

Board Believed to Have Acted Wisely in Restricting County Show to 4-H Club and School Exhibits — Decision Followed Due Consideration of Prevailing Conditions — Serving Government Agencies — In Coming Primary and Election.

Though differences of opinion doubtless existed as to what the county fair board should do in setting the question of holding this year's exhibition, the decision, as reported last week, to trim down to a 4-H club and school show without an entrance fee will be accepted generally as reasonable and sound.

The board had contracted for an exceptionally attractive program at much cost. Interfering war demands threatened substitutions that would neither have answered requirements nor have won popular approval.

Agricultural production promises to hit a record high, but farmers are believed to be busy and short of help to devote usual attention to making customary displays.

Therefore, all things considered, the board came to the conclusion that the most satisfactory procedure would be to feature 4-H club activities and school exhibits with proper premiums and a free gate.

The fair enterprise has been functioning for many years—from a small beginning to large and successful proportions. In recent years it carried on and kept out of the red despite drought and grasshoppers.

Numerous government agencies, created to serve or diverted to help war aims, depend on newspapers for publicity, and they receive it in proportions consistent with space and with best results as determined by the editor.

Along comes the head of an agency of bureau with an idea to put across. At the time he forgets many other branches of the service are equally intent on demanding free use of newspaper columns.

So, if the editor modifies stories sent in from many government sources, using his judgment as to what or how much is important at the time, responsible heads should not feel their claims have been willfully neglected.

Two hundred Wayne county boys in different branches of the military service are regularly receiving the Herald. They are widely scattered—some still in this country, others on distant islands.

Whether in the far Pacific or beyond the Atlantic, they, as well as their comrades from every section, are entitled to vote in the coming primary and election. The proper

Will Carry Case To High Tribunal

District Judge A. E. Wenke Grants Permission in Ruling Monday.

Permission to carry the suit of Doris Fay Carlson, et al., against R. W. Bartels, administrator of the estate of Nels Carlson, deceased, to the state supreme court was granted by District Judge A. E. Wenke, Stanton, before whom the matter was taken Monday.

Judge Wenke ordered that Mr. Bartels, administrator, be authorized to appeal to the supreme court from the Wayne county district court decision of June 22 and also from the county court order overruling defendant's motion for a new trial.

Request for permission to appeal to the supreme court in the district court decision in the suit filed in behalf of Doris Fay and Alma May Carlson against the estate of Nels Carlson was denied in county court last week.

Miss Helen Kahler, mother of the girls, sought $5,000 for each from the estate of Nels Carlson, father of the two. District court June 22 awarded the children $3,250 together from the estate.

Mr. Bartels gave notice of appeal to the supreme court from this decision. The county court was asked to rule that the estate matter could be taken to the high tribunal.

NUMBER 52 How to save time and trouble in shopping A list of money-saving foods to check A timely story with a moral

Look at these low prices! And remember, they're good every day of the week!

Table of Canned Vegetables prices: Beets, Corn, Spinach, Carrots, Tomatoes, Sweet Potatoes, Peas, Baked Beans, Baby Foods.

Table of Desserts prices: Pears, Cocktail, Pie Filling, Jell-O, Jell-well, Raisins, Crackers.

Table of Penny Savers prices: Bread, Mustard, Yeast, Wheat Flakes, Jar Caps, Blue Barrel, Ivory Soap, Palmolive, Starch, Matches.

This is a lesson in shopping that's worth reading. Because the war has made "time" more precious than ever before, it has become practically a patriotic duty to streamline our daily schedules as much as possible. The best way to save time is to cut shopping trips down by planning menus and market lists a week in advance.

Perishability is the best guide for dividing off your purchases. Staples like flour, salt, potatoes, canned and packaged goods can be bought weeks in advance. It's wise to replace them as soon as they're used, so you won't be caught short. Foods that will keep 3 to 4 days without spoiling include most meats; vegetables like carrots, turnips, beets, parsnips, squash, egg plant, corn, tomatoes; most underripe fruits and the like. The most perishable foods, those which will keep only a day or two, are fresh vegetables and fruits; fresh fish, chicken, and ground meats; dairy products; bread, cake, pastry.

To get your money's worth in vitamins and minerals, use fresh leafy and green vegetables the same day you buy them. As soon as you get them home, wash them quickly in a small amount of water, drain, and keep them in a covered container in the refrigerator until just ready to use. All about cooking weights and measures. Read the July 17th Family Circle article, "Kitchen Arithmetic" for complete charts on weights and measures and equivalents used in cooking. Trip to Arkansas Takes Local Party To Unusual Sights

Bagnell dam, Eureka Springs, Mt. Sequoia and Jefferson City were among the interesting places visited by Dr. and Mrs. Victor West and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Seymour who arrived home last Thursday from a trip to Arkansas. The Wayne like party to Mt. Sequoia near Fayetteville to attend the national Methodist laymen's meeting. Commodious buildings atop the mountain overlooking Fayetteville provide the center for Methodist gatherings in the south central part of the country. Before the union of Methodist churches, this served the southern church. Various groups use that convenient setting for various meetings. A group of superintendents left just before the laymen gathered, and a missionary group followed. Bagnell dam, a lake covering 1,500 acres and created from a river, furnishes power and light for quite an area. The lake has been stocked with fish and surroundings made into a popular resort for residents of St. Louis, Kansas City and other points. Eureka Springs is especially interesting for its artistic setting. The place is quaint and picturesque. Streets are crooked and in many shapes. One might imagine the streets have been laid out to form one of each letter of the alphabet. When the Wayne folks were there, a colony of artists had arrived and they were about the streets singly and in groups painting pictures of the surroundings. The houses and cabins in the country where Harold Bell Wright wrote his books are just as described in the stories. The party saw the point where the author pitched his tent while writing and found the views entrancing. In Iowa Mr. and Mrs. Seymour visited the Melvin Seymours in Des Moines, while Dr. and Mrs. West were with the latter's brother and sister in Malcom and Grinnell. The only rain they encountered was at Missouri Valley the last day of the trip. Flood water was so deep there that it reached the running boards of the car.

Middle West Area In Earnest on War

The charge that middle westerners are not war-conscious is refuted by John D. Gemmill of New York City, who is here visiting in the home of his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Felber. In observations through Iowa and Nebraska, Mr. Gemmill finds that people of this area are 100 per cent behind the war effort, making every sacrifice and cooperating untiringly. However, they are doing all this without any noise or show. They are real patriots, Mr. Gemmill asserts. The Chicago Tribune sent a reporter to an Iowa town of 800 to make a thorough survey. It was found that 15 per cent of the residents were actually in service and others are fully behind the production and financial efforts. Figures show that the Midwest has more men in the navy than the east coast, according to population. Mr. Gemmill is certain that the Midwest is war conscious, is doing its share in every way and will continue to sacrifice until the victory is gained. All this will be done without any showy ceremony. A man who served on the U. S. S. Lexington and who was enroute from Philadelphia, where he visited his mother, to the west coast, told Mr. Gemmill that all service men have North Platte, Neb., spotted as the most hospitable city in the United States. After having stopped there once, the soldiers and sailors route their travel through North Platte if possible so they may stop again. The unusual feature about the North Platte hospitality is that it is furnished entirely by that city. Any service man stopping there for a few minutes or longer is provided with his favorite magazines, plenty of food and a box of goodies to take along. The friendliness of everyone giving these pleasures to the men is thoroughly appreciated. The same sailor told Mr. Gemmill that Omaha's U. S. O. rooms are rated as tops by service men. The New Yorkers find crops in northeast Nebraska among the most promising they have seen. Parts of Iowa have had too much rain and fields are standing in water.

Values in Hardship

WHEN will reformers recognize that social progress begins with the lifting of mental living standards? is asked by the Christian Science Monitor...

Few today will question the social worker's contention that poverty does not necessarily produce Franklins and Lincolns...

We all observe daily cases of despair amid ease, and of happiness despite hardship, comments the Monitor...

Libya Failure

FAILURE in Libya is attributed largely to lack of generalship. White English soldiers were sufficiently equipped and fought heroically...

Touching mistakes and needs, the Christian Science Monitor said in its concluding comment...

A year ago in these columns it was pointed out that Cairo was badly handicapped by liquor and the old school tie...

Enemy Evils

LEADERS in enemy countries are no longer clever in their lying. In determination to mislead peoples of the world, dictator propagandists let loose volleys of falsehood...

In massacre of the truth, in cruel slaughter of the innocent and helpless, leaders of the movement for world slavery sink to the level crimsoned by the hands of the Roman monster...

In the Army

A LETTER from Dr. C. F. Dienst reports that he is a full-fledged major in the American Air Forces at Lowry Field, Denver...

Busy Mind

VICE PRESIDENT Henry A. Wallace's mind is busy wrestling with a series of cogitations over post-war conditions...

comparable with those prevailing in the United States is a beautiful thought even if it cannot be put into practice...

Plenty of puzzling problems will appear in the reconstruction period, and we may have to be satisfied with less Utopia than dreamers are pleased to anticipate...

Dr. Thomas J. Meyers of Pasadena, Calif., president of the American College of Neuropsychiatrists, was quoted the first of the week as saying that chronic alcoholism had kept one million persons out of the war effort...

The Lincoln Journal suggests that amending the primary law to make it function more satisfactorily is avoided through fear of an attempt to abolish it entirely...

According to a late report the national corn husking contest has been declared off on account of the war...

Conserves Gas

Senator Hugh Butler was given an X card along with other congressmen when gas rationing went into effect in the East...

To Ship Hogs by Command

Just now the agricultural planners down in Washington are solicitous of what is going to happen during the fall and winter months when they expect that a deluge of hogs will disrupt market conditions...

It is a rather dark picture that these busybodies are conjuring up for the country but that is an old trick of the crop planners...

Federal Sales Tax—The Answer

To all who operate family budgets, the need for a Federal Sales Tax should be perfectly clear...

War costs money. Tremendous sums—beyond those we ever dreamed of—must be raised to pay for the war machine that will eventually smash the Axis...

Where is the money to come from? This question has worried the Treasury and Congress for months...

The sole remaining large-scale tax source is in the hands of the people, in the pocketbooks of the millions who are doing war work...

1. It will absorb sufficient excess purchasing power to put a formidable obstacle in the way of inflation.

In spite of the complications involved in setting up machinery for the collection of a Federal Sales Tax, it represents the only method which has been discovered for accomplishing these ends.

THE MIDDLE WEST

We are strongly inclined to resent the suggestion that the middle west is complacent—that it is not so war-conscious as citizens in coastal areas...

Fair

government authority should see that this electoral privilege is not overlooked should see that American boys are put in possession of instrumentalities through which to express themselves...

Give Scholarships To Wayne Staters

Christian Science Services

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, July 19.

The Golden Text is: "As the Father hath life in himself, so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself" (John 5:26).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life... Verily, verily, I say unto you, if a man keep my saying, he shall never see death" (John 8:12, 51).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scripture" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Can Deity be almighty, if another mighty and self-creative cause exists and sways mankind? Has the Father 'Life in Himself,' as the Scriptures say, and, if so, can Life, or God, dwell in evil and create it? Can matter drive Life, Spirit, hence, and so defeat omnipotence? Is the woodman's axe, which destroys a tree's so-called life, superior to omnipotence? Can a leaden bullet deprive a man of Life, that is, of God, who is man's Life? If God is at the mercy of matter, then matter is omnipotent. Such doctrines are 'confusion worse confounded.' If two statements directly contradict each other and one is true, the other must be false" (p. 357).

Values in Hardship "WHEN will reformers recognize that social progress begins with the lifting of mental living standards?" is asked by the Christian Science Monitor as it points out despair in over-indulgence and content in poverty and self-denial.

"Few today will question the social worker's contention that poverty does not necessarily produce Franklins and Lincolns," says the Monitor. "But should we not question the whole school of mechanistic reform which assumes that the world will be all fixed up by merely giving people things, without working any basic change in their unsatisfied, unhappy thinking?"

"We all observe daily cases of despair amid ease, and of happiness despite hardship," comments the Monitor. "True humanitarianism helps people to help themselves, and the reformer who deals with the symptoms rather than the causes of social ills could learn something from Shakespeare, who knew that: 'There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so.'"

Libya FAILURE in Libya is attributed largely to lack of generalship. While English soldiers were sufficiently equipped and fought heroically, officers were often not on the job, according to reports. In every war too much depends on strategy to risk leadership to persons whose positions have been gained through pull rather than through proved skill.

Enemy LEADERS in enemy countries are no longer clever in their lying. In determination to mislead peoples of the world, dictator propagandists let loose volleys of falsehood that no one who thinks could be tempted to believe.

In the Army A LETTER from Dr. C. F. Dienst reports that he is a full-fledged major in the American Air Forces at Lowry Field, Denver. He has passed all required tests, and is ready to do his part in conquering the country's enemies—his second experience in a world war.

Busy VICE PRESIDENT Henry A. Wallace's mind is busy wrestling with a series of cogitations over post-war conditions, and sometimes he has an idea that would be acceptable if it would work—for instance, as Paul Mallon reports, raising wage standards in Latin America as a basis for trade relations.

comparable with those prevailing in the United States is a beautiful thought even if it cannot be put into practice. Some Washington officials have suggested waiting to see what is left for world reform before trying to make plans according to the Wallace blueprint.

Plenty of puzzling problems will appear in the reconstruction period, and we may have to be satisfied with less Utopia than dreamers are pleased to anticipate. Winning the war is the first job, and it must be done as ground on which to rest a disfigured but determined democratic order.

Dr. Thomas J. Meyers of Pasadena, Calif., president of the American College of Neuropsychiatrists, was quoted the first of the week as saying that chronic alcoholism had kept one million persons out of the war effort. He added that sixty thousand new cases were revealed every year and urged education and treatment to build needed resistance.

The Lincoln Journal suggests that amending the primary law to make it function more satisfactorily is avoided through fear of an attempt to abolish it entirely. Conventions are remembered as often subject to the manipulations of self-seeking politicians. The primary is not much if any more expressive of the popular will, but it invites every qualified elector to take part, and failure to meet popular wishes is due to lack of interest and understanding on the part of voters rather than to the system.

According to a late report the national corn husking contest has been declared off on account of the war. Such cancellation will probably lead states and counties to follow suit. It is a fact, however, that more and better corn could be made available for contests this year than in many years.

Conserves Gas. (York Republican)

Senator Hugh Butler was given an X card along with other congressmen when gas rationing went into effect in the East. Now, three weeks after, he has half of the tankful he got before gas rationing went into effect. Butler, it seems, can accept an X card and not make use of its unlimited privileges. Can that much be said for some of the government officials outside congress?

To Ship Hogs by Command. (Omaha Journal-Stockman)

Just now the agricultural planners down in Washington are solicitous of what is going to happen during the fall and winter months when they expect that a deluge of hogs will disrupt market conditions, swamp the packers with more hogs than they can handle and throw the program for feeding ourselves and our allies in this war completely out of gear.

It is a rather dark picture that these busybodies are conjuring up for the country but that is an old trick of the crop planners. They endeavor to frighten the country into adopting their program. Washington would like to compel hog growers to feed and ship their hogs according to rules and regulations laid down by the department of agriculture and they hope an emergency will arise that will force the country to adopt their program.

Federal Sales Tax—The Answer. (Industrial Press Service)

To all who operate family budgets, the need for a Federal Sales Tax should be perfectly clear.

War costs money. Tremendous sums—beyond those we ever dreamed of—must be raised to pay for the war machine that will eventually smash the Axis.

We all have a definite stake in the preservation of the American way and in the institutions we have built around us. These must be and will be preserved at all costs. Every American knows it and every American is ready and willing to do his or her utmost to help carry the load.

Where is the money to come from? This question has worried the Treasury and Congress for months. Every present tax source has been milked dry. Further strains on the heavy tax payers can represent only a drop in the bucket while adding enormously to their burdens and threatening their stability in the post-war adjustment. But there is an answer.

The sole remaining large-scale tax source is in the hands of the people, in the pocketbooks of the millions who are doing war work, Government work or the countless other jobs that are necessary to keep a nation of 130,000,000 people fed, clothed and housed and—at war.

THE MIDDLE WEST. We are strongly inclined to resent the suggestion that the middle west is complacent—that it is not so war-conscious as citizens in coastal areas. The fact that so far we have not had to be on the alert to dodge bombs does not mean we are insensible to needs or disposed to disregard obligations.

SUGAR. An Omaha report states that between 60 and 70 million pounds of sugar—twice the usual quantity—will be stored in that city this year.

It is also reported that sugar producing centers have extra supplies. Hoarding and fears of the future are said to have expedited the rationing program.

Late easing up on rules due to apparent surplus, and rationing in the future will doubtless depend on stocks in warehouses. It has been a welcome relief to housewives engaged in canning to be granted supplies in excess of the original plan.

Speaking of the sugar problem and need of looking out for the future, the Lincoln Journal offers this concluding comment: "However, one should not jump to the conclusion that because the warehouses are full, the supply is ample for all needs. Cane and beets are yearly crops and a considerable period of time elapses between the times of planting and the times of harvesting, and it is during this period that the piling up occurs in storage. No one can predict what will happen under the present circumstances, but if a considerable part of the stored Cuban crop can be transported to the United States, the scarcity problem will disappear. In any event it is reasonable to believe that the authorities will release more when it is available."

Christian Science Services

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, July 19.
The Golden Text is: "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself" (John 5:26).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life... Verily, verily, I say unto you, if a man keep my saying, he shall never see death" (John 8:12, 51).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Can Deity be almighty, if another mighty and self-creative cause exists and sways mankind? Has the Father 'Life in Himself,' as the Scriptures say; and, if so, can Life, or God, dwell in evil and create it? Can matter drive Life, Spirit, hence, and so defeat omnipotence? Is the woodman's axe, which destroys a tree's so-called life, superior to omnipotence? Can a leaden bullet deprive a man of life, that is, of God, who is man's Life? If God is at the mercy of matter then matter is omnipotent. Such doctrines are 'confusion worse confounded.' If two statements directly contradict each other and one is true, the other must be false" (p. 357).

Strength along with improved action featured cattle and hog trade Tuesday on the Sioux City market in contrast to weakness ruling Monday. Swine values slumped Monday under weight of a run exceeding 9,200, highest mark for mid-summer in a number of years, but rebounded for a strong to 15 cents higher rating Tuesday that boosted the principal price range for butcher hogs to $13.90 to $14.15, and put sows mainly at $13.40 to $13.60. Mostly 25 cents lower Monday at $13.75 to $14, spring lams were hard pressed to hold their own Tuesday. Slaughter ewes, meanwhile, were steady both days at $4 to $6. Service on Branch Line Is Scrutinized war plants. Surveys are being made to get every possible rail. This salvage will not be sufficient. The 40 million feet means 20 million feet of track or 3,750 miles. The only available source of this rail is from existing tracks. Rails, equipment and crews are required in a new government pool on which to draw for such emergency needs. Just this week a U. S. marshal requisitioned the rails and equipment on the Linwood-Hastings branch to provide 85 miles of track for the new navy plant going up at Hastings. Mr. Dressler expressed confidence that the public will take a reasonable attitude toward curtailed service when wartime demands are understood.

Attorney C. W. Peasinger of Randolph, is counsel for 14 towns and all protesters on the two branches. Expert witness is C. A. Ross of Lincoln, who served as counsel for the railway commission for 24 years, from 1913 until 1937, who served in the rate department, handling accounting and auditing and who was rate expert for the commission for seven years.

Explains Protest. Mr. Peasinger, representing protesters, stated that the application to curtail service is ill-timed and ill-advised. He said that figures would show that the lines are doing a good business which is constantly increasing. Bumper crops needed in wartime indicate that this will be greater, and that the request is ill-timed since the foods must be transported in the emergency.

The 1942 revenue has been 40 per cent above the 1940. Mr. Peasinger stated. Tri-weekly service ties up cars which ODT wants on the move. Trains alone can give the service needed, he added. Rails should also be used to save valuable rubber.

Presents Railroad Problem. Harry P. Congdon of St. Paul, general superintendent for C. St. P. M. & O., appeared as first witness. He told that the company before the war made a study of these branches and determined that tri-weekly service on them would be feasible and practicable. One set of equipment and one crew could operate both alternately out of Emerson. He cited instances in Minnesota and Wisconsin in which tri-weekly service has worked satisfactorily. He also testified that such service has been used for several years for local freight hauls on the main line between Worthington and Sioux City. These have been adequate, he stated. Equipment and crews would be absorbed in wartime needs. Many employees have been called into service and their places must be filled.

Carl Gray left the vice presidency of the line in May to enter the railroad wartime operating organization. J. J. Polley of the American Association of Railroads is requesting all possible rails and train equipment for war plants.

Mr. Congdon testified that the salvage of equipment through the proposed train changes would be made available to the war needs. Mr. Congdon was accompanied here by L. A. Thomas of Sioux City, general agent.

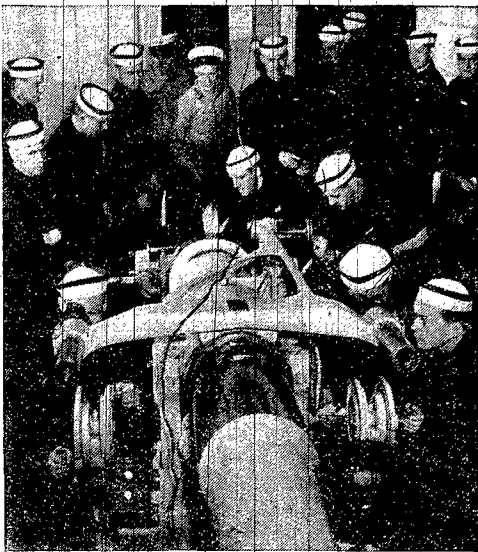

Auditor Shows Loss. General Auditor C. H. O'Hearn of St. Paul, presented figures on the C. St. P. M. & O. and special analysis for the two branches in question. He showed that the system has resulted in a deficit each year since 1932. The loss in 1940 was $2,046,877 and in 1941 it was $765,679.

Mr. O'Hearn's figures show revenues on the Crofton line of $29,119 in 1940 and cost of $60,763, resulting in a deficit of $39,853. The income for 1941 was $38,832 and expenses, $61,845, causing a loss of $31,712. For the first five months of 1942 (this line produced) $20,533 in revenue and cost $22,294 to operate, leaving a loss of $5,336.

The auditor's report for the Bloomfield branch showed revenue of $22,724 in 1940, and expenses of $52,394, a loss of $36,697. For 1941 the revenues were $33,403 and expenses $56,733, making a loss of $30,893. For the five-month period this year the revenue totaled $18,506 and expenses $19,853 or a deficit of $4,806.

Train 31, Emerson to Crofton, had total passenger revenue of $36.97 for May, 1942, with an average of four passengers per train and average passenger revenue of 36 cents. Train 33, Crofton to Emerson, for the same period had pas-

MIDSHIPMEN GIVEN ORDINANCE INSTRUCTION ABOARD U.S. NAVY TRAINING SHIP

The Navy's V-1 Accredited College program serves as a feeder for deck or engineering officers (V-2) and for aviation officers (V-5). Freshmen and Sophomores who enlist in the Navy's Class V-1 and qualify for deck or engineering officers training will be sent to a training school as midshipmen and will receive an intensive course in seamanship, ordnance and navigation.

Midshipmen, who can be identified by the dark band on their hats, are pictured here as they receive ordinance instruction aboard the U.S.S. Prairie State.

Milan McKnight, Elden, Robert Westphal, Elden, John Cory, Smithland, Jr., sophomors at Wayne State Teachers college last year, are now in the V-1 navy program. To be eligible for this program the boys must be between the ages of 17 and 19, and in good physical health.

The V-1 program enables the boys to stay in school and prepare to become officers. Mathematics, physics and physical education are stressed in the short, intensive training program the boys receive.

A conference will be held in Omaha Saturday to acquaint colleges and universities with details concerning army, navy and marine corps pre-induction recruiting program for college students. Representatives of joint army-navy-marine college procurement commission of the 7th corps area will be present. Representatives of colleges in the area affiliated with pre-induction program will also be present. Dean Clarence McGinn will represent Wayne.

Passenger revenue of $20.36, average of 2.6 per trip and average revenue of 30 cents. June brought a total of $32.81 on No. 31, with 3 per trip and average of 42 cents. For train 32 the June total was $30.54 with average of 2.8 per trip and average revenue of 42 cents.

Train No. 91, Emerson to Bloomfield, showed a total passenger revenue of $61.83 for May with average of 5.8 per trip and average revenue of 11 cents. No. 92, Bloomfield to Emerson, presented a total of $27.76 for May with 3.3 per trip and 32 cents revenue. For June No. 91 has a total of $56.51 with average of 5.2 per trip and average revenue of 42 cents. No. 92 for June had a total of $35.50, average of 3.6 per trip and average revenue of 38 cents.

Delegations Attend. Omaha, Sioux City and Norfolk Chambers of Commerce had delegations here. Walter Wharton, traffic commissioner of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, headed that city's delegation. Wm. Marriott, secretary of the grain exchange and chairman of transportation committee, and Phil Wigton, traffic commissioner, led the Sioux City group. Dwight Havens, manager of Norfolk Chamber of Commerce, headed that delegation.

Wayne Chamber of Commerce, which has spent much effort on the train matter, has John C. Carhart, W. C. Coryell, W. C. Swanson and D. Hall as witnesses. Each other point on the two branches also presented witnesses who testified.

Opponents claim that the train change would mean practical isolation for an area 50 by 80 miles when business is increasing and when the service is needed in the war effort. They add that curtailment on branches leads eventually broke down the total figures. Monthly revenue on the Crofton line was $16,767.70 in 1937, $15,739.10 in 1940 and $18,066.70 in 1941. The monthly figure on the Bloomfield branch was $15,273.80 in 1937, $14,530.70 in 1940 and $17,163.40 in 1941.

Mr. Ross also figured the income per mile. The average for the Crofton branch was $4,140.23 in 1937, $3,886.10 in 1940 and $4,485.84 in 1941. On the Bloomfield branch the per mile revenue was $4,302.50 in 1937, $4,093.17 in 1940 and $4,834.76 in 1941.

Figures on five months in 1942 were presented by Mr. Ross and estimates made from the basis of increase shown. Revenue on the Crofton line was $110,437 in five months this year, or $22,087.40 per month, and on the Bloomfield line the total is $101,404 or $20,280.80 per month. Estimating the year's total from these, Mr. Ross figured that the 1942 revenue on the Crofton line would be $265,048.80, a gain of 31.72 per cent over 1937, of 40.33 per cent over 1940 and of 22.12 per cent over 1941. On the Bloomfield line he figured a total for 1942 of $243,369.60, a gain of 32.78 per cent over 1937, of 39.57 per cent over 1940 and of 18.16 per cent over 1941. He also estimated that this trend of gain would mean revenue of $5,453.66 per mile on the Crofton line for 1942 and $5, 712.90 per mile on the Bloomfield line.

Students in Positions. Wayne college students placed in teaching positions this week are: Mrs. Lyda Shadley, 4th and 5th at Plainview; Bonnie Jo Martin, home economics at Osmond; Edna Wagner, 5th at Fullerton; Jean Waring, junior high at Albion; Dorothea Clift, 3rd and 4th at Quimby, Ia.; Betty Jayne Johnson, rural at Wausa; Lila Fletcher, 5th and 6th at Osmond.

Wayne Youth Helps In Navy Broadcast

Frank Gamble, Wayne, student at the United States Navy School of Music at the navy yard, Washington, D. C., took part in a radio broadcast featuring the request for binoculars for the navy. The appeal was made by daughters of Admiral Ernest King, Rear Admiral J. L. Kaufman and Vice President Wallace.

The navy is asking that owners of binoculars loan these to the navy for the duration. The navy accepts only 6x30 and 7x50 binoculars, manufactured by Zeiss (or Bausch and Lomb) persons having these and willing to loan them are asked to pack them carefully and mail them to the Naval Observatory, Washington, D. C. An identification tag, bearing the name and address of the sender, should be fastened to each instrument. The navy mails $1 to the sender, and this constitutes rental. The binoculars, if still in

Arrange Program Friday Afternoon

Conduct Defense Sales Drive To Show that Home Folks Are Backing Youths.

American Heroes day is to be observed in Wayne Friday, July 17, with a special program and with emphasis on war bond and stamp sales. The aim is to honor American heroes with action.

R. L. Larson, sales chairman, is in general charge of the occasion. Wayne college band, directed by Prof. John R. Keith, will play in the business section at 3 Friday afternoon. Attorney H. E. Siman will speak.

A large thermometer will be erected at the Boyd hotel corner to show the growth of sales of stamps and bonds.

Stamps and bonds may be purchased from business firms that day just as they are being sold by them throughout the month of July. The treasury department set the month's quota of defense sales at a billion dollars.

Whereas July 17 has been designated as the climax in the July Retailers for Victory campaign, the drive by a million American merchants including the merchants of the city of Wayne, to help put over the treasury department's billion dollar War Bond and Stamp quota for July;

And Whereas it is also the day in which local merchants have been asked to join with city officials, service organizations, every single group in our city to honor our own heroes—the heroes of this war—the heroes of past wars—the men who have fought and are now fighting to preserve American democracy... by staging the greatest one-day sale of War Bonds and Stamps in history;

Asks Early Market And Good Finish

Early marketing of well-finished hogs is advised by Thomas P. Roberts, chairman of U. S. D. A. for Wayne county. This will avoid congestion in transportation and in packing plants later.

The government is buying 40 per cent of the pork and two-thirds of the lard so the price should be maintained. All the pork that can be produced will help the united nations. It is estimated that in the coming year the government will need 30 per cent of the pork and half the lard.

In asking farmers to market hogs as early as possible, Mr. Roberts also urges that the stock be well finished. This can be accomplished by best feeding.

Indian in Army Proves Worth

Perpetual Torch Will Burn In New Illinois Town As Lidice Memorial.

Pvt. Claude Grey, full-blooded Sioux Indian from Yankton, S. D., has the reputation of being the best scout in the Second army in maneuvers in Louisiana. On a reconnaissance patrol during current war games, Grey halted his patrol with the warning: "Stop and take cover. I smell horses." Ten minutes later a cavalry troop galloped up.

Ambulances raced through the entrance of Briggs field, army air base at Fort Bliss, near El Paso, Tex. Army officers shuddered. Out piled 25 white clad nurses. Officers knew it was bad. Then the nurses remarked they were just on a sight-seeing trip of the field while off duty.

A new community near Joliet, Ill., was named Lidice in memory of the Czech town recently destroyed by the Nazis. A stone monument will be erected at the Illinois village and it will burn a perpetual flame dedicated to the "light of liberty."

Pvt. William E. Boyer of Lewisburg, Pa., is one man in 20,000, Lt. Wilbur R. Logan found in obtaining a pair of 2-E shoes for the soldier. The job took two months. They shoes looked about as broad as they were long, and Logan learned they were the smallest size issued in 20,000 pairs at the army induction station at New Cumberland, Pa. The smallest shoe regularly stocked, 5-A, fits only one in 13,000.

John F. Rhodes, Kansas City, Mo., state bar president, is a living example of the futility of haste, he admits. In days gone by, he drove as fast as 70 miles an hour in stretches to make the 20-mile trip from home to office in 40 minutes. Then tire conservation slowed his top speed to 60, then 50 and now 40. Time required for home-to-office? Still 40 minutes.

A Miami, Texas, school teacher paid her income tax with a penny. The government owes her 6 mills change. The return listed a net taxable income of 10 cents.

Francis L. Olds, 47, died because, friends said, he scorned illness until he made certain his weekly paper was published on time. Olds, owner of the Geauga Leader at Burton, O., and of the Middlefield Times, was stricken with appendicitis 10 days ago but refused to go to a hospital until the Geauga Leader met its deadline. As a result his appendix burst.

Precaution proved fatal to one man. Fear of air raids impelled 33-year-old deaf mute in Los Angeles to build a shelter beneath his home. His wife, also mute, found his crumpled body under tons of earth after the shelter collapsed.

Lend Cooperation To Prevent Fires

FSA families in Wayne, Pierce and Stanton counties are going to participate in a program to help put down the losses suffered in farm fires, according to Ray Verzal, district supervisor. The average cost of a farm fire is $800. The total amount in all rural communities last year was around $225,000,000. The total loss of life was approximately 3,500 persons. Since building materials cannot be secured, farm fires are more serious than ever. So all FSA families are urged to cooperate.

Nebraska alone lost 709 farm dwellings and 186 barns through fire last year. Deaths totaled 21 and injuries resulted to 75 in this period.

Mr. Verzal expressed the willingness of FSA families to serve as fire wardens in any other way they may be needed.

Accession Books At Wayne Library

Fiction and non-fiction are included in the new books accessioned at the Wayne public library this last week.

In the fiction class is a best seller, "The Song of Bernadette," by Franz Werfel. A light story of interest to young folks is "Seventeenth Summer," by Maureen Daly. Other books for light summer reading are "Novelty on Earth," by Margaret Duley, "This One Kindness," by Ethel Hueston, "Crimson Mountain," by Grace Livingston Hill, "Intruders in Eden," by Arthur Stringer. Also included is a mystery story, "The Case of the Seven Sneezes," by Anthony Boucher, "Family Honey-moon," by Homer Crox, is light fiction and amusing. "Inside Benchley," by Robert Benchley, is pure humor.

Among the non-fiction books is "Time Runs Out," by Henry J. Taylor, who was the last American allowed in and out of Germany. It bristles with revelations. Included in the non-fiction books are "America Speaks," by a noted English author and journalist, Philip Gibbs; "The History of Quakerism," by Albert Russell, dean of the Divinity School of Duke University and noted lecturer; "The Valor of Ignorance," by Homer Lea, with the introduction by Clare Booth.
