That may do very well in the Arctic, but here in Nebraska the man with foresight will have his bin full of coal long before the winter. Sustains President
IN upholding the president's veto of the congressional bill to a subsidy plan, the congress yielded its judgment to that of the executive.

In the veto, the president asked for co-operation, and manifestly, congress might have asked the same thing. It is fair to assume that both the president and the congress were sincere, but certainly one was mistaken.

There has been bungling in handling the food situation. That is shown by the faulty distribution, by shortages where there should be none, and by price increases when the situation justified no change in levels.

Future Peace
Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, and Senator White of Maine, are moving in the direction of plans for permanent peace with the United States taking a leading role.

The participation by the United States in post-war cooperation between sovereign nations to prevent, by any necessary means, the recurrence of military aggression and to establish permanent peace with justice in a free world.

Some method of making peace permanent can be and must be worked out by the united nations. If approach to the main question is made by the various governments and peoples in the right spirit, with all determined to find the solution, war positively can be ended.

Preserving Fundamentals
TRUTH and integrity and righteous living, are just as essential to national and individual soundness in time of war as in time of peace.

which they are risking their lives to uphold. In stress of the time, let no one become indifferent to American fundamentals.

Disturbing Changes
FREQUENT changes in the policy to draft married men with children lead one to wonder why Manpower Commissioner McNutt and Maj. Gen. Hershey do not make up their minds or withhold pronouncements until they do.

Wayne was quiet over the Fourth. No noisy firecrackers violated the anti-firecracker ordinance, and no disorders were reported.

In his Fairbury Journal, W. F. Cramb praises results scored by the fighting Americans, but frowns on the bungling of domestic affairs on the home front.

Octogenarian Will M. Maupin, Jeffersonian democrat, writes in the World-Herald that instead of voting the republican ticket he is going to devote himself to rescuing the democratic party from the clutches of "theoretical do-gooders."

The fourth term movement will be predicated on the thought that there should be no change if the war happens to be on when election rolls around.

The report of an Argentine diplomat who had served in Japan, convinces one that the Nipponese are not just fighting the United States and its allies, but are engaged in a long-planned attempt to wipe the white race off the earth.

It is a safe bet that young men in the armed forces, upholding the Stars and Stripes in all parts of the world, are not thinking so much of the next election and a fourth term as they are of winning the war and returning to their homes.

IN CONFLICT.
The Christian Science Monitor observes that Chester C. Davis resigned as food administrator because he could not agree with the president over subsidies and found himself between the forces of the administration and those of congress.

us, that is in the summer. It can be avoided by screening that part of the head and neck by proper headgear, which means wearing a hat which has enough brim to produce shade over that part of the head and neck.

 Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea... And did all drink the same spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them; and that Rock was Christ... The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" (1 Corinthians 10:14,16).
 The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Like our Master, we must depart from material sense into the spiritual sense of being... Obeying his precious precepts,—following his demonstration so far as we apprehend it,—we drink of his cup, partake of his bread, are baptized with his purity; and at last we shall rest, sit down with him in a full understanding of the divine Principle which triumphs over death. For what says Paul? 'As often as ye eat at this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come'" (pp. 41, 31).
 Service in Woman's club room at 11 a. m.
 Miss Eleanor Benthack plans to go to Blair this Thursday to attend Bellevue conference Presbyterian camp for a week.

Harvest Progresses In Wayne County

Barley harvest is in progress in Wayne county this week and the yield varies from 30 to 40 bushels to the acre, according to Agent W. R. Harder who examined a number of fields.
 Oats harvest will probably start in another week, the county agent finds. Mr. Harder advises farmers to take advantage of any good method of harvesting available in order to avoid loss by hail, wind or rain.
 Bromo production will be good again this year in Wayne county, Mr. Harder states. Many fields were used for pasture this spring and will not produce a seed crop. However, some fields will produce seed. Some will yield 500 pounds of seed per acre, others more and some less.
 Weedy areas, even the small ones, and scattering weedy plants should be removed from the broome field, states Mr. Harder. Sales have been slow and prices low for seeds infested with weeds such as mustard, downy brome, hairy chess and penny cress. It is suggested that field borders and weed areas in broome fields be mowed and used for hay. The remainder will produce cleaner seed of higher value.

Loans Are Available For Farm Operation

Harvest loans, crop and feed loans, summer fallow and winter grain loans are now available, according to James B. Landreth, field supervisor for the emergency crop and feed loan office.
 Harvest loans, granted for putting equipment into shape, purchasing twine, making repairs and buying fuel and oil, are made to farmers who can gain credit in no other way. They draw four per cent interest and are secured by a lien on the crop harvested. Application for these loans may be made at the county agent's office in the court house at Wayne.
 Crop and feed loans are open to farmers whose feed supply is running low and who need funds to purchase supplies to finish livestock under feed. These loans are secured by a first lien on the stock.

Birth Record.

A daughter, Sharon Kay, was born June 22 to Cpl. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan at Fort Warren, Wyo. Mrs. Sullivan is a daughter of the Everett Harpers of Winside.
 A daughter was born July 5 at a Wakefield hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Fredrickson who live between Wakefield and Wayne.
 A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Liewer of Laurel, July 3, at a local hospital.
 A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin De Lozier of Randolph, July 2, at a Wayne hospital.

Leaves After Furlough.

Pvt. Quentin Preston, son of the Russell Prestons, returned last Thursday to Cedar Rapids, Ia., after being home on furlough. He purchased supplies to finish livestock under feed. These loans are secured by a first lien on the stock.

Writes from Australia.
Cpl. Carl Sund, writing from somewhere in Australia, tells his folks, the Herman Sunds, that he arrived safely at his new location. "Had a swell trip. Turned out to be quite a sailor and wasn't sick on the whole trip.

"We had entertainment nearly every night aboard ship, movies, boxing and an orchestra, so the time went quite fast.

"We are not a good-sized city but as yet haven't gone to town. Will try and pick up a souvenir to mail back if I can.

"It's winter time down here now but the weather is pretty nice. It's a nice, healthy climate like home.

"When it's Sunday noon down here, it is 4 p. m., Saturday at home. We are 20 hours ahead of time back there, nearly a day.

"Don't worry and tell everyone 'hello,'" concluded the letter.

From North Africa.
"Just a few lines of remembrance and thanks for the home town paper," writes Sgt. Richard Baier June 11 from north Africa. "I am still receiving the Herald and appreciate it very much. Our mail clerk asked me to have the paper stopped as it takes quite a lot of shipping space. But I don't want it stopped as that is the only way I can keep up on the home town news. The last one I received was the issue with the picture of the college grounds. It is really nice to be able to get a glimpse of the good home town. I certainly hope they keep coming as I know all the Wayne folks in the army really appreciate it.

"I met a couple of home town boys a few weeks back. These were Archie Wert and Byron James. We had a nice talk. They said they are both receiving the Herald quite regularly. We are going to get together and exchange the papers as one may receive a paper that the other doesn't. I have been putting in quite long hours and it makes it hard to find time to go and see them. Both are stationed fairly close to me and I hope to see them again soon.

"I am still in the signal corps and like my work very well. Thanks again. Keep the press running and we'll keep the enemy on the run."

Studies in Los Angeles.
Pvt. Kenneth A. Baird, who is stationed at the University of California at Los Angeles, is studying engineering under the army specialized training program. About 400 men are there in the same line of work. They are living in fraternity houses formerly occupied by students of U. C. L. A. "If we can keep up the required standards, we will continue in school for approximately 24 months and at the end of that time be sent to officers' candidate school or return to troops as highly specialized trained men in engineering. No one is exactly sure just what the outcome of this course is because so far it is in the beginning stages of its life. The groups sent back to school are the first to undertake such a job. We study mathematics, physics, chemistry, English, geography, history, physical education and military. This totals up to about 24 units and the average engineering student carries approximately 18 hours or units.

"The campus here is very beautiful," continues the Wayne county youth. "It is located in the southwest part of Los Angeles. On the east are the mountains and a short distance west is that great body of water they call the Pacific ocean. The climate is swell but it seems funny when it never rains. I have been in California about three months and it has rained only once. The only kind of moisture they receive now is from a sprinkler.

"The young man sends appreciation for the Herald and finds it especially nice to pick up a paper and know the people about whom he reads.

Control Is Found For Garden Pest
Blister beetles, the slender-bodied beetles that bother potatoes, beets, beans and other garden crops, are controlled by some poisons. A mixture of equal parts, by volume, of sodium fluosulfate and flour usually gives good results, states entomologists. This should be mixed and dusted directly on the beetles.

Various kinds of arsenicals have given indifferent results, mainly because the blister beetles refuse to eat the poisoned foliage. Some people have reported very good results by using cryolite, either as a dust or as a spray.

One part is prepared by using one part of cryolite, two parts of wheat flour and two parts of talc. The spray is prepared by using two ounces of cryolite, two tablespoonfuls flour in three gallons of water. The cryolite dust mixture is applied to infested plants at the rate of about 25 pounds per acre.

In a garden one pound of the dust will treat 350 linear feet of vegetables.

Eradication Work Is Going Forward
Dixon county bindweed supervisors met at Allen to discuss the progress being made in eradication of weeds in the area. Shortage of help has retarded eradication but more work will be done after harvest.

Bindweed, leafy spurge, perennial pepper grass and Canada thistle are most prevalent among weeds, though some puncture vine and Russian knapweed are to be found.

County Agent Howard Gillaspie advises that September and October are good months for applying sodium chlorate. On the average farm four to four and a half pounds per square rod will be plenty for first application. Supplies may be secured at Newcastle, Ponca or Allen.

Richard McGuire, radioman first class, arrived in Wisner to visit his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McGuire, after spending a year in Greenland with the coast guard.

Firemen responded promptly and prevented further damage.

Meat and Other Foods Are Found Scarce in East

Beef is very scarce in the east, according to Mrs. J. H. Brugger who returned recently from a visit with her son, John, and family at New Haven, Conn. In the three and one-half weeks she was in the east, Mrs. Brugger had beef only once. Pork and chickens seem to be more plentiful. On the dinner coming home the only meat was called chicken liver which was served with scrambled eggs and spinach. Butter is scarce and can only be purchased about half the time in small amounts. Most of the time no potatoes are on the market but other vegetables are plentiful. Dandelion greens are being sold at 15 cents a pound.

Mrs. Brugger had the thrill of experiencing a 27-minute blackout which extended along the coast from Maine to Virginia. It happened to be just a test alarm but made one feel panicky and horrified with the dead blackness and the planes humming overhead, not knowing whether they were friendly or not. Mrs. Brugger says the east is well fortified and is prepared for any emergency.

Mrs. Brugger was impressed with the beautiful roses, green grass and the lack of weeds in the east. The abundance of vegetation against the white painted houses makes the homes look clean and cozy.

Mrs. Brugger had the pleasure of visiting both Harvard and Yale universities and some of the original stone churches built in about 1667. Yale university is interesting because its buildings are laid out so differently from any in the middle West. The university is in the heart of the city. To enter it one goes through a large iron gate. The buildings all face onto a greens forming an open square in the center. It seems peculiar to the Nebraskan to enter the buildings from the inner court instead of from the street. The stone structures are built up against the side walk and are beautiful with their heavy ivy covering.

Though easterners think Nebraska is way out west, Mrs. Brugger assures them that, nevertheless, mighty good juicy steaks are raised here.

Library News

We are pleased to announce a record attendance at the last story hour when 93 children turned out. Friday of this week, July 9, the older group will meet and talk about books written about England and France and see some pictures of these countries. Tuesday, July 13, there will be a movie for the two groups. The pictures will be a travel picture of London, and a picture about Indians for the little folks.

Two novels received at the library this week are Evergreen House, by Louise Platt Hauack, and A Certain Doctor French, by Elizabeth Seifert. Elizabeth Seifert is the author of Young Dr. Galahad and Surgeon in Charge.

Western Star, by Stephen Vincent Benet, author of John Brown's Body, is highly acclaimed by lovers of poetry. Man Against Himself, by Karl Menninger, is an interesting study by one of America's leading psychiatrists. It is a brilliant and arresting diagnosis of a sickness that affects the entire world. Prisoner of the Japs, by Gwen Dew, is one of the best eye-witness stories we have had to come out of this war. Gwen Dew is an American woman and she writes of the things she saw during the battle of Hong Kong and her subsequent imprisonment by the Jap army.

An outstanding magazine article for the week is to be found in the National Geographic for July. It is about Africa and entitled Casablanca Smiles and there is another called Americans on the Barbary Coast.
