Young Folks Wed In Illinois Church

Miss Ethel Coudley Bride Of Sgt. Tracy Mulvey at Ceremony July 13.

Miss Ethel Coudley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coudley, and Sgt. Tracy Mulvey, son of James Mulvey of Chadron, and grandson of Mrs. Emma Baker of Wayne, were married Tuesday morning, July 13, in St. Mary's church at Joliet, Ill. Rev. J. W. Jurkovich officiated.
 The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in white satin and crepe gown with fingertip veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses. Mrs. Russell Stevens, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore taffeta gown of golden honeydew. Her colonial bouquet was of Talisman roses.
 Sgt. Mulvey was attired in military uniform and his best man, Mr. Stevens, wore a dark conventional suit.
 Sgt. Mulvey was inducted into the armed forces two years and four months ago. He took basic training at Camp Callan, near San Diego, and afterward was assigned to the coast artillery. He has seen active service in the Pacific battle zones. At present he has been assigned instructional duties at Camp McQuinn, Cal., where his wife will join him in the near future.
 The bridegroom's mother was Mrs. Marguerite Baker Mulvey, deceased.

County Crop Corps Finishes Shocking

Dixon county crop corps completed the task of shocking grain last Saturday afternoon. More than 350 acres of small grain were set up by townships of Dixon county.
 Avery Linn, county superintendent, Sam Citty, county sheriff, Lawrence Peterson, deputy county sheriff, Walter Malcom, county treasurer, Donn Ehle, county judge, and Richard Johnson, principal of the Ponca high school, shocked 50 acres of oats, one afternoon.

Other men belonging to the crop corps in Dixon county are: Thomas Jones, clerk of the district court; Don Mashell, county clerk; Bill Rockwell and Daion Cyphers, all of Ponca. All from Ponca were responsible for 273 acres or more being shocked.

Rev. K. H. Clifton, pastor of the Allen M.E. church, Harold Klingman, vocational agriculture instructor of Allen, and Howard Gillespie, county agent, formed a corps at Allen.

Three boys of the Rose Hill 4-H Forestry club, Dale Anderson, John Hanson and Jimmy Duffy, are doing their part in the war effort. They have been shocking small grain in their community and just completed a 65-acre field of oak.

Action Filed Here.
 An action seeking to enforce a farm contract was filed in district court this week by C. H. Koles. After Allan J. Perdue entered service, Koles claims he was secured to carry on his farming operations. Mark Ryan of South Sioux City, and C. W. Pensinger of Randolph, are attorneys for plaintiff.

Resigns Position.
 Mrs. John Hansen, the former Luella French, has resigned her teaching position in district 44 as she plans to remain at Ephrata, Wash., with her husband.

Library News

A very lovely gift to the Wayne library this week was a large book on wild flowers with colored illustrations, and also a book on roots, their place in life and legend, by Vernon Quinn. These two books were given to the library by Mrs. W. K. Jones.
 Other new additions to the book collection include a Radio Manual, entitled "Everybody's Radio Manual," "Journey Among Warriors," by Eve Curie, is another interesting war book. In the wastes of Libya, Eve Curie talked just between the battle lines to the men of the United Nations command. There, as on other fronts of freedom, throughout the vast battle ground of this war, she learned to know the soldiers and civilians who are in the forefront of the fight. Her report to America on her far-flung journey among warriors is one of the greatest and most inspiring of all books on our tortured war world. "Inside the FBI," by John Foherty, is an interesting account of the activities and organization of the FBI.
 Story hour for the older group of children was held Friday, July 23, at which time Russian stories were told. Tuesday, July 27, pictures of Russia were shown and a short comedy for the little folks called Play Ball. The next story hour will be held Tuesday, July 29, at which time stories will be told for the little folks at 3:30.
 Library board meeting will be held next Tuesday evening to transact the regular monthly business.

Flight Line News

(By Robert F. Diehl)

"At Last" is the song that has been on the lips of every man in flight E. The reason is we are flying now. Yes, that dream has finally come true. After five months of singing such songs as "The Army Air Corps and Into the Air songs, which describe in their unique way the flight of an army flier, we are finally going into the blue and trying our best to keep our wings level and true.

Last Monday all eagerly awaited the bus which was to take us to the airport. Although we didn't fly, we received some very valuable information as to what makes the plane fly and we also met our instructors. We then were issued our flight manuals and came back to the barracks.

Tuesday morning the bus was a little late and I thought the fellows were going to start walking. Everyone kept the words of Li Starr in mind which were these: "Be eager when you go out to the airport and show your instructor that you are anxious to learn." I can truthfully say that everyone was eager not only the first day but everyday since. Each and everyone is doing his level best and I'm sure that no one will be sorry.

We have been flying a week and have reached the point where we are now doing stalls and spins and in such a spirit that I know we'll win.

Will Provide Support.
 Pat Murphy, found guilty in county court Saturday on charge of non-support for his family, was paroled to Bruce Covey, for whom he works, with provision that $15 a week of his wages be paid by Mr. Covey to Murphy's wife, Rosina Murphy, beginning July 31. On breach of conditions of the ruling, the court will impose a sentence.

Resigns Position.
 Martin Buol of Randolph, has been named a member of the Cedar county board to succeed C. W. Willey of Coleridge, who resigned.

Attack on Pearl Harbor Witnessed During Four Years Spent Overseas

Lt. Henri W. Wasson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rhoades, arrived in the United States July 16, after spending four years with the U. S. army in the Pacific battle area. Lt. Wasson enlisted in 1935, and in 1939 was sent to Hickam field, Hawaii. He received training as a radio observer at Wheeler field, Hawaii, Bellows field, location undisclosed, and Amberly field in Australia. At Hickam field he was assigned to a squadron and began his work as an observer of new installations on army planes.
 "I was at Hickam field eating breakfast when the Japs came over December 7, 1941, and I saw the first plane come over. I knew it was a Jap when I saw the red spots on its wings and especially after it had dropped a bomb on the runway." Lt. Wasson declared that he did what everybody else did: ran for a rifle and started shooting. He later assisted a machine gun crew and helped to evacuate the wounded from the barracks and take them to hospitals. "The Japs came over in three attacks, the first wave at 7:19 a. m., the second at 8:25 a. m., and the third from 8:40 to 9:30 a. m."
 The men organized into a defense crew to withstand invasion, which they thought might come. Lt. Wasson believes that Hawaii is now stronger than before Pearl Harbor.
 Following the declaration of war, Lt. Wasson moved to Canton island, one of the Line island group, where at one time he met Douglas Canning of Wayne, now a captain in the army air corps. After that time Lt. Wasson was in Hawaii again, in Australia twice, and back to Hawaii.
 The officer's work included checking installations on United States planes, and examining crashed Jap planes for additions to equipment, inspecting their possibilities and analyzing the constituents. Lt. Wasson believes the United States now has definite air superiority in number and quality of ships, and naval superiority in so far as quality is concerned. He believes "our long line of supply and the fact that the Japanese had a head start on men and equipment are against us, but finds no comparison in the quality of our men and materiel." He claims that both pastors have fine churches and homes and are very happy in the work they are doing. Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Ickler went on to Chicago that evening, where Rev. Ickler plans on attending a seminary. Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Ickler returned to Wayne.

 When asked how long he thought the war would last, Lt. Wasson replied, "As soon as people get it into their heads that they are playing for keeps in this thing they will know that it is going to take time to clean them out... and we are going to clean them out!"
 On being questioned about the soldier's viewpoint on post-war planning, Lt. Wasson answered that he was in favor of internationalism on a cooperative basis with nationalities to be subordinated only to the point of having a world governing power. "We should have a federation of nations and an international army with a navy and air force big enough to cope with any situation. Something like a board of directors with the world divided into Russia and Europe, China and the far east and the United States and western hemisphere."
 Mr. and Mrs. Rhoades went to Omaha Sunday to meet their son, Lt. Wasson, who has a 20-day furlough. Lt. Wasson will be located in the United States after his visit here, perhaps in California.
 Miss Della Mae Whipple of Seagoville, Texas, arrived Monday and is also a guest in the E. C. Rhoades home.
 Mrs. Clarissa Crandall, 81, died Sunday last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Carlsson, in Laurel.

Leave for Seminary.
 Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Ickler met their son and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Ickler, of Chicago, at Fremont Wednesday last week and proceeded with them to Omaha where they visited Rev. and Mrs. G. Geischen and family and Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Most and family. Mrs. Ickler reports that both pastors have fine churches and homes and are very happy in the work they are doing. Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Ickler went on to Chicago that evening, where Rev. Ickler plans on attending a seminary. Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Ickler returned to Wayne.
 the Mrs. George Bressler home. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Bressler are sisters.
 Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Hayne of Page, were here Sunday with their daughters, Mrs. Carl Nuss and Mrs. Geo. Bressler. Mrs. Nuss and children returned with them to spend a few days.
 Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cavanaugh and Mrs. Faye Strahan went to Rapid City, S. D., Saturday and visited until Wednesday, the first two with Lt. Tom Cavanaugh, and the last named with Lt. Donald Strahan.
 Phillip James, son of Howard M. James, returned by bus Sunday from Neola, Ia., where he had been visiting in the A. L. Thomas home. He had spent 11 days with his little sister, June Thomas. He was accompanied by his aunt, Mrs. Irma K. James of Sioux City.

THE EARLY BIRD GETS A GOOD DEAL!

SAFETY ADVOCATES EARLY SHOPPING FOR HOUSEWIVES... IN THE WEEK AND EARLY IN THE DAY... THE BEST TIME TO SHOP IS BETWEEN TEN AND TWO. IT HELPS THE WAR WORKER TOO, BECAUSE...

...I SHOULD LET SLEEPING DOGS LIE I GUESS, BUT WE BETTER WAKE UP TO STOP THEM FROM RUIN MY WEEKENDS BY INSISTING THAT I GO SHOPPING WITH YOU?
 OH, I JUST FOUND OUT THAT YOU DIDN'T WAKE ME UP AFTER ALL.

GOING TO GIVE ME THE OLD HEAVE-HO, EN? WHAT WILL HAN COME BETWEEN US? I'LL MONDER DE BUN!
 OH, IT IS NOT QUITE AS DRAMATIC AS THAT! I FOUND ANOTHER AND BETTER WAY TO DO MY SHOPPING! YOU SEE I HEARD...

IF WE SHOP EARLY, SAFEWAY WON'T BE SO CROWDED DURING THE HOURS THAT WAR WORKERS DO THEIR SHOPPING. THE GIRLS IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD ALL GO IN ONE CAR AND DO THEIR SHOPPING TOGETHER.
 SAY! THAT'S A GOOD ONE FOR EVERYONE!

Show is ANNOUNCED schedules should not be so completely upset as was the one Monday marking arrival of airplanes designed to promote interest in aviation. Citizens took their band out to the air field in time to greet appearance of the fliers at 9 o'clock. A considerable aerial show was expected. As time wore on and no planes arrived, the sun bore down with increasing intensity, and when the first trickles of perspiration changed to rivulets, people assembled poured vials of injured feelings into the circumambient heat.

Ten o'clock, no planes; 11 o'clock, no planes. A hurried call to Omaha brought assurance that the spectacle would materialize in a few minutes. Members of the band, driven by the super-heated air, did not wait. They played a few tunes and then dispersed. Many in the crowd, threatened by liquefaction, also returned to town.

Nearly noon three very ordinary planes arrived, and people who had the nerve to stick to the field, were doubly disappointed and mad. We would suggest that the Omaha aviators, engaged in a noble purpose, should meet schedules on the dot and keep expectations down to a level with the facts.

Exit Bag WHEN word was flashed Sunday afternoon that Benito Mussolini, Italian bag of wind, had given up his dictatorship and disappeared, evidently under extreme pressure, everybody felt that democracy had scored largely in the initial steps to victory. When Pietro Badoglio, arch enemy of Mussolini, was appointed successor, we were given the encouraging prospect that Italy would quit as soon as frowning nazi guns are forced out of the way. Italians have evidently long tired of a fight in which they could gain nothing and lose much. Inexorable invading forces will help Italy realize its desire to fold up.

Vice President Henry Wallace announces his intention to familiarize Washington and the rest of the country with his qualities of thinking. He wants to explain away the impression that he is a dizzy idealist. In a speech at Detroit he said he wanted to blend old-fashioned American-duties; and children's feeling the tension and stress of the times. The elementary school cannot handle the whole safety program, the speaker stated. The primary burden rests on the home, and other agencies also have a responsibility in the matter.

Outlines Program. Mr. Silvernale outlined seven principles which should be embodied in successful safety education. The program should be complete, and well balanced to cover hazards which children face. It should affect the child's conduct. It must consider individual differences. The program should avoid setting up fears and phobias in minds of sensitive children. It should be positive rather than negative. The program should avoid being over-protective of children but should teach them how to meet situations into which they are certain to be drawn. The program should take into consideration that the mental and physical health of the child has much to do with accidents.

"Safety education is much more than teaching children to avoid accidents. It is a part of character building and citizenship training. Safety education should be a planned incidental program," concluded Mr. Silvernale.

"Saving Manpower for War Power Through Safety" was the topic discussed by Dr. Stack, who explained what Nebraska can do to preserve manpower and material.

Needs to Win War. Winning the war will require three things: Manpower; material such as wood, coal and oil; and morale.

Accidents last year resulted in 90,000 deaths in the United States, four times as many lives as were lost in military service in American forces during the same period. In addition accidents and fires consumed a great deal of property. "Preventing these losses helps win the war," Dr. Stack emphasized.

The speaker advised that children be kept in good health, physically fit and reasonably safe. Certain phases of the safety program need special emphasis. The army wants driver education taught in high school. It also asks instruction in swimming and water safety. Figures show that a third of the ism with the good points in corporations, and improve the American order. He offers his hybrid corn idea as proof that he is practical—more corn and paying farmers to grow less, as people clearly recall. What he has in mind for himself causes some speculation. If he fails to ingratiate himself with the populace, he can at least carry with him into retirement a feeling that he tried while failing.

Senator Hatch of New Mexico, predicts that if the war is still on the president will seek a fourth term. Hatch says further that he would be for a fourth term if peace conferences were in progress. The argument that reconstruction cannot be carried on without the incumbent's guiding hand in the event peace has been restored and terms have been settled, will be used. Especially new dealers in the public trough and those looking toward it will find plenty of reasons to perpetuate the Roosevelt regime. But the succession will be up to voters, and even if the war is on, they may decide to change leaders, as did England.

We had long wondered why some one had not risen up to defend the memory of Dr. Wirt who, early in the Roosevelt regime, charged the new ideal with designs to nationalize business and industry, and who was promptly squelched by a prejudiced congressional investigating committee. Now comes forward Westbrook Pegler, columnist, to revive the Wirt case, showing by subsequent events that the Gary, Ind., superintendent's suspicions were largely justified.

In one mail this week we received two letters in utter conflict. One from Battle Creek, Mich., urged Wendell Willkie for the republican presidential nomination, and another from Akron, Ohio, insisted that he be not chosen. It is hoped when the time comes a man big enough will be named and a platform broad enough will be adopted to wipe out differences and guarantee return to soundly progressive fundamentals.

We are proud of the courage and skill of American soldiers on the world's battle fronts. They are individualistic—products of a free democracy. They have had fused into them the spirit of initiative and independence, and they know what they are fighting for. They are the strongest defenders of human rights the world has ever known.

It is refreshing to note a growing tendency to grant free enterprise its rightful part in post-war recovery. Wisely regulated but without impossible government restraints, it will be an incomparable power behind employment and readjustment.

Our already high opinion of William Jeffers, rubber administrator, self-made and equipped with a self-starter, is greatly strengthened by opposition that has developed against him within Washington's official circles.

The fact that successful financiers consider buying bonds as a sound and profitable investment should be reason enough for proportionate purchases by comparatively small fry like editors and others.

Day Is Observed

sketch and poem describing the Bahdes' wedding day and events in the lives of the honored couple. A song commemorating the day was sung by Mr. Bahde's niece, Mrs. Edna Coleman of Frankfort, S. D. She also sang "Smilin' Through." Other musical numbers were the "Marine Hymn" and "The Field Artillery Song" for the two grandsons in service. Ernest Bahde gave his folks a very happy surprise by reading a letter received that morning from his son, Donald, now with the marines overseas. "This was the first letter to come from the youth since he left the states two months ago. Rev. H. Henriksen gave a short message. The dinner and program closed with the group singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

All the children of Mr. and Mrs. Bahde and three grandchildren were present. Four grandchildren were unable to attend. Two grandsons are in service and one grand-daughter is in Columbus, Ga., where her husband is stationed in service. The other granddaughter has a position in Omaha.

Members of the immediate family here for the occasion are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Karnetz of Austin, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bahde, Barbara and Patricia of Wakefield, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bahde and Irving, Jr., of Fremont, Miss. Leona Bahde of Wayne.

Other guests from away were John Bahde and daughter, Mrs. Edna Coleman of Frankfort, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lubker, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lubker, Peter Bahde and children, Melvin, Irene and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bahde, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Albertsen, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jurgens and son, Arthur, Mrs. Pete Knuth and Mrs. Mary Bowers, all of Cedar Bluffs, Dr. C. H. Lubker of Fairbury, Alvina Lubker of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meier of Scribner, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Erickson and Rev. and Mrs. Harold Henriksen were present from Wayne.

Many gifts and flowers were received by Mr. and Mrs. Bahde, and a purse of money was presented to the couple by John F. Lubker. Numerous greetings and gifts were received from friends and relatives who could not be present.

F. S. Berry went to Ponca Tuesday on business.

W. H. Hall plans to come from Omaha Sunday to take home his son, Billie, who has spent a couple of weeks here with his grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Erickson.

COMPENSATIONS.

An anonymous contributor to the Omaha World-Herald of recent date draws a contrast between those who regard obligations to the war lightly and those who accept them seriously. Naturally and inevitably some are more self-sacrificing than others. They deeply sense obligations and try to practice duty without flinching. Some others shift responsibility to already burdened shoulders. Some are eager and alert. Others are seemingly indifferent and shiftless. But the majority perform well the task as they understand it, and do not overlook all important results. The contributor mentioned complained that a neighbor had gone on a vacation whereas a nearby woman had to be up early to plan care for her two small children, so that she could be on hand on time to earn the family living. The writer says the father had gone into the armed forces. It should be borne in mind that compensations in a world of vicissitudes and disappointments are not all material and apparent.

Problem

Jefferson had to say on this subject: "Were we to be directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap, we should soon want bread."

Potatoes in Idaho. Idaho reports a potato crop of 45,355,000 bushels, 39 per cent above the 1940 record. And that is only one state engaged in stepping up potato production. It is not a surprising report from Idaho, nor would it be surprising from Oregon or Washington where water combined with volcanic ash causes prodigious production. Three to five-pound potatoes are not uncommon in the northwest states.

Plight of Stevens Hotel. The government has Chicago's Stevens hotel of 3,000 bedrooms on its hands, and, besieged by conflicting forces, apparently does not know what to do with it. The government acquired the hotel and occupied it with military groups, and then vacated it. Hotel men of the city protest against its use as a hotel, and a suggestion to turn it into office apartments brought a storm of opposition from owners of office buildings. Reason for taking over the huge structure in the first place is weakened by its present abandonment. The waste may be attributed to a diversity of opinions given authority.

Give Examinations
For Certificates

Special examinations for issuing temporary teaching certificates will be given at the college in Wayne August 6 with Supt. F. S. Decker in charge. Frank Rosenberg of the state superintendent's office, Miss Oma Thompson, Boone county superintendent, and Herman Bach of the college registrar's office will be in charge. Supt. Decker will be in Omaha August 2 to conduct such examinations.

Teachers Shortage
Is Acute In West

Shortage of teachers is most acute in western Nebraska than here, according to Supt. F. S. Decker who accompanied State Supt. Wayne O. Reed on an official visit to that part of Nebraska last week. Mr. Reed spoke at a number of county superintendents. They report that western counties have only about half enough teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hanks of Wausa, brought their granddaughter, Nancy Jean Hanks of Wichita, Kan., here for an indefinite visit with her other grandparents, Prof. and Mrs. A. F. Gulliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Karnetz of Austin, Minn., came Saturday to spend a week with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bahde.

AVOIDING EXTREMES.

The old Greek philosopher's idea of adopting the golden rule may be accepted as a safe rule to follow in all of life's judgments and activities. It may be wisely applied in considering nationalism and internationalism. A nay extreme would seem fraught with unnecessary dangers. We can cooperate with foreign nations without accepting their ideologies and becoming responsible for their indiscretions. We think our democracy has proved superior, one late proof of which is found in the gigantic amassing of men and equipment for war; and it is the kind of government we wish to perpetuate. We can lend reasonable assistance to other nations, preventing the strong from imposing on the weak without trying to dictate their forms of government. And we do not want alien influences to try to chisel in and change our form of government. We cannot safely hold entirely aloof as we did after the first World War, nor would it be wise to force the American pattern anywhere. We can help people help themselves, and make it convenient for them to behave themselves and keep the peace.

Marry at Service In Indiana Church

Ensign Cecil E. Jordan and Bride Go to Virginia To Establish Home.

At a nuptial mass celebrated Saturday morning, July 24, at 10 o'clock in St. Patrick's Catholic church, South Bend, Ind., Miss Patricia Anne Bannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bannon of South Bend, became the bride of Ensign Cecil Edward Jordan, son of M. C. Jordan of Wayne. Rev. Patrick Dolan, C. S. C., officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Julius Musick of South Bend, attended her sister as matron of honor, and Miss Mary Claire Jordan of Wayne, who was bridesmaid. Ensign Jordan was attended by his brother, William Jordan of Chicago. Julius Musick and Bernard Bannon were ushers.

The altar was beautifully decorated with white gladioli and flanked with palms. The organist played Lohengrin's wedding march, and accompanied Miss Virginia Guthrie who sang several selections during the mass, among them Schubert's "Ave Maria" and the "Panis Angelicus."

The bride was attired in a gown of white lace and silk jersey. Her dress was fashioned with a lace yoke, a sweetheart neckline and a full skirt with a short train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Musick, as matron of honor, wore a silk jersey gown of orchid fashioned with a shirred yoke, bracelet-length sleeves and a full skirt. Miss Jordan wore a similar dress of turquoise jersey. Both wore Juliet caps of the same material as their dresses with yellow gardenias; they carried colonial bouquets tied with yellow ribbon.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bannon chose a sheer dress of navy with matching jacket and white accessories. She wore white gardenias.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in the Bronzewood room of the LaSalle hotel.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph academy and attended St. Mary's college near South Bend. Ensign Jordan was graduated from the College of Commerce, Notre Dame university, in 1940. He received his law degree from Notre Dame in December, 1942, and is a member of the Indiana Bar association.

For going away the bride chose a turquoise suit of summer gabardine with navy and white accessories. After spending a few days in Chicago, Ensign and Mrs. Jordan left for Norfolk, Va., where they will make their home.

Among the guests at the wedding were Mrs. Knute Rockne, Jean and Bill Rockne of South Bend. Those attending from out of town included Ensign and Mrs. Tom Pulley, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ley, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. William V. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore and Mrs. Margaret Moore of Chicago, Mary Claire Jordan of Wayne, and Robert Richardson of Ottawa, Ill.

Thurston county plans an organized campaign to get rid of bindweed and other noxious weeds.

Fatally Injured In Car Accident

Elmer Wiley, 27, of Norfolk, died Sunday of injuries suffered that morning when the car in which he was riding with Orin Oertwich, McLean farmer, struck a guard rail and overturned on highway 81 about 18 miles north of Norfolk. Wiley's back was crushed. Oertwich, who had severe bruises, is believed to have gone to sleep while driving.

Wayne Man Named By Omaha Group

The appointment of Carl Nuss as its ambassador of good will for Wayne and surrounding territory, has just been announced by Ak-Sar-Ben.

Although the war has made it necessary for the Omaha organization to curtail such peacetime activities as its annual spring race meet, den show and ice events at Ak-Sar-Ben field and coliseum, Ak-Sar-Ben enters its 49th year of unselfish service to the middle west with a renewed pledge of aid to the war effort, points out President J. E. Davidson.

Two important activities on Ak-Sar-Ben's wartime calendar are the series of "Smiles for Soldiers" outdoor shows, being staged in Creighton university's football stadium, for the entertainment of all service men and women on duty in this area, and the 1943 Ak-Sar-Ben "4-H" baby beef show, which will be held in Omaha, October 6, 7 and 8.

The baby beef show, largest in the world, will be conducted primarily to encourage improved and expanded livestock production by midwestern farm youths, Davidson said. Including classes for market swine, a number of them new, the show ties in closely with the "Food for Freedom" program that Ak-Sar-Ben is conducting again this year in cooperation with state 4-H organizations.

In its many activities to promote midwestern progress, Ak-Sar-Ben relies on the cooperation of its corps of more than 350 ambassadors throughout Nebraska and western Iowa, in making its work of maximum benefit to the largest possible number of persons, Davidson explained.

Has Major Operation. Orville Kennedy of Hioskins, is improving after undergoing a major operation in Norfolk.

Henry Reynolds arrived Sunday from Kansas City to spend two weeks' vacation with his family here.

Gasoline Coupons Should Have Name

OPA regulations require that the possessor of gasoline ration coupons must enter the license number and name of state in which his vehicle is licensed on all gasoline coupons immediately on their receipt, M. E. Rawlings, district OPA director, stated.

Service station operators are not permitted to accept loose coupons under any condition, P. R. Mitchell, acting district rationing officer, added. He warned them to compare data on coupons with the license number of a vehicle being serviced in order to determine if the coupon had been issued for the vehicle in question.

All motorists are urged, said Mr. Rawlings, to cooperate in eliminating "black market" operations.

Truck and Cattle Lost in Accident

Men Have Minor Injury As Tire Blowout Results In Mishap Tuesday

Robert Huettmann and Gene Kerler of Wisner, escaped with minor injuries, Harvey Bandle of Wisner, lost cattle, and one of Rudy Kay's transport trucks was practically destroyed early Tuesday last week when a front tire blew out and forced the machine to leave the highway and upset east of Scribner.

Mr. Huettmann was driving the Kay truck, taking the Randie cattle to Omaha. Just before reaching a bridge near Scribner, the truck began to weave due to a front tire blowout. Before the driver could get the machine under control, the truck had struck the posts leading to the bridge and crashed down a 20-foot embankment.

The two men crawled out of the truck and escaped with only minor burns and bumps. Four of the cattle were killed and 11 were injured in the crash and fire which started when the gasoline tank exploded. Scribner firemen responded.

Mr. Kay, who was a distance behind in another truck, reached the scene soon after the accident occurred.

Have Double Tragedy. Double tragedy befell the Alex Taylor family of Verdell, last week when one child died and another was accidentally killed. The 5-month-old baby died in South Dakota where Mrs. Taylor was visiting. Alexander, 5, was accidentally shot by a playmate when the children found a revolver in an old trunk.

Prisoner of War Tells of Safety

Letters and Packages Are Appreciated by Youth In German Camp.

Pvt. Berton Borg, prisoner of war number 30239 interned by Germany at Stalag 5B in Germany, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Borg of Wakefield, reports in letters written from there of his well being and safety.

The first word the Borgs received of Berton's capture was a cablegram sent through Vatican City in Rome dated March 6. Since then Mrs. Borg has heard from Pvt. Borg in letters dated March 17 and 19 and April 4. The 19-year-old youth was captured at Kasserene pass in Africa during the Tunisian campaign. He knows of no other men of this vicinity besides himself who sailed from Ireland with the invasion fleet at the opening of the campaign.

Each prisoner is allowed to write two letters and two cards a month. Pvt. Borg asked for as much chocolate and as many cigars as possible. Packages may be sent to him every 60 days under labels issued by the national government. Food items, clothing, tobacco and books can be sent in certain quotas. He also speaks of the weekly Red Cross parcel every prisoner receives consisting of foods of all kinds, meat, vegetables, candy, cocoa, coffee and so forth.

Pvt. Borg can receive letters as often and as many as friends will write, but due to the rationing of his replies he cannot answer.

Young Folks Wed At Rites in West

Miss Luella French Bride Of Pfc. John Hansen at Wenatchee, Wash.

Miss Luella Pearl French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. French of Carroll, became the bride of Pfc. John Hansen, son of Mrs. Marie Hansen of Wayne, at a double ring ceremony in the Methodist church at Wenatchee, Wash., Saturday evening, July 17, at 6 o'clock. Rev. Joseph H. Beall read the service.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Dolores French, and the bridegroom by his tent mate, Cpl. George P. Rushoniski of Connecticut. Both men are stationed at the army air base at Ephrata, where Pfc. Hansen is with the 395th bomb group of the 58th bomb squad.

The bride wore a two-piece street dress in flying blue crepe with lace trim and white accessories. Her hat was a drop beret, in flying blue. She also wore a necklace of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Her corsage was of pink roses and stephanotis.

The bridesmaid wore a one-piece frock in beige silk poplin with luggage tan accessories, and a corsage of Talisman roses.

After the ceremony the bridal party enjoyed a four-course dinner in the Mirror room at the Cascadian hotel. The dinner was carried out in pink and white, and table center piece was a two-tiered wedding cake iced in white and decorated with pink rose buds.

In addition to the bridal party, guests at the wedding and dinner were T. Sgt. Walter E. Harris of Pennsylvania, and Cpl. Richard Statham of Los Angeles, the last two stationed at Ephrata air base.

The bride was graduated as an honor student from Laurel high school and from the Wayne State Teachers college. She has been teaching near Laurel and Carroll for the past six years. She is now living at 411 Douglas street, where she and her sister expect to remain while Pfc. Hansen is stationed at Ephrata.

The bridegroom was previously stationed at Atlantic City, N. J., and at Camp Crowder, Missouri. Before his induction in December, 1942, he farmed near Carroll.

Brenna Go-Getters. Brenna Go-Getters 4-H club met July 16 in the Martin Willers home with seven members present. The county 4-H fair and keeping records were discussed. The management of baby beehives in hot weather, care of animals and control of flies were also considered. Bernhard Spittgerber and Mrs. Henry Willers were guests. Mrs. Martin Willers served luncheon.

Suffers Broken Arm. Alvin, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rewinkel, broke his right arm near the wrist Thursday when he fell.

Jeweler At Laurel Converts Antiques Into Jungle Knives

Laurel, Neb.—Roy L. Lathrop, Laurel jeweler, whose hobby is the collection of antique knives, rifles, pistols, shotguns and bayonets, is turning part of his collection to good use in the war effort.

He has given four "jungle raider knives" to marines from the Laurel area.

One of the knives, made from a nine-inch bayonet, went to Pvt. bus Jeffrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jeffrey, Laurel, who is overseas. Another, made from a 72-year-old antique French bayonet with a 23-inch blade, went to Cpl. John Smith, stationed at Goat Island, San Francisco. A similar weapon went to Leo Nielsen, son of Hans Nielsen of Laurel, who recently enlisted in the marines.

The fourth knife, made from an old stiletto, dangles from the belt of Cpl. George E. Kappelman, nephew of George Walters, Laurel, and son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kappelman, Millsboro, S. D.

Cpl. Kappelman, a three-year marine, was awarded the purple heart after suffering six serious wounds during the naval battles of the Marshall and Gilbert islands last February. A deck gunner, he continued firing at Japanese bombers until he dropped unconscious by his gun. As souvenirs he has a bullet which was extracted from his back and half of a three-inch shell taken from his body.

Schooling Provided In Navy Program

The navy is making college training a reality for hundreds of Nebraska's young men through a variety of academic programs. Students majoring in engineering, science, medicine, dentistry, liberal arts and theology are continuing their work as apprentice seamen, at navy expense, and will be eligible for midshipman training leading to commissioning as officers in the naval service after they have completed prescribed courses. Nebraska men interested in any of these programs should write room 820, WOW building, Omaha before August 4 or office of naval procurement, 208 old federal building, Des Moines, after that date.

NOTICE

The annual meeting of the lot owners of the Greenwood Cemetery Association of Wayne, Nebraska, will be held Tuesday, August 17, 1943, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the State National Bank, Wayne, Nebraska.

Carl Lambrechts Save Two From Home Destroyed by Fire Near Winside.

Jeanette and Joy Ann Lambrecht, small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lambrecht, who reside on a farm five miles northwest of Winside, were severely burned about 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, July 22, when flames from an exploding oil stove in their home shot against them as they stood on the porch.

The condition of the children is described as fairly good. Mr. and Mrs. Lambrecht are staying with their daughters. Jeanette was given a blood transfusion Friday.

The farm home and its contents and a wash house were destroyed by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambrecht were doing chores when the oil stove exploded and they rushed to the house after hearing the screams of their daughters. The flames caused by the explosion were hurled against the girls, their clothing being set on fire. After rescuing their children, Mr. and Mrs. Lambrecht took them to the home of the former's brother, Albert Lambrecht, while Mr. Lambrecht drove to the home of a neighbor, H. C. Hansen, who turned in the fire alarm and summoned help. There was no phone at the Lambrecht home.

The Winside fire department and neighbors responded to the call immediately but were unable to save the burning structure. Several other nearby buildings were saved.

Insurance was carried on the home and its contents.

Relatives rushed the Lambrecht children to Winside where first aid was administered by Dr. D. O. Craig, who immediately took them to a Norfolk hospital. Jeanette, who is 4 years old, was burned about the face, arms and legs, while her sister, age 15 months, is suffering from burns on her face.

Mrs. Lambrecht suffered burns on her neck and arms, as she rescued her daughter, Jeanette. Mr. Lambrecht, who saved the younger daughter, escaped injury. Mr. and Mrs. Lambrecht are unable to tell what caused the oil stove to explode, as Mrs. Lambrecht checked it at the time she left the house to assist with the chores and found it to be working properly.

The Winside firemen, who purchased a new rural fire truck two months ago, used the truck for the first time on Thursday.

Severely Burned By Tractor Fluid

Don Walker, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker of near Hoxby, Kan., sustained severe burns about the face, shoulders, arms and neck last Wednesday when the hot solution from a tractor radiator splashed over him as he removed the radiator cap.

Wedding Service Is Held In East

Miss Dorothy Horrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horrell of Wayne, and Joseph Rohan of Pittsburg, Pa., were married July 14 at Baltimore, Md. The former is a course in a Baltimore hospital and the latter is stationed at Fort George Meade, Md.

Wind Accompanies Storm. Wind accompanied the storm that struck Norfolk area Tuesday night last week. Blatting rain and breaking tree limbs. The rain amounted to 1.52 inches.

England may have to intervene with troops to settle the trouble in Egypt. I am going to enjoy a good sleep of six months and come out with the bears in the spring." So writes T/S Elwayne Fleetwood.

"I found a dance band up here to go around with so I am happy." The Wayne youth expresses appreciation for weekly visits of the Herald.

Takes Special Study.

Special training in radio-weather is being taken by Pfc. Weldon Haas, who was recently transferred from California to Fort Monmouth, N. J. "Our work is largely concerned with a relatively new radio apparatus adapted to weather forecasting. It is a small two-pound instrument consisting of a radio transmitter, a barograph, a thermometer and hygrometer, carried aloft by hydrogen-filled balloon. As it rises through the atmosphere it sends the data back to a ground station that receives, amplifies and records it. Our class will be the first to receive instruction in one of the very latest developments perfected at the Eaton-town laboratories near here.

"Our group that came from the Grand Rapids weather school is still in the air corps but attached to the signal corps. We live and go to school with the signal corps boys and they are a regular bunch of fellows. They are doing a good job and have a hard one to do too."

The young man says the "Herald has been a welcome companion on all my wanderings. I'll always remember how glad we—170 of us—were when the Herald came to us while in California. We were quarantined for almost five weeks with the Herald our main source of reading material. So my copy was enjoyed by 170 fellows."

Earns Commission At Officer School

Eugene F. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom W. Johnson of Wayne, was graduated from engineer officer candidate school at Fort Belvoir, Va., July 21, and he was commissioned second lieutenant in the U. S. army.

The young man entered service August 21, 1941, and was stationed in the Aleutians for many months. Lt. Johnson's wife is the former Marian Walker of Sioux City. The officer attended Wayne high school and college. He was a linotype operator before going into service.

of Fort Worth, Texas, were married June 10 by Judge Martin DeVrie at Long Beach, Cal. Glenn Wallace, formerly of Wayne, and Mrs. Ida May Crabtree of Bakersfield, friend of the bride, attended the couple. Pvt. and Mrs. Somerville at Bakersfield.

The bride wore light blue spring suit, and the bridesroom wore military dress suit.

Pvt. Somerville writes that he will be happy when all the Wayne boys can return home. He finds the Herald a great morale builder.

Is Assigned Added Duties At Wendover

T. Sgt. Robert C. Adams, Wayne, recently has been assigned first sergeant of the first squadron, Wendover, Utah, in conjunction with his present duties as chief clerk of base administrative inspectors office.

Bob, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Adams, enlisted in the armed forces June 18, 1941, and two months later was sent, as part of a small cadre, to activate Wendover, a field that is now one of the nation's most important training schools for heavy bomber crews and aerial gunners.

Despite the many responsible tasks now resting on the sergeant's shoulders, he manages to have the best drilled squadron on the field. Awarded the honor ribbons by Lt. Colonel Robert N. Dippy, base commander, Bob proudly says, "We're going to keep on winning them too."

Air Medal Awarded To Clair K. Benser

At an impressive parade review held recently at the Tonopah bombing and gunnery range, Tonopah, Nev., Warrant Officer Clair K. Benser of the personnel section of base headquarters was awarded the air medal, specific United States decoration for feats of heroism and meritorious service in the air.

Mr. Benser, 34, was born in Hoskins, and lived there for 11 years. A 1927 graduate of Turlock, Cal., high school, Mr. Benser later attended the San Francisco law school for four years. He enlisted in the air corps in October, 1939, at March field, Cal., and later was sent to the Aleutian islands.

Colonel Jacob W. McCrillis, commanding officer, conferred the medal upon Mr. Benser in the presence of officers and enlisted personnel of the base, and wives and friends of military personnel.

The air medal was ordered struck by President Roosevelt in executive order May 11, 1942, to be awarded members of the army, navy, marines and coast guard for "meritorious achievement while participating in an aerial flight." With the exception of the distinguished flying cross, this is the only specific decoration for feats of heroism and meritorious service in the air.

The citation, under which Mr. Benser and a group of officers and enlisted men were named for the award, reads:

"By direction of the president under authority contained in radio of August 24, 1942, from the commanding general, western defense command and fourth army, the following named officers and enlisted men, for the meritorious acts of essential service in making repeated day and night over-water instrument flights during icing conditions in the western Aleutian island area to attack an armed enemy of the United States, in actions between June 3, 1942, and July 5, 1942, are awarded the air medal."

Warrant Officer Benser was serving as a bombardier at the time for which he was cited for the medal and held the rank of staff sergeant. He is a former resident of San Bernardino, Cal.

Stanton Man Tells Of Bombing Raids

Stanton, Neb., July 22—Sgt. Marvin Schellpeper, Stanton, who returned home this week after completing 50 missions in the Flying Fortress, "Mickey Finn," over enemy territory, will report to a training center as an instructor after his furlough ends.

A lower turret gunner, he was on six raids over Germany and France before going to Africa where he completed 44 missions over Bizerte, Tunis, Sfax, Sousse and many cities in Sardinia, Sicily and Italy.

"Flying over enemy territory is hell, but it's a lot of fun," he said. "Sometimes it is not as bad as others. The thing that keeps our morale up going to and coming from the target is the interphone system. With that we can talk back and forth to anyone on the ship. Usually we sing different songs and sometimes four or five of us are singing at one time. Once in a while someone will pop up with a good story and we all have a good laugh."

Plenty of Flak.

"When we are getting near the target our pilot will cut in to tell us we are in enemy territory and to watch for pursuit (enemy) planes. So we then settle down to business. Sometimes we see them before we get our bombs dropped, but even if we don't they usually always have plenty of anti-aircraft flak up there by us."

Sometimes the anti-aircraft bursts are so close they raise the ship five feet or more in the air, Sgt. Schellpeper said. "We can even hear them explode and sometimes hear the shrapnel hit parts of the plane, but we keep on flying with one engine or four, whatever our luck happens to be."

"When the fighters start coming in on us, we forget all about the flak and put all our thoughts on them, trying to knock them out of the sky, or putting so much lead out there, they have to turn. After the fighters are shot down and chased away we again begin talking on the interphones, telling how close the holes are to you, how your tractor were going to the fighters, and how the bombs hit, making the mission a success, for that was what we were sent for, to destroy the target and come back."

'Never Let It Down.'

"I might even say once we came back with one engine and many times with only two or three. But Mickey Finn never let us down."

"I don't know how to express the feeling one gets when we get home and walk away from the plane. When we get out an officer will interview us on the mission. Then we get on the truck to get coffee and doughnuts from the Red Cross tent. We then go back to our area, eat supper and go to bed very tired. In the morning we get up and pray we'll be able to sleep in our beds again that night and every night until this war is over and we're back home again."

Sgt. Schellpeper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schellpeper, Stanton, has been in the service two years, and is now enjoying his first furlough home in that time.

Wish Is Reality As Phone Rings

Housekeeping Is Perilous Business at Times, Man In East Testifies.

"Wouldn't it be wonderful," Mrs. Margaret Wilkes was writing to her husband, Lt. S. M. Wilkes, an army doctor in the south Pacific, "if while I'm writing here the telephone would ring and it would be you back in the United States calling from San Francisco to tell us that you are coming home on leave." The telephone rang. It was Lt. Wilkes, calling from San Francisco on route home on leave.

Charles Pesantis, an American Brass company employe, Waterbury, Conn., knows now that housekeeping has its perils. With his wife about to enter the hospital, Pesantis undertook to mop the floor. He slipped, and his foot struck a table. Ten stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Some of Utah's old-age pensioners are refusing to accept increases in their monthly checks ordered recently by Governor Herbert B. Maw. One woman, the flabbergasted state welfare office reported, returned a $40 check at Salt Lake City. She never spent more than $30 a month, she said, and what in the world would she do with $40?

The Missouri river, backing up behind Fort Peck dam, had driven some of John Town's neighbors at Roy, Mont., from their homes—but not John. He jacked up his 10-room house. Furthermore, he'll keep jacking it up ahead of the river until winter—then slide it across the ice onto higher ground.

The Salt Lake City ration board wrote the Johnson Metal Works asking why it was 10 months behind in filling maximum service prices. The board received this answer: "No ceiling. No bottom. No shop. Boss gone fighting. Men gone fighting. Dog gone fighting."

Roots, $200 to $300 a month; washing $20 for a dozen pieces; apples, $5 each; eggs, $1 a piece; loaf of bread, 75 cents. Don't rush to the OPA—those prices were charged back in the 1850 gold rush days in San Francisco. The Chronicle printed that list with a survey of today's restaurant prices.

At Dallas, Tex., J. S. Marshburn protested hotly that he hadn't been speeding, but nevertheless paid his fine. Police decided to check their speedometer, just in case. It registered 12 miles an hour too fast. Marshburn got his money back—plus a note of apology.

Okoboji Airport Is Under Remote Control Operation

Okoboji, Ia.—Stanley Fuller is probably the only airport manager in the United States, who operates an active airport by remote control. He has lived at Wayne, Neb., for several years and there operates the State Teachers college port and course of instruction for flying. He comes home every summer week-end.

Fuller has taken thousands of passengers up in his plane, from the Spirit Lake municipal airport, which is a mile north of Okoboji. Fuller's airport here is one of the smallest in the nation. In reality, it consists of a runway between two cornfields on the Roy J. Smith farm and is wide enough for two planes to land or take off at once. There is a big hangar, built about 10 years ago, and it is a busy place in the summertime when business men commute by plane to and from their family summer homes around the lakes.

It is not only one of the smallest of the pocket-handkerchief airports but is also one of the few small airports that remains open since the war began. Except for the time required for organization of the airports, this has not been closed.

Fuller began to fly when he was just a tousled-haired lad who "hung around" wherever a motor was to be found. After the last war, the Donaldson Bros. brought an airplane to Milford and kept it in a private hangar in a pasture on the edge of Milford.

Fuller was constantly under foot in the hangar, a novelty back in 1920. He has been flying ever since, all kinds of planes in all kinds of weather and for all kinds of reasons. He has been in a flying circus, has used his plane for ambulance and passenger service, and used it for Roland Kuzmak's famous "bat man" flights. He knows all of the fancy things an airplane can do, but he is conservative about his flying and holds to everything that means safety in the air. He has never had a serious accident, although he has had a long succession of ships and models.

Hundreds and possibly thousands of young men and women have learned to fly at the controls of his ships. At Wayne he now has six young men to assist him and in the course of this summer will have 300 fledgling aviators. He taught flying on a large scale first at Spearfish, S. D.

Pupils Downing Zeross He knows the young fellows who are shooting down Jap Zeross and German fighters. He taught a great many of them how to fly. They now send him greetings from the battlefields. Officially he is president of the Spirit Lake airport, with Neil Radke its active manager. C. J. Gibson, a former guard at the Anamosa state reformatory, is the field guard and special policeman. The aviator is the son of the late Dr. Q. C. Fuller of Milford, one of Iowa's widely known old country practitioners. He never became convinced that airplanes are safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Homefront and Family
OH - I FORGOT TO ORDER THE TELEPHONE CHANGED
I TOOK CARE OF IT - AND WE'RE KIND OF LUCKY TO GET SERVICE TOO - WITH THE SHORTAGE OF MATERIALS AND EVERYTHING.
MRS. HOMEFRONT: "I know—some folks haven't been able to get service."
MR. HOMEFRONT: "That's right—and we have to take two-party line service."
WHAT'S THAT?
THAT'S OUR NEW TELEPHONE
MR. HOMEFRONT: "Had to take the type of telephone that was available—new telephones are not being made any more because the materials are needed for war equipment."
IT WORKS O.K.
SURE - BUT REMEMBER WE'RE NOW ON A PARTY LINE SO YOU'LL NEED TO SHARE THE SERVICE WITH THE OTHER FAMILY
BECAUSE of the shortage of materials, government restrictions have been placed on telephone services and equipment which sometimes make it impossible to establish service for a new customer or for one who moves to a new location.
We are doing our best with the equipment we have to provide as good service as we can. If we can't supply you with the service or equipment you want, we know you'll understand it is because war needs must come first.
