Ways of Democracy Adopted by Japanese

OCCUPATION of Japan has been very successful. Japanese people are great at copying other nationalities and they pick up democratic ways readily.

Manila and were quartered 17 miles north of the city in a Jesuit monastery built in 1932. Japs had lived in the church so the quarters were not so inviting.

Rumors of peace were current when the nurses were in the replacement center in Manila. Lt. Miller was in the unit assigned to the 42nd general hospital group.

Japan Is Picturesque.

Rural Japan is picturesque with small, colorful farms. Homes are poor, being of frail construction, but they are well arranged with plenty of shelves and drawers.

Japs in cities are bad pedestrians. They seem confused by heavy traffic and are usually in the way of vehicles.

One of the pretty places visited by many GIs in Japan is Mount Fujiyama. A rest camp is located there. It is possible to drive in a half hour from the snow of the mountains to the seashore.

Until recently, short trips have been the main entertainment for occupation forces. With the permanent occupation scheduled to begin in July, theatres and libraries are being established.

Lt. Miller was with the unit of 200 nurses who left the States July 5. They spent a week-end in Honolulu and then went to the Philippines, first landing on Leyte.

Library News

If you saw a five dollar bill lying on the street, would you pass by without picking it up? Sure, that's a foolish question. But let me ask you another: Do you pass by your public library without investigating what it has to offer you?

This week we have a new book by J. R. Perkins, whose New Testament novel, 'The Emperor's Physician,' is a popular success.

The English author, Phyllis Botome, who has spent so much of her time in Switzerland, Austria, Germany and France, and who writes so knowingly of those countries and their problems, has written a new book with the same title, Austria, and the setting, a mental hospital. The Nazis, a psychiatrist, an English artist who is working with the underground through this mental hospital, make an unusual combination for a good story.

If you like English history and if you think the stories about Henry the Eighth and his wives are fun to read, you will like this new slant on his third wife, Anne of Cleves, who was said to be the only one who was able to outwit him and live to tell the tale.

Thursday, April 25, 1946.

Written by THOMAS Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence, was not only a statesman, but a practical observer of life from many angles.

- 1. Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today. 2. Never trouble another for what you can do yourself. 3. Never spend your money before you have it. 4. Never buy what you do not want, because it is cheap; it will be dear to you. 5. Pride costs us more than hunger, thirst and cold. 6. We never repent of having eaten too little. 7. Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly. 8. How much pain have cost us the evils that have never happened. 9. Take things always by their smooth handle. 10. When angry, count ten, before you speak; when very angry, a hundred.

Economy Is Need

IN the April Kiwanis Magazine is an article contrasting government expenditures during the Coolidge administration with what they have been since then. Apart from late war costs and the necessity of keeping up due defense, too many government employees are maintained on peace-time payrolls, too much is spent for useless subsidies and so-called social benefits. Under Coolidge government employees, exclusive of the military, totaled approximately 580,000. At the close of 1945 the number had risen to 3,300,000. Unavoidable war waste should be stopped in the operation of peace-time economy. Unnecessary employees should be dismissed and invited to find other jobs which are still plentiful. Government supplies should be conserved and disposed of with least possible loss. Government hand-outs to speed production should be supplanted by the incentives of private enterprise. Needed economy should start. The article wonders how much regulating by the government the masses really want. It mentions that the people are the bosses and may determine results by their votes. It says: "You elect the congressman and the senators; you elect the president. These are the people who determine the nation's tax policies."

Music Contest

THE district music contest in Wayne the coming week-end will bring here hundreds of music students and their well-wishing friends. Wayne knows how to treat guests, and it can be depended on to extend its customary welcome. The state college was instrumental in bringing the series of contests here, and it is taking a properly active part in making and executing plans. Visiting students will see what the school has to offer and may be persuaded to turn it to advantage for future higher training. Schools of the district contribute their most promising music students. They will do their best to please home folks. They will deserve the plaudits of crowds that gather to hear them. The friendly interest of Wayne people will help.

An employee works a specified number of hours. When time is up he puts aside thought of his gainful work. If an employer succeeds, he follows no fixed quitting time. Every hour he is awake, he is alert to what will strengthen the industry or business on which many others depend. It is the owner's responsibility to keep stock on hand and see that the public is satisfied. It is his responsibility to meet complaints, pay obligations and keep out of the red. In addition to being a slave to employees—especially the labor union variety—the employer is kicked from Dan to Beersheba by the government, and he is expected to smile and react favorably to it. Yes, there are advantages in being just an employee.

We have heard that pain is friendly. It steels courage to accomplish hard and noble tasks. We now read in Elsie Robinson's column that "struggling" is healthful and beneficial. She quotes this from a late book: "The most thrilling thing in life is struggle. It is not our master. It is opportunity, teacher, priest and friend. Without struggle life would here us to death." Thus, we know what happens when we sweat and stew to gain new goals or retain old ones. We conclude we are a coward and saphead if we shrink from a sizable struggle. Conquering it recharges the human battery and gives strength to meet the next one. There would seem more satisfaction in hardship than in ease.

Six weeks more of Nebraska's preprimary campaign remain. The governor rails at the present senator because he wants his job and is unwilling to grant him the usual second term. The Butler record stands up well under attack and is probably strengthened by it. Val Peterson, grass-roots candidate for governor, is plainly holding the lead awarded him by the late state convention. Interest in other candidates is comparatively apathetic.

Did Russia squeeze Iran into forcing censorship on all news originating in that country? It looks that way.

AS SEEN BY KARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C. April 11, 1946

By unanimous vote, the house passed the proposed "Farmers Home Corporation Act of 1946," a bill to simplify and improve credit services to farmers, especially low-income farmers, and promote farm ownership. The measure also provides preferences for veterans in the procurement of loans to buy farm homes and veterans' preferences respecting insured mortgages with which to buy farm homes.

Gabe Parker, superintendent of the Winnebago Indian agency, was in Washington several days conferring with officials on Indian matters. Plans are under way for representatives of the Winnebago, Omaha, Ponca and Santee-Sioux tribal councils to visit Washington in the near future.

The congressional breakfast club was one group among others that urged this year for the first time the observance of Good Friday in official Washington as a partial religious holiday. All government agencies were authorized to permit their personnel to take time off to attend religious services that day.

Official Washington regarded President Truman's Chicago speech as one of his best. It helped those who are fighting desperately to expand the selective training and service act beyond May 15. The army chiefs deplore the depth to which our armed forces have been cut. Other officials, however, deplore other reductions which include closing of war industries; abandonment of air bases on expensively leased foreign land; the laying up and offering for sale of war shipping, etc. The sale to for-ein countries of several billion dollars worth of war goods for a song is alleged to have lessened "our military might" as much as it increased the war potential of the nations that obtained the material. Accumulation of war power involves much more than maintenance of millions of men under arms.

Russia still has an army of ten million to 15 million men. Britain has four million men under arms. Little Rumania, which is receiving relief supplies from the United States, boasts an army of one million men. Lend-lease war goods continue to go to Russia to fulfill commitments made before V-J day.

After many weeks of debate in committees, the leaders have determined upon a plan to continue the draft beyond May 15. The war and navy departments, and the president have been laboring for a straight-but extension for a full year. The compulsory peace-time training program has been laid aside for the time being and the extension of the draft is advanced to take its place. There are still over two million men in the armed forces scattered over the world. There are thousands eligible for discharge and daily rates of separation are high. The larger number may be in Europe and Japan, but there are many doing occupational duty in Iceland, guarding oil wells in the middle east, protecting the Canal Zone, attending garrison duty in Alaska, and in many small islands and bases. Many of them are tired and weary and want to come home.

There is a lot of war material turned over for a pittance to India still under guard of our troops although there are still over two million Indian troops under arms.

The present proposal which the new draft bill embodies is for an army of 1,070,000 men by July 1, 1947; a naval force of 558,000, and 108,000 in the marine corps. A move to increase the pay of enlisted men and officers is making headway in the committee on military affairs.

Congress may yet have an opportunity to investigate the sales of surplus war property and uncover more of the abuses than has yet been possible. Why veterans, states and towns which have the priorities are not able to obtain TACTLESS. Some persons are tactless all the time. If they do not guard what they say, they are likely to say the wrong thing. Seldom anyone intends to offend with indignant utterances. Seldom anyone is able to please with every twist of the vocal organs. If one weighs every sentence before expressing it, he becomes stiff and stilted, and may convey suspicion of insincerity. People cannot be careful enough always to avoid saying something that had better be left unsaid. If one could think as well as he intends, he would be saved numerous regrets. The fellow who puts his foot into his mouth every time he opens it, goes to one extreme. The fellow who is too fearful ever to say anything worthwhile, goes to the other extreme.

supplies which congress intended by law to provide for them will eventually come into the open. The billions in supplies already sold or given to foreign governments are known, but the details of transactions still are lacking. Recently some war plants built in Canada at our expense were sold to that country for 12 million dollars. Their original cost was 59 million dollars. The Canal oil project, costing 135 million dollars, still is a military mystery.

In an emergency move to beat world famine, the government offered to buy wheat direct from farmers—at any market price between now and next April.

The offer to purchase will remain open until July 1 and is expected to break the hold-back which has resulted because farmers thought the news out of Washington indicated price increases in the offering.

The department of agriculture, announcing the decision, said the seller may select the date on which he is to be paid and report the sales on 1947 income tax blanks if he chooses to do so.

Some farmers have been holding up sales, it is believed, rather than put themselves in a higher income bracket this year.

Although food officials were generally hopeful that this purchase plan would bring in several million bushels of wheat, two questions remained unanswered: First, it will not be known until county reports are tabulated—for release April 10—just how much wheat remains in this country; second, farmers may be holding their wheat as a hedge against inflation and still be uninterested in selling as long as things to buy remain scarce.

Members of the Nebraska aeronautics commission spent five days in Washington visiting all federal agencies that deal with aviation, including army officials in the Pentagon building. Members of the commission were the honor guests at an official reception given by the air transport association which is headed by Admiral Emory Land. This association represents 23 air lines. The commission members are: Max Kier, Lincoln; William Cook, Beatrice; Donald D. Mapes, Norfolk; Clyde Sharrar, Omaha; and William Jessen, Ainsworth; and all made the trip to Washington.

Eighty-eight years ago, on October 10, 1858, Harper's Weekly printed the following commentary: "It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years—not in the lifetime of most men who read this paper—has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time. In France the political caldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty. Russia hangs, as usual like a cloud, dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried, and are yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indian insurrection, and with its disturbed relations in China. It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel an indifference—which, happily, no man pretends to feel—in the issue of events; Of our own troubles (in the U. S.) no man can see the end."

Application Is Denied. The application by the Arrow Stage lines of Norfolk to extend bus service from Fremont to Omaha, was recently denied by the state commission.

Has Tonsils Removed. Miss Kathryn Kyl had tonsils removed Wednesday last week in a West Point hospital. She spent Easter vacation here with her parents, the J. G. Kyles.

TURNED TO USE. The power of atomic energy, developed for destruction in war, is headed for peace-time benefits, according to an article in the current Saturday Evening Post. It may conquer disease, postpone old age and prolong life. Radar, created to serve in war, is being turned to large uses by the Bell Telephone Company in improving its service. Bell laboratories were devoted to perfecting radar and making it effective. The knowledge gained and techniques developed in the emergency are contributing to wonderful advances in communication possibilities. Thus, atomic energy, hurried to perfection to bomb enemies, and radar, employed to locate hidden targets, will now be used to help civilian life. Far from destroying they will preserve and enrich mankind.

Captain Walters Describes Trials Of War Criminals in Ludwigsburg

CAPT. Wayne Walters, with the Seventh Army headquarters, located in Ludwigsburg, Germany, is a member of the jury trying Nazi war criminals. The Ludwigsburg trials are a branch of the Nurnberg trials which are passing judgment on the guilt of higher officials. Capt. Walters has been in Germany since the first of this year and he expects to be there about two years more.

In writing of his work to his wife, the former Norma Fuesler, Capt. Walters says: "When the prosecutors get a case ready we try it. There are about 1,000 prisoners here waiting to be tried. Some will never come to trial because of lack of evidence against them, and some will be mass trials of possibly 100 persons. This is not the court that is trying all the big shots, but it is still very interesting.

"Everything has to be interpreted. A question is asked to a witness; it is repeated in German; he answers it in German; and it is then repeated to us in English. Most of these people won't answer a question but have to go into a lot of detail. One specific question was asked four times with the hope of getting a simple answer of yes or no, and never was it gotten. Apparently it is hard to interpret some of these court questions and get exactly the same meaning. Some of the answers we get are really funny."

Capt. Walters writes of some of the cases which have been tried, as follows: "We recently completed a murder case. I expected it to last two or three days, but we finished it in one day. We found the accused guilty and sentenced him to hang. It was a simple case. A flier had parachuted to safety after his plane was shot down. The accused had found him after he was already surrendered and in custody of a civilian. Without provocation, he shot him twice, once in the left side and once through the right chest. He didn't deny shooting but claimed the flier died from being shot in the head by a soldier later the same afternoon.

"We had another case, similar to the one just mentioned, but this was assault with intent to kill. Fortunately for the accused, he was a poor shot and struck the flier in the left arm. The flier had parachuted, again in this case, but his parachute got caught in a tree. The flier was hanging helpless, in fact mortally wounded from anti-aircraft fire, when the accused came running up and shot at him with a rifle. He pleaded guilty except for the phrase, 'intent to kill.' We found him guilty on all the particulars and sentenced him to imprisonment for 25 years.

Have Touching Case.
"We had a very touching scene the other day. We are trying a man who is 51 years old for murder. During the first recess, the defense counsel asked if his daughter, about 18 or 19, could come into the courtroom to see him. She hadn't seen him in over a year and is here now to testify in his behalf. We let her come in, of course, but I left at the same time, because I didn't want to see it. She will probably never see him free again unless a lot of good evidence for him comes out."
In a later letter, Capt. Walters stated that this 51-year-old man was one of the accused sentenced to hang. In reference to the man's daughter, Capt. Walters

To Wedding Celebration.
The young officers of about a wedding celebration to which he was invited. "The wedding took place at noon and everyone celebrated all afternoon and evening. In the evening, a large meal was served to 150 people. I couldn't eat more than half of what was put before me. During the evening, pie and sweet-breads were on the tables all the time."

Hunting, skiing and horseback riding are the main sports enjoyed by soldiers stationed in Ludwigsburg. Deer and hog hunts are sponsored by German hunters who ask Americans to participate. After the hunts, a big feed is usually given.

Plan Trip to Germany.
Mrs. Walters and Wayne David, jr., plan to go to Germany to be with Capt. Walters. The officer asked that they bring enough clothes to last for about a year. The trip will add much to the distance already traveled by the 18-month-old son. Up to the present time, Wayne, jr., has been in 24 states in the United States, having traveled about 8,000 miles. By going to New York, three new states will be added to the 24. Capt. Walters was the first volunteer to go from Wayne county.

OPA Forms R-353 and R-146 are available at the service office. These refer to temporary sugar ration and application for initial sugar ration books.

Individuals who desire to hire men or women for part-time or steady employment are again urged to contact the service officer so that a complete file of job opportunities in Wayne and vicinity can be registered in this office.

Memorial Flags.
Questions are asked as to how a memorial flag may be obtained for one in the armed forces whose death occurred outside the United States after May 27, 1941. Next of kin should take a copy of the death message to the local post-office and execute application form 2008. Sign receipt for flag and take it home.

Flight Training.
Regarding a veteran who received self-employment compensation and is taking flight training at the same time. The veterans administration states that it is possible for a veteran to do both, but the veteran will not receive subsistence for the flight training.

Change of Address.
The consumer goods sales section and the certifying unit of the War Assets Administration have been moved from 1416 Douglas St. to 601 WOW Building. All contacts for the purchase of surplus goods or for certification of veterans should be made at 601 WOW Building, Omaha.

Arrears of Pay.
Any veteran claiming pay believed due him or her at date of discharge may file Form 2034—General Accounting Office. Available at service office.

Surplus Property.
When congress framed the laws for the disposal of surplus property, 30 per cent of materials were earmarked for priority clients. Veterans were among those allowed preference. Unfortunately the plan has failed miserably for the veterans. Figures reveal that the veterans have been able to buy but one-third of the property declared surplus. Surplus property seems to be ending up in the hands of others than those of veterans.

Pensions.
Pensions paid by the veterans administration for all wars hit an all-time high. On February 28, 1946, the figures reveal that 2,168,966 veterans are on the pension list. Of this total, 1,312,453 have been added since Pearl Harbor.

Insurance.
One out of every three veterans pays his first National Service Life insurance premium after discharge from the armed forces, and within six months the number dwindles to one out of every five, according to Harold W. Breining, assistant administrator for insurance.

The veteran should not be urged to convert his policy when he may be uncertain about his economic status. Further, he should not be urged under ordinary circumstances to date back his conversion policy, since this usually requires a substantial cash payment. If the veteran has extra cash, it is wise to put it into insurance, and the best way is to pay premiums in advance. Premiums paid in advance are discounted at the rate of three per cent compounded annually and unearned premiums can be withdrawn at any time by the insured. If the policy matures before all premiums are due, the beneficiary is paid the unearned premiums in addition to any other amount payable.

In the five years that National Service Life insurance has been in effect, more than 18,000,000 insurance contracts have been issued.

totaling more than $144,000,000.00 of life insurance protection.

Q. Are honorably discharged members of the WAAC entitled to the same GI Bill benefits as members of the WAC?
A. Members of the WAAC are not eligible for any veteran's benefits except hospitalization and burial. Veterans of the WAC are eligible for all veterans' benefits.

Anyone interested in the purchase of confiscated firearms should contact Wm. A. Lerner, Wayne county service officer, for details, before April 27.

What is your GUESS? on our profits...

SOMETIMES, although an idea is wrong, it does no harm. Like the idea that a square jaw is the sign of will power. That winters aren't as severe as they used to be, or that red hair denotes quick temper.

But there are other wrong ideas, which are definitely harmful to public confidence in and understanding of industry. One such idea is the current "guessing" about profits made by large business organizations.

Many people are apt to grossly exaggerate the money made by business. So Opinion Research Corporation (an independent organization) made a survey to learn just what the public thinks about profits. Compare these guesses and yours with the International Harvester profit figures given below.

Public guess on war profits . . . 30.0%
I H four year average profit . . . 4.9%

In this survey, the average of the guesses by the public of the war-time profits made by industry was . . . thirty per cent (30%).
But in the four war years of 1942, 1943, 1944, and 1945, the profits of International Harvester Company averaged only . . . 4.9% on sales. Less than one sixth of what the general public "guessed" for all industry.

For this period, the year by year per cent of profits on sales was 1942-7.34, 1943-5.59, 1944-3.95, 1945-3.93.

Public guess on peace profits 18.0%
I H four pre-war average profit . . . 7.17%

In the four peace years of 1938, 1939, 1940, and 1941, the profits of International Harvester Company averaged . . . 7.17%. This is well under half of what the public "guessed" for all industry.

Majority think fair profit in normal times is . . . 10%
I H ten-year average is less than 7%

rate of profit in normal times. Many large businesses, including ourselves, would consider it a banner year if we could reach this figure. Our average profit for the last ten years—four war and six peace—was 6.43%—more than a third less than what the public considers fair.

All these figures show that our profits are not high. As a matter of fact, the entire farm machinery industry is a low profit industry. In 1944, the Federal Trade Commission published a list of 76 industries ranked in order of their ratio of profits to sales. The farm machinery industry was 57th on the list.

When the War ended and we planned our peace-time production, we had hoped to be able to serve our farmer customers at the same level which has held since 1942, regardless of war-time increases in costs of wages and materials up to that time. But recent developments have forced a change in our plans.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER

Wages and materials consume nearly all of every dollar Harvester takes in from sales. A Government board has recommended and the Company has agreed to pay a general wage increase of 18 cents per hour for Harvester factory employees. The Government has also allowed price increases on raw materials which we purchase in large quantities. Steel has had an average increase of 8.2%.

There has been no general increase in our prices since they were frozen by the Government early in 1942.

So our situation today is that what we BUY costs us 1946 prices. We will be paying average hourly wages 56% above 1941. For what we SELL, we get only 1942 prices. This condition cannot long be met out of our present low rate of profit.

It is plain that price relief will be needed to meet the increased wage and material costs which we must carry.

We regret this necessity. We prefer to lower prices, when possible, rather than raise them and we know our customers prefer to have us do that. We had hoped to be able to "hold the line," at least.

But we do not see how we can avoid operating at a loss if our prices continue to remain at their present frozen levels. We will prefer to "cut corners" on any of our products, because QUALITY IS THE FOUNDATION OF OUR BUSINESS.

Our customers can be certain that we will seek no more than a moderate profit, both because of our policies and because we have approximately 800 competitors fighting us vigorously for your business. Our request for price relief will be no more than is necessary to insure continued service to our customers, continued service to our employees, and a reasonable return for our stockholders.

You old-timers will remember this sturdy, rugged work shoe with the strong steel arch which gave day-long support and comfort to hard-working feet. We sold thousands and thousands of pairs before the war. Now we have it again to add value to your shoe budget dollars. Our only regret is, that we are not going to have enough to supply everyone right away. Leather is still scarce, and allotments still limited. However, the situation is improving right along and we will eventually have an ample stock to take care of all your needs.
