

Wayne Depends on Rising Spirit of Enterprise Uninfluenced by Short-sighted Obstructionists—Hindrances to Save Tax Money Invariably Soak Taxpayers.

Wasting tax money on the pretense of trying to save it has been demonstrated in Wayne for the years. Digging into the record will show. We are reliably informed that the injunction to prevent building the municipal auditorium in 1934 cost taxpayers an extra $2,800. Prices for material and labor increased during the depression. That is what happened, and that is how taxes were saved.

Again in 1940 Wayne dared to build a needed addition to its school house, and an injunction quickly appeared. According to the record, the action frustrated the school board's plans, postponed opening of the fall term and caused the district to lose $1,000 to teachers who were under contract but who were prevented from serving by delayed building operations. Attorney's fees and an excavation of the contract cost a total of $1,480. That was the way taxpayers were saved. In the guise of saving them, they were actually added in the two improvements mentioned with otherwise preventable costs of $5,280.

Trying to bog down the city council in its endeavors best to give the public in getting rid of properties acquired by reason of delinquencies has been a ready source of expense. Through the years the council has paid an attorney to map out legal traps, in every involved question, and if irregularities have happened, they have not been due to lack of good faith.

Innocent municipal authorities and equally innocent buyers have suffered through too little attention to technicalities, apparent not only in Wayne, but in many towns of the state.

Whenever action has unintentionally violated from the letter of the law, obstructive attempts are invariably successful in increasing rather than in diminishing the tax burden. No quick and inexpensive solution of any inadvertently created problem suits the purpose of a chronic trouble-maker. Harrying hindrances to public or private enterprise not only saves nothing to the taxpayer, but on the contrary, adds to his burden and impedes essential community growth.

Looking to the future, Wayne cannot afford to be deterred by spiteful obstructionists. Mistakes will be made, but the greatest mistake would be to lie down and do nothing. The city will not stand still. It will either advance or slip. Postwar demands will come apace, and if we would progress, they cannot be disregarded.

The city council should figure out a way to buy the present flying field. It already owns several thousand dollars worth of improvements connected with it. Necessarily, bonds will have to be voted. The park north of town will have to be put into shape for use. Whatever may be done practically to make Wayne more attractive as a residence and business center should be done.

The Herald knows plans that have been made to improve the downtown section as soon as war requirements will permit. Some businesses will be enlarged. Some new ones will be started. Altogether, under due encouragement, considerable development will be realized. Less interference, less capricious stomach-aching, due to envy would help.

The soldier boys will soon, it is hoped, be coming back. They will want to find a live, progressive, community, in rapport with a richly productive surrounding area. They will not relish a prospect held back by all-year know-nothings. Rather, they will relish knowing not only that everybody has been buying bonds, contributing to the Red Cross and supporting other government activities, but that all are united in a determination to build a bigger and more prosperous town, and not be hesitant in investing the necessary cash to do it.

A cruise through official records will show how taxpayers have been sandbagged into increased costs by attempts to stifle public and private improvements.

Sales are Confirmed. District Judge F. L. Spear of Fremont, here in district court Thursday, confirmed the city's sale of the B. W. Wright property to Gerald Wright, Mrs. Caroline Steele's property to Mrs. Martha Frahm, and Mrs. Dora Roberts' property to Alvin Carlson.

Gunner With Navy Is Lost in Pacific

John C. Thompson Served Actively with Fleet for Nearly Five Years.

John Cecil Thompson, 26, of Wayne, gunner's mate first class with the United States navy, was killed in action, according to a telegram sent June 22 to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chelsea Thompson, who are now at 201 Bluff street in Sioux City. The telegram from Vice-Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of naval personal, Washington, D. C., reads as follows: "The navy department deeply regrets to inform you that your son, John Cecil Thompson, gunner's mate first class, USN, was killed in action in the performance of his duty and in service of his country. The department extends to you its sincerest sympathy in your great loss. On account of existing conditions, the body, if recovered, cannot be returned at present. If further details are received, you will be informed. To prevent possible aid to our enemies, please do not divulge the name of his ship or station." The young man is one of three sons of the Thompsons in service. John and his brother, Charles, were together in the navy for nearly five years and always served on the same ship. They have been in the Pacific recently. James F. Thompson is with the army and is stationed in North Africa.

The Thompson brothers who are in the navy were at Pearl Harbor in December, 1941, when the Japanese attacked. Both were home in the fall of 1942 and at that time John took special gunnery work in Washington, D. C. Later he and Charles were together on the west coast and left for the Pacific. John Cecil Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chelsea Ellen Thompson, was born at Carroll, Neb., February 28, 1918. The family moved to Wayne 19 years ago. Deceased finished the 10th grade in Wayne city school. He enlisted in the navy five years ago this fall and had seen much active duty since.

The young man married Miss June Raysky April 1, 1943, at Brentwood, Wash. Charles Thompson served as his brother's attendant. Mrs. John C. Thompson and infant daughter Carol Sue, are in Oshkosh, Wis., with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Raysky. Deceased also leaves his parents in Sioux City, the two brothers in service, Charles in the Pacific and James in Africa, two other brothers, Gene and Junior, and three sisters, Margorie, who is in Oshkosh and is to be married soon to Jerome Markey, and Hazel and Catherine in Sioux City. Mrs. Matt Finn of Wayne, aunt of the young man, is his godmother, and Mrs. Ellen Ahern of Wayne, is his grandmother.

Tropical Island Is Link in a Vital European Supply Line

Cpl. John B. Lynch Stresses Importance of Mail to Those in Service.

The tropical island of Trinidad, just off Venezuela on the north coast of South America, has served an important link in supply routes overseas, according to Cpl. John B. Lynch, who arrived home last Thursday to spend a 30-day furlough in the A. J. Lynch home before reporting at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas, July 17 for reassignment. The young man, who spent 20 months in postal service on that outpost, arrived in Newport News, Va., June 14 and went to Fort Logan, Colo., reception center, en route home.

The great importance of mail as a morale builder is realized by officials, and as a result the armed forces have in comparatively short time developed one of the most efficient mail delivery services in history. All who serve in this phase have seen that mail from home is one of the greatest essentials to success in the war. These men make every effort to have mail reach their boys. Letters and packages are given preference, not newspapers and magazines, not because of frequent movement of troops, several forwardings are often necessary. The postal branch makes every effort to keep mail moving so it will reach men as soon as possible.

Practically everyone returning from overseas pleads for more mail. Cpl. Lynch also urges all to write their service men because word from home helps so much. Islands Are British. Trinidad is about 35 by 45 miles. It and the small island of Tobago, very close by, are British possessions and are under English administration, like most parts of the Empire. Some American interests are represented there. Port of Spain is the principal

TOWN DISCUSSION BROADCASTS FROM OMAHA THIS WEEK

TOWN Meeting of the Air will be broadcast from Omaha Thursday evening of this week, and it will involve a postwar Germany. Whether that nation should be permitted immediately following peace to set up an independent form of government will be discussed. Last Thursday night speakers at the broadcast from Waterloo, Ia., battled over the right of labor unions to contribute money to help candidates in a political campaign. Speaker for the unions excused the practice of dishing out large sums of money for a campaign on the ground of maintaining the status quo. It would appear as indicated in the discussion that managers are no sooner educated than they are told how to vote. A new deal speaker accused Gov. Lum Dewey of threatening to break his pledge to stick to his present post, evidently overlooking the fact that the party in power has conspicuously broken pledges ever since it took office. People who relish sharply contested battles of words over live issues, will do well to tune in on Omaha at 7:30 o'clock this Thursday evening.

Your government is not asking you to sacrifice. It is giving you an opportunity to help the boys win this war by making the best investment in the world, purchase of U. S. war bonds," said Chairman R. L. Larsorf.

Wayne Going Ahead In Air Development

Application for Air Mail Service Is Reheard by Washington Board.

Application of the Century Aviation Co. of Wayne, to establish and operate two air mail routes in Nebraska and South Dakota was heard for a second time before the civil aeronautics board in Washington, D. C., Tuesday. The proposal is to operate with terminals in Grand Island and Sioux City and to provide delivery and pickup mail services for most small towns in a large area. R. G. Fuchler left in his own plane Sunday for Washington to attend the hearing. Attorney R. W. Bartels of Omaha, accompanied him. They plan to be back today or Friday.

A general proposal of providing air mail pickup for small cities, was heard last October and at that time the board favored combined passenger and mail service to cities of 25,000 or over. Since then hundreds of small points have stressed the importance of air mail service. As a result, the aeronautics board called for other hearings. The one on the proposal of the Wayne company was set for Tuesday.

Action of the national board is expected within a few weeks.

Petty Officer Ruth Lundberg Serves as Secretary in Air Force Office.

The most interesting part of my job is that the work I do enables me to learn something new every day. I am A.M.M.3. Ruth Lundberg, who arrived home Monday morning this week from Jacksonville, Fla., to spend a 14-day leave with her parents, Mayor and Mrs. Herman Lundberg, "my work is very interesting and I really like it," she further stated. She does secretarial work in a material office of the V-404U lighter squadron. One other WAVE works in the same office along with about 12 sailors.

The base in Jacksonville is very large. Squadrons of WAVEs are stationed there and pilots are being trained to handle navy planes called Corsairs.

WAVES stationed there do various types of work. Some are plane captains who prepare planes for their flights. Duties include starting the planes and checking instruments. Storekeepers and yeomen are in offices at the base.

MID-WEEK FOURTH IMPOSES AN EXTRA TAX ON NEWSPAPER

THE FOURTH comes this year on an unlucky day for weekly newspapers. It steps in at a critical juncture in newspaper-making. Tuesday is the day when the climax in the job approaches—the time for the final roundup in taking together latest news and delayed advertisements. But like other institutions, the Herald will sustain for the holiday, and necessarily will have to push ahead its program. Correspondents and others who usually reach us with news stories Tuesday, should be on hand next Monday. Then we will be in shape to issue Wednesday afternoon as usual. Thanksgiving comes Thursday, and Christmas comes Monday this year.

Service Center Opens for Youth

Wayne service center, which for the past few months had been maintained for cadets and other youth center, has been converted to a youth center according to action taken Tuesday evening by both Chamber of Commerce and city council.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce, Henry Loy, Carl Wright and J. N. Goring, appeared before the council Tuesday night and asked that group to pay the rent of the E. E. Gauley building which houses the center. The council voted to take this action for a trial period of six months.

Wayne Woman's club has been asked to sponsor the organization. It is planned to open the center at 10 o'clock Monday night. The center will be operated two nights a week at first and mornings later providing the plan works well.

The center will provide dancing, games and other recreational activities. Equipment will be the same as used in the service center. The Chamber of Commerce also took action to sponsor the kitchen club which has been organized. It is hoped to schedule a number of games this summer. C. C. Stirtz and W. P. Thomas were appointed as committee in charge.

Variety Makes Navy Work In Florida of Interest

Petty Officer Ruth Lundberg during her free time. One evening Miss Lundberg heard the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra when it was in Jacksonville.

Personal inspection is held every Saturday morning. Everyone on the base stands that. Some squadrons, because of their size, are divided so that one-half stand inspection one Saturday and the other half the next Saturday. Navy and WAVE officers do the checking.

Visits Oldest City. Petty Officer Lundberg visited St. Augustine, which is the oldest city in the United States. She said it is a very picturesque place which is Mexican in appearance. It was so ancient that one feels he is entering a foreign country entirely. Streets are very narrow and are of cobblestone. While there Miss Lundberg visited an alligator farm, ostrich farm and the first school house. She saw the very ancient slave market which has been standing since the days of slavery.

"Jacksonville itself is a nice city although the weather there is very warm," Miss Lundberg said. She stated that it was a common sight to see palm trees and pine trees standing side by side.

Attorney General Sanctions Using Funds for Port If Voters Favor.

Excess funds belonging to cities may be used to purchase airports if sufficient sum is available in addition to regular appropriations and if the action is approved by the electors. This opinion of Assistant Attorney General Robert A. Nelson of Lincoln, came to Wayne Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

State Airport Engineer C. F. Kirschner, in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce, explains the opinion as follows: "Excess funds may be transferred to the general fund and after the proper presentation to the electors and if the decision of the voters is favorable, may be diverted to the purchase of airport property or airport improvement, providing sufficient funds remain in the general fund to take care of the other expenses of the municipality. However, in any event, the question should be presented to the voters at a regular or special election."

Wayne city council's lease on the J. T. Bressler, Jr. land east of town continues for some months. Even though flight instruction for army cadets terminated June 22, the local port will be maintained for the instruction, is in charge of the ships until they are turned back to the government. He and Mrs. Fuller will be here for a time.

Republican Convention
THE republican national convention which opened in Chicago Monday, was not so narrow in viewpoint, not so narrow in partisan politics as new deal wheel horses had doubtless anticipated.

As keynote, Gov. Earl Warren of California emphasized the need for opportunities—not just jobs—and "to make and guard the peace so wisely and so well that this time will be the last time that American homes are called to give their sons and daughters to the agony and tragedy of war."

The governor called attention to the new deal's aptitude for finding emergencies, the whole building a huge bureaucracy and restricting people's rights and destroying their initiative.

Former President Herbert Hoover and Representative Clare Booth Luce of Connecticut, furnished high lights for the convention program Tuesday night.

For Pilot Training
ON THE floor of the house recently Congressman Karl Stefan of this district urged continuance of the civilian pilot training act beyond the year proposed.

Farm Scene Shown in Legion Carnival

One of the most interesting attractions which the Hyalite Midway Co. will bring to Wayne for the Legion carnival July 7-12 is the little mechanical farm which features 110 miniature, hand-carved figures representing farm life in all its phases. A farmer spent three years and four months carving the figures which perform many chores common to rural life. An old sow caring for her piglets, a rooster fighting with a garden snake, a nervous shifting of papers across the barn roof, a threshing machine into which bundles are pitched and from which straw is blown into the barn, windmill in operation, horses and cows drinking at the trough and other typical farm scenes are depicted in miniature.

FOURTH OF JULY ACCIDENTS

(Suggested by Col. John Stille of the National Safety Council.)
The first two days of next July will be harvest season for fatal accidents. Drownings, at many unsupervised places; burns, bonfires and lighting fireworks; shootings, with old, "unloaded" firearms, falls from rocks and trees, or swings; over-exhaustion, or over exposure to sun; traffic accidents, auto or pedestrian, all reach a high peak Fourth of July.

While "D" day still continues, it may be necessary to make Fourth of July a special sort of "D," or Don't Drive Day to save lives, gas, tires and vehicles and remind ourselves of needed safety and conservation, now, as well as later.

Last year the war cost 90 billion. Then add four billion from accidents. National credit is 260 billion, 20 thousand dollars a man, woman or child. If nothing is done, to stop accidents, Fourth of July will take one thousand lives, and cost 20 billion dollars. If we think of it in war bonds, it is reason enough for this special "D" day devoted to designating danger at home.

The state motor vehicle division says traffic fatalities from January until July, this year, will exceed last year's. We may be winning the war, over there, but we need to set "D" day for deliberation and doing something about safety on the job, on the road or in the home.

Use "D" day to destroy foes of safety.

Motor Vehicle Division
OWEN J. BOYLES,
Assistant Director.

Mrs. Gilbert Lintz and son, Herbert, of Superior, Wis., returned here Thursday from Bloomfield where they had visited in the home of the former's brother, Dewey Flock. They have been in the Chas. Lapham and Miss Nell Fox home, also with other relatives.

Sisters Are Brides At Double Service

Rulings Are Issued In Tire Rationing

No grade one or new tires will be issued to B card applicants until the applications of preferred mileage holders are met, ration boards of the Sioux City office of price administration district have been instructed. Wayne is in this group.

Preferred mileage holders are such groups as physicians, law enforcement officers and health agencies.

Demands for new tires by B card holders have exceeded the quota, forcing this action to be taken. At present there is a backlog of over 4,700 applications for new tires in the Sioux City district.

M. E. Rawlings, district director, said that all car owners must recap and repair their tires as needed. Failure to do so, he said, will result in tire ration boards refusal to grant a new tire when the quota becomes available.

Priority Control Applies to Workers

The war manpower commission's new labor priority control plan provides for the placing of workers into jobs in the order of their greatest importance to the war effort, according to the Norfolk office which includes 14 counties.

Wayne and Dixon being among them. The new plan, going into effect July 1, is essential, officials say, because war vital production plants in Nebraska and elsewhere are having difficulty getting and holding labor needed to meet schedules. Over 8,000 men are wanted.

The aim is to get the right man into the right job at the right time. Allocations are based on findings of a production urgency committee, members of the group studying the situation in various war plants. Women and workers connected directly with agriculture are not included.

Workers in essential jobs are asked to stay there. A new worker or one contemplating a change should apply for a priority referral card at his nearest U. S. employment service office. He should then contact the traveling representative of this office. One from Norfolk visits Wayne at regular intervals.

Wayne city council contracted for extension of the water mains for 1,500 feet near the college at a cost of $1,600.

In 1928 Germany faced a serious problem of production and marketing, according to Mrs. Pauline Vogel Maltzer who was in Wayne visiting. During the war nations which had bought from Germany developed their own industries to take care of their needs. Now Germany has no market for her goods and no means with which to buy from other nations.

Nadine Baird, 4, cut her face when she fell while playing on a building foundation.

Library News

The adult department has been relatively quiet during the month of June, although a large number of new books have been added. This week we have Bob Hope's new book 'Never Let Home', which is filled with many a chuckle, and two books of fiction, 'Time for Each Other' by Rusbeck and 'The Red Cock Crows', a story of the south by Frances Gaither. There is also a collection of humorous stories by Allen Churchill, called 'A Treasury of Modern Humor'. These books are all good light summer reading. 'Bombers', by Keith Auling, is non-fiction, written by an ex-bomber pilot and tells of the exploits of every type of bomber. 'Harawa' by Robert Sherwood, correspondent for 'Time' magazine, is one of the most stirring books of the war as well as the best covered battle story, because the author lived through every minute of it. The new biography of this week is 'Heaven Below', by E. H. Clayton, who returned on the ship 'The Albatross' in 1942, ending a 30-year mission of good will in China. Some of his adventures include big game hunts in the mountains, in advertising smuggling, opium through the Chinese customs, and a financial accounting to the Japanese authorities, worthy of any city slicker, instead of a doctor of divinity.

New books are being distributed among the children each week and real activity is going on in their department. The movie on Tuesday was well attended and the children viewed Walt Disney pictures of South America and a circus film. Dr. Geo. Seck showed the films. The library is indebted to A. L. Swan for some additions to the circus display. He kindly donated a display he had used in his window with a circus theme which added to the effectiveness of the display.

Is in Hospital.
Pvt. Lloyd Obst has been in a hospital at San Antonio, Texas, since May.

Pvt. Obst appreciates the Herald and hopes that all boys may soon be home.

Is Aerial Engineer.
Pvt. Richey Love, stationed at Amarillo, Tex., writes June 20 that as the A. M. school is full we are compelled to take 35 days' extra basic training. We march, learn first aid, military courtesy, camouflage, tent pitching and many other things. Tomorrow we have a 25-mile hike. I don't mind them so much except it gets so hot it makes walking bad.

I am classified to be an aerial engineer. It is one good at mechanics he goes to specialist school and works on different airplanes. This is a B-17 and B-29 school so I may possibly get to be on them.

Pvt. Love continued by writing, "We had a large parade in Amarillo when they were opening their Fifth War Loan drive.

Invasion Boosts Morale.
The long-awaited invasion on the continent boosted morale wonderfully and gave all men in the armed forces in England a new hold on life, according to letters written June 7 and 10 by 1st Lt. Donald Strahan to his mother, Mrs. Fay Strahan of Wayne. The officer, with the weather service in the air corps, states that the weather is a big headache in England at times. Men of the air force were disappointed that weather had to turn bad during the invasion as they wanted to go more at that time.

Arr Extra Busy.
Lt. Arthur Gulliver, based in England, writes June 11 to his parents, Prof. and Mrs. A. F. Gulliver, stating that life in service had been exceptionally busy recently for big events though none know the actual invasion they find chance he missed being with one of the units going to the continent.

About once in 50 years, England has exceptionally hot weather in the summer, and this is one of the years, the Wayne young man writes.

"On the afternoon of the 8th I spent a couple of hours at the beach swimming in the Adriatic. Here a beach is maintained only for the enlisted men. The officers have a beach farther down, and the WACs also have a beach."

Returning to camp I found that the mailman had left me two Wayne Herald's. I spent the rest of the afternoon reading about Wayne. (My favorite pastime.)

In the evening I attended the weekly games held in the squad room. Afterward I was treated by fellows of the tent.

I returned to the tent, finished the Wayne paper and retired, realizing how fortunate I was to have such a fine day. I cannot put into words how great a part the Herald played in making the day perfect," concludes Sgt. Lewis.

Report Casualties Light.
Casualties from the Normandy beachhead are considered very light in comparison with the size of the operation, according to Lt. Evelyn Noakes, nurse, who is in a hospital at an American base in England. Those who were in the hospital at the time of the invasion and were unable to go with their comrades after months of preparation were the most disappointed.

Though a tension gripped England at the time of the invasion, people in general were more calm than one would expect. Lt. Noakes finds that being calm is characteristic of the English. The people know too that they are more secure when they refrain from excitement. Lt. Noakes says the one thing that would excite the British would be victory and peace.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Noakes have had letters written by their daughter June 6 and 8. D-day, June 6, was Lt. Noakes' free day so she was late. About mid-morning she heard someone mention that the invasion was on. She turned on her radio and heard Gen. Dwight E-

Sights Would Show Why Boys Sacrifice
S. Sgt. Dirk Lueders, mechanic on a P-47, who went to England some months ago, writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Lueders, that he got back to the barracks and that he has "taken his first breath since things started humming." He further states that while he was writing the letter, that was the first time most of the fellows had been in the barracks for a couple of days. They have been so busy that they hadn't had a chance to clean up for two and one-half days. The fellows got what sleep they could out by their jobs.

The youth writes that "it was a beautiful sight. I wish everyone could have seen it; then people would know why they are sacrificing and buying war bonds."

"We had to turn all the money we had into the government a couple of days before writing this letter. The government is sending it home for us free of charge. We also had to turn in all our pictures."

S. Sgt. Lueders states that he is in the best of health.

The young man sent an issue of the Stars and Stripes dated June 8, which showed several interesting articles and pictures of the invasion. One article was of particular interest because it told the important part the allied aircraft played in the invasion.

YOUR INVASION!

FROM General Bradley, leading the Invasion ground forces, right through every rank, American men now face a brutal, desperate, able enemy. For this invasion has only begun—before our fighters lie a hard and bloody task, one that demands all their courage, backed by all your faith in their ultimate victory.

That faith will be tested many times in this invasion—in grim struggles, set-backs, possibly even temporary defeats. It will be up to you to remember that early victories usually only mean more savage opposition from a foe made more bitter, more ruthless as the shadow of his doom grows larger—up to you to keep that faith in days and nights of gloom as well as in hours of triumph.

There is little that you can do to show that you realize what they must face, perhaps for many months. But one thing you can do—back the attack with every dollar you can spare! Let the Bonds you buy in this greatest of Drives be the measure of your belief in their ultimate victory!

LUTHERANS PLAN POST WAR PROGRESS

Delegates representing 5337 congregations and preaching stations with a total of 1,600,000 souls will assemble from June 24 to June 30th, at Saginaw, Michigan, for the 39th national convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri, Ohio, and Other States.

Meeting in the historic Saginaw Valley of Michigan, where the Franciscan Lutheran colonists a century ago brought the Gospel to the American Indians, this Triennial Convention of Lutherans has chosen for the theme of the convention the famous request of the Chippewa chief to the first Lutheran missionary, the Rev. Fred F. August (later, "Teach my people the truth" (Kikindema nindaminshabemi in chebunim?)) These "Pilgrim Fathers" of the Lutheran Church were part of a vast migration movement of Lutherans, who, in order to escape religious persecution and to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience, came to America approximately one hundred years ago. Since that time the remarkable growth of the Lutheran Church in all states of the Union, Canada, South and Central America has been one of the thrilling stories of the Christian Church. During the last three years since its last Convention the Lutherans of the Missouri Synod have continued to forge ahead, so that now they count 1,007,085 communicants and 214,977 men who govern the congregations in their voting assemblies. Lutherans of the Missouri Synod are leaders among Protestants in the educational field and have established a nationwide system of 1210 private Christian Day Schools with an enrollment of 78,422 children. Sunday Schools number 3888 with a total enrollment of 268,751 children. Last year Lutherans of the Missouri Synod gave more than twenty-five million dollars for the support and expansion of their church's work at home and abroad.

POST-WAR ISSUES CONFRONTING THE CHURCH

Due to wartime conditions the Synodical convention has been streamlined and only official representatives will attend. The business to be transacted will determine the progress of the Lutheran Church for many years. The chief tasks are:

1. Consideration of proposals for fostering unity with other Lutheran bodies of America.
2. Expansion of the foreign ministry program in China, Africa, South America, and India (Lutheran work was begun in East India a century ago when the Rev. E. Barthelemy left the Indian Mission in Saginaw Valley to start mission work there.)
3. Advancement of the secondary and college educational program for the church-owned Christian schools of the Missouri Synod.
4. Recommendations of the Lutheran Church's Army and Navy Commission concerning the more than 100,000 men and women from the Missouri Synod serving in the armed forces.
5. Pastoral plans for leaving the European countries affected by the war.
6. The changing of the Missouri Synod's name to one which would more adequately define and truly represent the church's religious body's activities throughout the world.
7. Revision of the church's by-laws and regulations.

CHAS. E. SANDALL SAYS:

NEBRASKA IS PROUD OF ONE OF THE BEST LIQUOR CONTROL LAWS IN AMERICA

Our State Liquor Control Law is one of the best planned and best executed in the United States. It is often considered the model by legislators of other states. When this law was drawn back in 1935 our Legislators studied the problem, acted with care and consideration. Time has proved their wisdom. Today conditions in Nebraska are very good, thanks to this law.

This Committee, which is concerned with the proper administration of this law, works closely with your law enforcement officers, aids wherever possible in maintaining the good conditions for which Nebraska is famous.

Good laws, well enforced, have been proved better than unenforceable laws—or the finest enforcement of poorly drawn legislation.

ISN'T NEBRASKA'S GOOD LIQUOR CONTROL STATUTE, PROPERLY ENFORCED AS IT IS, THE SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM?

Newspaper Takes Trip to England

Letters Raised on Egg Are Those of Four Children In Wisconsin Family.

A copy of the Buffalo Evening News traveled from Allegheny, N. Y., to England and back to Allegheny within a year to the day. About a year ago Joseph Fries contributed a bundle of paper to the scrap drive. It included a copy of the Buffalo News dated May 4, 1943. On May 4, 1944, Clarence Baker of Allegheny received a package from his brother, Lt. Leland Baker, stationed in England. It contained the same newspaper. "It was the same one because my name was on the upper left corner," Fries explained.

The initials "J. S." were clearly outlined in raised letters on the outer shell of an egg boiling on the stove at the C. C. Smith home, Oshkosh, Wis. Mrs. Smith wishes now that she hadn't said anything to the children about it. Each of the four youngsters promptly laid claim to the egg. All have the same initials—Jane, James, Joan and Jean.

When a man worked as guard at a Chicago war plant more than two years without an absence and then failed to show up one afternoon, the bosses were anxious to know the reason. John Moeller had a valid excuse. He had come out of retirement to take a war job after Pearl Harbor. After over two years he took a half holiday to celebrate his 80th birthday.

Mrs. Dora Peters' $113.56 in savings disappeared in Memphis. After a $5 bill turned up under a sidewalk, investigation led to all but $10.50 of the money in the basement where it had been carried by rats.

Pvt. Leonard Fierst of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., home on furlough from the south Pacific, explained why he refused the purple heart award after he suffered a saber wound during a skirmish at Guadalcanal. He said he knew his parents would be informed of the award and he was afraid they would worry about him.

Major Byron N. Butler of Camp

Carson, Colo., sent his blouse to the tailor for minor repair. Back it came—adorned with sergeant's stripes.

Here's how Bill Petersen, Kansas City night club manager, is meeting the hired help problems. His father is doorman, his divorced wife is check girl, his present wife supervises tables where two daughters by the first wife are waitresses. All get along fine. Two more daughters and a son by the first wife can work when they become of age.

While a man was having his picture taken in the rear room of the Capitol Photo studio at Salt Lake City, his companion remained out front. After they departed the proprietor missed $11 from his cash register. He called police—then hurried to develop the film. It was the first local case, officers said, in which a culprit had "mugged" himself.

James Wenrich, 36, and his son, James, jr., 18, of Harrisburg, Pa., reported for induction in service the same day.

A Binghamton, N. Y., store sold 144 alarm clocks at $1.82 each within 10 minutes.

When captured German war equipment is shipped from St. Louis to Denver it will be several tons lighter, according to an officer, who estimates that souvenir hunters have carved off that much aluminum, steel and synthetic.

When Lt. H. L. Cochran of Belleville, Ill., got into his car he found a signed note on the windshield: "Dear Sir: Sorry I had to borrow five gallons of gas. Will return it some night."

Cheyenne, Wyo., residents feel of finding nail stonemes measuring 10 inches in circumference.

At Toledo, Ore., a small item like a manpower shortage didn't hinder Seabee Lloyd Dahl's wedding. His bride's sister was best man.

Libertyville, Ill., residents saw spots before their eyes on some late, elms and assorted trees, so they called in the state department of agriculture to find out. Inspector Jack Williams inspected. He trailed the spots through the trees and onto fence posts and telephone poles. His diagnosis: Small boys playing commando.
