Favors H. T. Boland of Bloomfield, expressed high appraisal of Senator Hugh Butler in the Public Pulse of Sunday's Omaha World-Herald. He doubtless reflects the opinion of many of the rank and file over the state. He evidently appreciates the senator's wisdom and sound judgment as proved in his first term. This is what Mr. Boland says:

"Bloomfield, Neb.: The writer disagrees with the editorial in your December 27 issue entitled 'The Griswold Challenge'. In my opinion Senator Butler has made an outstanding record as a conscientious, hard-working, level-headed, middle-of-the-road legislator and is eminently fitted to take care of and defend the Middle Western interest in national affairs. It would indeed be a grave injustice and ingratitude to a man who has labored as diligently as Senator Butler in our interests to deprive him of the opportunity to succeed himself.

"Personally, I am 100 per cent for him, and wish we had more men of his caliber in our legislative bodies. H. T. BOLAND."

Strike Evils STRIKES and threatened strikes have kept the country in a terrible state of taut nerves. Industry has fallen far short of meeting demands, business has stumbled along under the nightmare of insufficient supplies and sorely needed improvements have been painfully delayed. It is profoundly hoped disagreeing groups, all essential to production, will be able ere long to effect acceptable compromises and settle down to a fair basis of service and earnings.

Some industries can stand higher wages than others. Some that drive production to the limit can stand fewer employed hours per day. With a shortened production week, work must be stepped up or wages must be kept down accordingly. The demand for a 40-hour week and increased pay does not harmonize with the earnings of many institutions that have not been keyed to high and steady output. So, settlements must be made according to manufacturing possibilities on the one hand and labor needs on the other.

It must be remembered that living wages have to be paid when times are dull and industry's profits are nil. On the other hand, higher prices in flush times require higher wages. There is a middle, sensible ground that should be easy to reach. Commenting on the American system, Robert R. Watson, newly chosen head of the National Association of Manufacturers, is quoted as saying:

"Democracy is inseparable from private enterprise. If private enterprise is lost, democracy dies and statism rules us. . . . All of us know that the greatest security workmen can have is a steady job. And steady jobs result only from a profit to those who supply the tools with which workmen work. The standard of living rises only with production that comes from the use of tools. Except a profit be supplied, the tools are idle and so are workers."

The new president pledges his best endeavors to cooperate in restoring balance to the country's economy, asserting:

"This balance will give lower prices to the consumer, higher wages to the worker, a fair return to the investor, and expanded markets that will raise the living standards of all our people."

GI demonstrations in the far orient demanding speedier demobilization and earlier return to the home-land are no doubt the result of disappointment and homesickness. If present forces are needed for any sound reason, the authorities who know should say so. The war over and goals achieved, the boys who braved the perils of the late conflict, cannot now understand why they are kept in idleness and away from cherished realization—home and kindred. The unfortunate development emphasizes the need of revealing all the truth, keeping promises that are made and making none that cannot be kept.

Someone reminds us that hazards and anxieties are necessary to alert living and efficient action. We strive and fuss, dodge or attack obstacles, and sometimes we fail, sometimes partially succeed, and then rise stronger to undertake new tasks. Life is a course in ups and downs, defeated expectations and revived hope, and we are assured the going would be intolerably dull if we did not run risks and often slip in trying to attain objectives.

Pathfinder magazine reports a determination in Washington to balance the national budget in the not distant future. Some think congress will enforce necessary economy with the beginning of the fiscal year July 1 next. All but bureaucratic hangers-on will heartily approve.

If a man running for office is able to make an acceptable speech he is in much demand during a campaign, because, for obvious reasons, he serves without pay. After election a successful candidate may slow down on speech-making until another campaign is on.

A preacher talking over the radio Sunday urged parents to make the home the center of attraction for their children even if they wear out the rugs and mar the furniture. Freedom of the home is one way to prevent child waywardness or child delinquency.

Columnist Louis Bromfield agrees that the United States should help Great Britain solve its food problem, but frowns on making extravagant gifts or unsupported loans. He warns against unnecessary and unwise depletion of American resources.

Two encouraging reports: The tax has been removed from artificial noses, and a way to make a nose wrinkle and otherwise artificial has been discovered. So, the road to new and improved noses has been cleared.

Whether an abundance of snow in mid-winter is good for the ground or not is a disputed point. Anyway, its absence is a source of security for oldsters with uncertain feet and brittle bones.

Capitalist America is helping feed and clothe impoverished Yugoslavia, ward of Russia. And Communist Russia is apparently willing.

The fellow who chewed his own tobacco only when he could not borrow from someone else, is remembered.

NAZI DESIGN.
A terrifying revelation, emanating from Nuernberg, seat of war crime trials, is reported by the Lincoln Journal. It seems the nazis designed to center special attention on Nebraska's capital city in the event of American defeat. Enemies proposed to evacuate Lincoln on 24-hour notice and turn it over to nazi war veterans and their families. The plan was utterly heartless and in perfect accord with the axis brutalities practiced in Europe. Subjugation of the United States involved all the cruelties that have horrified civilization. The Journal explains that Lincoln was chosen for headquarters because of its location in the plains country, and that it chanced to be the particularly unfortunate one among many others similarly situated. The plan to wipe out Lincoln, following a nazi reign of terror, failed because of the triumph of allied arms. The program to enslave or destroy people of the United States was clearly set forth in the detailed plan to exterminate Lincoln. What horrors Americans escaped by reason of allied victory!

Wedding Ceremony Held at Brunswick
Miss Luella Mae Ackie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ace Ackie of Brunswick, became the bride of Pvt. Gerald Gene Brindley, eldest son of Mrs. Rose Brindley of Wayne, Friday, December 28.

The single ring ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents before a group of friends and relatives. Rev. A. Marts of the Brunswick Community church, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Geiger, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, attended the couple. The bride was dressed in a gray figured jersey dress. She wore her mother's locket and a lily corsage. The bridegroom wore regulation army uniform. The bridesmaid wore green jersey.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. A three-tiered wedding cake baked by Mrs. C. H. Palmer, aunt of the bride, and decorated with a miniature bride and soldier centered the table.

The bride is a graduate of Plainview high school of the class of 1945. She is now employed in Norfolk. The bridegroom is on furlough from Camp Roberts, Cal. He will report at Camp Pickett, Va., for overseas duty immediately following his furlough.

Home from Service.
Cpl. Marcel D. Ring received his honorable discharge at Ft. Logan, Colo., January 9, 1946, and arrived home Thursday after 51 months' service. He entered the army October 21, 1941. He left for overseas January 1, 1945, and landed at Le-Havre, France, where the first war time experience was a train wreck in which about 250 troops were killed. He was in France, Germany, Belgium and Netherlands, and sailed from Marseilles July 19 for the Pacific, going through the Panama canal and landing on the Philippines at Manila, August 27. From there he went to the island of Kyushu. His unit left there December 21 and arrived in Seattle December 28. An interesting experience was having two Christmases by crossing the international date line at the proper time.

A MOTHER'S ANGUISH.
A disquieting note is sounded by a soldier's mother in the Omaha World-Herald's Public Pulse. She charges liquor with the downfall of her son who entered the army at 18, following graduation from high school. In his school days the youth enjoyed wholesome athletics. When he enlisted he was sober and buoyant. After four years she says he came back home a drunkard and unable to leave liquor alone. He stays out most of the night and sleeps most of the day. On account of his excessive drinking and irregular habits he cannot hold a job. The mother charges liquor has ruined his life and has brought despair to his aged parents. She offers the sad experience as an argument against taking impressionable high school boys from their homes for peacetime compulsory military training.

Message to the Public:

Now that gasoline and tire rationing has ended we would like to explain a few unpleasant things that we had to do during that period when we, like you, were confused as to what had to be done to conform to all OPA regulations as they were handed down to us.

First of all, we had to refuse many of you gasoline for several reasons, such as: Not having your coupons with you, having coupons that had expired, coupons that were not valid yet, or refusing you "extra" gasoline when you asked for same. In refusing you gasoline under those conditions it was not because we did not want or appreciate your business but because we could not operate successfully without our gasoline inventory being accounted for at all times and the only way to do so was to accept coupons that were valid at time of purchase only.

Secondly, many of you condemned us for not condemning tires which were not condemnable, but inasmuch as we had rationing regulations to live up to we hope that you will understand that it was the only way we could operate and remain in business.

However, we did help you all we could in assisting many of you in filling out applications for gasoline, tires, etc., and in keeping you well informed on the latest regulations in order that you could obtain your ration needs and keep your car operating under rationing.

We also tried to give you the best service possible under those conditions and trust that any misunderstanding that we may have had during rationing was not a matter of choice, we assure you, but one of necessity.

Thank You.

Yuletide Wedding Held in Wisconsin

Lt. (jg) Evelyn Spengler is Bride December 23 of Ensign Daryl Wade.

Yuletide decorations graced the altar of the Grace Lutheran church at Kenosha, Wis., Sunday, December 23, when Lt. (jg) Evelyn M. Spengler of Great Lakes, Ill., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Spengler of Huskins, became the bride of Ensign Daryl A. Wade of Bethesda, Md., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wade of Wellman, Ia.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. C. Roth, before an altar decorated with clusters of Christmas evergreens and poinsettias. Tall white candles in branched candelabra and two prettily decorated Christmas trees, one on either side of the altar, formed the setting for the candle-light ceremony performed at 5 o'clock.

Mrs. C. C. Roth played a pipe organ prelude, "I Love You Truly," before the ceremony. Mrs. Roth also played (the professional wedding march from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's recessional.

(jg) Helen U. Strom of Great Lakes, friend of the bridal couple, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of powder blue organza over taffeta and a gold lavalliere, gift of the bride. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

The bride's gown of off-white beaded satin featured long sleeves ending in points over the hands, a tight bodice trimmed with tiny covered buttons and a full floor length skirt. She wore a fingertip length veil of illusion trimmed with rose pattern lace and caught in a crown trimmed with seed pearls. She wore a double strand of pearls and carried a shower bouquet of red roses tied with a white satin ribbon.

The bridegroom and his attendant, B. T. Linsley of Great Lakes, wore navy uniforms.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at Hotel Dayton.

The bride is well and favorably known in the Winside and Hoskins communities. She was graduated from the Winside high school in the class of 1939. In September, 1939, she entered the Lincoln general nurses' school from which she was graduated in 1942. Later she enlisted in the navy nurses' corps and was stationed at Mare Island, Cal., and later was sent to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. She arrived in the states in October, 1945, having served overseas for 17 months.

After a furlough with relatives here, she was reassigned and sent to Great Lakes at Chicago, where she received her honorable discharge January 2. The couple are making their home at 703 Garland Ave., Tokoma Park, Md.

To Ex-service Men and Women THE UNITED BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE CO., which I represent as District Agent, has issued a booklet, "IT'S YOUR WORLD," which is now available for ex-service men and women upon request. Here is a partial Table of Contents: • FIRST STEPS UPON DISCHARGE • YOUR PENSION RIGHTS • YOUR NATIONAL SERVICE LIFE INSURANCE • YOUR PRIVATE INSURANCE • YOUR DEFERRED DEBTS • YOUR JOB • EDUCATIONAL BENEFITS • A BUSINESS • GENERAL INFORMATION As a veteran, there are rights you need to know about and benefits you need to safeguard, so it is well to remember that, although every effort is made by authorities to apprise the serviceman of his rights and privileges and benefits under the federal and state laws, it is necessary for the veteran to take the required steps himself to avail himself of these advantages. Moreover, new legislation is constantly being proposed, so keep up with this legislation; and if you have a problem peculiar to yourself, consult your congressman, your county service officer and your insurance man. From Our Schools Come New Leaders

Agriculture looks forward with confidence to tomorrow because its youth is being trained properly today.

Our United States public school system has taught scientific agriculture to millions of boys and girls in the vocational agriculture courses of nearly 10,000 rural high schools. Here students learn the improvement and proper use of the soil which is our basic wealth; how to produce ton litters of pork in less than six months; the care and repair of farm machinery; and many other vital things.

Such studies create an interest in research and this is important - for scientific research is vital in agriculture and other industries. Science has been back of the development of modern farm machinery; of cows that produce

MEAT BUYING CUSTOMS

Bostonians like beef from heavy steers, St. Louisians prefer beef from light ones. It is of interest to livestock producers and meat packers that taste, money-to-spend, seasons, beliefs and habits all affect meat buying customs in different parts of the United States.

OUR CITY COUSIN ALL RIGHT! ALL RIGHT! ONE FOR HOT AND ONE FOR COLD, BUT WHAT ARE THE OTHER TWO FOR?

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

Several times in this space, I have invited producers of agricultural products to come and see us. As a result of this, we have had quite a number of visitors.

Some recent conversations indicated that quite a number of producers think that there are less than a hundred meat packers in the United States; in fact some thought there were as few as ten.

Martha Logan's Recipe for BAKED SPAREIRBS with DRESSING For six servings, use 4 pounds pork spareirbs. Combine 1 teaspoon salt, 4 cups soft bread crumbs, 1/2 cup diced onion, 1 cup chopped apple, and 1 cup water. Pat out 1 inch thick in greased dipping pan. Slice spareirbs. Soak. Place over bread dressing. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 2 hours.

PROVIDE PLENTY OF WATER FOR DAIRY COWS

Water is practically always inexpensive and abundant, as compared to feed and labor, but nevertheless it is absolutely essential for profitable dairying.

The amount of water that a dairy cow will drink depends largely upon the size of the cow, the amount of milk produced, the type of feed consumed, and the atmospheric temperature. Milking cows need 4.0 to 5.5 pounds of water for each pound of milk produced.

FC3c Donald Denesia, son of Harry Denesia of Wayne, writes from Jinsen, Korea, that the natives of that country and American soldiers are "hungry" for souvenirs.
