

Helps to Become Less Pressing Under the Impetus of Due Private Enterprise Good and Bad Dreams Jap's Faulty Appraisal Just Like a Machine Looks and Acts Sickly Another Slip in Service.

If business and industry were able and inclined to safeguard their employees there would be less valid demands on the government to offer its help and impose its restraints. In postwar readjustment and reconstruction, it will be up to private enterprise to justify its independence by measuring up to responsibilities. It can do the job better and cheaper than politicians and government sources. If private employers are indifferent or neglectful, politicians who usually know little about practical economics, are pressed to act in behalf of the employed masses, and the result is likely to be a long, winding course in red tape with weakened initiative and unsatisfactory results.

Among other taxing laws to which the Herald is subject, is the state's unemployment insurance setup which harmonizes with a federal statute, and which is applied to an institution that employs eight or more. It appears that many employers plan to have their employees withdrawn from the act for a year, but in withdrawing his cash receipt is swallowed by what is called the "pooled account," and if he employs a sufficient number to rate under the law, he starts over with no surplus to his credit. That is the sticker. That is, the regulation which persuades one to stay put whether the facts fully warrant doing so or not.

During the last year the Herald has had five and sometimes only four full-time employees. Others were part-timers who sailed in and out in accordance with school and other duties. But it appears that if one works some portion of the day for twenty days in a year, each day being in a different calendar week, he comes under the law. So, it is our guess, without careful figuring, that the Herald qualifies.

But we are convinced that all social security requirements can be handled more economically and more satisfactorily by employers through strong insurance companies. But employing institutions would have to recognize the need and respond to it ahead of politicians who are on the alert to capture popular favor and are capable of relishing a hand in directing and restricting private enterprise. Many employers have long carried on security safeguards successfully and to the entire satisfaction of employees.

While Sleeping. There seems to be no definite proof covering the source of dreams or the reason for them, and even a few deal bureaucrats have thus far failed to offer explanations, preventives or regulations. Some dreams are good and some are bad, perhaps depending on what one bats of how one treats his nervous system.

Deluded Nonsense. Individuals are often misguided or mistaken. The Japs are likely to find they are not "sons of heaven," as they boast, but rather the sons of hell, judgment based on their savagery. But as the war wages and warms, plenty of them, extinguished, will find but for sure.

To Be an Automaton. We wonder how one would feel to be in government service that requires him to act like an automaton, never expressing an opinion, never agreeing or disagreeing with anybody, and never seeming to know anything for sure about anything. It would be a hard life.

Sickly Harry Hopkins. Harry Hopkins who charges his name was forged to a certain letter which has caused a lot of disturbance in high political circles, was released from a hospital bed long enough to offer his testimony. His latest picture proves he is as sick as hospital treatment would suggest. He is not anemic and weak, which he is not listed as sick. He is a man of lowly but his picture would not be convincing in an advertisement setting forth the cord and other health products of a robust state. However, we can see how he would amiably - and without resistance wrap himself around any idea issuing from the White House under executive approval.

Missed Again. Wakefield and vicinity again missed their copies of the Herald on schedule last week. That marked the third time within a year. Some 300 copies are in the bundle - too many to be carelessly overlooked. They were carried on to Sioux City, returning too late for circulation in the country until Friday. A photograph attached to the mail carrier's vehicle, timed to go on automatically and shout: "Wakefield - the Herald" would help. Anyway, if the service is again delayed, the Herald will arrange to convey its copies to Wakefield by private carrier.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Morris and daughter were Sunday guests in the Mrs. Stella Chichester home.

Must Invest Now to Back Home Boys

Army Students Are Hundred Per Cent in Purchasing In Fourth War Loan.

Wayne county must invest $325,000 more in bonds in the fourth war loan which continues until February 15 in order that the home folks may keep faith with more than 1,000 Wayne county boys who are in the armed forces and the merchant marine. Chairman R. L. Larson reports $147,000 of the $465,000 quota purchased to date. With less than two weeks remaining, investments will need to be stepped up to reach the goal.

About nine per cent of the county's population is now serving actively in the war effort. Many homes are represented by two, three and even four in front-line service.

Chairman Larson urges all on the home front to answer the call for funds to supply these men with needed equipment by investing today in government securities. Such purchases are not satiating. They are the best kind of investments.

Not only are the boys in service making great sacrifice to protect the democratic way of life, but they too are investing in bonds. Every one in service buys bonds. Army Buys Bonds. The entire personnel of Wayne college, army detachment marched to the post office Wednesday afternoon and invested in bonds.

Governor Dwight Griswold calls Nebraskaans to help realize the state's quota of 94 million in the present bond drive. Buy more Nebraska bonds in service. We must stick up these boys. They are our sons and brothers, our fathers and husbands, and our friends. Surely the people of Nebraska will not let them down. Backing the attack with war bonds is our best assurance that they will come back safely to us.

Officers Search For Air Student

John Moody Who Left Army Classification Center Is Wanted by Law.

Officers are searching for John V. Moody, 24, who went AWOL, absent without leave, at Santa Ana, Cal., army air corps classification center and was in Wayne in January. The young man took five months' training at Wayne detachment before going to Santa Ana in December. Members of the unit leaving here in January saw him in Wayne and they notified the Santa Ana commanding officer who immediately contacted other officials in a search. Sheriff J. J. Pile was first called January 21.

It is charged that Moody stole a car in the west. He was in Wayne Saturday and Sunday, January 15 and 16, and Tuesday and Wednesday, January 18 and 19. When he on the first dates, he had a black Oldsmobile, 1941 or 1942 model. This car was found abandoned at Columbus with license plates gone. On his second visit the young man had a blue Oldsmobile of 1941 or 1942 model with Nebraska license plate 5-7610, this being from Dodge county. Moody was reported to be in Sioux City Wednesday, January 19, and when he returned to Nebraska, he had a car bearing Minnesota plates. It is said that he carried Minnesota, South Dakota and Nebraska plates and perhaps those from other states.

Officers are also informed that Moody carried $3,000 on his person in a money belt and about $600 in a billfold. He is said to have had considerable jewelry, and traveled with a brown zipper bag.

The young man is also charged with having about 200 blank forms for army passes which it is claimed he uses to serve his own convenience. When he on his recent visit he was using the name of Paul Z. Powers. He carried a pass which he represented had been issued at McGowan field in Idaho.

Moody registered at a hotel in Norfolk January 18, 19 and 20 and checked out January 20, going to Lincoln. His home was given as Indiana.

The youth is 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 150 pounds and has penetrating brown eyes, brown hair and light complexion. One shoulder is slightly higher than the other. Buzz Saw Accident Injures Wayne Man

HEAVY RAINS AND SNOW LIFT BURDEN OF PEOPLE'S FEAR

NEBRASKA was given a soaking rain last week - the first such January experience within the recollection of oldest inhabitants. One point reported one and one-half inches of rain followed by a foot of snow. In the western part of the state the storm came in the shape of heavy snowfall. Predicted snow and wind of near blizzard proportions for this neighborhood failed to materialize. The wind came without the snow. An inch of rain that soaked into this area, has done much good besides establishing ground for belief in future moisture. The soaking lifted people's spirits which had begun to drop through fear of possible drought. With February duty installed, we may look back on a mild and altogether satisfactory January and hope for an early spring with favorable growing conditions.

Oscar Peterson Hurt Here Tuesday When Cutting Wood at Farm.

Oscar Peterson's right ankle was badly cut in a buzz saw and his right arm was broken in two places in the pulley shortly before noon Tuesday when he and Aeden Austin were sawing wood at the former's home, the C. E. Gildersleeve farm, six and a half miles south and two east of Wayne. Mr. Peterson was rushed to a Wayne hospital by ambulance for care and was taken by Willard Wallace to Sioux City to a bone specialist, about 5 that evening. Report from the city hospital Wednesday stated that the foot injury had been so well cared for that Mr. Peterson has a fair chance of having the foot saved. The circulation has not been damaged, and Mr. Peterson did not lose a great amount of blood.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin had gone to Peterson's Tuesday to spend the day and the men were in the yard cutting wood. Mr. Peterson was putting dressing on the belt with a wooden paddle. The paddle caught and pulled Mr. Peterson's right arm into the pulley, breaking it above and below the elbow. The belt and pulley took Mr. Peterson off the ground and threw him on top of the revolving saw. The cut, which is entirely through the bone, severed about an inch of the foot, extending from the ankle through the heel.

Mr. Austin notified Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Austin, who were waiting for the men to come to dinner. The women called the Beckenhauer ambulance and summoned Earl Bennett, Fred Frevert and Alfred Sydow, neighbors, who hurried to the farm. Mr. Peterson was brought to Wayne in a very short time.

Mrs. Peterson is with her husband in Sioux City, and Miss Florence Peterson, who is employed in the city, is also with him. Mr. Bennett and other neighbors are looking after the farm.

Area Is Soaked By January Rain

Much Needed Moisture Is Received in Northeast Part of Nebraska.

Northeast Nebraska received much needed moisture last Wednesday and Thursday when rain fell and again Sunday when the ground was covered with a moist snow. The precipitation as recorded at the State National bank gauge in Wayne was about .91 for the period. Wakefield reports 1.5 inches of moisture from rains and snow, and Carroll 1.1. The rain soaked into the ground to do a great deal of good.

It is planned to hold funeral services in Norfolk with the Legion in charge.

Rains in western Nebraska last week turned to ice and did considerable damage to communication lines. Heavy snow in that section of the state was piled by strong wind into huge drifts, reported 10 feet deep in places. Roads were blocked for some time.

The moisture brought Norfolk's total for January to 1.32, making it the wettest January since 1922 when 1.81 inches were recorded. Sioux City records show that the month was one of the driest there with only .49 of an inch.

not to discriminate against this health-giving food. Supt. J. W. Litherland introduced Mrs. R. M. Carhart who presented Miss Thille Saxton and Miss Smrha, the three being guests of the club. Rev. O. B. Probit was a guest of C. M. Craven. Songs opened the meeting. G. W. Schulz, a new member, was presented the Kiwanis pin by B. W. Wright.

Miss Anna Smrha Tells Club Kiwanians About Ways To Balance Diet

Proper eating habits will provide needed vitamins. Miss Anna Smrha, state nutritionist, told Kiwanians Monday. Because people do not understand healthful foods, some $100,000 is spent annually to buy vitamins in capsules or some other form. Vitamin D, in cod-liver oil, is the only vitamin which cannot be supplied by proper choice of foods. Miss Smrha advised a study of food groups to gain required amounts of vitamins. She divided foods into seven kinds and stressed the need for providing all seven in the diet.

The food groups are: 1. green and yellow vegetables such as carrots and spinach; 2. oranges, grapefruit, tomatoes, raw cabbage and salad greens; 3. potatoes and other vegetables and fruits; 4. milk and milk products such as cheese; 5. meat, poultry, fish and eggs, dried beans and peas, nuts and peanut butter; 6. bread, flour and cereals; 7. butter and fortified oleomargarine.

Vitamin A, found in yellow vegetables, gives health to the complexion and hair. Miss Smrha told that the owner of race horses improved the appearance of his animals wonderfully by feeding them carrots. Vitamin A, found in carrots, provides the eyes with the power to adjust quickly to light and dark. A young man who was rejected for army service because of an eye defect, overcame this by eating carrots.

Vitamin C is the most elusive, the speaker stated. This food, found in citrus fruits, gives strength to capillary walls and other body tissues.

It is not natural to be tired and lacking in pep, the speaker stated. Eating appetizing foods and especially vitamin C, in fruits and tomatoes, will do much to prolong youth.

Children need a quart of milk a day and adults a half quart, Miss Smrha stated. Not only does milk provide vitamins, but it furnishes calcium and other such needs.

Meat is the most popular food but not the most economical. Other foods like soybeans, nuts, and peanut butter furnish the same vitamins. The only source for vitamin B1 is lean pork and this vitamin is a morale builder. The speaker told that the English people depended on this vitamin to build morale during the hard bombings in their country.

Whole grain cereals are vital in the diet also, and Miss Smrha urged the return to use of more whole grains. She told that a cake that once bought two loaves of brown bread to 10 of white is now buying equal numbers. This notes some change on the part of the public to use the coarser foods.

In closing Miss Smrha mentioned the real food value in oleomargarine and urged her listeners

"Jesus came to seek and save those who are lost." Sunday, February 6: Our new furnace is in place and well installed. Last Sunday, with but the ringing of our own bell, the attendance at church school and at the worship service was well up to normal. We are all glad to get back to our own church after the three weeks of enforced absence because of the broken furnace. We have appreciated the fellowship with other churches. We thank the St. Paul Lutheran church for the privilege of the vesper service in their sanctuary one Sunday.

"There is no place like home" is a much used phrase, and a good one too, whether applied to the place where we live or the place where we worship. We urge that our members and friends and those who are accustomed to worship in a Methodist church come next Sunday.

Against High-Pressure Methods to Force the Purchase of War Bonds in Saunders County
 The Hartington Herald appeared last week with the announcement that it would suspend for the duration of the war on account of the ill health of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Stone and the absence of their son, Dudley Stone, in the armed forces, leaving insufficient help. It promises to resume when victory and peace come. The Herald is the oldest newspaper in Cedar county, having been founded with the town in 1882. It was one of the well known and highly respected rural publications of the state. It is one among many newspapers that have had to quit on account of the war.

A practical way to permit soldiers to vote next November engrosses Washington this week. The administration wants to employ only federal machinery and restrict the privilege to expression on national candidates whereas another large and active group contends that exercise of the franchise should agree with the constitution and thus be handled by the different states. The latter course would permit voting on all candidates. No question as to the right of a soldier to vote is involved. The only question is how he may do so most easily and understandingly.

Report of Gallup's latest survey shows Gov. Tom Dewey of New York still climbing in popular support for the republican presidential nomination. He is gaining in his lead over Wendell Willkie who ranks second. Other candidates are far down the line. Failure of both Dewey and Willkie in the convention would inevitably lead to the nomination of a less popular candidate. It is hoped the convention will weigh carefully both fitness for the office and drawing power among voters of the nation. Republicans cannot afford to name a weak candidate.

The death of William Allen White, America's most distinguished country editor, is a reminder of the valuable service he gave. He rose to prominence in the field of politics as well as letters. We recall that he furnished the rudder for the career of the late Walt Mason, poet, and started him on his way to success and fame. White's guiding influence brought notable achievement to a life that threatened failure. White's son will carry on with the Gazette at Emporia, Kansas.

We notice with high satisfaction that Wayne has been acquiring many new residents of late. We are also pleased to know that this town has become the trade center for a greatly enlarged outlying area. These facts speak well for local advantages and stimulate confidence in the future.

Farm sales invariably attract large crowds of ready buyers. Individuals do not go just to look on. They are on hand regardless of the weather because they want the things offered, and they are willing to pay well to get them.

Moving to new locations will be in progress during February and reach its climax and conclusion March 1. Settled for the year, all will turn attention to raising big crops to satisfy growing demands.

The best security is that which is earned. It is the kind that will be carefully guarded.

nomie institutions, the American citizen who is willing and able to work, or go into business, or otherwise serve his country in a productive capacity, need have little fear of insecurity.

LOOKING AHEAD.
 The Journal of Fairbury is strongly in favor of that city's providing a modernly equipped down-town rest room as soon as slackening war demands will permit, and make it answer all requirements for comfort, recreation and health. The Journal points out that many diseases are caused or aggravated by lack of due sanitation. Visitors in town should be welcomed to convenient quarters for relaxation. Soldiers will return from government service with clear ideas of community needs, and towns that lead in plans looking to such improvements will be more certain of desired growth and stability. A town that indifferently clings to the status quo—refuses to budget out of primal ruts—will gradually and inevitably shrink. Post-war needs must be provided to insure progress.

AMPLE GENIUS.
 Wm. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific railroad, is quoted by the New York Mirror as saying in a recent speech that the only way to get rid of the new deal is to get rid of those who have been running it—the Tugwells, Hopkinses, Wallaces, Ickeses and others. Jeffers said people are tired of being bossed by "economists" who never met a payroll and of "plotters and planners" who conduct the government business with their heads buried in briefcases. Jeffers said there is more common sense on the main street of Wahoo, Neb., than on Pennsylvania avenue in Washington. He asserted that the country must get back to common sense and expel from government agencies the bulk of the Pennsylvania avenue mudslingers. Jeffers said there are plenty of practical brains to restore the country to a sound basis if given a chance, and they will be able to solve any problem. There is no "bottom to the barrel" of American genius. He says people are mortally tired of government by professors and adolescent students.

AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C., January 27, 1944.
 The Pentagon building, about which there has been so much discussion, will eventually cost $86 million instead of the original estimate of $36 million.
 One hundred twenty-four private organizations have been collecting money to be used for relief in foreign countries. Since 1939 these organizations have collected close to 120 million dollars. Each one of these organizations must be registered with the president's war relief control board.

The house special committee appointed to investigate un-American activities in the United States, usually referred to as the Dies committee, has asked for and received an additional $75,000 to pay the expenses of its activities. This committee was set up in the 75th congress and its present authority expires January 3, 1945.

The house passed a measure to enable the United States to participate in the work of the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration. This will implement the agreement of November 9, 1943, entered into between 44 united nations and associated nations, the purpose of the agreement being joint action by the united nations to deal with problems of relief and rehabilitation in liberated areas. India is included because of emergency resulting from famine. During the last war Uncle Sam paid most of the three billion dollars used for the relief of destitute peoples. This time, the united nations will share the expense. The house measure authorizes the appropriation of not to exceed $1,350,000,000, but, actually, appropriations in smaller amounts will be made from time to time as determined by congress, to cover the cost to the United States of these operations. Our contribution will consist largely of food and supplies.

Present indications are that the Austin-Wadsworth national service bill demanded by the administration has little chance to pass the house. This legislation would compel all men between the ages of 18 and 65 and all women between 18 and 50, not in the armed services, to accept such employment as the president, through an administrator, might assign to them under penalty of fine and imprisonment. There will be much debate on this bill during the next few months.

A commission of men from Sweden has arrived in Washington to plan for post-war trade with the United States.

The Lea aviation bill which would amend the civil aviation act and set up a separate aviation branch in our government is still held up in the rules committee because of a controversy between surface and air carriers. Indications are that the bill may be sent back to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce for further study.

The president has recovered from his attack of gripe, during which he is said to have lost 10 pounds in weight. Those who have seen him recently say that he looks well. The flu epidemic in Washington has abated somewhat. Following a week of cold weather, the temperatures have risen, and spring-like weather has come to the capital.

Butter and onions are still hard to get in Washington. One reason is the government bought 456 million pounds or 35 per cent of the production of butter last year. That is being used by the armed forces and in lend-lease. However, considerable butter is still in storage and some may be released for civilian use in the near future.

Marvin Jones of the war food administration tells members he is anxious to relieve the bottleneck in hogs and dressed pork. There is a conflict in policies in the WFA and the OPA. The suggestion that pork rationing be temporarily suspended was not favorably received by the war food administration, but it was rejected by the office of price administration.

The house committee on post office and post roads has approved a bill which if passed by congress would cut the amount of penalty mail in half. This would automatically cut in half the appropriations for printing and binding for the various departments, bureaus, and commissions. Post office department records show a tremendous increase in penalty mail (postage free mail) sent out by the various government agencies. The postal loss from this source in the fiscal year 1932 was $11,151,899; the loss in 1943 was $119,455,392. In the same 10-year period, the franked mail of the legislative department (congress) decreased from one of veterans' administration is met. While it is fixed upon the war and navy departments to give these men opportunity to apply for pension or any other needed veteran's benefit, the general says it is not the primary responsibility of the war and navy departments to do so. He has some feeling that if anything goes wrong, the blame will fall on the veterans administration regardless of whose business it is if there is any suffering. The general feels that the first step toward seeing to it that these discharged men get full information and are taken care of will be the work of the veterans administration, and although he concedes that "some men have been missed already," he pledges full effort to minimize hardship.

Veterans administration has asked the secretary of war for permission to put rating boards in various hospitals so that wounded men may have their cases adjudicated while they are awaiting discharge.

What is the responsibility of veterans administration to the discharged disabled veteran after he leaves the hospital? General Hines answered that question by saying that the first responsibility is to decide on the veteran's pension and the next responsibility is to decide on the question of his rehabilitation if he has a disability caused by service that prevents him from obtaining gainful employment.

Some criticism has been made that veterans administration facilities are inadequate to meet the gigantic load of returning veterans. Beds have been provided for the army and navy forces that are in the United States. As troops are pulled out, a certain percentage of beds are being utilized by casualties sent back from overseas. Veterans administration expects existing hospitals to be turned over to the veterans administration as the load increases. There will be considerable building of new hospital facilities, but construction will be planned to avoid overbuilding. Veterans administration does want to be particularly sure neuro-psychiatrics and the administration is laying the foundation to get the money for new construction in time to meet the load.

About 60 members of the 76th club of congress received commissions in the Nebraska navy. They were presented to the membership of that club by Congressman Curtis of Nebraska in behalf of Governor Griswold.

A gutted field and a deserted house together, according to Editor Clarence Roberts of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman. Recently he published two pictures, one of a dilapidated house and the other of an eroded field; then he asked his readers to participate in a "You Write the Story" contest. The prize winning story was entitled: "Maybe the Indian Was Right. After All."
"Both pictures show white man crazy. Make big top. Plow hill. Water wash; wind blow soil. Grass gone, land gone, door gone, window gone; whole place gone to hell. Buck gone, Sitaw, too, Papoose gone. No chuck-away, no pig, no corn, no hay, no hay, no hay. "Indian no plow" land, keep grass. Buffalo eat, Indian eat buffalo. Hide make tepee, make bud-casin. Indian no make terrace, no build dam; no give dam. All time eat. No hunt job, no hush-hush, no ask relief. No shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work. White man heap loco."

WINNING ITS WINGS

Farm equipment is facing the battle of its life. The year past was tough, but ahead is the real test. Old machines—overworked and worn to the danger point—must continue for at least another year. New machinery will be manufactured in whatever quantities war conditions permit, but it would be a fatal mistake to assume that enough will be available to meet all the urgent needs. Demands for food are becoming so great that every salvageable implement must be pressed into service. But don't order extra parts not needed to keep the machine in serviceable condition. We are equipped to repair or rebuild parts where possible. That's a rule we all should rigidly observe this year. We have set as our goal the complete preparedness of every possible Allis-Chalmers machine in this community... tractors! All-Crop Harvesters and implements, back to the early serial numbers. No matter how old, your equipment can win its wings as a qualified Farm Commando. Every machine certified by us as "ready to roll" will be awarded the Farm Commando eagle emblem of honor. Have all your equipment inspected now.

GROUP ESTABLISHES NEW PACIFIC BASE

S. Sgt. Bob Merchant seems to be one in a group establishing a new base somewhere in the southwest Pacific for in a recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merchant of Wayne, he tells that the natives were cutting the grass around the place and while doing this were singing the most weird songs. When all are singing the result is unique. The natives try and copy the language used by Americans and when they use some slang expression it is very amusing.

WAYNE YOUNG MEN WRITE FROM WEST

Mr. and Mrs. C. Donald Miller, who is on a submarine based in Australia, recently wrote his mother, Mrs. Jessie Miller, that his sub had returned to the base, the first time in three months. Seaman Miller received all his mail which included 40 letters, eight packages and several Wayne Herald. He mentioned that the Herald was "so very welcome when one is so far from home." The young man said it was impossible to write when Christmas brought him in the line of duty. From this it is presumed he was in combat of some sort. When the letter was written the sub crew was having a rest period and according to the youth, "it seems nice to just lie in the sun."

Sgt. Bill Miller, another son of Mrs. Jessie Miller, had been confined in a Santa Barbara, Cal., hospital for about two weeks and after returning to his base in Oxnard was transferred to San Francisco. He expected to go overseas very soon. His wife is employed with a steel and pipe line company in San Pedro. Sgt. Miller's unit had been reorganized and the group had new equipment.

Two Planes Downed By Wayne Flier

In a letter dated January 15 and written from someplace in Corsica, Lt. William E. Canning informs his wife in Wayne that he "had gone up in a four ship flight and ran into three German Henkel 115 type planes. I shot down two of them all in one pass and in less than a minute's time and the other three fellows shared the third. So we got three out of three." "The first blew up in my face and nearly knocked me down. What a day!" Lt. Canning wrote that it made him feel very good after knocking out the planes. This is the third German plane the young man is credited with shooting down, the first being a Messerschmidt shot down about last March.

Mrs. Canning received a letter from the war department last week telling her of this outstanding achievement made by her husband.

Lt. John Reisbig Suffers Injury

Lt. John Reisbig, jr., Norfolk, and brother of H. C. Reisbig, former manager of Wayne Safeway store, was slightly wounded in action January 15, according to a war department message received by L. Reisbig's wife, who makes her home with her parents in Norfolk. The young man is a pilot of an army P-40 and was wounded while fighting the Japs from a New Guinea base.

Lt. Reisbig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reisbig of Norfolk. He entered the army in October, 1941, and was first assigned to a field artillery unit at Fort Sill, Okla. In the spring of 1942, he transferred to the air corps and was graduated last March from Brooks Field, Tex. He was sent overseas the first part of November. He contracted a tropical disease soon after arriving in New Guinea and was in a hospital until December 31.

No details of the action were given in the brief message which stated a letter would soon follow. (More service news on page 3, section 2.)

Makes Suggestions For Woman's Club

Mrs. S. A. Lutgen Proposes Wayne Group Can Serve in Community.

Providing wholesome entertainment for young people, promoting a community swimming pool, planting a tree for each Wayne county youth in service, safeguarding the reading provided for youth and maintaining homes the way the young men want them when they return from service were suggestions made by Mrs. S. A. Lutgen who spoke to Wayne Woman's club Friday on "New Horizons."

Mrs. Lutgen, who was introduced by Mrs. L. A. Fenske, began her message by stressing that "new worlds are yet to be conquered, especially in regard to the vast spiritual frontiers which include many remedial measures to safeguard youth of today. While all can't be in service, most women are mothers and help make up the noblest corps of all."

Some early activities of Wayne Woman's club were cited by Mrs. Lutgen who expressed the belief that the club can still have high goals and accomplish much. The speaker mentioned objectives as follows: Overcoming obstacles, having tenacity of purpose, being "self-starters," having definite goals and giving service. "People have capabilities which they do not realize until emergencies arise." The lives of Moses, Miriam, David, Dorcas and Fannie Crosby were among those cited. The life of Edison, Mrs. Lutgen stated, is an example of devotion to others. Glenn Cunningham, the runner, Robt. L. Stevenson, the poet, Michael Angelo, the painter, and President Roosevelt are among those who surmounted handicaps. James Penny, Dorothy Thompson and William Jeffers are others who started with nothing and gained financial success.

Mrs. Lutgen concluded with the suggestions for club accomplishment.

To open the program, Mrs. Clarence McGinn led the group in singing "Nebraska My Native Land," written by Mrs. Lutgen. Mrs. McGinn led all in "Faith of Our Fathers" after the talk, and concluded the program with a solo, "The Good Shepherd," by Beardsley and de Water. Mrs. H. A. Welch was accompanist.

In the business session, it was decided to serve at the USO (the week-end of February 19 and 20. A letter from Father, Planagan acknowledged a Christmas gift.

On the serving committee were Mrs. E. E. Gailley, Mrs. V. A. Senter, Mrs. M. N. Foster, Mrs. A. W. Ross, Mrs. L. W. Roe, Mrs. Roosevelt Peterson, Mrs. Howard Witt.

Library News

Wayne library is the fortunate recipient of 110 books, all in excellent condition, which represent a part of the library of the late Mrs. J. G. Mines. These books were presented to the library by the Mines family and they include several sets of classics, some miscellaneous poetry and travel, as well as some very fine modern novels.

New fiction books catalogued this week are as follows: Winter Wheat, by Mildred Walker, which is a story of Montana; Miss Silver Deals with Death, by Patricia Wentworth; and You Only Hang Once, by H. W. Roden, both mysteries. The Signpost by E. Arnot Robertson, about Ireland and the war; A Bell for Adabo, by John Hersey, about our army of occupation in Italy; and Ele Married a Doctor, by Faith Baldwin.

New non-fiction includes Literary England, a lovely book of scenes and descriptions of places made famous in English literature. Also a light biography by Luella Parsons entitled The Gay Illiterate.

Ten new books for children were added to their shelves this week and we now have for them two comic magazines called Tru Comics and Calling All Girls. These two comics have been brought out under the endorsement of the P. T. A. as an antidote for the many vicious ones which have been published so many years.

Story hour for the children Saturday will be in charge of Mrs. Geo. Secek.

Herman Eickhoff Likes Far North

Herman J. Eickhoff writes from Juneau, Alaska, that his family is very well pleased with their new home. He and Mrs. Eickhoff, the former Laura Louise Holmes, are in communications work. It's a sad state of affairs when a weather man can't talk about the weather, but such is the case," writes Mr. Eickhoff.

The family spent Christmas on a boat enroute to Alaska. Though it was just another day, it was indeed a different Christmas from any the family had previously experienced.

Weather in the far north has been very mild. In fact, the Eickhoffs find that they can wear lighter clothing now than when they were in the states.

Many things that the Eickhoffs could not buy in Seattle before they left, such as candy and facial tissues, are plentiful in Alaska. And only first rate goods are sold there. This is due to high freight rates. "As long as people pay for transportation, they want the best things."

Golden Wedding Day Is Observed

D., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lehner and family, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Knoell of Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Rice, Miss Stella Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rice and sons and Gust Kraeher of Concord.

er by $250. Seeing the animal in the backyard as she was hanging up clothes, Mrs. Benedict cautiously withdrew through a door of her house, seized a piece of wood, and when Reynard followed, bopped him on the noggin. The pet brought the reward.

No record of a ceremony could be found for a couple who sought a copy of their marriage license in Oklahoma City, recently. "Who married you?" inquired the clerk. "Why, that woman right over there," replied the man. He pointed to the clerk who had issued the license five years earlier. A district judge was hurriedly called to complete the neglected detail.

Caucasian postoffice employees at the Japanese segregation center in California shivered—their office was always cold, they lamented. Then, they said, they discovered Jap internees were playing basketball in a well-heated gymnasium. Their current decision: "No heat, no mail!"

"Thirty years in the county jail!" boomed Police Judge Percy O'Connor, San Jose, Cal., in passing sentence on a vagrant. The man gulped, blanched and swayed. Then the judge corrected himself: "Whoops, 30 days, I mean."

The guests were comfortably settled about the fire at Columbia, S. C., when the hostess commented on the Spaniel which had come with them: "What a darling puppy! What's its name?" For a moment no one answered. Then someone said: "I should think you'd know. After all, it's your dog." "I never saw it before in my life," said the hostess. "Neither did we," chorused the guests. The gate crasher was shown to the door.

Fire broke out in George Imperial's New York City tavern. He threw pitchers of water on but the flames burned on. Then several customers filled glasses with beer and dashed them on the blaze. When firemen arrived the fire was out.

Tell Responsibility In Food Production

In letters received from Frank Hancock, newly appointed administrator for the Farm Security Administration in Washington, Geo. Bruns and F. Irving Moses, Wayne, Theodore L. King, Hoskins, FSA county committee, and George Noakes, Wayne, alternate, were told of their responsibility in a food production program which is of interest to smaller farm operators with limited incomes.

The local FSA county committee members have a direct influence on the Farm Security functions in the county, and work closely with FSA supervisor, Andrew N. Schaf of Ponca.

In counties with farm ownership programs based on the Bankhead-Jones act, these county committees certify the eligibility of applicants for loans, and check closely on farms offered for sale to borrowers. In addition to these tasks, all FSA county committees have been assigned the added duties of passing upon the eligibility of applicants for rehabilitation loans and of reviewing the progress of borrowers whose rehabilitation loans have been outstanding three or more years.

Two Earn Degrees. An Elizabeth Ahern and Evelyn Elsh Noakes of Wayne were among 160 students receiving degrees from the University of Nebraska at the conclusion of the first semester Saturday. Miss Ahern was granted a degree of bachelor of science from the college of business administration. Miss Noakes was granted a degree of bachelor of science in nursing from the college of medicine.

A wife will give Wayne a 666 percentage; a loss would leave them on the 500 mark.

Undergoes Operation. Hays Main underwent an operation for appendicitis Sunday last week in a hospital in Aurora, Ill. He is doing well, according to word coming to his mother, Mrs. Winifred Main.

Roy Christensen, former manager of the Carhart yard at Pierce, has been promoted to lieutenant, junior grade. He is in the south Pacific.

Midland Warriors meet Wayne here Friday evening (this week, the Warriors defeated Wayne, 30-26. Since that game, both teams have improved and the winner will undoubtedly be rated high in Nebraska college ratings. They will be the first chance for local fans to see three new members, Jack Dale, Tony Olson and David Bohier, in action on the home floor.

Is Now Serving In New Guinea

Homer Smothers, former owner of the Wayne News and now Red Cross field director, is getting his first taste of jungle life in New Guinea at an advanced air base. Mr. Smothers served as a machinist's mate with the navy during the last war.

post in New Guinea, Smothers was stationed with the navy at a landing force equipment depot somewhere in the southwest Pacific. As Red Cross man with that naval force, Smothers conducted an extensive recreation program and won the support of his commanding officer.

As field director Smothers is in charge of a Red Cross recreation program, canteen service, welfare work and hospital recreation programs. To cover his area entails a vast amount of jeep driving over narrow jungle roads, but like the Red Cross men and women serving under him, he feels the work is fine.

Before joining the Red Cross for overseas service in January, Smothers taught journalism and social science at Muscatine high school. He formerly was owner of the Sutherland Courier, Sutherland, Ia. From 1926 to 1938, he was editor of the Sioux City Chamber of Commerce magazine.

The Red Cross director's wife and two daughters, Mitzi and Vicki, are living at St. Petersburg, Fla. Vicki is a junior in Florida Southern college, Lakeland, Fla., where she is assistant editor of the college paper.

Is Driver of Tank In New Beachhead

Pvt. Edgar F. Fredrick of Norfolk, brother of Mrs. T. J. Hughes of Carroll, is driver of the tank "Buckeye," which rested briefly after 36 hours of continuous action against the enemy in the new beachhead south of Rome. A dispatch from the Fifth army headquarters at the beachhead, says in part the following:

"As we sit up here on this rainy Italian, January noon, it's interesting to see how many spots in the United States are represented in the gathering of citizens who are here prepared to blast the daylight out of the opposition. Germans are within machine gun range of our spot, but all these folks who come from that strip of land stretching from the Pacific to Brooklyn behave as though they are preparing for an easy game of basketball.

"In the observation post, particularly inside the German lines, we found a great collection of nonchalant people more interested in sleep than anything else—except perhaps some snappy action."
