Joining in Drive To Gather Scrap

The scrap, proceeds for the sale of this will go to the Red Cross. The price paid varies from $5 to $9 a ton, depending on the kind of metal.

The Chicago Lumber company at Winside, and Fullerton Lumber company at Carroll, are collection depots in those places.

Each home is being asked for at least 100 pounds of scrap iron. In the past four months Wayne county produced one and a quarter million pounds, about 500 tons, of scrap, and it is believed that the new additional quota can be surpassed.

Farmers are asked to bring their scrap metal to one of the collection points in town if possible. In case they are unable to do so, they are urged to notify one of the leaders or the Chamber of Commerce and arrangements will be made to collect this.

This nation's armed forces must be well equipped. The fact that 50 per cent of such equipment is made from scrap metal proves the need for the immediate completion of a successful salvage drive.

Free Shows for Youths.
To encourage young folks to bring scrap iron, P. L. March will feature a 4-H show, "Young America," at the Co-Ed theatre Sunday evening at 7:30. This stars Jane Withers. Any 4-H member will be admitted free by bringing 25 pounds or more of scrap iron. Any bringing more than 50 pounds will be paid at the rate of $8 a ton for the excess. Scrap will be left at the theatre. The farm bureau will give a prize of $2.50 to the club member bringing the most iron, and Mr. March gives a month's pass to the theatre to the one bringing the second largest amount. Each will be given a receipt for scrap turned in so that the receipt may be used in competition on other prizes offered.

Other entertainment features, perhaps a play and ball game, will likely be arranged with scrap to be the admission price.

Dixon County Organizes.
Agent Howard Gillaspie, Allen, and Merle Kingsbury, Ponca, are in charge of Dixon county's participation in the scrap drive. Mrs. Rachel Dayden, Ponca, is women's leader.

Everyone in Dixon county is being asked to join in the campaign. Scrap metals and rubber are sought.

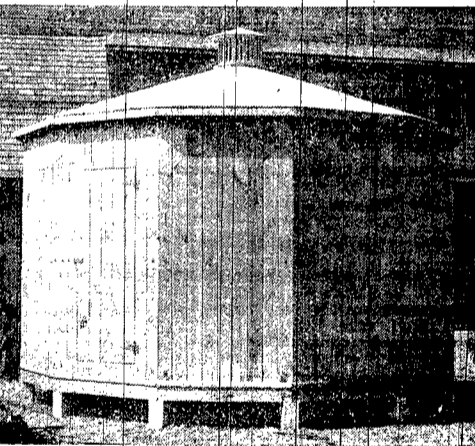

All sales or donations of scrap in Dixon county should be reported to the AAA office in Allen or to the court house in Ponca. Any who have no means of hauling their salvage are asked to notify one of those offices.

Just this week one plant employing 2,000 steel workers had to close for lack of materials. The scrap drive must keep these plants open.

New Victory Prefabricated Grain Bins Meet Farm Storage Needs

The new Victory prefabricated wooden grain bins meet the present acute shortage of grain storage by providing proper storage on the farm. The Victory bin is prefabricated and ready for one day erection.

Offering 1100 bushel capacity, it is eight feet high, fifteen feet in diameter, equipped with ventilator, scoop panel and grain door boards; it meets every requirement for proper storage under the government loan program.

The Victory bin is the development of timber engineers. It is grain tight, rain and snow tight, rat proof and wind resistant. Engineered to support the loads and stresses of stored grain, it is a strong durable, long life structure.

"A great advantage of the Victory wooden bin is its greater protection from summer heat. Its two-inch sidewalls give two solid inches of wood, which is equivalent in insulating value to 6 inches of brick or hollow tile, or 13 inches of concrete. Protection from heat and condensation is a great value in grain storage, particularly seed grain." "Since grain is collateral under the government loan program it is important to the farmer that it be kept in good condition and protected against loss or damage. The Victory prefabricated bin is the answer to proper, economical storage."

What's the Matter? FIRED by American traditions, we wonder whether we are headed...

News reports from battle fronts have been discouraging. The hinterland rustic, deeply sensing need of speeding the war, is disturbed by too much frivolity in coast cities...

According to Time magazine, Bacchus is flying high in seaboard centers where inhabitants hug the delusion that they are more war-conscious than citizens in the middle west...

Mid-westerners cannot understand why strikes in war production plants are not peremptorily stopped under the same rule that governs draftees in the army...

Another late development in connection with the adjournment of politics is the revelation by Paul Mallon, columnist, that payment of $325,000,000 to dependents of soldiers in arms has been deferred until November 2...

Mallon says the war department explained that it had not thought of the election, but that delay was caused by the big book-keeping job involved...

If those who engineered the payments have any convincing proof to show that the timing did not have the election in mind, they should produce it...

Let there be a suspension of old-time political scheming, let there be a modification of social hilarity and fanfare, and an end to peace-time depression bureaus not related to the war...

It is not enough to remember what Washington did at Valley Forge, or what Grant did at Vicksburg. What they did should be an inspiration to perpetuate the blessings which their valor and foresight bequeathed...

It is recalled that two American organizations, the American Legion and the O. A. R., have for years urged ample preparedness to meet any war emergency...

Complaint is made that sugar rationing is less generous in this county than in some other counties. Certainly there is no disposition on the part of the government to discriminate...

may be vitalized into a powerful contribution to victory. Notify members of the committee that you have some worthless metal that may become valuable in prosecution of the war...

Saturday night's rains that drenched areas north and south, missed this neighborhood by a few miles, but they cooled the air and relieved the heat burden on crops...

Vigorous and successful prosecution of the war is of chief concern, and voters will serve their country's future best by supporting house and senate candidates who seem least inclined to sidestep problems and lodge responsibilities...

A Washington newspaper announces that it has discontinued publishing society news for the duration. In fashionable circles of the national capital, it is likely fewer social functions will function if they are to pass unnoticed...

Egotism is indispensable to stability and achievement, but it is often most offensively in evidence. It keeps one's head up and his courage mounting. It serves well under control, but allowed to parade ostentatiously it destroys its value and defeats its purpose...

Making alcohol for conversion into rubber is said by some experts to be cheaper than other processes. If grain alcohol is practical, its production for one purpose or another would continue after the war and create a new demand for farm products...

The Omaha Journal-Stockman quotes an expert as suggesting great flying transports as the way to stop losses from submarines. That will happen, it is believed, if the war lasts long enough...

College ends its summer term August 7, and registration for the new school year takes place September 7. For four weeks the student population will be missed...

Farm Wages Up (Omaha Journal-Stockman) It did not require a 24-page bulletin from Washington to inform the country that farm wages had reached the highest levels in over a quarter of a century...

Raymond Johnson, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, received a deep triangular cut on his right arm Tuesday morning when he fell out of an apple tree at the San Steele home...

Little Willie Grows Up (Ogallala News) Every community in the United States has had its little Willie...

Well, sir, one day his number was up, and quietly as usual he went off to train in his country's army camps. They asked him what he would like to try for and he said aviation...

But Willie fooled the air corps officers because he had been doing a lot of thinking when he was being so quiet. He turned out to be a pilot of one of the B-24's and his calmness under fire is the talk of the army...

Willie is no certain lad but the product of every community which has boys in the service. They are showing something in this war they held in reserve at home. You can't judge the boys by their actions. Still water runs deep...

Invincible Production Machine (Industrial Press Service) Americans may well be proud of their industrial war machine and confident that it will enable the Allied Nations to triumph in the end...

Throughout the land, a mighty revolution is in progress, says this correspondent. "American industry is beating the ploughshares of peacetime—the autos, the electric refrigerators, the toasters and the washing machines—into the swords of total war: planes, tanks and high explosive bombs..."

While industry did not want this total conversion to war production any more than the public wanted to exchange their cars for tanks, the colossus is now at work and results of the gigantic war effort are discernible in every manufacturing center in the country...

On an all-out war production basis, American industry has not only met and passed the "fantastic" production schedules laid down by the government, but is beating the combined Axis production in terms of planes, guns, tanks and other essential fighting equipment...

Despite tremendous obstacles, which industry already is surmounting, and despite the shortage of certain vital materials, which ingenuity on the part of industry and sacrifice on the part of the population can overcome, American industry is doing its share of the job and as this correspondent points out, "The picture of the Arsenal of Democracy at work is one from which every lover of freedom may draw courage and strength..."

STRIKES. It shocks patriotic sensibilities to hear of strikes in war production plants at a time when unity of action is the supreme need. According to reports, last week's strikes interrupted one hundred million dollars worth of war construction...

Circus (Continued from Page One) proposed sales tax to share tax burdens, consistent with war demands, he expressed the belief that it was not only inevitable, but the proper way to make everybody help in meeting the cost...

Group Is Helping In Harvest Period One of the groups going to the country each evening to help farmers with grain shocking includes Ed. Ossonok, Frank Helne, Will Franzen, Colbie Boyce, Kenneth Lakes and Harold Syas...

Raymond Johnson Suffers Cut Arm Raymond Johnson, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, received a deep triangular cut on his right arm Tuesday morning when he fell out of an apple tree at the San Steele home...

In Regular Session. Wayne county commissioners held regular meeting Tuesday.

In Local Hospital. Harry Gust was admitted last Friday to a local hospital for medical care.

Improves in Hospital. Mrs. John T. Bressler, sr., is improving nicely in a local hospital following an operation.

Placed in Schools. Teachers placed in positions by Wayne college placement bureau the next week include Nadine Catron, 1st and 2nd, Battle Creek; Margaret Thoresen, kindergarten; Manning, Ia.; Marie Kolena, 4th, Stuart.

REFUTATION. Accusations of complacency, aimed by the eastern and western seaboard at the middle west, continue to nettle the newspapers of this area...

Beetles in Gardens. Blister beetles have done damage to gardens in some parts of Dixon county, according to Agent Howard Gillaspie. These beetles are most likely to attack potatoes, tomatoes, beans, soy beans, sugar beets and alfalfa...

As a Neighbor Sees Us.
(Nation's Business)
There's an old story about a farmer who listed his farm for sale with a real estate agent and then, after he had read a glowing advertisement describing it to purchasers, withdrew the listing because, as he told the agent, "That's the very place I've always wanted, after all."

We know some dissatisfied countrymen who might get this same lift from reading a little book by the Peruvian statesman, Javier Prado, "The Historical Destinies of the United States."

Senior Prado's words refresh the tired American from a well of inspiration that in later years has seemed to have dried up. If we have something as good as this eloquent foreigner sees in us, shouldn't we think twice before we trade it off for some old, old order of society, polished up and labeled "The New Order"?

In the United States, he says, "Every man's value is determined by his activity, and every man is given the opportunity to develop his abilities. An American's real stimulant and pride consist in being a self-made man, in fighting and in winning the fight. . . . Once his wealth has been acquired, the capitalist does not draw aside or retire quietly to enjoy his income. He puts his capital back to work time and again because, for an American, effort and action are life's true end. Private wealth secured by ability, effort and daring, circulates with a liberality and a disinterestedness that truly are unbelievable."

Every other night men are allowed to sleep from 8 p. m. to 1 a. m. Ensign Hunter enjoys decoding messages. He is also one of two official censors on board ship. His address is U. S. S. Cushing, c/o postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

In Chemical Branch.
Pvt. Glen Arthur Gathie was recently transferred from Camp Robinson, Ark., to Louisiana. His address is now 7th Chemical Co. Depot, Leesville, La.

In Glendale Camp.
Pvt. Paul S. Libengood of Windsor, is stationed at Curtiss-Wright school in Glendale, Cal. His address is A. A. F. T. C. D. class 39-42, 400 N. Paula St., Paul writes that he is well and very busy studying. He expresses appreciation for mail. The Wayne Herald gets a thorough reading by him and another Wayne boy there and both appreciate it every week. "It's great to be in the greatest army in the world," Paul continues, "and we want to keep it free and keep it the greatest nation in the world also. God won't let this war last forever and then we can all be together again."

Training in South.
"Army life is a good physical conditioner," writes Pvt. Charles E. Garwood who is in training at Camp Rucker, Ala. The southern camp is relatively new and opportunities for advancement seem plentiful, he continues. Rigorous drills are part of the program. Mr. Garwood tried to enlist in the navy but poor eyesight kept him out of this branch. So he enlisted in the army. His address is 322nd infantry service company, A. P. O. Camp Tucker, Ala.

Mr. Garwood is a graduate of Carroll high school and Wayne college. He has his master's degree from the university. The past four years he was principal at Milford, Ia.

"Several weeks ago I met Frederick Martischang at the main post here and needless to say we had a very newsy conversation. At the present time Sgt. Martischang is an officer candidate, attending the anti-aircraft artillery school at Camp Davis, N. C.

"Our present enlisted complement in Co. B is 120 men, but we get new recruits daily and expect to be full strength in a few weeks. "My present duty," continued Sgt. Lerner, "is in the capacity as instrument and map sergeant. I operate a range-finder and compute firing data for the company commander. It is 'dangerous' fun. "Last week the company fired automatic pistols on the range. My score on slow fire was third best in the company and on total score I fired fourth best score among the cadre of 16 corporals and sergeants.

"It is my wish to get a furlough before we go on maneuvers. Your column listing addresses of Wayne service men is splendid." (Continued on Page 2, Sec. 2)

Use of Surplus Grains for Making Alcohol-Rubber
Given Impetus

Manufacturing rubber from alcohol is easy and inexpensive and has been done for years in Russia and Germany, it was pointed out at Lincoln last Friday when the Nebraska Agricultural and Industrial conference was formed to further utilization of crops in industry. H. E. Ley, Chet Walters, F. B. Decker and W. H. Swett represented Wayne at this session.

Support was voted for the bill originated by Senator Guy Gillette of Iowa, this providing for the formation of an agricultural chemical enterprise aimed mainly at production of ethyl alcohol and its dehydration into rubber. Representatives of 40 Nebraska communities there were urged to send telegrams to senators favoring support of this measure.

Using grain for making alcohol which in turn is converted into rubber has proved successful in Europe. It was reported that Germany made 100,000 tons of such rubber in 1938.

If the Gillette bill passes, providing for alcohol, rubber etc., a new day will dawn both for agriculture and for industry, it was stated.

Magnitude of Work
Produced in West
Seen by Wayne Men

The magnitude of defense factories and shipyards in California interest Vernon Cassel, Wayne, who has been in Los Angeles about six weeks. In a letter to the Herald Mr. Cassel writes, "Many thousands of peoples are employed here, and it is gratifying to realize what a fine job is being done in the way of production. It is generally accepted that the shipyards here turn out more ships than any in the United States. It is breathtaking to drive along the yards at night and watch thousands of lights. To justify the fact that wages paid to these workers are in many cases, exorbitant, one must also take into consideration the hazards connected. Many lives are lost each week.

"Benny," as Mr. Cassel was known to his many friends in Wayne, is employed in a large department store. He was neither able to enlist or to secure work in defense production plants. He hopes to be able to get into service eventually, for he wants to have a part in this world war.

"It is quite an experience to drive along the docks area at night when the dimout is in force. It makes driving anything but pleasant, but makes one appreciate the precautions taken in the Pacific war zone. Guards with plenty of guns, floodlights and such equipment are seen everywhere along the coast. It would be difficult to pull a sneak attack here.

"Store hours have been changed, and are now 10 until 6. This way much of the traffic congestion on the defense area is eliminated. Californians can scarcely see reason for gas rationing, since there is so much gas produced here in this state. "It was several days before I could accustom myself to the constant roar of patrol planes overhead," continues Vernon. "I still view with childish curiosity the planes at night when the gigantic searchlights play upon them, transforming them into silver butterflies.

"Hundreds of women can be seen daily wearing uniforms of many branches of the armed forces. Hundreds more are doing man-sized jobs in defense plants. I do not believe they are altogether attracted to such work for the financial reward," writes Mr. Cassel.

"Troops move in and out of here by the thousands," continues Mr. Cassel. "I see many truck loads of soldiers going toward the docks just a half block from my brother's home. Those who are employed along the docks are quick to recognize when a convoy is preparing to leave, but one never knows for sure just when it actually leaves.

"A dimout is affected by painting the street lights with black paint on the side facing the coast. Then there is no chance of a ship being silhouetted against the skyline. All cars must use dim lights when driving in the dimout areas. Many accidents result from this."

Back County Men In Armed Forces

Sale of Bonds and Program Feature Observance of American Heroes Day.

To show men in the armed forces that residents here are backing them in every way possible, Wayne county purchased $7985 worth of war bonds Friday when American Heroes day was observed. This does not include the large number of stamps purchased. The sum brought to about $27,000 the amount buyers are adding to the county quota of $36,000 for July. R. L. Larson is defense sales chairman for the county, and R. W. Ley has charge of sales of bonds.

Harry E. Siman, Wayne, addressing a group of citizens Friday in 102 degree heat as a feature of Wayne's observance of American Heroes day, pointed out who are heroes and what all must do to help in this struggle. "There are heroes past and present," stated the speaker. Heroes 165 years ago gave America its freedom and its people liberty. During World war one 3,000,000 men were called to the colors; 1,000,000 men were carried across mine and submarine infested waters. All these men and all men who are serving in the armed forces today are heroes. Those who perform spectacular acts break into newspaper headlines, but all boys who will not kneel to foreign enemies deserve honor.

"The American soldier can die, if need be, with a smile on his lips," stated the speaker. He went on to say that three out of every four boys taken into the armed forces from this area are from farms. These boys give up the plow share and leave the farms they hold dear and where they are so much needed to fight for their country.

"Other forces," stated Mr. Siman, "are the members who serve on the draft boards of this nation." Most of them would rather face the bullets of the Nazis, were they physically able, than face the criticism of their fellow men.

Only one way for civilians to assure future victory is to buy bonds and stamps, the money for which can be put into war materials. "And from a selfish angle," stated Mr. Siman, "bonds and stamps are the best investment that America offers today. For we must do our duty and see that our government and country stand, or devastation such as there is in foreign countries will follow here."

"It is not enough for a Virginian to look at Jamestown and say 'there is the birthplace of civilization.' We've got to back tradition with real money. It is our duty," concluded Mr. Siman.

Wayne State Teachers college band, under the direction of Prof. John R. Keith, played a number of patriotic selections. Phyllis Smith performed with a baton.

The coach expects to have several veterans here this season. Bob Webb, Bob Westphal, P. Page, and Harold Fitch will likely be in the line, and Bud Best, Pete Kozisek and Ed. Mandel in the backfield.

A number of freshmen are expected to be here for the fall term.

Reducing of Debts Advised at Present

Reducing debts now rather than increasing them is advised by Ray L. Verzal, FSA supervisor for Wayne, Pierce and Stanton counties. This will help prevent post-war inflationary investments. Land purchases, Verzal advises, should be based on probable returns over a long-term period instead of on high prices for farm products. Recurrence of the slump following the last war can be avoided by far-sightedness.

Relief Is Brought After Heat Spell

Building of Railroads Is One of Chief Concern In Early Years.

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for July 22, 1926:

The intensely hot, dry spell was broken by rain that came in time to save corn which is now in the tasseling stage. Relief from the 108-degree temperature was also appreciated by humanity. It is hoped that lighter Pluvius sees that moisture comes often enough to avoid the perils of drought.

Postal delivery service in Wayne has been extended by the carrying of packages to the business district. It is expected that this service will be extended to the residence section later.

Edgar Perrin, 49, son of Mrs. Ellen Perrin of Wayne, was fatally injured July 17, 1926, when he fell from an 80-foot ladder at Sloan, Iowa.

Luis Bostrom, 88, resident of Concord since 1899, died July 19, 1926.

Mrs. Barbara Schuster is improving after suffering a stroke. Carroll and Wayne residents met to plan cooperation in gaining an improved highway between the points.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lindsay July 17, 1926.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Peters July 16, 1926.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Obst July 22, 1926.

Wayne high school alumni elected Mrs. E. H. Gailey president, Maurice Wright vice president, Ronald Reed secretary and Miss Pearl Sewell treasurer.

"Picnic dinners, spread under leafy boughs, with the mercury hovering around 100, not only vary the monotony of households, but they also prove a great boon to gnats that have to hustle for a living like the rest of us. Gnats have large families and without frequent exposure to victuals their struggles would be doubly hard and sometimes utterly unavailing. Gnats do not labor alone or in pairs. They work in large groups. When any number of gnats gather on the rim of a cup filled with appealing fluid, we always sense the danger they risk and tenderly brush them away. We think one is justified in using his judgment in such emergencies, even though it is misunderstood as an invitation to go off to round up and bring back more guests. If there were no picnics we suppose beneficent nature would make some other provision for them."

Streets of Ponca will be gravelled.

Pilger is graveling streets.

The road north and south through Randolph has been improved.

Miss Camilla Voss and Vernie Larson of Laurel, were married July 14, 1926.

Geo. Guest died at Wakefield July 15, 1926, aged 66.

S. W. Bostrom died at the home of a son, Nels, at Concord, July 19, 1926.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Iler Hansen of Winside, July 17, 1926.

August Loberg is building a new residence on his farm near Carroll.

Gravel has been completed on the road south of Laurel.

Mrs. Delyn Morris of Carroll, returned from Rochester, Minn., where she went for medical care.

Early Wayne Events.

W. E. Gleason and Alfred Swanson of Hoskins, went to Minneapolis to attend the G.A.R. convention.

P. Philled sold his ranch five miles west of Wayne to Ernest Harrigfeldt for $70 an acre.

Extra coaches were carried on the train to accommodate passengers taking the excursion to Minneapolis.

Mrs. A. B. Clark died August 12, 1906.

Wayne Normal closed its 15th year with a banquet which was attended by 200.

The summer term enrollment reached 711 and the year's total was 1509.

In Dixon County.

From Ponca Journal for August 1, 1898: Work on the Sioux City-Ogden short line is being pushed.

Grading is about finished between South Sioux City and Plainview and bridges are nearly built.

A construction train is expected to place ties and iron soon.

A one-horse circus passed through town for the southwest.

A small tent, two wagons, four horses and eight performers made up the outfit.

They said they would pitch at Martinsburg if the license were not too high.

Hog crops in Wayne, Dixon and other northeast counties promise to be larger than usual.

Contract for building the Yankton-Norfolk railroad has been let and work has commenced.

It is expected that trains will run on the route by end of the year.

Here's GUS SCHROEDER,

PARACHUTIST HAS LONG, EVENTFUL CAREER

A record of 4,137 parachute drops in 54 years with only two accidents is the unusual achievement of W. E. Winterringer, 71, Wayne business man whose efforts in the show game have been temporarily halted by the war.

Mr. Winterringer is a native of near Sioux City where his parents farmed. His career started when he was 12. After going to a circus at Sioux City, he tried walking on a fence with the help of a stick to maintain his balance and succeeded in walking quite a way. Two Englishmen who came along gave Mr. Winterringer a silver dollar for his performance and promised to come back. They did come back, bringing with them a little suit of blue and red tights. He was then a full fledged tightrope walker.

The performer's first public appearance was when he was 16 at Hartington. He collected $8 for his feats.

While at a fair at Wakefield Mr. Winterringer saw Prof. W. A. Ward make two balloon ascensions for $150. Mr. Winterringer thought he was plain foolish to keep on with tightrope walking when he could just as easily be making big money. He promptly went to see Prof. Ward and managed to get a balloon from him which Ward promised to deliver in the spring. Mr. Winterringer's first jump was made at Coleridge, Neb., June 2, 1888. Prior to that time he had only seen three balloon ascensions. Prof. Ward had promised to be on hand to help but he failed to show up. The balloon caught fire while being filled but Mr. Winterringer was determined to go up. Finally the balloon was let go and W. E. Winterringer sailed away from the earth, or as he expressed it, "the earth seemed to be leaving me." As a height of 1,000 feet he started to jump but the parachute refused to budge, so Mr. Winterringer had to come down with the balloon.

Mr. Winterringer's record is 11,053 feet which he attained at Boise, Idaho. There he had made six jumps, being favored by perfect weather. When he reached the height of 11,053 feet, he was not visible to the spectators and they thought he had surely disappeared for good. However, the parachutist landed safely.

The season of 1902 was Mr. Winterringer's jinx year. It was during that time he had his first and last two accidents. The first occurred while he was performing at Riverside park at Sioux City. Because of a very hard wind, the ascension was postponed for several hours. Finally, despite weather conditions, he decided to go up. The balloon, however, rose to a height of 200 feet and then sailed into the Missouri river. Two row boats came near him but did not pick him up. Just about the time he had given up hope of rescue, another boat saved him.

Mr. Winterringer's second accident happened while he was at Redfield, S. D. The wind again proved too strong and he and the balloon were blown against a building. He was rendered unconscious for seven hours. He was on crutches for four months after that accident.

By 1907 Mr. Winterringer had obtained the title of "Professor." It was during that year that he added some other acts. A woman who did a slide-for-life from a 60-foot tower, Madam La Motte, and a man, Prof. Alden, who did a high dive from a 70-foot ladder into a net, joined his performance. After a time Prof. Winterringer, however, decided he could make more money alone, so he dropped all sidelines.

Prof. Winterringer has had an interesting career as a parachutist and says he wants to resume his career after the war.

W. E. Winterringer, Wayne business man, has made 4,137 parachute drops in 54 years.

NEWS OF THE WAR From Office of Emergency Management.

The OPA says that there is no specific amount of sugar which a family may obtain for home canning. Local war price and rationing boards are authorized to permit the use of any reasonable amount of sugar for home canning with the understanding that with each pound of sugar, four quarts of fruit will be canned. The OPA says it considers the conservation of fruit as important as the conservation of sugar. A survey has shown that midwestern farm families normally consume 36 quarts of canned fruit per person each year.

The OPA makes this suggestion on how much to drive a car. Take it to a garage and have an expert estimate how many miles are left in the tires. Then figure out how many miles one can drive a week (if the end of 1945. With these figures one can figure a budget which will give an idea how far to drive each week for the duration.

"Vanity cases" are no more. The WPB has issued an order forbidding their manufacture because of metal shortage. The new order also forbids the manufacture of garden tools, magic lanterns and gabbler shafts. Children will have to get along with their pre-war merry-go-rounds, too.

The Japanese have pretty well cutoff America's tea supply, but the existing quantities can be stretched providing a little extra care is taken in the tea brewing. For brewing tea put one level teaspoon in boiling water. This will still give the tang tea drinkers want. For ice tea use one teaspoon per cup of freshly drawn boiling water.

Hams can still be decorated with cloves. An increase in imports from Zanzibar recently built up the reserves so that there are spices enough for two years with certain restrictions.

Here is the latest figure on how much this war is going to cost before it is finished—$223,000,000,000. Most of this has not been spent, only $34,756,000,000.

Steps to save rubber now being wasted by ignorance. Tires are being taken by the OPA. Inspectors who examine the tires in connection with the issuing of ration cards have been given instructions to help them find when a tire needs recapping or retreading or when a tire is abused or neglected.

The ODT has authorized the setting up of "joint information offices" throughout the midwest to aid motor carriers in increasing the efficiency of their operations.

Due to the fact that the war has put such an added burden on trains, buses, etc., the ODT has asked travelers to limit themselves to one bag whenever possible.

Tin and tennet plate which had been put in process on May 16, 1942, and roofing, furnace pipe and fittings on hand at the same date may be used for repairs, regardless of priority ratings, the WPB announced.

The WPB urges all private business men and others to make every possible typewriter available to the government for actual use. A typewriter is much more important to the army and navy than to the private business man. The private business man uses it only to type letters and forms, while the army and navy use it to issue fighting commands.

Man Saves Tires In Unique Way

Prospector Strikes It Rich In Navy Instead of Hills After War Starts.

Fred Beldsoe's next-door neighbor at Fort Wayne, Ind., told sheriff's deputies someone had stolen the tires and wheels from Beldsoe's automobile. Investigating, the deputies found the missing parts under Beldsoe's bed. He had jacked up the car and hidden the tires and wheels in fear they might be stolen.

At Santa Barbara, Cal., John Beard, his 11-year-old son and E. C. Fitzgerald found a school of throw-back perch nibbling at their hooks so they decided to quit fishing. They picked up and left minutes before a shell from an enemy submarine splintered the pier where they'd been sitting.

Everyone knows about the tire that was worth more than the automobile, but here's another. Thieves broke into the warehouse of the Kinney Wholesale company, Twin Falls, Idaho, dumped a ton of beans on the floor and stole the burlap bags.

James B. McCorkle, ex-sailor who found little gold in the California hills, struck it rich in the navy paymaster's office at San Francisco. Three years ago, McCorkle retired as water tender, first-class, United States navy, to go prospecting in the high Sierras. His mail was returned unopened; McCorkle lost contact with the civilized world. Three months after Pearl Harbor, McCorkle first heard about the war. He rushed to re-enlist. The navy paymaster greeting him with $2,400 accumulated retirement payment.

Miss Inez James and John Tatlock, jr., Indian Hills, Kans., concealed a terrible secret as they stood in the receiving line at the reception following their wedding. They weren't married! The bridegroom, just in from Wichita, Kans., dashed to the marriage license bureau in Kansas City for the necessary papers and thence on to the country club for the ceremony. Dr. George H. Combs noticed the Missouri seal on the license right in the middle of the proceedings, but continued. As soon as he disengaged the couple from friends, he explained the ceremony he conducted was meaningless — the license wasn't good in Kansas. Tatlock and Miss James waited until the receiving line had passed, then slipped out to Dr. Combs's automobile. They drove over to Kansas City — a few hundred feet away — were married, and returned to the reception before anyone missed them.

George LaMay, The Dallas, Ore., advised by neighbors that his car was being stolen, jumped into another car and gave chase. As he was about to overtake the machine, it stopped. LaMay approached cautiously. "Give me a push, buddy," the thief said, "my car's stalled." LaMay had called to a policeman to push him, to jail.

Mrs. Florence Sidel, field secretary of the Berks county humane society at Reading, Pa., reports that a dog-owner telephoned to say that several of his animals were "loaded with fleas." "What shall I do with them?" he inquired. "Bring them in," Mrs. Sidel recommended. Some time later the man appeared and placed a brown paper bag on her desk. "I scraped off as many as I could," he said. "They're all in the bag."

Edward Severson completed a unique record when he graduated from Thor high school. He went through 12 years of school without ever having a girl in his classes. Six boys were in the senior class.

At Kidder, Mo., this war business is getting in the town's hair. The town's last barber enlisted. Now the townfolk either have to use precious rubber going to the next town, or content themselves with the old bowl style trim.

A man filled out his sugar rationing card and handed it to Miss Mildred Schnepfer, helping with the registration. It appeared to be in order except for one item. His answer to sex was "11 1/2". Miss Schnepfer scratched her head and finally asked what he meant. "Oh, was the report. I thought that meant socks — that's my size."

A dollar bill fell out of a letter that came to John T. Sanderson, who operates a harness shop. There was also a note that said:

"Inclosed you will find $1 which pays for a buggy whip I stole from your grandad's shop 45 years ago. This will relieve my conscience and you can frame the $1."

A clerk in George Green's grocery store at Denver scrawled "beans" on a scrap of paper and left it in the cash register so his boss would know where to find the day's receipts. The boss couldn't find the $303 in the pile of beans next morning. Burglars had been there. They could read, too.

At Iberia, Mo., Henry Shackelford spread salt for his cattle to eat, then was puzzled to see them ignore it — while the hogs devoured it eagerly. There's been an error. He'd used the family's entire supply of canning sugar.

Cleo Harmon, 64, plucky Omaha girl, entered a hospital for the 54th time. This time she will have a foot operation to enable her to walk.

One man gave an arm and another both legs to the scrap drive. The arm and legs were of rubber and are being replaced by wooden ones.

The Oliver Johnson home in Florida is closed for the duration. All five in the household have joined the navy. The father and three sons are active in navy duty and Mrs. Johnson is in clerical work.

FROM ELKHORN RIVER Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Collins, Wayne, caught 18 catfish in the Elkhorn near Pilger one evening last week. The whole catch weighed 35 pounds, and the largest tipped the scales at 3 1/2 pounds.
