

To Cadets in Training Here Cordial and Sincere - Politics in Mississippi - Crime Increasing - Unhealthy Thirst for Power.

In a recent broadcast over WJAG, Norfolk, a Wakefield listener deplored what was interpreted as lack of welcome on the part of a few Wayne persons to the cadets in training here. It is inconceivable that anyone is really unfriendly to having the soldier group in Wayne. Even if one or two with no sense of war responsibility, popped off ill-considered mutterings, the fact would not prove anything unfavorable. Citizens of the community generally appreciate the fine type of young men here, and are on the alert to lend assistance and impart a feeling of contentment. It is remembered that these boys form a part of the valiant force aimed at the overthrow of world tyranny and the rescue of freedom for all peoples - kickers as well as boosters. As we conclude, men and women, boys and girls of the community want to be cordial and hospitable, thus to take the sting out of nostalgia, without forgetting due proprieties or becoming foolishly obtrusive.

Qualifications for Office. Time Magazine reveals some peculiar twists in Mississippi politics. Of 320 candidates for the legislature, one is a backwoodsman who, in frightful English, wrote the editorial setting forth his ambition, and explaining that he had quit drinking, quit making moonshine liquor, quit lying and quit stealing, and therefore he figured he had qualified himself to help make laws for his state.

Child Offenders. Crimes committed by children in their teens are increasing, according to reports. Child delinquency has been growing at an alarming rate, notably in large centers and war-bomb towns. In the present world crisis, which has twisted many mentalities out of rational thinking, it is up to homes and organized bodies to pull harder than ever to preserve orderly processes and righteous living.

Dangerous Paranoia. In a contribution to the Miami (Florida) News, Walter Locke charges most of the serious troubles of the world to paranoia which Webster's dictionary defines as "a chronic mental disorder characterized by systematized delusions of persecution and of one's own greatness, sometimes with hallucinations." Locke points out that paranoia is spread by personalities of the Hitler and Mussolini type. The writer thinks paranoia can be cured, and that it is a problem for the post-war world. He mentions these signs of the disease: "A swelled head; 'big, little you'; a passion to dominate; coldly laid plans to conquer, whether as a nation, a race, a religion, a person, a business or a class; a readiness to wade through slaughter to any kind of throne; a sense of one's own perfection which makes free to murder to have his own way; egotism strained to insanity; patriotism perverted into predilection."

Locke says every lynching expresses the paranoia of a group, and then he offers these concluding paragraphs: "Our drives against mobs or religions are paranoid. One form of Hitler's dementia was his war upon the Jews. The contagion of that disease has touched some of us here. The bands here plague spots of the paranoia here, likewise the Ku Klux Klan and all the 'shirts'."

"The persecution plant of some business men is a symptom of paranoia at the top. The worker who builds a persecution complex out of the wrong he thinks he suffers is a paranoid and dangerous as such."

"The fascist, here of abroad, with a call to order other men's lives to suit himself is the paranoid which Benito Mussolini is. The tyrannical employer and the tyrannical labor boss are cut from the same paranoid cloth."

"The paranoid appears in our politics. Screaming his call to hatred of a minority religion, race or class he musters, as Hitler did, his paranoid following. Hopeless the land which is not immune to the paranoid call."

"Not always, even in America, has the paranoid demagogue been detected and squelched by a sane majority. Fascisms have risen to the governorship of states. There have been paranoid senators. There have been paranoid representatives. Ask any psychiatrist if it be not true."

"When a nation falls victim to paranoia and goes on the murder path all other nations must defend themselves."

War Fund Drive Gets Good Start

Wayne County Is Joining in Investments That Will Help Win Struggle.

Wayne county residents will invest $220,200 during April as their share of the second war loan of $2,000,000,000 which will provide food, clothing, housing, transportation and munitions for millions of men over and above the cost of equipment in planes, guns, tanks, ships and other war material. ### OLDSTERS MOVE UP FLOOD DATE FROM YEAR 1881 TO '43

TOO LITTLE moisture hereabouts all spring was a source of anxiety until Saturday night when gently falling rain soaked into the ground and revived hope. The way the moisture came gave assurance of greatest possible good to the soil. Fields and gardens lost no time in responding. Too much water along the Missouri river, rivaling all that has ever poured the disastrous 1881 flood, prompted inhabitants of stricken localities to hurry themselves and their livestock to high ground. Oldsters will now have to move up their point of flood dating from 1881 to 1943. Heavy snows draining into the upper Missouri, caused the overflow of that river and its tributaries, inundating thousands of acres in Nebraska and Iowa, and sending farmers to points of safety. Areas around Sioux City, Omaha, Nebraska City and other cities abutting the river were swept by raging waters with considerable property damage. But when floods, their accustomed tasks, and it is hoped will be able to raise bigger crops than ever.

Flying to Start Soon

The training program for army aircrew students is now completely under way in Wayne. Soldiers are kept busy with academic, physical and military training. In addition the men have had social functions, and other interesting times are planned for them.

Air crew students are in academic classes on an average of four or five hours a day and they are taught by college instructors in mathematics, physics, geography, history and English. They are placed in different classes, depending on their past education, their aptitudes and qualifications, as determined by specially worked out tests and examination. Every possible effort is made to give each individual special training in subjects in which he may be slightly below the average of the class.

The physical training program is under the direction and supervision of the college physical training department. Exercises are difficult and strenuous. They are intended to make the men physically hard and well qualified to undertake any hardships that may come their way in other periods of training or later in combat. Outdoor exercises will replace the indoor program as soon as weather permits, and when construction of an obstacle course is completed.

Military training, directly under the supervision of commissioned officers, consists of drill, lectures on military subjects, reviews, retreats, guard duties, and all other formations and functions necessary to turn out well-trained soldiers and potential officers.

Talent has been discovered sufficient to create a full-fledged military band for the unit. College authorities have offered their cooperation in materializing this and Prof. John R. Keith will direct the musicians.

New required additions and improvements at Wayne municipal airport will be constructed immediately. Flying training, under the direction of Stanley Fuller and his staff, will be under way in the near future.

The feeding and housing of the boys are extremely well cared for by the college, and everyone is well pleased with the food and sleeping quarters provided.

In the heavy schedule, when the occasion permitted, the college arranged a dance for soldiers. Officers in charge have had several informal social feasts to help keep the men happy and contented. Ordinarily the boys will be free over week-ends. All churches and citizens have displayed every reasonable desire to make the boys feel as much at home as possible, and officers are most appreciative of this cooperation.

The boys have been in excellent physical health, and their morale and spirits are high. No complaints and no criticism of activities have been noticed anywhere.

Plans are under way to hold military ceremonies in the immediate future and to these the public will be cordially invited. Every effort is being made by citizens, Dr. J. T. Anderson and the college staff and officers of the unit to create and strengthen a fine friendship between the army and the community.

The Oldest Established Paper in Wayne County

Parents Blamed EDGAR HOOVER, head of the FBI, charges increased juvenile delinquency to lack of parental guidance. This observation was made in the course of a message to the International Council of Religious Education at Chicago in recognition of "Family Week." He is quoted as saying this in part: "Too many homes in America are broken. Divorce, crime and bad examples have made irreparable inroads. There is a clear indication of adult failure to impress upon the minds of youth those principles of faith, morality and personal conduct which have stood the test of centuries."

Something has happened to our moral fibers when the nation's youths under voting age accounted for 15 per cent of all murders, 35 per cent of all robberies, 58 per cent of all car thefts and 50 per cent of all burglaries. Arrests of girls under 21 for offenses against common decency increased 76 per cent.

Now is the time to start a counter-offensive to keep the home front clean, wholesome and strong.

After-the-war expectations are more hopeful in this country than in Great Britain, according to a recent Gallup poll. Americans are more confident of ability to hoe their own rows following peace. The English understand and accept the Beveridge post-war plan, but the survey reveals comparatively little interest in its counterpart offered recently by the president in this country. It is evident that Americans propose to depend more on private enterprise and less on government help as a rehabilitating and sustaining force in dealing with post-war problems.

Congressman Karl Stefan registered a vigorous kick in congress last week over spending federal funds on non-essential projects in South America at this time. Stocking South American waters with fish and ministering to the aesthetic tastes of Latin America have aroused the congressman's opposition. He evidently thinks we have enough of a task on hand in winning the war without venturing into the South American field with good-will cash outlays.

Senator Butler thinks more sugar could be made available for household use and that it will be needed to preserve fruits in contributing to future food stores. "I can think of no war task more important at the moment than the supplying of sugar in abundance to the housewives and canning industries, and thus saving the fruit crops which are just starting to move," comments the senator. "That can be but poorly done under present ration rules."

The early part of April is too closely associated with crazy March to expect a sudden switch to vernal warmth. It takes a little time to change from winter to summer, but when transition has been finished, there will remain no doubt as to the capacity of the weather to supply ample heat. Then new vegetation will start, people will pare down their garments and the long and joyful season of growth and perspiration will be on.

Branch line train service is gradually disappearing, and in time we may have to journey to main line points to see stream-liners dart in and out. And the way airports are being trained, and the certainty that after the war manufacturers will turn to making more and better flying machines give assurance that air navigation will become increasingly popular.

Easter consistently awakens the Christian spirit. It is not the occasion for mere show or lip service. As it arouses unselfish deeds, it tunes the soul to supernal values. Helping win the war, resisting threats to liberty, preserving unfettered home life and conveying comfort and hope to the heavy-hearted harmonize with the hallowed Easter observance.

We are pleased to note the plan to invite visiting cadets into different homes of the town and vicinity for Easter Sunday dinners. This is an expression of hospitality that will be thoroughly appreciated by the boys. It will be appreciated by their fathers and mothers. Its fellowship will harmonize with the Easter resurrection and the Easter hope.

A notice in today's Herald asks for bids to repair the asphalt stretch south of town. That highway has been out of luck. It has not been overly successful in resisting heavy trucks. It is possible concrete would be cheaper in the long run. Anyway, it is to be fixed again, and it is hoped it will stay fixed long enough to justify the cost.

The legislature is lumbering along toward adjournment. It has acted wisely in providing for the state's schools—a necessity in view of rising costs—and it will no doubt do other things that will enable it to point with pride as the final curtain falls.

There may be some human barnacles, but not many in a live community. The barnacle just rides along, and he is usually harmless unless he exercises too much animation in the direction of hindering progress.

When political leaders, supposed to be conversant with all the facts, cannot agree, how can the rank and file be expected to agree? They cannot and do not.

Asking Wayne to treat cadets in a friendly, helpful manner is like asking a sober, devoted husband not to beat his wife or get drunk and abuse his children.

Causing a Strike. (Norfolk Daily News)

Because plant protection men broke up a dice game in a lavatory at a Ford company plant in Detroit, 500 men working on tanks for our soldiers walked out and the strike spread to 3,700 persons on two shifts, tying up work for several hours. Your opinion of such an incident as good as ours, and is probably the same as ours.

Conduct for 1944. (Time Magazine)

Balding, genial Frank Walker, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, last week returned to Washington from a month's political tour of the U. S., stuck his tongue in his well-rounded pink cheek.

What he would like to see in 1944, said Frank Walker mildly, steering the talk away from coarse hints of a Fourth Term, is conventions held quite late, and campaigns starting as late as September or October. The whole Presidential race, said he, should be conducted on a very high plane.

Threat Stage Is Reached. (Lincoln Journal)

Hitler and Mussolini threaten to bomb New York City with "suicide squads" of bombers, launched from the French coast. New York City might be reached and damage done, but the chances of the bombers returning to their base would be scant and the effect would not be worth the risk to the axis leaders. The trip over would be difficult and hazardous and the return trip far less certain of accomplishment. Bombing our cities would merely intensify our war spirit and spur a powerful people to greater offensives.

The proposal would not be made by sane leaders certain of victory regardless of the success of such an attempt. It comes only from frustrated leaders nearing disaster and utter defeat.

When This War Is Over. (Omaha Journal-Stockman)

It is just possible that we are beginning to get excited over conditions in the post-war world a bit too soon. The war is not yet over and our energies should not be wasted at this time. Most of the planners are taking it for granted that this country will practically dictate what kind of a country this will be after the war.

Discussion has been carried far enough, however, to bring a realization of the fact that there are several other more or less powerful nations who will insist on having their say as to what we will do when the war is over. Some of these forecasts are so disquieting that perhaps we had better confine our planning to our own United States and here are some cardinal principles that cannot be evaded.

Future world peace depends to a large extent upon the United States—providing we do three things: First, keep our faith with the American capitalistic system by allowing individuals and businesses to survive with sufficient earnings to maintain private jobs in free enterprise; Second, actively participate in world affairs; Third, lead the way in broadening the flow of international trade.

The first is essential to peace because the alternative to free enterprise is state socialism, and state socialism leads to war. The dictators have proved that. The second is essential because our cooperation is necessary to enforce a just peace. The third is essential because nations tied together by trade are far less inclined to fight.

Every effort must be made to awaken people to the fact that our leadership is sorely needed in the creation of a lasting peace and a new area of trade, just as every effort must be made to awaken the people to the fact that all of us have a common interest in the maintenance of the free enterprise system.

In pleading for such leadership, Clark H. Minor, chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, says: "When we look over the economic record of the past and see the ravages caused by war... we must be convinced that the establishment of permanent peace would be so beneficial to every inhabitant of the world that there is hardly any immediate sacrifice which we could be called upon to make which would not be repaid a thousand-fold."

He further declared: "That we and every country may enjoy the fruits of the particular aptitudes of other nations, of their particular natural resources, requires that no barriers shall be placed in the way of our access to such fruits. This means intelligent and courageous action with respect to tariffs, exchange regulations and all the unnecessary impediments which now restrict the flow of goods... Our country has the least to fear from being a leader toward freer world trade. With our total foreign business representing such a small percentage of our total trade, and with our resources of such great richness, we are surely the best situated to take the lead in a program benefiting not only ourselves directly, but all other civilized nations." As a step toward international leadership, the council has urged the renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act. This act has opened the door to commerce and enduring peace. The door should not now be closed.

Peace, trade and free enterprise are dependent upon each other, and the freedom of mankind depends upon the maintenance of all three.

JOHN L. LEWIS. John L. Lewis, labor leader, angles for farm support in his wage demands and in his criticism of the present. However, one may appraise the way the new deal's domestic or war policies are handled, it is plain that for the best interests of the United States now and in the future, men of the Lewis type should be trusted with little or no power of leadership. Lewis' demands and threats as head of the miners' union, show him to be purely selfish with vision restricted to dominating labor as a force in dominating the country. He gives unmistakable evidence of wanting to run the government, surrounded by obedient labor unionists who will jump at the crack of his whip. He is a danger that should be anticipated and avoided.

DEMOCRACY. The way democracy is meeting the war emergency to thwart threats of totalitarianism proves that governments in which all people have a voice and are encouraged to exercise initiative, are superior to dictatorships in which subjects are mere automatons and must slavishly obey without expressing preferences or dislikes. The judgment of the masses may sometimes err, but in the long run collective wisdom surpasses that of selfish autocrats who have little or no thought of the popular welfare. In the genius of invention and in the development of the sciences, free democracy has had no equal anywhere in the world. Even in war which it accepts tardily as a last resort, it speeds plans and proves surpassingly efficient. Democracy should not be deemed an experiment. It is an affront to processes of civilization to suggest that people cannot govern themselves.

The Wayne young man reports that the Herald gives a "real lift" to the boys and he sends his appreciation for receiving home news in this way.

AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN Washington, D. C.

The house has passed the bill to increase the pay of more than two million federal employees principally on the basis of overtime compensation. The estimated annual cost of the bill is approximately 600 million dollars.

The black market is flourishing in Washington. Its method of operation is not generally known although numerous operators have been apprehended. A lot of Nebraskans who cannot buy pork chops or certain cuts of meat, in spite of the fact that some butchers say they are overstocked, wonder where some of the society people get all the food that is served at some of the banquets.

In spite of the fact that some people in Washington believe that the farmer gets all of the money they pay for vegetables, the fact is quite to the contrary. Sweet potatoes sell on the Washington market for 10 cents per pound; the farmer gets 2 cents per pound for them. Four red beets in a bunch sell in Washington stores for 17 cents. A bunch of four little spring onions sells for 25 cents. One member who made a study of the vegetable situation here figures that retail stores get $700 a ton for tomatoes, $300 a ton for cabbage, $780 a ton for asparagus and $900 a ton for green peppers. Many members who look at retail prices here cannot see any justification in charges which are being made that farmers are responsible for inflation. There are increasing demands for the development of a better distribution system.

When the representatives of the committee of 48 were holding a conference with the surplus commodity officials the other day, they were told that 25 million bushels of soybeans were not harvested last year because farmers were short of machinery. About 10 million bushels of soybeans went into human consumption last year and it is estimated that 35 million bushels will go into human consumption this year.

Farm district members are receiving complaints about an insufficient amount of proteins for livestock feeding. Representatives of the department of agriculture have assured members that everything possible is being done to get sufficient feed and proteins to farmers to enable them to meet food production goals.

In reply to questions about national income, the records here show that in 1942 our national income reached a record high of $119,800,000,000, approximately $24,200,000,000 more than in 1941. Jesse Jones, the secretary of commerce, tells us that national income will climb to 140 billion dollars this year. Our gross national production in 1942 reached a new high of $131,600,000,000 which is an increase of 132 billion dollars over 1941, and it is expected to reach a total of 180 billion dollars this year.

The latest report on the tax collection program is that the Ruml-Carlson forces will present their bill again. The ways and means committee will restudy the subject and they, too, may have another bill to bring to the house in the near future. There is little opposition to pay-as-you-go or withholding tax collection, but there is still considerable opposition to "tax forgiveness." One suggested plan is to allow 1942 income taxpayers to spread their payments over a period of from five to 10 years and start paying 1943 income taxes out of current income.

Both democratic and republican leaders have informed committee members to hurry their appropriation bills. They plan a short Easter recess.

Senator Wherry has purchased a home in historic Alexandria, Va. It is located not far from the colonial home owned by John L. Lewis, the union labor leader.

Dealers in second-hand automobiles here tell us that they are selling an unusual amount of used cars to people from the midwest, some of them from Nebraska.

The home town paper is like a letter from home according to hundreds of Nebraska people who work in Washington. Most members of the house subscribe for all the weekly papers in their districts, and the offices of these members are visited daily by government employees who read the home town news. Some of them tell us that these weekly newspapers furnish most of the information that they get from home.

General Guy Honninger, along with other state directors of selective service, has been in Washington several days conferring with General Hershhey, the director of the national selective service system. General Honninger also met with the members of the Nebraska delegation.

Congress passed a bill authorizing the expenditure of 26 million dollars to help relieve the farm-labor shortage, but the farm members from the middle west are not impressed with the sufficiency of the program. Among other things it provides for the importation of 50,000 families from Mexico at government expense for farm labor in California and other states in the far west. The Mexican government and our own state department formulated the agreement under which the Mexicans will be brought in and distributed. Another lot of 5,000-colored families will be imported from Bermuda to assist on the fruit and truck farms in Florida. Of the appropriation, $5,000,000 is to be spent for housing the imported farm laborers.

The extension service of the department of agriculture is to supervise and control this new form of farm relief. The number of imported workers from Mexico and Bermuda will be too small to be of much assistance to the several million farmers who are in need of help, but the truck gardeners of the south and west may benefit to a degree. The extension service is organizing other farm labor brigades. It has taken several hundred from the mountain sections of Kentucky and Tennessee and transported them to farms in New York and Ohio. It has shipped several train-loads of Oklahoma workers to Oregon and Washington. It now is organizing high school boys and girls for help-the-harvest crews, and predicts that over three so mobilized. The dairy farm help problem is not very well touched in the programs so far announced, and the proposition of granting releases of experienced dairy workers from the army has not advanced to a point where predictions can be made as to its probable success.

The replacement of Secretary Wickard as food administrator was one of the recent surprises. There were rumors that he would be superseded as secretary of agriculture, but that seems unlikely at present. He is one of the few actual farmers who have served as secretary. He has been laboring under great difficulties and restrictions as food administrator, and was blamed for much that he could not help. Chester Davis, president of the federal reserve bank of St. Louis, has been called to Washington as the new food administrator. He formerly served here as chief of the AAA, and as a member of the board of governors of the federal reserve system. He has chosen the president of the Bank of America as his assistant. Apparently it is felt that bankers can do a better job on the food production job than agriculturalists, but to be more successful it will be necessary to remove some of the many restrictions which hampered Secretary Wickard, including these of departmental politics and bickering.

Prentiss Brown, successor to Leon Henderson as administrator of OPA, is having his troubles and many of them. He has announced a change of policy and of administrative program. Among other changes he is getting rid of Henderson's assistants, whose activities and regulations galore served to make the OPA very unpopular. He has met with the difficulties common to those who endeavor to get rid of red-tape. With the food rationing program rather bogged down and apparently becoming worse daily, he has a big job on hand.

An investigation by a senate committee reveals that last October there were 2,687,093 employees of the executive departments, drawing $3,311,000,000 annually. That number has been increased by about 10 per cent since then. There are 27,634 federal workers receiving over $4,500 per annum. The war department leads in the number of employees, 1,178,963, and the navy department is next with 531,141. But the OPA, with 31,197 employees has more than 2,000 who are receiving $4,500 or more per annum, about 12,000 more such highly paid workers than the navy department.

THE 2nd WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON! America...you've got to get tougher! Includes a hand making a peace sign and a circular logo for the War Finance Committee.

Quality Price Service Derby Vitalized Gasoline Nurse Friction Proof Oils Hot Shot Tractor Fuel Tank Wagon and Dock Service Save Your Tires Let Us Repair Them...RIGHT Even the smallest hole, cut or break should be repaired promptly if you want your tires to last. WE KEEP 'EM ROLLING. Coryell Auto-Oil Co. Wayne, Nebr.

AMERICA...let us thank about it... so far, many of us back home have been fighting this war from an easy chair. Many of us have bought War Bonds out of extra cash, out of money we didn't miss too much. We haven't been really tough with ourselves. But this war is a hard, down-to-reality war. And many of our boys are dying in it. We've got to buy MORE So your government asks you to buy Bonds and more Bonds—to get really tough with yourself. We're asking you to give up the frills and "extras." We know how human it is not to make sacrifices until the crisis drives us to it. In England they felt the same way until the bombs started falling. Bombs are such persuasive things. But just as persuasive ought to be the spirit of our brothers, sons, husbands. If you could see? Look at it this way—suppose you had a magic carpet that could take you to Africa and New Guinea. Suppose you could hear the groan of American boys wounded, and American boys dying. . . . Say now, how many Bonds would you buy? That kind of war THEY...are dying. And they will keep on dying until we drown the enemy in an overwhelming torrent of bombs, bullets, guns, tanks, planes, ships, and shells. That's why we're asking you, in this one month of April alone, to lend Uncle Sam 13 billions of dollars—by buying War Bonds. 13 billions of extra dollars—over and above any buying that you'd be doing anyway! A lot of money Of course, 13 billion dollars is a lot of money. It'll take sweat and tears to raise it. It'll mean going without now. But also—it will mean savings now—to buy later. It'll mean giving up everything you can't square with your conscience, so that we, us, our children, can have a better, more decent place to live in when this war is won. The drive is on So during this month of April, if someone calls on you to ask you to buy War Bonds in this 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE, will you buy to the limit—and then buy more? Better yet, will you go to your Bank, Post-office, or wherever you're used to buying your Bonds—and buy NOW? Will you lend extra money this month? Money that can hasten the day of Victory? Money that can help to save American lives. Money buys money Remember, what you're really buying with your money is still more money. For after all, these Bonds are money! Money plus!

Every dollar you put into War Bonds will bring you a dollar plus interest. So the more Bonds you buy the better for you, Americans—Get Tough—with yourselves—for your country. Delivery mileage has been reduced about 50 per cent, due to the fact that Mrs. America has learned to say "I'll take it with me."

WEB has eased restrictions on the production of tin can openers, some types of baking pans and hand clothes wringers.

The department of agriculture has announced plans for increasing production of frozen vegetables.

Ceiling prices have been put on used vacuum cleaners according to the make and model.

For the family to receive the proper vitamins, minerals and nutrients, menus should contain something from each of the following categories each day: Group one, green and yellow vegetables—some raw—some cooked, frozen or canned; group two, oranges, tomatoes, grapefruit, or raw cabbage or salad greens; group three, potatoes and other vegetables and fruits—raw, dried, cooked, frozen or canned; group four, milk and milk products, fluid, evaporated, dried milk or cheese; group five, meat, poultry, fish or eggs or dried beans, peanuts or peanut butter; group six, bread, flour and cereals, natural whole grain, or enriched or restored; group seven, butter or fortified margarine (vitamin A added).

Regarding cherries, cherry leaf spot (shot hole fungus) and plum curculio are the two worst pests. For first spray, when three-fourths of the petals have dropped, spray with one gallon liquid lime-sulphur and one one-fourth pounds lead arsenate to 50 gallons of water. For second spray, repeat above spray within two weeks. If steely blue beetles are found working on expanding buds of grapes, spray with lead arsenate three tablespoons to one gallon of water (1 1/4 pounds to 50 gallons).

For currants and gooseberries, as soon as plants have leafed out and before fruit is set spray with the mixture suggested for grapes above.

Let's be prepared by getting the spray outfits in shape and having spray materials on hand before they are actually needed," state County Agents Howard Gillespie and W. R. Harder.

Regarding apples, the safe way is to plan on spraying trees on low ground before the blooms open up. Spring canker worms haven't been serious in recent seasons but as long as one is putting on a spray scab it doesn't cost a great deal more to add the lead arsenate. The first spray should be applied.

After flower buds show color but before the individual flowers open up, use one gallon liquid lime-sulphur plus one pound lead arsenate to 50 gallons water. Four pounds dry lime-sulphur may replace liquid lime-sulphur. The second spray is used when two-thirds of the petals have dropped. Use three-fourths gallons liquid lime-sulphur or three pounds dry lime-sulphur plus one and one-half pounds hydrated lime per 50 gallons of spray.

For pears, the same sprays are used as suggested for apples. However, the pre-bloom spray (No. 1) is not as important as on apples.

For plums, the plum curculio is the most serious insect pest. The beetle hibernates in the ground and emerges early in spring. Where it has been serious in the past, spray three times with lead arsenate, one and one-half pounds to 50 gallons. Sprays are as follows: 1st spray, just as leaf buds burst and before flowers open; 2nd spray, just after petals have fallen; 3rd spray, 10 days to two weeks after petals have fallen. Wild plums should be conserved this year whenever possible. If these three sprays are applied thoroughly the number of wormy plums will be greatly reduced.

Regarding cherries, cherry leaf spot (shot hole fungus) and plum curculio are the two worst pests. For first spray, when three-fourths of the petals have dropped, spray with one gallon liquid lime-sulphur and one one-fourth

Spraying of Fruits Essential This Year

Spraying time will soon be here. Certainly this year of all years it is essential to guard against losses from insects and diseases. Fruit plants in the orchards and on farms in Nebraska are lowest in number for 50 years and just at a time when prices are high and shipping space so badly needed for war materials.

Let's be prepared by getting the spray outfits in shape and having spray materials on hand before they are actually needed," state County Agents Howard Gillespie and W. R. Harder.

Regarding apples, the safe way is to plan on spraying trees on low ground before the blooms open up. Spring canker worms haven't been serious in recent seasons but as long as one is putting on a spray scab it doesn't cost a great deal more to add the lead arsenate. The first spray should be applied.

After flower buds show color but before the individual flowers open up, use one gallon liquid lime-sulphur plus one pound lead arsenate to 50 gallons water. Four pounds dry lime-sulphur may replace liquid lime-sulphur. The second spray is used when two-thirds of the petals have dropped. Use three-fourths gallons liquid lime-sulphur or three pounds dry lime-sulphur plus one and one-half pounds hydrated lime per 50 gallons of spray.

For pears, the same sprays are used as suggested for apples. However, the pre-bloom spray (No. 1) is not as important as on apples.

For plums, the plum curculio is the most serious insect pest. The beetle hibernates in the ground and emerges early in spring. Where it has been serious in the past, spray three times with lead arsenate, one and one-half pounds to 50 gallons. Sprays are as follows: 1st spray, just as leaf buds burst and before flowers open; 2nd spray, just after petals have fallen; 3rd spray, 10 days to two weeks after petals have fallen. Wild plums should be conserved this year whenever possible. If these three sprays are applied thoroughly the number of wormy plums will be greatly reduced.

Regarding cherries, cherry leaf spot (shot hole fungus) and plum curculio are the two worst pests. For first spray, when three-fourths of the petals have dropped, spray with one gallon liquid lime-sulphur and one one-fourth

Jefferson Gives Three Warnings

Rev. Oliver B. Proett Tells Kiwanians About Early Statesman Monday.

Thomas Jefferson, American statesman who was born 200 years ago, warned the United States against centralization of government, against urbanization and against illiteracy. In speaking to Kiwanians Monday noon in observance of this bicentennial of Jefferson, Rev. Oliver B. Proett, Presbyterian minister, stressed these three warnings as worth heeding. The deplorable condition in Europe today may be due to these causes.

Jefferson, in opposing centralization of governmental power, favored states rights. He opposed concentration of authority that might be usurped.

In the second place, Jefferson warned against urbanization, too much concentration in cities. He deplored slums and other conditions developing from crowding into cities. He advocated rural life as developing the best thinkers, best educators and most able leaders.

One of the real foundations of democracy is free education, according to Jefferson. If all the people are educated, they can best carry on every phase of the democratic life.

After 200 years, Jefferson's philosophy is still alive, Rev. Proett stated. The statesman believed that a government needs a re-awakening every 200 years to keep it alive.

A view of Jefferson's likeness, carved with George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, and Theodore Roosevelt in the Black Hills, is a real inspiration, stated Rev. Proett. And in Washington, D. C., the statesman's memory was honored with the unveiling of a marble monument Tuesday.

Often, continued the speaker, Jefferson is credited only with being a great statesman. He was indeed this but was also outstanding in other lines. He was an architect of note and designed part of the federal capital, helped plan the city of Washington and designed his home at Monticello, the capitol of Virginia, and other buildings which stand out as masterpieces of architecture.

Jefferson was also a farmer. He advocated contour farming in his day, long before the practice was used. He introduced and adapted olives and rice to American culture.

The statesman was a politician. At the age of 26 he was elected to the legislature. At the age of 33 he helped write the Declaration of Independence. It was at his request that the phrase, "pursuit of happiness," was added to this famous document.

Jefferson was a champion of the common man, stated Rev. Proett. He insisted on man's right to free thinking.

In the field of religion, Jefferson was often referred to as an atheist but he wrote a book on the life and morals of Jesus. Had he lived today he would probably have been a Methodist, Rev. Proett added.

Jefferson was insistent on education for all. He founded the University of Virginia and helped pioneer free education in America.

Is New Member.
Dr. T. T. Jones, who was a guest, was voted into club membership.

St. L. Charles Wehrer, who recently came to Norfolk to visit from San Bernardino, Calif., visitor at the college campus Monday, was a visitor and spoke briefly. He told that he has charge of trucks which transport troops and supplies in the army. He was a star athlete here a few years ago.

Plan Ladies' Night.
Plans were made to hold ladies' night in the near future with the housing, music and program committees in charge. Respective chairmen of these committees are J. G. Miller, Wm. Beckenhauer and B. W. Wright. It was decided to invite W. S. Aten of Holdrege, Kiwanis district governor, and F. W. Klusmire of Omaha, lieutenant governor, here for the occasion. Officers of the local air corps unit and their wives will also be guests.

The last lesson April 26 will be on canning and freezing of food. Miss Wallace hopes to have a film which will demonstrate these processes at this meeting.

ADOPT NEW PLAN IN CHURCH OFFICES

Wayne Presbyterians, at their annual meeting Tuesday evening, adopted the term service plan. By this each officer serves three years and is not eligible to succeed himself. T. S. Hook was chosen trustee for one year to fill an unexpired term. J. O. Bridgman, Carl Nicolaisen and L. W. Ellis were named new trustees. The congregation held a reception for Rev. Oliver B. Proett and family.

WPA's civilian supply and consumer durable goods branches have before them a program for manufacture of 450,000 sets of batteries a month for farm radios. The plan was developed after the department of agriculture and the national association of broadcasters pointed out that about a third of the nation's three and one-half million battery-operated sets are now out of operation for lack of batteries. Action is expected soon.

"Two New Faces at the Cross, Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathea" was the subject of the pre-Easter sermon delivered Sunday evening by Rev. O. B. Proett, Presbyterian pastor, at the union service at St. Paul's Lutheran church. This was the fifth in the series of services and many braved the rain to attend.

The choir of St. Paul's church gave two special numbers, "A Spanish Litany Ilym," arranged by Carr, and "Thee We Adore," arranged by Rob Roy Perry.

World Is Brought Closer Together By Great Conflict

Despite the many hardships of war, the great conflict brings the whole world much closer together, writes George Lee of England, to his cousin, Ermajaan Dunn of Wayne. The letter, dated February 17 from The Retreat, Sidbury, Sidmouth, Devon, is in part as follows:

"Exactly one month you've very welcome letter took to get to Sidbury. I received it this morning. We were very pleased to get it and to hear news of our long distant relatives. Yes, it is a very long time ago since we wrote to each other. However, did you remember the number of years?"

"My lads are well on the way. My eldest, just 18 years last December, left home with the Royal Air Force on Tuesday, February 16. He had been working in a politician's office at Exeter, 15 miles from home, but always came home week-ends. We shall miss him very much but he was eager to go just as all the young lads are — the same as I was in the last war. Little dreaming of what was in store or what the outcome would be. My other lad will be 15 years on May 20 and he is attending a technical school at Exeter. He comes home every night. My eldest son's name is Edmond Thomas George and the other Derrick Ernest William. I am in the A. R. P.

"There are quite a large number of American soldiers near here so perhaps your brother might come. We all hope this terrible job will soon end. This old country has been hit about but we haven't had it all over our own way. Bombs have fallen (explosives and incendiaries) on this little place, leaving out the larger places. Two of my sisters had their homes destroyed in London. I am glad to say that no one in the family over here has been actually injured with bombs. "Rationing is fairly tight. Two ounces of butter each, two ounces of lard, one-half pound of margarine, one-half pound of cheese, one-half pound of bacon, two ounces of tea, half pound of sugar and a pound of jam per month. We are allowed 20 points each. Currents, sultanas and prunes are 16 points to the pound. Luncheon meat is 16 points to the pound. Salmon, grade one, is 22 points. So you see we have to be very careful how we use our points. We cannot buy anything unless it is two points and sweet biscuits are four points. These 20 points have to last a month so if we spend our 20 points the first week, we have to go three weeks without. Milk is one-half point per head per day and we get eggs when we are lucky. We have gotten quite used to it and one never hears a grumble. We all feel we could do with a little more but will do anything to get the war over.

"You say you had one of the best Christmases yet. Ours of course was very poor and dull. Extra rations or sweets were obtainable only by points. We were lucky to have a bit of such for a pudding, and the fruit we used was what we saved from the Christmas before in an air-tight tin. Eggs were on points as also were dates—12 points for dates and six for figs per pound. Oranges were for children under 5 years, one pound for each child. If there were any over after all under that age had had them, the shops could dispose of them to adults by marking their ration books.

"We have had continued rain here for at least two months. It hasn't been too bad now for a couple of days. Glad to say we don't get the snow as bad as you get it. You must find it very hard getting about."

Good Rains Fall.

Rainfall in Wayne from Thursday through Sunday amounted to 7.5 of an inch. The moisture was of great benefit.

Emerson Youth Is Plane Victim

1st Lt. LeRoy D. Ronnfeldt Loses Life Wednesday in Indiana Accident.

1st Lt. LeRoy D. Ronnfeldt, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ronnfeldt of near Emerson and brother of John Ronnfeldt of Wakefield, was killed last Wednesday night, April 7, when his Flying Fortress crashed near Fort Wayne, Ind. Three crew members lost their lives and two were injured.

The message came to the parents from Co. A. C. Faulk of Lockbourne army air base, Columbus, O., where Lt. Ronnfeldt was stationed. The Emerson youth was co-pilot.

The plane accident occurred when the plane was taking off. The ship failed to gain altitude fast enough and struck trees, one of the wings being torn off. In the crash the gasoline tanks exploded.

Funeral rites for the youth were conducted Monday afternoon from the home and from the English Lutheran church in Emerson. Burial followed there.

Deceased was to have completed his training as a pilot of a four-motored plane last week. He enlisted in the air corps in the fall of 1940. He took his pre-flight training at Lincoln, Neb., and flight training at Randolph field and Brooks field. He had attended college in Wayne, and his brother, Gerald, took pre-flight training at Wayne.

Surviving in addition to the parents and brother are two sisters, Miss Ruby Ronnfeldt, teacher at South Sioux City, Mrs. Robert Hartman of Omaha, three other brothers, Pvt. Gerald, Kelly Field, Texas, Clay and Harold at home. All were present for the rites.

Lt. Ronnfeldt was a nephew of Ernest Harrigfeldt and Mrs. Basil Osburn. A year ago he flew here by plane from Texas, landing at the Wayne airport, for a visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harrigfeldt, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Osburn and family went from here for the funeral. Alvin Osburn, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Harrigfeldt and Louene of Chicago, were also there.

Will Investigate Future Services

R. W. Bartels Gets Word That an Investigation Is Being Planned.

The civil aeronautics board has issued an order instituting an investigation of "local feeder pickup" air service to determine the extent to which air transportation can be extended to smaller communities. For some time Wayne residents have been actively interested in air possibilities, and for this reason they have been promoting this development for the post-war period.

A letter from Washington, D. C., to City Attorney R. W. Bartels explains that the civil aeronautics board's investigation relating to this service will open up such questions as the methods of operation, types of flight equipment necessary, airports and other facilities required, the allowable cost to the government of such service, proper means of assuring that such service shall maintain its local-service character and conditions upon which authorization may be granted.

The board has heretofore indicated its opinion that the air transport industry is at the threshold of large development; that technical discoveries now being made may make possible feeder service to a great number of small communities, now unable to support such service; and that it is prepared to foster the expansion of the air transport system and services into every field justifiable, under authority of the civil aeronautics act, with facilities and equipment such as new planes of low operating cost, as soon as they are available.

Through its order instituting the investigation of local air service, the board expects to give to leaders in the field of American aviation an opportunity to contribute their accumulative experience so that it may be utilized in planning for local air service development. The entire aviation industry, the administrator of civil aeronautics, the post office department, all state aviation bodies, all domestic air carriers, all applicants for domestic air transportation certificates, aircraft manufacturers, trade associations and airport managers have been notified of the board's investigation and will have the opportunity to attend a public hearing to be held at a future date before an examiner of the board.

The board has received 38 applications, most of these the past year, for certificates to carry mail, express or passengers, or a combination of the three, between small cities and towns, including "pickup" operations in which the airplane uses a patented device to pick up mail or light cargo without landing. Only one carrier is now authorized to operate pickup service, covering 115 routes in six eastern states.

It is believed that by continued and intensified activity in this line, Wayne may play an important part in air transportation of the future.

Mr. Cassel mentions visiting each day with Roy Ehlers who was formerly in a Wayne bank. He has a very nice cafe business and likes southern Idaho.

Spring in West Lafayette.

Mr. S. E. Sellon, formerly of Carroll and now in Portland, Ore., writes the Herald that spring is very late there this year although many flowers are in bloom and people are busy in gardens.

March, according to Mrs. Sellon, was a month in which a lot of rain fell and April so far has been similar.

Fruit trees are all in bloom. "Royal Ann and Lambert cherries are great," continues Mrs. Sellon.

Leam and Dell Jones of Carroll, leg brothers of Mrs. Sellon.

Incentive payments, AAA loans and price supports, aimed at giving farmers further help in production of critical war foods this year, were explained today by the Wayne county AAA farm committee.

Higher price floors affect dry edible beans, dry peas, soybeans and flaxseed. No incentive payments are contemplated for these crops.

Incentive payments will be made on the extra production of Irish potatoes and truck crops.

Wayne county has a dry bean goal of 300 acres, a soybean goal of 300 acres and a potato goal of 620 acres.

The latest tabulation of individual AAA farm war plans, covering 93 per cent of the county's cropland, shows operators of this land will put in 275 acres of dry beans, 300 acres of soybeans and 620 acres of potatoes.

The goals represent minimum desired production of these vital war foods, and the AAA farmer-committees are hopeful these new price supports and incentive payments will lift acreages over the targets.

Incentive payments are earned on potatoes when the individual farm goal is three acres or more.

For dry edible beans cleaned and bagged in carlots at country shipping points, the support prices will be as follows for U. S. No. 1 grade, with appropriate adjustments for other grades: $6.40 per 100 pounds for Pra. Great Northern, Small White, Flat Small White, Pinto, Pink, Small Red and Cranberry; $7.50 per 100 pounds for Lima, Baby Lima, Light Red Kidney, Dark Red Kidney and Western Red Kidney.

As a further aid to farmers, loans will be available on thrasher-run beans of all classes (except tepary and mixed beans), whether stored on the farm or in warehouse. Loan rates per 100 pounds are $5.50 for U. S. No. 1, $5.35 for U. S. No. 2, and $5.10 for U. S. No. 3.

Appropriate discounts will be made for sub-standard beans having a percentage of defects in excess of the maximum permitted for U. S. No. 3.

Farmers who have not stated any intentions of planting beans, should plant enough for their own use as their part in the war effort.

On Soybean Crop.

For soybeans the price support will be $1.80 per bushel on yellow beans having not more than 14 per cent moisture content. Appropriate premiums and discounts will be effective for other qualities of soybeans.

For Potato Crop.

Previously announced price supports remain effective for potatoes. The incentive payment is 50 cents per bushel on the normal yield of acreage in excess of 90 per cent of the farm goal up to 110 per cent. A grower with a 10-acre potato goal and a normal yield of 100 bushels could, by planting 11 acres, earn an incentive payment of $100. The 11 acres make him two acres above the 90 per cent goal figure, and the payment is based on these acres times the normal yield times 50 cents.

The Wayne county potato goal has been met in the aggregate. Very few farmers have established a goal for potatoes, which means three acres or more per farm. The farmers who produce more than their family needs can take advantage of the stabilized price.

RACC production advances also are available at the county AAA-USA war board office for financing such war crops as dry beans, potatoes and soybeans. Liability of producers for repayment of these advances is based entirely upon the war crop index.

Idaho Climate and Scenic Beauty Are Worthy of Praise

The climate at Burley, in southern Idaho, is beneficial and the scenic beauty is marvelous, according to Vernon Cassel, who writes after his first two weeks in that city's finest clothing store. And the Wayne man reports the western people most friendly.

"Burley is located between Ogden and Twin Falls. Its population is about 5,300 and the altitude about 4,100. It lies close to the banks of the Snake river. This region is referred to by natives as Magic Valley and rightly so. Because of irrigation, crop failures are unknown. People are prosperous and spend money freely. Even high school youngsters have the high quality clothes their fathers wear. Business is good, not because of defense workers, but because these ranchers are making money.

"Life here is much more pleasant than in Los Angeles. None of that hustle, bustle, etc. No weeks and weeks of rain. The scenic splendor is tremendously interesting. The Blue lakes, Shoshone falls and many other spots are beautiful beyond description.

"Wages are higher but living expenses are also higher. Cafes serve good food, and as yet there is no indignation of meat or food shortage. Good Idaho beef is still plentiful along with marvelous vegetables.

"Barley is made up chiefly of Mormons. About 90 per cent of the population of the city is Latter Day Saints. I visited one of their temples and can safely say I have never seen anything more beautiful with electric organ and grand piano both. Mormons make much of their music and the youths of the church have all the attention."

Mr. Cassel mentions visiting each day with Roy Ehlers who was formerly in a Wayne bank. He has a very nice cafe business and likes southern Idaho.

Rabbit Is Outrun By Men of Army

Pet Dog Didn't Understand That Steak Represented Eight Food Points.

One rabbit found that the army is too fast for him. When soldiers at a Kansas camp began training a frisky young rabbit could outrun them. Then after some athletics, the morning group chased and caught the rabbit. The bunny returned for afternoon class and that group also caught him. Since then the rabbit has not returned.

If Spotty, a pet dog at Hartington, had known that meat was rationed he might have acted differently, for dogs are supposed to be man's best friend. But Spotty apparently didn't know, so he ate the steak—all eight points of it. The catastrophe happened when Mrs. Carl A. Pederson, jr., left Spotty and the meat alone for a few minutes in the family automobile. When she returned, Spotty was licking his chops. And all that was left of the steak—and the eight points—was the wrapping paper.

At Coffeyville, Kan., Ralph Mills and Edwin Martin missed a train. They were busy drinking coffee. After all, they can always find another train.

Jess Pullen of Oklahoma, can't see why people have to go without meat when 10 million crow dinners are going to waste in that state alone. That number of birds are eating Oklahoma's war-essential peanut crop. Some years ago the tastiness of crow meat was proved and then the habit of eating the birds suddenly halted. Now Pullen advises its revival.

This is war, and Santa Barbara, Cal., clubwomen are going to help by conducting a drive for the eradication of rats. Health Officer C. Tam Romic said the project had his hearty approval but he wondered what might happen should a mouse appear at a club meeting.

Residents of Savannah, Ga., have to get up early to beat some of the victory gardeners. The head of one family had big plans. He secured a lot, bought seeds, borrowed a plow and started out. Before he had gone the length of the garden with the plow, others of the family told him his son had planted the garden several days earlier.

The New York internal revenue office received 5c and a note, and Frank Sandy's income tax was marked "paid." Frank, 6½ years old, explained that his allowance is 25c a week when he's good and 20c a week otherwise. So he figures his income tax 5c and sends the amount to the government.

B. F. Lyman, Chicago, found a pocketbook in the depot at Salt Lake and took it to the special agent's office. He left his own suitcase outside the door and it was gone when he returned.

"Where did you get those pants?" Miles M. Sharon, pharmacist's mate, asked the wounded sailor he was tending aboard a navy hospital ship at Santa Ana, Cal. In a salvage depot in Honolulu, the patient said. A tag on the trousers bore the name of L. P. Sharon, the pharmacist mate's brother, who was killed at Pearl Harbor.

The California senate grew tired of the old, old cry that there are too many laws. It passed a bill recently to repeal 3,761 statutes, mostly obsolete.

At Temple, Tex., for the thirtieth time, John Bartok, 75, of Meeks, Tex., registered his 1913 automobile. F. J. Marek, deputy county collector—who sold Bartok the car July 7, 1913—sold him his new license.

Carl G. Heidebrecht of Buhler, Kan., was set to enter the navy. A delegation called on him, promising a $50-a-month raise if he'd stay home and continue as marshal, water works superintendent, acting mayor, fire chief, street superintendent and cemetery caretaker. In his leisure time Heidebrecht is OGD chairman. Reluctantly, he gave up the naval career.

Never let it be said that Angelo Girolomoni is not all out for the war effort. But there's one aspect of the battle of production that's bothering him. Every time a 30-ton press goes "whoomp," his house next door disintegrates further. The walls, the foundation and the chimney are rapidly crumbling.

A rubber substitute made by blood and bones of animals is being manufactured at Minneapolis. The proposal is to line railroad cars with this for transporting gasoline and oil.

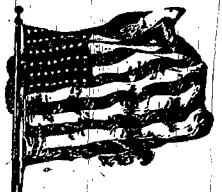

At Fort Myers, Fla., a mother bird hovered overhead as City Superintendent Fred M. Loudermilk and a crew of workmen moved a large palm tree from the yacht basin park. She followed the truck a mile and a half to the tree's new location. After it was set, the bird settled on a nest in the top. The tree had been moved so carefully that not an egg fell out.

Shark steaks are new delicacies served to relieve the shortage of meat.

"Where'd she go?" questioned a soldier after police pulled him out of a 14-foot coal hole in Denver. "Who?" asked the patrolman. "That cute little number in a green hat. She smiled at me."

Bob Siman, son of Dr. and Mrs. V. L. Siman, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Siman of Winside, has recently been inducted into the armed forces and been assigned to a paratroop unit on the west coast. Bob's parents moved this spring to Los Angeles from Norfolk.

Writes from California.

"The Herald is something to look forward to each week and I surely enjoy knowing what the home community is doing from time to time," writes Cpl. Harold R. Andersen from Hamilton Field, Cal. "It's an evening of welcome reading," he concludes in writing his appreciation.

Come from Florida.

S. Sgt. and Mrs. Francis M. Wiley arrived Friday from McDill Field, Tampa, Fla., to visit the Albert Johnsons here and the Otto Wileys at Hartington. Mrs. Wiley had gone to Florida several weeks ago and Kathleen Ann Wiley had remained here at Johnson's. S. Sgt. Wiley has 15-day furlough.

To Specialist School.

Pvt. Robert R. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hughes of Wayne, has been chosen at Camp Wallace, Texas, to attend an enlisted specialist school to pursue a course in radio machine. He finished Wayne prep and attended college here before going to Wahoo to do mechanical work and then entering service.

Appreciates Home Paper.

Cpl. Emil W. Stalling writes from Indiantown Gap, Military Reservation, Pa., that he would surely be disappointed if he failed to get the Herald which keeps him in touch with home folks and with the number in this vicinity he knows. "I thought a lot of the paper when at home but I think a lot more of it now." The youth closes with wishes of good luck for all.

Writes from Texas.

Cpl. Granad Wischhof, who has been in the service more than two years, writes from Camp Hood, Texas, to express appreciation for the Herald. In all the time he has been in camp, the Herald hasn't missed reaching him a single week. "I look forward to it every week and I enjoy the home news," he adds.

Youth Earns Award.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower awarded a distinguished service cross for heroism in north Africa to Pfc. Wayne Sinclair of Walthill, Neb., member of the infantry. Sinclair was cited for "extraordinary heroism in action" in November, 1942. He saved the lives of four men. Swimming to shore after the ship was on had been set afire by the enemy, he got in rowboat and rescued three men struggling in the water. Before returning to shore he went to the burning ship and rescued a wounded officer.

Is Stationed in South.

Sgt. Willis B. Reichert of Winside, writes from Davis-Monthan Field, Tucson, Ariz., that he has been at the same location since December, 1941. "It is a swell place to be during the winter but during the summer it is just plenty hot. And the hot days have started already. Friday it was 98 degrees," states the young man.

Sgt. Reichert is a native of Winside; so he knows most of the Wayne county boys in service. He says he especially enjoys knowing where they are located and finds this information in the Herald.

Leaves for Bermuda.

Archie L. McPherran, chief specialist with the navy air corps, was transferred last week from Norfolk, Va., to Bermuda. The young man had been home here with the Adam McPherrans. When he turned in his "leave" papers, he was given a "check-out" card which designated that he was assigned to go by plane to the island. Another chief specialist went there from Norfolk, Va., a month earlier and reports liking the new post fine. The only inconvenience in Bermuda is a shortage of water which makes rationing necessary.

The Wayne youth appreciates keeping in touch with home and with service men through the Herald.

In Hawaiian Islands.

Lt. Don Megahan, former music instructor in the Pierce high school, has been located on one of the Hawaiian islands since last October. When Lt. Megahan and his contingent arrived on the island, they had to rough it—sharing with water they caught in their helmets, bathing in the rains that often came down in torrents. The soil of the island is lava and really tough on shoes. A pair only lasts about a month. Entertainment put on by schools and churches is equal and sometimes superior to that in the states. Mr. Megahan plans recreation.

Mrs. Megahan and baby girl are living with the former's mother in Lincoln.

Sees Egyptian Pyramids.

Flight Officer Floyd Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Martin of Carroll, writes that he recently went to Cairo, Egypt, and while there saw the pyramids. The Sphinx, the largest, is about 450 feet high and was built by King Oedipus about 5,000 years ago. "I was inside that one. The king's tomb is in the pyramid. It was a 250-foot climb up the stairway. We came down a flight of stairs and saw the queen's tomb. Then we went on outside. A friend of mine and I climbed to the top of the pyramid on the outside. That was a real climb and I was really tired about half way up, but we made it. We had our pictures taken sitting on the horses in front of the Sphinx. I'll send you one from Cairo and will tell you more about it when I get home." Floyd earned his wings at Wayne in 1941.

From Pacific Area.

"I want to thank you very much for the paper every week," writes Norman Mahnke, S. C. 2/C, March 30 in a V-mail letter from the Pacific area. "I enjoy it very much; seems to bring a fellow so near to home. I like the service men's column especially for it shows where all my friends are and how well Wayne is represented in the forces. And Wayne is doing her noblest share.

"I'm pretty far from home. This island is very beautiful. Climate is ideal. You have never seen anything until you have seen a south Pacific sunset. Really it's beautiful. While I was in Samoa I saw Murray Penhollow and Harold McPherran. It was a very happy reunion and no kidding. One of the first things I asked them was 'what's news around home?' And I was answered with a Wayne Herald. I'm sure all of us feel the same. It's a swell weekly package.

"One thing I miss here is our Wayne winters.

"Well I'll close and thanks a million. I get many hours of enjoyment from the Herald. I made 2/C petty officer February 1 and am in charge of the butcher shop and like my work very much."
