers. It took the blue ribbon.

Not under civil service, not even on the government pay roll for a bone, but one of Uncle Sam's most faithful mail carriers for four years is Major. The dog trots to meet two trains a day at Oglesby, Mo. Even Mrs. C. W. Carithers, Oglesby postmistress and the dog's owner, doesn't know how Major learned to ignore the dozen-odd trains that roar by without dropping mail.

Six mules, sold to Americans when Japanese were evacuated from coastal areas, were shipped to reception centers to rejoin their Nipponese owners. The animals understood only directions given in Japanese and were unable to work for English-speaking farmers.

Because he was not used to customs in Greenland, a Kearney youth almost booked himself for a trip to the altar. It seems that the youth, stopping briefly in Greenland, saw a girl sitting on a fence and invited her to walk with him. He took her home and learned that taking a walk with a maiden is tantamount to a proposal.

Before You Buy Heath and Accident Insurance

Ask the following questions, because it is extremely important to you that you secure 100% coverage for any money outlay that you may make for a policy.

1. Is the policy non-prorating?
2. Does change of occupation or doing other than regular work affect the benefits in any manner?
3. Does the policy pay benefits for one day to a lifetime, or does it pay only for a year or two?
4. Does it pay double indemnity?
5. Does it contain the clause "hurt violently or externally"?
6. Does it limit or exclude certain diseases, infections, etc.?
7. Is the company large, financially responsible and experienced?
8. Does it pay claims promptly and justly?
9. Has the policy been liberalized since December 7, 1941, to cover civilians, if killed or injured by bombing or any other act of war, within the limits of the United States?
10. Does the policy cover those in military or naval service, excepting "actual combat" within the limits of the United States?
11. Is there a local agent, within call, who is always ready to furnish advice or render service promptly on a claim at any time?

If these questions can be answered promptly and satisfactorily then you are sure of COMPLETE PROTECTION
