Destins Insignia
For Army Squaddron
S. Set. Dirk Lueders designed the insignia for the 389th fighter squaddron his drawing being picked from a humber competing. And the prize was $100.
S. Set. Lueders, who is in Europe wites November 11 to Mr. and Mrs. Chris Lueders as follows:
The 389th squadron has been without an insignia. Therefore the pilot decided to have one, so made a condest of it and the best insignial was to receive a prize.

"Fifty-six insignia were submitted and two officers and four enisted men picked out the dustanding five to be posted and voted on by the entire squadron. Wes. I am proud to be the designer of the 389th fighter squadron insignia and the winner of the cash prize of $100.

If find to make up five of the insignal so be isent to different plates such as air force, headquarters to be filled and one to England on the states to have patches made on the states to send you one as soon as itt dan be released."

a corn deal between the two.
Don Beckenhauer bought a crib
off corn from Matt Holt, jr., June 5, 1944. The corn was estimated tal 1,150 bushels, Plaintiff agreed to pay $1 a tushel for the corn which was to remain on the premises until it was needed by plaintil. Then the corn was to be shelled. If it ran over 1,150 bushels, plaintiff agreed to pay $1 a bushel for the excess. If it ran under the defendant agreed to make up the defeire with corn.
In the petition, Attorney H. E.
Siman, attorney for the plaintiff
states that the corn was shelled (Optober 7 and alleges that it weighed 934 or 216 bushels under the estimate. He says defendant

JIMINY CHRISTMAS

Did you ever See Such a Tree?

Rushing down to discover a glittering Christmas tree on that Morning of Mornings, dashing upstairs again to awaken the family, urging them to hurry, hurry so the presents can be opened, shaking and feeling mysterious parcels for just a hint of what their gay wrappings might conceal-that's a real American Christmas . . . the best assurance can give you children of security, warmth, and love . . . of the knowledge that they matter, in the midst of a world gone crazy. Give them a truly Merry Christmas this year, but first, make certain there will be many mort to come, by investing in War Bonds and Stamps.
