

SIXTY FIRST YEAR

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1942

NUMBER TEN

Half Century of Service — Coincident with the Fourth As Harvest Approaches — WPA in the South — When the Boys Return — Ample Moisture Everywhere.

The Farmers State Bank at Emerson, Neb., has decided to dissolve its business and pay all depositors in full after July 8. No deposits will be received following that date. F. F. Haase is president, E. S. Neiswander, vice president, and George H. Haase, cashier. In a letter to depositors July 1 the officers expressed deep regret over discontinuing pleasant business relations extending over nearly a half century, but explained responsibilities involved and a desire to be relieved constitute the persuading force. The retiring officers have been prominent in the affairs of northeast Nebraska during their many years of banking experience. Their plan to remain in Emerson insures continued interest in the community's improvement and welfare.

After a long period in one groove especially in an increasingly exacting business field—there is a strong temptation to quit and find a measure of relief. That is what the Haases are doing. They may or may not be fully contented. The leisure life is not always easy. But they will shed banking burdens, and doubtless remain sufficiently active to escape the corroding spirit of utter idleness. Emerson and neighboring areas owe much to the judgment and enterprise of the Haases. Satisfactory dealings with them through the years will be remembered with gratitude and esteem.

Anniversary of Arrival. The Fourth meant more than national independence to Magnus Westlund. It was the fiftieth anniversary of his arrival in Wayne. He left Sweden in 1890, and stopped at Emerson where he found a job on the railroad. He came to Wayne as section foreman in 1892. For many years he farmed in the Wayne neighborhood.

Mr. Westlund was 20 years old when he embarked on a ship sailing for America, and little did he think then that this land of opportunity and abundance would ever be threatened by alien dangers as it is now. But he is thankful—as most foreign-born persons are thankful—that he came here. Like many others, he is confident American might will overthrow present perils and reenforce democratic security.

To Meet Help Demand. As the small grain harvest gets under way in southern areas, business men are often giving needed assistance. Small grain is not the big crop here, but due to war demands, help will doubtless be scarce and not equal to requirements when the grain ripens and is ready to gather. Finding ample help in the harvesting juncture is a service to which the Chamber of Commerce may well contribute. Shortage may become an acute problem.

Georgia's Illiterates. Georgia has so many illiterates who are thus unable to qualify for military service, that the job of teaching them to read and write has been turned over to the WPA. It is gratifying to note that members of the Georgia WPA are not only themselves able to read and write, but are competent to teach less fortunate ones to do so. If WPA members in Georgia are smart enough to instruct fellow-travelers, they should be smart enough to do many different kinds of war work. And speaking of illiteracy as a bar to the army, we are wondering why unlettered inhabitants of the southern mountains would not be fitted by superior marksmanship and natural vigor to join forces in bringing the country's enemies to bay? Why not a few mountain regiments shot for courage and straight shooting if not for reading and writing?

Quiet Fourth. The Fourth was a quiet day in Wayne county. People did their week-end shopping Friday night, and then laid off accustomed activities on the following day. A heavy rain during the night kept farmers from their fields. The Fourth hereabouts was observed without noise or ceremony. Different groups held picnics, but no big celebrations were planned. Some journeyed to West Point where races and other attractions were provided. Thought of war was not conducive to a gay time, and people generally were satisfied with an extra day of rest and relaxation. When the war effort is turned to final victory and the boys have returned from battle fronts, there will be ample ground to celebrate and rejoice.

Rains General. Rains have not been sectional, as they sometimes have been in the past, but they have been general and uniformly soaking. Priorities over water rights in irrigated parts that caused disputes and often court contests are no longer sources of trouble. Streams and reservoirs are full of water, and not for many years has there been less need of irrigation. The question of moisture presents no problem this year.

Property Values Rise for County

Automobiles and Tractors Have Increased Here Report Reveals.

Valuation of real estate and personal property, except for intangibles, totals $25,102,530 in Wayne county this year, according to compilations completed this week by Assessor Claude Wright. The grand total in 1941 was $23,444,980, showing a gain of $1,657,550 in favor of this year.

Real estate figures, which remain practically the same for the two years, show $17,949,025 for land and improvements outside town limits. Lots and improvements in towns total $1,861,700. The two combine to make a grand total of $19,810,895 for all real estate. The average valuation for improved land is $63.76 per acre and that of unimproved land, $39.09.

Intangibles in class A, money, securities and savings, show $463,335 and those in class B, stocks, notes, etc., $257,715 for 1942. A year ago the class A was $378,615 and class B $253,180.

Wayne county people have 3,365 automobile licenses this year and the cars are valued at $477,560. In 1941 the licenses totaled 3,306 and the value was placed at $414,076.

Tractors have increased and horses have fallen off in number during the year. Wayne county now has 1,133 tractors and a year ago had 1,029. This year the horse figure was 4,903 and in 1941 it was 4,983.

Rationing of sugar seems to have had its effect on the bee industry. This year there are 874 stands of bees in Wayne county, nearly twice the 472 of a year ago.

This year the $1,044 head of cattle in the county are valued at $1,687,130. A year ago the 27,562 were placed at $1,137,785.

The hogs in Wayne county number 26,758 this year and there were only 19,324 a year ago. Farmers have 4,465 sheep this season in contrast with 3,222 in 1941. Poultry too has increased, the total being 12,281 dozen fowls in contrast with 10,143 a year ago.

The report shows 1,811,160 bushels of corn this season and a 2,772,771 last year. Oats show a 1,272,771 last year and 1,213,350 bushels and last season's 1,452,240.

Education Today Viewed in Talk

TIME TO FILE FOR AUGUST PRIMARIES CLOSED ON JULY 2

THE TIME limit having passed for filing as candidates for public offices, the pre-primary campaign is now on, and in the brief period between now and the nominating date, August 11, it will be as intensive as tires and gasoline will permit. Seven democrats and three republicans aspire to the United States senatorship to succeed Senator Geo. W. Norris whose term expires. If Senator Norris appears on the November ballot he will do so by petition. Charles W. Warner, farmer near Waverly, former state legislator and candidate for governor two years ago, has filed against Gov. Dwight Griswold for the republican nomination. Three candidates have entered the race for the democratic nomination including Chas. W. Bryan, former governor. For state offices below the governor, the Johnsons and Swansons show up. Two Swansons are rivals for secretary of state, and three Johnsons with some variation in spelling, want to be railway commissioner. For that office, two Larson appear, one being Ray R. Larson of Wayne. Nineteen candidates have filed for the commissioner which is considered a very desirable berth. Two Johnsons are running for auditor, one for treasurer and one for attorney-general. Wayne's William Edward Johnson, present lieutenant governor, has filed for congress in the First district. (Bill H. Kohl, Wayne, has filed for secretary of state. In the sixteenth senatorial district which comprises Wayne, Colfax and Stanton counties, William A. Crossland, incumbent, Wayne, is opposed by Otto C. Swisher and Henry Hoppe of Colfax and W. A. Brown of Stanton. County candidates are too numerous as formerly.

Republicans are out for clerk, and the only way the successful primary nominee will have competition in the election will be for an ambitious democrat to persuade his friends to write in his name. The sheriff's office is in the same boat—two candidates, both republicans, Burr R. Davis, enrolled to recapture the county attorneyship, is sailing along unopposed.

Spots in County Struck by Hail

Small Grain Damaged Most By Early Morning Storm in Area Tuesday. Tiny hail stones and wind, accompanying a summer storm that gathered suddenly about 6 Tuesday morning, did some damage to crops in an east-and-west strip in Wayne county. Small grain, nearly ready to harvest, suffered most. In some fields the loss to barley and other small grains is estimated at 80 to 90 per cent. Most of the corn is young enough that it will not be hurt other than being retarded somewhat.

Need Five Percent For Nomination

Primary for writing in names would require five per cent of the total number of votes cast. This being the one nominated in the primary without an opponent appearing on the rival ballot can safely figure on election.

AN IMPORTANT DAY IN WAYNE WILL BE RAILROAD HEARING

WEDNESDAY, July 15, will be the occasion in Wayne for the railway commission to hear pros and cons concerning the application of the railroad to curtail its service on the Bloomfield-Wayne and Crofton-Wakefield branches. Representatives of the railway company will be here to press the demand, and representatives of different interested parties will be on hand to oppose it. War-time economy in preserving tires and gasoline will be an argument in support of maintaining the service. Also war-time requirements will doubtless be urged by the railroad as a reason to take off equipment allegedly not vital to service on the branches and employ it on lines where it is in greater need. Decision on an application for which a hearing was held some time ago, to discontinue passenger traffic on the Sioux City-Norfolk line, is still pending.

Get Adjustment On Sugar Quota

Additional Certificates Are To Be Mailed in August To All Registered. Wayne county residents are to receive additional sugar allowances for canning according to permission received from state rating board by local officials. The amount to be allowed is not yet definite but the aim will be to make allotments equal to those of other counties of the state. Cedar and Wayne counties have both been low.

Towns Opposing Train Proposals

Request to Reduce Service On Branch Lines Will Be Heard in Wayne. Twelve towns in northeast Nebraska have organized to present to the railway commission here next Wednesday facts which they hope will influence retaining weekday service on the Bloomfield-Wayne and Crofton-Wakefield branches of the railroad. Representatives of the towns meet at Laurel this Thursday evening to complete plans. J. C. Carhart, A. L. Swan and W. H. Swett will represent Wayne.

Plan Free Fair Featuring Clubs

Wayne Association Decides On Abbreviated Festival For This August.

Wayne county will have a free 4-H fair this fall, according to decision of the association board meeting Tuesday evening. The plan temporarily decided on is to have a three-day festival beginning August 24, to serve as a climax for 4-H clubs, women's project clubs and schools. Unless a change is made, the board plans to have no open class competition this year unless possibly in horticulture. Exhibits would be judged and awards made.

The board had contracted for this fall's entertainment features and plans to cancel the engagements. Present arrangements call for two evenings of local entertainment.

Admission to the fair will be free. A small fee will be charged for the grandstand if features are staged there.

Club projects are organized with the provision that their completion be noted by some public demonstration. Since the groups have been working on such plans for the past year, the board thought it advisable to arrange for the 4-H fair and open it to the public without charge.

Wayne county club members have bees, hogs, and lambs in livestock classes. Other clubs deal with a variety of projects for boys and girls.

School exhibits are also a culmination of a year's work and are all prepared.

The matter of adding a general class for horticulture was proposed to the board. Favorable crop prospects were suggested as good reason for this. The board has not yet decided on this matter.

Fairs Are Favored. Northeast Nebraska Fair association at Oakland Monday evening passed a resolution in favor of holding fairs. At that time West Point and Waltham were the only two points at which it was definitely decided to hold the usual festivals. Most counties were still undecided. Wayne was represented by H. B. Craven, R. W. Ley, Phil Damme, Will Peters and Chet Walters.

It is expected that Dixon county will have a fair at Concord but this may be on a smaller scale than usual.

Wayne Chamber of Commerce board voted Tuesday to lend support to the fair association in whatever decision is made.

Limited Service To Be Arranged

Serial Numbers Are To Be Assigned for Youths in Fifth Registration. Men placed in the deferred 1-B selective service class because of minor physical defects will be subject to call for limited military service after August 1, according to announcement from Washington to announcement from Washington. The plan is to assign these men to duty with corps area service commands, thereby releasing an almost equal number of fully qualified soldiers for service with task forces.

Induction will be limited to those with minor physical defects who are able to bring to the army useful services followed in civil life. Any found, upon re-examination, to be qualified for full military service will be inducted as 1-A registrants.

Men with deficient weight, chest circumference, eyesight, hearing and teeth are mainly those who will be subject to call under the new plan.

To Classify Men. The local draft board plans to classify the 189 between 18 and 20 who registered June 30. They anticipate having serial numbers for this group ready by July 20. The plan is to classify them according to age, the oldest first. It is expected that 20-year-olds may be called by fall for training.

Wayne county sends a quota of about 20 for selective service July 21.

Is State Director For National Group

Herman Baehr, Wayne commercial-instructor, was appointed Nebraska director of the commercial department of the National Educational association at the meeting held in Denver the last two days of June. Mr. Baehr spoke at the convention and also served on one of the committees. Mr. Baehr is attending the university in Iowa City this summer.

Was Hospital Patient. Roy Corryell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Corryell, was in a hospital at Flint, Mich., a few days last week when infection developed in his throat and chest after he had a wisdom tooth extracted. He was able to leave the hospital Sunday.

Rev. W. F. Most, pastor of Our Redeemer's Evangelical Lutheran church the past six years, resigned at the semi-annual meeting of the congregation Sunday morning.

Record Compiled To Help Farmers

Agencies Are Set Up Over County to Place Labor Where Needed.

With the scarcity of available help for farm work, the USDA war board sent out cards to all Wayne county farmers. These cards contained a questionnaire in regard to custom work needed by the farmer and custom work that he can furnish. Of the cards which have been returned, a list has been compiled of the types of custom work in demand and available, and those who desire help or can give help. Combining, cultivating, binding, ensilage cutting, shocking grain, mowing, threshing, plowing and corn picking are the types of work included on the replies.

The list will be posted at the five labor exchanges in Wayne county: Carroll, George Linn's Feed and Produce Company, Hoskins' Dale (Ziegler's pool hall), Sholes, Hans Tietgen's filling station; Wayne, Meyer & Bichel Implement company; Winside, Everett Witt's pool hall.

The USDA war board urges farmers who need help or who can furnish help to visit one of these labor exchanges or the AAA office at Wayne. The farm labor shortage can be greatly helped through cooperation of this kind. If the condition should become too critical, Wayne county USDA war board will have to organize a Business Men's club to help with farm work, as many towns have done.

All farmers who have not returned the custom work cards should mark and return them at once.

May Present Play In Norfolk Soon

Political FOR obvious reasons small business men who furnish merchandise and service in the many towns that dot the prairies, are not mentioned in political platforms. They are not numerous enough to count heavily in determining election results.

Care to explain how much will be done for special groups comes especially from candidates for congress and the United States senate. In one breath emphasis is given to the rights of labor and, though they may be in conflict with those of the farmer, the next breath gives equal emphasis to the latter.

It would seem a broad-gauged appeal, making no pre-emption pledges beyond an expressed determination to serve impartially and faithfully, would prove a winner. Of course, every legislator wants the labor unionist to have a square deal—no more, and he isn't worth his salt if he is not bent on working for an equalized and stabilized agriculture.

Many county fairs, already planned, will be held despite the suggestion of Joseph E. Eastman, director of defense transportation, that they be cancelled to save rubber. It is contended that the wear on tires is just as great in going to race meets or baseball games, and that many such events have taken place. It is pointed out that persons patronizing county fairs will travel no farther than they do in driving to market. Four-H club activities are emphasized as pivotal points of interest needed to strengthen essential agriculture and stock growing.

Time magazine recalls how bungling generalship for three years nearly lost the Civil war to the south. Then the tide turned, Lee retreated from Gettysburg, and Vicksburg fell. On another occasion, July 4, 1918, the allied cause was in imminent peril. July 4, this year, news from battle fronts was discouraging. But like former critical junctures, reverses have strengthened organization and stimulated national effort.

No doubt due to less travel or to more careful driving, and to many restrictions on use of explosives, three-day holiday accidents the nation over dropped from 628 a year ago to 197 this year. Traffic accidents were reduced from 384 to 95. Not one fatality resulted from fireworks. Locally officers had the matter of keeping order well in hand. Aside from brief spells of shooting during a few nights previous to the Fourth, causing a number of arrests, observance of regulations was satisfactory.

People irritate by saying the wrong thing. In order to essay cleverness or to attract attention they express themselves in a way that arouses aversion and often upsets equanimity. All of us are guilty—some more than others. Indiscreet utterances are no doubt aggravated by nervous tension due to an extremely trying period. One should weigh carefully what he has in mind and then usually leave it there. People would say less that hurts.

A late broadcast said the president indicated that he may have to take tires from privately owned automobiles for the war. It is hoped this extremely may be avoided. In the absence of old-time horse locomotion, people would be seriously handicapped in speeding unified effort if their cars were taken out of use.

Price control is reported endangered by not making it complete—by not restricting the cost of labor as well as that of commodities. Labor union voting strength is believed the barrier which politicians hesitate to sweep aside.

Every act of self-denial brings big reward. It weaves sturdiness into character, and is a liberal contributor to spiritual courage and material success.

U. S. HISTORY. Failure to encourage study of United States history in American schools is charged by the New York Times. It is alleged that 82 per cent of our colleges and universities do not teach the history of this country. The Times charges that "many students go through high school college and then to a professional or graduate institution without having explored courses in the history of their country." The Times says: "Less than 10 per cent of the total undergraduate body was enrolled in United States history classes during the spring semester just ended. Only eight per cent of the freshman class took courses in United States history, although 30 per cent was enrolled in European or world history."

Oats Grow Tall. Canadian oats raised by Gilbert Mau measure 45 inches in height. A bundle of these is on display in the Herald window.

Tilden Man Dies. John Keilcher, past 80, brother-in-law of T. Collins, died Saturday and rites were held Tuesday at Tilden. Mr. and Mrs. Collins and Miss Irene attended.

Card of Thanks. I wish to express appreciation to all who remembered me with cards and visits while I was recovering from an operation on my face. Mrs. Christina Ahlvers.

CARROLL. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kieper spent Sunday evening in the John Bush home.

Will Have Operation. John Bush left Tuesday morning for the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., to enter a hospital for a major operation.

Receives Position. Miss Lucille Paulsen of Carroll, who has taught the past five years in the 7th and 8th grades of the Osmond public school, resigned from that position. She is now employed in the Security First National bank in Long Beach, Calif., as a bookkeeper.

TEACHERS. In a current magazine a mid-west school teacher takes up the cudgel in behalf of fellow workers in the field of instructing the young. The things of which she complains, have been patent to most observers. The whims of authority must be gratified to hold a job, and often the teacher must efface self in order to do it.

Periods of patrol are four hours each. The rest of the time McPherran supervises athletic games at the hangars or he goes out to patrol with the men. He likes the work very much. Candidates Enter Race Closing Day

Unusual Conditions Result In Various Offices as Filings Concluded.

Several candidates added their names to Wayne county ballot last Thursday, the final day for filing. Unusual is the fact that for two offices county clerk and sheriff, only republicans are in the running. For three commissioners in First district, county superintendent and county attorney, the incumbents are unopposed. And for three others, clerk of the district court, commissioner in Third district and assessor, only one candidate filed on each party ticket.

Names may possibly be placed on the ballot by petition. They may also be written in on ballots at the August 11 primaries.

Howard M. James, Wayne, republican who filed for county clerk was the only one entering his name on the ballot July 1.

Besides several filing for delegates to the county convention Thursday, W. H. Rees, Carroll, and C. A. Bard, Wakefield, republicans, entered the race for county clerk; Carl Nicholson, Wayne, and Jean Boyd, Winside, republicans, for county treasurer; David J. Hamer, Wayne, republican, for clerk of the district court; Marie A. Brittain, Wayne, democrat, for county assessor.

Commissioner, First district—Frank Erleben, republican. Commissioner, Third district—Wm. J. Missett, republican; Tom Fryor, democrat. County superintendent—F. B. Decker, non-political. W. A. Crossland, incumbent, is the only one to file in Wayne county as candidate on the non-political ticket for the legislature from 16th district, including Wayne, Stanton and Colfax counties. He has served one term and is the first Wayne county man to be in the legislature under the unicameral plan. Other candidates filing for the office are W. A. Brown of Stanton, Otto C. Weber and Henry Hoppe of Schuyler.

A. G. Sydow and Ed. Grubb are candidates for reelection to the rural public power board for terms of six years. They are on the non-political ticket. The two are unopposed.

Ray R. Larson, republican, filed in Wayne county as railway commissioner. Phil H. Kohl filed here on the democratic ticket as candidate for state treasurer.

When he finishes the new training in pursuit pilot flight, he will be commissioned and earn his U. S. army wings. Hanson reports Arizona dry and hot.

The cadet appreciates home news brought to him through the Herald and is glad to know of good crop prospects here.

Quotas for Tires Lower in July

Despite an earlier estimate that July quotas for tires would be about 12 per cent heavier than for June, the new quotas are actually smaller, according to word received by the local rationing board. Wayne county was allowed two new cars in June and none in July.

July quota for passenger cars and motorcycles included 4 tires, 17 retreads and 19 tubes; July, 3 tires, 19 retreads and 12 tubes. For trucks, tractors and buses the June allowance consisted of 26 tires, 38 retreads and 32 tubes; July, 23 tires, 19 retreads and 20 tubes.

Cavein of Earth Is Fatal to One

Otto Splittgerber Dies on Last Day of Work Before Going to Service.

Trapped in a dirt slide at a bridge five miles west and three-fourths mile north of Wisner last Thursday morning about 9 o'clock, Otto Splittgerber, nearly 38, was fatally injured. Two others, Edwin Ruwe, 25, Hooper, and Helmer Nelson, 35, West Point, were rescued. Willard Nelson, 18, West Point, son of Helmer Nelson, was just going out of the ditch when the slide occurred and escaped.

Splittgerber, who was working this last day for the Jenkins Construction company as he expected to go into army service, was buried under six feet of sand and dirt. The weight was estimated at two tons. The other two were under about two feet. The crew, with the help of people nearby and Wisner firemen, rescued the men who survived. But they were unable to reach Splittgerber in time. A second slide occurred when workers almost reached Splittgerber.

The crew was removing silt and sand from beneath a county bridge. The embankment was about 18 feet deep.

Funeral rites for Mr. Splittgerber were conducted Monday afternoon at 1:30 from the home in Wisner and at 2 from Christ Lutheran church there. Burial was in Wisner cemetery.

Otto Splittgerber was born at Wisner July 31, 1904. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Marie Splittgerber, with whom he lived, two brothers, Bruno and Walter of Altona, and two sisters, Mrs. Paul Dreyer and Mrs. Wm. Roenfeldt of Stanton. He had 21 nieces and nephews.

Rains Prove Boon To Growing Corn

Celebrations and Heat Are Chief Concern Hereabouts In Early Period.

Early Days from Wayne Herald for July 8, 1926:

Soaking rains combined with hot days that followed made corn grow so fast that people were kept awake nights by the stir and noise. Lightning bugs got dizzy trying to teeter on the jumping stalks. Most corn has been cut and ready for the last time and fields show luxuriant growth. No damaging hail has visited this locality so far.

The state board contracted for 12.3 miles of graveling between Winside and Hoskins for $37,279 and culverts for $12,167. It also contracted for 2.9 miles of gravel between Wayne and Wisner at $8,335.60.

Wayne county's share of the semi-annual apportionment of school funds amounted to $4,927.69.

Lightning struck the Tom Roberts and H. C. Bartels homes at Carroll but no damage was done.

History of Wayne county will be featured in a pageant to be presented at Wayne county fair under direction of Mrs. S. A. Lutgen. Miss Lydia and Miss Tillie Kaat of Winside, suffered cuts and bruises when the car in which they were riding collided with one driven by B. E. Neitzke of Hoskins.

An explosion and fire of undetermined origin damaged the Femia Miller residence.

John A. Wilbur, 68, who pioneered north of Wayne in the eighties, died at Ponca June 30, 1926.

J. E. Brittain and W. R. McEachen had minor injuries when the former's car turned over in soft gravel near Dakota City.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Test of Wakefield, July 2, 1926.

Olof Nelson is building a double garage at Wakefield.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Beckenhauer of Wakefield, July 1, 1926.

Wisner plans 18 additional blocks of paving this summer.

Dr. Carroll of Laurel, had fingers injured when the members were caught in cogs of a washing machine.

The T. J. Overhoe barn near Dixon, was destroyed by fire.

Graveling is progressing from Laurel south toward Wayne.

Former Resident Of Concord Weds

Staff Sergeant C. A. Bloom And Miss Ethel Carlson Marry in Iowa.

Staff Sergeant Clarence A. Bloom, formerly of Concord, and Miss Ethel Carlson were married at a pretty service Thursday evening, June 11, in Grace Orthodox Presbyterian church in Albert City, Ia. The former has been stationed at San Luis Obispo, Cal., and expects to be transferred soon to Fort Benning, Ga., for officers' training. His bride has been visiting in Los Angeles.

Relatives and friends witnessed the nuptials at which Rev. Floyd Hamilton officiated. Pink and white flowers against a background of ferns and palms and tall candelabra at either side decorated the church altar.

After a candle-lighting ceremony, Mrs. Morgan Hale sang "All for You" and "Because." Miss Betty Tobelman played the wedding march.

Mrs. Carl T. Olson, matron of honor, wore chenille-embroidered blue satin with pink trim. She carried deep pink roses. The bride, a dainty blonde, wore white satin with long sleeves and lace midriff and insets, made princess style with a long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a coronet of chiffon with pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was given in marriage by Carl T. Olson. At close of the service Mrs. Jack Grosz sang "Living for Jesus."

Herbert Bloom was best man for his brother, and Robert Browning was usher.

A reception was held at the Ivar Pearson home.

Mrs. Bloom, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henning Carlson of Albert City, finished high school there in 1936 and attended Buena Vista college. She has taught in rural schools near her home.

Mr. Bloom, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Bloom, was graduated from Concord high school in 1936. Afterward he moved with his parents to Marathon, Ia. He was employed in Albert City until he entered service.

Improves in City.

Harry Armstrong who underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis in a Sioux City hospital Tuesday last week, is improving nicely. He is a son-in-law of Mrs. A. A. Welch of Wayne.

Card of Thanks.

To all who remembered me with letters, cards and gifts while I was in an Omaha hospital I wish to express sincere thanks. Also do I thank neighbors and other friends for their many kindnesses.—Mrs. Marie Mahnke.

Is Training in Florida.

"This is acknowledgment of receipt of every issue of the Wayne Herald since my enlistment in the U. S. Air force in January of this year," writes Officer Candidate Wayne McMaster who is now at Miami Beach, Fla. "It is difficult to state the appreciation of one in the service for this thoughtful act on the part of your paper. Getting the paper at regular intervals not only informs one of the activities of his friends and acquaintances but serves as a memory of what has been and revives the promise of return home after a job well done. I can assure you the paper is no more thoroughly read than by those far distant. In fact I would say that a definite ratio exists between the completeness of reading and the distance from home. The farther away from home, the more carefully are the contents scrutinized."

Trains at Fort Knox.

Pvt. Heino Siefken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Siefken of Wayne, has gone to Fort Knox, Ky., to begin basic training which will qualify him for duty with the armed force, the fastest moving land force of the army. For six weeks the men study fundamentals of soldiering. Then for six weeks they will train in one of several lines, light tank, medium tank, scouting and patrolling, anti-tank, machine gun, assault gun or reconnaissance.

Complications Are Narrowly Averted In Play Presented

Complications were narrowly averted behind the scenes in the murder mystery, "Mr. and Mrs. North," presented by Wayne Players Tuesday evening last week under sponsorship of the Woman's club.

Near the end of the second act when Harold West went to get the keys to take handcuffs off Henry Reynolds' wrists, the keys were missing. Reynolds was to go on the stage early in the third act and he was not supposed to be wearing handcuffs. But, if parties couldn't find the key, what would they do? They decided maybe Reynolds would have to carry a bat in his hands to cover his wrists.

While those who happened to be off the stage tried solve the problem, West searched his clothes in the dressing room and ran home to see where the key could be. But he failed to locate it.

The handcuffs had been borrowed from Police Chief Geo. Bernhoff. Someone thought of finding him to get another key. The officer had been at the entrance to the auditorium, but at the moment he had stepped away. Mr. Bernhoff did return, however, in the nick of time. He opened the lock just before Reynolds was to go into his part.

The key which Mr. West had borrowed was later located in clothes he had left at the barber shop.

To Hooper Meeting.

Rev. W. F. Most, member of the advisory committee, and Miss Ruth Damme, secretary of the Midwest synodical, were in Hooper Sunday afternoon attending a meeting to make plans for the annual Luther League convention to be held there August 18, 19 and 20.

Busy Maids Meet.

Busy Maids 4-H club met July 1 in the Ben Nissen home with Dorothy and Evelyn Splittgerber hostesses. Favorite songs were given for roll call. The girls learned how to judge protectors and the ones they made were then judged. All members were present also guests, Sophie and Joan Damme, Lorena Fredericks and Evelyn Nissen. Cow Camp in Western Nebraska Presents New View of Ranching

Barmore Bros. 3-B ranch near Springview, is a most interesting place. Mrs. Art Auker, formerly of Wayne county, writes of her visit to the western Nebraska cow camp as follows:

"How many of the Herald's readers have visited a cow camp? How many would know one if they saw it? There are no signs posted near the camp except invisible ones which seem to say 'Ladies Not Expected.' With woman's natural curiosity, I was anxious to visit the 3-B (B. B. Barmore) cow camp west of Springview, and was delighted to receive an invitation to spend the day and have dinner there.

"Like most summer resorts the camp is closed during the winter and has its formal spring opening when riders arrive bringing over 300 Hereford cows and as many little calves from the 3-B ranch north and east of Springview. This herd is kept in winter quarters on the ranch and all summer on a large range. Near one corner of this range are the corals, branding pens, loading chutes and emergency pens.

"Just south of the stock yards are 12 large cottonwood trees and amid these is the camp. The brand is white, so tiny, yet so perfect with its equipment quite modern even to built-in cupboards for dishes and grocery supplies. The camp was closed last fall before sugar rationing was planned and opened after all sugar cards were issued. Among the food supplies was found almost a whole quart of sugar. Shortly after this the camp boss could be heard whistling something that might have been 'Gold Mine in the Sky,' but which which really was 'Sugar Bowl in the Camp.'

"The camp boss is a busy man. Last spring a Wayne county farmer came to Keya Paha county to rent or buy a ranch, saying there was too much work to be done on a Wayne county farm, that he and his wife would like to take life a little easier. Further conversation led one to think this Wayne county man expected to get a ranch, buy a hundred cows, the calves to come into existence without work or worry on the part of the owner. The cows and calves would be turned on the range, leaving the owner and wife free to spend the summer at seashore or mountains. In the fall an eastern cattle buyer would drive in at the range and pay '11 cents' for the calves.

"The camp boss has a different picture of ranch life: windmills that refuse to run, wells that fail to produce water, fences that will sag; calves that go astray. These are only a few items that keep him busy all the time. Then there are the big days when the riders

HEARTS and FLOWERS

TOM: Gosh, Ann, I'm glad I could get back in time for our wedding anniversary. Being on the road as much as I am, it seems like I'm never home. Here's something for you.

ANN: You darling! Flowers!

TOM: It could have been a new hat if that blamed car of mine hadn't had to have new piston rings.

ANN: I know wives shouldn't interfere in their husband's business, Tom, but Mrs. Reardon was telling me how much money Jack saved on the maintenance of his car. He drives even more than you do.

TOM: What did she tell you, Ann?

ANN: Well, Jack Reardon used Conoco Nth motor oil. That's the oil that OIL-PLATES the engine and saves a lot of wear and tear. And it contains a new synthetic that helps keep the oil from fouling up, too. Mrs. Reardon says Jack has to make his car last two to three years longer now and Conoco Nth motor oil will help him do it!

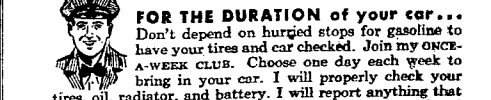

TOM: That settles it, Ann! I'm going to change right now to Conoco Nth!

ANN: Swell! And maybe I still get that new hat?

You'll agree that it's orchids to Conoco Nth motor oil, once you prove to yourself how it is so economical, clean-running and wear-saving. See Your Conoco Mileage Merchant today! Continental Oil Co.

- Drive slowly and carefully. Speed and careless driving are wasteful of gasoline.
- Take care of your engine. A faulty engine wastes gasoline.
- Use the right oil to make your engine run easier and burn less gasoline.
- Keep your carburetor and spark properly adjusted. Use hand choke sparingly.
- Repair a slipping clutch. It means a waste of engine power and gasoline.
- Clean your air cleaner every 5,000 miles.
- Keep battery charged. This means easier starting, less choking, less gasoline consumption.

During two years in the war zones, Associated Press correspondent, Preston Grover, was bombed more than 100 times by the British, Germans and Italians. He was repeatedly under machine-gun, artillery and sniper's rifle fire. He flew in a bomber raiding enemy territory. Twice he was pitched into the Mediterranean from attacked ships. He wasn't scratched. He is now nursing his first injury—two ribs broken when he fell on a piece of soap in the bathtub.

There he found another thief had stolen his car.

Mrs. G. Douglas Bridson believes the scrap rubber drive ought to go just so far. She suggested the drive be confined to scrap rubber.

Life in Australia Is Pictured In Letter from Pacific Region

Late Howell Rees' Boyhood Friend Writes from Home Established in 1878.

Since the war has taken many American boys to the Pacific zone, the public is more interested than ever in that region. A letter written May 12 by Daniel James of Newcastle, North Wales, Australia, to Mrs. T. P. Roberts of Carroll, brings new insights on that continent.

Mr. James and Mrs. Roberts' father, the late Howell Rees of Carroll, were boyhood friends in their native Wales. Their ages were only a month's difference. When the two were 21, Mr. James set out for the new district being opened in Australia by Welsh people, and at the same time Mr. Rees came to this country. In 1919 Mr. and Mrs. Rees made a trip to Wales and in 1912 Mr. James went back. Contact with relatives and friends in their homeland at that time led the two men to start correspondence. This they continued until Mr. Rees died in 1927. Since then Mr. James has kept up the correspondence with Mr. Rees' daughter. Letters now come from Australia in about six weeks and those going from here require about seven weeks. Before the war, the distance could be made by air service in three weeks. It costs 20 cents to send an insured letter to Australia. Airmail since the war has advanced to $1.50 per letter.

Excerpts from Mr. James' letter to Mrs. Roberts follow:

"Two of my grandsons have arrived from the middle east (London) and they are in the pink of condition and excellent in health. They give a good report of their experience abroad. The other two have not arrived yet. By all account all the Australians I meet we back in Australia soon to meet the Japanese if they dare to land on Australian soil. One is in the air force in London and had an enjoyable time in South Wales with our people when on leave.

"My three sons, being returned soldiers of the last war, have not been sent abroad in this war but are training to meet the common enemy on any part of our great land. Australians would sooner die on the battlefield themselves than to see our Australian women and children getting molested by the Japanese.

"Many American soldiers and airmen are camping on the air-drome two miles from my home. I have been speaking with some of them and inquired if they were from Carroll, Neb., but have not met one so far from Carroll.

"Petrol (gasoline) is rationed here so people have to go back to horse-drawn vehicles. Flour and sugar are plentiful but only one ounce of tea is allowed per adult per week. My good luck we had a tin of tea in before the law came in force. Labor is scarce and wages are high. Although I was 85 on April 26, I am able to milk three or four cows morning and evening to keep the house with milk and butter and to keep myself fit and able to grow a few vegetables in my garden. There is not much to do with the stone fruit and orange trees which are loaded this time again. The stone fruit (cherries) season is over and the second crop of oranges looks well and loaded. My son cultivates in spare time.

"My two eldest sons are in camp constantly training recruits. My youngest son is on my farm. He has a girl and a boy. The girl is on her third year as a nurse in Newcastle hospital. She is between 19 and 20. The boy, just over 14, is in his third year in high school. He travels each day by bus 12 miles, then by boat and afterward by train to school, returning home at night. It is a good road and a pleasant trip. So far we do not hire any on the farm as I am healthy and strong enough to do a little when my son is in training. We have the post office and telephone in the home. I am still enjoying life to the full but I feel my legs are going. Nail upon nail is getting a little loose in the old structure and sooner or later I shall be beyond, but I shall write to you as long as I can.

"I attend the Methodist church every Sunday in my little horse and trap (buggy). My son, with his wife and family, go to the Church of England. These are the only two denominations in the district. Very few Catholics are here. Methodist conference changes our ministers every four or five years. We have a minister now who had been a missionary inland for many years. He is 45. The Church of England minister is about the same age. Our late minister went to soldiers' camp.

"We are having a pleasant season—warm days, little cool at night and a shower now and again. It is the beginning of our winter. We had a dry summer, but our stock and crops were fair. All the farmers here were notified to shift stock over the dividing range for fear of the Japs' raiding our homes and taking our stock. Fortunately they raided other parts and found those parts too well protected with foris.

Richard Lutes, former Wayne student, has been hired as director of Laurel band. He will also teach in the school there.
