

From Late Election Show Voters Retain Traditional Readiness to Assert Themselves — Due to Inexperienced Help — Danger in Releasing Brakes After War — Value in Good Books.

Newspapers and individuals do not gloat over election victories as they did in the old days. In primitive settlements, if a newspaper landed on the winning side it trotted out a crowing rooster and had it displayed on the first page. Usually victors in a community had a bonfire and shouted in tones of exultation and sometimes defiance. Some engaged in liquid hilarity. The idea seemed to be to make the opposition feel as deeply as possible. Times have changed. There is now no disposition to brag—no inclination to hurt the fellow who has been unsuccessful. Victory imposes responsibilities that modify feelings of elation.

The late election was approached with attention centered on principles rather than on individuals. No fanfare marked preliminaries. Little was said. People had made up their minds to pull away from the left. Frequent predictions that fundamental Americanism was bogged down and irretrievably lost to socialistic fantasies were quietly and firmly disproved. The implied command to Washington is to cut out political and unity efforts before they can manifestly become incensed over maintenance of depression-baited bureaucracy and high costs not related to the conflict. The election notifies congress to get together in pursuing the shortest route to victory—stop unnecessary waste, make the taxpayers' money serve fully and efficiently, and so steer the course of government that precious individual initiative may survive.

The Gallup poll flopped in disclosing election returns in advance. Dr. Gallup had doubtless thought he had developed an infallible system, and his success in recent years led most people to agree with him. But when the Literary Digest's forecasting machinery which finally fell down, the Gallup poll will not likely express itself in the future with old-time confidence. Either the Gallup canvass failed to work, or people were not in a mood to reveal what they thought.

Election results encourage the belief that labor union workers refused to be driven by their masters en masse. The outcome in metropolitan centers where the unions are strong, suggests refreshing independence. In Omaha, Howard Buffet, republican congressional candidate, was so sure of losing that he had prepared a statement accepting defeat and expressing appreciation. Buffet must have drawn support from union labor ranks.

Senator Ged W. Norris' expressed feeling of martyrdom following defeat reaffirms the popular judgment registered at the polls. The assumption that the veteran senator's service through the years has been repudiated strengthens the wisdom of his one-time pre-election decision to retire. Refusing to consider appointment to the supreme court is consistent with the president's move a few years ago to rejuvenate the high tribunal. The one who has reason to be aggrieved over the drift of politics in Nebraska is Foster May who was the regular democratic party nominee. The idea that either could have been elected at the other had been out of the way is clearly not true.

Lack of Help. Scarcity of help, due to war demands, causes an increased number of blunders and service interruptions. A new carrier at the post office was reported responsible for failure of one group of Herald subscribers in Wayne (receive copies of this newspaper on time last Thursday). This will probably not happen again, though something else to throw the machinery of service out of gear may turn up. Leaders in every branch of public and private endeavor are trying to prevent mistakes and delays, but insufficient help, or persons unaccustomed to new tasks often interfere.

After the War. Reduced automobile speed to save rubber will be followed by curtailed travel in the wake of gasoline rationing. Enforced conservation and trade barriers will be cancelled with the winning of the war, and then people will have their brutitude taxed to avoid excesses. Wild buying sprees, like reckless joy riding, will carry penalties that may be escaped by not wholly releasing the brakes when the present need is over.

Library Week. Next week has been set apart as "library week," and thought of the importance of good books in our civilization will be emphasized. Library books are usually selected with care, and children who early learn to use them in acquiring knowledge, are immeasurably benefited.

Toughening Process. It is salutary to do work one doesn't like to do. It develops the right kind of muscle.

Nearly 100 Per Cent Coverage of the County Field

Schools Handle Gas Registering

Filled Out Blanks Will Be Presented November 20 For Ration Books.

Registration for gasoline rationing will be conducted in Wayne county Friday, November 20, through the schools. The time has been delayed because supplies are not yet available. The date of December 1 has been set as the time for purchasing gasoline on the ration plan.

Wayne city school staff, with Supt. J. W. Litherland leader, will have charge of registration for Wayne residents at the city auditorium. School will not be in session for the day. Members of the college high staff who are in town will assist. Since the date is during the college recess, several of the training school staff will not be in town.

The hours at the city auditorium will be 8:30 a. m. to 12. 1 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. Have Blanks Filled. Each car owner must obtain a blank from a service station and fill this out before going to register for gas rationing. The blank is to be written in ink or indelible pencil. Besides the name and address of the owner, the license number and model of car, the blank calls for the serial number of each tire. The certificate of registration obtained when license plates were issued must also be taken as the serial number of the ration book is to be written on the back of this slip.

This registration is only for passenger cars, according to Raymond Ellis, chairman of the ration board. A commercial vehicle user must first obtain a certificate of work necessity from the office of defense transportation before filing truck application forms with the local board.

Each one who has more than five tires per car, one for each wheel and a fifth for a spare, must sell the extra ones to the government before he is eligible for gasoline and mileage ration books. Mr. Ellis explains.

To dispose of excess tires, a car owner should take them to the railway express agency office. After inspection, the government will pay for them either by check or in war bonds and stamps.

Board Passes on Requests. Persons who believe that the "A" ration book, which allows 90 miles of personal driving and 150 miles of occupational driving per month, will not permit them to carry on their essential business, may obtain application blanks for supplemental rations when they apply for their basic ration books. These applications should be sent to the local board for consideration.

Besides issuing "A" rationing books for commercial vehicles, the local board will issue "B" and "C" books for non-highway use such as for farm tractors, dry cleaning establishments and the like. "D" ration books will be issued for motorcycles.

Under the mileage rationing program, tires will be inspected on passenger cars every four months and inspectors will make recommendations which must be followed. The aim is to keep every car rolling for essential mileage.

In Other Districts. Schools in other towns will handle registration at those points. Rural teachers take care of the registration for their districts. Schools that are closed have provision made for them. Districts 5 and 37 will register at 37 with C. E. Gernerth in charge. District 14 will register in Wayne at the auditorium. District 36 will go to district 46.

GAS SHORTAGE MAY SERVE ADVANTAGES TO BUSINESS HERE

COMMUNITIES will experience business advantages and disadvantages by reason of gasoline rationing and the persuasion to reduce travel. Shoppers may motor from 10 to 20 miles, but will hesitate at 50 or 100 miles. Since lack of gasoline, is a bar to long trips which often in ordinary times are taken to mingle pleasure with business, the nearest point able to meet requirements will naturally be favored. Wayne is stocked to satisfy demands. Its dealers are alert to serve, and they have what people need and want. Joining the Wayne trade circle may serve economy while saving gasoline.

Former Hoskins Youth Is Killed

Army Bomber Crash Causes Death in East Saturday Of Sgt. G. E. Lefler.

Sgt. Gene E. Lefler, 22, Omaha, former resident of Hoskins, was killed Saturday when an army bomber crashed on a routine flight near Waterboro, S. C. Funeral rites are to be conducted in Omaha this Thursday at 2 with burial at Forest Lawn.

Lefler, former Omaha sandlot baseball star who was under contract with the St. Louis Cardinals, enlisted in the air corps in January, 1941, before he was due to report to the Cardinals' Decatur, Ill., team. He was trained at Keesler Field in Mississippi and was then sent to Santa Monica, Cal., where he became a flight engineer and B-25 bomber specialist.

Deceased was an aerial engineer in the air corps and had recently been located at Columbia Field, N. C. The youth's father, H. K. Lefler, operated a pool hall in Hoskins, and the family moved to Omaha seven years ago.

Surviving Sgt. Lefler are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Lefler of 2805 North 24th street, Omaha, one sister, Bonita, one brother, Ted, both of Omaha, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bennett and J. M. Lefler, all of Madison.

College Dismisses To Help War Needs

Practically All Students Are to Be Engaged in Useful Endeavors.

Wayne State Teachers college will have vacation from Friday evening, November 13, until Monday morning, November 30, and nearly 100 per cent of the students will spend the period in essential employment.

A questionnaire taken recently showed that 81 per cent have already made engagements for working in corn fields, defense plants or in other essential services. A large number of the girls will husk corn. Since the first survey was taken, a number of others have signed up for work so that practically all will be usefully employed.

Plan Open House For Local Firms

Pre-Christmas plans in Wayne include an open house at the city auditorium Thursday, November 19. All merchants will have their stores open from 7 to 8:30 p. m. to greet customers and to display Christmas merchandise. No sales will be made.

Wayne Strollers will provide entertainment at the city auditorium during the evening. In connection with the Christmas festivities small Christmas trees will be put up on the streets about November 23.

Accept Fourteen Of County Group

Reports on Others Going Saturday Are Expected Later This Week.

Reports of acceptance for 14 of about 25 young men who went to Fort Crook last Saturday for examinations for selective service were received Wednesday by the local draft board. In the group passing are Curtiss Foster, Jr., Gail Miller, Clemth Johnson, Peter Jensen, Robert Hossle, Donald Sherbahn, Irvin Mortenson, Benjamin Davis, John Harrington, Joe Beale, Merlound Lessman, Clarence Timm, Howard Huffman and Earl Philbin, the last named transferred here from another point.

The board expects reports on the others of the quota today or tomorrow. It is understood that practically all passed. The young men have a week's leave before going into training. Among recent enlistments are those of Julius Olberding, Wendell Swinney, Marion Granquist, Kenneth Baird, Robert Harrison and Dick Ellis.

Offer Education To Alien Citizens

Invite Persons Interested To Wayne Court House Saturday Afternoon.

A national citizenship education program, designed to enable eligible and loyal aliens to secure their American citizenship, is being sponsored by Wayne city school. Aliens, also naturalized citizens who wish to continue the study of government, are asked to meet at the court house here Saturday, November 14, at 3 with Miss Elsie Warnock instructor. All texts are furnished, and the training costs the aliens nothing.

Citizenship programs are receiving special emphasis over the entire United States and the need for such training is urgent. Figures compiled in December, 1940, show about 5,000,000 persons in the United States are not citizens. Over 18,000 non-citizens registered in Nebraska. At least 76 of the number reside in Wayne county.

Although such classes have been conducted in Omaha and Lincoln for some time, the program is new to northeast Nebraska. The local board of education is sponsoring the project and is furnishing the working plans for the classes. The works project administration, the national department of justice and the state department of education are supplying the text books and the teacher.

(Non-citizens are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to prepare themselves for passing their examinations on the constitution and government conducted by naturalization examiners. Further information on the project may be secured from Supt. J. W. Litherland.

Passes Suddenly Of Heart Attack

H.H. Hachmeier, Implement Dealer in Wayne, Dies Early Wednesday.

Henry H. Hachmeier, 58, implement dealer in Wayne for a number of years, died at his home here Wednesday morning, November 11, about 2:30 following a sudden attack of heart trouble. Mr. Hachmeier and his son, Ralph, had been in Sioux City Tuesday afternoon on business. Mr. Hachmeier felt well when he retired but he was taken critically ill with a heart attack about 2 o'clock and failed to rally.

Funeral services, in charge of the Beckenhauer mortuary, will be made as soon as word comes from a brother in the west. Henry H. Hachmeier, son of Henry and Mary Roland Hachmeier, was born in Germany November 19, 1884. When he was 3 years old his parents came to this country and located in West Point, Neb. There deceased lived until he came to Wayne to be employed in the implement firm of the late John Meister. Later he was with Ernest Bichel in the implement business. Mr. Hachmeier established his own firm in July, 1923, and had operated this since.

Mr. Hachmeier and Miss Ethel Barton, who was a nurse in a local hospital, were married by Judge J. M. Cherry, October 16, 1920. Besides his wife, Mr. Hachmeier leaves two sons, Henry, Jr., of Kearney, who came Wednesday, and Ralph, at home. He is also survived by two sisters, Miss Mary and Miss Anna Hachmeier of West Point, both of whom came, and a brother, John, of Spokane, Wash.

Arrange Holidays For Wayne School

Christmas Recess Is Cut To Bring Graduation Ahead of College.

Holidays have been arranged at Wayne city school so that the term will close one week earlier than the college next spring. Decision, left by the board of education to Supt. J. W. Litherland and the school staff, was reached in a special meeting Tuesday.

The school dismisses for Thanksgiving holidays November 26 and 27. Christmas holidays include one week, from Friday evening, December 18, until Monday morning, December 28. The school will be in session New Year's day.

May Make Change In College Course

Policies committee of the college is making a study to determine whether or not changes should be recommended in the second semester curriculum in order that students may best prepare for duties in war and defense positions.

As part of this study a questionnaire was presented to students early this week. The committee will consider the answers obtained. It is possible that the program will be accelerated for students who have enlisted in the reserves.

Register at School For Gas Rationing

Gas rationing registration will be held in Winside Friday, November 20 from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. at the school house in the band room. School will be held as usual. Members of the Federated Women's club will assist with the registration.

CHOIR WILL SING AT COLLEGE CHAPEL Prof. Russel Anderson will present the a cappella choir in the convocation program at Wayne college this Thursday morning. Classes will meet advisors afterward for their quarterly grades.

CORN PICKING IS PROGRESSING WELL WITH LITTLE HELP

FREEDOM from storms has aided corn picking, and the task is being performed as rapidly as possible under the handicap of an acute labor shortage. The price for picking is high and a powerful stimulus to anyone who knows how. Men and women, boys and girls are doing the job, and they hope to finish before interference by ugly winter elements. We have heard of some fields that will soon be cleared of corn, and their helpers will go to the assistance of farmers who are behind in the work. It is reported that this area is ahead of other parts of the state in taking care of the crop which this year is larger and more valuable than usual. It is hoped the end of November will find no corn in Wayne county fields.

Passes in City Hospital Monday

Rites Will Be Conducted For Mrs. John Bergerson Friday in Wakefield.

Mrs. John Bergerson, 62, of Dixon, passed away in Sioux City Monday, November 9, after six weeks' illness. She had been in the hospital a month. Funeral rites will be conducted Friday at 1:30 from the Hypso mortuary in Wakefield and at 2 from Salem Lutheran church there, with Rev. C. P. Hall in charge. Burial will follow in Wakefield cemetery.

Mrs. Bergerson, whose maiden name was Agnes Mathilda Josephine Linblom, was born in Sweden, November 13, 1880. She came to America when 12 years old and first lived in Pennsylvania. There she was confirmed in the Lutheran church. Her marriage to John Bergerson took place in McKean county, Pa., October 8, 1902. The family moved to Dixon county about 20 years ago and have been on farms in the vicinity of Dixon and Concord.

Mrs. Bergerson leaves her husband and five sons and three daughters. Hilding Bergerson of Dixon, Pt. Carl Bergerson of Hartington, Texas, John Bergerson of Wakefield, Theodore Bergerson at home, Arthur Bergerson and Miss Bertha Bergerson of Los Angeles, Mrs. Herman Fuoss of Wayne, and Mrs. Martin Rodell of Concord. One son died in infancy. There are 13 grandchildren.

Has Minor Injury In Car Accident

Miss Eleanor Edwards Has Cut and Bruises When Blinded by Frost.

Miss Eleanor Edwards suffered a gash on the right knee and bruises about the eyes Tuesday morning about 7:30 in a car accident about 12 miles west of Wayne. Her car and one belonging to Elmer Jones and driven by Miss Eleanor Jones were damaged somewhat.

Miss Edwards was alone and was coming to Wayne to her work in the AAA office. The car windshield was frosty and she had stopped once to scrape it off. Miss Jones, on her way alone to Wayne to attend college, had stopped to see if she had tire trouble. Miss Edwards failed to see the Jones car halted on the road until she was close. She then turned sharply but her machine caught the left rear fender of the Jones car.

The impact threw Miss Edwards against the windshield which broke, and the steering also cracked. The broken windshield cut her knee so that four stitches were needed. Her face was bruised and her glasses broken. Miss Jones was unhurt. Miss Edwards was brought to Wayne for care. She will return to her work in a few days.

Endorse Attorney For Appointment

Candidates Are Nominated For Kiwanis Offices By Local Group.

Kiwanians Monday unanimously adopted a resolution favoring appointment of H. E. Sman judge of Ninth district to succeed Judge A. E. Wenke who was elected to the state supreme court. On motion of Prof. O. R. Bowen, the club asked E. W. Huse and Secretary Clarence McGinn to formulate such a resolution and forward this to Governor Dwight Grewsdick.

Prof. O. R. Bowen, chairman of the nominating committee, reported nominees as follows: H. E. Sman, president; R. W. Ley, vice president; Herman Lundberg, treasurer; Clarence Wright, Dave Theophilus and Dr. J. T. Anderson, directors for three years. Election is scheduled for next Monday.

A. V. Toel, president, appointed H. A. Merz to form a committee on the child welfare committee. Milo Dier, manager of the Saturday Star, was welcomed Monday as a new member of the Kiwanis club.

Urges Need for Facts. The need for library reading as a background for interpretation of world events was stressed by Mrs. E. A. Midler who addressed the club Monday. Mrs. Midler, of the Wayne library, introduced by Supt. J. W. Litherland, mentioned that 70 per cent of the reading in the city library is non-fiction and should be of special interest to men. She finds that men read papers and listen to radio reports, but shun reading of late books as a background for forming opinions.

In addressing the recent library meeting in Omaha, Dr. Charles Brown, president of the American Library association, stressed the need for learning from well-informed sources and passing information on to others. Americans are inclined to play up minor successes in the war and diminish major defeats. They are likely to think they are doing much until they learn what total war effort is. Mrs. Midler mentioned that 85 per cent of the English people between 14 and 65 years of age are in the war effort. Books that are authentic information help give a background.

To be of greatest assistance in the post-war period, Mrs. Midler suggested that everyone now learn as much as possible about other countries and other peoples. Writers are already meeting this situation by preparing fine new books that will help in the readjustment. "Let us not have opinions until we are well informed," stated Mrs. Midler.

Let us not of ourselves and then encourage children to read. It is best to open our eyes to facts," Mrs. Midler concluded with two appropriate poems.

Funeral Conducted In Dakota Tuesday

Miss L. M. Dotson, 80, mother of the late Dr. E. H. Dotson of Wayne, died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cora Campbell, in Madison, S. D. Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon at Pierre, S. D. Deceased leaves a daughter and a son. Her husband died three years ago, and two sons preceded her in death. Mrs. E. H. Dotson had visited her mother-in-law last week, returning Friday.

Musical Program Will Be Presented Instrumental and vocal students present a musical program of solos and small ensembles this Thursday evening at 7:45 in the college auditorium. Prof. John R. Keith and Prof. Russel Anderson are in charge. The public is invited.

Jean Spolski, Lois Zepplin, Wilma Reiners, Arlene Smith, Cleo Heine, Jane Bridgeman, Doris Gledesleue participated Friday in an old-time square dance.

Junior High News. High school library loaned 32 copies of Readers Digest to junior high to be used in reading class and library period.

Glenns Garwood moved to Red Cloud. She was in the 8th grade. Delores Stroh, 8th grader, leaves soon for Kearney. As Monday was her last day in school, a party was held for her that day.

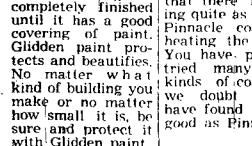

The 7th reading class is matching wits with headline writers of the Omaha World-Herald. News clippings from the paper were handed out with the headlines removed. Students then read the articles and wrote headlines. Later the original headlines and those written by students were compared. In many cases they were nearly identical. This gave pupils practice in locating main ideas in subject matter.

The 7th English class is studying the art of paragraph writing and methods of building paragraphs from topic sentences.

Mary Ellen Nissen Earns High Award

Recognition Will Be Given To County Club Workers In Near Future.

Miss Mary Ellen Nissen of Wayne, was given a $25 war bond by the International Harvester company for being one of the six 4-H members in Nebraska making the most outstanding contribution to the 4-H story program.

Miss Nissen has been in 4-H club work the past five years. She was enrolled in two homemaking projects, two cooking projects, and three clothing projects in the Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H club since she started her 4-H work. She was assistant leader for the Busy Maids 4-H club this year. She is the daughter of Ben Nissen.

The Wayne girl received recognition for the large amount of garden work, including canning and her dressmaking work during the past summer. She has had an important part in the home management of the family the past few years.

Awards Announced. Wayne county 4-H award committee, composed of Chas. Pearson, C. H. Morris, Mrs. Frank Hicks, Mrs. Basil Osburn, Mrs. T. P. Roberts, Walter Herman, 4-H club leaders, recently selected the county winners for 4-H awards as follows: Betty Nissen, Wayne, county clothing champion; Phyllis Isom, Shelby, cooking club champion; Ruth Danneberg and Louise Osburn, Wayne, dress, sewing champion; Ruth Roberts, Carroll, home economics champion; Don Meyer, Wayne, meat animal livestock champion; Harold Gathie, Wayne, swine club champion; Mary Ellen Nissen and Leiland Herman, Wayne, best record of special contribution to the 4-H victory program in county; Raymond Hicks, Louisa and Dick Osburn, Louisa, and Marilyn Clumpson, county victory garden champions. Frances French and Louise Osburn will compete for the Moses leadership trophy and president's achievement trophy.

Plan for Recognition. Additional awards will be made in December. At this time all final projects and reports submitted by 4-H members for the entire year will be considered for recognition.

Organize for Year. Reports from state 4-H club officers show that 83 clubs have been organized for 1942, two of these in Wayne county. Strahan Strivers swine club and Woolly Wilbur's sheep club have organized as follows:

Strahan Strivers, Clarence Mann and Henry Retzwich, leaders; Harold Gathie, president; Melvin Otto, vice president; Duane Retzwich, secretary-treasurer; Edward Mann, news reporter; Wally Wilbur, Wm. Hansen, leader; Jack Otto, president; Harold Heier, vice president; David Hamer, secretary-treasurer; Cyril Hansen, song leader; Lois Larson, news reporter; Delores Otto and Delores Rasacker, program committee.

John A. Reynolds TO PORTLAND POST. John A. Reynolds has been appointed assistant to the controller of the regional administrative office of Montgomery-Ward & Co. in Portland, Ore., and began his new duties November 1. His family moved there from Fremont. Mr. Reynolds is a son of Mrs. Jessie Reynolds of Wayne.

LOCAL NEWS. Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Rinehart visited the latter's brother in Marcus, Iowa, last week, returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gormley of Winslow, were Sunday afternoon and luncheon guests of Mrs. Jessie Reynolds.

Mrs. L. A. Fankore and Miss Jessie Boyce went to Sioux Falls, S. D., Friday to visit until Sunday, the former with her brother, Lee Wells, and the latter with her mother.

Mrs. Jennie Schrumpp plans to leave within a few days to spend the winter with Miss Wannelta Schrumpp in Lincoln. She may go to New York later to visit Mrs. Howard Townsend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wentworth, accompanied by Miss Ella, Miss Grace and Miss Blanche Hill of Blair, visited Saturday and Sunday at the ranch home of Mr. Wentworth's brother, F. E. Wentworth, near Stuart.

Red Cross Fills Kits for Overseas

Wayne county Red Cross chapter expects to ship this week most of its quota of 400 kit bags for soldiers who are leaving for overseas. These bags contain writing materials, playing cards, detective stories, cigarettes, gum, razor blades, sewing kit, soap, soap and other useful articles. Many Wayne county organizations and individuals have contributed to this project and other contributions are solicited. It will cost approximately $1 to make and fill a kit bag. Several organizations have paid for five or more bags.

Contributions received by chapter officers for this purpose have come from the following sources: Mrs. Tim Collins and Irene, $1; Worthwhile club, $1; Pleasant Valley club, $3; Acme club, $3; Cumco club, $5; Caterer club, $8; Nu-Fu club, $5; Royal Neighbor lodge, $10; U. Health in Homes Is Topic of Study. Leaders of Wayne county women's project clubs met in Wayne last Thursday with Miss Mary Stanek of the state extension service, and Mrs. T. P. Roberts, county chairman of the women's project clubs, in charge. The lesson was on "Health on the Home Front." Specific health projects for 1943 program were considered by the club leaders who will present them later to their clubs.

Officers Chosen In County Posts. Wayne county board met last Friday to canvass the election returns. Soldiers' and sailors' votes will be counted Friday this week. These may change some of the minor offices. They may also result in other ties for these posts. After the final count is made, those holding ties will be notified to appear to draw for the offices. Results as they stand now are as follows:

School Vacation To Start Friday

Armistice Day Program Is Feature of Convocation Wednesday Morning

Wayne college training school dismisses Friday evening for two weeks' vacation. This is the usual holiday recess but is early so that college students may assist in corn husking and other vital war efforts. School resumes November 30.

Training school staff members who are in Wayne next week will assist with gas ration registration November 20.

An Armistice day program featured college high chapel Wednesday morning. Jimmie Morrison, who was in charge, spoke and special patriotic music was given.

The Sixth Journal will be distributed tomorrow. Joanne Nielsen and Charles Good are the editors of this first issue. Reporters are Jerry Ash, Robert Beck, Domajoth Bessler, Virginia Denkinger, Maurice Haberer, Kathryn McGinn and Harriet Phipps.

During the second quarter the grade has four student teachers. Constance Kiege will teach reading, spelling and art; Virginia Madison, geography; Frances Marty, history; Genevieve Nygren, science, health and music.

From Fourth Grade, Robert Good, Joe Nuss, Elaine Peterson and Wayne Samuelson were perfect in attendance the first quarter.

In a special review last week, everyone improved in spelling. A stamp club will be a feature of language work the second quarter.

The children chose a song remembered from the first grade, "Fiddle songs," for work in writing notes on the staff and transposing. The tune is that of an old folk-song often called "Skip to My Lou."

Janette Dawson's interest in an oriole's nest swinging in the wind was used by the class in writing the words and music of a song called "Empty Nest."

Third Grade Items. The 3rd graders invited their parents to see what they had done during the first quarter. They gave a puppet show, "Hansel and Gretel." Picture illustrations were shown as the story was told. Twelve parents were present.

From Second Grade, Billy Mitchell is moving to Lincoln this week. He will be greatly missed. Miss Mary Lynn Burge will be student director for the rhythm band this quarter. The children are learning a new selection, "An Airplane Ride."

The students are writing picture letters in relation to their reading. They are also working on color charts.

From First Grade, the student teachers for the second quarter are Miss Dillon, Miss Morgan, Miss Thompson,

Miss Moeller, Miss Gosting, Miss Jones and Miss Kirkpatrick. Nearly everyone in the 1st grade was vaccinated last week. Bill Ebersole had been vaccinated previously.

Bill Ebersole's dog, "Red," paid a rather unexpected visit to the class room this week. The children enjoyed the visit.

Nearly every student shows a little gain in weight. The class has finished the Winston Readers and is beginning the Gates Primer and the Safety Readers.

From Kindergarten. Discussions last week were centered around safety. All of the children helped in making an electrical Stop and Go sign. Linda Kessler, Dickie Steacie, Steve Pawelski, Wyoming Griffith and Michael Ebersole have been policemen and regulated the traffic. Crayon drawings of the stop sign were made Thursday.

A group letter was written Friday to Fred Denkinger to thank him for helping with the electrical part of the stop sign. A picture of the stop sign, drawn by Michael Ebersole, was enclosed in the letter.

REPUBLICANS and new dealers interpret election returns largely according to their own peculiar slants. But above all the divergent speculations rises the fact that enough dissatisfaction existed somewhere along the line to cause widespread voter revolt.

Republicans and other middle-of-the-roads are encouraged to believe America's original character will survive, that not only will the war be won, but that the old-time democratic order will be preserved.

On the other hand, Vice President Henry Wallace is cheered by the feeling that many new dealers neglected to vote. His comforting thought that soldiers in the armed forces would have changed the result if they had gone to the polls, leads Westbrook Pegler, columnist, to suggest that "the reaction would have been even more emphatic, in protest against strikes and slowdowns which have curtailed the production of weapons and vehicles of war."

Thus, many reasons are offered and conclusions drawn, often in conflict. But republicans and new dealers alike in authority should sense responsibility, and besides charting a course that will hasten victory to American arms, see that it does not impair American fundamentals beyond the war. Election results revive confidence in the American capacity to disagree and to express disagreement over the handling of public policies.

THE Omaha World-Herald sees in the late election returns no narrow partisanship. It sees a determination to intensify war movements and a general speed-up of the job to be done. It says the past is dead and that importance attaches only to the present. It comments in part:

"The people were dissatisfied. They were not getting enough action. So they showed their displeasure in the one way open to democratic people.

"Earnestly we hope that not one of the new senators and congressmen will go to Washington in the belief that he has a mandate to criticize and obstruct every administration policy.

"That would be inexpressibly tragic. The mandate is to hurry. To get them the guns and planes and the tanks. To get them to Guadalcanal and North Africa and other points where they may be turned against the axis. To get them there before our fighting men are beaten by Gen. Too Little and Gen. Too Late.

"That mandate can't be carried out by mere political obstruction. It can be carried out in two ways: First by taking the social-revolutionary bugs out of national policies; and second by injecting irresistible force and drive into the war program itself.

"That is the job for the new delegates. May wisdom and resolution and boundless courage be theirs."

IN COMMON with many others, the Lincoln Journal interprets the temper of voters in turning against the new deal. It attributes the protest to the attempt of Washington new dealers during the war to fasten on the country theories of "what shall constitute the permanent form of government."

The Journal suggests that republicans and anti-new deal democrats can force suspension of government activities not related to the war and unnecessary in the emergency. It concludes:

"The president is just now asking for more powers. If it be found that they are necessary to the end for which all persons and both parties stand together, they should be granted, but there should be attached a provision limiting the time in which they may be exercised. This was not done in many instances in the past, with the result that it now calls for positive action on the part of congress to take them from the president. The same error should not be repeated."

DAILY newspapers have announced orders to reduce consumption of print paper, and therefore they will necessarily curtail the output to subscribers. This will be done with every effort to maintain popular interest in the publications. In what measure community weeklies will be affected by the order, we do not know at this time. By comparison, rural publications, issuing only once per week, use little paper, but nevertheless no doubt they will have to abide by certain restrictions.

The Herald will do its best to uphold present standards. As far as possible, its service will be kept from slipping. Its list is now mostly paid in advance, and the unavoidable policy of discontinuing subscriptions in arrears will ease the tax involved in sending more than 300 copies to boys in the armed forces.

A bill to suspend the forty-hour week is consistent with the national emergency. It falls with scarcity of labor and the demand for increased production. The forty-hour week was established to reduce unemployment. The reason no longer exists. The contrary is now true. Lengthening the work week more in accordance with hours employed outside of industry and government plants may well be handled by Senator Vandenberg's proposed coalition group which may also straighten out some other problems involved in labor union radicals' determination to rule the roost.

Reports from all theatres of war are encouraging. The outpouring of men and war machines from the United States is proving increasingly evident and effective. We do not see how democracy's enemies can long resist the opposing flood. Modern war is faster as well as more furious than the old-time military stride, and while we are growing stronger, our enemies are growing weaker. Our wishful thinking does not seem altogether unreasonable.

Senator Vandenberg's suggestion to form a republican-democratic "victory coalition" to end political differences and unite in prosecution of the war makes sense to the rank and file over the country. Republicans and anti-new deal democrats have a clear majority in congress, and they can use it successfully when the need to do so arises.

Hitler shouted to his enslaved subjects in a recent harangue that he would not follow in the footsteps of the kaiser and flee from the country. This is clearly an acknowledgment of failure and ultimate defeat. And Hitler's proved duplicity gives assurance that he cannot be depended on to do what he says he will do.

In view of the threatened paper shortage and necessary curtailment of publications, we would advise Washington authorities to feel around near headquarters and put hobbles on bureaus that consume too much paper. The action would also relieve waste baskets.

Registrations for gas rationing have been put off another week. We would suggest to authorities that they do a surer job of planning something of such far-reaching effects. Backing up is disconcerting. If rationing is indispensable, it should be hurried along.

If scourging is necessary to swing society away from a tendency to idle and harmful dissipation, the war ought to do it. But it would seem the world should not have to be manhandled to lead it to modify material considerations and emphasize spiritual values.

In our life-long penchant for saying things that were irritatingly inappropos, we favored our school teachers who were at least partially and safely deaf. We did not favor many, because most of them within our recollection had perfect hearing.

Though naturally a trifle suspicious, we refuse to think the proposed safety code for dumb waiters and others has us in mind.

The Will and Ability to Win. (Industrial Press Service)

There are many people who though handicapped, in one way or another, have become famous. Notable among these are authors, musicians, and scientists whose works will live through the years. They are outstanding individuals whose talents, often developed under the most severe handicaps, have endeared themselves to the public.

But in industry, thousands of these handicapped people are turning out war materials and doing everything they can to help win the war. A man in Chicago, who works in a wheel chair was one of those who recently received an Army and Navy reward emblem. A man blind in one eye operates an engine lathe in a machine tool plant in New York. In many plants blind people, both men and women, are doing remarkable work on precision instruments. On an assembly line in an Ohio cartridge factory there are many crippled workers and deaf people who actually have an advantage in noisy plants.

Right now, industry needs all the draft-exempt men it can get and thousands of the lame, blind, deaf, and otherwise crippled are being given an opportunity to do what they can to win the war. In giving their services to their country at this time they are demonstrating that they have not only the will to win but the ability to win.

Farmers Are Skilled Workers. (Omaha Journal-Stockman)

Another thing that the authorities are learning this year is that farming is something more than mere drudgery. It is skilled labor of a high character. For many industries a short apprenticeship is all that is necessary. Not so with farming. That is something that must be learned from the ground up, by long and arduous experience. Thus it is what mechanics of a sort can generally be found but when farm help is scarce, the situation is really serious.

Farming is not "common labor;" it requires a technical skill, points out the Christian Science Monitor, training and experience that no ordinary city laborer needs to qualify for his job. Moreover, volunteer labor, transient labor, child labor cannot prepare the soil, put in the crops and cultivate them, while milking the cows and properly tending and feeding meat animals for the market. What does a city person know, for example, about the intricacies of farrowing or adjusting a grain drill?

If the drafting of lads of 18 and 19 is to release older men, as the army chiefs imply, farmhands should be the first ones sent home—and some guaranty of better wages should follow, if it is hoped to keep them on the farm.

And back of it all, farm labor is vital to the very life of the nation. We can get along after a fashion without many thousands of skilled workers but when farm help fails the country is in danger of going hungry. When it comes to really essential labor, the farmer is in a class by himself.

DOING THINGS.

In war time as in peace time, some persons appear to do more than their share, while others seem to do less. One individual is not qualified for service that another can give. Some persons are good leaders, while others prefer to follow and shoulder less responsibility. People fit into different niches, and usually perform well what they undertake. In a crisis, like the present, everybody on the home front is eager to help carry the national burden and do everything possible to serve military advantage. People are least selfish in a time of great peril—most inclined to personal sacrifice in behalf of restoring a peaceful order. Not many are disposed to shirk. Few sidestep duties that they understand. It is the wonderful team-work in a democracy, once aroused and impelled by clear understanding, that insures freedom and independence.

Family Nutrition Subject of Talk

Wayne city school Parent-Teacher group meets next Monday evening when Miss Martha Wallace, home economics instructor at the college, speaks on family nutrition. Warren Noakes will play a piano number, and one of the teachers will report on the P.-T. A. magazine. Rev. G. Gieschen will preside for the last time before he moves to Omaha. The 6th grade mothers, with Mrs. Texley Simmerman chairman, will serve.

Urges Deferment To Help on Farm

In testimony before the senate military affairs committee Friday, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard urged that all essential farm workers receive occupational draft deferment. He also asked that plants holding government contracts be prevented from hiring such essential farm workers. Wickard reported that about 1,600,000 workers left farms during the past year, and estimated that 60 per cent went into war work while 40 per cent went into the armed forces.

Farmers Do Share To Help War Effort

That farmers had marshaled forces for the nation's protection long before the first bomb fell on Pearl Harbor was fortunate for the united nations. Within a week after December 7, 1941, the department of agriculture was reorganized to meet the new situation. Now that the nation celebrates the farmers' victory in meeting the 1942 goals, the production goals for 1943 will soon be announced. The war boards will keep American agriculture in step with America's soldiers. Today's record harvest is made to fit food and fiber needs of the United States and its allies.

The emphasis on such commodities as eggs, milk and pork will doubtless continue. War crops such as soybeans, peanuts for oil and hemp will receive attention.

Meats and dairy products are making big gains, and this is important as these farm products are high on the list of wartime necessities. In the first seven months of the year, American beef and pork output exceeded last year's by 45 per cent, evaporated milk 37 per cent, dry skim milk for food 62 per cent. Beef slaughter during the first eight months of 1942 was 15 per cent over the same months of 1941, pork and lard 17 per cent and eggs 16 per cent.

BIRTH RECORD

A daughter was born by Caesar-Jan operation November 4 to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gewert of Wayne, at a local hospital.

A son was born November 4 to Mr. and Mrs. Jess Glover of Wayne, at a local hospital. Mrs. Glover is the former Eva McKim.

A daughter was born November 5 to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. August of Laurel, at a local hospital. The other two children in the family are sons. Mr. August is a brother of Miss Bernice August of Wayne.

Miss Lola Greiner and Keith Martindale of Randolph, were married October 29.

WALLACE.

Vice President Wallace interpreted late election returns according to his own political bias. We are all inclined to do that, and sometimes we hit near the truth, and sometimes far from it. He expressed the opinion that men in the armed forces voted mostly because they had voted, and that those who voted are largely prosperous, and therefore supported the republican ticket. He guesses the soldiers are all new dealers. Our guess is they are not by considerable. If Wallace and his friends have him in mind for the presidency in 1944, he should do less talking and express less partisan prejudice. As pointed out editorially by the Sioux City Journal, a man of surpassing wisdom, foresight and courage will be needed for leadership in the trying reconstruction period, and manifestly the vice president does not meet requirements. And the way his home state of Iowa turned against the new deal in the late election should not encourage a Wallace presidential boom.

AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C., November 3, 1942. New regulations governing nearly all wages and salaries have been issued by former Justice Byrnes, who recently left the supreme court to become director of economic stabilization. They are in addition to the wage and salary ceiling provisions established a few weeks ago, and cover big salaries and big wages. Those engaged by firms employing eight people or less are not affected. Salaries below $5,000 per annum are "frozen" as of September 15. Salaries above that amount are not to be increased, but may be reduced to that amount. Forbidden are the payment of salaries above $25,000 per annum, after taxes are deducted from any higher amount. This limit has been under discussion for months. There are exceptions to these freezing regulations. Advances in salaries or wages may be made upon the consent of the treasury department or the war labor board, if and when merit of an individual warrants such favorable consideration. Just what that exception means will not be known until later.

As this change of policy toward farm workers occurs, the manpower situation in industry and war projects looms large as millions of young men are entering the fighting forces. Bills to regiment all manpower, provide for drafting labor, including that of women, have been pending for months. A big conference is being held in Washington to consider the subject. It seemed a month ago that congress would be asked to act upon some such legislation. Now comes the word that legislation on the subject will not be requested. It is expected that some voluntary plan may be perfected to make sure that industries as well as the farms may have sufficient labor to keep on increasing their output for war purposes.

NEWS ABOUT THE WAR

From Office of War Information To provide for winter comfort, WPB has released 6,000,000 pounds of wool for underwear and knitted goods for civilians.

Farm families are asked to point meat slaughtered at home and that bought in quantities on the per-weekly allowance plan. Each adult should be allowed 2 1/2 pounds a week, children from 6 to 12 allowed 1 1/2 pounds and those under 6 be allowed 3/4 pound.

Use of platinum in jewelry has been stopped by WPB. The metal is needed for radio tubes and other communications equipment.

A rumor that rugs will have to be odd-sized, is unfounded. OPA reports that a survey shows ample stocks of wool floor coverings.

Ration books of children under 15 will not be valid for use in coffee rationing. When coffee rationing gets under way, the last stamp in the war ration book No. 1 will be used to obtain the first allotment.

New victory rubbers and galoshes are in black only. The heels will be no higher than two inches, and no fancy boots or fur-trimmed styles will be made for the duration.

Dogs will not have so much beef and such meat for the duration, but there will be plenty of hearts, liver, etc. These, along with fish, eggs and milk, furnish plenty of proteins.

Americans are asked to keep heating equipment in good shape so as to save all kinds of fuel.

Repair units are not included in the order to "freeze" farm equipment. Rationing orders will be used in an effort to provide machinery where it is most needed.

Trucks engaged exclusively in transportation of farm products are exempt from two ODT orders, those requiring 25 per cent mileage reduction and requiring checking with other carriers so as to provide maximum loads.

Application forms which must be filled out for gasoline rationing may be secured from service stations, garages and tire shops.

Sugar rations for army and navy men on furlough have been set at a half pound a week. A change permits a service man whose furlough is only a week to obtain sugar. Previously, the leave had to extend more than a week before he was eligible.

War manpower commission asks local draft boards to grant occupational deferment to dairy, livestock and poultry farmers and farm hands without grounds for dependency deferment but who are "necessary men" for whom replacements are not available.

To provide fair distribution of milk cans and farm fencing, OPA is expected to ration these.

Nebraska ranks third among the states in the Seventh civilian defense region in number of volunteers enrolled in civilian defense on a per capita basis. The report shows 47,182 enrolled out of a population of 1,315,834, this being 3.6 per cent. Missouri was first and Wyoming second.

A group of Nebraskans interested in hog raising, representing many interests, met November 4 in Lincoln to adopt a resolution asking for a floor price of $13 per hundred on hogs delivered at Missouri river markets. Such a price would, they felt, give farmers and hog raisers an incentive to produce more hogs to supply growing demands for pork.

Nebraskans register November 12 to 14 for gas rationing. Any having more than five tires will not be allowed to register.

Nebraska's quota for fats and oils is 380,000 pounds per month or 4,600,000 pounds per year, an average of 3 1/2 pounds per capita. Every 10 pounds of fats and oils will provide 1 pound of glycerine which is enough to manufacture 13 pounds of gun powder.

County salvage committees will appreciate assistance in saving fats and oils. Three simple steps are involved: 1. Save all fats and oils derived from cooking edible foods. 2. Strain into a straight-sided tin container and store in a cool place. 3. Deliver one pound of coffee cans or No. 2 food cans are ideal, (do not store in glass). 4. Deliver one pound or more at a time to your patriotic meat dealer or frozen food locker operator, who will pay the housewife 4 cents a pound.

Use of stainless steel in more than 75 products, ranging from coffee pots and cutlery to farm machinery and hot water heaters, is prohibited by WPB.

Midwesterners who believe they are entitled to more than the basic ration of gasoline will have to furnish specific, detailed information about their driving requirements on their application forms. These applications for supplemental rations will be available at schoolhouses and other designated registration sites.

Newly designed "C" stickers which will make known to the public the exact purpose for which cars have been granted preferred mileage are being distributed.

Certificates of war necessity will not be required for vehicles "laid up" indefinitely until they are placed back in operation. This applies only to all trucks and other commercial vehicles on the road.

Merchants, farmers and artisans, also manufacturers and processors, may sell their used equipment and supplies without reference to ceilings established.

Price ceilings on fertilizer will be raised eight per cent soon to cover the increased cost of nitrogen and transportation.

Four major war agencies are urging war contractors to employ more colored people to meet production.

An order for 26,000 vacuum tube radio sets will provide reception of radio programs for all American merchant sailors at sea.

Army Chief of Staff Marshall said the "skilled seamanship" of the navy has already rescued 800,000 soldiers safely across submarine-infested waters of the Atlantic and Pacific.

The navy reported November 11 that two enemy aircraft carriers, two bath ships and three minesweepers were damaged and 100 planes destroyed in a great sea-air battle 250 miles northeast of Guadalcanal. Navy Secretary Knox said the Japanese fleet which had retired from the scene in the Solomons, and the first round of that battle is over. In the battle the U. S. lost an aircraft carrier and a destroyer.

Labor Secretary Perkins reports that 4,000,000 new workers may come into the labor market by the end of 1943 and an added 1,000,000 by the end of 1944.

When cars driven by Billy G. Emerson and Henry Rogers South Sioux City, collided Monday last week near Emerson, Giese suffered a broken foot, Rogers had internal injuries and E. Ziesler, one of several in the Rogers car, had a broken leg and a jaw.

F. A. Salmon, Emerson, was employed of the M. & O. railroad, retired November 1.

Of Special Interest to Women Shoppers

We still have 75 choice styles in Betty Rose Coats for you to choose from. Several of them are handsomely fur trimmed. Among them are attractively plaid and tweed as well as new weaves in plain wools. There is a good selection in all sizes up to 44.

Prices are still just about as last year's prices, $18.75 to $19.75 for untrimmed coats and $29.75 to $39.75 for those with genuine fur collars of beauty and quality.

When you are buying your coat examine carefully the materials, lining, trimmings and tailoring—then take the style into consideration, and you'll find that "Betty Rose" coats are your very best buy. They have a well earned reputation everywhere as America's greatest values in popular priced coats.

We do all necessary alterations without extra charge.

Camel Fleece Coats are favorites with junior girls, 9 years to 15 years of age. And they don't want a 14 year or 16 year size cut down for them either. They want the pockets to be at the proper height, the waist line to be the correct length, as they are in a real junior size. We have them again. A long due shipment reached us from New York today. Several of them are special orders, but they are available. There are 2 of each size left for stock. So come soon.

They are fine warm, wool fleeces, fine lining, wool, inter-linings. Styles just like more expensive ladies' coats. $13.75 each.

We have discovered an Eastern manufacturer who makes really true fitting half size dresses with choice up to the minute style and nice materials. They are moderately priced too for such fine quality. And we do any necessary alterations without extra charge.

They come in black, wine, blue, green and brown with the latest wide and head trimming effects. $9.95. In black velvet they are $12.75.

Spun rayon dresses are the favorites in popular priced $3.95 and $4.95 dresses. They are getting up now with lots of style in both one piece and two-piece effects.

Spun rayons are the dresses you wear the most and you'll enjoy them most if they are fashionably styled like the ones we are showing. All sizes up to 52. $3.95 and $4.95.

We still have a fair stock of Munsing elastic girdles and warmer corsets. You might find just what you want among them. Anyway, it is well worth a try, because there won't be any more made with so much rubber content for the duration of the war. And lasten rubber is what makes a girdle successful. Prices are the same as always on our remaining stock.

Our allotment of Munsing Balmington and Teck-stitch pajamas and gowns is here. We were allowed just one-half of what we had last year. If you are a regular user of Munsing nightwear come now. These pajamas and gowns are favorite Christmas gifts and our stock may be sold out before you had planned on getting your regular supply. Priced $1.95, $2.25, $2.95.

We carry winter weight fleeced Munsing union suits for women in stock in all sizes. We have short sleeve, knee length and short sleeve ankle length styles. If you want 25% wool or 50% wool we can get them for you in a few days from Munsings.

Munsing underwear fits perfectly and has a reputation for superior wearing quality.

Good looking wool and rayon mixed hose are 69c and $1.00 according to the amount of wool and the fineness. The colors are fashionable.

If you are making things of pretty prints for Christmas gifts, don't forget that we are still getting our finest cloth of Gold 30 square prints at 25c.

They are of the same silky finish cotton yarns with the finest color eyes you have always bought. Lots of choice patterns to choose from for aprons, dresses, fancy work and quilting.

Our stock of Christmas gifts is now on display. We believe you'll find many pleasing gift items in this assortment which has been collected carefully over a period of several months.

We note a good many unusually early purchases of gifts this year. There is good reason for early selection since so many of the fabrics and metals which go into our foreign striped and cut off on account of lack of shipping facilities.

We'll lay away your gift selections if you want to join the early buyers.

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, November 15.

The Golden Text is: "The earnest expectation of the manifestation of the sons of God" (Romans 8:19).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace... For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die; but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live" (Romans 8:6-13).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Human birth, growth, maturity, and decay are as the grass spring from the soil with beautiful green blades, afterwards to wither and return to its native mouldering. This mortal seeming is temporal; it never merges into immortality, but finally disappears, and immortality remains, spiritual and eternal, is found to be the real man. The Hebrews lived away by mortal thoughts, but swept his life with sad, sad strains on human existence."

"As for man, he days are as grass. As a flower of the field, so he flourisheth. For the wind passeth over him, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more."

When hope and joy are in the human heart, he saith:

"As for me, I will behold Thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with Thy likeness. For with Thee is the fountain of life: In Thy light shall we see light." (p. 100).

RURAL SCHOOL
District 60. (Ruth Brandenberg, teacher). Of the six visitors this month, four were from California.

The flag given by Supt. F. B. Decker has been posted in the door.

Robert Schaffner moved to Norfolk.

Those who had perfect attendance for the month are Lyla Fay Marotz, Olga Lee Muehlmeier, Robbie Thomas, Ina Mae Kruger and Paul Fensky.

Marilyn Kruger has had all A's on her report card this month.

All pupils are doing outside reading. Books are borrowed from the public library.

Donna Lee Muehlmeier brought a watermelon for all on her birthday.

District 35. (Velma Hutch, teacher). Drawings of pumpkins decorate the cover of Happy Schoolers, the October issue of school news in the district.

A new method of spelling is used this year. The word list is pronounced on Monday. These have not been studied with the exception of five new words. The words are studied on Tuesday, and exercises are conducted for using these. Any words missed Wednesday are studied Thursday. A final test is given Friday.

Roma Goebbert, Betty, Milligan, John Suehl; Billy Suehl, Shirley Muns, Dick Suehl, Leo Skovsende and Shirley Bess Suehl had 100 in spelling for the month.

A Halloween party was enjoyed October 30. A witch and ghost played pranks. Marion Skovsende and Arlene Goebbert were guests. Mrs. Skovsende sent cookies.

Jeanette Muns has begun reading an Indian project.

The 5th and 6th grades started an Indian project.

Roma Goebbert, Leo Skovsende and Harry Suehl had perfect attendance for the first two months.

The old school bell was turned in for scrap. It weighed over 200 pounds.

District 45. (Arlyne Pulson, teacher). During the first nine weeks of school five pupils have had perfect attendance. They are Loren Ellis, Cleo Shufelt, Dorothy Alvin, Donna Alvin and Ruth Shufelt.

Ruth Shufelt earned two 100's in the nine weeks' examinations. Barbara Ellis, Carl Alvin, Rosalyn Ellis, Dorothy Alvin, Warren Ellis and Donna Alvin each earned one 100 in the examinations.

The following officers have been elected for the Mount Hope Troop:

Each pupil has a miniature corn shock on which the pupil has a good day, judging by his grades and actions, his shock stands up. If he has not had a good day the shock falls down and does not stand up again until he has had another good day.

Each pupil also has a turkey on which the daily grades earned in arithmetic are recorded on the tail feathers. We are trying to see who on Thanksgiving possess the proudest turkey, which will be the one with the highest scores on his feathers.

On November 15 Warren and Rosalyn Ellis played the piano duet, "Scotland Aie."

YOUR USE OF THE TELEPHONE IN WARTIME

You can help us serve both you and the war effort by observing the following good telephone practices:

1. Use your telephone directory. If you're not sure of the number please look it up in your directory. Call "Information" only if you cannot find it there.

2. Answer your telephone promptly. When you call, however, be sure to give the person you are calling enough time to reach the telephone before you hang up.

3. Cooperate on party lines. Remember the party line Golden Rule, which is to share the line with others as you would like them to share it with you.

Army "Grasshopper"

The U. S. Army's "Grasshopper" planes perform a vital function in carrying out courier and liaison missions, and in maintaining communications between the front lines and the rear. Photo shows the Aeronca L-3 (liaison) plane, one of the many "grasshoppers" in Army service, whose maneuverability, easy take-off and landing on confined areas and even narrow roads, and slow landing speeds, make it particularly adapted for this kind of operation. Easily recognized by thousands of civilian flyers throughout the country, the "Grasshopper" is the army's version of the light sport plane so popular with sportsman pilots before Pearl Harbor. High-wing construction and non-tapering wings characterize the Aeronca L-3.

Strong to 25 cents higher last week, fat cattle values were steady Monday on the Sioux City market but came under pressure late Tuesday. Just ahead of the easier price trend, however, a new five-year high of $17 was established, with other slaughter steers and yearlings mainly $14 to $16.75. Fed heifers were steady both days at $13 to $15.25, while cows and stock cattle were strong to 25 cents higher. Cows sold up to $12.25, stock steers to $13.75, heifer calves to $14 and steer calves to $15.75. Butcher hogs and sows slumped as much as 35 cents Monday but rallied for a strong to 10-cents-higher showing Tuesday that put bulk of both at $13.60 to $13.70. Fat lambs were 25 to 40 cents higher first two days of the week clearing them Tuesday at $14 to $14.35. Slaughter ewes were steady to strong at $4.50 to $5.25, and feeder lambs strong to a quarter higher at $11.25 to $12.50.

Lawrence Thomsen, Wayne, topped the market Thursday with hogs that brought $14. The same day Eph and Don Beckenhauer marketed sheep that brought the top of $14.25.

Others marketing stock from this vicinity the past week are the following: Mansfield Farms, heifers at $15.25; Anton Winther, steers at $16; W. J. Schultz, hogs at $14; Theo. Gustafson, steers at $14.35; Will Driskell and son, sows at $14; A. L. Wilson, steers at $13.35; A. E. Benstead, hogs at $14; Tuttle and Ward, steers at $14.50; Geo. Janson, steers at $15; Nels Bostrom, steers at $15; Frank Larsen, hogs at $14; Bert and Berres, steers at $15.50; Herbert Perry, hogs at $13.65; James Mahon, steers at $15.35; Henry Brinkman, hogs at $13.65.

By WARREN BAYLEY

It, someday when you're down town, you should see someone suddenly stop off the side walk and pick up an old rusty collar-button and then put it carefully away in his purse for safekeeping, don't call the police in the belief that you have a candidate for the psychiatric ward. The chances are that he is considerably smarter than you or I because he will probably make a lot of money out of his hobby while you and I are passing away our time in the corner pool-room.

I never realized just how profitable a collector's hobby could be until I came to Springfield. Yesterday I was at New Salem Park looking over the reconstructed village where Lincoln spent his early days in Illinois. Today I drove into Springfield to visit his tomb, which, incidentally, is one of the most popular shrines in America. As I walked through the beautiful memorial, gazing at the plaques, statues and emblems that a remembering public erected in honor of its most famous citizen, my glance chanced to fall upon an old gentleman clad in a costume half uniform and half business suit. I later found out that his age was 83 and that he was custodian of the "Tomb."

As I watched this old gentleman, a lady and a young boy approached him. I was close enough to hear the conversation. In a soft voice the lady asked if her son could see his Lincoln collection. The old gentleman hesitated for quite awhile, but finally turned and went into the inner sanctum of the memorial which is closed to the public. In a few minutes he returned carrying an armload of books and papers. The first article he showed the lady and her son was a miniature portrait of Lincoln done in oils. My kibitzing turned to real curiosity when he said that he had refused $20,000 for this one picture. My curiosity turned to wonder as he showed such relics as a splinter of wood from one of Lincoln's chairs, a letter from the capturer of Booth, the original pen and ink copy of "America," a tassel from the opera coat Lincoln was wearing when he was shot, a papier-mache mask of Lincoln made from $10,000 worth of good American greenbacks, a portrait by Patterson, full sheets of 100 Lincoln stamps autographed by the famous of the world, and dozens of other articles of equal value.

This old gentleman's name is Herbert Wells Fay. He has been collecting Lincolniana for 80 years and has a collection valued in the neighborhood of a million dollars. The inner sanctum of the memorial is piled high with precious bits of the past. Among them is Lincoln's chair from his law office. When Lum and Abner recently visited the tomb, Lum sat in this chair and said he hoped that sitting in it would inspire him. "But, Lum," spoke up Abner, "you generally get your inspiration from the other end."

Mr. Fay also has a Grant collection that is second to none in the world. Through his hobby he has run a shoe-string into a fortune. So if the next time you're downtown you see someone pick up a rusty collar-button and put it in his purse—don't call the police. It will probably be me.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

It's not a pleasant picture to contemplate, but War calls for "blood and sweat and tears." And the Army Medical Corps, with its efficient nurses and its volunteer Red Cross "Angels of Mercy," needs thousands of surgical beds for field and base hospitals on every front.

These beds cost approximately $22 each. They are the latest thing in modern hospital beds, with elevating springs. In some instances surgical cots are used in temporary field hospitals and there is a folding bed which may be used in ambulances. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps can buy many of these beds for the Army. You'll sleep better if you know our boys have every hospital comfort. Buy War Bonds every pay day. Invest ten percent of your income.

The library staff is planning a fine display of new books during book week which begins November 16. The slogan for book week is "Forward with Books." The following poem is dedicated to those who are destined to toil in the rear, too busy to reach for the help that is near:

An hour with a book would have brought to his mind The secret it took him a whole year to find. The facts that he learned with enormous expense Were all on the library shelves to commence.

Alas for our hero too busy to read He was also too busy it proved to succeed. Just take it from me as a very safe hint, A civilized man cannot live without print.

Harness Parts

Our war effort requires a good deal of leather and as the safety of our men often depends on the quality of this material, it is fitting that they should use only the best.

In order to disrupt our civilian life just as little as possible some grade A leather has been set aside for our civilian needs. We have been able to secure some harness repairs from this stock and now have:

Team Harness	1 3-4 trace, 1 1-3 in. by 20 ft. lines	$69.95
Team Lines		$5.95
Traces, 1 3-4 in. by 8 ft.		$18.50
Breast Straps		$1.15

Also a good supply of harness hardware.

Our stocks of these are limited and we would recommend that if you are in need of any of this equipment you drop us a line so that we can save it for you until you can get in or if we are already out of stock, we can advise you and save unnecessary wear on your tires.

trip to California, following a summer spent here with relatives and friends. She took the Challenger to the coast and it was very crowded and generally behind schedule. Once the train was held up for some time while a physician was summoned to care for the sick child of a soldier who was on the train. At Ogden a five-coach troop train and extra diner were put on.

Miss Lyons spent several days with friends in Sunnyvale, Cal., during which time she did much sight-seeing. She was especially thrilled with the 8-mile Oakland-San Francisco Bay bridge and the Golden Gate bridge.

Considerable time was spent at Stanford university in Palo Alto, of which Miss Lyons has this to say: "It is my guess there are 25 large buildings on the campus. We only went through the most beautiful chapel I was ever in. A large Biblical scene in brilliant colors is on the entire front outside entrance and the dome has inlaid gold. Much inlaid gold decorates the interior. This entire building is a memorial to Leland Stanford, Jr., and some of the columns are memorials to other members of the family. Many beautiful stained glass windows, three balconies, Biblical scenes on every wall, as well as gems of literature between spaces, a wonderful pipe-organ in the upper center balcony, rich carpets, kneeling boards and the rustrum arranged for three modes of worship are outstanding features of the structure. All these add to the serenity and sublimity of the building and all combine to make one feel he is indeed on 'sacred ground.'"

"The Herbert Hoover tower is an imposing structure, also on the campus, and previously one could ride on the elevator to the 16th floor and view the surrounding grounds and the Santa Clara valley. We saw many of Hoover's souvenirs and mementos of the World war during the time he had charge of overseas relief. We did not have time to go into the reading rooms or see the countless books, records and things of interest on display. This is a great asset to the student body and many were taking advantage of it, as well as going into the chapel for meditation."

Miss Lyons visited the Sunnyvale air base hangar, which is almost 800 feet long and housed the ill-fated Akron and Macon dirigibles. The Libby McNeil canning factory and the Handy Iron Works are located in Sunnyvale, the latter now being under the supervision of the government and making war supplies.

NUMBER TWENTY-SEVEN

Plan for Short Course.
The agricultural short course at the university in Lincoln will be completed in 12 instead of 16 weeks. The course starts November 30 for young men and women who want to secure training during winter months. Anyone who is 16, whether a graduate of high school or not, may enroll.

Plan for Boy Scouts.
Prof. K. N. Parke was in West Point Friday evening to attend a meeting of a special committee to study boy scout problems in the Covered Wagon area.

Red Cross in Service.
In the three years since the outbreak of the war in Europe, the American Red Cross has furnished relief to more than 20 million war victims. About $60,000,000 worth of supplies have been distributed.

Urged to Organize.
Dixon county 4-H clubs are urged by Agent Howard Gillaspie to re-enroll and get organization completed for 1943. The war effort makes it important for young folks to do their share in various activities. A full 12-month activity is essential, and organization should be started so that plans can be made to save travel.

Passes in Clearwater.
Miss Emma McGee, 60, graduate of Wayne normal, in 1905, died October 29 at Clearwater following a stroke. She had taught 22 years. Her invalid mother, for whom she cared, two brothers and four sisters survive.

Food Stamps Decline.
A reduction of $84,877.50 in federal expenditure for operation of the food stamp program in Nebraska for September this year compared with the same month a year ago was reported by W. H. Pettit, state marketing supervisor. The 47.1 per cent drop in expenditures was attributed to a shift of employables from public aid rolls to employment in war industries, agriculture and other private employment.

Miss Ann Willows spent the week-end in Lincoln.

Ignorance Is Seen As Greatest Threat

Dr. J. R. Johnson Speaks to Women About Successful World Cooperation.

Dr. J. R. Johnson, Wayne State Teachers college instructor, addressed Wayne Women's club Friday concerning national prejudices. He began by stating, "The triple threat to American unity today is fear, jealousy and ignorance. By ignorance, the greatest of the three, I do not mean illiteracy, but rather the lack of understanding which we so often have of the other person's good qualities and his contributions to the American way of life." All races would be represented if the best all around Americans were to be chosen.

The speaker stated that "some forms of race prejudice have had an almost continuous existence for centuries. The old Testament is a constant record of the Jewish race setting itself up as a select group." "Social antagonisms are not biologically innate, but acquired by tradition," continued Dr. Johnson. "Jew and Gentile children play together happily unless interfered with by some older. Black and white children do likewise. The hatred of orientals for the white race is due largely to economic exploitation. The missionary went as a messenger of mercy and tolerance, but he was followed too soon by the merchant and soldier. Even today China and India are uncertain as to the real objectives of the United States. The United States seems to have stored up more good will than most other nations. The splendid fighting qualities of the Filipinos testify to our educational efforts there."

"Europe has long been a cauldron of hate. History affords untold examples of persecution of minority groups. The reformation in Germany, Henry VIII, Huguenots, Moors and Jews in Spain, Jews in Germany are examples. We like to think those things 'can't happen here,' that we are without sin, but such is not the case," the speaker stated.

Dr. Johnson continued by saying, "We have, we believe, a clear idea of what we are fighting for. Certainly we are not interested in conquest or glory, but merely the right to live as free men. We like to pretend that we believe all men to be free and equal, but we do not treat them as such. We don't have to have nazi agents to make us suspicious of citizens more or less recently arrived from other countries. The word 'immigrant' is often used as an epithet of scorn and contempt. Yet every last one of us is descended from immigrants."

"It is common knowledge that our nation is made up of no one race, faith or cultural heritage. It is grouping of some 30 peoples of different ideas. They are bound together by our confidence in our democratic backgrounds," the speaker continued.

"It is easy to find examples of prejudices and bigotry, such as persecution of Quakers and followers of Anne Hutchinson and Roger Williams in Massachusetts, treatment of the Indians, persecution of the Mormons. Following the 1st World war there was a 'Red' scare. When we are boasting about fighting for the rights of minorities we can hardly forget our treatment of the colored race," stated the speaker.

"Prejudices take many forms. They are the result of tradition, direct teaching, deliberate incitement and group contagion and in a sense are inevitable unless we learn how to control their cause. We tend to shrink from the unfamiliar. Manners, customs, speech, gestures and dress in some individuals or groups may irritate us. We may be tolerant of a few, in fact we may enjoy the experience.

for it tends to make us feel superior. But if many follow such practices, our amusement may turn to hate. Of course it would be incorrect to contend that conflicts always bring destructive effects. It is only when our emotional system gets out of gear and outrides our reason that we behave like wild animals."

"The totalitarian way is that of extermination or suppression. Hitler and his gang seem to be bent on using the former method. But more can be achieved by the 'inviting them to dinner' method as the British conservative party tried once with the Irish. But resentment continued to smoulder."

"Group friction and conflicts recede when common interests are realized in the face of a common foe. Consider how the united nations are growing closer together," continued Dr. Johnson.

"What is the answer to our problem of national prejudices? Education is the answer, but it must be more than academic schooling. Even the schools have too much of a caste system. The so-called educators are too often controlled by prejudice and bias. Real education must include the overcoming of the notion that anything alien can be humble."

"In the end," concluded Dr. Johnson, "there is no way in which people can live together decently unless each individual or group realizes that the whole truth and virtue is not exclusively in its possession. When things go wrong the public demands a 'scapegoat.' It is convenient to pick on the minority but this is dangerous business for the triumphant majority today may become the oppressed minority tomorrow. Hopeful trust makes for unity and solidarity. Suspicions fear divides a people. Unity of action based on ideals and high principles of conduct is better than following a leader. A common leadership tends to minimize social conflicts, but sometimes results in the loss of independent judgment."

"We today should feel very proud that our nation throughout its history has had the reinvigorating immigration which has brought us new blood, new experiences, new ideas. From this vast assembly of minority groups, has been created a strong nation."

Dr. Johnson was introduced by Mrs. E. W. Huse.

Leonard Paulson, accompanied by Miss Hazel Reeve, sang a French Canadian lumber song and old Italian love song.

Mrs. D. S. Wightman, Mrs. Mae Young, Mrs. T. Jones, Mrs. A. W. Ross and Mrs. Wilbur Spahr served.

Supt. F. B. Decker will speak on air raid warden duties at the November 20 meeting.

Patrolman Here Today.
One of the highway patrolmen is at the court house this Thursday to pass on drivers' permits.

Has Been Very Ill.
Merle, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Ely of Turlock, Cal., formerly of Concord vicinity, has been very ill in a hospital. The lad is improving now and is home.

Married in Wayne.
Walter P. Feyerherm and Mrs. Kathryn Fairall, both of Yankton, were married November 5 by Judge J. M. Cherry. Mr. Feyerherm is commissioner and his wife is supervisor at the state hospital.

Suffers Burned Hands.
Harold Dinklage had his hands burned and $150 damage was done to a corn picker when the machine ignited at the Geo. Meyer farm near Wisner. A match was lighted to warm the pipeline when the blaze started.

The fire department responded last Thursday when a blaze broke out in the yards near A. G. Adams' shop. No damage resulted.

Miss Mabel Christensen and Dwight Van Slyke, both formerly of Randolph, were married October 22 at South Mills, N. C. They live at Norfolk, Va., where the youth is with the navy. Van Slyke served in Hawaii before going to Virginia.

Wayne Defeated By Kearney Here

Final Game of Season Counts Local Team Out of Chance For State Title.

The Kearney teachers defeated the Wayne teachers in the final game of the season at the Wayne field Friday night. This victory for Kearney clinched the Nebraska title for them as the only game remaining is with the Chadron teachers who appear to be unusually weak this year, and it should be an easy Kearney victory.

From an offensive point of view it was Kearney all the way, for it piled up many yards from scrimmage, while the Wayne teachers were held to only two first downs.

Kearney scored early in the first quarter, when it blocked Best's attempt to quick-kick and the ball rolled into the end zone, where Rumbaugh recovered for a touchdown. At the opening of the second half Kearney recovered its own kick-off on the Wayne 33 yard line. From there Halback Mike Shada in a series of line smashes, drove through his left side for 20 yards and a touchdown.

Wayne's score came late in the fourth quarter. After its running attack had been definitely stopped by the fast charging Kearney line, Fieber stepped back on his own 25-yard line and threw a 65-yard pass to Leftend Fitch who ran the entire Kearney secondary to score Wayne's only tally. Bobby's attempt for point was wide and the game ended Kearney 13, Wayne 6. The lineup was as follows:

Wayne (6)	Kearney (13)
Stover	Eggenbach
Olsen	Newell
Krause	Journey

Women Are Needed For Sewing Here

More women are needed to help with Red Cross sewing at the city hall each Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Mrs. Frank Heine reports that men's shirts and women's blouses are now being made, and 600 yards of outing just arrived for pajamas.

The women packed and shipped 200 Red Cross kits Monday, and 200 others were filled Tuesday. Any groups or individuals who wish to pay $1 or more toward these are urged to do so.

A letter of appreciation was received by the Red Cross from Pvt. Robert B. Acre of Camp Winkley Hill, Paramus, N. J. This is as follows: "I received a very nice sweater from your Red Cross chapter and I surely appreciate this. I received the sweater in Fort Sheridan, Ill., and there are quite a few of us boys who have them. They surely come in handy in New Jersey where the weather is cool at times. I am originally from Milan, Tenn., where we also have a nice Red Cross chapter. Thanking you again."

Gold-roof Club Meets.
Gold-roof club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Donald Carlson. Besides 10 members guests were Mrs. Tom Pryor, Mrs. Leland Walker, Miss Evelyn Carlson, Mrs. Clarence Carlson and Mrs. Tom Pryor won prizes in progressive play.

News comes that old Sitting Bull was killed and this will probably end the Indian troubles.

From all appearances weather at Christmas and New Year's promises to be more like Fourth of July than anything else. The holiday fowl will be eaten with doors open, women fanning to keep cool and men running around with shirt sleeves rolled up. Santa Claus will have to come in a wagon instead of with reindeer and sleigh, and he'll have to replace his fur coat with a linen duster. Yet this is a country of surprises, and perhaps all this may change until a man's breath will freeze solid as it leaves the mouth. Likely the elements will change and the balmy air we enjoy will be only a dream.

Is Help to Morale.
"I want to thank you for sending the Wayne Herald to me here in camp," writes Chaplain Robert B. Wylie of Camp Claiborne. "Only one who has been away from home can appreciate getting news from home. I believe that sending the Herald to the men in the camps is doing more for their morale than you can imagine. I want to thank you for all the boys who get the paper," concluded Chaplain Wylie, whose address is: 410th Inf. Regt., 103rd Inf. Division, Camp Claiborne, La.

Has Narrow Escape From Sunken Ship.
Seaman Bob Byergo, formerly of Randolph, clung to a kapok mattress two and one-half hours in the sea after the crew of the stricken Wasp took to the water after the ship had been raked with explosions from three Jap torpedoes in the region of the Solomon Islands.

With the life preserver in the forward compartments where the torpedoes struck, Byergo decided to float for 36 hours. Most of the time he was in the water he was near the ship and about the time the rescuing lifeboat picked him up, the flames on the water were creeping close to him.

The ship was overhung with heavy black smoke and was raked with almost constant explosions. Hundreds of men were swimming aimlessly in the midst of a sea covered with oil and gasoline. "Most of the men in the water were calm and the Randolph youth described the water as "nice and warm."

Lifeboats sent out by destroyers picked up the survivors and they were gone from the scene when the Wasp was sent to the bottom at night by an American destroyer. It is not known whether the sub-or subs which sent the torpedoes into the vessel were sunk.

Byergo said almost all loss of life occurred on the ship from the explosions, instead of by drowning. Almost 20 of his nearest and most intimate buddies went down with the ship. The former Randolph youth lost every possession, including personal effects and clothing. He reports he was covered from head to foot with oil and grease and was indistinguishable from a colored person.

Seaman Byergo will be stationed on a new ship as stoker/steerage third class. He had been on the Wasp since early in 1941. The Wasp delivered planes to the island of Malta June 15, had been at sea 112 days when sunk September 3. The youth has been visiting friends at Randolph a few days.

RECRUITS MAY ENTER SERVICE WITH NAVY
Numerous rumors circulating to the effect that the United States navy will discontinue obtaining recruits by voluntary enlistment were squashed by an announcement released by the navy's recruiting station at Omaha Lt. R. J. Mahoney, officer-in-charge of the U. S. navy recruiting station, stated that the present method of selecting men for service with the navy will be definitely continued.

"There is absolutely no basis for assuming that a revision of policy with regard to voluntary enlistment of men will be initiated," Lt. Mahoney asserted, "and all men between the ages of 17 and 30 who are in good physical condition, and can otherwise qualify, are urged to report for enlistment to the nearest navy recruiting station."

Men who have been notified to appear for induction under selective service are still eligible to choose the navy. Notification of induction ordinarily is no barrier to their making application for service with the navy, and applications will continue to be accepted from men so notified as long as they give the recruiter ample time to clear their papers prior to their final date of induction.

Wakefield Trojans Win Football Game

School Resumes Monday After Week's Vacation For Corn Picking.

Wakefield Trojans defeated the Allen Blues on the home field Friday 14 to 0. During the first half neither team was able to score but the edge was definitely with the Trojans who were within the 20-yard line several times but couldn't seem to get the ball over. In the second half a long drive culminated by Gerdes smashing over for a touchdown for the Trojans. The try for point was good.

A few minutes later Matheson of Allen faked back to throw a pass. Seeing no receivers open he lateraled directly to D. Erickson of Wakefield who galloped unobstructed 50 yards for a touchdown. After that Allen made several good gains but were unable to get up scoring punch.

If Wakefield defeats Emerson they will have the county championship.

Wakefield plays West Point at Wakefield Friday.

School resumed Monday after a week's compelling vacation.

A Halloween party was held October 30. Jack-o-lanterns were brought and placed about the room. Cats, bats, owls and witches decorated the room. Games and contests were held and refreshments were served. Visitors the past month were Supt. F. B. Becker, Darrell and Linda Barner, Sandra Whitmer and Dorothy Davis.

District 8. (Freda Luschen, teacher) An arithmetic spell decorates the cover of the Monthly Journal, news bulletin issued by the school. All grades are competing in an arithmetic contest and a prize will be awarded. Pupils must keep their sissors busy on the big ship. For each grade less than 100, the student's sailor is lost and must be found before continuing on to victory. Marian Baker has not lost her sailor since the contest started. Charles Peters, Mardelle Larsen, Esther Korn and Gordon Helgren lost theirs once. Kenneth Peters lost his two times, and Joan Grimm, Mildred Korn, Janet Larsen, Doris Mae Meyer and Harold Korn three times.

"Keep Them Flying" is the slogan of the reading contest. Each pupil is pilot of a plane extended from the ceiling by a string. The sandbox is the landing field. If one fails to get "A" in reading, his plane is grounded and he must get an "A" before the plane rises again. As yet no planes have been grounded.

Esther Korn, Kenneth Peters, Mardelle Larsen, Charles Peters and Joan Grimm won prizes in the spelling contest with perfect records. Esther Korn and Mardelle Larsen have had perfect lessons since the start of the term.

Doris Mae Meyer reported the news. "Beat 'Em All" is the name of the club with Esther Korn president, Kenneth Peters vice president and Mardelle Larsen secretary. Politeness is the special aim for this week. "America" is the club song, the red rose the club flower and red the club color. "Never accuse others to excuse yourself" is the motto. Boys are sawing and painting while girls are sewing.

The baseball team defeated district 10 by score of 6 to 2. A wiener roast followed.

Esther Korn, Harold Korn, Kenneth Peters, Doris Mae Meyer, Charles Peters, Janet Larsen, Joan Grimm, Mildred Korn and Marian Baker had perfect attendance for the year. "Bar X Boys" is read for opening exercises. Mildred Korn brought a birthday cake as a treat October 16.

Santa Now Busy In Making Toys

Mouse Trap Rigging Fixed Enables Man to Sleep An Extra Hour.

Rumors that Santa was too busy to prepare for the youngsters this year were spiked when manufacturers assured the little folks that Santa will have toys for them. Making of these is progressing handsomely.

A mouse trap gives Joe Albertson, Orrick, Mo., owner of a small coal mine near another hour's sleep each morning. A string runs from an alarm clock to the mouse trap. When the alarm goes off, the vibration of the string springs the trap. The trap throws a switch that starts an electric pump. By the time Albertson and his helpers arrive, all the water which has seeped in overnight has been pumped out of the mine—and they can start work immediately.

A package, labeled "perishable" arrived at the army flying school at Bainbridge, Ga., but the addressee had left the day before for home on furlough. The boys couldn't sit idly by and see something perishable go to waste, so they sent a collect telegram to his home asking permission to open it. Three hours later a wire came back from his mother, "Frank not yet arrived. Eat it if you pay for this." The big chocolate cake cost a total of 79 cents.

Counsel for Geo. Ziller is looking out for his client physically as well as otherwise. The counsel asked that court trial be held in an elevator-equipped court house. He contends that climbing three flights of stairs is a physical hazard to a man of Ziller's weight—538 pounds.

After Mrs. Helen Bass, a tall blond, had delighted soldiers with her singing, one of the men exclaimed, "That dame ought to be in the movies." Mrs. Bass in public life is Helen Traubel, famous metropolitan star.

So hard did a 2-year-old Kansas boy cry that a needle lodged in his throat was dislodged without an operation.

Joe V. Godfrey, radioman second class, came home to Spokane, Wash., from the Solomon Islands with a story of a marine who forgot the password. He was charged.

When he approached the sentry, "Don't shoot," he cried. "I'm a marine, too." And then remembering that Japanese have trouble pronouncing the letter "L," he quickly proved his point by saying: "Sparkie, sparkie, sparkie!"

The coffee situation isn't bothering George Paris at Hollywood. In his little eating place he has put up a sign: "We have plenty of coffee. First cup, 5 cents. Second cup, one hundred dollars."

The Pray triplets of Seattle, Conrad, Clement and Clarence, 20 year old, reported as a trio for army service the last of October.

Gasoline-powered vehicles are banned from the annual homecoming parade at Terre Haute. Only horse-drawn or manpower propelled vehicles are allowed. And cost of each float is limited to $5.

Mayor Riley of Portland has come to the aid of Max Isenstein who has sold newspapers at the same spot in the city for 22 years. Isenstein is called into service. He hated to lose his location so the mayor promised to save it for him until after the war.

Pains of conscience struck some Topeka residents. When a pump broke and the water pressure was cut sharply, numerous customers called up the water department and said they'd be in the next day to pay up back bills.

A South Carolina registrant asked his draft board for a deferment because of his "intention to marry a beautiful little girl with whom I am very much in love." He's in the army.

Mrs. Betty Johnson, Indianapolis, returned from a shopping trip to find her living room "sagging" under 40 packages weighing about 70 pounds apiece—a little more than a ton. Her address: 610 North New Jersey, Indiana rationing office address: 510 North New Jersey. A truckman returned, reloaded the blanks and headed a block south.

The telephone company at Kansas City, besieged with complaints from subscribers demanding new telephone numbers, is going to do something about it as soon as one of its executives can think of a good word beginning with the letters AX. The squawks are coming from the customers on the AX exchange, so named because the company needed the AX combination for use on dial phones.

Leo R. O'Flaherty, 43, Elgin, Ill., believes in setting a good example. O'Flaherty, chairman of selective service board No. 1, waived a 3-A classification as a married man, set his own number aside, and plans to enlist in the army as a private.

Evangelical Free Church.
(Rev. O. W. Swaback, pastor)
The "all day" services held last Sunday proved to be a time of real blessing to all who attended. Evangelist J. C. Brumfield spoke forth the messages with fiery zeal. We will long remember this day of spiritual feasting.

Services for the coming Sunday will be as follows: Sunday school, 10 Morning worship, 11. Young People's meeting, 7. Evening service, 8.

Prayer meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at the parsonage, Wednesday evening.
All are cordially invited to attend these services. It seems as though we never appreciate the privileges we have until they are taken away from us. Let us attend church as often as possible as long as we have the liberty to do so.
