To Present Opera At Wayne College

Faust, most popular of all operas, will be presented by an all-star quintet under the auspices of the State Teachers College Tuesday, October 13, at 7 p. m. The opera comes in semi-concert form, with the time cut to an hour and a half, all recitative and lengthy dialogue being taken care of by a narrator who will informally tell the opera story between songs.

The cast was selected by Ernest Hutchison, of the Juilliard School of Music, and the company is coached by Alfredo Valenti, opera coach at the school. The members of the company are Elsa Lora, American born soprano, late of the Copenhagen Opera Company; Donald Gage, tenor; Pauline Pierce, mezzo-soprano; and Gene Greenwell, basso and narrator. The last two named artists have sung at the college on other occasions. Antonio Lora will be the pianist.

No opera has more lovely and singable arias than Faust, and none has more good tunes, familiar to the general populace. This version of the Juilliard School will be sung in English, and the costumes will be of the modern concert platform.

Pick Committee To Pass on Needs

Committees serving without pay will handle the farm machinery rationing program in Nebraska. Rationing committee in each county will include the AAA chairman and two other farmers selected by the county USDA board. Two alternates will also be named.

Secretary Wickard's order of September 17 "froze" farm machinery in the hands of dealers. This, according to AAA Chairman Lee Sellon, was "necessary to insure fair distribution of available equipment and its placement where it will do the most good for wartime farming operations."

Rationing of machinery was prompted by diversion of steel for direct war uses, more than 75 per cent of the nation's output now going into war needs. It takes 38 tons of steel to make a medium tank and 4500 tons for a cargo ship. Some anti-aircraft guns use up to 14 tons.

Farmers will need certificates from their rationing boards to buy items in group A, including corn pickers, combines, disc harrows, feed grinders, fertilizer spreaders, grain drills, grain elevators, hay balers, lime spreaders, manure spreaders, milk coolers, milking machines, pickup balers, shredders, tractors, potato diggers, beet lifters and loaders.

Eligibility for certificates will be inadequate of present equipment and inability to meet farm production goals by repairing, purchasing or renting used machinery, or by custom or exchange work. A purchaser must turn in replaced equipment and agree to rent or let others use the machinery on specified terms and conditions.

Some other equipment that is less scarce, classed as group B, may be bought upon certification by the farmer to the dealer that it is required to meet current agricultural needs. Still other items, group C, such as small farm tools, may be bought without restriction.

Mrs. Harvey Brown, 65, of Stanton, died September 12.

University Women Leaders Are Here

Successful War Work and High Standards Urged By Two Visitors.

To help in successful conclusion of the war and at the same time to maintain high educational standards are objectives of the American Association of University Women. This was stressed by Mrs. H. K. Painter of Minneapolis, sectional director, and Mrs. Thomas Aron of Crete, state president, Monday when they visited Wayne branch. The local board and chairman had 1 o'clock luncheon together with Mrs. J. T. Bressler, jr., discussing various lines of activity to be promoted. The visitors spoke to the entire branch later in the afternoon at the Woman's club room. The officials met with Norfolk branch Monday evening and plan to conclude their visit to all branches of the state organization next Saturday at Lincoln.

Mrs. Bressler presented Mrs. Aron who explained the state setup. This year the work of each state chairman will be divided so as to get most work possible accomplished with least hardship on any person. The educational division will have 10 working and Miss Ida Fisher of Wayne, has been chosen one of these.

Mrs. Aron urged all to lend every assistance toward winning the war and yet help retain cultural things.

Mrs. Painter, regional director for six years, emphasized the need of both physical and mental war work. Fellowships of A.A.U.W. have provided leaders in the present crisis and will furnish such needed leadership after the war. These fellowships not only permit essential research but they help reestablish the educators who have become war refugees.

Mrs. Painter also suggested panel discussions, and addresses as informative service to the public. War and war industry are taking young folks from school and many will not return to college after the conflict. "Let the university women maintain high educational standards to help these young folks," Mrs. Painter urged. "War work, fellowships and educating public opinion are the chief objectives at present."

Pioneers Quietly Observe Wedding

Fifty-fourth Anniversary of Marriage of Old-Timers In Wayne County.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bruggeman, pioneers of Cedar and Wayne counties for 50 years, quietly passed their 54th wedding anniversary September 11 at Laurel. The family here gathered to visit during the afternoon Sunday, but no demonstration was held this year. The Bruggemans were married at Carroll, Ia., in 1888. After farming in that vicinity for a short time they came to Wayne county, purchasing a farm eight miles south of Laurel in 1894, just on the line between Cedar and Wayne counties. They lived there until they moved to Laurel 20 years ago.

Mr. Bruggeman was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and came to Iowa with his parents at 7 years of age. Not liking farming, Mr. Bruggeman says he tried nearly every other vocation first until he married and then his bride chose the farm as the place to rear their family.

Margaret Will was born in Holstein, Germany, and came to the U. S. at the age of 10, with her parents, locating at Carroll, Ia., where she spent her girlhood.

Louis Bruggeman, born in Brooklyn, arrived in Iowa at the age of 7 where his parents farmed, near Arcadia. There he was a member of the pioneer Northwestern band of Arcadia, widely known at that time. Mr. Bruggeman says he used to herd cattle as a very young man on range over a considerable part of Wayne county. Since moving to Laurel he has been in the insurance business, and at 75 still continues his business activities. His wife, several years his junior, is active in church and social affairs. They have nine children living of 12 born to them: Edward of Weiser, Idaho; Roy and Dewey in Sioux City and Louis near Laurel. Daughters are Mrs. Ted Middleton, Belden; Mrs. Alfred Hogelin, Mrs. C. O. Ericson and Mrs. Clyde Shively of Laurel, and Mrs. Clarence Lyons, Sioux City.

Push War Sales In High School

Students Are Organized to Collect Scrap Metal for War Needs.

Wayne high school student council, meeting Monday, decided to promote the sale of war bonds and stamps each Wednesday. Council representatives will visit classrooms in home rooms each Wednesday, starting September 30, to handle the war savings sale.

The council decided to sponsor school dances each two weeks but delayed final arrangements until later.

Homer Biermann is president of the council, chosen by students last spring. Eleanor Bentback was chosen vice president and Opal Penn secretary-treasurer.

Wayne city school students will participate in the national scrap drive. Organized as America's junior army, with officers of all ranks, the young folks will begin their intensive drive and contest October 5. All metal will be weighed in at school and certificates issued so that winners of the contest may be determined.

Pep club met Monday and arranged for a parade led by the band and twirlers Wednesday in preparation for the first home football game of the season this Thursday. A bonfire of the school grounds concluded the affair.

New Pep club members elected last week are: Freshmen, Alice Mae Biermann, Marjorie Spittler, gerber, sophomores, Beatrice Peterson, Donna Granquist, juniors, Marcella Henney, Lois Lindsay, Norma Powers, seniors, Lois Gamble, Donna Fae Kurler, Dorothy Albers.

First issue of the Harbinger comes out this Friday.

The Parkinson girls' trio, organized by W. E. Parkinson of LeMars, Iowa, appeared in the first high school convocation Monday. Besides high school students, honor pupils of the 7th and 8th grades were invited. The young musicians showed old and new instruments, playing on all of them.

The second convocation is planned next Monday when Magician Segrest appears. He performed before the school last year.

In high school physical education the squad leaders elected are Jean Smolski, Leatrice Pfeuffer, Glenn Bridgeman and Alice Mae Biermann. In addition to playing soccer, the girls are considering posture. In connection with the latter, both classes will take a short hike. Junior high girls experimented with folk dancing last Friday. Both groups are organized into squads with leaders taking over part of the organization.

Betty Peterson's squad among the juniors and Alice Mae Biermann among the senior girls lead in points.

Blue Squires is the name of the 8th citizenship club.

The 8th grades initiated the 7th last Thursday. Boys were required to wear ribbons and aprons, pants rolled to their knees, rouge and lipstick. Girls wore their dresses wrungside out unmade shoes and no hair fasteners. Girls courted and boys towed during the day.

The 7th English class planned and presented original dramatizations before class Friday. "In the Shoe Shop" with Betty Ann Peterson as the fussy customer and Billy Heine the salesman, won the highest acclaim. "The Thrifty Shopper" was second. Joe Lynch was Mrs. Thrifty and Lloyd Russell the clerk.

The 7th graders will take a course in remedial reading. Now they are trying to determine their worst reading faults. The course will be varied with the reading of 7th grade classics.

Sixth grade news. During art periods last week imaginary houses were drawn and clever ideas resulted.

Maps of the Tigris-Euphrates rivers were sketched in connection with a study of ancient Babylonian. Several girls brought plants for the room and these are appreciated.

Local Football Team Holds Pierce to Lone Touchdown in Contest

Wayne high school football team opened its 1942 season with a 20-6 victory over Pierce high team at Pierce Friday, September 18. This was Wayne's 20th straight football victory.

Wayne won the toss and chose to receive. Muttin kicked off for Pierce and Bob Stull took the ball on his own 20-yard line and zig-zagged his way 80 yards for a touchdown. Stull received some very good blocking and started on his gallop, and soon outdistanced the Pierce tacklers. This made the score 6-0 in less than 30 seconds after the game began.

After the touchdown, Stull converted, making the score Wayne 7, Pierce 0.

Pierce elected to receive after this first touchdown. After one running attempt by them, they fumbled and Jensen of Wayne recovered on the Pierce 35-yard line.

With Stull and Murray alternating on straight football, Stull finally went over for his second touchdown, from the Pierce 18. His attempt to convert was blocked and the score read Wayne 13, Pierce 0.

Stull led the game at this time and Murray kicked off to Pierce, who made no return. After three attempts at the line, Pierce kicked to Babe who made no return. By still sticking to straight football Wayne rushed the ball to Pierce's 20 at the quarter end.

Coach Henry Menke replaced his first team at the beginning of the second quarter, with nine second stringers, leaving only Murray and Lessman of the first team; and shortly after the quarter opened, Lessman ran his own left end for 20 yards and a touchdown. Murray converted and the score became Wayne 20, Pierce 0.

The remaining part of the quarter was quite evenly fought, until the last two minutes when Pierce, with a series of passes, plunged the ball over for a touchdown from the Wayne one-yard line. This score, however, was made against the Wayne first team, as the players had returned to the game when Pierce put the ball on Wayne's five-yard line.

The second half was scoreless for both teams although the Wayne first team muffed several scoring opportunities.

Life in Islands Has Great Appeal For Family Here

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Fishbach and Bobbie arrived here Monday from Hawaii to visit Mrs. Guis Wendt and Miss Louise Wendt and with other relatives and friends until October 10, when they will leave for Chehalis, Wash., where Dr. Fishbach will be a health officer in Lewis county.

Mrs. Fishbach tells that they had a very interesting trip from Hawaii, where they have been living for the past year. A troop transport convoy, five ships escorted by two destroyers, made the trip. One ship carried soldiers wounded in a recent battle and one carried women and children.

Troops were on their way to take office training at various places in the United States. They had seen eight months' action at an outpost and had interesting stories to tell.

Two days out of Honolulu a ship was sighted on the horizon. The convoy turned and the destroyers immediately left to find out if the ship was friendly, which it was. All men aboard ship on which the Fishbachs were traveling were called to gun stations.

It took nine days to make the trip from the islands instead of the before-war five.

Upon arriving at San Francisco, September 14, Mrs. Fishbach was impressed with the service volunteer Red Cross women performed. These women take the children of passengers on the boats docking at San Francisco and care for them while the parents or guardians make out of the other business they have. When plans are completed and one knows where he wishes to go these women offer their cars and take one to his destination.

They serve hot drinks to passengers when they leave the ships.

The Fishbachs enjoyed their brief residency at Honolulu very much. In fact, according to Mrs. Fishbach, "I was sorry to leave." She tells that the flowers are very beautiful and rare. Customs are friendly and just a trifle quaint to an American-born person. The climate is wonderful, and small children seem to thrive in the sunlight. Before the December 7 attack life on the islands was quiet. Honolulu was much like a peaceful American city with the exception of the oriental element.

See Fires of Bombing. When Pearl Harbor was bombed the Fishbachs were at Honolulu. They missed the actual attack, but because Honolulu is but 20 miles from Pearl Harbor, when darkness fell they were able to see the glow from the burning tankers.

The topography of the island is such that the people living on the mountains could see just what was happening during the bombing, but those living in the valleys could not. Mrs. Fishbach says, "And we were on the wrong side of the mountain."

Radio stations were forced to go off the air when the bombing occurred for fear an enemy plane would use a radio beam as a director. The Honolulu station operates on the same frequency as WOW, Omaha, and when Honolulu went off the air the Fishbachs were able to hear the Omaha station, and listened to the news broadcasts from there and from the coast stations.

Strict Rules Observed. Since December 7 black-outs are observed every night, and a curfew at 10 each evening. After this hour only persons with special permits are allowed outside their homes. Mrs. Fishbach says the greatest difficulty in connection with the black-outs is ventilation of the houses, it is so warm and all windows and doors must be closed if a light is on. Before the Wayne visitors left a dim-out was being considered. Special bulbs would be used and in this way one could be comfortable and yet not disobey any regulations, for punishment for disobedience is severe.

Japanese are still operating businesses and do labor in the fields in Hawaii, but a feeling against them prevails. Japanese maids are much in demand. Many of the papers carry column after column of ads for Japanese maids, offering them as much as $65 to $75 per month. Especially now there is a demand for workers, for it is the beginning of the pineapple canning season.

Mrs. Fishbach had a young Japanese girl working for her. She left the morning of December 7 and didn't appear again until about six weeks later. Then she was hesitant about entering the house as she did not know what Mrs. Fishbach acted as though nothing had happened but the young girl told her that her mother thought it would be better if she stayed home. Japanese are good workers but they feel they are their own boss, more so since the December 7 attack.

Gas Is Rationed. Hawaiian island residents have had gas and tire rationing since the week preceding the December 7 attack. There is as yet no sugar rationing on the islands. Civilians are allowed about 10 gallons of gas per month. People who have a special need for their cars are allowed more.

Ships carrying fresh fruits and vegetables, mainly apples, oranges, lemons, lettuce and celery, were unable to reach the islands for some months after the attack. One evening the Honolulu paper carried the notice that these commodities would be available at the stores the following morning. And on the morning lines had formed before each store, waiting to get the fruits and vegetables they had gone so long without. Green bananas, pineapple, mangos, papayas were the only fruits available.

Under Military Law. Honolulu has been declared under military law. After the Midway battle the governor advised all non-essential citizens to leave the city. If they had no money to pay fare, considerations would be made. All families of military men have been evacuated, but many of the life-long residents are still living there. Lately there has been a great influx of war workers.

Most of the damage done at Pearl Harbor December 7 has been repaired. It is now very strongly fortified and many troops are stationed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wendt of Falls City, Neb., came Sunday and visited the first part of the week in the Mrs. Gus Wendt home. The Falls City folks met Dr. and Mrs. Robert Fishbach and Bobbie in Norfolk Monday.

"Reality" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientists, throughout the world, on Sunday, September 27.
The Golden Text is: "Thou, O Lord, remainest forever; thy throne from generation to generation." (Lamentations 5:19).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever; nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it; and God doeth it, that men should fear before him. . . For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things; to whom be glory for ever. Amen" (Ecclesiastes 3:14; Romans 11:36).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "How are veritable ideas to be distinguished from illusions?"

By learning the origin of each idea are emanations from the divine Mind 'Thoughts,' proceeding from the brain or from matter, are offshoots of mortal mind; they are mortal material beliefs. Ideas are spiritual, harmonious, and eternal. A Christian Science reveals the controversy of this mind is ultimate, that the only realities are the divine Mind and idea. This great fact is not, however, seen to be supported by sensible evidence, until its divine principle is demonstrated by healing the sick and thus proved absolute and divine. This proof once seen, no other conclusion can be reached" (pp. 88, 109).

Richard A. Wallace Sends Victory Mail Letter from London

One of the V-mail letters written August 31 from England by Pfc. Richard A. Wallace to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Wallace, of Long Beach, Cal., formerly of Wayne, was sent here to the R. H. Hansons. Such letters are photographed and the films flown over. The films are then printed on sheets about 4 by 6 inches. The letter follows:

"Well a few more days have passed and still no mail from anyone. Have only received the one letter from you, mailed the 19th of this month. Three of us went to London on a pass and really had a swell time. We went to the star line. Rose Marie, which was O.K. Would just as soon have seen a good American movie. We went to show about 6 p. m. and got out about 9:45. When we got out of the theatre it had been raining and we're ever dark? Couldn't see your hand in front of your face. We followed a couple of gals who had a flashlight to find our way back to the subway or tube as the Londoners call them. They are some what like the subs of New York only they have escalators to go down to the thing and back up. I'll bet the subs are at least two or three stories down under the ground. They are really something different from what a person would find in the middle-west or west coast.

"We went to a large cafe or brasserie. We had a dinner or the best we could get, which tasted O.K. Had pigeon. It cost us a pound and 10 shillings or nearly $6 for the three of us, which wasn't too bad. After the dinner, we went back to the hotel and slept on a soft bed for a change. The ones we had aren't so bad but are fairly hard. Am surely glad I brought the pillow I bought in San Jose. The next morning we got up and had breakfast, which goes with the hotel room over here. We paid 10 and 6 for the room, which is $2.60. That was for two so it wasn't bad either.

"Then during the day we visited Westminster abbey which is one of the most famous cathedrals in the world. Some parts of it date back to the year 1068, a long time ago. There are tombs of a lot of the famous people of England. Some we saw were those of Jenny Lind, Charles Dickens, William Pitt, Shakespeare, some of the old British soldiers of the last war and others too numerous to mention. Then we saw number 10 Downing street, the place where Prime Minister Churchill has his office. We saw the town of London which is along the Thames River near the tower bridge and also saw the London bridge which we all heard about before. Went by St. Paul's

Child Is Fatally Injured When He Bites Inflated Tube of Truck Tire.

A man who wrote to the governor of Nebraska nearly 45 years ago offering his services in the Spanish-American war isn't impatient. He's just curious. Reception Is Held On Golden Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Sullivan Are Honored at Home in Laurel Sunday.
 Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Sullivan, pioneers of Laurel for over 70 years, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, September 23, at their home with a family dinner at noon and open house for friends from 3 to 5. Host of friends and former neighbors 50 years ago called. Some 15 or 20 of those who attended the wedding ceremony, performed at Tera Hill Catholic church 18 miles northeast of Laurel, were present to renew their associations. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Lacy of Arapahoe, Okla., the latter a sister of the bride, attendants at the wedding. Also present was Mrs. W. A. Jones of Wynot, who made up the bride's bouquet in the absence of a florist and who pinned a rose on the coat lapel of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Sullivan, the former Margaret Ann McManus, who was born at Denton, Wis., in 1870, came to the Laurel community before Laurel existed, 70 years ago. There her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John McManus, homesteaded. Mr. Sullivan, "Moss," was born at Waucoona, rural settlement near St. James, in a one-room log house in 1869. He attended school also in a log schoolhouse and sat on benches with no desks for some years before desks came this way. After the couple were married they farmed for some years in the Tera Hill country, then moved to Laurel in 1905. In 1913 Mr. Sullivan established the first Black garage ever conducted in Laurel, retiring from active business in 1932. Both he and his wife have been active in the St. Mary's church and in civic affairs in Laurel. Mr. Sullivan was a member of the board of church trustees for many years. He was a member of the city council for nine years. Mr. Sullivan has not been well the last few years, but his wife does not intend to retire simply because of a golden wedding anniversary. She is one of the most active of the lady bowlers club and during the harvest season joined the younger wives and arid farmers in sheeking grain after business hours, keeping up with those half her age with alacrity.

The Sullivans have three daughters, Mrs. Bryan Jones of Syracuse, Neb., Mrs. Harold Bengtson of Ponca, and Miss Harriet at home. There is but one grandchild, Miss Cherry Ann Bengtson of Ponca.

Pouring the tea Sunday were Mrs. R. P. Carroll, Mrs. R. L. Herse, Mrs. Earl Beebe and Mrs. Edna Bell, Miss Nell Fleming of Sioux City, was in charge of the guest book.

Women Can Give Important Service
 In addressing Mothers' Study club members and guests on "Woman's Part in the War" last Thursday at Hotel Stratton, Supt. J. W. Litherland emphasized that "home is the heart of community life and that the important war service of each mother is to keep up the morale and the health of her family." She should plan a recreation and health program for her family. It is important that each mother not get so busy with outside activities that she neglects her children, and they are the leaders of the next generation.

Health of Family and High Morale Are Essential In Successful War.

The mother has the privilege and duty of instructing her children in the things for which the allied nations are now fighting: freedom of speech, freedom of religion, the golden rule, brotherhood of man, love of truth, goodness and beauty. These must be preserved, Supt. Litherland asserted. "And we must not forget the institutions concerned with growth and development of child character, the home, the school and the church."

Building healthy children imbued with American ideals and maintaining high morale are services women can render. And these are most important in the war effort, Supt. Litherland concluded.

Mrs. Litherland explained that the club last year supplied milk to 60 children for six weeks in the winter, and the aim this year is to do the same service for three months.

Mrs. L. F. Perry reported on plans for raising money for the milk fund. The group will either do so by small parties or by a couple larger ones.

College students provided music. John Kvan, accompanied by Genevieve Lundak, played a trombone solo. Phyllis Smith, with Shirley Johnson, accompanist, played the violin.

The luncheon and program last week were attended by 18.

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for September 23, 1926:

Much rain during the first half of September leads one to believe that Aquarius has about exhausted immediate supplies and that closing days of the month will be dry and pleasant for the annual fair which promises to be outstanding in displays and entertainment.

When a hay rack, truck and coupe tangled near Wayne during a night storm, H. E. Isom who was driving a team hitched to the rack, was bruised. D. A. Jones and Marion Jones, in the car, and Edward Owen, in the truck, had minor injuries.

Women of the Presbyterian church held their 50th annual district meeting in Wayne.

Events in Dixon County.

From Ponca Journal for October 24, 1889: Kilpatrick Bros. of Newcastle, received 20 kegs of oleomargarine from Kansas City. But there is no firm in Newcastle by the name of Kilpatrick and, if there were, residents of this rich butter country are wondering what any town could do with 20 kegs of oleomargarine. The clouds of mystery lifted a little when it was learned that Kilpatrick is the name of the railroad contractor to build a line through Newcastle and Ponca. It seems that the oleo is to be used to feed the hungry crew.

Pvt. Mike Karelj formerly of Wayne, is training as an aircraft engineer at Sheppard Field, Texas. His group drills in morning hours and has exercises afternoons. Spare time is spent in study. Mrs. Karelj, the former Erna Meyer of Wayne, is in Texas with her husband.

Is Prisoner of War.
Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Armstrong of Plainview, have word that their son, Lt. Leo Armstrong, who entered the Canadian air force in 1940, is a prisoner somewhere in German-occupied France. The youth recently was promoted to the Canadian Ace squadron. He has two brothers in the U. S. army.

Is Reported Missing.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kahler of Pierce, had a telegram from the war department last week telling that their son, LeRoy Arthur Kahler, U. S. N. R., is missing in action. The youth enlisted last April as an apprentice seaman and trained in San Diego. Another son of the Kahlers, Lester, is in service in Norfolk, Va.

Is Aviation Cadet.
Robert Carlisle of Norfolk, former Wayne student, was one of 19 naval aviation cadets who left Kansas City, Mo., last week for the U. S. navy pre-flight school at St. Mary's college in California. He takes three months' training before beginning primary flight instruction at a naval reserve air base. Aviation cadets later take intermediate and advanced flight training before being commissioned ensigns in the naval reserve or second lieutenants in the marine corps reserve.

He will likely be assigned to duty with an armored division or tank battalion. The youth is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones who recently moved to Los Angeles.

Meals Are Planned By Army Sergeant
Sgt. Bill Miller in service with the coast artillery and stationed at Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, Cal., who arrived last week Sunday to visit friends and relatives for about nine days, tells of his work as mess sergeant. He plans menus and buys food for the 200 men in his battery.

Sgt. Miller is allowed to spend .5801 cents per day per man for food, and the only requirement is that the men have plenty to eat and have two green vegetables and usually a salad included in the dinner and evening meals. All foods except meat are purchased on the open markets. Meat is obtained through quartermaster service, as all of it has to be government inspected and stamped.

Everything on the coast is high. Lettuce is about 8 cents per head and celery about 25 cents a bunch. Fort MacArthur is an induction and reception center for California, so the population of the camp changes rapidly.
Sgt. Miller has been in service 20 months and has been moved five times. He has been in four camps in California and one in Oregon.

Mrs. Anna Mau of Wayne announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Ann Mau, to Cadet Beverly Canning, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Canning of Wayne. The wedding will take place at Victoria, Texas, about October 9. Miss Mau will leave for Texas October 3.

Wayne Brothers In Major Battles

John Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chelsea Thompson of Wayne, now visiting here, tells that he has taken part in major sea battles fought during this war. He was aboard ship at Pearl Harbor at the time of the Jap attack.

John is enroute to Washington, D. C., to take a three months course in gunnery school. He and eight other young men from the group he was in were picked to attend this school. He reports there September 27.

John and his brother, Charles, enlisted in the navy three years ago. They have been together until just recently and have been in the Pacific most of the time. Charles is now in camp at Bremerton, Wash. They have seen many of their pals lost and have had a couple narrow escapes themselves.

It is John's opinion that the American navy has the Japanese in the Pacific well under control. But he also knows that the Japanese are a very tricky race so they have to be thoroughly defeated.
The attack on Pearl Harbor, according to John, did much damage but most of it has been repaired. Hawaii is no longer a resort, but rather has been turned over completely to the armed forces. Civilians wishing to remain there are employed in defense work.

Captain Ingham Thinks Midwest Very Responsive

Capt. C. G. Ingham, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Ingham of Wayne, serving in a medical battalion at Los Angeles, writes that he enjoys getting the Wayne Herald very much.

Capt. Ingham goes on to say, "News in the Herald and your letters make me feel that the middle west can show up the west coast with its enthusiasm and better results in the scrap and rubber drives and bond quotas. I hereby record my former statements that the middle-west is not getting war conscious."

"I see bond money every day in the form of new equipment and weapons. It's a joy to gaze upon a material gun, or a new type piece of mechanized equipment that was only a picture in the paper a few weeks ago. I handled a new type of .45 calibre short-barreled sub-machine gun yesterday. It's the old Colt gone Tommy-gun. It holds a clip of 20 or a drum of 50 shots and will spew them at a rate of several hundred shots per minute. At close range it is a most formidable weapon.

"We've suffered as badly from over-estimation of our production ability in this country as we have suffered from under-production. We set our miracle producing capacity goals too high - perhaps out of proportion to our ultimate capabilities. I think that our job is to stop crying because we aren't supermen, settle down to being ordinary human beings with human frailties and be satisfied to plug along at our level best."

Capt. Ingham's address is Co. B, 110th Med. Bn., A.P.O. No. 35, Los Angeles, Calif.
