Predict Trouble Many Years Ago

A Sioux City paper of 26 years ago, belonging to the late J. W. Ellison of Newcastle, father of Mrs. A. D. Lewis of Wayne, carried an article written by Rev. Floyd Bates, missionary in China, and stated, "If Americans don't wake up soon and thoroughly, Japan will furnish an alarm clock in the way of her fleet and army."

Rev. Bates goes on to say, "As sure as time, America will have to fight with Japan. The Japanese people are demanding it and preparing for it. They hate America like poison, and after this European trouble is over, the first pretext will bring the rupture. If America is prepared, it will not be a hard struggle, but if not there may be a different story to tell."

Twenty-six years later on reading this article one marvels at the accuracy of the forecast made by Rev. Bates, a native Sioux citizen.

Finds North Africa An Unusual Place

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lerner of Wayne, recently received a V-mail letter from their son, 1st Sgt. W. A. Lerner, stationed somewhere in Africa.

"This letter leaves me well and busy. A few minutes ago the men of the company were treated to cold drinks by one of the officers. Our officers are all comparatively young men but I have confidence in their leadership."

"Our orderly room is an abandoned PEX building. It overlooks a high plain and a road runs parallel to the drill area. One can see the camels and the little donkeys all loaded with figs and fruits on their way to the market places. I had my picture taken the other day with two Senegalese soldiers. They are very fine fighters, their speciality being bayonet fighting."

"American cigarettes are very much sought after by the natives here. Some of the soldiers have sold chocolate bars to the Arabs for as much as 25 cents each."

"The trip across the ocean reminded me of the stories you used to tell me of your trips across the water. We had boat drills and fire drills every day. It is quite a task to get a company of men ready for foreign service. I was never sick a day even though the water was quite rough."

Beautiful Greenwood RICH foliage and beautiful flowers, amidst shafts of majestic granite, gave Greenwood cemetery its usually resplendent appearance on Memorial day. This silent city holds many of the community's closest loves. Journeying there, people again commune with precious memories. Moving among monuments, marking the final resting places of the departed, one's spirits droop in recollection of familiar faces and voices of former days.

Through the years many from the town and countryside have filled niches in Greenwood. Headstones note many who figured in pioneer days and contributed to community fundamentals. Many who passed on in middle life, leaving what seemed unfinished tasks, are recalled by a walk among tenderly decorated plots. Mystery deepens in presence of small graves—graves of children who early succumbed to life's strain, and who had little chance to taste life's experiences. The solemn grandeur of Greenwood where innumerable memories abide, re-emphasizes mortality and revives hope—a challenge to citizens to do their best, face life's vicissitudes with courage, grapple multiplied problems with determination and leave nothing undone in the way of restoring a peaceful order to a torn world. That would doubtless be the voice of Greenwood if its inhabitants could speak.

Middle WESTERNERS should drive their thoughts more in the direction of prosecuting the war and less in the direction of accusing the middle west of lacking war consciousness. Middle west boys in the armed forces; scrap metal drives, bond purchases and liberal contributions to all branches of the war service refute the charge. The Lincoln Journal says "The Friends of Democracy" recently issued a statement from its New York office that the "prosperity-softened middle west may lose the purposes of the war." The suggestion is absurd. The fact revealed by investigation that the middle west is more awake to the war than Washington or any other section, leads the Journal to conclude: "The middle west is in the war. It is conscious of war. Its sons are facing the foe on the far fronts, while propaganda patriots are carrying the flag in the Potomac and Hudson river sectors. The middlewest is in action, on the war front, on the food producing front and on the industrial front. The hope out here is frequently expressed that organization promoters and bureaucrats from the east are as conscious of war and its possibilities as are the people still left in the great central section."

Congressman William Lemke of North Dakota, was severely critical of government bureaucracy on the floor of the house recently. He called on congress to reassert its constitutional rights and see that the three branches of government function separately as intended. He believes bureaucrats have trespassed on congress. Speaking of people's resentment, he says "they demand the abolishment of government by bureaucracy." The congressman complains of the restraints and penalties imposed on farm production, but we wonder if they do not inevitably accompany the rule of granting subsidies. Benefits mean restraint, and it would seem the exchange would not be conducive to the satisfactory independence which has built and sustained American agriculture.

Late reports from all allied fronts are encouraging. When the invasion of Europe is to take place, no one knows outside of highest officers, and they may be undecided. No one would urge it until forces are ready to bring speedy and decisive results. A successful invasion will rally to the support of the allies all nations under nazi subjection, and bring to the continent of Europe relief from autocratic tyranny. An invasion will call for huge sacrifices, but it appears inevitable in completing overthrow of the enemies of democracy.

While the legislature which adjourned Friday, lasted longer than expected, it is credited with doing its job in a workmanlike manner. The solons had the courage to amend the primary law in the hope of simplifying its operation and fixing party responsibility. The remodeled law could not function less satisfactorily, than the old one. We are advised to be cheerful with due care to avoid optimism that would encourage cheerfulness. We are expected to laugh with nothing to laugh at—to fill our gastronomic organ with rich viands by looking at the picture of a sumptuous banquet. We cannot be even measurably happy without thinking happy thoughts.

The death of Edsel Ford reminds us of another rich man's son who began at the bottom and worked his way to the top on the strength of sheer merit. "Edsel Ford was undoubtedly an industrial genius in his own right as well as the son of a famous father," comments the World-Herald. Our attention was being called to the superiority of Wayne's different farm produce houses. They are well equipped, on the alert to serve and pay highest prices and therefore they are justly popular. They are distinctly beneficial to Wayne's trade district. Memorial day traffic accidents, no doubt due to restrictions on driving, dropped far below those of previous years.

War News. Mrs. America may have been inexperienced at canning last year, but by now she probably is an old hand. And she doubtless knows a lot of sugar-saving methods, too. These include the canning of fruit without sugar. And this sirup should be a wartime canning rule. For this sirup, only 1 cup of sugar is used to 3 cups of water or juice. Mrs. America may use honey to replace up to one-third. But if she uses a larger proportion, it is likely to change the flavor of her fruit. Three other canning don'ts are: don't use any sirups that have high flavors of their own, such as maple, sorghum or molasses; don't use brown sugar and don't use saccharine. If you wish to use saccharine, add it to the fruit just before serving.

Another place to save sugar this summer is in iced tea. Even though etiquette must go by the board, a thorough stirring of sugar in tea means that less sugar is necessary. And to make tea go farther, pour hot water in with the tea leaves and stir. Tea is not impaired by standing, so Mrs. America can always save any left over for next time. With conservation of everything the wartime rule, Mrs. America must be careful to avoid loss of food from spoilage. One thing to watch over the hot months, is the buying of too much flour or cereal. It's wiser to buy less and oftener in summer. And another hot weather precaution is keeping bread in the refrigerator. This helps prevent molding. If Mrs. America is planning to send the children to a camp this summer, here are some suggestions for helping to ease the transportation situation: First, select a children's camp near home. Second, do not accompany the children to camps unless absolutely necessary. In most cases it can be arranged for children to travel in groups under a camp guide. Third, do not plan frequent weekend visits to see the children. Fourth, make individual travel arrangements with camp officials far enough in advance to permit proper scheduling. Everyone can do something to help end the war. So if Mrs. America knows someone who is physically handicapped or maimed and who fears there is no place for him in the national drive for victory, she may pass on this information. A former army sergeant who lost an arm at Pearl Harbor is inspecting weapons for his two-armed pals in a Rochester, N. Y. munitions plant. A blind girl in West New York, N. J. sorts mica strips for war planes, detecting differences of 3/4 thousandths of an inch in thickness by unerring touch. . . and is doing it fifteen times faster than the seeing worker she replaced. All over the country men and women handicapped by physical defects are finding their places in war production. Office of price administration has ruled that stores cannot insist that in equal amount of sherbet or other frozen confection be bought when ice cream is requested. The WPB urges immediate steps to insulate homes as a measure of conserving heat next winter. It is estimated that insulating can save one-third or more of fuel. In many cases, the work of insulation can be done by the home owner himself.

EXCHANGES Miss Winifred Shultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Shultz of Stanton, recently earned her senior life saving certificate at the Y.M.C.A. in Lincoln. Randolph high school alumni will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the first graduates this Thursday with a reception in the afternoon followed by a banquet in the evening. Miss Marcelene Ebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ebel of Wisner, and Alvin Kort, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kort of Bluehill, were married May 23 at St. Paul Lutheran church in Wisner. The young couple will make their home on the Bernard Bareman farm north of Wisner. Otto Birdhead, jr., 18, of Niobrara, was killed instantly, May 22, and his mother slightly injured when the car in which they were riding with other members of family, plunged over an embankment west of Niobrara. Young Birdhead died of a broken neck and crushed chest while Mrs. Birdhead suffered cuts and bruises. The other occupants of the car were uninjured. Mrs. Walter Early who lives northwest of Walkhill, raises a large number of chickens and has been plagued this spring by a horde of rats. A gun forced a fine dust of calcium cyanide into the burrows where it released a poisonous gas. When the Earlys took

MAIN STREET Saturday night's main street forum becomes more animated and interesting as the weather becomes warmer. People come to town to trade and to visit, and both interruptions of daily work break down barriers of monotony. War, politics and growing crops lead in subjects discussed with many observations touching personal experiences. Talk of the war in favor of the allies has encouraged Main street crowds, and late rains with more heat in the atmosphere, have largely reduced fear. All groups, gathered to exchange ideas, look forward more hopefully. As the summer lengthens and prospects change—it is hoped for the better—the main street forum will have many and varied subjects to talk over. The spirit of Saturday night is always refreshing.

Juvenile (Continued from Page One) have boys in the armed forces. Any report or suggestion that will lighten the burden is advisable, as this department believes. Therefore, we think it is a contribution to public service to emphasize the sunshine and modify the shadows. No one knows when the war will end, and those who see an early victory may be just as right as those who look for a long contest. Both may be mistaken. The middle ground may be correct. But in all probability, directly or indirectly involved in the conflict, an optimistic view gives encouragement. We think the lugubrious fellow does harm.

LEGISLATIVE LETTER. May 31, 1943 The 56th session of the Nebraska state legislature adjourned sine die at 12:32 noon, Friday, May 28, 1943. It was in session 103 legislative days, four days longer than the previous session. A total of 446 bills were introduced, 240 passed, five vetoed by the governor, and one passed over his veto. In the session two years ago, 515 bills were introduced and 196 were passed. Every bill introduced was heard by the proper committee. All but a comparatively few bills were considered by the legislature. There were fewer bills on general file toward the end of the session indefinitely postponed than during last session. L. B. 295, the county health bill, enabling counties to vote on and establish county health organizations, was passed on the last day of the session; as was L. B. 153, city budget law, similar to county budget law. L. B. 248, providing for election of directors of the Consumers' Public Power district by districts, and increasing the number of directors from five to seven, and excluding the metropolitan area of Omaha which will operate under the provisions of L. B. 204. L. B. 430, the county salary bill, increasing pay of many deputies and providing for other increases in salaries of county officers, not effective during their present term, was passed. The average overall increase is about 11 per cent. For most county officers the increase will not be enjoyed for at least three years. As soon as time will permit, I look forward to seeing you all in every part of the district. In the meantime you can always reach me at Wayne. I have deeply appreciated the honor of again serving as your state senator and I am anxious to greet you all again. I invite you to write me at any time. It will not be long until I am down your way.

WILLIAM A. CROSSLAND, State Senator. EXCHANGES Pfc. Vernon Viergutz of Randolph, is training at Lowry Field, Colo., was taken ill with rheumatic fever and his wife went to Denver to be near him. Robert H. Bowles, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Bowles of Randolph, was graduated with distinction from the college of pharmacy with a B. S. degree at the graduation exercises of the University of Nebraska last week. He was unable to attend the commencement as he was ill with scarlet fever. Logan Center United Brethren church, Laurel, celebrated its 50th anniversary May 23. Five persons were present at the service who had attended the dedication of the old frame church in 1900. They were Mrs. Alice Robson of Omaha and Mrs. Ethel Ross, Mrs. Roy Ross, T. J. Dempster, and Harry Pritchard, all of Laurel.

INFLATION Inflation is made more threatening by lack of things to sell. Higher wages and higher farm and commodity prices increase available cash, but the necessary rationing program decreases otherwise possible buying. Small business has no annoying surplus and adds nothing to ground for inflation alarm, but it will be hurt in the process. Those who are paying income taxes in quarterly installments—again now due—and periodically meeting the victory tax and the old-age and unemployment insurance taxes, are not allowed to forget their obligations to the federal government. Whether big or little inflation, the comparatively small business man or industrialist is the one most handicapped.

CONGRESS As seen by Karl Stefan May 26, 1943 Gordon Henry, who used to be with Radio Station KOOL at Council Bluffs, is now a radio engineer with the National Broadcasting Company in Washington. Mr. Henry was one of the engineers who monitored the voice of Prime Minister Churchill when he spoke in the house of representatives recently. Rear Admiral C. W. O. Bunker, commanding officer of the new National Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Maryland, just outside of the District of Columbia, is a Nebraskan. He was born at Hebron and likes to tell people about it. Gordon Lederer of Norfolk, a chief petty officer in the naval medical corps, for some time stationed at the National Naval Medical Center, has been transferred to the west coast. Almost without opposition, the house recently passed a bill appropriating an additional six billion dollars for lend-lease. The appropriations for lend-lease, therefore, approximate $65 billion. Most of the lend-lease money, up to this time, has gone to the United Kingdom, Russia, Africa, the Middle East, India, China and Australia. Because the Burma Road is closed, practically all of the lend-lease help to China goes by airplane. More and more help will go to China as better transportation facilities are developed. Bicycles are "must" articles for China under lend-lease. These bicycles are specially designed for military purposes and cost around $25 to $30 each. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Payunk of Sioux City, formerly of Norfolk, have been in Washington several days visiting relatives. Members of the committee on appropriations have been told that since Pearl Harbor, legislative authorizations of appropriations for war amount to somewhere between 245 and 250 billion dollars. There are predictions that before the war is over, the war cost will be close to $400 billion. New estimates of the duration of the war are being made by members of Congress. Many of them admit that the war in Europe may terminate suddenly. There is some belief that significant diplomatic developments may hasten the end of the war. Estimates now are that the war in Europe may be over in about a year but that the war in the Far East may continue for another two or three years, perhaps longer. The question about the large amount of gold we have buried in the hills of Kentucky is coming up in debate on the floor of the house. In 1933 gold was worth $20.67 an ounce. Shortly after January, 1934, a change was made in our monetary policy by the Administration with reference to gold and silver, and early in 1934, the administration devalued our dollar to 59 cents and increased the price of gold from $20.67 to $35.00 an ounce. Great shipments of gold came to the United States and up to January 1, 1942, we had purchased around 17 billion dollars worth of foreign gold at $35.00 an ounce. Several members charged that the foreign gold producers made a handsome premium. They estimate that premium which we paid to foreigners amounted to around $6,700,000,000 and one member claims that this was enough to pay the tariff duties on everything the foreigners could import into the United States for the next 25 years. This is one argument that is being used by the anti-free traders in both the house and senate on the reciprocal trade agreements and also one reason why some of them are arguing that congress should have the right to terminate these reciprocal trade agreements six months after hostilities cease. Officials say congress has this right at this time, and for that reason and for the reason that the extension was cut from three to two years, many of the midwest members voted to extend the reciprocal trade agreements act, claimed by the administration to be essential to the successful prosecution of the war. Believe it or not, Japan made considerable money from our gold policy. From the time it went into operation in 1934 and up to the day we went to war with Japan, Uncle Sam purchased around 700 million dollars worth of gold from Japan which, one member says, resulted in a profit of around 280 million dollars for the Japanese because we paid the Japs $35.00 an ounce instead of $20.67 an ounce for that gold. It is charged that the Japanese bought scrap iron, steel, gasoline, copper motor trucks and airplanes and other war materials with the American dollars they got for their gold. Considerable will be said in the future about our gold and silver policy. A number of senators and representatives, members of certain committees, have been asked by the war department to inspect some important war facilities in the eastern area. The party will be shown some secret army operations and perhaps may witness, firsthand, activities at ports of embarkation. The Third district member is among those requested by the war department to participate in these inspections. A large amount of agricultural implements have been set to the United Kingdom and to other units of the British Empire. Hereford, England has been only about 40 percent self-sufficient in agricultural products, but due to the fact that the English have plowed up large areas of swamp land and hills, they have become about 60 percent self-sufficient. It is figured by lend-lease authorities that if the people of Great Britain have the tools, they will be able to raise more of their own food. Accordingly, shipping space will be conserved and less vital shipping will be exposed to submarine attack. Although Congress has a good deal of information about the utilization of lend-lease aid by Great Britain, China and India, Russia has given very little similar information other than assurance that what the Russians receive is being used wholly in the struggle against Germany. The food we are sending to Britain is of the greatest importance at this time according to lend-lease officials. Uncle Sam provides Britain with the animal proteins, the fats and other foods high in nutritive value but low in tonnage because many of them are sent in dehydrated or compressed form. Lend-lease food is distributed not only to the British army, but also to hospitals, nursing homes and schools, through commercial channels, but under strict government control. General Eisenhower has notified Washington that farm machinery is an essential item of lend-lease aid in north Africa, North Africa, the bread basket of Europe for centuries, can produce great quantities of food, not only for the population in that area, but for the increasing numbers of our fighting men gathered in the European theatre of war. Here again, farm machinery will reduce shipping requirements. In the Pacific area, most of the food for our own forces is supplied by Australia and New Zealand under reversed lend-lease. Here, too, the lend-lease authorities say the supplying of agricultural machinery will reduce shipping over tremendous distances. All of this has had a direct bearing on the shortage of farm machinery, parts and repairs for our own farmers. It is expected that by 1944 the bottleneck in new machinery for domestic use will be broken. A large item in the lend-lease requirements for Russia is electrical equipment. Soviet industry depends largely on electric energy and much of her equipment was lost in the occupation of the Donets Basin. So we are sending to Russia large numbers of steam and diesel generators, many of which are portable so they can be moved quickly to reoccupied zones as the Red army advances. When the Nazi army took over the Caucasus oil regions, Russia demanded petroleum products so Uncle Sam has been sending substantial quantities of gasoline and oil to Russia, but now that the Russians have retaken some of their most important oil fields, Uncle Sam is sending them some oil well equipment so they can restore petroleum production in those areas. This may result in relieving the oil shortage along our Atlantic seaboard. In no other world capital at any time have there assembled as many big name personages to make war plans as are now assembled in Washington. In the visiting group, headed by Prime Minister Churchill, are scores of experts in diplomacy and war. Five hundred delegates from 45 nations are accredited to the food conference at Hot Springs, Va. Through lend-lease, the production resources of the United Nations are being pooled to equip, support and sustain the combined forces of the United Nations. Weapons, machines, raw materials and food produced by American factories, mines and farms are being sent to all the battle fronts of the world. In the next few months the forces of the United Nations will need all the weapons, all the supplies, all the industrial materials and equipment that can be mustered to smash on to a complete victory. For that reason, the house of representatives quickly passed a 29 1/2 billion dollar naval appropriation bill and a 6 billion dollar lend-lease bill to be followed by a 60 billion dollar army bill. To turn that money into real equipment, machines, armament of all kinds, ammunition, rifles, airplanes and bullets is going to be a tremendous job, but the production picture in the United States is better than it has been at any time since the war began and our industrial workers and machines have done a production job that not long ago seemed impossible. Miss Life Mae Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sherman of Dixon, and Pvt. Armin Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Stark of Martinsburg, were married May 18 at the home of the bride's parents.

Within the east coast shortage area, "A" book coupons No. 5, good for three gallons each, must last through July 21. Sugar—Coupon No. 13 became valid June 1, and will be good for 5 pounds through August 5. Coupons No. 15 and 16 are good for 5 pounds each for home canning purposes. Housewives may apply to their local boards for additional rations if necessary. Coffee—Stamp No. 24 (1 lb.) became valid May 31 and is good through June. Fuel oil—Period 5 coupons valid in all zones until September 30. Shoes—No. 17 stamp in war ration book one good for one pair through June 15. Stamp No. 18 (1 pair) will become valid June 16. Meats, etc.—Red stamps J and K good through June 30. L becomes valid June 6. Processed foods—Blue stamps C, H, J remain valid through June 7. K, L, M, will continue good through July 7. More Canned Food. Civilians will gain 30 million cases of canned fruits and vegetables as a result of reduced government requirements, the war food administration has announced. The reductions are mainly for corn, peas, spinach, tomatoes, snap beans, fruit cocktail, sweet cherries, peaches, pineapple and pineapple juice. Since the 1943 production is not known, current point values for these items will not be immediately affected. May Use Oil Stoves. Householders who use their oil cooking stoves this summer regardless of the availability of coal or wood-fired stoves, OPA has announced. The present restriction denying fuel oil rations for domestic cooking and water heating if adequate "stand-by" equipment is available has been lifted because of the shortage of all fuels. Pay Off Farm Debt. Increased revenue from crops and livestock should be used to pay off farm debt, said Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard recently. He emphasized that the payment of outstanding obligations, along with as large an investment as possible in war bonds, is a sound protection for the future. Food for Furlough. A serviceman on a leave or furlough of at least three days hereafter will be provided with a complete application form for obtaining rationed food before he leaves camp. He will give the application to the person who provides his meals, who will submit it to the local board for food certificates within 15 days after the furlough ends. Further Cheese Rationing. To conserve supplies of milk, rationing will be extended to include all cheeses and cheese products, except cottage, bakers and pot cheese, the war food administration and OPA has announced. All hard cheeses and most cheese foods have been rationed since March 29. Early in June soft perishable cheeses such as cream cheese, Neufchatel, Camembert, Liederkranz, Brie and Blue cheese are to be added to the ration list. Women Must Work. By December, 1943, one-third of the female population of working age—17.4 million women—will be required for the civilian labor force and the armed forces, said WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt. At least 2 million women must be added to the labor force in 1943. Lower Potato Prices. Consumers' ceiling prices on potatoes have been decreased about 7 per cent according to a recent OPA announcement. At the same time, the price paid growers was increased 30 cents per hundred-weight on the 1943 early crop. Sugar Supply for 1943. On the basis of prospective 1943 supplies of sugar, the current level of consumption in this country probably can be maintained, the war food administration has announced. The allocation of the prospective supply will be as follows: 1,153,000 tons for the armed forces, lend-lease, and other exports, and 4,600,000 tons for civilian uses. The civilian uses include an estimated 2,258,000 tons for household use and home canning, and 2,342,000 tons for industrial and institutional sugar uses. Teachers Can Take Jobs. School teachers will not be prevented from taking jobs at higher pay under WMC regulation No. 4, the "hold the line" order, nor will they endanger their regular positions by working during the summer vacation in war plants, agriculture, or necessary civilian services, said Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war manpower commission recently. Price Support for Butter. Dairy farmers have been assured that wholesale prices of butter will continue to be supported at a level equivalent to 46 cents a pound, Chicago basis, until June 30, 1944, by the war food administration. The support was pledged last December at the time farmers were called upon to meet 1943 production goals. Mileage from Scrap Tires. To obtain additional mileage from tires that can be made serviceable with the addition of retiners, the office of rubber director has excluded re-usable tire carcasses from rubber scrap going to reclaiming plants. Because of this order some half-million otherwise unusable tires can be placed in service through the defense supplies corporation. Fuel Ration Change Simple. Any upward adjustment in next year's fuel oil ration for owners of small homes will be made without a special application or extra forms, OPA has announced. The adjustments, to correct excessive cuts for consumers' heating small houses, will be made automatically by war price and rationing boards with the regular application for renewal of fuel rations. Lumber for Farms. To relieve lumber shortages on farms for all repairs except those to farm dwellings, WPB has set aside a total of 500 million board feet of lumber for delivery on an AA-2 preference rating during June, July, August and September. Farmers who cannot obtain lumber with present ratings, should apply to the county farm rationing committee for certificates to purchase lumber for maintenance, repair, and new construction necessary to the food production program. Frills Are Removed. A clothing conservation program adopted by WPB will affect every branch of the women's and children's outerwear industry. Manufacture of dresses is now subject to two controls: Square-inch limitations on the amount of material which may be used for trimmings, collars, pockets, etc., and restrictions on the size and design of the trimmings, and control of the basic silhouette to specified measurements of length, sweep, hip, etc., listed in amended order L-58. Pvt. Dean Ehle, son of Judge and Mrs. Dean Ehle of Ponca, accidentally shot himself recently while cleaning an army 45-caliber automatic. The shot punctured one of his lungs. He is being cared for in a Los Angeles hospital. Mrs. Ehle went to the coast and is with her son.

Christian Science Services

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, June 6.

The Golden Text is: "Whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it" (Ecclesiastes 3:14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ... That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all lengths and depth, and height, and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fullness of God (Ephesians 3:14, 17-19).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As mortals gain more correct views of God and man, multitudinous objects of creation, which before were invisible, will become visible: When we realize that Life is Spirit, never in nor of matter, this understanding will expand into self-completeness, finding all in God, good, and needing no other consciousness... When we learn the way in Christian Science and recognize man's spiritual being, we shall behold and understand

Dismiss Charge In Cabin Death

Mrs. F. W. Orvedahl, Former Sholes Resident, Died of Natural Cause.

Murder charges filed against Romeo Eugene Koethe, 38, connection with the cabin camp death of Mrs. Frederick W. Orvedahl, 39, wife of a Lake Preston, S. D., physician, last January 24, were dropped Saturday in court at Sioux Falls, S. D. Mrs. Orvedahl was the former Frances Burnham of Sholes.

Medical testimony indicating natural death cleared Koethe, and Circuit Judge John T. Meind dismissed the state's information on motion of State's Attorney John R. McDowell.

Dr. Gilbert Cottam, principal witness for the state, testified that clinical investigation, following preliminary hearing for Koethe, indicated that Mrs. Orvedahl died of a "softening" condition of the brain. The brain disease, Dr. Oehlmaier testified, could be the result of administration of a sedative powder.

Dr. Cottam disclosed to the court Koethe's story of the cabin camp incident, as reported by Charles McKay, counsel for the defense. Mrs. Orvedahl, according to the testimony, went outside the cabin and fell heavily upon returning. "She may have suffered bruises in the fall or when Koethe attempted to return her to the cabin," Dr. Cottam said.

Credit Meeting Again in Flood

Bacon and Eggs Are Used in Selecting Relay Team of Flight Students.

The National Association of Credit men held their convention in St. Louis in 1903—the year of the great flood. Delegates were days late in arriving and many of them had to complete the trip by river steamer. Also they wait 40 years before coming back to the river metropolis—and what happens? The surrounding area is inundated in the worst flood in 100 years.

If the bacon and eggs hold out, the half-mile relay team at Cochran Field should go places. Here's how it was done: Sgt. James Saperfoe marched a formation of flight students to within sight of the mess hall shortly before breakfast, then dismissed them. A non-com took the names of the first eight men to reach the hall. They are the members of the relay team.

At Kansas City, police halted a driver who had failed to observe a stop sign. The motorist said, apologizing, that he hadn't driven a car for 12 years and that he had about forgotten how to operate. The curious cops wondered why he hadn't driven for so long. Now the erring motorist is on the way to the penitentiary identified as Edward Lewis, an escaped prisoner.

Defense worker Bill Welch, who is also national public links golf champion, smashed his left thumb in some machinery—just when he had to practice for a local tournament. Using a baseball grip, he played the par 72 Spokane Country club course in 69.

C. F. Sikes was knocked down and run over by his own house. He was standing near his home on a bank of a flooded creek when a sudden wall of water swept off its foundation. "I was knocked into the creek and the house passed over me," he related. His only injury was a scrape on the head.

The boys who run the city street washer have their troubles keeping the capital clean. When a drunk backed their machine and careened down the avenue spurring pedestrians merrily, they got razzed plenty. Ditto the time a newspaper reporter noticed them busily rinsing off the pavement during a terrific downpour. But they're having the hardest time living down this one: They had to call the firemen to put out a fire on the water wagon.

James C. McLaughlin, Los Angeles, who claimed he was "never drunk, never muttered an oath and never married," died recently, 106 years old. His grandmother evidently had a better formula for longevity. She lived to be 129.

Busily rehearsing "there'll be a hot time in the old town tonight," for a "Gay 90's" revue, Catholic theatre guild players at Richmond, Va., failed to notice smoke spreading through their hall until it was too late to leave by the stairs.

through the special vision of the men and women who write them; and you may give these shining bits of experience to your children within the narrow covers of a dozen books. Nobody between the ages of 12 and 20 ever has enough books to read. That's why we want to encourage them to get the library habit. Story hour can help to develop that habit, and we hope every child in Wayne will feel at home in the public library.

They scurried down three flights via the fire escape and watched firemen battle a two-alarm fire in the building.

Pedestrians were puzzled by muffled canine whimpering at Chickasha, Okla., without visible source. The postman solved the mystery. He fished a disgruntled puppy out of a mail box.

A group of army officers studying the Japanese language at Washington are still arguing whether this passage in the textbook deals with grammar or baseball: "We have now reached the point where we may inquire more fully into the structure of the verb. We have already spoken of the second base. In all there are five bases, one for each of the vowels."

At Colorado Springs, Colo., an automobile charged into a suburban pharmacy, ripped a large hole in the side and scattered merchandise helter-skelter. The driver backed out and sped away before anyone could get his license number.

Nora Key of Glyndon, Okla., went out to spade up a plot of ground for a Victory garden and got food production immediately. The first spade-full turned up a big carrot. Then she dug up another and another until she had about as many as she would need. The carrots were an unexpected dividend from last year's garden. The frosts of the winter had not damaged them a bit.

High water forced suspension of service on the interurban line between Tulsa, Okla., and Sand Springs. So a street grader, equipped with high wheels, shuttles back and forth across the flooded section. It carries 10 passengers on each trip.

A pert young squirrel who moved into a sandwich shop at Evansville, Ill., to make his home in a juke box, has created a mild ratiocinating problem for the owners. They don't mind feeding him several times a day, sandwiches, pie, and lots of other things, but he has developed an inordinate fondness for coffee. And after every meal he chatters and scolds until he is given a cup of the ratiocinated product.

At Miami, Okla., an automobile caught fire after overturning, and a quantity of small-caliber ammunition inside began exploding. Highway Patrolman W. S. Abbott said one bystander was wounded in the leg, but officers dashed in regardless of flames and bullets. They saved three of the tires.

A cheep and a chirp were the principal clues that led Under-sheriff Don Moore and Deputy Sheriff Ed Tangen of Longmont, Colo., to a solution of Boulder county's great chick mystery. Someone stole 600 day-old chicks from a chicken farm. So the officers listened intently as they searched the countryside. Sure enough they had the right hunch and uncovered the chicks in a bedroom of a home.

College Training Value Stressed

Faculty, Graduating Class And Air Students March To Commencement.

The importance of college education as a preparation for the future was stressed by Judge John Delehant of Lincoln, Friday morning in the college commencement address. The speaker pointed out the immeasurable value of training that brings to one all the accumulated culture of past ages. The present war, which dates back to the first World conflict, stated the judge, has temporarily disrupted college work to considerable extent. It has changed the emphasis from the cultural to that needed for winning the war. But, assured the speaker, the importance of cultural values will be strengthened.

Judge Delehant sees a hopeful future for young folks. When the war ceases, conditions will be changed but opportunities for service and enjoyment will be multiplied.

The college symphony band, directed by Prof. John R. Keith, furnished music. Dr. J. T. Anderson conferred the degrees. Rev. H. H. Hazzart and Dr. Victor West took part.

Faculty and students marched from the administration building to the outdoor theatre. Aviation students of the college training detachment also marched to and from the exercises.

Two of the graduates who left early to enter training, returned for graduation. They are Aldon Sederberg and Robert Olsen, both from Chicago.

National Program Boosts War Foods

The national farm program, which was 10 years old May 12, was first organized to help avoid farm bankruptcy brought on by huge surpluses and depressed prices. Now the cooperative program is pushing maximum wartime food production, according to Chester C. Davis.

Since the start of the conservation phase of the farm program, yields per acre have increased in startling manner. The average per acre from 1937 through 1942 was 20.4 per cent above the 1923-32 average.

Food output in the farm program decade exceeded food production in the pre-farm-program decade by over 8 per cent. Though the farm population last year was considerably smaller than in 1918, total farm output was 41 per cent more than in 1918, and 12 per cent above any previous year in American history.

The unprecedented farm production records of recent years resulted in part from favorable weather, in part from hard work and skillful planning by millions of farmers working through the national farm program. The program enabled them to convert their crop and live stock schedules to the needs of war in the past two years. The nation may count on the unifying force of this program to help meet war-time food needs, according to AAA.

Flag Observance Is Being Planned

Americans Will Reaffirm Faith in Democracy by Bond Investments.

Wayne county will participate in the fifth annual national flag week observance June 8 to 14 when war bond sales will be promoted. Each day throughout the entire week flags will be displayed. M. L. Ringer is local chairman for the occasion.

National observance of the anniversary of adoption of the flag of the United States was established in 1939 by the United States Flag association. This group recognized the need for a national patriotic revival that would, with dramatic force, remind the American people of the unequalled blessings and personal obligations of citizenship under democratic government.

To combat un-American forces, the United States Flag association plans this special observance of Flag week, which is dedicated to fostering national unity, free from class, racial and religious intolerance and to promote national solidarity that gives first consideration to the welfare of America.

During Flag week, Americans are urged to renew their allegiance to the ideals symbolized by the flag and to reaffirm their faith in the institutions of American democracy.

As a purposeful, wartime tribute to the flag and all that it symbolizes, Flag week this year is dedicated to the investment in war bonds. The aim is to have Americans purchase 100 million dollars in war bonds during this week. This investment in bonds "stamps is a tribute in which everyone can participate. The slogan is "Save by Sacrifice."

winter wheat and oats is on . . . Henry Bruse's new residence at Hoskins is near completion . . . E. B. Seade sold land south of the Logan to Ted Perry for $80 and Mrs. L. Albert Hoedl died at Hoskins in July, 1907 . . . Alex Holtz went to Toronto, Canada, to see his father who is there from London . . . Peter Carstens bought Magnus Eckman's 80 acres near Hoskins for $85 an acre . . . Mr. and Mrs. Subr of Carroll, took their daughter to Omaha for medical care . . . Miss Alice Snowden and Roy Fisher were married July 18, 1907 . . . Charles Ohlund sold his residence in Hoskins to August Deek and the former will build a new home . . . J. W. Toomis returned from Arizona to be with his daughter, Mrs. M. A. Phillips . . . Orr & Morris moved their store stock to the new Melior building . . . A horse belonging to W. J. Westphal of Hoskins, became frightened, broke loose from a porch post to which he was hitched, jumped a fence, damaged the wagon and caused other loss. Charles Ohlund and Ed. Dixon County Events.

Early Days from the Northern Nebraska Journal, Ponca, for May 18, 1882: The Sioux City Tribune reports that the C. St. P. M. & O. is a part of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad company . . . In making Nebraska into three congressional districts Wayne and Dixon counties are among 23 in the Second, and the district also includes all unorganized counties and territories north of the Platte river . . . The commissioner of lands and buildings gives notice that all unsold university and college land in Dixon county will be offered for sale June 12, 1882 . . . A mass meeting held at Deadwood favored opening the Sioux reservation to actual settlers and opposed its lease to stock growers . . . The new chief secretary of Ireland and his assistant were murdered and great confusion resulted.

The Ponca creamery started and its first churning was 200 pounds of butter . . . Stough & Miksel bought the Ponca grist mill and will erect a large new grist mill structure a few feet from the old one. The basement will be of Sioux Falls stone and the upper two stories of brick. The building will be 50 by 50 feet. The size of the mill, the superior class of machinery to be placed in it and the immense and never failing water power will render the mill one of the best establishments of its kind in north Nebraska. It will be in operation before winter. P. E. Rush is building contractor. Instead of going elsewhere, dealers may soon get home flour of the best brands . . . Editor Childs of Wayne, was in Wakefield searching for somebody whose name he might put in the paper . . . Chas. Johnson of Wayne, was in Wakefield, took a square meal at the American House, viewed the city and departed with the conviction that the half dozen houses are quite significant . . . John Moore, energetic resident of Norris, bought two cars of lumber for buildings he will erect at that point.

Application Cards Being Distributed

War Ration Book Three Will Be Received by Mail In Early June.

Letter carriers are distributing 40,000,000 application cards for war ration book No. Three, which will provide new stamps to replace those running out in existing books. Distribution of these cards will continue over the next three weeks until June 5.

While OPA suggests that the applications be filled out promptly upon receipt, this public is urged not to mail them until June 1. By that date the post office will have mail channels cleared for fast handling and OPA mail centers will be geared up to process the cards and mail out the books. Cards mailed in advance of June 1 will not be processed at least until that date and since mechanical arrangements will not have been completed, may be lost or misplaced.

Each card is divided into three parts as follows: 1, an identification stub which is to be detached and retained by the applicant; 2, an application on which is to be typewritten or printed plainly, preferably in ink, the name of the head of the family and the address to which the books are to be sent; 3, the card on which should be listed the name and age of every one (including the head of the family) who is to get book three.

One application will do for all members of a family living under the same roof and eating at the same table, whether or not their surnames are the same. Individuals living alone, or who live with but are not a part of a family, or who share living quarters with other individuals must make out separate applications and cannot be included on a "family" card.

After filling out the card and detaching the identification stub, the applicant will affix the proper postage, as though for a letter, (three cents outside destination city or town and two cents within), and drop it in the mail box at any time between June 1 and June 10. No addressing is necessary, as each card will contain the printed address of the OPA mail center serving the particular area.

At the mail center, the volunteer workers will detach and file that part of the card listing the members of the applying family for permanent record. The application card will be placed in a special envelope containing a window through which the name, address, and serial number will be visible. This envelope also will contain the family book. Thus, the head of each family will have self-addressed the envelope. Each mail center will begin sending out the books late in June and the entire job is scheduled to be completed by July 21.

If the books do not arrive, the householder takes the stub he has retained to his local board and there fills out another application. This is forwarded by the board to the proper OPA mail center and the serial number is checked against a master file which contains all incomplete or illegible applications and all books that have been returned because of faulty addressing. If the missing books still are not found, it will be assumed that the books actually were mailed to the proper address. In this case the applicant will be required to execute a special affidavit form to the effect that the books never were received and, after due investigation, will be given a duplicate set.

Distribution in Nebraska will be from Chicago.

All applications for book three must be in the mails by midnight, June 10.

Rumors vs. Facts

Quoting Webster: "Rumors—popular reports, current story; facts—anything that is done, reality, event, truth."

We cannot answer rumors. We can only state facts, and will be glad to answer any question the public may have in mind in regard to our plant or our products.

In the past we know our plant was average in Nebraska. Now it is at the top, excelled only by a few Nebraska's best and these in larger towns than Wayne.

We have operated in the present building for about five and one-half years, during which time we have endeavored to establish here a modern, sanitary creamery, and have operated as such.

About three years ago we had a butter experience that we had never had before, and as we told you then, a certain bacteria in our city water caused the trouble. We also told you then that that particular bacteria was not harmful to anything excepting butter, (if you can recall that experience.) Now we have good butter.

Our recent experience is with milk. No criticism against anyone or anything. We must say that we were operating to the best of our judgment and knowledge when certain suggestions were made and tried, somewhat to our sorrow.

We soon learned that what was done in other places could not be done in Wayne. Some places have a water hardness of 190 parts million. A few months ago ours was 350, now 487, with a high percentage of calcium which adheres very rapidly to our bottles, causing some people to think our bottles were not properly washed. After a few days of that our advocates conceded that possibly our system was about correct, and a different wash solution was recommended and is now being used for our bottle wash.

To illustrate: Heat water for a few days in a pan and note the coating on the pan. It is not dirt, just calcium.

If you want your milk perfectly Pasteurized, in a clean, sterile bottle, with a low bacteria count, call the Wayne Creamery, Phone 28. It is the milk that has that endorsement.
