Julia offers 3 exciting ways to use eggs!

YOUNG BILL gave me his orders for lunch the other day: "And I'd like three eggs scrambled, please!" And then I got to thinking about other uses for eggs, and how they can be an important part of every meal, right through the day. Examples:

EGG NESTS FOR BREAKFAST
Toast six 3 1/2-inch rounds of bread on one side. Top toasted side with broiled or fried bacon or ham (these could be omitted if not available). Beat 6 egg whites until foamy; add salt and white pepper, continue beating until stiff but not dry. Pile meringue lightly on toast rounds; with rounded end of egg shell make slight indentation in center meringue; gently slip a yolk into each of each nest. Bake in oven or under broiler in moderate oven (350° F.) about 10 minutes or until egg yolk is set. Serves 6.

STUFFED EGGS FOR DINNER
6 hard-cooked eggs
4 tps. paprika
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. prepared mustard
2 tps. mayon- naise
2 cups milk
Coarsely grated cheese

Halve hard-cooked eggs. Combine yolks, 1/4 tsp. of the salt, mustard, mayonnaise and vinegar. Stuff whites with mixture and sprinkle with paprika. Make cream sauce by melting butter or margarine in top of double boiler. Blend in flour, curry may be added if desired). Gradually add milk, stirring until smooth. Cook over rapidly boiling water 10 to 15 minutes or until thickened, stirring occasionally. Add remaining salt. Pour sauce into heated serving dish and top with eggs. Sprinkle grated cheese over all. Serves 6.

DECLARING in effect that no patriot would vote against the present "experienced leadership" in Washington, Senator Truman of Missouri drew editorial fire from the Sioux City Journal whose editor branded the statement as injudicious and unsupported by reason.

The American people are not so dull as Senator Truman must have thought they were. And there will be millions of them who will resent this statement in criticism of their patriotic Americanism.

This still is a democracy where a majority will rule, where the people have the right to vote as they please and where no one can say with impunity that they are unpatriotic just because they do not subscribe to the political theories of an individual or a political party that happens to be in power.

Supports ANENT controversies over the federal communications aviation commission, involving future aviation, Congressman Karl Stefan scored high in the estimation of Aero Digest, leading aeronautical magazine.

THE verbal battle between Walter Winchell, radio speller, and Chairman Martin Dies of the house committee investigating un-American activities, led to the latter's charge that a movement is on foot "to undermine the authority and destroy the prestige of congress in the interest of setting up an all-powerful central government."

ed, is disposed to carry on a pre-convention flirtation with elements on which he had previously and ominously frowned. But with industry and business going all out to serve, would Henry, again entrenched, be satisfied or would he conclude they had not done enough and suddenly wheel over to the left farther than ever, which his experience suggests he could do with great facility?

Memory of springs that have come and gone, is inclined to rate the present one as late, though unobjectionable. If a cold, snowy, wet March means a late spring, we have usually had that kind. The ground needs moisture, and the frost that holds back vegetation will be no hindrance to coming growth.

Gallup's and Pathfinder's forecasts revealing trends of public opinion on presidential possibilities do not agree. The more disagreeing prophets, the greater the likelihood that one will be right.

Appearance of Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, in an interview and speech in Omaha this week leads one to conclude that he is rather too bossy in his relations with the republican party to inspire confidence and gain support.

Some try to attract attention to themselves by whispering dark and diabolical forebodings. It is reassuring that the masses do not appear so hopeless. This country has gone through severe trials at different periods, and it has, due to the pluck of its citizenship, always survived.

Encouragement to new deal opposition is found in the announcement that South Carolina democrats have organized a third party.

Paul Mallon, columnist, says Willkie is running away with the publicity, while Dewey is running away with the delegates.

It has long been the custom to assign million dollar values to timely rains in this section of the corn belt. Surely that designation is appropriate to the series of snow, sleet and rain storms to which we have been treated within the past three weeks.

Political drums beat new tattoos of Republican campaigning as GOP presidential aspirants combed the nation for support.

Two delegates pledged to Gov. Tom Dewey, New York, were named in New Hampshire's pre-convention primary, which Wendell Willkie forces claimed was a victory for the latter because six of the 11 delegates were "favorable" to him.

EASTER. Sacred Easter— anniversary of the Resurrection— comes this year Sunday, April 9. It finds the world at war, but nearing the point of expelling tyranny and freeing enslaved peoples.

March 23, 1944 The steamship Gripsholm, aboard which many Americans have returned from axis controlled countries, is attracting much attention. It is a Swedish ship. The "holm" in Gripsholm means "island". The Gripsholm is a sister ship of Drottningholm and Kungsholm. These ships are named after famous castles in Sweden.

Some of the national housing projects have provoked considerable adverse opinion. One near Savannah, Illinois, has recently drawn criticism. That project of 250 units, built to accommodate 1,500 persons, is actually housing nine families, including the caretaker.

The procurement division of the government is selling a lot of surplus material. The Kansas City regional office is handling sales of such property in Nebraska. Federal agencies have first claim upon any federal property that has become surplus for any particular agency.

The forces of irrigation and navigation had a free-for-all debate during house consideration of the Mansfield bill to authorize the construction, repair and preservation of certain public works on rivers and harbors.

Why an Election. The Norfolk Daily News takes issue with Dorothy Thompson, columnist, over the latter's expressed grief over the constitutional provision for an election during a war.

Improved Seeds Being Promoted

Crop Association Proposes To Increase Yields by Careful Planning.

Wayne County Crop Improvement association, meeting at Win- side last Wednesday afternoon at a gathering arranged by Albert Watson, president, in cooperation with County Agent Walter R. Har- der, considered increasing the use of adapted crop varieties and in- creasing the yield of the common farm crops in Wayne county by more adequate disease control pro- gram.

Dr. Jesse Livingston, state ex- tension pathologist, discussed small grain potato diseases and their methods of control. Dr. Livingston recommended the use of new im- proved cereals for most of the small grain diseases and for the kernel smut of sorghum. New im- proved cereals is a powder that is applied at the rate of one-half ounce per bushel. The small grain and powder must be thoroughly mixed. It should then be left covered for about 24 hours if possible, although the grain could be planted sooner after the mixing with less favorable results. Dr. Living- ston recommends the use of barrel type and Minnesota gravity type mixers. The Minnesota gravity treat- er is easily made from lumber. He also stated that formalde- hyde mixed half and half with water is very effective to control smut of oats. The seed should be sown soon after being treated. One pint of formaldehyde mixed with one pint of water should treat ap- proximately 50 bushels of oats. Formaldehyde should be purchased in sealed containers in order to have the normal formaldehyde so- lution.

Potato diseases are in general quite difficult to control by treat- ment on the farm, according to Dr. Livingston. He recommended grow- ing state certified seed which is free from the seed borne diseases. He also advised the use of a site that has not been in potatoes dur- ing the past four years for the 1944 plantings. Potato diseases are harbored from year to year in the soil, so a rotation of fields is de- sirable. A Minnesota gravity type seed was available at the meeting for inspection by the members and visiting farmers.

Favors Brome Grass.
Jason Webster of the Wayne soil conservation district, recommend- ed that Wayne county build a reputation as being "the brome grass center of the middle west" since it has a favorable soil and climate for seed production. He pointed out that in addition to being an excellent cash seed crop, brome grass is the best means of controlling erosion on steep slopes and in gullies and waterways.

"Every waterway on every farm in Wayne county should be seeded to brome in 1944," said Webster, who also cautioned against de- stroying brome seedlings that were made last spring and last fall. "Nine out of 10 brome seedlings will still make good brome fields if they are given a chance."

The addition of brome to all alfalfa seedings was recommended by Webster. This reduces erosion in alfalfa fields since brome grass has 8,500 pounds of fibrous roots in the top four inches of soil per acre as compared with only 500 pounds for alfalfa. As the alfalfa thins out with age, brome "takes over" and replaces the alfalfa, avoiding the usual weed infesta- tion.

"Wayne county still has plenty of room for more good brome grass pastures," further stated Webster. "Three prominent Wayne county cattle feeders have informed me that they can get more pounds of beef from an acre of brome grass and at a lower cost for 100 pounds of gain than from an acre of corn." Webster concluded his talk by say- ing, "If increased food production is demanded under critical labor conditions, Wayne county can well afford to look to brome grass as one solution. Brome grass can be a source of food for the present and at the same time preserve the soil for food production for future generations."

Pure Certified Seeds.
Paige L. Hall of the Nebraska Crop Improvement association, dis- cussed briefly the production of pure certified crop seeds in Ne- braska. According to Mr. Hall a farmer must have certified seed to plant if he wants to raise certified seed. It is later inspected in the field for purity, noxious weeds in- festation and any other condition that might prevent producing good clean seed. A sample of the seed must be submitted by the grower for state tests for purity and germination. Certified small grain seeds cannot be planted on a field that produced the same kind of grain the previous year unless the crop was certified the previous year.

Albert Watson, president, en- couraged more use of certified crop seeds to increase the small grain production in 1944. He also encouraged the use of seed from old adapted fields of brome from Wayne county.

Crop Improvement association members present voted to have the present officers appoint one mem- ber from each of the five districts in the county to serve as a mem- ber of a supervisory board for the Wayne County Crop Improvement association.

Lesson on Soybean Uses Given Group

Reports of District Are Brought to Women Here Friday Afternoon.

A lesson on the value of soybeans as food, reports of the Third district club conference in Norfolk Tuesday last week and music comprised the program for Wayne Woman's club Friday in the club rooms.

The group sang the federation song, "Nebraska My Native Land," at opening of the program.

A. J. Atkins accompanied Patricia Denesio who played a tuba solo, "His Majesty the Tuba," and Phyllis Foster who played a flute solo, "The Call to Spring." Mrs. Willard Wilsoe introduced numbers.

Mrs. R. M. Carhart and Miss Martha Wallace presented a nutrition program in the form of a question and answer on soybeans.

Though soybeans were used in China before the time of pyramids, their use is comparatively new in America.

Soybeans were introduced here in 1854 and were perfected by Joseph Morris of Cornell university. They have proved of great nutritional value because of their vitamin and protein content.

Soybeans are in commercial, vegetable and forage forms. They are not related to navy beans but are used in much the same way.

Soybeans are fed to people, livestock, poultry and swine; they form the oil base for paints and glue; they are used in the manufacture of linoleum, women's hosiery, glycerine and fertilizer.

About 50 per cent of the oil from soybeans is used in shortening, except for lard. It has probably been used in many commercial foods for some time and its uses are certain to be enlarged.

The women showed kinds of soybean flour and told how to produce soybean sprouts.

Mrs. Carhart made a soybean salad which was served later.

She also told of the message of the state president, Mrs. Bertha Hill of Hebron.

Mrs. Hill emphasized the need for the Christian home and urged club women to help preserve this under the stress of war.

The women's club is a privileged body which the country looks for help in a war period.

Mrs. Hill asked that women continue in the bond drive, rubber campaign, and in reducing delinquency.

Mrs. Hill closed with St. Paul's prayer to the Galatians.

At intervals in Mrs. Casper's talk Mrs. S. A. Lutgen, Nebraska poet laureate, read an original poem, "The Home Corps."

In accordance with Mrs. Hill's urgent plea that women's clubs be represented on school boards, library boards, etc., local women circulated petitions to place the name of Mrs. Don Wightman on the election ballot to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of C. W. Campbell.

Mrs. F. S. Morgan reported on talks by Mrs. Douglas Dunham of Norfolk, director of visual education, and Dr. Allen P. Burkhardt, head of Norfolk school.

Mrs. Dunham told about the vast amount of education now being given soldiers at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and the possibility that the graph system used may be continued in schools after the war.

Dr. Burkhardt's subject was "Current Problems in the Field of Education." The educator told the need of keeping children at home. He stressed the problems of financing schools, maintaining honesty in education, avoiding inflation and the black market, helping combat child delinquency and encouraging independent thinking.

Dr. Burkhardt closed by complimenting the middlewest on being the "most American part of America today."

He favors having a woman at the peace table.

We are supposed to get relieved up here so we can go back to the squadron and then we can get a 10-week leave to go to Australia. And that really will be fine. Bright lights and everything that goes with it. It will be like a new lease on life after seven months of sweat, heat and mud in the jungle. And another thing I may get tired of back together again. At present I have it scattered in two places other than this spot. I'd like to go back and see the old gang again. This detached service isn't what it's cracked up to be. The rains still come. The sun is still hot. It's nothing new. Haven't received any Christmas parcels yet but hope to get that watch."

George Rockwell, jr., of South Sioux City, writes from England that he has been transferred from the Image department of the army to army education. He has written a long and interesting account of a recent cruise trip to Scotland that he took while on tour; also, in his report are interesting observations of England and English life.

Nebraska people interested in the use of concrete for runway construction at Nebraska airports have been in Washington seeking to prevail upon the civil aeronautics administration to specify concrete instead of asphalt.

Li. Clifford Carmody of Norfolk, who is stationed at the Washington national airport, has been promoted to captain.

The house committee on roads is still engaged in hearings on the post-war highway program. It will be some time before the legislation is written. The boosters of farm-to-market roads and the advocates of better roads for rural delivery think it is the supporters of secondary highways, are the witnesses now being heard by the committee. Any highway legislation that may be passed will conserve a prominent place for secondary highways.

The house passed a resolution authorizing and directing the committee on Indian affairs to investigate conditions under which Indians now live and to prepare recommendations to congress for the enactment of any needed legislation to improve the status and advance the opportunity of the American Indian. The committee has no intention to destroy any of the useful functions of the office of Indian affairs, but it does believe that economy in administration can be effected and Indian welfare improved.

Many human interest stories about the war are being withheld in spite of arguments that their release to the public would not injure the war effort. Newspapersmen, generally, know these stories.

Some of them are in print ready for release when the press gets the green light. So far as can be learned, there has not been one case of intentional violation of the newspaper censorship rules. This has been accomplished through voluntary restraint.

The deficiency sub-committee of the house committee on appropriations will start hearings soon on the so-called war agencies bill. There are 18 war agencies.

News from Philippine internment camps is slowly reaching Washington. A cablegram from the International Red Cross indicates the safety of the family of former Commissioner Delgado who visited Nebraska several times.

Arthur Orr has just completed 24 consecutive years of service with the house committee on appropriations and much of that time he has been clerk of the sub-committee that handles the annual supply bill for the department of agriculture. He is a brother of W. E. Orr who once lived at Norfolk. Arthur Orr's son is a gunner on a destroyer that recently sank three German submarines.

On the question of what a congressman does, one phase of his work is that his office these days is a regular service station for the people back home. Innumerable requests for information from government departments, bureaus, and commissions are cleared through the office of the congressman. These requests for information require telephone calls, personal contacts or correspondence on the part of the congressman or a member of his staff in order that the information asked for may be secured and sent out. Garden Urges All To Buy Bonds

Perfect Score Misses Makes Young Bombardier Somewhat of Hero.

A Los Angeles man's victory garden does more than produce vitamins for the table. Against a background of red lettuce, trim rows of green lettuce form letters that urge motorists to "Buy war bonds."

A Denver informal revenue agent surprised a woman when he told her how much income tax she owed. Then she surprised him. She fainted in his arms, all 295 pounds of her.

A perfect score of 125, missed made Bombardier Cade Herb Chalshy, New Haven, Conn., somewhat of a hero. The score wasn't made from a bomber, however. Chalshy was a one-man committee to obtain girls for the bombardiers' pre-graduation dance at Albuquerque, N. M. He obtained ten.

All is in confusion in the Salt Lake City Chamber of Commerce office. An applicant for enlistment in the navy gave his reason as "I got sick of Salt Lake City."

At North Hollywood, Cal., a set of identical twins are accustomed to sharing things. But the federal security administration carried it too far. It gave the girls the same social security number.

At Logan, Utah, Parley A. Drown's cow has produced more than 400 pounds of butterfat annually since the war started, and in addition has contributed twins born December 24, 1941, twins born January 29, 1943, and triplets born December 30, 1943.

Here's a new recipe for raisin bread—if you happen to be in the South Pacific. Cpl. Earl Howlett sent the recipe to his family in Portland, Ore. Soldiers have found jungle berries that taste like raisins, and the bread is then baked in a clay bank oven. Yeast? Just take coconut milk, sugar and salt, age it and the result is the same.

Arthur Silver stopped at a Chicago drug store and telephoned his girl friend. He became engaged in a long conversation and while still talking at a half-hour after midnight, he noticed the store had closed. Police freed Silver after receiving a distress message from his girl friend.

At Cheyenne, Wyo., whiskeyless Wednesday now follows a meatless Tuesday. Bars, short of liquor, ordered the innovation.

At christening ceremonies for the one-thousandth C-47 cargo plane built at Oklahoma City, Douglas Aircraft worker broke a container of confetti over the plane's propeller hub, symbolizing wishes for "soft landings."

The swallows that come back to Capistrano Mission, Cal., each year on March 20, again arrived on schedule this year.

A young man appeared at the Milwaukee office of the collector of internal revenue on the last day for filing returns and asked for an extension of time in settling his federal income tax. When he was asked for a reason he replied that he gave his wife $150 to pay the taxes and he hadn't seen her since.

A youth drove off with Mrs. S. E. Vaughn's car at Oklahoma City. He had gone but a few miles when 17-month-old Deanna Sue Vaughn, whom he had not seen in the back seat, began wailing loudly. Fearful of a kidnapping charge, the youth took the car back to the original parking place—just in time to be arrested by police accompanying the child's mother.

State police at Lykens, Pa., doubted if it was a patriotic spirit that led people to play slot machines in a local repair shop—even though one did pay off in war stamps—and arrested the owner on gambling charges.

At Etowah, Tenn., Postmaster Todd says the town has long followed the law. That is, that all mothers for the past 15 years have weighed their babies on the post office scales.

Marry at Church Service in Wayne

Miss Wanda Linn Is Bride Of Pvt. F. D. Niemann at Ceremony Thursday.

Miss Wanda Linn, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Linn of Laurel, and Pvt. Frederick D. Niemann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Niemann of Wayne, were married Thursday evening, March 23, at twilight service in Our Redeemer's Lutheran church, relatives and friends being present.

Rev. E. K. de Fresse performed the double ring candlelight ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and white lilies.

The usher, Clarence Bronzynski, cousin of the bridegroom, lighted the tapers on the altar before the service.

"Lovers' Old Sweet Song" and "Lovers' Dream" were sung by Mrs. Mike Karel, Mrs. Ed. Bahe and Mrs. Herman Bachr, accompanied by Mrs. M. L. Ringer. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Ringer as the bride and groom, followed by the bride and her father, proceeded to the altar.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an aqua blue, two-piece dress with a three-strand set of pearls, and the bridegroom wore a tuxedo with a boutonniere of yellow daffodils and white lilies, tied with white satin ribbon.

The bridesmaid, Miss Priscilla Sandahl, close friend of the bride, wore rose-bisque, two-piece dress and corsage.

Pvt. Niemann and his brother, Herbert Niemann, met the bridal party at the altar. The former wore the U. S. army uniform and his attendant a brown business suit.

A reception was held in the church parlors for relatives and a few close friends. A three-tier wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Erwin Vanhamp and Mrs. Aug. Kruse, centered the bride's table. The bride's chosen colors of yellow and white were used in decorations.

Luncheon was served by cousins of the bride, couple, Miss Lucille Reeg, Miss Delores Test, Miss Verlene Mae Niemann, Miss Marjorie Linn and Miss Geraldine Reed. The guest book was in charge of Miss Virginia Meyer.

Mrs. Niemann was graduated from Wakefield high school and attended Wayne college. She has been teaching the past two years and will finish this term. Pvt. Library News

Books are the most effective and satisfactory carriers of ideas. Books are instruments of understanding. The ideas which have altered history have gained acceptance only through centuries of clarification. If it is argued that the circulation of books is too limited to compete with other kinds of communication, let it be remembered that the understanding bred by books radiates through space to the far corners of the earth and through time to generations without end. Books outlast men. They are the most durable idea-carriers yet devised.

Wayne public library circulated 2,200 books during the month of February and the circulation for March will be heavier. Most of these books were read for relaxation, it is true, but many worthwhile ideas have been passed along.

A new book for this week is "The Curtain Rises," by Quentin Reynolds. This is no dusty rewrite of a lot of stale newspaper dispatches. Like all of his earlier books, it takes the reader from one front to another, introduces him to the men who really are running the show.

Another new book which will be popular with those who enjoy Louis Adams is "My Native Land." This deals with Yugoslavia.

Cartoon books are attracting attention all over the country. We have several and the last one is called "Who's in Charge Here." The drawings are by George Price. The young folks seem to like to sit at one of the tables in the evenings and chuckle together over these comic cartoons.

The Sunday edition of the New York paper P. M. can be found at the library now. Along with the New York Times it arrives on Tuesday.

Other new books catalogued this week are "The Century of the Common Man," by Henry Wallace, and "Goodnight Sweet Prince," by Gene Fowler, which is the life story of John Barrymore.

This is China Book week and the public is invited to come in and look over the display of books about China.

Story hour will be held Saturday afternoon as usual with Mrs. Howard Witt in charge.

CHAS. E. SANDALL SAYS:

"IF A MINOR SIGNS THIS STATEMENT THE FINE MAY BE $50.00!"

No tavern-keeper worth his license knowingly sells to minors. The law is strict if he does: revocation or suspension of his license, $50 fine for the minor. To aid beer dealers where customers misrepresent their age, this Committee has provided "Sworn Statements" which retailers now insist that doubtful cases sign for their own protection. Thus, in another way, this Committee aids in law observance.

NO MORE GUESSWORK ABOUT YOUR PRECIOUS HEARING

Long years ago, the men at the head of the Sonotone organization realized that what a hard of hearing person wants is not just a hearing aid but HEARING! So Sonotone Service starts with a scientific audiometric test of your hearing loss so that a Sonotone may be fitted to your individual needs. And after you have your Sonotone, that service goes on steadily to make sure your hearing is UNINTERRUPTED. Come in and have your hearing tested. There is no charge for this.
