Wayne College Is Rated High Among Similar Schools

IN HIS SPEECH before the Wayne Kiwanis club recently, Senator W. A. Crossland reflected community sentiment in his high appraisal of the Wayne State Teachers college. His report of what was accomplished in the legislature for support of the school was gratifying. He seemed to think legislators were disposed to grant adequate appropriations when convinced of conditions and requirements. In the last 35 years the local college plant has been developed into one of the best found anywhere, and it is only reasonable to suppose its owner the state will see that it is properly maintained. It serves a large field and a highly meritorious purpose, and with peace restored, it should grow in enrollment, as fully warranted by its superior equipment and carefully selected teaching staff. Senator Crossland's efforts in the legislature in behalf of the college were tireless and effective.

Governor Griswold said that he would have been unable to come had he not been able to fly to Wayne from Lincoln. He flew to Norfolk Wednesday evening and then went to Newman Grove.

Governor Griswold noted that "people are very serious minded these days as we have come through a horrible war which made us think seriously about serious problems. With the peace, we also face serious problems."

"New era of thought and a new type of thinking have come out of this war," stated the governor. "With the use of the atomic bomb, we have developed something we are actually afraid of. It seems possible that the human race is

Lightning Kills Early Minister

Rev. Thomas Osborne Struck While Pumping Water at Turkey Ranch.

Rev. Thomas C. Osborne, 69, of Bayard, Neb., Presbyterian minister in Wayne about 40 years ago and former member of the state legislature, was killed late Thursday afternoon by a bolt of lightning accompanying a severe electrical storm in western Nebraska.

Rev. Osborne had left the house at the turkey ranch he operated four miles northeast of Bayard and apparently was pumping water when lightning struck him. When he failed to return to the ranch house, Mrs. Osborne went to look for him and found his body beside the pump.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday at Bayard Presbyterian church.

The minister had retired after serving Presbyterian churches at Wayne, Scottsbluff and Alliance for 29 years. The Clyde Omans of Bridgeport, who were here the past week, tell that though the minister did not have a parastole, his services were in demand almost constantly in churches for many miles around.

Rev. Osborne was chosen in 1920 as one of 100 to the state constitutional convention. He served in the Nebraska senate in 1923 and was a member of the 1943 legislature from 43rd district.

OLDSTERS RECALL ORIGINAL COUNTY FAIRS AS MEAGER

THE WAYNE county fair which is to be held this week, reminds us of Nebraska's first rural agricultural exhibitions. The county fair was the biggest event of the year, as it is now, but old-timers remember that the original did not compare for much that would compare favorably. Exhibition buildings were crudely constructed, and everything put on display was soon veneered with dirt. Transportation to and from the grounds was by means of private wagons and buggies or omnibuses at so much per ride. Races were main attractions. A balloon ascension was sometimes provided to stimulate attendance. The old-time fair had little to show, but it afforded an opportunity for sequestered lives to get together and renew long neglected friendships. What is considered a short distance in automobiles today was a long ride over humpy roads in the early days, but settlers were glad to suffer extra inconvenience in order to interrupt dull monotony. This week's modern fair in Wayne will attract people from a large area, and they will come comfortably in automobiles.

Darrell Lee Gamble Suffers Severe Burns Saturday In Priming Truck.

Darrell Lee Gamble, 16, who suffered severe burns on the chest and arms Saturday afternoon between 5 and 5:30 when he was priming the motor of truck with gasoline at the Lyle Gamble farm 10 1/2 miles southwest of Wayne, passed away Sunday morning about 9 o'clock in a local hospital. The youth's heart failed.

Darrell Lee had been overhauling the motor of a truck. With him were Pfc. Stanley Gamble, home from the Pacific where he suffered a foot injury and broken ear drum, Billie Gamble and a neighbor boy, Gail Wehrer. They had changed the fuel pump on the truck and had pushed the machine down a slight incline. The motor stopped. Darrell Lee was pouring some gasoline from a can into the carburetor to prime the motor when the engine backfired. The gasoline caught fire and the burning liquid spilled onto the youth, setting fire to his clothing. Stanley rolled his brother on the ground and extinguished the blaze in his garments, and the boys put out the fire that started in the truck.

The Lyle Gambles rushed their son to a local hospital where he received the best of care. He rested well and retained consciousness.

Funeral rites will be conducted from the Methodist church this Thursday afternoon at 2:30 with Dr. Victor West and the Beckenhauer mortuary in charge. High school students will furnish music and will also serve as pallbearers.

The singers are Cleone Heine, Altha Pfueger, Angeline Steckman, Jean Smolski, Lila Mae Brammer, Betty Hinnerichs, Charles Carhart, John Parke, David Carhart, Darrell Hart and Warren Ellis. Pallbearers will be Lloyd Russell, Russell Lindsay, Ernest Osburn, Marvin Dranselka, Leo Kilian and Dick Boyce.

The body lay in state at the Beckenhauer parlors all day Wednesday and will be there until noon this Thursday and the casket will not be opened at the services.

Darrell Lee Gamble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gamble, was born at Wayne January 4, 1929. He was a senior in Wayne high school this year. The youth was active in the Methodist church where he was a member.

Deceased leaves his parents and seven brothers and sisters, three in service. Lt. Kenneth Gamble of LaJunta, Colo., came Monday by plane, another air officer bringing him here. Pfc. Stanley Gamble arrived a couple of weeks ago from San Francisco. Pvt. Lyle Wayne Gamble, who is with the air corps at Kessler Field, Miss., came Tuesday night. The other brother is Billie at home, and the sisters are Lois, Mary and Janice, all at home. The grandmothers are Mrs. E. Grandest of Wayne, and Mrs. Emma Gamble who is now in Puyallup, Wash.

Saturday was the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gamble.

Prof. Lindahl mentioned that enrollment in the school is on the up grade. He congratulated students for taking advantage of state-provided facilities. Standards in all lines will rise in the post-war period, he stated, and being well trained will serve advantages. Attending college, Prof. Lindahl noted, guarantees economic security, develops citizenship, gives better understanding of the world and helps acquire leadership qualities.

Dr. S. B. Shively presided, Elinor Soderberg played a piano solo, "The Cat and the Mouse." Prof. Russel Anderson led the assembly in singing "America" and "Alma Mater." Rev. R. J. Bulkeley conducted devotions. Rev. T. J. C. Schuldt, president of Wayne ministerial association, invited students to attend churches of Wayne

River Development Meetings Called

Development of the upper Missouri river to help Nebraska and South Dakota is proposed by the Upper Missouri Valley association, headed by John Forsyth of Niobrara. A meeting to discuss the river work will be held at Yankton Tuesday, September 18, at 10:30, and a hearing will be held at Niobrara Thursday, September 27, at 10. Wayne and other north-east Nebraska points are invited to send delegations.

Navigation, power and prevention of soil loss are among the proposals of the river development movement. It is estimated that river transportation would save six bushel in shipment of grain. The river can afford low cost power. Mr. Forsyth says that the proposed dam at Fort Randall would produce enough electricity for all needs within an area of 200 miles for 50 years at a cost much less than prevailing rates. The Missouri river, states Mr. Forsyth, is taking 40 acres per mile each year along its channel.

Col. Dalbert Freeman, chief of the Omaha district U. S. army engineers, will preside at Niobrara. Gov. Dwight Griswold, State Engineer Wardner Scott and Extension Director W. H. Brokav will speak.

Petitions are being circulated to form a soil conservation district in Pierce county.

able to destroy itself as a result of such a discovery."

Governor Griswold stated that "we have developed the physical sciences highly in the progress of the war but as for social progress, we are still living in the dark ages. Nations simply have to get along together or the human race is going to be destroyed. This is a problem, because even in our own country we have so many controversies to contend with such as the racial problem and labor and management."

"To help solve our problems," stated the governor, "we must take the finest young men and young women and encourage them to take part in political, economic and social matters instead of letting the problems take care of themselves."

Governor Griswold concluded by saying that, affairs such as that held Wednesday "served a very fine purpose in bringing people of different communities together which proves helpful for the advancement of all of us."

Congressman Stefan. who drove over from Norfolk, complimented Wayne on acquiring a port of modest size which does not require a lot of maintenance and which has room to expand. Wayne's port, he mentioned, is the type that CAA officials hope to introduce over the United States. No great outlay of expense is required and the port can develop with the advances in aviation.

A modest grass airport with good ground school instruction offered at the college and with good operators teaching flying is an ideal setup and will eventually become an important feeder to larger ports, the congressman mentioned.

Mr. Stefan was in Omaha Tuesday last week when the civil aeronautics commission held a hearing which was attended by Mayor Herman Lehberg, County Attorney E. R. Davis and Airport Manager R. G. Fuelberth of Wayne. One of the CAA representatives was present from Kansas City. Wayne committee asked the CAA for assistance on drainage ditch dikes and concrete apron at the local port. Mr. Stefan reported that the commission was favorably impressed with the local port and the program arranged for its expansion.

Congressman Stefan was introduced by Senator Crossland.

LIKENS EDUCATION—

Students who do not have ability or do not give their best efforts. The school curriculum is being revised to offer knowledge which is most worthwhile.

"We can develop a scheme of pupil guidance. We can revise our curricula. We can improve our teaching methods. But if we do all of these to perfection, success will not be ours if we omit an emphasis upon character. It is this which gives proper direction to the whole education process. If we omit it, we may simply be giving a better criminal to society instead of a better citizen." Dr. Street concluded.

Rev. O. B. Proett introduced the speaker.

Appreciation was expressed to R. W. Ley and Carl Wright for having Kiwanis signs repainted.

Prof. O. R. Bowen is purchasing new United States and Canadian flags to replace the worn ones used by the local club.

"I shall now illustrate what I have in my mind," said the professor as he erased the blackboard.

The release of coal contracted by the army has helped the heating situation somewhat, but there is still a fuel shortage, and will continue to be this winter. Be sure you have your coal bin filled before cold weather sets in. In that way you will help the coal dealer and yourself. You will help your dealer by allowing him to refill his bins when he can get the coal you are going to need later this winter. That is the only way in which you can be assured of a plentiful supply of coal. Order your coal today.

Between now and corn picking time is the best time of the year to paint those buildings. Weather conditions are right and you do not have so many other things to do that will push you through your painting too fast. You will want the best in paint, naturally, and that is Glidden. Why not take out a couple of five gallon cans of Glidden red barn paint today and start in on the buildings that need painting the worst?

"How can I break my boy friend of saying my clothes are too cheap?"

"That should be easy. Just marry him."

The first little cool spell sets us to thinking of getting ready for winter.

Another car of cement came in a short while ago. You are going to want fresh cement for that feeding floor you are planning for this fall. Come in and let us figure for you just how much gravel and cement you are going to need. There is no obligation.

Permits to Build.

Holger Holm, state director, federal housing administration, announced today that his office is authorized to issue 125 unratified permits to build by families for their own occupancy. These permits will not be granted in H-2 areas where housing has been programmed. Also, his office is authorized to issue eight priority ratings per month with permission to build eight homes for occupancy to relieve housing distress to evicted families in Nebraska outside H-2 areas.

Priority assistance and permits to build are available to a veteran, honorably discharged from service after December 31, 1940, upon receipt of his application and statement that no housing is available for his family.

The above is the first housing relief granted on a state-wide basis and the number of permits authorized will increase as more labor and materials become available. Applications for the above mentioned permits will be received at the Federal Housing Administration office, Omaha, until the quota is exhausted.

Did you know this about fresh tomatoes?

That less tender cuts of meat may be tenderized if you add wedges of fresh, red-ripe tomatoes in the cooking. That for zest and tangy flavor in casseroles and salads the savory, fresh tomato has no equal! The recipes listed below give you an idea.

GARDEN GOULASH

1 lb. ground meat 2 1/2 cups corn
2 tbsps. shortening or 2 tps. salt meat dripping 1 1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 cup finely chopped 1/4 lb. noodles onion

3 cups quartered, peeled tomatoes

Brown meat in shortening or meat drippings; add onion and cook until tender. Add vegetables, salt, pepper and noodles broken into 2-inch pieces; stir well. Cook covered over low heat or in moderate oven (375° F.) about 50 minutes, or until noodles are tender, stirring occasionally. Serves 6.

SLASHED TOMATO SALAD

Slash, from the stem end down, into several parallel slices, a large whole tomato, cutting not quite through. Fill between the slices with generous amount of cottage cheese mixed with chopped chives or green onions; thin slices of cucumber, or sliced avocado. Serve with Thousand Island dressing.

STUFFED BREAKFAST TOMATOES

Cut out stem end of large firm tomatoes; scoop out some of pulp; sprinkle with salt and pepper; place on baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) for 10 minutes, or until tomatoes are done. Fill centers of baked tomatoes with fluffy scrambled eggs. Serve at once.

We Need It Anyway. (Norfolk Daily News)

Besides blasting most of Hiroshima off the map, our first atomic bomb knocked into the head of one of our foremost educators, a sense of the need for a world organization.

President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago had opposed world organization because he felt there was no moral basis for it. When the secret of the atomic bomb came out, President Hutchins changed his mind. He now believes that the new bomb and its secret should be placed in the custody of a world organization which will be pledged and able to prevent its future use.

He has some good arguments to offer. No nation or small group of nations can hope to keep this secret away from the rest of the world. What our scientists can discover, the scientists of other nations can eventually find out. We have already found that pledges by individual nations to refrain from certain practices during war are not always kept. Any small nation with a few of the bombs secretly made could cause terrible disaster to a neighbor.

All this is true, but what we would like to have Mr. Hutchins explain is why, if a world organization is needed to stop the use of the atomic bomb, such an organization shouldn't be useful in stopping the use of war by nations.

War is terrible enough even without the atomic bomb. Millions died before that bomb was ever exploded. The mere hope that war could be prevented or made less probable, is justification enough in the minds of most people for a world organization.

Visit College KIWANISANS and their wives who visited the college Monday evening on invitation of President J. T. Anderson, were deeply impressed by the magnitude and excellence of the institution. Visitors who had seen before, were re-impressed. Nothing is apparently lacking to insure convenience and comfort. Parents should know facilities the state has provided for the advanced education and care of their children.

President Anderson and his efficient department heads took warranted pride in the advantages offered for inspection. Assisting students reflected the polish and politeness that voluntarily tie into higher training.

Take a look at the kitchen where food is prepared for hungry students! It is presided over by Mrs. Lillian Miller. She touches a button, and the potatoes are peeled; another button and the dishes are scalded and washed. Innumerable electrically operated contrivances take old-time drudgery out of the culinary department. And these mechanical units never frown, pout, sulk, or talk back. But Mrs. Miller has to exercise her long experienced genius in planning the big food output required to meet daily demands.

Some human hands are still needed to serve student crowds, and lack of these constituted an acute problem during the war. The outlook in that respect is now more promising.

Everything spotlessly clean and abundance of best nourishing food at minimum prices are indispensable to highest intellectual endeavors. After all, people—especially growing youngsters—have to eat, and Mrs. Miller does eminently well in discharging that responsibility.

A visit to the college is convincing. All departments are definitely flourishing under competent leadership.

American Good Will MENTIONING editorially that the secret of the atomic bomb is known only to the United States, Great Britain and Canada, the Sioux City Journal evidently and rightly believes this terrible weapon will be used only in defense. The Journal disclaims rumors circulated abroad that the United States would employ the atomic bomb needlessly to impose on other nations, offering this paragraph to emphasize this country's predominantly good intentions and nearest approach to practical altruism:

"The suggestion, made by anyone that America ought to lord it all over the world by threatening to use the atomic bomb unless she had her way, is about as wrong a thing as any mind could conceive. For that is not American in any sense of the word. This nation did go all-out in winning the war. It struck mighty blows for victory. It did everything it could do in honor to bring that victory quickly. But its heart is in the peace its powerful efforts made possible, in reconstruction and rehabilitation all over the world, in restoring order, in returning to sanity, in making this earth a better place to live. America's character is not what some misguided persons think it ought to be. This is an altruistic nation and people, imbued with the principles of decent conduct. It is no aggressor, it has no desire to obtain mastery over other nations, it is not that kind of coun-

HOUSING NEEDS.

At the conclusion of Congressman Karl Stefan's visit to numerous towns in his district, he reported not one that had any vacant dwellings. What is true in Wayne with respect to house scarcity seems to be true everywhere in Nebraska. It is an indication of healthy demand, but most discouraging to persons who want to live here, but who can find no lodging quarters. Nearly every day families who are returning from the Pacific coast, or who desire to move here from elsewhere, seek help from the Herald to find available houses or apartments. This is an acute problem, and there seems no immediate solution. Building is still not under way to a sufficiently "helpful" degree. If Chamber of Commerce heads could figure out ways to accommodate more families they would contribute vitally to the satisfaction of new-comers and to the growth of the community. Many new houses are in prospect, but time is required to build them.

try for which the better element of American society and the American press is profoundly grateful."

Time Change REPORTS from Washington give promise of congressional action to turn the nation's clocks back an hour on September 30. To bolster up reasons for daylight saving which was launched in 1942, it is suggested that it provided more time for work and prevented waste of electric power. Many close observers think it did neither. Those who believe it permitted extra work, will be convinced by looking around that that is what most travelers do not want. As to economy in the consumption of electricity, there is evidence that the contrary is true.

Legislators have finally come to the conclusion that millions of hours of sleep have been needlessly lost. It is now pointed out that daylight time compels children to start to school in the dark and farm workers to amble to their morning tasks by the light of lanterns. One congressman mentions that daylight saving has caused juvenile delinquency and absenteeism in factories. Also it caused all kinds of annoyance to chickens and other barnyard creatures that cannot understand humans' strange mental quirks. It is predicted the change back will be made without a dissenting vote.

In an ordinarily peaceful Wayne residence district past 12 Saturday night two girls and two boys engaged in a drinking debauch, disturbing the neighborhood with profanity and loud boasts of how much liquid hilarity they could hold. Annoyed as the neighbors were, the greatest injury was evidently done to the young persons who participated. This kind of disorderly conduct is manifestly up to the police. If a policeman cannot readily be located, the mayor who is authorized to issue orders, should be notified. Incidentally, residents should know the telephone number that will reach police officers.

If a shorter work week does not increase the per hour pay, employers would doubtless not object, providing they can secure enough help to answer requirements. Ostensibly, the proposition to cut down working time is designed to spread jobs among more persons, thus reducing chances for idleness. But it is a safe bet that many with eyes on fewer hours of work are not figuring on accepting less pay per week. That is the sticker. Reducing production and keeping up wages will prove impractical—quite impossible—if the result plunges employers into the intolerable red.

In his speech to congress, President Truman inserts some disturbing notes, among them one urging payment of $25 per week to idlers. This wild idea is opposed on the ground that its practice would encourage persons out of work to steer around jobs. Rather, to fashion a strong, self-sustaining postwar society, people should be stimulated to do their own thinking and planning, assume responsibilities and run risks. They should get away from dependence on the government.

Since the president blames the people for the Pearl Harbor disaster, it is proposed to hold the demanded court martial and draw forth all the facts. Then the accused people who have been kept in ignorance, will know how far they have to go in shouldering responsibility.

President Truman's swing to the left, as proved by his recent speech, is disappointing to those who hoped for a sound middle course. His adoption of more of the old new deal pattern smacks of surrender to demands of the CIO-PAC influence.

In this period of change and reform, it might be well for lawyers and courts to step along by expediting procedure to the relief of litigants who weary of the long, winding and costly road traveled to secure the ends of justice.

The thought that the owner or manager of an enterprise really has the biggest and most exacting task should stay the temptation carelessly to fling verbal barbs at his head.

COXEY'S ARMY. Coxe's army that marched on Washington in May, 1894, to demand jobs is recalled by the report that the same leader, 91-year-old "Gen." Jacob S. Coxe, is now heading a movement to effect economic cures through doctoring and extending the currency system. Speaking of Coxe's army being on the march again, Pathfinder magazine says: "This time it's no barefoot, half-starved mob of 300 Ohioans, begging Washington for jobs as they did on their march from Massillon, in May, 1894. This time it's a global-minded group plugging 'world emancipation' through an international currency. Defeated presidential candidate on the Farm-Labor ticket in 1936, Coxe now has as assistants his vice-presidential running mate, S. O. Sanderson, Rochester, Minn.; and the Rev. Leo Charles Donnelly, M. D., Detroit, Mich., 1944 candidate for president on the Greenback party ticket. Goals: An international currency backed by all nations, with each pledged to work for the betterment of mankind. That's our aim," declared Rev. Donnelly. Effect: Probably the same as the march of 1894, which accomplished nothing for Coxe's followers."

Officers Elected In School Classes

Football Team Will Open Season with Game at Stanton Friday.

Class officers were elected for the year in Wakefield school. The seniors elected Betty Coniff, president; Monty Gustafson, vice president; Adelyn Johnson, secretary; and Ted Sandahl, treasurer. Juniors selected: Allen Kruse, president; Mark Schwarten, vice president; Niel Sandahl, secretary; and Charles VanValin, treasurer. Sophomores chose: Robert Sandahl, president; Anjensen Brock, vice president; Elaine Fleetwood, secretary-treasurer. Freshmen elected: Ralph Conner, president; Mariet Hansen, vice president; Harriet Fischer, secretary; Bertrand Anderson, treasurer.

Enrollment figures are as follows: 12th, 31; 11th, 30; 10th, 37; 9th, 29; 8th, 15; 7th, 8; 6th, 17; 5th, 18; 4th, 10; 3rd, 12; 2nd, 8; 1st, 10; kindergarten, 11.

Increase in the elementary grades at Wakefield school has been considerable, but there is only a slight increase over that of last year in the high school. Wakefield football team with David Bohler, coach, will play their first game at Stanton, Friday evening this week. Home games are scheduled as follows: Wisner, September 28, Wayne high, October 5, Laurel, November 2. The game with Allen was previously scheduled for Armistice day, but because that falls on Sunday, the Legion will decide what day the game will be played. The schedule for out-of-town games has not yet been completed.

Legion Auxiliary Has Session Here

Legion Auxiliary met Monday evening in the Legion club rooms, with Mrs. Ben Fredrickson, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson and Mrs. Bill Gradert in charge. About 24 members were present.

The group appointed Mrs. Marie Clough and Mrs. Kathryn Busby to investigate the possibility of again sending the local paper to boys in the service. The service had been discontinued due to addresses being changed so fast since the end of the war. Word has been received from so many of the boys expressing their disappointment in not receiving the paper that the Auxiliary voted to investigate the possibility of resuming the service.

The unit voted to purchase two bags, or about 200 pounds of silk powder bags that the government has released. The local club will dye the bags and make them into rugs and any other articles that they wish. Two dozen rag rugs are to be purchased from the disabled veterans and soldiers home at Grand Island, these to be sold. The veterans make these rugs from the rags that are sent them from Auxiliary groups.

Mrs. Clough, Third district president, attended the state convention at Fremont in August and gave her report. Third district, which extends as far west as Winfield, north to Hartington, east to South Sioux City and Tekamah and south to Wisner, was the first district to have all its members on file by the time of the convention.

Awards were made to the following units within the district: Lyons, scrapbook; Emerson, community service project; Bancroft, traveling library. Wakefield sent two poppy posters to the national Auxiliary. Bancroft was asked to present the memorial service at the state convention, for the 98 Third district Auxiliary members who have died this year.

Mrs. Emil Miller was taken into the club as a new member.

It was noted that only boys who have entered service prior to V-J day and discharged, would be eligible to membership in the American Legion.

Do You Want to Build a Home?

Holger Holm, State Director, Federal Housing Administration announced August 23, 1945, that his office is authorized to issue 125 unrated permits to build by families for their own occupancy. These permits will not be granted in H-2 areas where housing has been programmed. Also, his office is authorized to issue eight priority ratings per month with permission to build eight homes for occupancy to relieve housing distress to evicted families in Nebraska outside H-2 areas.

Priority assistance and permits to build are available to a veteran, honorably discharged from service after December 31, 1940, upon receipt of his application and statement that no housing is available for his family.

The above is the first housing relief granted on a state-wide basis and the number of permits authorized will increase as more labor and materials become available. Applications for the above mentioned permits will be received at the Federal Housing Administration Office, Omaha, Nebraska, until the quota is exhausted.

WE WILL ASSIST YOU IN MAKING APPLICATION FOR A PERMIT TO BUILD A HOME. COME IN NOW BEFORE THE QUOTA OF PERMITS IS EXHAUSTED

SIXTY-THIRD YEAR

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1945.

NUMBER TWENTY-EIGHT

End Farm Draft Asked by Butler

It has been my observation after traveling about the state of Nebraska that the further drafting of farmers and farm laborers should be immediately terminated, Nebraska Senior Senator Hugh Butler asserted.

Now that the nation is approaching full reconversion to the post-war period, industry soon will be faced with an over supply of labor. Yet agriculture, which has been operating short handed and with a lack of equipment during the full course of the war, is still short of essential manpower.

"In every community of the state that I visited," Senator Butler declared, "I have seen instances of older men and women and young children attempting to carry the load of farm work. The number of Nebraska farms has decreased while the average size per farm has increased. Nebraska farmers must have help to continue bearing the load of all-out food production."

The facts speak for themselves, Senator Butler said. Further drafting of farmers and farm workers should be stopped, and every effort made for the immediate return of servicemen to the farm.

Pay Court Fines.

Wilfred G. Nelson, Donald Armstrong and Ardale G. Test each pleaded guilty in county court Friday to charge of reckless driving, filed by Patrolman M. W. Yost. The last named also pleaded guilty to speeding. The boys paid fines of $10 on each count and costs of $4 each.

Taken Critically Ill

Byron Ruth of Wichita, Kan., came Thursday to see his father, Frank Ruth, who has been critically ill with heart trouble at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Albert Lambrecht, at Winslow. Mr. Ruth planned to remain over Monday.

Wayne Is Foresighted.

Herman Baehr of Rittman, O., formerly of this place, writes that "In appraising this city with communities of like size in the mid-west, Wayne loses nothing by comparison. There may not be the activity in industry that there is here, but there is no lack of alertness in any other way. As we read of the plans to make Wayne a good airport, we thrill to the foresightedness of the leaders there. All other indications of the planning there are equally foresighted." Mr. Baehr finds the experience in industry interesting but his first interest is in education and he plans to be back in educational work at some future time. The Baehrs send best regards to their friends here.

Wayne library has an exhibit in the educational building at the fair again this year in the first booth to the right as you enter the door. If you see any book titles which attract your attention ask for them at the library.

More and more material has been coming into the library on the atomic bomb. Libraries as well as individuals were caught flat footed on information on the atomic bomb when it burst upon the world but it wasn't long until plenty of information was released.

New books of the week at the library are Floreston, the life and work of Robert Schumann. All Our Lives, by Henry Wise Miller, husband of Alice Duer Miller, You Can't Stop Living, by Fern Rives, author of Friday Thank God, The Fountainhead, by Ayn Rand, and The Lucky Stiff, by Craig Rice. The last mentioned is a mystery.

Club women, have you had that awful sinking feeling that comes when you start to work on your club paper, and find there's no material available? That never happens if your chairman has asked the library for help in planning her program. Ask your chairman to check up at the library before she selects her subjects. Then be sure you don't overlook the help the library can give you in preparing your paper.

FIVE BILLION DOLLAR FAMILY BUSINESS

WHEN Grandma was a farm girl, she tended the chickens, milked the cows, churned the butter (72 percent of the nation's butter was home-churned then; less than 20 percent today). When she produced more eggs and butter than the family could eat, she would trade the rest for "pin-money" or frills.

Today, Grandma's "pin-money" has become BIG money. Last year it added more than five billion dollars to the income of U. S. farmers. That's more than hogs brought in—or cattle—or sheep. Just look:

1944 Gross Farm Income
Dairy Products	$2,969,000,000
Poultry Products	$2,295,000,000
Hogs	2,796,000,000
Cattle and Calves	2,607,000,000
Sheep, Lambs and Wool	450,000,000

And believe it or not, dairy products alone returned more money to farm families than the entire corn and wheat crops combined!

Any way you look at it, cows and chickens is a great industry. It is nation-wide, too. California and Texas are crowding close on the leaders—Wisconsin, New York, Minnesota, Iowa, and Pennsylvania. From millions of small dairy herds and chicken flocks in every state, as well as from large-scale operations, comes the enormous volume of dairy and poultry products that are such a vital source of our nation's food.

LET'S KEEP THE MACHINE IN GEAR

In these days of mechanized farming practically everyone is familiar with the gears that make the wheels of tractors, combines, and other equipment go round. We know that should one gear be removed or get out of line—or even if a single gear-tooth is broken—the machine won't run smoothly, if at all.

It is much the same with the livestock and meat industry. The three main gears are the producer, the processor and the retailer. When any one of these "driving gears" gets out of order, then the entire industry suffers. Coordination of their interests can contribute greatly to the smooth functioning of the industry as a whole. None of us gains by insisting too vigorously that our part of the industry is the only one which has problems that matter. We gain more by trying to look at our particular problems as they affect all of us. In other words, whatever hurts or helps the producer hurts or helps the processor and the retailer also.

The livestock and meat industry is an important part of the national economic structure. We at Swift & Company believe that we can contribute most to the welfare of America—and ourselves—by promoting harmonious practical working relations between producers, processors and retailers.

Martha Logan's Recipe for SKILLET DINNER

Cover and cook over very low heat for 30 minutes. Do not raise the cover. Serve with lettuce salad and crusty bread. Serves 6 to 8.

CULL THE NON-LAYERS Now!

Hens in your flocks that are still producing eggs regularly in the early fall months are superior layers. They are the ones to save for breeding stock, writes H. L. Kempster, chairman of the department of poultry husbandry at the University of Missouri.

Mr. Kempster says it's easy to select the good layers. They are the hens with white bleached shanks and with old, frayed and brittle plumage. The slick hens with yellow legs and smooth feathers are the ones that should be culled out of your flock to make room for mature, ready-to-lay pullets now on the range. As it doesn't pay to sell laying hens, try to examine all individuals in your flock carefully. A red comb and moist, expanded vent are sure signs of a layer. If the vent is dry, puckered and yellow, you may be certain that hen has stopped laying for some time.

ROY GUY REALLY KNOWS SHEEP

When Roy F. Guy, head lamb buyer for Swift & Company at Chicago since 1931, was a lad of 17, he answered an ad in a Kansas City newspaper. That led to his first job with Swift as a 4-a-week messenger boy. Before his first year ended, he had doubled his salary and was getting a start in calf buying. At the ripe age of 22, Roy Guy was head calf buyer at Chicago. He held this post for 19 years and then went back to the starting line to learn lamb buying. In his 46 years with Swift, Roy Guy has bought many million lambs and judged in many a show ring. But his greatest pride is in the boys he hired and trained who have made good with the Company. "I always told a new boy to be careful in choosing his Company... and to stay with it," he says.

Telephone Hooked In Radio System

Stamp Collecting Hobby Save Tenants Move In Kansas City.

After waiting patiently three years Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fleming of Kansas City, finally got a telephone installed at their home—and on a private line, too. At least they thought for a few hours it was private. It turned out to be one of the most public lines in those parts. The lineman had connected their phone to the Braniff Airways, Inc., and all the Fleming's conversations went out on the air via the Braniff radio transmitter to planes and stations everywhere.

At Salt Lake City John Sholties of Trenton, N. J., told police he and an acquaintance who called himself Tom planned to travel together by plane to Chicago. "How much money do you have?" he said Tom asked him. When he took out his billfold, Tom snatched it. Inside was $750.

A Kansas City stamp collector had lived on the ground floor of a duplex for several years, but recently the new owner dropped around to tell him he would have to move. The owner wanted the floor for himself. Noting the stamps on a table, the landlord announced that he too was a collector and the two got into an interesting discussion. When the landlord got up to go, he said, "I can't throw a collector out, so I'll tell the tenant upstairs to move, instead of you. You've got some stamps I want to trade you out of."

Pfc. Russell Brown of Milroy, Pa., named the shortest GI in the European theatre of operations by the army newspaper "Stars and Stripes," has received his discharge. Pfc. Brown, who stands 4 feet 10 inches, holds battle stars for the Normandy, Northern France, Rhineland and Ardennes campaigns.

A Portland, Ore., father, who had spent four years in the army, has a far-away look in his eyes. His son, just returned from boy scout camp, was asked how camp authorities managed to awaken 250 boys at 6 every morning. He replied, "Well, they did it with a bugle, at first." Dad interrupted, "At first?" "Uh, huh," the boy answered, "Then they couldn't find the mouthpiece that fits into the bugle." Later, when dad helped his tenderfoot son unpack his scout bag, out rolled—the mouthpiece.

The man power shortage got a vote of thanks from Harry W. Gordon, filling station operator at Columbus, O. Lacking a helper, he closed up his service station while he went for some automobile parts. While he was gone, an explosion blew the roof off his building and tore down half the walls.

More than 500 tenants in a downtown building in Philadelphia, suffered through two hot days when their water system failed. A plumber found a 10-inch, 2-pound catfish clogging the supply line.

It was a good idea on paper and first phases of a deliberately-planned traffic jam at Spokane, Wash., worked out perfectly. Capt. D. R. Hunter, representing the army's western railroad manpower project, staged the 15-minute downtown snarl to illustrate what a nationwide traffic jam on railroads would mean. But irate motorists backed up two blocks in every direction made so much noise with their horns that they drowned out the soldier who was attempting to explain over a public address system that it was a manpower promotional scheme.

At Chicago the temperature soared into the 90's when Philip Azallon came into a police station to report theft of articles from his parked automobile. Stolen, he said, were three pairs of ice skates.

At Mount Carmel, Ill., Sheriff H. M. Mobley's ability as an auctioneer was unquestioned as he disposed of articles at a public sale—but there was one complaint. Attorney Walter Kolb, turning prankster, picked up a broom from the sheriff's office and piled it atop public sale goods. The sheriff sold the broom for $1.15. Later his janitor missed the sweeper and told the sheriff who, a little abashed, rebought the broom for $1.15.

Turn about is fair play. When Vera McFee of Colorado Springs, entered the army Paul E. Phillips replaced him as projectionist in an Omaha, Ia., theatre. After seeing action in France, Mr. McFee became projectionist at Camp Carson. Discharged recently, he returned to Omaha and replaced Mr.

Phillips. Mr. Phillips, now in the army, has been assigned to Camp Carson and has replaced Mr. McFee.

Chicago policemen feel the lack of a knowledge of Chinese writing. The reason: There was a fire in the Chinese laundry near the Chicago avenue station. Since the officers send their shirts to that establishment, they tried to retrieve the packages. But the identification tags were written in Chinese.

Two Moscow, Idaho, policemen have been suspended by Mayor W. L. Anderson because, he said, they failed properly to police a police officers' convention. Delegates to an Idaho state peace officers' conference, Mayor Anderson reported, raced through streets with sirens shrieking at 2:30 a. m.

Chicago, as the saying goes, has an unstable climate. But Vincent Toscano has managed to bring a fig tree, which usually prefers a stable and somewhat warmer climate, to the hearing stage through five years of work.

For sale: One indestructible motorcycle, age 24 hours, recent victor in "bout" with a six-inch tile and mortar wall. Guaranteed to bring driver back alive. Robert Orton of Kansas City, Mo., the owner, became salesminded after the "wheel" got out of control and crashed through a filling station wall. Sixteen-year-old Robert escaped with only a cut across his knuckles, while the motorcycle suffered only a bent fender and broken headlight.
