He explained that he realizes man's desire to protect and keep free those whom he loves. The fact that I may die does not appal me. I am happy to do what I have to preserve your lives and the American way.

where have sinister designs on rural schools does not make sense.

Reports from Lincoln say the present unicameral is working faster than did the same body two years ago. Sessions start earlier and business is hammered along with more speed and no doubt with equal wisdom. Last week closed a six-week period, and results showed 27 measures passed, 21 signed by the governor and 19 killed. During the same time two years ago, 13 had been passed, seven approved by the governor and 26 indefinitely postponed. If the solons can keep up the pace they have set, they ought to be able to finish and get home in time to share in the early spring work and be on hand to welcome new calves and pigs and other farm animals. One stimulus to extraordinary haste is said to be over-crowded lodging and eating quarters and high costs.

In his Fairbury Journal, Editor W. F. Cramb disagrees with uplifters who talk only about jobs for returned soldiers. He thinks possibilities for employment should not be divided between government and a few big corporations, but that soldiers should be encouraged to own farms or head their own businesses. The editor is in favor of more small business investments, but in opening the way, he would have the government ease up on tax burdens and on the time-eating task of answering questionnaires and making out reports. Not only jobs, but opportunities to take the initiative in business and production are urged.

Anniversary of the founding of the local Kiwanis club twenty-two years ago reminds us that of fifty enrolled as charter members fifteen have died. Some have moved away. The original number has been reduced to twelve. First officers were: C. E. Carhart, president; R. B. Judson, vice president; Lester Vath, secretary; J. G. Mines, treasurer. First board of directors: A. R. Davis, C. M. Craven, E. J. Huntmer, J. C. Nuss, L. A. Fankse, F. S. Morgan and John T. Bressler, jr. Organization was effected February 5, 1923, and this week's noonday luncheon duly observed the anniversary.

George Olsen, defeated candidate for governor, has enlivened political campaign prospects by announcing that he will file as a candidate for United States senator. At the same time he berates those who belittle persons engaged, like himself, in wrestling with and disposing of kitchen garbage. He rightly contends it is a necessary and honorable thing to do.

Fala and Blaze are not the only highly prized dogs. Any boy or girl thinks he or she has the best dog in the world, and no matter how great a nuisance the animal becomes, it is guarded carefully and jealously. For animals, dogs are smart, but luckily, as some one has suggested, not smart enough to realize they are dogs.

Young persons are usually sensitive, impressionable and have long memories. Therefore, what is said to them should be measured out carefully. They never forget, and indiscretions rebound in later years with mightily disturbing force.

No Desire To Kill A heartening story comes out of Italy, and is treated editorially by the Omaha World-Herald. It refers to freedom of American boys from the desire to kill, despite grim tasks on battle grounds. This report must be a source of encouragement to parents and wives of young men in the armed forces. The World-Herald comments:

"Amid the clamoring of those who insist that every service man will have to be re-oriented and de-brutalized before he can resume a normal civilian existence, a simple little story from Italy comes as a reassuring note.

"It tells of three American soldiers who bought a cow from an Italian farmer for conversion into fresh beef. These men, who shoot nazis without compunction, couldn't work up courage to shoot the cow. Eventually they paid the former owner 25 lire to butcher her. Apparently that this will not require any de-brutalizing before resuming civilian ways. And neither, we'll wager, will the vast majority of American troops, who kill because they must and who hanker only to resume the ways of peace."

Rural Schools "DO you want your rural schools destroyed?" is the question reported to have been asked a group of farmers recently. Though no one anywhere ever had in mind the idea of wiping out or hampering country schools, the unanimity of the negative response is said to have prompted a warning. The object is not apparent. The rural school is of course here to stay. It has supplied fundamentals for some of the world's best thinkers and most useful citizens, and it will always do so. Rural schools may be consolidated to serve practical economy as travel problems are solved, but they will never be tied to city districts, thus leading to increased farm taxes.

It is recalled that lands lying adjacent to Wayne were released from the local school district some years ago to lighten the agricultural tax burden. The scare that educational leaders any-

DEFEAT.
Defeat is often stimulating and profitable. If one surrenders superiority good-naturedly, he finds a lot of friends he didn't know he had. If an individual loses to a neighbor or a club to another town, the consequence is frequently more helpful and gratifying than would be sense of victory. Acknowledgment that a rival debating, football or other competing team is a deserving winner makes friends for individuals and for a community. It is a lesson that modifies self-esteem and spurs preparation. It puts persons in condition to accept later successes without fanfare. Like pain which is often friendly, defeat is a wholesome regulator.

Spring Expected Early Over Area

Dixon County Court House Is Completed at Ponca in Early Period.

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for February 14, 1929:
If a severe winter is an indication of an early spring, as some old settlers suggest, northeast Nebraska should have one this year. January weather started in with spurs on and let up only at intervals long enough to permit the unloading of fresh supplies of coal. If the prolonged Arctic variety promises to be followed by timely arrival of vernal sunshine and warm showers, with assurance of normal crops, no one will complain. Little snow has fallen but the thermometer has poked at or below the zero mark so much of the time that the mercury seems stuck there.

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the S. D. Relyea home in Wayne with a loss estimated at $15,000. Mr. Relyea, Miss Mate Relyea and Miss Edith Stocking had barely time to escape from the burning structure early in the morning.

East hall, dormitory at Wayne college, has been dismantled after housing young men for many years. C. H. Hendrickson bought the lumber and will use it on his farm near Laurel.

J. T. Bressler, county pioneer, observed his 80th birthday January 14, 1929.
Legn Hansen and Miss Luella McGuigan were married February 11, 1929.
A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith February 8, 1929.
Twins, a son and a daughter, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Obst of near Wayne, February 12, 1929.
Robert Dawson of York, father of Jack Dawson of Wayne, died January 10, 1929, from injuries suffered when struck by a truck when crossing a street.
A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kraemer of Concord, February 5, 1929.
Fred, infant son of Mr. and Mrs.

C. R. Goreham of Leslie precinct, died February 3, 1929.
A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sandahl of near Wakefield, February 8, 1929.
James Toy of Sioux City, C. A. Sisk, E. S. Kiernan and Robert Anderson, law officers of Wakefield's new bank.
Miss Harriet Kinney of Wakefield, and Walter Otte of Wayne, were married February 7, 1929.
Mrs. Harriet Walden, former resident of Wakefield, died in South Sioux City in February, 1929, aged 84.
At a double wedding in Winside February 14, 1929, Miss Fern Minkler became the bride of Robert Bruce Wylie and Miss Fern Wylie became the bride of Harold Andersen.

Shirley, daughter of Supt. and Mrs. C. A. Jones of Winside, underwent an operation for double mastoid at Norfolk.
E. F. Werner, Miss Catherine Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Mabbott, Chester Fowler, Miss Roma Jackson and Miss Ruth Ross, Carroll teachers, were re-elected.

Schellenberg is moving from Hoskins to Gordon. . . . Wayne people are interested in securing a government post office. . . . J. G. Bergt bought Geo. Thies' property in Altona. . . . Mrs. W. S. Templeton moved from Winside to Washington, D. C. . . . Rev. Parker Smith resigned as pastor of the Baptist church and went to Ravenna. . . . Paye Ellis and Harry Ringer returned from Des Moines where they completed a pharmacy course. . . . Wm. Bruggeman moved to his father's farm near Carroll. . . . Miss Lena Moberg of Montana, and Earl Cooper of Montana, were married in the Walter Weber home here February 15, 1911. . . . To provide more ground for the Carnegie library, a lot was bought from A. B. Clark. . . . Miss Mintie Lewis resigned her teaching in Omaha and returned to Carroll to care for her father. . . . Miss Agnes Savidge of Wayne, and F. S. Sandaggor of New Orleans, were married February 8, 1911. . . . Paul Harrington, who had been in the state university, went to Los Angeles to be with his parents for remainder of the winter. . . . Homer Seace of Wayne, and Miss Alice Everett of Lyons, were married February 14, 1911.

Early in Dixon County.
From Northern Nebraska Journal, Ponca, for February 1, 1884: A party of Arabs direct from the Holy land went through Kansas City enroute to California. . . . About 130,000 hogs were packed outside of Omaha the past year at plants in Columbus, Nebraska City and Plattsmouth. . . . Those who lease Nebraska school lands will pay their interest or lose their leases. . . . Much livestock has been lost in western Nebraska during the winter. . . . Many Mormons are reported moving through Michigan.

Collection day. . . . Beautiful weather. . . . More sickness than at any time of the year. . . . Asa Bates is on crutches after falling while ice skating. . . . Melvin Mc-Donald cut one foot severely when chopping wood. . . . J. Martini sold his store in Martinsburg to Schultz & Mattison. . . . O. E. Martin of Martinsburg, was thrown from a buggy and his collar bone was broken.

County officers are now in new quarters in the court house and "the boys feel that there is some pleasure in doing business where they are not in constant danger of having their spinal columns frozen up". . . . W. A. Bolton of Newcastle, brought in a specimen of nearly white rock through which were particles of metal of dull yellow color. Jeweler DeSombre tested the particles with acids and heat and thinks they are gold. Bolton found the piece in Dixon and no doubt he has struck a bonanza. . . . Ponca school is maintaining a high standard under direction of Miss Angell.

UNIVERSITY GROUP

ed States had 18, Britain 14 and Russia 12 representatives at the first session. Russia did not wish to incur the disfavor of Japan at that time, so after her delegation left, China's representatives met with the others. France will, it is expected, be invited to join the group as the fifth big power.
The long sessions of study resulted in recommendation of a four-point organization: General assembly, with all countries represented and each having one vote; safety council, with permanent members, one from each of the five powers, United States, Britain, Russia, China and France, and the other six representing other countries, three to be elected each year; the court, to be the present world court adopted or a similar group set up; and secretariat, the paid secretaries to keep records. The plan proposes to allow all peace-loving nations to belong to the organization which would meet at least once a year.

TVA Is Experiment.
Tennessee Valley Authority, known as TVA, is of interest in this region because of the possibility of a Missouri Valley Authority, Mrs. Geo. Seck explained. The Missouri river valley is vast, larger but many problems are common to both regions. Despite much criticism and regardless of personal opinions, TVA is an interesting experiment which should be understood.

TVA is a federal project voted by congress and started in 1933 for four purposes: To control flood waters and to promote navigation through 26 publicly and privately owned dams on the Tennessee river and its tributaries; to produce abundant and cheap electric power; to conserve and develop natural resources of the valley while providing recreational facilities and protecting wild life; and to develop natural resources, producing fertilizer during peacetime and both munitions and fertilizer during war time.

The experiment, planned as a sample of what might be done in other valleys of the nation and world, is unique in two ways. It is designed to develop all the resources of the area as one unit and to centralize responsibility under local authority, separate from Washington.

TVA has, Mrs. Seck explained, accomplished much. In flood control the system of dams can lower the flood height on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers as much as four feet. It maintains 650 miles of navigable channel where 23 million ton miles of shipping were carried in 1933 and 206 million ton miles in 1943. It produces 12 billion kilowatt hours of power a year. TVA in 1943 distributed $35,000,000 worth of electricity to 550,000 consumers through 130 locally-owned systems. One dam makes in one day enough power to produce aluminum for 31 big bombers. The project has seen the planting of 152,000,000 seedlings on eroded public and private lands, thus holding the soil. Forests, lakes and pools provide for hunting, fishing and swimming. Muscle Shoals plant on the Tennessee river has produced phosphate fertilizer which has been used on 44,000 farms in 29 states.

TVA investment is estimated at $700,000,000. Since 1943 it has operated on revenues and previously appropriated funds. It is estimated that annual savings in transportation are $10,000,000. The water storage of the dams is valued at $150,000,000. Power sales were $35,000,000 in 1943. The region has benefited through power and light, factories, schools, libraries, hospitals, etc.

Mrs. Seck urged people of this area to watch TVA as an example of what might be a possibility in the Missouri valley.
Follows Do Research.
Miss Jessie Boyce, fellowship chairman, explained the valuable research being done by holders of fellowships. Work of one has been valuable to the navy in checking eye reactions; another furnished background for troops going to Iceland by furnishing information on that region; another analyzed juvenile delinquency in the Americas; and still another discovered a new vitamin. These and many other bits of research are carried on through fellowships. Miss Boyce asked local members to give what they wish to this important work before March 1.
A convention without travel is planned by A. A. U. W. this year to replace the meeting planned May 29 at Cincinnati. Each branch will meet that day and act on proposals to be presented either by radio or by recordings. De-gates elected earlier according to membership will cast votes at that time. The convention will be called "a meeting of minds, not of persons." The convention theme is "The University Women's Responsibility in This Time of Crisis."

Miss Wanda Olson, accompanied by Miss Ethel Jean Olson, sang "Dedication," by Brahms, and "If I Could Tell You," by Firestone.

TRAVEL WISE says:

Facts . . . make a record . . . and here are the facts: Railroad passengers are three times safer in this war than in the last one. With passenger traffic at a new high in 1943, the average passenger rode in greater safety than in such typical peacetime years as 1938 and 1940. There have been less than three passenger fatalities for each BILLION passenger miles traveled. Based on latest passenger traffic statistics, if you were to take an average journey of 50 miles each day, your expectancy of life—if it rested solely upon passenger train travel—would be 93,700 years.

This record has been made despite the necessity of getting the fullest use of our equipment . . . despite the strain under which railroad men must work.

The war is going to last longer than most people thought a few months ago—so this is no time to trust to luck with your car or truck.

All automotive equipment now in service must last many thousands of miles longer—and the best way to make yours last is to take every precaution against trouble by having frequent inspections made.

Studebaker service saves cars, saves trucks, saves tires and gasoline, because it's expert service. Bring your car or truck in regularly for a careful check-up.

MORE TELEPHONES FOR RURAL AREAS

As rapidly as materials, equipment and manpower become available, it is the plan of this Company to extend the scope and usefulness of telephone service in each community it serves by making good telephone service available to all rural residents.

In the early 1930's adverse economic conditions forced many farmers to give up their telephones. With the return of better times and a continuous program of service improvement and promotion, substantial increases in farm telephones resulted. Although the installation of telephones had to be curtailed during the war period, more than 10,000 additional rural telephones have been put into service by this Company in the past two years. The percentage of farms with telephones in many parts of the territory served by this Company is higher than anywhere else in the country.

We have always recognized the great usefulness of telephone service to farmers and have constantly endeavored to supply their needs. Every reasonable and practicable step will be undertaken to advance this program as rapidly as possible.

Travel Problem Solved Long Ago

Relate Story About Using Carrier Pigeons to Aid Pilots on Return.

Current transportation difficulties prove no problem for Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Gross of Pittsburgh, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in their 50 years of married life. They said they've never been out of Pittsburgh.

A new use for carrier pigeons is described by State Representative G. C. Walker, Montgomery, Ala. Mr. Walker, addressing a legislative committee, said a flying instructor at the Clanton, Ala., airport frequently puts a pigeon in a trainer plane with a student. Then if the pilot can't find his way back to the airport he releases the pigeon and follows the bird in. That's what the legislator said.

Kan., ration board to ask why only part of the gasoline ration he had requested was granted. "Good heavens man," the board member shouted, "don't you know there's a war on?" "Naturally," the caller replied. "You ask 475 miles a month. You have to get riders." The man commented that he couldn't get riders. When asked why he replied, "I haul garbage."

Two signal events occurred recently in the life of James L. Bradley, Denver, retiring state auditor, and at 34, the youngest state official in Colorado's history. He went out of office at noon one day and in the afternoon received a notice to report for induction into the army.

Al. C. Schroeder of Alton, Wis., has the $20 he threw out of a Chicago hotel window when a fire broke out—thanks to the navy.

shore patrol. Mr. Schroeder, a survivor of the General Clark hotel fire, tucked away two $10 bills in a pair of shoes and put them in his ditty bag which he tossed out a window. When he went to the army to inquire if the bag was turned in—the short patrol handed it over. The two $10 bills, dripping wet, were in his shoes.

The army is searching for the Los Angeles owner (presumably his) of a kite which was darting around at 500 feet. An army plane took off, clipped the string, and blooey; down came the kite. The army announced Lt. G. A. McDaniel is willing to pay for any damages.

Recognition and a two-pound box of chocolates await the Salt Lake City men who can stand and say, "I will not smoke again for the duration," and mean it. J. Russell Durant, who operates a lunch concession in the city hall, already has the names of three such stalwarts on his honor roll.

J. B. Edwards, Abilene, Kan., a clerk in the Kansas legislature for the last 37 years has decided to retire. Mr. Edwards, who was a young man about Abilene when Wild Bill Hickok was the village cop, is 100 years old.

Mrs. Juliette Atcofin left a war job with Higgins aircraft of New Orleans to begin basic training in the WAC at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. Her husband, Joseph, blind since birth, will travel with her as far as Chattanooga, Tenn., where he plans to work as a machine operator, taking his wife's place in war industry.

An Oxford, Conn., fisherman and a friend looked forward with pleasure to a planned outing to fish through the ice. The friend brought a pair of live minnows, which were dumped in the bathtub and the water turned on at a slow trickle while they went out to complete arrangements for the trip. Returning for the bait they found the minnows were dead. In fact, they were cooked. They had turned on the hot water faucet.

Under provisions of a bill introduced in the New Mexico senate at Santa Fe, boxing and wrestling matches would be prohibited if the spectators are "rough, noisy or profane."

Earl Fitz of Fairmont, Minn., took three swings at enlistment in the armed forces and, after striking out on each occasion, turned back to his job to wait out the war. When the work or fight order was announced Mr. Fitz saw his chance. He quit his job and told his draft board to "come and get me." It did. His name led a list of Martin county men certified for pre-induction physicals the next week.

Salt Lake City officials promise a good home and best care if any public spirited citizen will donate a Bengal tiger to the zoo. The park's superintendent knows where he can pick up a lulu. Only $650 top.

Mrs. Lillian Matusik of Chicago, might have saved herself a lot of work if she had sat down and waited when she found herself locked in a drug store after closing hours. Answering her call, police tried in vain to open the front door. At the rear exit they discovered 40 cases of soft drinks, which Mrs. Matusik moved aside only to find the door nailed shut. But, straining and pushing, the finally broke out. The proprietor arrived with the keys just as she was released.

In obtaining a divorce, Mrs. Arthur de Golyzes, Los Angeles, testified her husband threw a plate of marinated and three duck eggs at her and they "covered me from my hair to my shoes." "Didn't you ever throw anything?" asked the plaintiff. "Once I threw some trout salad at him."

"I can't figure who would want a dog license without a dog," Police Chief Clarence Saunders at Weiser, Idaho, mused after a survey showed Weiser sold 60 more licenses in 1944 than it has dogs.

A petition addressed to President Roosevelt is in circulation at Sandoval, N.M., asking him to help reunite Sandoval's identical 18-year-old twins—Clifford and Clifford Seats, firemen second class in the navy. For the first time the boys were separated. Clifford is in San Francisco and Clifford is stationed at Detroit. Their mother earlier had appealed to Mrs. Roosevelt and the navy personnel department to have the boys at the same station.
