

Consideration of postwar education, under auspices of the A. A. U. W., Thursday night, as reported elsewhere in today's Herald, six men and women taking the lead, aroused few serious conflicts of opinion. All seemed to agree that spiritual values transcend all other values in importance and that opportunities for culture should not be restricted to any one group.

It was agreed that anything may be done easier and better with the aid of education. The program on lived thought along a road that will soon open for practical performance.

After dealing with early-day lack of essential student inspiration and offering other suggestions not directly germane to the subject, the Herald editor made these contributions: "What I shirked rather than what I accomplished may well touch fire to the intellectual quest. I sidestepped Latin as impractical, not appreciating its root values, nor its stimulating influence. Every dead language mastered gives important mental stimulus. Every live language annexed to one's knowledge, gives convenience and facility, makes life more confident and secure. Learning foreign languages will place Americans more nearly in rapport with other nations of the world. If we can speak in the tongues of alien peoples, we can easier present to them the pattern of democracy and better lead them to understand our motives and intentions. Looking from a restricted sphere of learning, we feel warranted in urging greater knowledge along all lines, and to suggest that the apparently impractical is richly practical in training and furnishing mental equipment for service.

"After World War I the schools sensed an enlarged responsibility, and they produced notable results in measuring up to it. For the coming postwar period they are preparing to contribute liberally and helpfully to what they hope will be a permanent—an enriched peace basis. Their vision has been lifted and their objectives more rationally outlined. They propose to exterminate Hitler heresies by cultivating values of the will and spirit. They expect to follow weapons of war by concepts of peace based on understanding. Peace and ethics travel hand in hand. We cannot be cold, unfeeling nationalists and preserve ourselves. We must cultivate a desire for what we have to offer, and we can do it through a sympathetic, constructive educational system. Some one said in effect that we must aim at the unattainable in order to realize the attainable.

"Felix Morley, president of the first grade college, said a school's highest service is to stimulate intellectual curiosity. A thoroughly rounded education that taps many mental wellsprings counts most in appreciation of values and in practical experience. More than 100 years ago Charles Dickens attacked a specious form of education in his story of Nicholas Nickleby. Squeets, an avaricious brute in charge of Dotheboys' Hall, was no practical. The modern Tugwells are too impractical. Their dizzy brains are apparently unable to sense things that will work, and they graciously permit the public to pay the freight. People have generally discovered, if the Tugwells have not, that theories—valuable feeders for mental gymnastics—usually fall flat under the test of hard experience.

"The line between over-indulgence and harmful restraint is not easy to find. Too much vocational training that sacrifices academic knowledge, is an argument in support of a well-balanced education. Someone has said that 'educational stress on the vocational idea leads toward purblind materialism; exclusive stress on the liberal arts leads toward intellectual and spiritual decadence.' "It is vital not to belittle the mental speculations of young persons. Don't make them think they are inferior to Socrates that they dare not express an opinion in conflict with that of the Greek sage. One may acquire knowledge in many directions if he has the will to do it, and it is up to the school system to incite the will. Modern buildings and latest facilities will not lead to basic facts and high understanding without inspiration. Fuse into each young person an eagerness to learn and to evaluate. Winkle Barr, president of St. John's college, said an ordinary boy can do extraordinary work if his interest is captured. Do not permit the head of the class to laugh at the foot. In later years the head may need a job from the foot.

"The present world conflict should teach us to study alien doctrines—not to adopt them, but to broaden understanding of what we do not want, and what we should contemplate and combat as out of harmony with democratic institutions. Poverty with liberty is more to be desired than security with sympathy. Autocrats are now fighting gained power by doing out meagerly sustaining diatribes to

SIXTY SECOND YEAR

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1943.

NUMBER TWENTY-FIVE

Would Put Fathers At Bottom of List

Compromise Measure Will Be Presented Congress For Ratification.

No father anywhere in the nation would be called while a non-father is available for selective service, if a compromise making this provision, is ratified by both the senate and house in Washington. The senate had been deadlocked on the matter until Tuesday when the agreement was reached by conferees.

"The measure would direct that fathers with children born before September 15, 1942, be placed at the bottom of the draft list and none be inducted if a non-father is available for call by any local draft board anywhere. Non-fathers deferred because of employment on vital war work would not, however, be classed as available."

One effect of the bill would be to nullify the order that "non-essential" workers be inducted without regard to whether or not they have dependents. As finally approved the compromise provides for appointment of a commission to determine whether army and navy physical standards can be lowered to permit induction of some men now classified as 4-F (physically, mentally or morally not up to army-navy standards).

The measure also provides that registrants may request and receive physical examination if they are subject to a possible early call for induction.

Frank P. Traster Passes in Wayne

Funeral Service Conducted In Wayne Tuesday For Elderly Resident.

Frank P. Traster, nearly 88, passed away in Wayne Sunday morning. He had been up listening to his favorite radio programs Saturday and became suddenly ill that evening when he was taken to a hospital for care.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church with Rev. B. Proett and the Beckenhauer service in charge. Prof. Russell Anderson, accompanied by Prof. Albert G. Carlson, sang "Ten Thousand Times Ten" and "Crossing the Bar." Prof. Carlson also played church from "The New World Symphonies" by Dvorak as an organ selection. Willard Wiltske took the body to Altamont, Kan., Tuesday evening to the home of Ralph E. Traster where rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon. Burial followed at Edna, Kan. Miss Stella Traster was the only other one going from here.

Frank P. Traster, son of Daniel and Maria Shigton Traster, was born near Wooster, in Wayne county, Ohio, February 28, 1856. He attended the Northern Ohio Normal school at Ada and Illinois Normal university at Bloomington. At 16 he began a teaching career which included service in Ohio, Illinois, Nebraska and Kansas schools. Nebraska's herd law

Lorna Gay Asmus Is Ill with Polio

Child at Winside Is Fourth Stricken This Fall in That Community.

"Lorna Gay Asmus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Asmus of near Winside, a year old September 17, is the fourth child in Winside vicinity to develop polio this fall. She was taken to an Omaha hospital for treatment Thursday by her mother and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, the last named a sister of the child. Her mother is staying with her.

Lorna Gay is just learning to walk and her parents noticed weakness in her left limb. They consulted a local doctor who advised that she be taken to Omaha specialists. LaDonna Ulrich of Winside, is improving in the same Omaha hospital where she has received treatment for some weeks. Marvin Brummond is home after receiving care in Sioux City. Richard Walde, the first victim of the disease, passed away early this fall.

Accepts Position At Notre Dame

W. Harvey Neely, jr., has resigned his position as superintendent of the Heartwell, Neb., schools and has accepted a position as professor at Notre Dame university, South Bend, Ind. He is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Neely who formerly lived east of Wayne.

ASSOCIATE EDITOR RECEIVES SHOWER OF BIRTHDAY CARDS

THE ASSOCIATE editor was a surprised recipient of a flood of birthday greeting cards last week—mostly from mothers of boys in the armed forces. Her active interest in the Herald's morale-building efforts among Wayne county soldiers doubtless prompted these thoughtful expressions. She did not suppose anyone outside the Herald's immediate circle knew the date of her birth, and thus this evidently planned breath from heaven was an entirely unexpected as it was thoroughly appreciated. It was November 12 at Klamath Falls, Ore.—really a long time ago, though under the spotlight of recollection it seems but yesterday. At that time Klamath Falls was 65 miles from a railroad, and the steep Cascades were in the way. No telephones and no automobiles gave convenience. The doctor engaged to preside had been called out of town, and the other one there were two in a county as big as Massachusetts—had answered a summons to a distant point. What a terrific mental impact! But a courageous old lady of experience was on hand, and she turned an occasion of agonizing fears into one of delightful triumph. And what high satisfaction unfolded from that November 12! We think her brightest recollections are those involved in doing acts of kindness and in breathing hope into faltering footsteps. We think her darkest memory fastens to October 12, 1935, when her eldest sister and close companion was taken away. Of course, this appreciation is amplified without her knowledge or consent.

War Fund Drive In Final Stage

Expect to Realize Quota Providing that Final Reports Are Good. Wayne county has now subscribed about $4,250 to the united war fund drive. If the reports yet to come in average about the same as others, Chairman C. P. Harrison expects that the quota of $5,200 can be realized. W. R. Scribner notified Mr. Harrison Wednesday that Carroll will reach its quota of $210. Twelve school districts are yet to report. One district, No. 15, increased its total by $32.70 the past week. Any persons or groups missed in the solicitation may leave contributions with Mr. Harrison, H. E. Ley or Floyd Conger. All gifts will be most acceptable. All are urged by Mr. Harrison to help conclude the drive by Saturday this week. On College Campus. Student council sponsored the united war fund drive on the college campus. Frances Ahern, treasurer of the student council, and Mary Jane Schumacher, president, directed the drive and they were assisted by all council members. The second week of the drive the world student service fund committee, with Frances Ahern as chairman, cooperated in the drive. In addition to contributions by individuals, contributions were received from many organizations on the campus: Neuhardt hall, Pils hall, International Relations club, Kappa Mu Epsilon, Lambda Delta, Lambda, Kutz club, Orpheo club, Physical Science club, Pi Omega Pi, Sigma Tau Delta, Alpha Psi Omega, Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., and the student council. The total collected for the fund was slightly over $400.

Rites Conducted In Wayne Church

Services for Mrs. W. A. Behl And Infant Son Held in Wayne Sunday.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon, November 14, at 4 o'clock in the Methodist church here for Mrs. W. A. Behl, 33, who passed away November 9 at a hospital in Montgomery, Ala. A large concourse of relatives and friends gathered for the service and a wealth of flowers was a silent expression of esteem for the young matron. Dr. Victor West officiated. "Of Love That Will Not Let Me Go" was sung by Miss Evelyn Patrick, Prof. and Mrs. John R. Keith and Orville Brandstetter, and "Crossing the Bar" was a solo by Prof. Russell Anderson. Mrs. J. T. Bressler, jr., was accompanist. Funeral Directors Henry Schultz of Stanton, F. I. Solso of Laurel, and Roosevelt Peterson of Wayne, took charge for the Beckenhauer mortuary for Mrs. Behl and her son. The body of Mrs. Behl lay in state at the church Sunday from 2:30 until 4. Mrs. Behl underwent a Caesarian operation October 31 and her infant son lived only a short time that day. Mrs. Behl was given several transfusions but she rallied only temporarily. The bodies of Mrs. Behl and her infant son reached Sioux City by train last Thursday evening and

Symphony Appears In Formal Concert

Public Is Invited to Attend Program Scheduled at College Tuesday.

Wayne State Teachers college symphony band, directed by Prof. John R. Keith, presents its first formal concert of the season Tuesday evening, November 23, at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium. Aviation students will be special guests. The public is invited, and no admission is charged. The 40 students comprising the symphony have unusual talent, so an exceptional concert is promised. The program will feature South American numbers, a medley of service songs and swing novelties. Principal numbers are "Judgment," by de Nardis, "Headlines," by Colby, and "Mannin Veeh," by Wood. A novelty number, "The Band that Jack Built," will present each section of the band in a specialty.

Good Crowd at Dance

A good number attended the Armistice day dance sponsored by Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

To Hunt Pheasants For Dinner Soon

Pheasant dinner is planned for the Chamber of Commerce December 10. Persons wishing to go in groups to do hunting for this occasion are asked to contact H. E. Ley, R. E. Marek or the Chamber of Commerce office.

Service Center Fund Gets Start

A dance at Norfolk Saturday evening and one at Wakefield Thursday evening for Dixon county Legion and Auxiliary established a fund of $50 for the proposed downtown service center for Wayne aviation students. About $200 of the amount was realized at Norfolk and the rest at Wakefield. With the sum on hand and what the detachment expects to realize in future entertainments and dances, Capt. M. F. Rose thinks that the amount will be sufficient to establish the center by early January. It is the present plan to use the E. E. Gailey building across from the Gay theatre for the center.

South Sioux City Winner in Game

South Sioux City football team defeated Wayne high 14 to 0 in an Armistice day game here this closing of the season. Wayne won four, lost four and tied one game this fall. Basketball practice starts next week. Senior class sponsored a high school dance Tuesday evening. Thanksgiving vacation will include November 25 and 26. "Almost Eighteen" is the play to be presented by juniors early in December with L. J. MacDowell director. In the cast are the following: Wm. Barry, Don Kanzler; Grace Barry, Carla Wright; Beatrice Barry, Marilyn Mildner; Mahel Warren, Allyn Smolksi; Mrs. Granville, Eleanor Bentback; Eddie Barry, Morris Sandahl; George

Property Is Resold By Wayne Council

In a special meeting Monday evening, Wayne city council sold the former Conger property near the court house to E. F. Shields for $1,275. At a previous meeting the council took the same action. Aftward C. H. Hendrickson claimed that his bid of $1,000 with provision to pay $600 in back taxes was higher. The council decided to hold a special meeting to take bids again. Hendrickson did not have a bid entered Monday and Mr. Shields was high bidder.

OLD AGE PENSION TAX IS RAISED

Old age pension tax, payable with personal taxes, is now $3 a head for persons between 21 and 65. The legislature changed this from the previous $2 per head taxed those between 21 and 50 years.

Marries at Norfolk

Dale Ames, who is employed in the Larson store, was married in Norfolk Wednesday.

Army Air Students to Be Thanksgiving Guests

Young Men of Unit Will Be Entertained in Homes of This Community. Thanksgiving day dinner invitations to homes of the community for all army air students of Wayne college detachment is the objective of a movement sponsored by Wayne Woman's club and the Chamber of Commerce. By Wednesday requests for guests were sufficient to take about one-third of the unit.

Seniors to Sponsor Stunt Night Here

Seniors will sponsor annual stunt night program at the college December 10. As usual, the proceeds will go to the student loan fund.

Special Programs Given at College

Armistice Day Is Observed And Aviation Students Appear Tuesday. Armistice day convocation was held at the college November 11 when the college band, directed by Prof. John R. Keith, played the Seabees song and then, directed by Frank Gamble, an alumnus, who is now a member of the navy band in Washington, D. C., they played Anchors Aweigh. Dr. Geo. Seeck conducted a short devotion reading from John 3. The chorus, led by Prof. Russell Anderson, sang the American Creed.

Student Musicales Planned for Today

The college music department is presenting a piano concert tonight at 7:30 in the college auditorium. The program will consist of solo and ensemble numbers. Two piano quartets, "March Militaire," by Schubert, and "Comedy Overture," by Keler-Bela, played at two pianos, will be featured. The players in the quartet are Martha Cresslin, Elinor Soderberg, Merle Ring and Ronald Sauber. Other performers appearing are Joanne Baird, Iris Knautfeld, Mary Claire Jordan, Eleanor Gustafson, Rosemary Beckmann, Patricia Sloan and Maxine Bartels. A group of pupils from the training school piano class will play short selections at this program. Prof. Albert G. Carlson has prepared and directed the production. There is no admission charge.

December Quota Set for County

Wayne county has received a call of about 12 to take examinations for selective service December 5. Some volunteers will help supply the number. A few fathers will likely be called.

Men Accepted for Training In This Month's Call Will Leave Soon

Wayne county has received a call of about 12 to take examinations for selective service December 5. Some volunteers will help supply the number. A few fathers will likely be called. Of the Wayne county men going to Fort Crook November 5 for examination for selective service, Stanley Jens Haglund was accepted for the marines; John Paulsen, who volunteered, was accepted for the navy; and Lloyd Bradford, Frederick George Puls and Ralph Robert Germeroth were accepted for the army. James William Lewis, Donald Dean Sieckman and Clyde Riley Hart, who transferred here from other places; training. The first two go to army training and the last named to the marines. Henry Joseph Harmerer and Harry Ellis Fisher, also in the November call, transferred from Wayne county to California and reports on them have not yet returned. The army men in this month's call go November 27, reporting at Fort Leavenworth. The navy and marine men go at different times. Orville Sherry and Alford Awiszus, in the October quota, left for Fort Leavenworth last Friday.

Needs in Service Considered First

Classification Plan Used in Armed Forces Told to Kiwanis Club. To provide the armed forces with immediate needs and to fit young men into services for which they are best suited are the two principal aims of the classification division of the armed forces. Lt. Aldo Molinari told Kiwanians Monday. Lt. Molinari, who came from the adjutant general's school at Fort Washington, Md., where he took instruction in classification, reports November 19 at Drew field, Fla. He was introduced by Dr. C. T. Ingham.

Growth Is Large In Power Service

Rural Electric Lines in Wayne County District Are Aid to Many. Wayne county rural public power district, this week entering its fifth year of supplying electric service to farmers and other rural consumers in this area, shows great progress since its start. Citing the progress of the cooperative since its lines were first energized November 17, 1939, Manager Emil Dupsky states that the system had only 164 consumers at the end of its first month of operation. Today it furnishes electric service to 632 consumers along 310 miles of distribution lines in Wayne, Thurston, Cedar, Dixon, Cumming and Pierce counties. Farm members of the cooperative have come to depend more and more on electric equipment to save labor and increase production of such vital foods as milk, eggs, poultry and meats. Mr. Dupsky said. The 381 farms served consumed an average of 70 kilowatt hours in September as compared with 69 kWh a year ago.

Air Unit Will Open Pre-Holiday Season

FOUR HOLIDAYS IN SIXTY-DAY PERIOD VARY USUAL ORDER

THE ARMISTICE day holiday started a 60-day period within which four days invite the populace to suspend accustomed activities. Following Armistice will be Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's. Thanksgiving comes Thursday as usual, this year, on November 25. Therefore, on account of no mail delivery on the holiday, the Herald will next week issue one day earlier than customary. Thus, we will ask correspondents and other news contributors, as well as advertisers, to push ahead one day in reaching us with copy. Christmas and New Year's will come Saturday, and will put the busiest point of the week out of joint. Trade will be advanced to satisfy buying requirements. The winter solstice, marking the juncture of least daylight, will arrive December 22. Ancients celebrated the event, but Christian civilization got us out of the habit.

Kiwanians Are to Sponsor Usual Christmas Music Feature in Wayne.

Aviation students of Wayne college detachment start off pre-holiday festivities in Wayne Saturday, November 27, when they present a special marching and drill feature for the Chamber of Commerce. The unit will march in parade formation from the college to the business district, leaving the campus at 2:30. At the intersection of 2nd and Main streets the cadets will present a marine drill. They will then march back to the college.

Wayne Kiwanians will again sponsor a Christmas music feature, this to be Sunday evening, December 19, at the auditorium. In place of the usual presentation of the Messiah, the club will provide a program of Christmas, sacred and patriotic music by the college symphony band and choir. Wm. Beckenhauer, chairman, F. L. Blair, Herman Baehr, C. L. Pickett and Dean Clarence McGinn comprise the committee. Prof. John R. Keith and Prof. Russell Anderson are in charge.

Needs in Service Considered First

service forces. All who are not officers or warrant officers are called enlisted men, whether they volunteered or were drafted.

Have Detailed Records.
At the reception center each youth is interviewed by specialists to learn abilities and former experiences. All information goes onto a classification card which follows the youth everywhere. Minute details are recorded by means of tiny holes punched in cards. The classification is so detailed that if the army calls for 100 tall, single men knowing how to drive trucks, needles placed in the file at this classification will cause cards to drop out bearing the names of men filling this demand. This detailed system is called the McBee. Lt. Molinari explained that this plan is not only used in armed forces but is becoming popular in large industry.

Every effort is made to place youths according to their abilities, but the needs of the army come first. Often a man will have to follow one of his secondary abilities to fit such army demands. Perhaps a hobby of photography will bring him to immediate demand. Until such calls come, men are sent to special centers to receive training in lines for which they are best fitted. In each field the men are classified as potential, semi-skilled and skilled, depending on their ability and amount of training.

Organize in Divisions.
The speaker explained that a division is a setup of 14,000 men under a commanding general who selects his staff of officers and fills all quotas needed in various lines serving the division. After special training, the division goes on maneuvers. Later the men go to a replacement training center for coordinated experience. Usually they are granted furloughs and then the division leaves intact for overseas. Further training follows in the overseas area before the division goes into action.

More Mail Essential.
In closing Lt. Molinari pleaded for more mail for men in service. "Morale is spelled 'mail' with the armed forces. He urged all to write to those they know in the service because nothing is more disappointing than to answer mail call and get nothing.

Expects Holiday Plan.
Capt. M. H. Ross explained that holidays for the army are set by the government and Armistice day is not one of these. For this reason he could not allow students training here to be free that day. The commanding officer stated that air students have open post from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Thanksgiving day so that they may accept invitations to be in homes of the community that day.

President H. E. Simons turned to the public affairs committee the matter of helping Capt. Ross provide a service center for students. C. E. Carhart is chairman and others on the committee are Senator W. A. Crossland, Dr. J. T. Anderson and R. L. Larson.

Supt. J. W. Litherland, reporting for the "Keep America American" committee, said that corn picking and many new rural teachers had made some delay in the proposed programs in rural areas. Plans will go forward soon.

Officer Is Inaugurated.
Prof. O. R. Bowen, newly elected lieutenant-governor for division Five, was one of the officers of Iowa-Nebraska Kiwanis district inaugurated at Des Moines Wednesday this week. Dean Clarence McGinn read to the club Monday an invitation to attend the inaugural party and the conference held at the same time.

Chaplain A. J. Martin, first lieutenant, of Des Moines, and Lt. Molinari were guests of the club Monday. Chaplain Martin visits college detachments in Iowa and Nebraska at regular intervals.

Frank P. Traster Passes in Wayne

which allowed stock grazing on school lands induced deceased to come to this state soon after the Civil war.

While teaching at Hope, Kan., Mr. Traster met and married Alice Lowman. In the spring of 1886 the Trasters located on a farm near Clearwater, Kan. There their four children were born.

In addition to managing his farm, Mr. Traster continued teaching for some time. Later he became a carrier on one of the seven demonstration rural free routes established by the government to test the practicability of rural mail delivery.

In 1910 the Traster family located at Edna, Kan., where in 1916 the family was broken by the death of the mother. In 1918 Mr. Traster and his daughter, Miss Stella, established their home in Fredonia, Kan., moving to Wayne, Neb., in 1930.

Mr. Traster's interest in school and church remained unabated. Having been ordained an elder in the Presbyterian church, he served in this office in four congregations for a total of more than 35 years. He had been a Mason for many years.

Besides his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Edna Anderson of Shannon City, Iowa, preceded Mr. Traster in death. The children remaining to honor his memory are Ralph E. Traster of Altamont, Kan., Mrs. Ida Jonte of Beaumont, Texas, and Miss Stella Traster of Wayne, Neb. There are four grandchildren, Madison Traster of Altamont, Kan., Rev. R. Eugene Jonte of Beaumont, Texas, and Miss Norma Gean Traster of Altamont, Kan.

Pallbearers were Prof. A. F. Gulliver, T. S. Hook, Dr. C. A. McMaster, Paul Mines, Dr. W. G. Ingram and Dr. R. W. Casper, church elders, who have been associated with deceased on the session.

were brought to Wayne the same day. Lt. Behl, Wm. Beckenhauer, Mrs. Willard Wittse and Renee and Mrs. N. J. Pickett arrived by car from Montgomery Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Behl's maiden name was Alice Lillian Faye Beckenhauer. She was the third daughter of William and Lillian Beckenhauer and was born at Wayne April 14, 1910. She was graduated from Wayne high school and Wayne college. Her marriage to W. Auburn Behl took place here September 22, 1933. They lived in Pontiac, Mich., Evanston and DeKalb, Ill., Brooklyn, N. Y., and Northfield, Minn., before going south last February when Dr. Behl entered service. Lt. Behl is commanding officer of an army air unit at Maxwell field. He has an extension of his leave and departs next Tuesday.

Surviving Mrs. Behl are her husband, her father, Wm. Beckenhauer, three sisters, Mrs. John Volk of Williston, N. D., Mrs. Willard Wittse of Wayne, and Mrs. N. J. Pickett of Norfolk, a niece, Renee Wittse, and two nephews, Gene Volk and Rowan Wittse. Mrs. Volk will be here until next week.

Among those here from away for the funeral were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Behl, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Behl and family of Scotland, S. D., parents and brother of Lt. Behl; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Behl and son of Sioux Falls, the first named a brother of Lt. Behl; Miss Emma Beckenhauer of Topeka, Kan. and Mrs. Ann Paul of Superior, Neb., sisters of Mr. Beckenhauer, both of whom left Tuesday; Mrs. Elma Domescher of LeMars, Iowa, Dr. Emma Ackerman and Mrs. Stuart Rogers of Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heilman and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beckenhauer of West Point, Pvt. and Mrs. John Gerinsky of Mississippi, Lt. Kenneth Beckenhauer of Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beckenhauer, Mrs. Otto Beckenhauer, Mrs. Melvin Hatten and Mrs. Paul Barnes of Norfolk, Burton Graham of Topeka, Mr. and Mrs. Don Simpson of Sioux City, Mrs. Clare Wittse of Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gates of Plainville, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Whipperman and Mrs. Wm. Hugelmann of Wakfield, Mrs. Sara Tracy of Adams.

Aviation students from Wayne college detachment, who served as pallbearers, are A. M. Conklin, W. L. Budd, J. A. Sanberry, G. S. Freist, S. W. Rohrer and D. B. Barra.

Jones, Don; Tommie; Ann Sherman, Patty Love; Sally Davidson, Donna Granquist; Tommy Granville; Richard Sala; Mr. Merritt, Howard Sala; Miss Dalrymple, Jacqueline Wightman.

Junior High Notes.
Myla Lindsay, DeVee Reikofski and Shirley Jones lead in the spelling contest.

The 8th grade completed study of the Revolutionary war. New officers of the 7th citizenship club are: Billie Bentback, president; Marlene Sieckmann, vice president; Renee Berridge, secretary.

Reading classes have been working on a unit covering sentences, main ideas and details. Writing headlines from topic sentences emphasized the study of locating main ideas.

Renee Berridge leads in the 7th penmanship race, having completed the first unit ahead of her classmates.

Sixth Grade Items.
In spelling race, Maurice Proett was the only one whose airplane was moved ahead last week.

Mrs. Ralph Carhart visited one afternoon last week.

In science study of prehistoric animals and fossils, pupils made plaster of Paris mold to illustrate how a mold fossil may be formed. Art class has been busy making illustrations, placecards and other things suitable to Thanksgiving.

Carroll Thompson enrolled last Wednesday, making 25 in the room.

Fifth Grade Items.
English class is writing reports which tell how animals and plants prepare for winter. Each pupil is drawing a free-hand illustration to accompany the report.

The science unit concerns the weather. Pupils have learned what makes the wind blow, what causes rain, snow, fog and dew and how the weather man finds out what the weather will be.

Pupils are arranging an interesting bulletin board to show things for which they can be thankful.

Fourth Grade Notes.
In art pupils made posters about harvest. They used original designs with all figures cut from colored construction paper and pasted on a brown background.

"Alexander, the Tale of a Monkey" is being read for opening exercises. Pupils are learning multiplication tables by 4s.

After reading "Magic Ink," pupils folded notebook paper, unfolded it, dropped some ink on the fold, then folded and unfolded it again. Interesting figures resulted. Some resembled butterflies, buffaloes, daggers, men, beetles, spiders and rabbits.

Third Grade Items.
The 3rd grade boys are learning a tomahawk dance. They are using a tom tom that belongs to Donald Wightman. It was brought to him from Palm Springs, Fla., by his uncle, Sgt. Howard Witt.

Jimmie Burr Davis celebrated his 8th birthday Friday afternoon with a party at school. Children played games and Jimmie treated all to home-made cookies. Mrs. Burr Davis and Sandra visited.

Pupils are working hard on addition facts. Diagnostic tests were given Thursday and 22 of 29 enrolled scored 100.

In the covered wagon race, girls are leading by a score of 275 to 263. This race has stimulated interest in library reading.

The 3rd graders plan to visit the city library Friday afternoon. Children are eager to see and read the new books that have been so attractively displayed in M. L. Ringer's window. Grade teachers appreciate the cooperation and interest in a broader reading program that is shown by city librarians.

Betsy Ross of Kansas City, enrolled in 3rd grade Tuesday. This makes the enrollment 30.

From Second Grade.
Eugene Hill was 6 years old November 11 and treated children. Friday Gloria Ahlers observed her 7th birthday by bringing treats. She brought a book about a birthday party Monday when she started reading it to the class. Pupils receiving 100 in last week's spelling test are Gloria Ahlers, Sharon Lindsay, Betty Lou McCullough, Joan Pawelski, Virginia Proett, Evelyn Roberts, Betty Ulrich, Marcella VonSeggern, Donald Beckenhauer, Larry Johnson, Charles Messerschmidt and Gordon Zapp.

Football Season Closes for Prep

Wayne Prep was defeated 32-8 by Emerson in its last football game of the season played at Emerson Friday afternoon last week. Wayne Prep Prep club accompanied the team.

Student council met Monday to discuss the dance which is to be held Friday, November 19. The theme of the dance will be "Sadie Hawkins Day" and plans are now underway to make it a gala affair.

Good Soybean Seed Needed Next Year

CCC urges farmers having good yellow soybeans of better varieties and of good purity and germination to hold over a plentiful supply for 1944 seed. Agent W. R. Harder is informed that CCC loans $1.87 per bushel for seeds grading No. 2 and more for good beans of lower moisture content.

Growers should clean soybeans carefully and send samples as soon as possible to the state laboratory for tests. High purity and high germination seeds will demand higher prices.

Dunfield, Hlini, Muckden and Maucha are soybean varieties recommended for eastern Nebraska, and Dunfield, Richland and Habaro for the extreme northeast part of the state.

In Midland Societies.
Leatrice Pflueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Pflueger, and Pearl Reinhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Reinhardt, who are attending college at Midland in Fremont, have been initiated into two of the college's sororities.

Mrs. Reinhardt is a pledge of Pi Epsilon and Miss Pflueger is a new member of Phi Omega.

days and the other was a crayon illustration showing a covered wagon on scene.

Students of the 6th grade had no tardy marks during the first quarter.

The class average of 97.8 in spelling for the ninth week was the highest for the quarter.

Fourth Grade Report.
Students of the 4th grade are learning how to multiply.

To observe Armistice day, children looked at pictures of World War I and read stories of children in that war. They learned about the Unknown Soldier's memorial in Washington, sang patriotic songs and stood in silence at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Ray Bryan's class in reading observed a vocabulary lesson based on health material last week. When the class studied Iraq, which before the war shipped many dates to America, it was found that only a few in the class had eaten dates recently enough to remember what dates are. Fresh dates were enjoyed in class Monday morning.

A Thanksgiving song was written Monday.

First Grade Items.
Bobbie Likes and Robert Ray Bryan both served birthday refreshments to members of the 1st grade and the teacher for their 6th birthdays.

Children enjoyed playing "The Whippoorwill" and "A Cradle Song" taken from Marlen Carlson's book of Cradle Songs.

Ruth Sexton taught an Indian dance in rhythm class. Students now know about four folk dances.

Margaret Ann Sweek brought a leaflet telling about gourds. This will aid children with their Christmas work and their study of gourds.

Infant Improving.
Byron, 3-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heier, is improving nicely from second degree burns suffered on his face, neck and one shoulder Sunday when coffee was accidentally spilled.

May Buy Turkeys.
Since the government has bought 12 million pounds of turkeys, enough to supply those in the armed forces for the holidays, civilians may again buy turkeys.

Miss Tilla Saxton, home demonstration agent here, suggests the following Thanksgiving menu: Fruit juice, roast turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy, minced carrots, cranberry gelatin salad, rolls, pumpkin or sweet potato pie.

BUTTER BOOTLEGGER?

MOM, I HEARD OF A PLACE TODAY WHERE YOU CAN GET ALL THE BUTTER YOU WANT, AND THEY DON'T ASK FOR A SINGLE RATION STAMP!

OF COURSE, YOU HAVE TO DOVE QUITE A WAY, AND BE INTRODUCED... WHY, MOM!

YES, JANE, THAT MAKES ME VERY ANGRY!

DON'T YOU REALIZE THAT EVERY TIME RATIONED FOOD IS BOUGHT WITHOUT RATION STAMPS SOME ONE HAS TO GO WITHOUT HIS FAIR SHARE?

THE GOVERNMENT IS RATIONING SCARCER FOODS SO ALL OF US CAN EAT WELL AND BE STRONG AND THE ONLY WAY TO MAKE RATIONING WORK FAIRLY IS FOR EVERY ONE OF US TO PLAY SCARCER STAMPS!

SEE WHAT YOU MEAN, MOM!

Cadet Glen Sturgis of the college air corps visited in the John Fischer home over Saturday night and Sunday. His home is at Republic, Kan., and he is a cousin of Mrs. Fischer.
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robertson of South Sioux City, were dinner guests Wednesday in the Albert Sundell home. They were distributing bills for their farm sale of Tuesday which the Sundells attended.
Mrs. Jas. Chambers entertained the Study Circle at her home Thursday afternoon, having been postponed from Tuesday because of the storm. All but one member was present and the group did Red Cross sewing.

The C. F. Sandahl family, Mrs. Webb Hyde of Youngstown, Pa., who is the former Marjorie Leonard, and her brothers, Cornelius and Bob were entertained at a steak fry in the Lloyd Hugelmann home Friday evening.
The Warner Erlandson family and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Soderberg were in the Dean Frye home Sunday afternoon and for supper including home-made ice cream, celebrating Betty's 3rd birthday of the stormy Sunday previous.
Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Carlson were Sunday dinner guests in the Melvin Manz home near Dixon. Thursday evening they helped A. W. Carlson celebrate his birthday and Friday evening attended a family supper in the R. A. Nimrod home.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Buskirk and their guest, Mrs. Dot Reno, of Kewanee, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Clare Buskirk were Sunday dinner guests in the Wallace Ring home. Mrs. Reno remained for a few days' visit with her cousin, Mrs. Ring, and family.
Mrs. Lawrence Ring assisted with serving refreshments at the W.C.T.U. meeting with Mrs. Mary Patterson Friday afternoon. The Study Circle is the latest group to make a donation to the mobile unit sponsored by the organization. Many thanks!
The Lawrence Rings received word that their son, Ralph, has been confined to a British hospital with bruises sustained in a fall during the recent rainy weather. No bones were broken and he is now back on duty none the worse for the experience.
Preparations were numerous Monday for the threatened cold spell. Drifts have sunk, thanks to higher temperatures, but corn picking has not been satisfactory as the fields seem to have held the level snow and everyone is reluctant to lose the numbers of ears on the ground and broken stalks.
Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ring and Larry took Mary Elinor as far as Wisner Tuesday evening on her return to Omaha after a two days' enforced vacation at home. The C. F. Sandahls took Gene to the bus air corps at Lowry field, Denver.
Mrs. Paul Fischer, Priscilla Sandahl and Marjorie Soderberg were supper guests of Mrs. Lorence Fischer Saturday evening complimenting the last named of the three who spent the week with the home folks. In high school days all mentioned constituted a group which also included Leone Anderson and Mary Elinor Ring who were unable to attend the reunion. Priscilla and Marjorie spent the night with Mrs. Paul Fischer.
Mrs. Albert Sundell reports that her niece, Mrs. Don Ewing, of Omaha, the former Harriet Anderson and her husband who has been stationed at a camp in Alabama, are visiting their parents in the city. From there, Mr. Ewing goes to a new field in Utah, and her plans are indefinite. Another niece of Mrs. Sundell and a sister of Mrs. Ewing, Miss Gladys Anderson, plans to take up her work in the navy nursing corps in California, November 24.
Complimenting Marjorie Soderberg of Burbank, Cal., who arrived Wednesday after having been snow-bound in Sioux City since Monday, the following relatives enjoyed cooperative dinner in the Jack Soderberg home Sunday: Mrs. Nels Larson, C. A. Soderberg, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Soderberg and Charles, the Arnold Linn family of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson and children of Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Larson and Earl, Marcella Brugger, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nelson and Roger, all of Wayne, Elinor Soderberg from the college, Mr. and Mrs. Neil McCorkindale, the Russell Johnson and Boe Evans' families.

John, a gunner in the Pacific, was home on a furlough.
Mrs. Alvin Johnson spent the week-end at John N. Johnson's in Laurel. She has received a cablegram from Cpl. Johnson saying he has landed safely across seas.
Jane Beckbauer was a Friday overnight visitor at Joe Johnson's and a Saturday night guest at L. J. Bressler's. Owing to road conditions Jane did not teach last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jahde and Darold and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lutt and family were Sunday visitors at John Lutt's in remembrance of the birthday of Ardyce Lutt.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chinn and Norma were Sunday dinner visitors at John Richard's and afternoon visitors at Marvin Brothers'. Miss Dorothy Chinn of Sioux City, spent Monday at home.
Mr. and Mrs. Dan Flynn and Mrs. Will Longe were in Omaha Friday to visit their uncle, Dan Flynn at a hospital. He passed away Saturday. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the Pender Catholic church. Ed. and John Flynn of Macy, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Flynn of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Flynn were all at the Will Longes Sunday. The two former named remained longer. We extend sympathy to the relatives.
Mrs. I. H. Reno of Kewanee, Ill., came from South Dakota Saturday to visit the George and Clare Buskirk's and Wallace Rings—her relatives.
To the relatives who live in our community of the late Frank Guster of Pender, we extend sympathy. Funeral services were Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Test and family were Thursday dinner visitors at Rudolph Longe's, and Elmer Beckenbauer and Jane were callers.
Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dolph were birthday dinner guests Sunday in Wayne for Mrs. Ida West. Her son,

OPERATOR LICENSES MUST BE RENEWED
Owen J. Boyles, assistant director of the motor vehicle division of the state of Nebraska, calls to the attention of all motor vehicle operators that operators' licenses must be renewed every two years from date of issuance of original license.
According to the reports from the different counties, it is indicated that a considerable number are operating vehicles in violation of the Nebraska statutes.
Applications for renewal of operators' licenses need not be made in person, unless the original has expired more than 90 days after the same became due for renewal.
In all cases where the operator's license is more than 90 days past due, the applicant for renewal must appear before a patrolman-examiner to take the examination as required on an original application.
Even though the individual may renew within 90 days without examination, this does not authorize him to operate a vehicle over the highways of the state of Nebraska after his license is delinquent.
Mr. Boyles therefore urges all persons to check their operator's license to determine the expiration date.
Thurston county gathered 210 tons of scrap in the drive last week.

Political Prospects

REPORTS come from Lincoln that Gov. Dwight Griswold will file for a third term, and indicate that while he will not be a candidate for the republican presidential or vice presidential nomination, as many have urged, he will not dodge either if it heads in his direction.

The governor was nominated three times and defeated three times for governor, and in running for a third term, he will, if elected, as he doubtless will, match the time record of Gov. Cochran who served three terms. No previous governor had that record. The way the governor has led state affairs has projected him into the national field.

At the present time two leaders for the republican presidential nomination are Gov. Thos. Dewey of New York, and Wendell Willkie, 1940 candidate. Dewey says he will not be a candidate, but will stick to his present post. On the other hand, Willkie is making an active bid for the nomination. Dewey's apparent reluctance doubtless strengthens his popularity, and would lend momentum to a draft movement.

Gov. Bricker of Ohio has signified his intention to be a candidate, and the name of former Gov. Stassen of Minnesota, now in military service, will appear on the Nebraska ballot. Gen. MacArthur is still being mentioned.

Many twists and turns in the republican presidential prospect may happen before the convention date. A matter of grave importance is to avoid friction and division and present a solid front on a soundly comprehensive platform.

Subsidy Battle

A BATTLE is raging in Washington between the administration and the farm bloc over subsidies. Disagreement arises over the question of whether it would be better to transfer a share of a family's grocery bill to taxpayers or pay it directly in higher prices. As we understand, farmers prefer prices consistent with production, and would keep themselves free from bureaucratic controls.

The subsidy policy springs from labor organization demands which favor government help in keeping commodity values down. The administration is reported aware of the need of adequate returns to farmers to insure sufficient production, but wishes to level prices by dipping into the federal treasury. Union labor likes that idea. Farmers generally don't.

Humanity to Survive

THE Christian Science Monitor says soldiers of fighting nations are not necessarily personal enemies. In one paragraph, the Monitor explains:

"The Swedish papers printed pictures showing the Germans and the British shaking hands, and on board the 'Atlantis' British sailors were seen carrying severely injured Germans to the dinner tables. German doctors accompanying the prisoners asked permission to buy watches in Sweden as presents for their British colleagues."

Says the Monitor in conclusion: "In war, fighting is a bitter necessity, but in spite of all the fury, humanity will not down."

Some one has written rather critically of the way some people eat in public places these days—throwing table implements into victuals as though they were harpooning a fish or lassoing a wild steer. In extenuation, one may suggest that eatables are rationed and scarce and that getting one's needful share is not always possible within the role of politeness; also that speed is necessary to wipe out hunger which is not alleviated by law or bureaucratic decree, in order to get back to work where help is reduced by requirements of the time.

A captain returning from war zones told an audience recently that if people on the home front realized what the boys in the thick of the fight were enduring, they would complain less of things they have been denied. We have discovered no such complaining. On the contrary, we believe people generally in this area are deeply pained by the sacrifices necessary in battle and are determined to do their full part to hasten a victorious end.

In reporting, a newspaper sometimes does worse, sometimes better than responsible heads realize. The Herald's storm story last week made a hit with WJAG, Norfolk, and it was used in part over the air with this comment: "The best story we've seen of the recent blizzard, and it goes into our scrap book." It was written by the Herald's associate editor.

Delay and extra cost were involved in the city's attempt to oblige an individual who claimed he was the high bidder for a lot offered for sale, and who was given a chance to accept the property and close the deal, but failed to do it. Another example of saying the taxpayers' money by wasting it.

Striking janitors—known in polite circles as custodians—have settled differences and gone back to their jobs in Omaha schools. All schools have resumed. We have a suspicion that school children were the only ones who relished the strike and were sorry when it was called off.

A centripetal wastebasket—one with sufficient force to capture paper fragments a distance of five or more feet—would serve convenience in these busy days when offices are bombarded with more things than they have time to read.

Doubling the price of whiskey in Council Bluffs, as announced, will, we suspect, force more people, habituated to sipping, to keep from getting drunk.

On Way to Scrap Heap.

More and more it appears that the little king of Italy really looks forward to a future without a job, without a crown.

Padding His Own Canoe.

Henry Wallace no longer submits his speeches to the white house or OWI before delivering them. This confirms a suspicion that has been entertained by those who have been hearing them.

In the Days When.

The WPB removes its ban on patch pockets. This will be remembered as the type which ripped off neatly when caught on the automobile door handle, in the days when folks rode in automobiles.

The Chaplain and the Jap.

A very religious officer insisted on reading a burial service over a hundred-odd Jap soldiers who fell in a pitched battle on Guadalcanal. Fellow officers didn't relish the notion, but he persisted. "They may be Japs," he said, "but they're dead, and I'm going to give them a decent burial." In the middle of the service, one of the "corpses" suddenly rose with a grenade in his hand. The officer dropped his Bible, whipped out a gun, shot the Jap through the temple, calmly reholstered his weapon, and resumed the sermon. "Lord," he declared, "I said I'd give these Japs a funeral, and that goes for every last one of them. Amen."—Clark Lee, in the Saturday Review of Literature.

Money in Grass.

Experiment stations have done more work on grass during the past few years than all time preceding. Some interesting and useful information is being developed. Grass has greater possibilities from the standpoint of return than is usually figured. Frequently, it needs feeding, but the proper use of commercial fertilizer has been found to pay. Old stands may also need a touch of seed. Some returns have been secured, figured in pounds of gain on cattle, that look mighty high, and compare favorably with cultivated crops, with little labor requirement. Growing the grass is just one of the problems. Its most efficient use is often a bigger problem, at least from the standpoint of profit. The kind of cattle to use, when to secure them, the number per acre, when and how—the proposition is full of management problems. Indicated is a visit to experimental pastures next summer, to see what has been done, to study the results that are being secured, and to determine what application may be made, if any, on the home farm. It has been demonstrated that there is money in grass, but how to get it out, at a maximum, is one of the farm's most difficult management problems.

Griswold Takes a Cinch.

Governor Griswold's announcement that he will try for a third term seems to remove him as a candidate for the state's preferential vote for president. He will be in somewhat the situation of Gov. Tom Dewey, no candidate, but still a possibility for high office. He will still be subject to draft.

The governor probably has no hope of gaining the presidential nomination. As those things go, the party leaders are likely to look to the industrial east for the man to head their ticket. That's the debatable ground. A popular eastern candidate might pull the electoral votes of many of the largest industrial states. The west is counted as pretty sure for any good candidate, the republicans put up. The results in 1940 and 1942 confirm that belief.

So while the presidential nomination is probably out of his reach, Dwight Griswold might easily be called upon to take the second place on the ticket. If first place goes to the east, the convention might with good reasoning, decide to spot a popular middle-westerner in second place to cinch the agricultural vote.

If they want a widely popular executive, Governor Griswold can qualify. Last year he polled the biggest majority ever given a governor in Nebraska, and the demand on his time for speeches in all parts of the country, shows that he has drawing power far from the Nebraska state lines.

Whether a pledged delegation behind him would be an asset or a liability in the national convention is a question. His name on the ticket for president would offend supporters of candidates who would probably step aside for a favorite son, but would do it with poor grace. If the convention wants him, it will call him, whether he has a pledged delegation behind him or not.

And in the meantime he will have the governorship sewed up in the bag. No one, on either ticket, will have a ghost of a chance for that office against Dwight Griswold.

PROJECT STOPPED.

Investing funds in a government aluminum plant at Columbus, Neb., was started a few weeks ago. Land was bought for the purpose, and the undertaking was launched. Then suddenly last week word was flashed from Washington to discontinue the project, that it was not needed. If the plant would serve no demand, as indicated, of course it should not be built, but clearly the lack of need should have been figured out in advance and unnecessary expense avoided. It is evidence of bungling and waste, cost of which falls on the shoulders of taxpayers. In private business, responsible heads think before they leap. Apparently, government authorities too often reverse the order.

Discussion

their people, the while ruling them with an iron hand. The enslavement of neighboring peoples with threats of world conquest and world subjugation aroused the American giant, imbued with the spirit of freedom to overthrow the tyrant juggernaut. While winning the war, we must preserve treasures of the spirit, and that may be done in large measure by broad and well-rounded postwar education. We do not want to neglect Latin and Greek and live foreign languages simply because they cannot be directly turned into bread and butter. Some one has

DELINQUENCY.

Elsie Robinson, columnist, has been devoting much attention lately to what she calls the blight of child delinquency which she says is sweeping the country. Among letters she received, discussing life's obligations and responsibilities, was one from a Jewish boy, an officer in the United States navy. He says he had been taught that professional and financial success counted most, and he intended to be a "big shot" in law. But the horrors of the South seas campaign changed his viewpoint. He says modern homes and schools answer the needs of the body and mind, but they are too indifferent to the needs of the soul. His best friend was dying. The Twenty-third Psalm was read to him, and he passed away, free from pain and with a smile on his face. "The young navy officer says children receive abundantly of material things, but that they need more to satisfy a spiritual thirst. Children, too young to use sound judgment, need to be led kindly but firmly to an appreciation of imperishable spiritual values."

said men and women must be educated through the arts and humanities to seek the truth. In doing it we do not need merely to learn something that we can eat or drink tomorrow, nor fall into wild fallacies that do not dovetail with common sense.

"The mind needs a quickening of spiritual values, a baptism of righteousness, a breadth of understanding that will find and hold the golden mean. That is the soundly constructive course. That is the way to reinforce America's democratic model. The practical middle course in postwar education is largely the responsibility of teachers in schools and colleges. In shouldering that responsibility the general public should have learned by now to share by taking a helpful interest—a helpful hand."

AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C.

November 11, 1943

The constitution of the Philippine commonwealth has been changed by the congress of the United States, not by the Filipino people who adopted it in the democratic manner. The Filipino constitution provides that on November 15, 1943, the presidential term of Manuel Quezon shall terminate and he shall be succeeded in office by the vice president of the Philippine commonwealth, Sergio Osmeña. The administration asked that for the duration of the war the present president and vice president of the commonwealth be allowed to continue in their respective offices. The administration's resolution to that end was passed by the house and by the senate. Quezon remains as president. Filipino factions here are fighting about it. Some of them say they figure their constitution is as sacred to Filipinos as is the American constitution to Americans. There will be charges that we abrogated their constitution. The whole Nebraska delegation in the house voted against the resolution.

The national debt is expected to reach $300 billions. That will mean that by next year every man, woman and child in the United States will owe $835 a year to support the government. That is back of the determination of the group in congress that is fighting to cut out all spending not essential to the winning of the war.

The big fight in congress next week will be over subsidies. Members are told that it will require about 800 million dollars in subsidies to control food prices and to insure adequate food production. Congress is asked to extend the life of the commodity credit corporation and to enlarge its powers to administer the subsidy program. A group of representatives of Nebraska stock-growers are in Washington to oppose the subsidy program.

Mrs. Gilbert Hitchcock, widow of the late Senator Gilbert Hitchcock of Omaha, was one of the distinguished guests at the Boys Town-Gonzaga football game here. Mrs. Hitchcock owns one of the mansions in Washington and still takes an active part in Washington social life.

Motion picture stars, when they come to Washington, are bombarded by autograph seekers. Father Egan outranked the movie stars in this regard when he brought the Boys Town football team to Washington. The founder of Boys Town was followed all over town by crowds of autograph hunters.

Scotch whiskey is carried to the United States as ballast. About 15 million gallons of scotch comes in annually from the United Kingdom. American distillers are not now making whiskey. Their request to resume small production has been turned down. They are making alcohol for war purposes.

Rock bass are biting in Chesapeake bay. Carl Curtis of the First district and Karl Mundt of South Dakota caught their limit the other day.

Jan Masaryk, the Czech foreign minister who is here from London, spoke to a large group of people last week. He believes that the Czechoslovak republic will be restored and that the boundaries of the country will be about the same as heretofore, notwithstanding a small group of Slovaks who want a separate republic.

The house by the margin of but a single vote turned down the request for funds to complete 20-odd airports some of which are 90 per cent completed. Among them are the airports at Fremont and Beatrice. The senate is expected to amend the bill to provide the necessary funds for completion. The CAA asked budget approval of estimates to provide funds for this purpose but the bureau of the budget disapproved.

The first 1944 supplemental appropriation bill called for a billion and a quarter dollars. The house cut more than $941 million from that total. Biggest cut was $750 million requested by the navy for the purchase of navy stock piles.

Upon investigation, the appropriations committee discovered that there was an unexpended balance in this amount in the naval ordinance account, so, this balance was transferred to the stock pile account in lieu of the new appropriation. This is a single instance wherein watchfulness on the part of the appropriations committee has been of great use to the taxpayers. The estimates that aggregated the huge sum in the original bill had all been approved by the bureau of the budget. This same bill, when it came to the appropriations committee, included over $200 million for additional federal housing. The committee cut $150 million off that item. One reason for the cut was the committee's feeling there has been much waste in the federal housing program. The Indiana delegation claims that at Charleston, Ind., 750 houses have been constructed and only 204 of them are occupied. At Seymour, Ind., 350 units were built and only 90 occupied. Charges have been made that hundreds of these houses were so poorly built that civilians will not rent them.

There was a time when if a member criticized any of the appropriations requested by the army or the navy, he would be charged with aiding the enemy. Investigating committees have brought back so many reports of inefficiency and waste that nearly every day members rise on the floor of the house to make constructive criticisms.

In some Washington quarters there is an effort to discredit the work accomplished by William Jeffers when he was rubber director. Fact is that Jeffers did in one year what would ordinarily have taken 10 to 12 years to accomplish. His program is now producing 437,000 tons a year. In the second quarter of 1944 the government plants should step that rate up to 850,000 tons per year. The major bottle-neck now is in the manufacture of tires. Shortages of manpower, rayon and cotton fabric are holding up tire production. The critical shortage of tires will be during the next six to nine months. British and Dutch rubber monopolies have powerful friends here. They want us to junk our synthetic rubber plants when the war is over and give them back the business when we chase the Japs from their rubber plantations in the far east.

Wedding Service Performed in West

Miss Helen Nielsen Bride of Pfc. M. A. Johnson at Puayallup Home.

Miss Helen Grace Nielsen, formerly of Wayne, and Pfc. Merle Adrian Johnson were married October 16 at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Thoren of Puayallup, Wash. Rev. C. A. Pellet officiated at the ceremony which took place before the fireplace with tall baskets of gladioli, ferns and dahlias in the background.

C. N. Nielsen of Seattle gave his sister in marriage. Miss Nielsen wore white chiffon gown fashioned with lace bodice, Peter Pan collar and long puffed sleeves. The veil, edged in lace, was fastened with a tanga of white carnations and roses. Her orchid bouquet was encircled with the same flowers.

Brode Jean Nielsen, niece of the bride, lighted the white tapers. Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Jaan Strieff, gowned in turquoise crepe, and the bridesmaid was Miss Emma Thoren, a niece, wearing blue taffeta. Each carried pink and white roses and white carnations. Miss Thoren also sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Joan Velaine Nielsen. Pfc. Elmer Thomas was best man and Harold E. Nielsen, another brother, was an usher.

Receiving the 30 guests later with her daughter was Mrs. Anna Marie Nielsen, in gray and red printed chiffon, with corsage of red roses. The buffet supper was served from a lace covered table, with silver candlesticks at either side of the wedding cake topped with a miniature soldier and bride. Mrs. C. A. Pellet presided at the coffee service, and Miss Thoren again sang, accompanied by Mr. Pellet.

Mrs. Johnson attended Luther college in Wahoo, Neb., and her husband lived in Chicago before going to Fort Lewis.

Provides Earth From All States

Elderly Father of Actor Reports for Training But Finds Error.

Second Lt. James L. Greenburg of Camp Swift, Texas, wrote Governor C. A. Bottolfsen at Boise, Idaho, for a bottle of Idaho earth to complete his collection from 48 states. He explained that homeless carpenters frequently exclaimed: "I'd give $10 just to see some of that country now!" The Greenburg produces the proper bottle—and collects.

"Well, here I am; when do I leave?" said 78-year-old Charles Henry Cooper, father of film actor Gary Cooper, presenting an indictment notice at a Hollywood draft board. The startled clerk learned Cooper's notice should have been sent to another Charles Henry Cooper since the actor's father obviously was beyond the 1-A age range. "At least I'm A-1," commented Cooper. "Always have been."

Three youths ambled through a viaduct at Colorado Springs, Colo., and spied some "dirty green stuff" on the ground. They scooped it up and found $700 in bills, wrapped around $100 in silver. Ray Spann and William Simpson, two workmen who had discovered $250 in the same place a year ago, heard of the discovery, and duped up another $210. In all, nearly $1,300 has been found beneath the viaduct.

Four floors up, David Jones, 3, peered through the marble railing of the state capitol rotunda at Salt Lake City for a look-see, but there he got stuck. A fire department rescue squad greased David's head, chipped marble for an hour, then pulled him out—David was asleep.

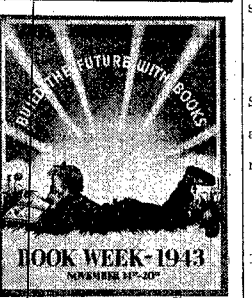

Mrs. A. L. Speetzen, elderly, white-haired resident of Topanga canyon, decided to rebuild after fire destroyed her home near Los Angeles. She just grabbed a hammer, saw and nails and went to work. Soon 14 neighbors, impressed by Mrs. Speetzen's energy, joined her in a shingling bee to put the finishing touches to her new home.

Leroy R. Cortell, Los Angeles, bought a battered satchel six months ago from a passerby who said he needed the 15 cents for coffee and doughnuts. Tuesday, Cortell cleaning the bag before reselling it to a friend for 25 cents, felt something beneath the lining. There were three folded bills, amounting to $60.

At Egonier, Pr., high on a scaffold, John Graham was painting a barn. A pig came by, grabbed a dangling rope in its teeth, and pulled. The scaffold swung out and Graham swung in, showing one hand through a knot-hole. His paint brush fell from the other hand, hit the pig on the head and the startled animal released the rope. The scaffold swung back and Graham swung aboard, with a sigh of relief.

A man walked into the Newtown (Conn.) city court and said he wanted to pay his fine. "What fine?" asked the judge. The man

Book Week is Here!

TWENTY-FIFTH annual BOOK WEEK will be celebrated here and throughout the nation, November 14-20. The challenging slogan, "Build the Future With Books," suggests that BOOK WEEK 1943 presents greater opportunities than ever. As Katharine F. Leontov of The Children's Bureau (U. S. Dept. of Labor) states: "One of the surest ways I know to help our children climb over our false political, racial, economic and religious barriers, and move forward into a world where people of high courage and boundless goodwill live, is to give them good books, and more, and more good books."

explained that he hadn't the money until recently to pay a $25 fine levied back in December, 1938.

An unidentified man telephoned a Chicago newspaper and asked for information about fumigating chemicals. "Say," the voice said, "is this stuff they fumigate houses with just like gas?" Told that some gases used in fumigating would prove fatal to humans, he shouted, "Good-by mister, I'm getting out of here!" and slammed down the receiver.

At Salina, Kan., juvenile delinquency was increasing, so the city commission wrangled for weeks with the pros and cons of a curfew law. Came time for the yes-or-no decision on the ordinance. Then City Manager E. J. Allison found, to everyone's surprise, the city already had a curfew law.

Hollywood film-makers spent hours trying to produce a bark from an English bulldog. Finally they pretended to threaten a couple of her grandpups and the canine star let loose a ferocious woof. Everyone was happy except the sound man—he was so startled his equipment wasn't ready. They'll have to do it all over again.

At Nelson, Mont., wash day is a busy one for Mrs. Owen Warren, but not too rushing to think about meat for supper. While hanging up her washing, Mrs. Owen saw two young bears beyond a back fence. She hurried into the house, returned with a gun—and bagged both of them.

Buried to the chin when the walls of a well which he had been digging caved in at South Kensington, R. L. Ernest Michaud, 38, directed rescue workers for eight hours until they had freed him. During the operations Michaud smoked, drank coffee and joked with the rescuers. When he was finally hauled to safety he walked away unaided and said to his father-in-law: "I think I struck water."

Martin Murphy strode into a New York City telegraph office. One hand thrust menacingly into a coat pocket, he approached a clerk and handed him a note reading: "Call the cops or I will have to shoot you. I don't want your money. I just want a jail sentence of about 30 years." The clerk obliged. When police arrived, Murphy explained he couldn't endure the family arguments at his home and wanted peace and quiet—in a cell. Police charged him with disorderly conduct.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. H. H. Hazzard, pastor) Verse of the week: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and lean not to thine own understanding." Psalmist. "Church night" will be observed at 7:30 Thursday with a continuation of our book by book study of the Bible. Thursday, November 18, the book of Joshua will be the theme. Sunday services and subjects will be: Morning worship at 11, the subject, "Glamorous but Godless." At 7:30 p. m., the gospel hour with the theme, "Holy Boldness." Sunday, November 28, will be observed as World Parish Sunday in the Wayne Baptist church. Recordings, exhibits, missionary speakers and a banquet dinner will make this a great day. The program is designed to replace the national convention by bringing the convention program and spirit to the local Baptist churches. The public is invited to attend. Sunday, December 5, a series of special meetings will begin at the Baptist church. The meetings will be titled a "Re-enlistment Revival." Rev. Alfred R. Hardy, state director of evangelism for Nebraska Baptists, will be the speaker. Rev. Hardy will remain in meetings in Wayne through Sunday December 19.

The service men's center will be in operation on Saturday night until midnight and on Sunday until 6 o'clock. The colder weather makes the coffee and cookies to be more popular. About 30 different books were at the center last Saturday night and on Sunday the number was about 40. Visitors are invited to stop in and see the center in operation. Early Sunday afternoon is a good time to visit the center. Thursday, November 25, a union Thanksgiving service will be entertained at the Baptist church. The service will begin at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Oliver B. Proett will bring the Thanksgiving message. Friends of the service men are invited to call for the dinner guests at the college at 10 o'clock and then bring the men to the Thanksgiving service before going home to dinner.

Christian Science Services "Soul and Body" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, November 21. The Golden Text is: "Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?" (I Corinthians 6:19). Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (Romans 12:1, 2). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear,—this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true. Thus we may establish in truth the temple, or body, 'whose builder and maker is God'" (p. 428). Service in Woman's club room Sunday at 11.

Corn Yield Doubled on Contoured Field

Above: Showing the soil and water loss by farming up and down the slope. Below: The results of contour farming.

"Contour farming doubled my corn yield," reported C. L. Bard to the Wayne county soil conservation district office. Mr. Bard, who farms three and one-half miles southwest of Wakefield, has farmed on the contour for two years. "This year I decided that one field would be more convenient to farm with straight rows up and down the slope, so I changed that field," said Mr. Bard. "The contoured field joining it looked better all summer and much to my surprise yielded about 60 bushels per acre while the field not on the contour produced between 25 and 30 bushels per acre." The contrast was much like the two fields pictured above. Mr. Bard further stated that he knows of no reason why there should be so much difference in the corn yield of these fields except that the contoured field held some light rains that ran off the other field at a critical time this summer. The local soil conservation technicians report that such phenomenal increases in yields are occasionally obtained by contour farming. However, the experience of thousands of farmers, backed by many research tests, shows that proper conservation practices will increase per-acre yields at least 20 per cent.

Bites Conducted in Hoskins Church

Rev. W. A. Wantoch Passes Away in Colorado Home Early This Month.

Funeral rites were conducted Thursday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran church at Hoskins for Rev. W. A. Wantoch, 23, who died November 5 at Hillbrook, Colo. Rev. R. F. Bittorf, pastor, was assisted by Rev. L. A. Tessmar of Grand Island, formerly of Hadar. Rites had been conducted Sunday last week at Hillbrook. Burial was in the cemetery west of Hoskins.

Rev. Wantoch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Wantoch, was born November 17, 1877, near Hoskins. After being educated in the Hoskins parochial school, he was confirmed May 31, 1931. He prepared for the ministry at Dr. Martin Luther college at New Ulm, Minn., and Northwestern college, Watertown, Wis. He finished his theological training and graduated in 1942.

The pastor was substitute pastor at Rocky Ford, Colo., and after his graduation he assisted at Ordway, Colo., until called to the Lutheran Mission congregation at Hillbrook. He was ordained and installed at that church last July by the Rev. I. P. Frey, former pastor at Hoskins.

Surviving Rev. Wantoch are his mother of Stanton, one sister, Anna, at home; seven brothers, Carl, Hoskins; Walter, Fred and Herbert, all of Stanton; Julius, parochial teacher at Ottumwa, Minn.; and Henry and Otto at home. His father died 22 years ago.

LOCAL NEWS (Omaha Journal-Stockman.) A bullet riddled and burning plane pancaked to a landing on an American airport in the South Pacific. The pilot clambered from the cockpit and to those who ran to his assistance he muttered, "I don't know how I got here. The Man Upstairs did it. I talked plenty to him on the way down."

There is something heartening in the words of this young pilot, something that should give us pause. Cromwell and his Roundheads are supposed to have gone into battle with a prayer on their lips; Stonewall Jackson and Lee were noted for asking Divine guidance on the eve of conflict. But for the most part piety and war have little in common.

This flyer's thanks to his Maker recalls to mind that the world's best seller is now surpassing all previous records, and the largest demand is among members of our armed forces. It must mean something. War and piety may be wholly incongruous, but still there is something. Sales of The Book make it seem so; this flyer's words give it emphasis.

Is another day dawning, a better day? Only time will answer, but while we are waiting, we on the home front there's nothing new in the idea; it's embraced in thousands of homes up and down the land. But perhaps if we, all of us, talked a little more earnestly to the Man Upstairs our boys might come home a little sooner.

Mrs. Walter A. Meyers of San Antonio, Texas, daughter of the W. H. O'Garas of Laurel, received word that her husband, T. Sgt. Meyers had been missing over Germany since September 15. He was an aerial gunner.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. West, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Went and Joan, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Lindsay were Sunday dinner and supper guests in the Mrs. Stella Chichester home. Mrs. Bertha Hood who underwent an operation in Omaha last week, is getting along nicely and plans to go to Lincoln for an indefinite stay with her sister, Mrs. Jim Simohin, as soon as she is able.

Walter Jones of Omaha, came to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Savidge, Jr., and children of Omaha, accompanied him and spent the time with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Savidge.

Prof. O. R. Bowen went to Des Moines Tuesday to be inaugurated Wednesday as lieutenant governor of Kiwanis division Five. He took Mrs. Bowen as far as Lincoln, where she is in the J. Knox Jones home. Both return the last of this week.

Capt. and Mrs. Charles O. Patterson of Washington, D. C., have been here this week with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Baker. Capt. Patterson just completed special work at the command and general staff school in Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., Thursday and the two came here Friday. They leave the last of this week for Fort Custer, Mich., and then Washington. The Patersons returned Tuesday from a visit at Earl Miller's in Ireton, Ia., and they and the Bakers spend this Thursday in the L. L. Winters home at Bloomfield.

A RARE BUY FOR SOMEONE! I am going to have one of the finest used upright pianos that I have seen for many years. It is in extra fine shape now, but I am going to rebuild it like new. This upright sold for $630 when new so you can see it is not a cheap piano. It is one of the finest makes I'll guarantee the tone like a new piano, and that the pins will stay tight for 30 years or more. That means the piano will stay in tune like a new piano and do so for 30 years. You folks that really want tone and tone that is guaranteed to last, come and see Vogel's, and another thing the price on this piano will be lower than you can buy rebuilt pianos of the same grade for in the big cities. Strikes, Even at Funerals.

(Omaha Journal-Stockman) The nation is sick - sick with strikes and sick of strikes in war time. And not even funerals are free from the sorrows of death remain unaffected by the creeping strike paralysis.

Numerous funerals were disrupted in Chicago when the hearse drivers refused to cross striking cemetery workers' picket lines. Pallbearers were obliged to leave coffins in temporary receiving vaults. Mourners, too, had to leave flowers there.

The strike was an effort to gain a 20-cent hourly wage increase for cemetery workers.

In our school days we seem to remember that in a democracy citizens had the right and privilege to think, talk and act as they chose, so long as the exercise of that didn't interfere with the exercise of that same right on the part of others.

Self-interest is being carried to a very fine point, indeed.

NORTHEAST WAYNE Cpl. Solmer Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Samuelson and the Glenn Sampson family were Friday supper guests at Geo. Meyer's.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wischhof spent Sunday afternoon at Geo. Meyer's.

S. Sgt. Dale E. Thompson of Long Beach, arrived Wednesday to visit the Eric Thompsons who met him in Columbus.

From a Friend. At the request of a friend of the late Mr. W. A. Behl, the following is printed:

Dear study will a rose once grow, Bubbled and blossomed in God's free light, Watered and fed by morning dew, Shedding its sweetness day and night.

As it grew and blossomed fair and tall, Slowly rising to loftier height, Came to a crevice in the wall, Through which there shone a beam of light.

Unward it crept with added strength, With never a thought of fear or pride, It followed the light through the crevice's length, And unfolded itself on the other side.

The light, the dew, the broadening view, Were found the same as they were before; And it lost itself in beauties new, Breathing its fragrance more and more.

Shall chains of death cause us to grieve, And make our courage faint, or fail? Nay! Let us hope and faith receive; The rose still grows beyond the wall.

Scarf fragrances far and wide, Just as it did in days of yore, Just as it did on the other side, Just as it will forever more.

Exchanges Friends picked 70 acres of corn for Ed. Wagner of Randolph, who has been unable to work because of a bone infection.

Pfc. Wm. E. Daum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Daum of Pilger, and Miss Marie Otto of Sutherland, Ia., were married November 2 at the latter's home. Pfc. Daum goes to New Jersey.

While hauling corn from a picker, Howard Layton fell at Pilger and cracked a vertebra in his neck. He was climbing onto the wagon when the team started. An iron brace has been placed on his neck.

Mrs. Jean Theobald and children, Shelly and Michael, left Friday for Portland.

SERVICE NEWS

Recently transferred from Springfield, Mo., to Grinnell, Ia. He is in the star unit of the A.S.T.P.

Has an Operation.

Sgt. Clarence Witt of Winslow, underwent an operation on his back at Camp Campbell, Ky., hospital last week. He is able to be about again.

Will Come Soon.

DeForrest Roggenbach, who is taking officers' training at Fort Sill, Okla., expects to come November 20 to visit his mother, Mrs. R. F. Roggenbach.

Brothers in Service.

Pvt. Gilbert Schaffer, Carroll, is now stationed at North Camp Polk, La., and his brother, Cpl. Arthur Schaffer, is located at Lowery field, Denver.

Leaves for Farragut.

Seaman Gregory Stuve, who has completed "boot" training at Farragut, Idaho, and who had been here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stuve, leaves this Thursday for Idaho.

Comes for Visit.

Staff Sgt. Kenneth Walker, in the marine service, has been visiting here the past week with his grandmother, Mrs. J. E. West. He has served in the Pacific recently. His home is in Cherokee, Ia.

Is in Daytona Beach.

Pvt. Betty J. Hinkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hinkle of near Randolph, who entered service at Des Moines in September, has finished basic training and has gone to Daytona Beach, Fla., where she is a typist.

Studies in Boston.

Ensign Wm. S. Nelson, former student at the college here, is now in the navy supply corps and is taking a graduate business course at Harvard university, Boston, Mass. Ensign Nelson joined the navy October 15 and was first stationed at Detroit, Mich., before going to Boston.

Is Enjoying England.

Lt. Ed. Campbell likes England, according to word from his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell of Coleridge, formerly of Wayne. The country is wonderful and the climate much like the southern states though the fog is thick. His trip across was enjoyable.

Arrives from South.

S. Sgt. Harold James McIntosh arrived Monday from Camp Claiborne, La., to spend a 12-day furlough with his daughter, Carol, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McIntosh. He reports back November 26. The officer appreciates the weekly visits of the Herald.

Is Here from Pacific.

Lt. (jg) John West arrived last Wednesday from duty in the Pacific with the merchant marine. He has charge of guns on his ship. Lt. West has seen John Thompson and his brother in the west. He flew to Milwaukee before coming here and planned to remain with his mother, Mrs. J. E. West, a week.

Arrives on Furlough.

Cpl. A. E. Sandahl of Sheppard field, Texas, arrived Wednesday to spend a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Sandahl. The Sandahls met their son in Omaha. Mrs. A. E. Sandahl, the former Leone Corvelli, who has a position at Wichita Falls, could not accompany her husband at this time.

Stationed in Texas.

A/C Edwin B. Gustafson, who has recently been transferred from Coffeyville, Kan., to Pampa, Texas, writes his appreciation of the Herald. He says, "I don't think there is a bit of it that goes unread by me. It is also enjoyed by some of the other boys in my barracks." Pampa is in the panhandle part of Texas and according to A/C Gustafson there is not much of the sunny south in that part. "They have lots of wind, and even a little snow fell lately."

Taken to Hospital.

Seaman 2/C Stanley Swanson of Farragut, Idaho, who has been on furlough here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Swanson, was taken by ambulance to a Red Cross hospital in Sioux City Monday. Swanson has been ill with the mumps and other complications. His brother, Seaman 2/C Robert Swanson, who has also been here, leaves this Thursday for Farragut. Both are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Swanson of Winslow. The young men appreciate home contacts through the Herald.

Likes Nebraska Best.

Pvt. Stanley Gambale, who is here from Camp Roberts, Cal., likes Nebraska's weather better than California's in spite of blizzards. In the west one roasts in the daytime and freezes at night. On his trip here last week Pvt. Gambale found that in the west lakes had frozen, permitting skating, and he first saw snow at Cheyenne. One of his enjoyable experiences was the ferry ride across Oakland bay.

The youth goes to Fort Ord, Cal.

On his return, Fort Ord is a replacement depot. Camp Roberts is the nation's largest infantry replacement training center.

Duane Tilton of Portland, formerly of Wayne, is at Camp Roberts.

Henry Bull of Belden, grandson of the H. A. Prestons of Wayne, is also there and was recently made corporal.

Gunnery Officer Goes to Pacific

Gunnery Officer John West, in charge of defense of a merchant ship taking supplies to fighting forces, has been here this week with his mother, Mrs. J. B. West. He flew here and leaves today by plane for San Francisco where he will again take charge of a navy unit defending one of the nation's ships.

Officer West has been on sea duty eight and a half months. He was in the Aleutian campaign and also went to the south Pacific. Members of the armed guard see lots of the world, according to the officer.

The Wayne man entertained John and Charles Thompson.

Wayne youths in the navy, on his ship at one time.

Officer West's nephew, S. Sgt. Kenneth Walker, with the marine corps the past three years, was here Tuesday, accompanying his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Walker of Cherokee, Ia., here for the day. Sgt. Walker was at Pearl Harbor and Guadalcanal. His duty has been in the Pacific.

Wayne Youths Meet By Chance in City In Far Australia

From somewhere in Australia, Pvt. John Virgil Pearson writes November 7 that he is fine and hopes everyone at home is the same. "I've been here for almost five weeks and like it fine. This is a replacement depot and so far we haven't been assigned. Most of the fellows have left. Some went to tank destroyers and some to general headquarters.

This is one of the prettiest camps I've been in as far as scenery is concerned. It is located on the outskirts of the city. We don't have very far to town. Right now we're pretty short on men and we get all the K. P. and guard we want. We get a 12-hour pass for being on guard. That part is pretty good.

Everything here is opposite from the States. Even the seasons are reversed. It's about like the month of June here now. Three weeks ago was the first time I had seen rain since last June 28. When we were in California it was in the dry season. So it was pretty nice to see it rain and walk in mud for a change. We've had quite a little rain here lately. It's trying awfully hard to rain here now and looks like it could rain all night if it gets started.

Regarding things being opposite here, they drive and walk on the wrong side of the streets and sidewalks. Cars are mostly old-timers. You do see quite a few '38 models and on up to '41. But the biggest share are from 1918 to 1935. I can't remember of ever seeing a 1918 Oakland touring car. But they have them here. There are a lot of Austins. Though they don't call them that here, they are small like Austins. I saw a 1935 four-cylinder Ford just a little bit bigger than an Austin the other day. So they are quite a ways behind with their cars as with everything else.

Houses here are all built about three to six feet off the ground. I guess the white ants chased the red ants and the red ants took refuge under the houses. If I understand them right. These red ants would eat into the house. By building off the ground, people can spray and keep them out. All the residences here are well kept. The city looks real nice. Woolworth and Penney's have stores here and Swift has a packing plant, but all the things sold are Australian goods.

I was surprised to see that all the moving pictures are American. Most of the shows are about a year old or older. "For Me and My Gal," "Road to Morocco," "Captain of the Clouds" and "Berlin Correspondent" are showing here now. People are pretty religious so most of the movies and all the dance halls are closed on Sunday. No saloons are open on Sunday either. So if one gets to town Sunday night, there isn't much going on. Every night in the week but Friday we have free shows here at camp. Friday nights we have a stage show. Last Friday they really had a good one. The only thing I have against the movies is that I have seen most of them, but they are better to see than nothing.

We get good cats here, better than we had in the States. We don't get as much scrambled eggs and mutton. Food was also good on the boat.

The first thing I thought of when I got here was whether or not I could find my cousin. I started to look through the Red Cross service guest book in hopes of seeing his name for then I'd know he was close by. I didn't find his but I did find Don Miller's from Wayne. He had been there September 26. I thought he had been here and left. Then the other night I was in town and was walking down the street expecting that I wouldn't see anyone I knew when I looked to one side and there Don was standing. He was about as glad to see me as I was to see him. I was down again looking for him the other night but didn't find him. When you run into someone you know in a city of 300,000 or better, it's just a miracle.

It'll be looking forward to getting the Herald at the new address. Merry Christmas and happy New Year to all."

Miss Irene Jordan of Hartington, and Robert Anderson of Randolph, were married October 28 at Hartington. They will live north of Randolph.

Popular Music Is Offered By Aviation Jive Bombers

Heard around the campus of Wayne State Teachers college in the vicinity of Terrace hall recently are the soft, sweet strains of many a popular ballad, punctuated with an occasional "hot lick." Yes, the "Jive Bombers" are once more back in the swing of things under the batons of Prof. John P. Keith and Cpl. Vincent J. Messing.

It would take a paragraph of "Hemingway" adjectives properly to describe the music the boys put forth these days. They are truly an aggregation of jive merchants from way back.

The boys in the band, all aviation students, are offering their spare time (what spare time?) to further the entertainment of their buddies.

Recent additions to the band include A/S Grant Carmack, formerly associated with Tommy Tucker and his popular band. His musical background includes study at the Capitol Conservatory of Music in Cleveland, Ohio, where he majored in piano and a term or two at Carnegie Tech devoted to the perfection of his already fine trombone technique.

The boys promise many dancing hours of sweet music for those who are more conservative in dancing and plenty of hot tunes for those who like their jitter-bugging.

Library News

The display of books for children has been well received at the library this week. Books for them are of every type and all are attractive. We hope that book week this year has accomplished its purpose which is the stimulation of good reading among children. Tell a child that he must be kind to animals and he'll stare at you; read him "Black Beauty" (with all its sentimentality) and he'll be kind to animals. Let him read about Russian or Dutch or German children at play and he'll be less likely to rave and rant against "foreigners" when he grows up. The child who reads a great deal is better armed against the future than the child of millionaires. More than that, he is a greater pledge of future security for the world about him.

The Publishers Weekly carried the following poem this week:

As You Like It—Revised. (With apologies to William Shakespeare.) All the world's a library And all the men and women merely readers They have their exits and their entrances And each man in his time reads many books. At first the infant, excited, breathing hard Comes in and scrawls his name upon a card Painstakingly the is so very young.)

Inscribes his name and also bites his tongue. And then the school boy Surly and full of gloom Because he cannot leave the children's room When far-off pastures seem so fair— Reading books of men who dare Delving into wars and chivalry And trials of men that went away to sea. Then comes the lover—sighing dreamily In secret reading books of poetry Or dotting on his lady's newest bonnet Or on her hair and trying to write a sonnet. Then comes the businessman, concise. Wants something for his wife that's nice Full of brief notes and modern references— Depletes the fact that some books shock the senses. At last we have the era of repose Secure, retired, with spectacles on nose He finds time for the classics now at last And pauses, musing, dreaming of his past.

Mothers' club meets this Thursday at the library.

Move to Wayne Home. Mr. and Mrs. Jens Thompson bought Miss Anna Thompson's property on east 3rd street and moved from their farm. Mr. and Mrs. Leland Thompson are on the farm.

Proposes Shipping On Early Market

In an effort to erase the threat of crowded hog markets and a breakdown of marketing processing and distribution machinery, the food distribution administration is urging hog producers to get as many hogs as possible on the November market. Early and orderly marketing is being stressed throughout the nation to help ease the pressure of a heavy rush expected in December and January, according to Dale C. Cruss, Norfolk, area supervisor for food distribution.

It is entirely possible that the number of hogs offered for sale during the December-January rush will exceed the capacity of packing plants, transportation facilities, especially trucks, may be inadequate to move all hogs to market when they are offered for sale.

Packers expect to handle all November receipts without encountering too much trouble, but they are less optimistic of prospects during the heavy marketing season.

If hogs arrive at the markets faster than they can be processed, it will be necessary for farmers to withhold hogs until the load is cleared. Mr. Cruss suggests that farmers contact their regular marketing outlets before trucking or shipping, to be sure they have a ready outlet for their hogs, when facilities are overtaxed and packers are compelled to hold hogs for an indefinite period.

Every hog moved to market in November will help level off the marketing peaks in December and January. By selling all hogs of marketable weights in November and spreading out subsequent marketing over a wider than normal period, Nebraska hog producers

Armistice Service Is Held in Church

Price of Enduring Peace Is Topic for Meeting Held By Women.

"The Price of Enduring Peace" was the theme of the special service for women of Wayne and vicinity Armistice afternoon at the Presbyterian church, a good number attending.

Mrs. W. G. Ingram presided for Mrs. Ralph Crockett who was unable to be present on account of illness. Devotionals were presented by Mrs. Carl Wright, Mrs. J. O. Bridgman, Mrs. Lloyd Powers, Miss Minnie Denlinger, Mrs. W. C. Swanson, Mrs. W. P. Canning, Mrs. R. B. Standley and Mrs. Victor West. Talks on the topic for the day were given by Mrs. V. A. Senter, Mrs. R. W. Casper, Mrs. Herman Bohrer, Mrs. Harry McMillan and Mrs. H. D. Kemper.

Mrs. Clarence McGinn led singing and Mrs. H. A. Welch played the organ. Rev. O. B. Proett gave the offering prayer.

Women of all churches helped furnish refreshments. Mrs. W. C. Corryell and Mrs. F. L. Blair served coffee.

SIXTY SECOND YEAR

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1943

NUMBER TWENTY-FIVE

Former Instructor In College Passes

Miss Mary Agnes Finigan, 65, instructor in home economics and chemistry at Wayne college in 1915-16, died Sunday last week in Lincoln. Funeral rites were conducted at St. Mary's Cathedral in Lincoln Thursday morning.

After Miss Finigan left Wayne, she taught in Omaha Technical high school until her retirement five years ago.

Deceased leaves two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Zilles of Hebron, and Miss Katherine Finigan of Lincoln, and four brothers, W. F. of Lincoln, F. A. of Oakland, Cal., John R. and A. J. of Cuba City, Cal.

Together in West.

Mrs. Goldie Chace Wheaton, whose husband is stationed with the navy at San Francisco, Mrs. Marguerite Chace Parsons who lives in San Francisco, and Lt. Ruth Ringland who is stationed at Palo Alto, Cal., had Sunday last week dinner with P. A. Theobald and Miss Marion Jo Theobald at Palo Alto. The former Wayne folks enjoyed Wayne county chicken for the occasion.

Mrs. Ira Lyon of Madison, spent Friday here in the Judge J. M. Cherry home.

Title to Property Action Is Heard

District Judge to Return For Session of Court Middle of December.

The action in which O. T. Conger seeks to clear title to property bought from the city of Wayne was taken under advisement last Thursday by District Judge Lyle Jackson of Neligh, who was here for a session of court. In the matter, Conger is plaintiff and the State of Nebraska, City of Wayne, et al., are defendants.

Since Harry Otte has failed to pay alimony to Lulu Otte as ordered by court action October 14, the judge allowed the former 10 days to show why he should not be punished for contempt of court.

Other rulings entered include the following: G. L. Sprague vs. City of Wayne, et al., city given 10 days to plead; Dorothy Wendt, et al. vs. Ima Elming Jones, et al., defendant allowed 20 days to answer; City vs. Homer S. Wheaton, decree as per journal entry.

Judge Jackson will return here December 16 for court.

Mrs. J. H. Foster has been visiting in Sioux City the past week.

Mail in November To Solve Problem

Delivery of Christmas gifts and cards on time is always a problem but it will be an impossibility this year unless mailings are made largely in November, according to Postmaster General Frank C. Walker.

Transportation facilities are burdened to the limit with war materials and personnel, and the postal service has more than 31,000 experienced employees in the army and navy. The only solution, warns Mr. Walker, is to mail in November and mark "Do not open until Christmas." This is the only way to avoid disappointment for millions in the armed forces and for civilians.

Each year 200,000 extra employees are hired to handle the push. This year the extra workers will be largely women and school girls who are unable to put in long hours. Therefore, Christmas mails must be spread over a longer period.

Is Hospital Patient.

Mrs. W. E. Wingett of Shoes, mother of Mrs. Herbert Bodenstein, was brought to a Wayne hospital last Wednesday for medical care.

Postwar Education Is Topic of Forum

Panel Discussion Is Held For A.A.U.W. and Guests To Promote Thought.

Postwar education was the theme of a panel discussion conducted for Wayne branch of A. A. U. W. and guests Thursday evening at the Woman's club room. Mrs. R. R. Smith was leader and speakers on the panel were Mrs. R. S. Morgan, Mrs. A. D. Lewis, Dr. J. T. Anderson, Dr. Walter Bluthack, F. S. Berry and E. W. Huse. Though no definite conclusions were reached, it seemed the consensus of opinion that much careful thought must be given education in the future and that present day events will have great bearing on decisions.

In opening the forum, Mrs. Smith pointed out the present "ferment" is education. The demand for training in science, mathematics and English for young folks in the war has brought many educational problems to the front. The panel was arranged, Mrs. Smith pointed out, to get the public to thinking on how to meet educational demands.

F. S. Berry spoke first, stating that the war will not change fundamentals. The world is now in a state of flux, but war doings are temporary. "If we build on fundamentals, we will get back to normalcy." Opportunities will develop. The danger lies in excesses and these must be avoided. Mr. Berry stressed the importance of character development.

Mrs. F. S. Morgan explained that education should be designed to make children good citizens not only of the United States but of the world. The war has shown the need for better education in less time. Mrs. Morgan stressed the value of learning to read understandingly as the basis for all learning. She favored more Latin and languages, greater emphasis on mathematics, plenty of work in liberal arts and development of character as needs in postwar education.

E. W. Huse mentioned the need for study of Latin and foreign languages as a means of helping other peoples of the world to understand the motives of democracy. A thoroughly rounded education that taps wellsprings of the mind, he said, counts most in appreciation of values and in practical experience. Vocational training and academic knowledge should be well balanced, each given its place but neither overbalancing the other. He proposed instruction that fuses an eagerness to learn and to evaluate. "Preserve the treasures of the spirit by broad and well-rounded postwar education."

"Are we letting our rights slip from us while we are trying to preserve individual rights for others?" questioned Mrs. A. D. Lewis in her message. In postwar education Mrs. Lewis, like earlier speakers, stressed the value of knowing foreign languages as a bond among peoples of the world. She would make Latin compulsory in schools. In mentioning the appalling increase of juvenile delinquency Mrs. Lewis proposed solution of this problem by adding 12 years of Bible study in schools. Bible stories can be made interesting and inspiring, she pointed out, without offending any one religious sect.

Dr. Walter Bentback pointed out the astounding lack of training among youths entering service. Some 35 per cent have had elementary schooling or less and 25 per cent were graduated from high school. Only 11 per cent have attended college. He feels that all young folks should have at least high school education. He thinks the teacher shortage should force consolidation and other improvements in rural districts. Working together in large groups affords the best training for complex society. Dr. Bentback favors clinging to traditional subjects. High school training could be crammed in less time, but Dr. Bentback pointed out the need for time for the development of young folks. He is not interested in shortening the time spent in school but in improving the time spent there.

Dr. J. T. Anderson expressed hope that the democratic society can be maintained after the war. The question arises as to whether the school or society will set the pattern for postwar education. "We can have the kind of society we want if we are willing to pay the price," he stated. "Collective living will become more necessary and we will need to improve our living together. We must be better educated." Dr. Anderson pointed out that teachers will be required to be better prepared, to have better understanding of psychology and to know how to guide spiritual and social development. He sees culture in the practical and practical in the cultural subjects taught.

Mrs. Smith closed by expressing the hope that the group would continue to think about the educational setup and lead others to do the same so that postwar education might be planned well.

Death Takes Two In Graftis Family

Death struck in the Elmer Graftis family at Laurel twice in one week. Pvt. Emory Graftis was killed on Guadalcanal October 27 and his mother, Mrs. Elmer Graftis, died at Laurel October 30. Pvt. Graftis was specially trained as driver of an amphibious truck in the infantry.

Consider Retreat For Church Group

A retreat this winter for ministers and elders was considered by Niobrara Presbytery executive council Monday at meeting with Rev. O. B. Proett here. In the group attending were Rev. Raymond Kresensky of Emerson, moderator, Rev. John Caldwell, Laurel, clerk, Rev. Otto W. Henn of Osmond, Rev. W. S. Erwin of Norfolk, Rev. Proett and J. O. Wentworth.

Property Is Taken From Local Parlor

Lester Hofeldt Place Here Is Entered and Robbed On Friday Night.

Eight quarts of gin and seven quarts of wine, valued at about $40, and pennies and small silver in the sum of $7 were taken from the Lester Hofeldt parlor in Wayne Friday night.

Entrance was gained by forcing open a window which is above a lean-to shed at the back of the building.

Discovery of the loss was made when John Rosacker, who is employed by Mr. Hofeldt opened the parlor Saturday morning. He noticed that the back door had been left open. Evidently the burglar came in by the window but left by the door.

Mrs. Mary B. Lakeman came from St. Paul Friday to spend a couple of weeks with her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Campbell, and family. She plans to go from here to Tulsa, Okla., to visit another daughter whose husband is in service.

Rites Conducted For Otto Kardell

Funeral rites were conducted at Laurel Methodist church last Thursday for Otto Kardell, 75, who died November 5 after a lingering illness. Burial was in Laurel cemetery.

Deceased was a native of Sweden. When he came to America in 1901, he worked on a farm in Wayne county. His wife and six children came to this country a few years later and the family had lived in Laurel vicinity most of the time since.

Deceased leaves his wife, three daughters and two sons.

Fifty-eight Men in Armed Forces Will Be Given Due Recognition

Soldiers' and sailors' recognition service is planned for Sunday, November 21, at 11 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. This will honor the 58 young men of the church who are in various branches of the armed services. Parents of these boys will be special guests.

Rev. O. B. Proett plans a patriotic sermon on "A Just and Durable Peace." A ladies' trio will sing an anthem. A special offering will be taken for wartime service fund. The Presbyterians aim to raise $1,200,000 for carrying on service in war and defense centers.

Christmas Seals To Be Sold Soon

Christmas health seals will be sold soon, half of the proceeds to remain for local health work. This year the seals are being mailed to individuals rather than having children of the schools sell them. Miss Marie Wright is in charge of the movement to improve health in this way.

District 27. (Myrtle Sporing, teacher) Pupils with perfect attendance records for two months are Dona May Carman, Donald Joseph Carman, Ronald Samson, Dorothy Nuernberger, Paul Henschke and Floyd Carman. Health inspection is conducted every morning. If the pupils do not have perfect health their window on the Greyhound bus going to Healthland is closed for the day. Howard Greve and DeLords Hamber have had perfect records for the last two months.

A Halloween party November 1 was enjoyed by all.

Friday in art period Pilgrim scenes were made for November room decorations.

Friday pupils organized a club called "Keep 'em Flying." Henry Tarnow, Jr., was made president, Paul Henschke, vice president and Louis Carman, secretary. The president assigns certain duties to be done by pupils for the week. They include currying water, dusting erasers, being hygienic and doing hall duty.

Books are Reported. Books reported turned in to Miss Marie Wright the past week include the following: D. Wesley Beckenhauer, district 6, Lost Over Greenland, Fuzzy Wuzz; Joan Lorraine Suber, district 6, Lost Hope Ranch, The Mystery of the Voice in the Shitcase. Lorraine Andrews, district 18.

Tells of Methods To Control Mice

Entomology department at the college of agriculture suggests ways to control the field mice and keep them from injuring trees during the winter months.

Field mice do the most damage where trees are mulched around the trunk or where grass and weeds have accumulated. They make runways underneath such trash and settle down for the winter with a plentiful supply of fresh bark close at hand.

The best safeguard is to rake away all trash for a distance of a foot or more about the base of the tree. Mice may also be poisoned with poisoned grain baits placed in their burrows or runways beneath the trash.

Cavanaugh and Miss Catherine went to the city to spend Thursday evening with Lt. Cavanaugh. The squadron left Ephrata Thursday morning and left for that base again early Friday morning. The planes circled high over Wayne Thursday and Friday coming and going.

Enthusiastic About Navy. Yeoman First Class Vern D. Jennevein, who used to be at Carroll, writes from the naval radio station, Imperial Beach, Cal., that he has been in the navy two years and is just as enthusiastic about it today as when he enlisted. "The youth's station is on the very southern tip of southern California. The climate is wonderful although nights have been chilly. "I think I could say the nights have been cold but the local Chamber of Commerce shudders at the very sound of the word cold." Yeoman Jennevein appreciates home news through the Herald.

MARVIN E. THOMAS of Wayne, has just been commissioned second lieutenant at Moore Field, Texas, where he earned his silver wings. He is one of the youths who will pilot pursuit ships and bombers.

Likes Army Service. "The WAC is an excellent organization and it gives the women of America a marvelous opportunity to serve their country in an active way," writes Cpl. Dorothy Liedtke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Liedtke, from the WAC detachment at Dale Mabry Field, Tallahassee, Fla. "Women can prove to men that they can do a job and do it well. If I had a chance to leave the army, I would turn it down without hesitation. I am in until the united nations have secured and won world peace."

Cpl. Liedtke was graduated from the University of Denver in 1942 and was librarian in Kansas City, Mo., library until she enlisted.

Cpl. Liedtke passed the O. C. S. board August 15 and is awaiting call to officers' candidate school. Her occupation in the army at the Florida base is that of post librarian.

Selection to the specialty school was made on the basis of the feminine bluejacket's past civilian experience and her recruit training aptitude tests. The completed course of study included shorthand, typing, filing and general naval office procedures. The college-slanted course included pleasant periods of social and physical recreation.

After further experience at her new post the newly graduated yeoman will be eligible for still higher advancement in the petty officer ratings.

Stationed in Norfolk. Archie McPherran, physical training specialist in the navy program, recently in Bermuda, has now been stationed at Norfolk, Va. "As cold as it is getting in Virginia, I sometimes wish I were back in Bermuda," writes the young man. "I've seen three former students from Wayne State since I came back from leave. Bob Carlisle was here a few days to get a plane before going across. Harold Thorin works at the assembly and repair department here at the air station. Faye Barnett is in the marine women's reserve and is stationed at Cherry Point, N. C.

"We have quite an athletic set-up here and it keeps us busy. We have our first class at 6:45 a. m. and are busy until 3:45 at night. Every man must have three hours of athletics and one hour of military drill per week. The athletic games include touch football, basketball, volleyball, soccer, badminton, boxing and softball. Classes are also held in hand to hand, instruction on cargo nets, and lines." "The young man sends appreciation for the Herald.

Standard Multi-Perfected Hybrids

Big Yields - Big Stalks - Big Roots - Fine Feeding Value Drought Resistance

One of the Standard Multi-Perfected Hybrids is perfected to suit your demands. Three of the most popular types in this region are Standard's 613, Standard's 615 and Standard's 405.

STANDARD'S 613

A beautiful single ear hybrid. About 119 - 115 day type. We consider this a top-notch hybrid for this section of Nebraska. It is pretty as a picture while growing and just as good looking and satisfactory at harvest time. Strong straight stalks. Rich dark green foliage. Beautiful, well formed ears. Deep golden soft kernels. Drought and bug resistant. Heavy in production and high in quality.

STANDARD'S 615

About 105 - 110 day type. It is a single eared corn, adapted to a wide range of soils. It has medium deep grains and is not flinty. You will find it good for machine or hand husking.

STANDARD'S 405

About 97 to 102 day type. Excellent for Nebraska. Starts fast in the spring, matures rapidly in the fall. Stalks are strong and quite leafy. They grow to a good height under favorable conditions, making it suitable for ensilage. Exceptionally good husking corn. Stiff stalked, single eared. Its quick spring growth permits early cultivation. We don't know of any early corn that will surpass it in yield or quality.

The drought resistant qualities are good. Foliage has a good color. We do not know of a hybrid of medium maturity that has the possibilities of Standard's 615.

Gilbert Eckert of the navy, Junior Trautwein of the marines and Ted Witt of the army, visited school.

News from G. A. A.

G.A.A. girls met Tuesday and reported on the number of girls who have obtained jumping ropes for exercising during regular class periods. The number who do not have ropes as yet was relatively small.

The girls played one inning of Kittenball on the school grounds, with Mary Lou Bates' side winning 6-4 over Dottie Reed's team.

Arrangements were made for the girls to participate in exercises in the municipal auditorium so that the space would be more adequate for the needs of the group.

The entire class jumped rope down to the auditorium where games, dances, group rope jumping and calisthenics constituted the day's activities.

From Senior Class.

Expositions on famous passages taken from American literature were given in senior English.

Boys have begun mechanical drawing in industrial arts. Arlene Petersen and Norman Niemann visited Wednesday and Mrs. Dallas Beckner, Thursday.

Juniors Class News.

Juniors thank Chris Weible, Dr. R. E. Gormley, Gabeler & Neely, Bert Hornby, Ed Hornby, Mrs. Grover Francis, William Cary and Mrs. Elmer Gillespie for providing furniture for the play; Mrs. Stet Porter for loaning a phonograph; Mrs. Otto Graef, for plants and stand; William Wylie, for use of car and trailer; and all mothers, for baking cakes when sugar is so scarce.

American history class had oral reports from the Reader's Digest. A unit on the struggle for American independence started.

Juniors finished "Macbeth" in English and drew up a cast from high school students for an imaginary presentation of the drama.

Physics class is studying motion and force.

Sophomore Notes.

Reports from the Reader's Digest and Newsweek were given in world history. The class is studying Rome also. Grades of A and B were earned in a review test by Dolores Baird, LaJeanne Miller, Virginia Lettmann, Laura Jane Quinn, Patsy Waller, Marvin Schroeder, Dorothy Davis, Mary Lou Bates, Dick Wade, Duane Neary and Wilma Jensen.

English class wrote descriptive compositions.

Latin class is working on infinitives and participles.

Arlene Petersen visited geometry class.

The class presented a farewell gift to Dolores Harper who moved from Winside.

Sophomores enjoyed an indoor track meet put on by freshmen November 5 and sophomores won the meet.

Mr. Farmer!

You Can Help Yourself and the War Effort by Helping the Packer!

If you are not needed on the farm this winter you can earn good wages and at the same time assist in avoiding drastic restrictions on the marketing of livestock for slaughter through employment at the Cudahy Packing Company Plant, Sioux City, Iowa.

The volume of livestock to be slaughtered this winter will exceed all past figures. Unless it is possible to obtain more workers to handle this increased volume a serious bottleneck will develop which will certainly result in restricting the amount of livestock to be accepted at the markets from farms and feed lots.

The Cudahy Packing Company needs additional workers now. With high basic rates of pay and opportunity for overtime work at time and one-half, wages are good. You can help the War effort—meat for the Armed Forces and civilian needs is essential and must be processed.

Acceptance of this temporary work with The Cudahy Packing company WILL NOT CHANGE YOUR DEFERRED DRAFT STATUS, if you obtain a temporary release from farm work. See or write your County Agent or Director and the United States Employment Service for information and assistance in obtaining this clearance.

Then call at The Cudahy Packing Company, Sioux City Plant ready for work, or, if further information is desired, write

Officers Elected For Dixon County

Legion and Auxiliary Will Help U. S. O. Centers Wayne-Sioux City.

Legion and Auxiliary county meeting was held in Wakefield Armistice day. R. B. Newell of Sioux City, was guest speaker. For the morning program he addressed an audience of high school students, townpeople, Legionnaires and Auxiliary members on the subject, "The principles on which the American Legion stands regarding the peace after this war."

Wakefield high school band, directed by James E. Kooztz, gave a concert.

The afternoon Ponca-Wakefield football game was cancelled because of bad roads and lack of transportation facilities.

Legion and Auxiliary held business meetings and officers were elected. Mrs. Floyd Clough, district president, and Mrs. John Hanson, president of the Auxiliary, presided at the Auxiliary meeting. New officers are: Mrs. Mallord Townsend of Ponca, county chairman, and Mrs. Victoria Carl, Ponca, vice chairman. Plans were formulated to help U.S.O. centers in Wayne and Sioux City.

Roy Aridrews of Ponca, vice commander, was in charge of the Legion business meeting.

Dr. L. J. Kilian of Wayne, was toastmaster at the evening banquet which was held in the high school auditorium. The banquet was served by Wakefield P. T. A. Jive Bombers, composed of a group of aviation students from the Wayne college training detachment, were guests at the banquet, and after enlivening festivities there, they played for the dance in the Wakefield Legion hall. Proceeds of the dance go to the Wayne service center.

It was decided that the meeting next year will be held in Allen.

Students Appear In Formal Concert

Wakefield high school music department, under the direction of J. E. Kooztz, will present a gala formal program of vocal and instrumental music in the high school auditorium Friday, November 19.

The program there is, "Music for America." No admission will be charged.

Morale in the Home Is Topic for Clubs

Dixon county home demonstration project clubs this month are discussing morale in the home. Better letter writing to the men in the service is also coming in for attention.

Using a circular prepared by Dr. Leland H. Stott, associate professor of research in family relations at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture, the project clubs are discussing how parents must assume more responsibility toward family morale. The urgent need for parents to accept this responsibility is seen in the reports of increases in juvenile delinquency coming from all parts of the country.

Of chief interest to the homemakers in project clubs are the wartime objectives as listed by Dr. Stott. In time of war, training and guidance of youth are especially difficult and it is important that parents work to provide home conditions the most favorable to the best development of their children.

The "brushing" up on letter writing is also interesting to the homemakers, many of whom have sons or relatives in the armed forces.

Huge Pile Scrap Gathered in Area

A huge pile of scrap was realized in the Dixon county drive in which residents of all towns assisted a crew from the army air base at Sioux City. This salvage was an army maneuver for 689 army men with 25 army trucks and a demolition crew, commanded by Captain S. Saltus and Lt. W. C. Behrens.

Old bridge, boilers and tractors were hauled after being dynamited. Oyster stew was served at Allen to the army group.

Loans on Soybeans Will Be Provided

Commodity Credit corporation is now urging farmers with good yellow soybeans of the better varieties and of good purity and germination to hold over a plentiful supply for seed in 1944. County Agent Howard S. Gillaspie has informed this week. The usual CCC loan of $1.87 per bushel on farms is offered for seed grading No. 2 and added premiums for good beans of lower moisture content.

Lettermen Form Nucleus of Team

Regular Work Is Resumed In Wakefield School After Early Storm.

Eight lettermen form the nucleus of the basketball squad which has started drills for the winter season. Lettermen include seniors, Bob Busby, Jack Donelson, Junfor Neu, Brice Nicholson and Tuffy Benson. Junior veterans are James Anderson, Don Erickson and Warren Borg. In early practice sessions the work of Jim Hyspe, Jim Hanson and Lee Stautier have made it evident that the varsity team this season will be two and three deep in every position.

The first game of the year is with Wayne prep on the Wakefield floor. Following games will find the Trojans facing West Point, Stanton, Wayne high and Allen on the opponents' floors, and Wayne high, Waver, Pender, Emerson and Ponca in the local gym.

The pep club is planning special entertainment for all home basketball games.

Boys who are not on the varsity will have their basketball nontheless. An intramural basketball league is being set up for the 40 boys who want to play ball but do not have the time for varsity competition. Girls will also have their turn at basketball.

School was closed Monday of last week because of roads. The Ponca-Wakefield football game which was to be played Thursday afternoon, was cancelled because of the blocked roads in the Ponca vicinity and because of transportation difficulties.

The high school band played a concert for the county Legionnaires Thursday. J. E. Kooztz, director of music in the Wakefield schools, had charge of the music and sang the solo, "Invictus." Bob Clough sang a solo; Betty Conner played a clarinet solo and Jim Anderson, Jim Hanson and Carol Binkler comprised a trumpet trio.

Sophomores had a class party in the high school gymnasium Friday evening. Mrs. Louella Peck and James Kooztz are sponsors. Phyllis Schimes is the class president.

Juniors are planning an all-school old-time box social to be held in the near future. The class is progressing in work on their class play, "Adam's Evening," which will be staged December 2.

Seventh and Eighth Grades

The 8th grade history class is studying the Revolutionary war. Students of the 7th grade learned to estimate distances in arithmetic class. The students can now judge distances "by sight" and by using their "hand width."

Kindergarten and First

Children have been coloring Thanksgiving pictures and have the sand table decorated with pilgrims, Indians and log cabins.

Gary Waggoner brought six fish to school. The boys and girls named them after some kittens in a story book.

Students made clay turkeys last week in school.
