Public Service The Lincoln Journal took the Lincoln City Lines mildly to task for suspending service arbitrarily and without warning on early V-J morning, thus causing many persons the inconvenience of no way to get down to their work. The Journal pointed out that some businesses cannot close on any day. It further complains:

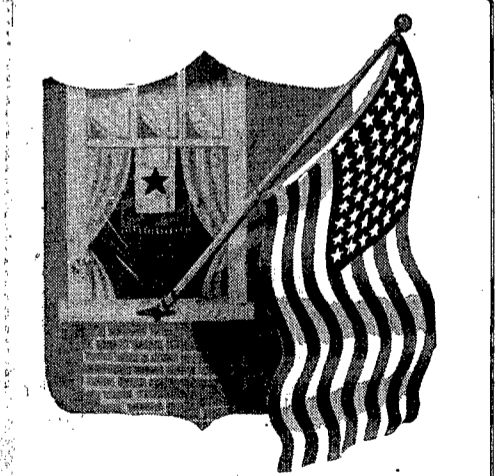

"Nobody had a right to assume that the persons affected would all find some other way to get down town. A bus company differs from most other businesses in that it is a public utility, with certain responsibilities to the population it serves. These do not permit shutting off service arbitrarily, without notice, without consultation. Granted the company has been hampered by lack of good equipment, that its drivers have performed daily miracles of service and courtesy while struggling with their broken down craft, there is still a minimum of responsibility to the public that can't be avoided."

Postwar Objectives WORD comes that Kiwanis International is actively behind solution of problems of reconstruction, adopting this theme: "Build for peace—unity—opportunity." Nine objectives are set forth as follows:

1. Develop an understanding of the United Nations Charter in support of world peace.
2. Aid returning veterans.
3. Encourage sound programs of reconversion.
4. Strengthen democracy by personal acceptance of citizenship responsibilities.
5. Expand youth services to build character and citizenship.
6. Mobilize public opinion in support of individual enterprise and opportunity.
7. Conserve natural resources.
8. Further good will between Canada and the United States as an outstanding example of international cooperation.
9. Develop national unity, through increased emphasis on human and spiritual values.

country from war-time restraints and cutting down the burden of cost. He is evidently bent on scrapping useless bureaus and dismissing supernumerary hangers-on. A recent report of his conference with Marshal Stalin was refreshing. The president didn't ask the marshal what he wanted, but bluntly told him what he couldn't have. He showed genuine mid-western frankness, and Stalin appeared to like it. He may or may not succeed in the next election, but if he keeps on looking people squarely in the eyes and striking directly from the shoulder, surrounding himself with sound counselors and getting rid of crackpots, he will perform a service to his lasting credit. If he will lead quickly and safely back to the American way, he will gain popular confidence, whether the election favors him or not three years hence.

Oldsters kick because of failure to take advantage of the comparatively meagre opportunities in their early lives. In pioneer days favorable chances were not numerous, but often even the ones offered were sidestepped. The customary plan among youngsters was to absorb just enough education to get by, and gain as little experience as was needed to hold jobs. Lack of opportunities, as an excuse not to know much or not to engage in useful activities, rested on frail ground. Lincoln made the grade in the face of all kinds of disadvantages. But the will to learn and improve is now very popular, and it is a spur to acceptance of greater opportunities. In the old days not many cared a darn. We hope few feel so indifferently in these times when the need for trained minds and hands grows more and more pressing.

Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel who was released from command of the United States Pacific fleet following the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, renews his demand for a hearing to bring out all the facts and fix responsibility. It was deemed inadvisable to go into the matter while the war was on. Now that it is over, nothing would seem in the way of a complete exposure. Manifestly, the public is entitled to the truth, and it would appear up to congress to hasten its revelation.

What we have, we treat indifferently. What we don't have, we want. It is an eagerness to attain something beyond immediate reach. Once attained, it is regarded with cold unconcern. People chase rainbows without analyzing anywhere, seek Eldorados that invariably prove disillusioning and manage in one way or another to keep up a fever of discontent. That is probably a necessary road to wholesome change and steady progress.

It is announced that collecting tin cans will be continued by the government to meet an unsatisfied demand. Old tin cans are so unnecessary and so unsightly, scattered or in piles on home premises, that the campaign would serve a useful purpose if it were continued indefinitely. Besides helping paralyze enemy positions, scrap drives in past years got rid of a lot of worthless junk and painful eyesores.

AN ANNIVERSARY.
 Passing of the 49th wedding anniversary in the Herald's family prompts the reflection that time flies, that dreams of youth seldom come true, that life's trail is marked by shadows and sunshine and by sufficient obstacles to stimulate the quest, and that failures and disappointments come along fast enough to prevent occasional success from taking one's feet off the ground. Was he free 49 years ago? Was anyone ever greener? By making comparisons with poor human attainments and looking away from examples of high endeavor he managed to fight off despair and keep afloat. He had a lot of good intentions, with which, it is said, hell is liberally paved, but which he could not without the aid of other qualities convert into dollars and cents. He found that hard work would serve in the absence of superior genius. A young woman who can tie to and become dependent on a backward saphead, with little visible means of support and few encouraging prospects, shows wonderful courage and deserves great credit. But as a modifying influence on intensely callow youth and many evidences of imperfection, what a blessing are the unity, confidence and loyalty of family ties!

Meeting Planned In Emerson Friday

Wayne, Dixon, Thurston and Dakota counties will be represented at the fall meeting of the four county noxious weed districts at Emerson auditorium Friday, August 24. Lois Smith, W. L. Klatt and Noel S. Hansen of the state department of agricultural inspection, and W. H. Berger will be on the program.

The men convene at the auditorium at 12 for noon dinner. The program opens at 1. Lois Smith explains the new law; W. L. Klatt, state work; W. H. Berger, local problems. County agents will give reports, and the group will discuss plans for the future. Mr. Berger has charge of a business session. The test plot northwest of Emerson will be visited at 3 when Noel S. Hansen will explain work being done there.

Otto Saks is president and G. Clare Baskirk secretary of Wayne county weed district association.

Plan Pre-Opening For Teachers Here

Pre-opening day for Wayne county rural teachers will be held Saturday morning, September 1, beginning at 9:30 o'clock in the court room at the court house in Wayne. Miss Marie Wright asks all teachers to be present.

Miss Anna Smrha of the state health department, expects to be here to give information on nutrition. Teachers may secure their supplies from Miss Wright on pre-opening day or before. If schools begin earlier than that date, the boxes should be called for at the court house before the opening time.

All teachers should have their certificates registered with the county superintendent on pre-opening day or earlier.

Early Resident Of Wayne Passes

Rites for Gus Stockfish Are Held at Wisner Church Sunday, August 12.

Gus Stockfish, 69, of Wisner, cousin of William and Paul Knoll of near Wayne and former resident of this county, died at a Norfolk hospital August 9. Funeral rites were held Sunday last week at the Sultzer funeral parlor with Rev. J. E. Aeschbacher of the Congregational church, in charge. Burial was in Wisner cemetery.

Deceased was born in Alt-Kues-trichen, Germany, May 22, 1876. He came to this country with his parents in 1882 and located at Wisner. The family lived in Wayne county from 1896 to 1901. They then went to Platte and returned to Wisner in 1920.

Mr. Stockfish leaves a brother, Fred of Wisner, and three cousins, the two here and C. F. W. Lehrman of Chambers.

Among those attending the rites were Mr. and Mrs. William Knoll and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knoll of Wayne.

Coaching School Attended by Two

Fred Rickers and R. A. Speece of Wayne attended coaching school at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln last week along with more than 150 high school coaches and superintendents from Nebraska, Illinois, New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado. Four days were spent on the campus catching up on new things in all sports. George "Potsy" Clark, head football coach at Nebraska U. and Lynn Waldorf, head football coach at Northwestern, were among the attractions. The school was sponsored by the Nebraska High School Activities association and the University of Nebraska.

Legion Is Postponed.
Meeting of the Legion post, scheduled for August 15, was cancelled. The meeting will be held September 5.

Funeral Service Held at Hoskins

Louis Nurnberg Passes at Norfolk After Major Operation There.

Funeral services for Louis A. Nurnberg, 62, of Hoskins, who died Friday, August 10, in a Norfolk hospital where he had undergone an operation a few days earlier, were conducted Tuesday, August 14, at Trinity Lutheran church near Hoskins with Rev. R. F. Bit-torf in charge. Burial was in the Lutheran cemetery near Hoskins. Pallbearers were Erwin Ave, Ed-ward Ave, Gustav Perske, Victor Perske, Henry Mittelstead and C. H. Walker.

Mr. Nurnberg, son of Ludwig and Anna Koll Nurnberg, was born in Germany March 28, 1883. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith in his native land and came to this country in 1898, locating at Winside.

Mr. Nurnberg and Miss Alma Schermer were married January 10, 1907, and they had lived three miles north of Hoskins since Mrs. Nurnberg died seven years ago.

Eleven sons and daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Nurnberg. Two died in infancy and Pvt. Geo. W. Nurnberg lost his life in Germany last March. The eight surviving are Robert of Hoskins, Harry of Webster City, Ia., Mrs. Frances Herbst of Webster City, Mrs. Helen Schwindt, Mrs. Charlotte Voecks and Mrs. Maria Voecks of Hoskins, Mrs. Louise Koepke of Winside, Miss Minnie Nurnberg of Charlotte, S. C. There are seven grandchildren. Mr. Nurnberg leaves one brother, Carl of Winside, and one sister, Miss Anna Carstens of Germany.

Rain and Warmth Boost Prospects

Establish Airport For Wayne Early

Car Accidents and Drowning Fatal to Young Folks In Early Period.

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for August 22, 1929:

Miller & Strickland have set about to put Wayne on the air map. They have leased 50 acres of ground east of Wayne from J. T. Bressler and are building a suitable hangar. The name of Wayne will be mounted on the top of the hangar. Guy Strickland flew up from St. Louis with a new three-passenger plane that cost $4,000. The distance of 500 miles was made in about five hours. Miller & Strickland show confidence in air navigation. Ralph Robertson will be instructor.

Miss Doris Kingston, 15, of Wayne, and Charles Killion, 16, of Wakefield, were killed August 18, 1929, when the car in which they were riding collided with another at the top of a hill near Pender. Miss Margaret Buis of Pender, Miss Hanson and Harold Killion of Wakefield, Miss Opal Wuertz of Pender, and Herman Dinklage of Wisner, were injured.

Sybil Bean, 15, of Wakefield, was drowned August 16, 1929, when she and Ardath Bean and Frances Brown were wading in Logan creek. Morris Hyde rescued the last two and tried to reach Sybil but she had fallen into a deep hole.

Wayne college training school will add the 12th grade to its course of study.

L. M. Owen reports oats yielding 66 bushels to the acre.

Wm. Anderson, brother of Mrs. F. A. Milder, had minor injuries when his car skidded and turned over south of Wayne.

Events in Dixon County.
From Northern Nebraska Journal, Ponca, August 15, 1944.

The greatest earthquake ever experienced on Manhattan Island struck New York August 11, 1884. The republican Dixon county convention met in Ponca, July 14, 1884, with N. S. Porter, chairman of the county central committee.

An agreement among pig-iron producers to take a 90-day holiday because of low prices was the source of worry for the common pig-iron workmen who resolved to band together and present their grievances.

The normal institute of the teachers of Dixon county commenced August 18 and lasts two weeks. Coleridge was to have its own newspaper in the near future. The Messrs. Hasson and Dorsey bought a drove of 20 ponies which came all the way from San Antonio, Tex.

A cigar store dealer attempted to demonstrate the new art of cigarette smoking to his customers. He amazed his audience by inhaling and sending wreaths of smoke floating across the room, and then by blowing rings through each other. Sun baths were advised as being of more importance in preserving a healthful condition of the body than had been generally understood.

Dixon county republicans met in convention and nominated Geo. Waitt of Wakefield as representative to the legislature.

There was a circus in Sioux City in consequence of which the evening train from that place was one hour late on Monday.

SERVICE NEWS

Mrs. Sam Noyes, Mrs. Fred Gildersleeve and Mrs. Ed. Surber met him in Omaha.

Is Here on Leave.

Lt. Gordon Bressler, who has been transferred from Williams Field, Ariz., to Lincoln air base, spent a leave with his parents, the John C. Bresslers of Pender, and returned to Lincoln Tuesday.

Promoted in Service.

David V. Garwood, who returned May 24 to active duty at San Pedro, Cal., after receiving care for some time in the Long Beach naval hospital, has been promoted to lieutenant senior grade, effective May 1, 1945.

Arrives in States.

Capt. Robert H. Fishbach arrived in the states Friday on the Newton B. Baker. He plans to come to Wayne after spending a few days in Washington, D. C. Capt. Fishbach had been with U.N.R.R.A. in the European theatre.

Arrives on Leave.

S2C Max Young, whose wife and son, Max, are here with Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson, came Thursday from Great Lakes naval station to spend a nine-day leave. The Johnsons came here last May from Vancouver, Wash., and Mrs. Johnson son remained when Mr. Johnson went for navy training. Seaman Young returns to Great Lakes, and Mrs. Johnson and son will go to Hay Springs soon, the former to teach there this year.

Citation Is Earned
By Edwin Deuel

Edwin L. Deuel, 28, yeoman second class, whose wife, Zona, lives at Sholes, has been presented the navy unit citation ribbon at the naval training center, Miami, Fla., where he is now stationed.

Deuel earned the award for service aboard the USS Helena when she defeated superior enemy forces in the battles of Cape Esperance and Guadalcanal and then was torpedoed and sunk in a night engagement in the battle of Kula Gulf.

Deuel's mother, Mrs. Hazel Deuel, lives at Norfolk. The sailor farmed before entering service in December, 1941.

News of Atom Bomb Brought to Cities

Radio news August 7 carried to fliers on Saipan information about the atom bomb. Lt. Herbert Temme, son of the Chas. Temmes of Wayne, writes that day that "It sounds terrific, yet good if it can shorten the war. I'm wondering if we'll have a part in carrying these bombs."

The officer tells that his last mission was one of carrying leaflets. "You have heard about the policy of warning the cities that B-29's were coming. I was on one of those planes. We were over the empire for two and a half hours and dropped warning leaflets on four cities. What a mission!"

The Wayne air man has been promoted to first lieutenant.

Has Many Shoes But Needs Stamp

Women Play Bridge Outside Store While Waiting to Get Supplies.

Mrs. C. A. Poulton of Normal, Ill., has more than 800 pairs of shoes—but she still needs her shoe ration stamp because she can't wear any of them. The shoes, a collection mostly of antique ornaments, are of glass, bisque, lusterware and china.

There's been so much rain that fish are dying in a New Jersey lake. The state game and fish warden explained marine growth was accelerated by the rain and formed a greenish scum. Accompanying hot weather turned this scum into gas which suffocated the fish, he said.

William Schmidt, 67, Chicago, a fishing enthusiast, had two outboard motors in his basement, one in good condition, one ready to be overhauled. A thief stole the one needing repairs. Said Mr. Schmidt: "I'm going to take the other one to bed with me."

A woman stopped her car outside a butcher shop at Chatham, N. J., lifted out a bridge table and chair, and invited three other women to join her. A bridge game was on. At 8 a. m. the game was called because the butcher shop opened.

Packages of dishes, phonograph records, electrical fixtures and other merchandise were dropped by parachute in front of the Washington National airport. It was a demonstration of a new technique for delivery of merchandise by air.

Shipyards Worker James Hearn,

42, was fumbling for his keys outside his hotel room door at Seattle, Wash. Digging deep in his pocket, Hearn wheeled around and fell three stories. He landed in an easy chair. His only injury was a wrenched neck.

A chap entered a Los Angeles clothing store, looked at a suit, tried it on and decided he didn't want to buy it. He returned to the dressing room, came back and handed the clerk a suit which, after the man had gone the clerk discovered was the one the man had worn in. But in a coat pocket of the suit was $80 in cash.

At Fort Sheridan, Ill., M. Sgt. William G. Godling told the post exchange war bond officer that he wanted $200 in bonds for every year he spent in the army. It was "another shot at the Japs" on his discharge. The check was for $6,000. He had spent 30 years in the army.

Dr. F. H. Gelderman of Tucson, Ariz., says his 48 white hens are exchanging suspicious, dark glances. An unidentified member of the flock recently laid a black egg.
