

Plans Begun Appropriately Early by Chamber of Commerce — An Outrageous Mother — Juvenile Delinquency — Limit on Pheasants.

We are glad to note the Chamber of Commerce is making plans for the commemoration of the first Christmas following World War 2. It is recalled that thickened clouds hung over last year's observance. The Nazis made a desperate attempt to regain lost ground, and they succeeded in considerable measure to the consternation of allied nations. Threats of the so-called "bulge" gave a serious setback to civilization's hopes. It was then feared the war would be prolonged two or three years. Nativity of the Prince of Peace found extra gloom.

What a change in one year! Enemy nations folded up sooner than expected, and the giant task of straightening out discordant elements liberating enslaved peoples and fashioning the world into a peaceful order was undertaken. Reconstruction presents many vexing problems, but hard as it may be, it is not so perilous and terrifying as exchange of death-dealing shot and shell.

The coming Christmas will find many deep war wounds and many bereft firesides, but it will not find the fear of heart-breaking news from distant battle fronts. If not old-time gaiety, at least profound relief and keenly felt appreciation of restored peace will be the order. The story of the noble Nazarene will be recounted. Holiday attire and appropriate programs will be in evidence. The spirit of peace and good will as exemplified by the Founder of Christianity, will be emphasized.

The Chamber of Commerce is properly starting early to prepare for the pre-Christmas period. It is when fellowship pervades Christendom. It is when generosity reaches an all-year high. We hope yuletide decorations will be stepped up in welcome to return of peace. We hope no child will be neglected, and that no child will be surfeited and spoiled by too much.

In connection with the Chamber's enlarged plans we think it can be instrumental in solving numerous big and little problems that arise in the course of community development. It may contribute to a bigger and busier town.

To Jail for Abuse. We are pleased to note that a 29-year-old mother in New York City was sent to the penitentiary for abusing her little 8-year-old son. No mother who relishes hurting her helpless offspring, loves children. She must hate herself. If that is not hell enough, additional expurgating punishment may well be provided.

No creature is more precious than a child. None is a greater source of inspiration or hope. The little one needs and deserves an ocean of love, guidance and patience. To see one the victim of parental neglect or devilishness is revolting.

Largely Up to Parents. Omaha reports that juvenile delinquency has become a serious problem in that city and charges responsibility largely to neglectful parents. Belief is also expressed that more public places for wholesome recreation would be a counteracting influence.

We do not know how much youthful waywardness exists in a comparatively small community like Wayne, but probably not so much as in metropolitan centers where temptations are more numerous.

Five Instead of Six. From game headquarters in Lincoln comes word that the Herald erred recently in saying the number of male pheasants that may be killed per day is six instead of five, as the law prescribes. But judging from reports, it is doubtful if the maximum of five has yet been scored. If the limit had been placed at one, we assume there would have been few violations. It appears that heavy vegetation enables birds to maneuver away from danger.

Scouts Take Part In Norfolk Circus

Nine scouts and three leaders represented troop No. 174 at the boy scout circus in Norfolk Wednesday evening, October 17. Norfolk Young Men's club, in charge of the affair, served supper free to 400 scouts, cubs and leaders from 28 troops and packs. Claude Harder took second in making fire by friction. He placed first on his non-flying model airplane and Dick Campbell second on his flying plane. Attending from the Wayne troop were Scouts David Hamer, Claude Harder, Bill Cross, Kent Hall, Joel Gillespie, Jack Burt, James Sylvanus, Dick Campbell and Eugene Perry and Leaders C. V. Walt, A. F. World War Two closing date as figured by the Legion is September 2. The district also favored each county's having a full time service officer. Resolutions adopted thanked J. B. Rossiter for his services as district commander and also thanked Wayne for hospitality during the convention.

In addressing the Legion Wednesday afternoon, Commander A. C. Smith, Scottsbluff, challenged all to extended service on behalf of World War Two veterans. Registered Legion delegates totaled 154 in the afternoon and visitors increased this number greatly. It is estimated that 10 per cent of the men attending the Legion meeting were veterans of World War I.

SPOOKY HALLOWEEN APPEARS NEXT IN ORDER OF EVENTS

HALLOWEEN is next in the procession of events, and school children have been making owls and black cats in recognition of the occasion. Elders are no doubt planning parties in which mischievous pranks will take turns scaring the impressionable. The more spooky Halloween can be made, the better it suits the modern idea. What does not harmonize is the devilish destruction of property. Anyone caught doing that ought to be clucked behind steel bars to await legal action. Wayne has ample jail quarters, and officers should and no doubt will be on the alert. Halloween which comes on October 31, is the vigil of the feast of All Saints. In Great Britain and the United States the night is devoted to merry-making and the divination of the future.

Press releases describe Mr. Wayne's dance as a fine theatre type and "more fun than a box of monkeys."

Mr. Wayne's lovely assisting artists are Diane Keith, a Cape Cod native, and Elaine Sarnoff, a New Yorker. Miss Keith is a classic, lyric type of character, and Miss Sarnoff is the dramatic, humorous type. Christmas Music Feature Planned

Kiwanians Will Entertain Ladies at Dinner and Program Soon.

Kiwanians Monday voted to invite Prof. Russel Anderson and Prof. S. Eugene Bailey to direct a Christmas musical program for the public in the city auditorium the evening of December 16. The men also decided to have ladies' night dinner and program in late November or early December.

"Postwar Jobs," a March of Time film presenting employment problems, was shown by Dr. Geo. Seck for Kiwanians Monday.

With the government program of providing jobs being liquidated because of cancellation of war contracts and with some 70,000 veterans being discharged each month, the film noted the need for jobs. Some will return to former work but others will seek new employment. About three million of the 50 million civilians employed will want work, and about nine of the 11 million service men will want employment.

The United States has an immense industrial establishment but the readjustment is likely to result in some delay and a possible temporary depression. This will be due partly to getting raw materials and obtaining release from government control. The economic welfare of the country depends on the health of big and little businesses.

The film showed that industry must return promptly to production of civilian goods. A great demand is noted for articles restricted by war, and more industry will be developed if helicopters, television and other new items are produced at cost within the range of the public.

The only way to provide jobs is to produce goods and services that increase the need for workers. F. L. Blair was leader and Prof. Russel Anderson accompanist for singing.

Besides 37 members, guests were Lt. (jg) LeRoy Anderson, home from service in the Pacific, Sgt. Joe G. Lutgen who is home on leave from Hammond hospital in Modesto, Cal., after a trip to Atlanta, Ga., Sgt. Arvid Hamer who is back from India, and Dr. Geo. Seck who showed the film.

Because of the dry fall, the committee thought best to plant remainder of the trees and to seed the grounds in the spring.

Plans for Park Are Considered

Recreation for Everyone Is Aim of Development Now in Progress.

Blueprints of Wayne's Memorial park north of town were examined by the park committee Tuesday evening. These had been sent by Coach J. H. Morrison to park planning specialists who made some revisions so that the recreation center may provide every sort of entertainment for all people of the community.

Swimming and wading pools, ice skating pond, roller skating rink, tennis courts, club house, shuffle board courts, picnic grounds, golf course, children's play equipment and all other kinds of recreational facilities are planned. The aim is to provide at Memorial park all kinds of fun and exercise so as to encourage young folks to take advantage of this social center at home.

No estimate has been made of the cost but it is likely that a bond issue will be called in the spring to provide for the park expenses. The support of all organizations will be sought in the park improvement.

Report showed that only a couple of the 300 trees planted at Memorial park this spring will have to be replaced. To date 436 trees have been ordered, and it is hoped that all 1,200 of Wayne county's service men and women will be honored with tree plantings before the park is completed. SEPTEMBER FROST HURTS SOME AREAS BENEFITS OTHERS

ACCORDING to reports, the September frost hurt replanted corn and helped stands that matured sufficiently. Fields in which plantings were delayed by floods or had to be replanted for the same reason, are said to be too soft to crib and will have to be fed. R. S. McGuire, southeast part of the county, says corn in his area suffered a good deal from immaturity ahead of frost. Alfalfa was not hurt. Farther south the freeze was apt so severe and no damage was done to corn. County Agent W. R. Harder says spots in the neighborhood of Winside where floods struck, have some soft corn. Tom Roberts of the triple A office, says he expects a few acres on his farm near Carroll with a yield of 65 bushels to the acre. He reports the quality uniformly good. He adds that fields around Carroll will turn out from 30 to 80 bushels per acre, and were generally benefited by the cold snap. That part of the county was not handicapped by excess moisture.

County Lagging On Fund Drive

School Districts Report and Solicitors Work in Wayne Soon.

Wayne county is far short of its quota of $4,970 in the united war fund drive which is now in progress, according to report of L. W. Ellis, treasurer. Twenty-three rural school districts have turned in $641.85. Solicitation has not yet been done in Wayne but it is arranged for the near future.

The rural school districts have the following amounts: District No. 6, $17; No. 7, $49; No. 8, $37.50; No. 13, $28; No. 22, $14; No. 23, $11; No. 29, $24.50; No. 32, $27; No. 34, $23.50; No. 39, $43; No. 46, $26.85; No. 40, $5; No. 43, $10; No. 48, $25; No. 49, $15.50; No. 55, $20; No. 57, $35; No. 59, $13; No. 61, $12; No. 62, $10; No. 65, $15; No. 68, $5; No. 69, $15; No. 73, $23.

Though Nebraska has reached the half way mark in the war fund drive, Wayne county has much to do to meet its assigned total. State Chairman Thomas Woods states that Nebraska is asked to supply $908,500 for the war work. Some counties and cities have already surpassed their goals. Buffalo and Hamilton were the first counties and Lincoln the first city to "go over the top."

Nebraska has always led the nation in war activities and Gov. Dwight Griswold appeals for united support to meet the united war fund call.

Training Courses Explained Here

Parent-Teacher Group Has Program at Training School Monday.

Prof. Paul Hewitt spoke on vocational agriculture. Miss Ida Warner on home making and Mrs. W. G. Ingram on the brownie scouts program for Wayne training school Parent-Teacher association Monday evening.

Opening of the program was in charge of brownie scouts of Troop Three, sponsored by the organization. The girls, with Miss Ruth Williams in charge, led in the flag salute and presented a play, Hansel and Gretel.

On Home Making.
Miss Warner explained work done in the home making class, consisting of home making units and units of related art and science. Miss Warner stated that thus far students in the class have been learning to sew, beginning on a simple project, to develop a liking for sewing. At this time pupils have studied textiles, cottons and characteristics of such goods.

The next project considered by the class, said Miss Warner, included a detailed study of making pleasing flower arrangements. The new unit will be on personal grooming which includes selection and use of cosmetics and hair arrangement.

The project on food will be taken up following the other work, stated Miss Warner. This unit includes planning meals according to the seven basic food groups. Next spring, the class will plan a family sized garden. The girls will make dresses before the unit is completed. "Following this," stated Miss Warner, "a short unit giving help on understanding small children will complete the first year's work."

Work in Agriculture.
Prof. Hewitt explained the three important dates, 1862, 1876 and 1917, which mark the beginnings of vocational education in the United States.

Prof. Hewitt explained that by vocational education we mean "an education designed to make an individual, by precept and practice, a more effective worker than he can become by any other scheme of training. Vocation education covers all activities by which men and women earn their daily bread."

"From no enrollment in 1917," stated Prof. Hewitt, "the attendance has grown until shortly before the second World war, the figure had reached close to the two million mark. Of these nearly half a million were in agricultural classes."

Prof. Hewitt also explained that by "supervised farming programs" is meant planning farm operations over a period of years to provide proper kind and amounts of feed, shelter and labor for a period of years.

Explains Scout Work.
Mrs. W. G. Ingram explained the work of the brownie scouts program including requirements, aims and objectives. The aim of girl scouting, stated Mrs. Ingram, is "the development of girls along physical, mental, emotional, moral and spiritual lines to the end that there may result not only personally enriched individuals but also good citizens."

Reports of the district meeting were given by Mrs. C. V. Wait and Mrs. A. D. Lewis.

Mothers of 4th and 5th graders, who served, are Mrs. Fred Denking, Mrs. Gordon Ebersole, Mrs. W. C. Ingram and Mrs. O. F. Victor.

From THE exodus from Pacific coast centers is on in full force, according to reports, and travelers are congesting highways and overtaxing transportation facilities in eagerness to reach destinations in the middle west, east and south. War plants shut down and workers out of jobs, the movement to other fields has started and is growing. Taking note of the human flood Pathfinder magazine says: "Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, reported the jams. Nevada found unprecedented, feared they would get worse when tire rationing ends. With hotels, auto courts, private rooms packed, wanderers slept in cars, lobbies, restaurants, clubs or roamed the streets at night. Fears arose for the safety of hundreds caught out after dark in the approaching bitter weather."

"Making things worse, hundreds of old cars, bought cheap for the trek home or held out during the war, were breaking down, thousands of ancient tires were wearing out. None knew when the swirl of humanity would end."

To Hold THE interdependence of three main producing groups is noted by the Omaha Daily Journal-Stockman. If one balks and makes unreasonable demands, the economic order is thrown out of balance. That newspaper comments:

"Labor, manufacturers and farmers form a circle from which not one of these groups can escape. The circle becomes vicious only when a bulge appears, that is, when one or more groups set out of line by getting more than their share of the nation's income. This time it is labor that is causing the bulge. Prices for manufacturers and farmers have been held in line. Wages have not. The resultant hump in the wheel is making the entire nation and could easily cause a break-down before peace is really won. Either the bulge must come out, or an entire new wheel must be built around a wider rim to make the circle uniform all the way around."

Envy TAKE some individuals, nations are often ungrateful and envious. Graus A speaker recently said European nations do not like the United States. The assigned reason is that this country has become comparatively rich and powerful, and in the face of generous deeds, beneficiaries are disposed to kick. Nations that need and receive help, recoil from the idea of being less fortunate. Like individuals, they eagerly accept favor and bite hatefully while it is being extended. They would injure and even destroy the hand that is able and willing to give aid.

It is evident that the war could not have been won without the United States. But victory rewards are sufficient without gratitude from nations saved from enslavement.

Points of Strength

COLUMNIST Louis Bromfield stresses "thrift and discipline, morality, love of independence and liberty, courage, neighborliness and desire to work" as fundamental in perpetuating American strength. Two paragraphs:

"I think that the president must ask himself, as many a congressman and many a solid citizen has begun to do, 'What would happen if all of us went to work, not to destroy this nation, but to build it up.' 'Never was there such an opportunity and never has a people, even in Germany, been more demoralized. And demoralization in a rich democracy, in the midst of plenty, is a shocking spectacle.'"

One should be convinced that his town is the best in the world, and he should have plenty of good things to say about it. Every community has many advantages, and some faults, and the former should be seen and appreciated and the latter overlooked if not corrected. In this connection, oldtimers should get acquainted with newcomers and lead them to understand. A stranger who does not always see clearly on the start, may be cured of disappointment by the stimulus of association.

H. V. Kaltenborn, columnist, who took part in Town Meeting of the Air discussion Thursday night, criticized Russia's news blackout as a barrier to understanding. He figured that if the soviet union would grant freedom of the press much suspicion would end and better relationship would follow. If Russia means as well as it claims, facts would not hurt.

A recent survey showed that in rural communities there are far more jobs than persons to fill them. It will apparently be a long time before an able-bodied individual will need to remain idle in a country town on account of no jobs. On every hand the demand is pressing, and the supply of workers is inadequate.

Some contend that demand would regulate wages and prices without government restraints. It is thought removal of subsidies would not prevent adequate rewards in the regular way. Less control and less interference would unleash private initiative and spur production.

Not content with hard problems of reconstruction already in hand, Georgia has revived its Ku Klux Klan, burning a huge cross and trying to stir up interest. But there is enough to occupy attention without unnecessarily inflaming racial and religious differences.

How easy it is to misunderstand words or motives! Good intentions are often twisted to satisfy a thirst for picking flaws and finding fault. Yes, some people are touchy and queer. And that is what they think of us.

Conditions are gradually swinging back to the pre-war point where customers will no longer have to insist on what they want. They will find ready help in figuring ways to supply their needs.

The past week-end showed an encouraging recession in striking labor ranks, but with threats of tieups in new spots.

Orange Blossom

HE'S LONGING FOR THE THINGS HE LEFT BEHIND!

The thoughts of home have always served as a spur to action when Joe found the going tough. Often his memory has turned to the past to recall a pleasant evening at the movies, a coke at the corner store, the sweet music of a purring motor, a kiss in the dark. A charming girl whose genuine Orange Blossom diamond engagement ring serves as a radiant reminder of their sacred trust. It is this ring upon her finger that keeps her absent one close to home—the precious link of love-across-the-miles.

Corn Is Benefited By Killing Frost

Finish Gravel Surfacing of Wakefield-Wayne Road In Early Days.

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for October 24, 1929.

The first killing frost swept over this territory October 21, 1929, and it was welcomed by corn huskers. It has made their work easier and has speeded up results. The crop is running from 40 to 80 bushels an acre in this area whereas the general average is 26 bushels.

Gravel surfacing is being completed on the Wayne-Wakefield highway.

The new power house at the college has been completed. Mrs. Dave Sylvanus, 41, of Carroll, died at West Point October 21, 1929, when returning from Texas where she had gone for her health.

Mrs. Mary Jones, 83, formerly of Wayne, died in Pasadena October 22, 1929. H. B. Jones of Wayne, is a son.

Richard Coyle of Omaha, formerly of Wayne, and Miss Gertrude Calton of Decatur, were married October 22, 1929.

W. E. Beaman was a medical patient in a local hospital.

Mrs. Henry R. Johnson underwent a major operation.

Will Fisher of Los Angeles, formerly of Wayne, is under care of a heart specialist.

Wm. Beckenhauer installed an organ in his funeral parlor here. Erwin Erxleben went to Omaha and back by plane, making the trip in 48 minutes.

A new school was dedicated in district 55 north of Hoskins. Theo. Kling, Chris Maas and Geo. Swearingen comprise the board. Miss Carrie Stamm is teacher.

A new Lutheran parsonage was dedicated at Hoskins. Rev. Carl Hoppes is pastor.

Mrs. Matt Jones of Carroll, broke a shoulder blade in a fall. E. S. Rhenick of near Pilger, sold Hampshire boars at a top of $150 and average of $68.

A cow belonging to Martin Pfeiffer of Winside, had three sets of twins.

Early Wayne Events. From Wayne Herald for October 26, 1899: M. N. Conover went to Chicago for major surgery. Robert Hefti built a new board sidewalk in front of his store. Mr. Morrison of Lincoln, is building three residences in Wayne county. Wm. Dammeyer moved to Wayne from Arlington and will engage in the manufacture of cigars. Funeral rites were held for the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pfeil who died October 19, 1899. Lottie Bruce and Miss Bertha Bernhardt of Hoskins, were married October 25, 1899. In Dixon County Files. From Northern Nebraska Journal, Ponca, for October 17, 1884: The government has placed an embargo on importation of foreign rags and this is likely to cause an advance in the price of paper for which the rags are used. Vast fires are burning in Ohio's best coal mines. A terrible typhoon resulted in great loss in Japan. A friendly exchange of views brought an agreement that the southern part of New Guinea and adjacent islands shall be placed under British protection. Prairie fires are numerous. The town seems dull without district court session and no theatre performances.

It is rumored that Father Martin will move his newspaper, The Argus, from Dakota City to Emerson. Hon. J. Sterling Morton will visit Ponca to address residents. An enormous white pelican was found in this vicinity. Mud holes and gulleys in Ponca streets are being filled up. Kobs and ridges planned down. Books are being secured for Ponca's new public reading room. Geo. W. Kortright, the Wayne photographer, will operate in Ponca for two weeks.

E. W. Stevens, besides being a first rate deputy county clerk, is also a speculator. He bought a horse and paid therefor the sum of $3.25. The price would perhaps indicate that it was a saw horse, but it was not so. It was a living, head, hide and tail and also, as breathing horse with four legs, could readily be seen without a spy glass, several well developed ribs. Hence he bought the horse cheap enough. The next day he traded the horse off for a sow and four pigs and $2 in money. The sow and pigs are supposed to be worth $20.

Lawrence Dendinger of Randolph, previously reported missing, lost his life March 19, 1945, when 341 navy men were killed in Pacific waters. The Franklin in Safford's ship. The young man, 25, leaves his wife and 9-month-old son. Mrs. Lucy Dendinger of Coleridge, is his mother.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 8th day of October, 1945. HANS TIETGEN, Sheriff.

Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson and Lt. (jg) and Mrs. Leroy Anderson and son arrived in Wayne Saturday from Long Beach, Cal., where they had attended a family reunion in honor of the officer who recently returned from the southwest Pacific where he had served 13 months, most of which time was spent on a P-T boat. The reunion was held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Anderson's daughter, Mrs. Winfield Edson. Dr. Edson is pastor of the First Baptist church in Long Beach. Another daughter, Mrs. Edwin Swanson and son of Tempe, Ariz., were also there.

Lt. (jg) Anderson saw action in both the Philippine and Asiatic campaigns and served as a skipper on a P-T boat. Lt. Anderson landed at Seattle and went by plane to California to be with his family. The officer reports next week in Chicago to receive his next assignment.

Machinist Serves On Troop Transport

Manuel E. Mitchell, chief motor machinist mate, arrived Thursday after serving in the navy three years, two and half years of the time in the Pacific. He is with his wife, who came from Rapid City recently, and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Mitchell, here. The young man received his honorable discharge last week Wednesday.

Mitchell helped maintain the V-P boats which were used to land troops from big transports. He had made several crossings of the Pacific to get soldiers.

The navy man took part in seven invasions, Tarawa in the Gilberts, Kwajalein, Guam, Saipan, Leyte, Luzon and Okinawa. In the Saipan and Tarawa landings the enemy opposition was heaviest for this group.

Manuel, cousin of Mrs. C. F. Maynard who was a prisoner in Santo Tomas in Manila, passed close to the prison camp when his transport went north along the Philippines to make a landing in Lingayen gulf. He did not know at that time where Mrs. Maynard was being held, but the two were privileged to visit here last May.

Mr. and Mrs. Maraud Mitchell do not have their future plans made as yet.

Radar Interesting To Bob Wright

Bob Wright, radar operator, who was here last week visiting friends arrived in New York three weeks ago by way of the Panama canal after spending 13 months aboard a destroyer in the Pacific. He reports November 15 at Kansas City for reassignment.

Bob likes his radar work. The complicated mechanism which operates with a compass and recorder, plots all ships in an area. By means of communication similar to radio, operators are able to determine the location of friendly and enemy craft, their speed, direction of travel and other valuable data.

The destroyer on which Bob served was one of the older ones and does not have the speed of newer models. The destroyer helps protect convoys. During his tour of duty, Bob was near Iwo Jima, Okinawa and Leyte. Not often were the men ashore and they are not favorably impressed with the Pacific region.

The former Wayne youth saw Fred Potras at Eulithie refueling base and saw Les. Walden, former Wayne college man, on a destroyer tender, Darrell Bright, another Wayne Stater, was on the destroyer with Bob.

Jack Wright, brother of Bob, is with the air forces in Tokyo. Bob and his mother, Mrs. Clarence Wright of Lamar, Colo., came last Wednesday and left Monday. They planned to stop in Lincoln and Wichita enroute to Lamar.

Bob expresses appreciation for the Herald's he received when away.

Benefit Farmers In New Legislation

A steady market for the farm surpluses of Nebraska has been assured by the passage of two resolutions introduced by Nebraska's senior senator, Hugh Butler, which were passed during the past week's legislative sessions in Washington. They open up a new market for the Cornhusker state's potato growers.

The first of the two senate resolutions affecting and assisting the Nebraska farmer was designed to continue operation of all federally owned plants and facilities such as the farm crops processing plant at Omaha to prevent their shut-down and disposal by some government agency. The resolution will thus assure continued use of farm surplus.

The other resolution amended a law passed in 1886 which prohibited distilleries from manufacturing anything other than alcohol. With the current surplus of 50 to 60 million bushels of potatoes over the nation, it is the senator's hope that, instead of piling up the spuds and letting them rot, the distilleries can operate on a double-feature production scale. The stills can now serve as part-time syrup factories, alleviating the current sweetening shortage.

"Both resolutions are designed to help the Nebraska farmer," Senator Butler explains. "The resolutions will prevent having to pay farmers for not producing, which was the basis of the old farm program, and at the same time they provide for use of crop surpluses by the manufacture of syrups, industrial alcohol, rubber and hundreds of other synthetic products."

Congress

AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C. October 18, 1945. A bill to authorize the naturalization of about 4,000 East Indians, now resident in the United States, was passed in the house. This gives the East Indians an immigration quota of about 100 per year.

Congress will soon be asked to appropriate an additional one billion, 900 million dollars for the operation of UNRRA. Of this amount, 550 million dollars is to complete the United States contribution for 1945, and one billion, 350 million is for 1946 operation. Forty-six governments are participating in the United Nations relief program over the world.

There is considerable opposition to the manner in which UNRRA supplies are distributed. There is some opposition to its administration, but there is no opposition to assistance in feeding, clothing, and giving medical aid to the needy wherever that is possible.

General Louis Pick, author of the Pick Plan on the Missouri river, and who recently completed the Ledo Road in Burma, is now assistant chief of the United States army engineers with headquarters in Washington. He will be in charge of rivers and harbors, and flood control work.

Wineford Nelson who used to live at Niobrara, Neb., and who once was a reporter on the Lincoln Star, now covers "Capitol Hill" in Washington for the Washington Post.

Commissioner Tom MacDonald, public roads administration, met with the Nebraska delegation at a regular Tuesday conference. He told the Nebraskans that lack of road engineers in various states may hold up the progress of postwar highway construction. He indicated quite a few changes on highway No. 30.

Mrs. Arno A. Bald of Platte Center, Neb., state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has been in Washington several days attending a board meeting of that organization.

There are 3 million 650 thousand civilian federal employees. While many of them will soon be ings that are scarce. Conversion into glucose syrup is preferable to conversion into starch because glucose syrup is worth from 9 to 10 cents a pound and the price of starch is about 5 cents a pound.

Certain New York banking interests that are tied up with the Cuban sugar enterprise are not interested in keeping government-owned alcohol plants open. Neither are the Dutch and British rubber monopolies. Dr. Wm. Hale of the Dow Chemical company, tells the Third district member that farm crops will defeat the efforts of offshore sugar kings to arrest the progress of farm chemistry in the United States.

Education's Value In Peace Stressed

Merle Haynes Speaks Here To University Group on State's Proposals.

If the right kind of education had been universal, the war and its many atrocities would likely have been avoided, stated Merle Haynes, Dakota county superintendent, in addressing a Wayne branch of A. A. U. W. Thursday evening in the Women's club room. Education is on the march to denazify Europe and to change thinking in Japan.

The importance of education in world peace was recognized when the San Francisco conference admitted educational leaders. A representative is now in London to deal with education's task ahead.

Since advent of the atomic bomb, stated Mr. Haynes, the question of civilization's survival has taken precedence over compulsory military training. Educators felt that if youths were to be trained, factory workers should be obliged to keep trained to produce modern implements of warfare on immediate notice.

Mr. Haynes is interested in promoting improved educational facilities in Nebraska for the sake of keeping peace and also to raise this state's standards. The teacher retirement law which pays up to $30 a month after 65 for previous teaching experience is a valuable step forward, he noted.

A proposal for the state to pay each school district $40 a year for each pupil enrolled is being promoted as a possibility. It is suggested that the issue be placed on the state ballot by the initiative. The cost would be eight or nine million dollars a year, Mr. Haynes explained that property and income taxes could not be increased to care for this, and a sales tax is proposed as easiest and most fair.

The speaker noted that Iowa has higher school taxes than Nebraska. At Moline, for instance, the levy is 46 mills whereas the maximum in Nebraska is 22.

Since all wealth is produced in the country and is consumed in the city, educators feel that returning a share of this wealth to rural areas in the way of help to schools is only fair, stated the speaker. They do not think that it would mean control of schools because funds would be distributed through the state treasurer and county treasurers just as the income from state school lands.

More money for schools would give young folks better education and raise the standard of teachers. "Education fits people to higher levels. It pays even if one returns to the same job for he is fitted to do this job better," stated the speaker.

Miss Ida Fisher of Delta, Ia., was a guest.

Miss Mildred Piper, Mrs. Victor West and Miss Helen Gildersleeve served.

Postwar Agriculture

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by. The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job.

But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost.

The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes. Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements.

That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and tested under actual operating conditions showing the specifications needed for efficiency and economy.

Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

Fire Prevention Week Is Observed by Mayor at His Own Shop.

The aviation age is here for Geo. Turner, 19, sophomore at Cameron agricultural college. He makes the 15-mile trip home from school each day in his own airplane. It takes 20 minutes.

Tires are among the items on the scarcity list, so when Ray Clapper lost one off a truck load the other day he marked it up as tough luck. But a few days later he received a letter from Mrs. Cora Stellar of Aurora, Ill., saying she found a tire with his name on it, and, "How should she ship it, please?"

Artificial props were not needed when the Ottawa, Kan., fire department staged a demonstration for fire prevention week. Mayor Gibson announced that the department would put on the show for the populace. It did—putting out a fire at the mayor's tire shop.

In Wichita, Kan., a restaurant owner served steaks to a party of 43 ration board clerks. Next day he was called to account for his prices.

In Denver, James Spitzer, 76, was thrown through the roof of an automobile, landed—with a broken leg—in the path of a freight train, which passed over him, left him scratches.

One hep tune proved too much for 18-year-old jester Ray Harrigan of Portland, Ore. He swallowed a toothpick while in the groove. He was rushed from a midtown ballroom to a nearby hospital with an acute intestinal perforation.

Mrs. Louis M. Diemel, book shop proprietor, Oakland, Cal., hopes the sneak thief who stole nine books from the shelves will act according to the Golden Rule. The books were Bibles.

Because her three boys were the first triplets born at St. John's hospital in 21 years, the Sisters of St. Francis have notified Mrs. Wayne Edwards of Springfield, Ill., that her hospital bill will be "on the house."

Bert Huddleston's automobile was wrecked at Tulsa, Okla. When he drove it out of the repair shop he attached this sign to the windshield: "Notice to thieves—the two boys who stole this car the last time now are serving five years in the penitentiary."

At Holdenville, Okla., Farmer Leewright says that when he killed a four-foot snake in his poultry yard he slit it open to investigate two bulges and found two live one-pound turkeys from his flock.

At Derby, Conn., a woman motorist halted by a policeman when she ignored a boulevard stop sign after a widely publicized announcement of a drive against such violators, exclaimed angrily: "There wasn't anything in the paper that said you were going to be on duty here."

Bowser, a cinnamon-colored dog of mixed ancestry, is a full-fledged, paid up member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at Peoria, Ill. Every afternoon when the switch engine starts on its daily chores, Bowser comes running from his home across the street and leaps aboard. He sits on the perch of the fireman all during the 4 1/2 hour run. The day and night crew workers pay Bowser's monthly dues in the brotherhood—$3.50.

Mrs. Wike of Springfield, Ill., arrived a little late at the rummage sale, tossed off her coat and pitched in to help the women. After the last garment was sold, Mrs. Wike couldn't find her coat. One of the sales clerks remembered selling one Mrs. Wike described as hers for $2.50. Mrs. Wike is looking for the purchaser. Her garment, she said, was comparatively new.
