Sam McKelvie's "By the Way" near Valentine in Cherry county was the mecca for Nebraska and South Dakota republicans Tuesday when Gov. Thos. Dewey, republican presidential candidate, and accompanying party, out on a campaign trip, stopped there.

"As you can probably guess, we were quite busy a while ago, prior to the invasion of southern France," writes S. Sgt. Heylman August 21 to his mother and aunt.

The one who is boosted by sharp demands to places of material advantage is likely to sink when normal supply is restored, to the level from which he sprang.

Farmers needing year-around workers or helpers for a few days and men desiring farm jobs should register with the county agricultural agent, court house, Wayne.

Prof. O. R. Bowen of the Wayne State Teachers college, is always on the alert to say something to make the fellow-travelers feel better.

Ball Turret Gunner Missing in Action

S. Sgt. Robert Heylman Is Forced Down in Italy Word States Monday.

S. Sgt. Robert Heylman, 25, only son of Mrs. Clara Heylman of Wayne college training school staff, has been missing in action over Italy since August 29, according to a telegram received by the latter Monday from the war department in Washington.

The young man had been in service since a year ago last March. After being graduated from Lake Forest, Ill. high school and completing a course in industrial design at Pratt institute in Brooklyn, N. Y. he had been employed for 18 months in the Vega aircraft plant in Bzanzak, Cal. he then enlisted and first trained in Florida and later at Keesler field, Miss. He was graduated from gunnery school in Laredo, Tex., and his crew trained together at Casper, Wyo., and Pueblo, Colo. He spent a few days here last December when going from Laredo to Salt Lake City.

"As you can probably guess, we were quite busy a while ago, prior to the invasion of southern France," writes S. Sgt. Heylman August 21 to his mother and aunt, Miss Anna McNair.

Dewey Opens Campaign GOV. Thos. Dewey opened his campaign for the presidency in Philadelphia Thursday night...

The thing most damaging to new deal thirst for continued power was this quotation from the director of the selective service in Washington...

I believe that our members of the armed forces should be transported home and released at the earliest practical moment after victory.

Gov. Dewey's two speeches of the week, the second one at Louisville, Ky., dealing mainly with international problems...

As a Vote Catcher THE Sloux City Journal editorial writer shakes his head at the new deal promise of tax reductions and new business incentives.

Tax reductions! Why that is just as impossible in the circumstances as anything could be, and the democrats who promise it know it.

The new dealers evidently think the common people of this country are exceedingly stupid, else they would not make such promises on the eve of an election...

anyone blessed with common sense believe they are ready to reform. Their own acts convict them.

A help to small business after the war would be to let up on unnecessary and burdensome government restrictions. Require fewer and shorter reports. Pay less attention to hours and more to production.

Oldsters may well wonder how they chanced to live so long and robustly with so much of one vitamin and too little of another getting into the daily diet...

The CIO-PAC-backed congressional candidates were overwhelmingly defeated in Maine's election Monday. In the First congressional district the republican was elected by more than a two-to-one vote...

Wendell Wilkie, 1940 republican presidential candidate, gives the current republican and democratic platforms an even break—finds fault with both of them.

The United States department of agriculture estimates the nation's corn crop at nearly one hundred million bushels greater than it was in 1943.

Whatever may be the differences between the new deal dole system on the one hand and the independence and self-reliance proposed by the Dewey candidacy...

Geo. Olsen, candidate for governor, is reliably reported as having said he scared Gov. Tom Dewey out of speaking in Nebraska.

The war in Europe promises to end considerably in advance of the time set by gloomy prognosticators. Also it would appear from the number of Jap ships destroyed...

Popular advisers of young persons who appeal for suggestions about straightening out domestic troubles, usually employ common sense, but we wonder if disturbed emotions want that kind of sense well enough to accept it by it.

Dewey's successful experience as prosecuting attorney and governor of a great state and his utterances on vital issues show he is no slick politician.

Rains the past week have jumped ahead of the autumnal equinox which does not come until September 23. This point of equal daylight and darkness is supposed to influence the weather in the direction of rain.

How the new deal will be able to win the Negro vote while trying to hold the solid south together is a problem that can be solved by White House politicians if it can be solved.

A plan to subsidize and control agriculture, regulating crop and livestock production and determining markets is reported to the Washington Science Monitor. Subsidized price dictation, and that is manifestly in conflict with America's farm traditions.

I'd like to have somebody guarantee me bread and jelly, shelter, good health and fun the rest of my life. We all want somebody else to guarantee us something, nowadays.

Some talk of a "guaranteed annual wage." ... So, who is going to guarantee businesses that the public is going to buy their goods if competitors make better products for less money?

And who is going to guarantee us taxpayers WHAT? It would be a flabby country if none of us had to make good—just floated along—with everything we want guaranteed for life!

Serve in Regiment That Makes Record

Pfc. Howard M. Huffman of Dehton, formerly of Wayne, Pfc. Paul V. Gray, Pfc. Kermit G. Turner, Pfc. Roland C. Montgomery, Cpl. John R. Nimrod and Cpl. Clarence A. Nelson of Wakefield, and Pfc. Glen Reimers of Laurel, are young men from this vicinity who are with the veteran 133rd infantry regiment that has been "a nightmare" to battered Nazi troops throughout the Fifth Army's Italian campaign. The regiment is now along the Arno river in Italy.

The veteran Fifth Army regiment first blazed its guns at a costly enemy in the honey mountain ranges of Tunisia and defeated the Nazis in the famous battle for Hill 609. Backed from Tunisia to the Arno, the defeat-written faces of retreating enemy troops were haunted by these men at Cassino, Anzio and in crushing drives above Rome.

With a record of having taken every objective assigned to it, the 133rd has become one of the most decorated units in the Mediterranean theatre. Scattered among the fighting infantrymen of the unit are two congressional medals of honor, 19 distinguished service crosses, 117 silver stars for gallantry in action and more than 1,500 purple heart awards.

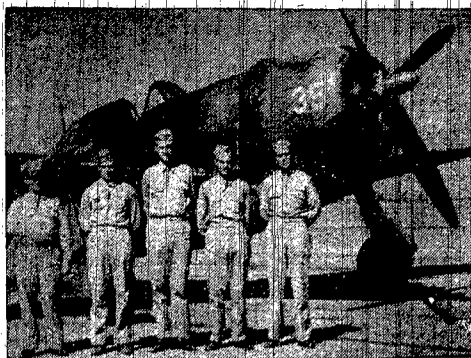

First elements of the 133rd sailed for Ireland in January, 1942, one of the first infantry units to go overseas in this war.

Results Are Compiled On Oats Test Plot

Vicland oats made the greatest yield per acre and Clinton the most pounds per bushel in a test plot on the Roy Sundell farm this season. G. T. Webster, associate agronomist with the extension service at Lincoln, reports yields and weights of oats varieties on the place as follows: Cedar, 40.2 bushels per acre, 27.7 pounds per bushel; Tanjai 41.1 bushels, 29.1 pounds; Boone, 35.5 bushels, 30.2 pounds; Vikota, 41.9 bushels, 27.3 pounds; Vicland, 42 bushels, 29.1 pounds; Marion, 39.6 bushels, 30.3 pounds; Ventura, 33.5 bushels, 29.5 pounds; F-M x V-R 3991, 36.6 bushels, 29.4 pounds; Clinton, 34.6 bushels, 32.1 pounds. Webster states that a statistical analysis of this test shows that 51 bushels are required for a significant difference between the varieties. The five highest yielding varieties are Vicland, Vikota, Tama, Cedar and Marion. There is only 2.4 bushels' difference in the highest yielding variety and the fifth highest yielding variety. This indicates that there is very little preference in these five varieties based on the 1944 yield. However, comparison of varieties should be made for five or 10 years before making too definite a conclusion on the best variety for the community. Cedar, Tama, Boone, Vicland and Marion are being considered as desirable in northeast Nebraska. Results available for a number of years from the experiment station indicate that Cedar is probably the most desirable variety to use.

Gasoline Rations Will Be Renewed

M. E. Rawlings, Sioux City district OPA director, announces that gasoline dealers and service station operators in the Sioux City OPA district may be asked to accept a number of detached "A-12" ration coupons up to and including September 21. Motorists who hold "A" ration books are required to submit the back covers of their present "A" books, properly endorsed, when applying for the renewal of their rations. In submitting the back cover, many motorists will have to tear their only remaining coupons from the book and thus have two or three perfectly legitimate coupons that are not attached. So that these coupons may be legally used, Mr. Rawlings stated that the OPA has made it valid for all gasoline station operators to accept these loose "A-12" coupons. However, motorists must have these coupons properly endorsed with their license numbers. This regulation terminates September 21, 1944, when the present "A" ration expires, Mr. Rawlings said.
