SURVIVAL OF MAN—
development of aircraft and rockets and electronics has become equally incredible.
Dr. Hanawalt quoted Gen. Marshall who told that at the start of the war bombers were capable of 200 miles an hour with combat radius of 900 miles, effective operational ceilings of 24,000 feet and bomb load of 6,000 tons. Today bombers travel 350 miles an hour, operate effectively with radar at 35,000 feet and carry 20,000 pounds. Soon jet propelled bombers will fly 600 miles per hour to targets 1,500 miles distant and operate at 40,000 feet. Bomb loads of 100,000 pounds are a certainty. These aircraft will be able to attack any spot on earth and return to friendly bases.
Jet fighters may soon attain the speed of sound and operate over targets 2,000 miles away at 50,000 feet.
An outset of the war demolition bombs ranged from 20 to 2,000 pounds. Now blueprints have been made for a bomb weighing 100,000 pounds.
Americans do not understand the full implication of the formless rubble of Berlin and cities of Japan. Cities of America are subject to annihilation from other continents in a matter of hours.
What can be done? Dr. Hanawalt referred to the United Nations charter as similar to the articles of confederation, capable of serving perhaps a generation but not for long. It is only the beginning of a peace organization. A federal constitution of the world is urgent. "We must set up peace by law with force to back it up—a strong international setup and legal structure. We need integration of conflicting nationalisms."
Dr. Hanawalt quoted Raymond Fosdick as asserting that "We are one world or none. The atom bomb is here to stay. Are we?"
The speaker was introduced by Rev. O. F. Proehl.
Prof. Russel Anderson and Jean Boyd led in the singing of "Marching Along," "Jingle Bells" and "O Come All Ye Faithful."
Prof. Anderson announced the college musicale sponsored at the auditorium Sunday evening by Kivans.
The club voted $25 toward expenses of bringing the Boys' Town choir here Wednesday this week. Directors approved this action.
A total compiled showed that Kivans had invested $66,950 in Victory bonds up to December 8.
Besides 43 members, guests were Dr. Hanawalt, Ray N. Berry of Sioux City, with F. S. Berry, and Roy Crisman with Ernest Peterson.

Program Is Given At College Tuesday

Favorite poems were read by Mrs. Maude Joseph Smith, college dean, for conversation at the school Tuesday morning. Mrs. Smith first read several Mother Goose rhymes, giving a history of these. She told that Humpty Dumpty represented a political character in the reign of Richard III of England; that Jack Horner was a henman of Henry VIII; that Little Boy Blue was Cardinal Wolsey; that Jack and Jill were characters that explained the high tides of Ireland.
Mrs. Smith read the 1st and 121st Psalms, Sir Patrick Spens' ballad based on the Christmas story and "All the World's a Stage" from "As You Like It."
Dr. Geo. Seck showed the motion picture, "The Wilson Dam School," this dealing with the school operated at Muscle Shoals, Ala., from 1933-11.
Prof. Russel Anderson led the singing of Christmas carols with Eleanor Soderberg accompanist.
Constance Johnson and Marilyn Haight played a piano duo, "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Than Century
led by Man Here

Mr. Dodd, who has been living in the home for the connection with the Wayne family, will be 105 years old today. Mr. Dodd says he was born in Springfield, Ill., but his father, a farmer, moved to Wayne in 1877, a close friend of Mr. Dodd, believes that Dodd was born in Gainesville, where his father died when he was an infant. His mother later married a Mr. Fletcher. He has no living relatives.

Dodd came to Nebraska in 1880 and lived several years in Verboona county. His first home in Nebraska was a cabin on the bank of the Niobrara river where he lived by hunting and trapping.

Mr. Dodd was a year old when the steamship line was established. Pres. W. H. Harrison was the head of the nation and the telegraph had not yet been invented. During his 4th year, he was admitted to the union. Mexican war began when he was 10 and gold was discovered in California during his 7th year.

Tom's Cabin was written when Mr. Dodd was 11 and Commodore Perry opened the ports of the world when he was 12. John Brown was executed when Mr. Dodd was 13. The Civil War began when Mr. Dodd's 20th year and he was 100 when World War II began. Because he was too small in 1917, Mr. Dodd was not admitted to military service during the war. In his earlier days, Mr. Dodd was a jockey.

Mr. Dodd has lived to see the completion of the United States debt of 17,000,000 to nearly $100,000,000.

Mr. Dodd's hearing and eyesight are fair. He takes care of most of his personal wants. He has never smoked.

Looking to Russia

MOST Americans have no wish to invite trouble with Russia. They can cooperate with it in furtherance of amicable international relations if it will not interfere with the independence of small nations or try to impose its strange ideology on this country.

The soviet union's leaders talk of promoting peace and of eagerness for human liberties, but they permit no freedom of speech or press within Russian bounds and control and direct the lives of all inhabitants. Americans agree that Russia should have the form of government it wants, but that it should not preach one thing and practice another, and that it should not try to dominate China or Iran or sift its political termites into the blood stream of the United States which, in contrast, is committed to free enterprise and the lawful exercise of individual rights.

We do not want to run Russia, but we do not want Russia to run us. We do not want agents of a country where totalitarianism has an iron hold, to try to convert the world, including the United States, to its way of thinking and doing. Americans can be fair and generous, but they do not relish attempts to nationalize its industries and other sources of service and destroy the spirit that has made it strong enough to save civilization from vassalage and tyranny.

We do not like to pour bounties into other nations and then be told we are on the wrong track and need to be torn down and made over. We want to help, but we do not want to surrender all essential fundamentals while we are helping.

New Kind of Isolationism

THE Saturday Evening Post charges that left-wingers have turned isolationist of a strangely new variety. It says they want all soldiers returned from overseas so that the Russians can run things to suit themselves. How true the Post sizes up conditions may be determined according to bias. It concludes:

"If our fellow travelers were urging that the integrity of China be protected by international authority or that America offer its good offices, along with Russia and Great Britain, to settle the difficulty, they would have a case. But our new isolationists do not suggest a United Nations approach. All they want is for Uncle Sam to move out of any place where Stalin looks like moving in. This will hardly do for an American foreign policy in the Age of the Atom."

Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, and John W. Bricker, former governor of Ohio, and republican vice presidential candidate last year, were frequently mentioned for first place on the republican ticket in 1948 at a recent meeting of party leaders in Chicago. Senator Vandenberg of Michigan and Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois are also reported in a willing frame of mind. Republican chieftains propose platform pledges that are practically constructive and not merely fashioned to gain popular favor. There is a cry for more common sense in both national and international policies, and it is hoped the republican party will be disposed and able to meet the need.

Speaking at a conference in Denver, Dr. Samuel K. Allison, atomic research scientist, soothed nerves by assurance that no one intended to destroy the world with the new invention, but that if so, it couldn't be done. All scientists admit they have found something hard to manage. The atomic bomb may be turned to useful purposes, but in it lurk dangers that must be carefully guarded. The new instrument of death will be a powerful argument in support of peaceful settlements. An exchange of atomic bombs in conflict would not last long and would leave little as basis for a new beginning.

Who would care to assume the responsibility of handling the big industry employing thousands of men even at extremely high wages reported? And who can reasonably say an industry as eager for profits as often charged, would pay more than could be earned? If unionneers would use their skill to produce more and better, would they not fare as well accordingly as high-priced managers? It is likely leaders have proved their worth and that employees in lower ranks could do the same thing.

Secretary of State Byrnes defends two high government officials whose public service has been attacked by Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, returned ambassador to China. The latter charged two officials tried to prevent his efforts to unify China. It is strange, indeed, that Hurley would make complaints involving important government policies without due ground. It is highly improbable he would be moved by personal prejudice.

Business was withdrawn from the railroads until they were compelled to reduce service. Truckers gained accordingly, and now they are out on a strike, the public suffering the consequences. Railroads are not at this time equipped to meet suddenly increased demands. Shippers may reasonably feel like kicking themselves.

Wages marked up and essentials and luxuries marked down with a shortened work week and decreased production may be a possible policy in giant industrial plants, but would put small businesses on the toboggan.

The Chart Tells 'Em

(Norfolk Daily News)

Government by chart reached a new something or other at Washington a few days ago, but whether you think it was zenith or nadir may depend on your point of view. The press dispatch telling about it said that Senator Wherry yelled, and no doubt he did. Other business men will probably echo his hoos.

The charts involved were being presented by Chester Bowles of OPA. Mr. Bowles, by means of his diagrams, was trying to tell a senate committee how high profits of business had been during the war. One of the charts had it that small furniture dealers had had an increase of 185 percent in their profits since prewar days. This was one place where Wherry yelled. He is in the furniture business himself.

But furniture dealers were apparently among the submerged classes. Mr. Bowles' charts insisted hardware profits had gone up 460 percent and department store profits 1,324 percent. This made even Senator Ellender of Louisiana yell a little.

Small dealers — furniture, hardware and department store — will be wondering what sort of guff is being fed to congressmen by the government-charts experts. They will probably want an answer to Senator Wherry's question: "How can you make profits when you haven't the merchandise to sell?"

The chances are that if they should repeat the senator's question, they would be told that they are not competent judges, since they are mere furniture, hardware and department store men and not chart experts.

PEARL HARBOR.

It was four years ago that Japan made its sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. Grouped war ships were destroyed, and many Americans were killed. The news was shocked. People knew war was imminent. Officers in command at Pearl Harbor were apparently not on the alert, and an investigation is now being made to fix responsibility. Japan, which had long overrated its strength, was itching for a fight. It not only planned to dominate the Pacific, but, according to one swaggering general, it expected to accept surrender in the White House. The same stupidity led Nipponese war lords to underrate the United States, as did Hitler and his ruthless Nazi satellites. The Pearl Harbor disaster speeded armament for a conflict which had long been feared. The United States became suddenly involved in a struggle against the axis group. At great loss in men and huge cost in treasure, the American democracy showed what it could do under threats to its existence. Now war criminals are answering for innumerable atrocities, and steps are slowly going forward to repair damage and restore peace-time order. The infamy of Pearl Harbor will ever remain.

wood and Donald were entertained there at an oyster supper Friday evening. The last named was also with the Olsons Sunday afternoon and for supper.

Angela Sandahl acted as a waitress at the Dorcas luncheon Thursday when her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Hugelman, was one of the hostesses. Many from here enjoyed the delightful affair which ushers in the Christmas festivities at the church. At the business meeting Mrs. Paul Fischer was elected to serve as president.

Mrs. Dick Sandahl and Dean visited in the Gus Swanson home Sunday afternoon and were supper guests. The service man returned home with a discharge Saturday noon after 20 months in the army, four months of which he was a prisoner of war in Germany. He came from Omaha with Bob Olson and Keith Bean. The last named has also been separated from service.

Dorothy and June Chinn of Sioux City, were in the parental Walter Chinn home over the weekend. Helen Erlandson visited her parents, the Warner Erlandsons.

Darwin Agler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Agler, arrived the first of the week from Omaha where his wife has been employed. He has had three and one-half years of service, two and one-half of which have been overseas.

Mrs. Lawrence Ring and Mrs. C. L. Bard attended the W. C. T. U. Christmas party in the attractive, decorated Mission church parlors Friday afternoon. Mrs. John Tell, Mrs. Ervil Gustafson and Mrs. Herbert Johnson served luncheon carrying out the holiday color scheme, and the first named sang two numbers for the program. A former member, Mrs. Alfred Nordstrom of Sioux City, was among the guests.

Friends of Helen Erickson from this her former home community are extending best wishes for future happiness. She was active in 4-H and school affairs while here and has continued in other lines since living in Sioux City and Chicago. Many relatives from here attended her marriage to S1C Bob Smith of Sioux City at the Augustana Lutheran church there Monday evening. They were Mrs. E. E. Hypse, Mrs. Carl Helgren, Mrs. John Barden, Ida Mae Johnson, C. F. Sandahl, Gene, Ted, Bob, Angela and Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Sandahl, Faye and Marian, Lt. and Mrs. A. E. Sandahl, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hugelman, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bard, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ring, Ralph and Larry, Dean Sandahl, also Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bard and Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson of Wayne.

C. L. Bard's 50th birthday of Thursday was celebrated that evening when a large group of friends

FOR SAFETY.

The Norfolk Daily News quotes the Omaha Journal-Stockman's alarm over the many farmers who have suffered accidents in corn pickers this season. The News mentions that when railroads and manufacturing plants fully realized the dangers to life and limb involved in handling power machines they organized safety first units and preached precautions, and as a consequence accident and mortality rates were greatly reduced. The News comments: "Farm safety presents a harder problem because farmers do not work in organized groups that can be easily reached by an educational program. But they can be reached. And the need is seen in the almost daily news stories telling of some one being mangled while operating his husking machine. And encouragement that something can be done about it is seen in the fact that in almost every case it was a short moment of carelessness that caused the accident. Get rid of carelessness and the problem is largely solved. Thorough instruction in safe methods of operating husking machines and other farm equipment should greatly reduce the number of mangled hands and arms another year."

and relatives came to his home for a social time and cooperative luncheon to which the hosts added ice cream. Mrs. Chas. Pierson was in charge of entertainment and besides Mr. Bard, the birthday song was sung for Mrs. Arthur Florine and Burneal Gustafson whose anniversaries were the following day. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Ekeroth, Mr. and Mrs. Lenus Ring, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Florine, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Swanson and Louisa, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sundell, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nimrod, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hypse, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Air Corps Officer Back from Europe

Second Lt. Wm. E. Hugelman, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hugelman of Wakefield, arrived home Friday from overseas where he was a bombardier and navigator on a B-26. Lt. Hugelman has the air medal, five oak leaf clusters, EOT ribbon, three battle stars and American theatre ribbons. The officer is home on terminal leave until February when he expects to receive his honorable discharge. He was accompanied to Wayne from Omaha by his sister, Mrs. H. F. Quade.

He went to France January 7 with the 322nd bomber group and was commissioned second lieutenant March 10. The officer went to Belgium April 4 and remained with the 9th air force until the end of the war.

After V-E day the young man was transferred to the 305th bomber group and worked on the Casey Jones project, using a B-17. He went to St. Quentin, France, October 1 and sailed for home November 17 from Le Havre on the George Washington, with 6,885 returning service passengers. The officer landed in the state November 25 and was sent to Camp Atterbury, Ind., where he received his terminal leave. He visited friends in Howe, Ind., before coming to Wayne.

Marry at Service
in Altona Church

Pearl M. Reinhardt Bride Sunday of
L. F. Youngmeyer.

Pearl Marie Reinhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Reinhardt of Wayne, became the bride of Leslie F. Youngmeyer, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Youngmeyer of Wayne, at a double ceremony performed Sunday, December 9, at Trinity Lutheran church of Altona, with Rev. E. Schlecht of Wisner, officiating at 5 o'clock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk, with permanent skirt and train, fitted bodice, and long sleeves pointed at the wrists. The neckline was edged with Alice face with her fingertip veil of matching lace. She carried a white Bible, a gift of the bridegroom, with an orchid from which blue and white streamers with sweetpeas tied on the ends.

Miss Dorothy Reinhardt served as her sister's maid of honor and was attired in a floor-length dress of blue chiffon. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. John H. M. Shiersy of Columbus, sister of the bride and Miss Edith Bailey of Omaha, served as bridesmaids. They were gowned in identical pink dresses of satin with net over-skirts. They also carried colonial bouquets of red roses.

The maid-of-honor and bridesmaids each wore shoulder length veils of blue and pink respectively. The bride was met near the altar by the bridegroom with Howard D. Youngmeyer of Sioux Falls, S. D., his brother, as his attendant. Each wore dark brown suit with white carnation boutonniere.

Rev. John H. M. Shiersy of Columbus, and Allen Spitzgerber of Wisner, served as ushers.

Miss Lois Weseloh of Wayne, sang "O Perfect Love" preceding the service and "The Lord's Prayer" after the ceremony. Prof. G. H. Hofius played the nuptial marches.

The altar was banked with flowers with palms and baskets of flowers on either side.

The tapers at the altar and down the aisle were lighted by Merlin Reinhardt, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore green gaberdine suit with a rosebud corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for guests was held in the Reinhardt home. Miss Evelyn Carlson, Miss Nelda Baier, Miss Ruth Pfeiffer, Miss Arlene, and Miss Evelyn Rohlf assisted in the serving. Miss Dorothy Ahlvers was in charge of the guest book and gifts. The bride's table was covered with the three-tier wedding cake trimmed in pastel colors, banked by two two-branch crystalandelabra.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Howard U. Youngmeyer and Howard, jr., of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Mrs. J. Louis Alperstedt of Hooper, Miss Edith Bailey of Omaha, Rev. and Mrs. Shiersy of Columbus, and Rev. and Mrs. H. Nicterwimmer, Gretchen and Martha of Coleridge.

SIXTY-THIRD YEAR

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1945

NUMBER THIRTY-ONE

AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C., December 6, 1945. Members of the house committee on naval affairs have informed the Third district office that legislation to set up a naval ROTC program in each of 52 American colleges is being prepared.

A house-passed bill to increase the permanent authorized enlisted strength of the active list of the regular navy and marine corps now goes to the senate for action. This means that if and when the bill is finally passed and approved by the president, the post-war naval strength will be 500,000 enlisted men and 58,000 commissioned officers. The bill was drafted to give reserve officers and officers commissioned following graduation from the United States naval academy equal opportunities for promotion. Hereafter, reserve officers have felt that their promotion opportunities were not equal to those of naval academy graduates. It will cost about three and one-half billion dollars a year to run a navy of presently proposed strength.

The house committee on military affairs is holding hearings on a bill to increase the size of the regular army. They plan for 500,000 enlisted men and about 58,000 commissioned officers. There may be 400,000 men in the post-war air corps. It is estimated that the cost of the expanded regular army, navy, marine corps and air corps will be around ten billion dollars a year.

Sergeant Herman Meyer of West Point was a visitor in the Third district office. He has been in the service for three more years. Five of his sons have been in the service and his daughter is in the WAVES. Meyer has a farm near West Point, Neb.

The director of the president's war relief control board announces that 22 volunteer agencies engaged in foreign relief formed a non-profit corporation to permit purchase of food packages by individuals and institutions for relief in destitute areas of Europe. Donald Nelson, formerly of the war production board, has accepted the directorship and is already in active management of the corporation. The corporation is to be known as the "Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe." Details will be announced shortly, including the countries where facilities can be granted for the delivery of packages. This is the corporation which plans to distribute over seven million ten-one surplus army food packages which are to be turned over to the corporation by UNRRA. UNRRA representatives have visited the Third district office and stated that there has been a clean-up of inefficient employees. About 600 employees have been dismissed and assurances have been given that the organization will be more efficient and more food, clothing and medicine will now go to needy people throughout the world.

Champion Herefords Shown
On Cover National Journal

"Bringing in the Cows" might well be the title of the picture on the cover page of a 1945 issue of the Hereford Journal, for that is just what the Hoffman Bros., Winfield, were doing. Walter Hoffman, walking, and Wm. Hoffman, astride his favorite mount, were pushing the cows up a tree-lined roadway on a wintry day when the camera of Alva Chandler "caught" this shot.

Hoffman Bros. (Walter and William) have been breeding Herefords since 1918. In 1923 they started to develop the Mischief Stanway family. The foundation sire for this particular family was Mischief Stanway. His sire was of Bright Stanway breeding and his dam was of Beau Mischief breeding hence, the name Mischief Stanway.

The Nebraska state fair grand champions in 1942-1943 and the Ak-Sar-Ben grand champion 1944 were sired by sires produced at the Hoffman Bros. farm.

A top-ranking administration official said that the public should be prepared for stupendous losses ranging from 45 to 85 billion dollars on mountainous stocks of surplus government war property.

Monkey Incident Here Is Recalled
in Visit of Oklahoma Editor

Walter Harrison, Father
And Son Come to Wayne
For Needed Rest.

Most early residents recall the visit of a circus in Wayne in 1902, for on that occasion one of the boys of the town, Walter Harrison, was badly bitten on one leg by one of the show monkeys. This Mr. Harrison, now managing editor of the Oklahoman and Times in Oklahoma City, visited Wayne friends last Friday. He was accompanied by his father, Gilbert Harrison, and his son, John D. Harrison.

In relating the monkey incident, the senior Mr. Harrison, now 84, told that his son was playing with the circus animal when the monkey lost its temper and grabbed the youth, injuring his leg quite severely. Gilbert Harrison decided to get rid of the animal. He gave the monkey to Peter Coyle, member of the police force, and told him to hold it until he went to see how his son was. After he had provided medical care for Walter, Mr. Harrison was preparing to settle with the monkey when a little boy connected with the circus appealed to him through tears, saying that the monkey helped his family make a living. The senior Mr. Harrison relented and told the circus management to return the monkey to its cage. In court the Harrisons won a $2,500 judgment against the company.

Serves in World War. This monkey experience kept Walter Harrison out of World War One, but his services were accepted in World War Two. Mr. Harrison, now 57, entered the armed forces five years ago. He held the commission of lieutenant colonel. He served in the Pacific and European theatres. At one time he organized embarkation on the west coast. While there he visited his first employer, W. S. Goldie of Wilmington, Calif., former Wayne editor, and helped the latter's son attain a commission.

Walter Harrison just recently returned from service. Feeling that the home city had lost its soul, Mr. Harrison decided to take a short rest by driving to Wayne. Two sons in the Harrison family have been in service. Walter, Jr., a major in the air corps, was in a separation center last week. He did radio work before going into the army. John D., who has his discharge as a fighter pilot. He expects to return to college next semester. Gilbert, other son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, is research director for McCann-Erickson Co., advertising firm, in New York.

Enjoys Ranch Life. Mr. Harrison has a ranch about 130 miles from Oklahoma City and he bought a plane from the surplus commodity branch recently so that John D. can take him back and forth to the city easily. Mr. Harrison finds great consolation in spending time on his ranch away from city life.

Is Fanatic of Horses. Gilbert Harrison was associated with Ran Frasier, who had trotting and racing horses in Wayne in the early days. Mr. Harrison came here in 1898 and left in 1903. Mr. Harrison followed the races until 1920. Then his son, Walter, who had become established in Oklahoma City with the newspaper, persuaded his parents to move there, which they did. Gilbert Harrison, very active for his age, is county health commissioner.

Starts Career Early. Walter Harrison was a grade school lad in Wayne in 1902 when W. S. Goldie wrote in his personal column of the Nebraska Democrat that parents should keep their boys busy to avoid their creating mischief about town. Walter's mother visited her neighbor, Mr. Goldie, the day he made the suggestion and told him he would do well in fulfilling his suggestion by hiring some boy. Mr. Goldie told Mrs. Harrison to send Walter down. She did and Walter Harrison has been connected with newspapers ever since.

Walter Harrison learned the type cases in the Goldie shop when he was too small to reach them. Once Mr. Goldie took the promising youngster to an editorial meeting in Sioux City, stood him on a chair before the writers and said the youth would some day become a journalist of the caliber of the famous American, Whitelaw Reid.

Successful in Profession. Mr. Harrison liked newspaper work and he was successful in it. He gained one distinction after another and before long was connected with the Oklahoma City daily. There he rose to managing editorship.

Walter Harrison started the American Society of Newspaper Editors and also organized the managing editors of the American Press association. He has gained a national reputation in the journalism field.

During seven years in club work the girl put up 1,860 jars of vegetables, fruits, meats, soups, jams and jellies. She won many placings on her exhibits, including $41.50 in cash prizes. Ruth helped neighbors with their canning, and raised much of the foodstuffs that she canned. She stated in her record: "It was a thrill from the time the seeds were planted until the beautiful rows of fruits and vegetables were lined up on the cellar shelves."

Among his better methods achievements are assisting in wiring their home for electricity, repairing electrical appliances and installing electric motors to perform various farm and home jobs. He installed an electric water heater in the house and utilized brooders to increase the pig crop. An electric welder in Duane's farm shop helps in constructing labor-saving devices for the production of pork, beef and dairy products. The boy is interested in radio and has constructed common crystal receivers, a five-tube set and a 14 watt public address system. Duane has realized $5324.51 from his 4-H projects during the last four years.

All of these activities were conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA co-operating. The winners are eligible to compete for $200 college scholarship national awards in their activity.

Renters Scramble For Santa's House

Seven Discharges Are Filed By One Man Dismissed After Long Service.

When Santa Claus moves into the one-story house built for him on the court house lawn by the Springfield Chamber of Commerce,
he may find things a little crowded. The board of supervisors has had nine offers from people wanting to rent the temporary dwelling.

Deputies at the office of the county recorder at Bethany, Mo., expect a man in uniform to present a discharge for recording when he comes through the door. Captain Baker surprised the officials by presenting seven discharges, all his own. He is being retired from the army after 23 years of service which he began as a private.

R. H. Kenagy of Raytown, Mo., celebrated his 96th birthday recently and is eligible to collect on a $1,000 insurance policy which he took out in 1880. The mortality tables which his sons use to sell policies run only to 95. At that age, say the insurance statistics, only three out of every 100,000 persons are supposed to be alive. And at 96 none is alive statistically and the company pays off to policy holders reaching that age.

A Wolf met a wolf Wednesday
near Judson, N. D., and Art Wolf
won. He shot a pack of coyotes, dropped one and found it was a buffalo wolf, a species thought to be extinct in that territory.

Steve Garoutte's bird dog came down on a point near Sant Springs, Okla., and the hunter prepared to fire at rising quail. Instead of birds, 28-pound bob cat dashed from the brush. Mr. Garoutte's partner brought it down with a blast from his shotgun.

Mrs. Betty Boyd, 83, of Kansas City, Mo., reported to police the theft of $1,350 from her home.
That amount, she said, was missing from a hiding place—in a hollow post of her old-fashioned brass bedstead.

County Collector Clifton F.
Hurst at St. Joseph, Mo., was worrying about an apparent shortage of $387.44 in his accounts. Then he had an idea. He put a wad of chewing gum on the end of a yardstick and fished behind his counter with it. On his second cast with the yardstick he hooked a check for the exact amount he was short,
and his books balanced.

Sgt. Eddie Hughes' foxhole dream became a fact: A banana split consisting of two quarts of ice cream, one quart of fruit salad, 10 bananas and proportionate applications of marshmallows,
whipped cream, chocolate, pineapple and cherries.

Jessie Crump of Cleveland, arrested for packing a loaded pistol
to the marriage-license bureau,
admitted that she "was taking no chances."

In New Orleans, surgeons extracted a needle just before it pierced the heart of Mrs. Lois James, 26, who had sat on it when she was 6.

In Champaign, Ill., Gordon L.
Griffith ran this ad: "A bomb research physicist... needs house.
You got the bomb—do we get a house?"

John R. Culver and bride were forced to spend their wedding night with in-laws when a neighbor's watchdog barred them from their honeymoon cottage.

At Harrisburg, Ill., Bill Land,
rural postman, suspects deer in that vicinity are getting smarter.
The postman found a six-point buck with a herd of sheep in a barn lot—where the hunters didn't think to look.

Thieves at San Bernardino used an electric hoist to get a 500-pound safe aboard a truck. But when the safe fell off at a downtown intersection, there was no hoist handy. Disgusted, they left it and the truck—which also was stolen—and fled on foot.

HAROLD WEST BUYS
C. N. OLSON HOUSE
Mr. and Mrs. Harold West bought the C. N. Olson property on west Tenth street. The Olsons recently bought the residence of
R. E. Marek who moves to Pueblo, Colo. The Wests will move to the property later.

To Relieve Shortage.
Because of the housing situation
in Lincoln, the university will construct three new dormitories,
which are to be ready for occupancy next fall. The University of Nebraska Dormitory corporation will issue revenue bonds, derived from student rentals, to cover the cost. The $350,000 buildings will eventually house 258 men. These dormitories will be built next spring and summer.

Relief Problem Remains Acute

Relief problems this winter remain vast and tragic, according to Thomas C. Woods, state chairman of the united war fund of Nebraska. After two months of campaigning, the state has subscribed 90 per cent of its quota of $908,- 500. Ten counties have "gone over the top" and the chairman urges Christmas donations to complete the total.

Gov. Dwight Griswold points out that 80,000 Nebraska men and women are still in the armed forces, and millions of allies are facing starvation and bitter cold
this winter. "It is absolutely necessary that Nebraskans exert every possible effort to achieve the county and state goals."

Executive Director Walter F.
Roberts appeals for holiday donations to the war fund.

To make a child happy at Christmas is the greatest joy of the season. This is what Col. Walter I. Black, Wayne college graduate, is doing for Fred Schwartzlander, 12, one of 40 children at Creche home in Omaha. Col. Black is providing a trip to California and their daughter, Patricia, 15.

Fred that he decided to give him
a Christmas gift visit to the coast.

every detail of the trip. Fred starts next Saturday on what will prob-

Veterans' Corner Co. Service Officer—W. A. Lerner

"To care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan." — Abraham Lincoln.

Q.—Is a veteran of World War I entitled to a pension if he is unable to work? Does it make any difference if he had no overseas duty?
A.—Pensions are payable for total permanent non-service connected disability or for service connected disabilities. The extent of the disability is the deciding factor
and overseas duty does not enter into the consideration. The veteran should state his case to the service officer of the county in which he resides for contact with the veterans' administration.

Veterans' administration officers: Ivan D. Marsh, state service

National Officer Is Guest Speaker

Harold H. Hamilton Brings Message to Local Group Thursday Night.

Harold H. Hamilton of Lancaster, Pa., national commander of the Purple Heart organization, was in Wakefield Thursday evening to speak before members of the Dixon county chapter and guests.

Chapter and Auxiliary members, and new eligible members first attended a banquet held at Mac's cafe. Al Borg was toastmaster. Edward F. German of Pierce, past Second district commander of the American Legion, was principal speaker at the banquet. He talked of the two wars. He stated that America won the first war but fooled away the peace. He said this nation won the second war and he wonders if it will again fool away the peace. If this happens, the sons of new Purple Heart members will again have to fight. Rev. Chas. Rabenberg had devotions.

After the banquet, chapter members went to the American Legion hall for a short business meeting. This was followed by the main program. Friends and distinguished guests were introduced. Mayor V. H. R. Hanson gave a short talk of welcome. Three World War II veterans were initiated by Mr. Hamilton and obligated as members: Paul V. Gray, Wakefield; Robert Johnson, Carroll; Wm. McDonald, Allen.

In Mr. Hamilton's speech he stressed the principles of the Purple Heart chapter, its accomplishments and service to all Purple Heart members. He stated that if World War II veterans wear the Purple Heart they belong to the organization.

Mr. Hamilton stated that the American public has promised every man who wore the uniform of this nation that should he become disabled, he will be properly and completely rehabilitated. Members of the Purple Heart organization shall never cease to remind the American public of this sacred pledge.

National Commander Hamilton appointed Al Borg as national chief-of-staff for the state of Nebraska. Mr. Borg expects to attend an executive meeting which will be held at the Sherman hotel in Chicago, sometime during January.

Mr. Hamilton returned to Sioux City Friday morning and from there he flew to his home at Lancaster, Pa.

Christmas Gifts Are Sent by Unit

SERVICE NEWS

Receives Discharge.
Sgt. Dean Sandahl arrived home Saturday from Fort Logan, Colo., where he received his honorable discharge Thursday. He had served in the European theater six months and was a prisoner of war in Germany. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sandahl. Dean plans to go home for a while and then to be college.

Home from Italy.
Cpl. Gerald Fox spent Wednesday and Thursday of last week with his grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Fox, and other relatives. Cpl. Fox recently arrived in the States after spending three years in Italy, and received his honorable discharge. From Wayne the young man went to Kearney to be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fox.

Home from Europe.
S. Sgt. Don McGuigan who spent many months in Europe, arrived in the states last week from Germany. He expected to receive his honorable discharge the last of the week and then come to Wayne to visit his mother, Mrs. Peter McGuigan, and sisters, Mrs. Leon Hansen and Miss Kathleen McGuigan.

Receives Discharge.
Russell Fox, who has been stationed with the air cadets at Amarillo, Texas, recently received his honorable discharge at Ft. Scott, Ill., and arrived here Thursday to visit his sister, Mrs. Gladys Fox, and other relatives until after Christmas when he goes to Portland, Ore., to see his father, W. C. Fox.

Will Attend Creighton.
George Lebens of Lindsay, former Wayne college student who has been honorably discharged after serving 52 months, plans to enroll at Creighton law college in Omaha after the holidays. He spent 31 months in the Aleutians and six months in Okinawa. He was in Okinawa when the recent hurricane struck the island. All the buildings in his area were taken down. Mr. Lebens finds that the greatest value in his service experience was the meeting of lots of fine men. He reports that people in parts of the world he visited do not like Americans.

Library News

The library staff has been very busy since the first of the month working on the files of the card catalogue. Mrs. Grabowski, the former Dorothy Liedtke, who is at home after being discharged from the WACs where she was a librarian, is helping with this work. The children have been busy putting up Christmas decorations in their department. They have a fireplace and Christmas tree, a Christmas scene in the sandbox and a large poster with Santa Claus and his toys. You are invited to drop in and see these displays at any time.

Do you like the poetry of Ogden Nash? If you do ask for his new book called Many Long Years Ago. Did you like Try and Stop Me, by Bennett Cerf? If you did then try Laughing Stock which is more of the same. Most of us wouldn't think that the title How to Be Poor was a book of humor, but the author is Fray Fay of the Rabbit fame and the illustrator, James Montgomery Flagg. The popular Egg and I, by Betty MacDonald, of life on a wilderness chicken ranch is really told with wit and high humor. This will be popular with many people for a long time we are sure. We could compare it to We Took to the Woods, only there is more humor in The Egg and I. Papa was a Preacher is just what it sounds as though it would be and Papa's eight kids were full of unpredictable devilment! She Came Back is the title of a new Patricia Wentworth mystery. The High Barbaree, by Chas. Nordhoff, and James Norman Hall is another of their charming world sea adventure tales. Then we also have The Best Short Stories of 1945, by Martha Foley, and The River Road, by Frances Parkinson Keyes, author of Crescent Carnival and Also the Hills. The River Road is another story of Louisiana plantation life but it is not such a large book as Crescent Carnival and has a plot that really holds the interest.
