Value in Crises THERE is one crisis after another in the affairs of a nation as well as in the life of an individual. Without the stimulus of a series of crises, life would become unbearably dull.

The boy or girl in school suffers a crisis when convinced of an unfair deal. The young man doesn't succeed in capturing the girl he thinks he wants, and the young woman is grieved because a favorite young fellow doesn't fall for her.

Nations are in the same boat on a larger scale. For instance, the United States is constantly trying to straighten out diplomatic tangles and satisfy rival units without surrendering too much to be safe.

Hope Is Revived AFTER a hard experience in resisting drought, rain came to the relief of growing corn over the week-end. Fields had looked wonderfully promising.

Three previous years have had drier Julys than this year. And in each of them the yield of corn was determined by what happened after August 1.

Washington, D. C., August 1, 1946 The house committee on flood control approved a resolution proposed by the Third district member to authorize and direct the army engineers to make a survey of the Omaha creek watershed in Thurston and Dakota counties to lead to recommendations in the interest of drainage and flood control along Omaha creek.

Strange as it may seem, republicans in the house of representatives have often been in the majority in the week preceding adjournment. About 180 house members left Washington in advance of adjournment and quorum calls at the beginning of the last week of the session showed 127 republicans and 120 democrats present.

Edwin A. Sabin, formerly of Bloomfield, is now authorization office of veterans' administration in Manila, Philippine Islands. He writes the Third district office that he has been made an officer in the Philippine National Volunteers.

E. L. Stancliff, once manager of the Crete mills, has resigned his position as director of the office of field operations, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce. He is succeeded inch of July moisture, the crop was fair because more than three inches of rainfall came in August. The 1936 crop was very short as less than two inches of water fell on it in August."

Fly Rest FLIES are not only an abominable nuisance and a menace in the distribution of disease germs, but they cut down milk and beef production if not prevented by due safeguards.

Russia should do something occasionally to show its good intentions, if it has any. Its deceit is too apparent to fool even a child. It is plainly demanding unearned advantage.

Congress has adjourned after an unprecedentedly long and harrowing legislative experience. The demands of war and the burdens that followed it have weighed heavily on the Washington solons.

A Lincoln report states that Gov. Griswold will call a special session of the legislature to raise the ceiling on old age and blind assistance grants. Boosting the maximum from $40 to $50 per month would take advantage of an increase authorized by a recent act of congress.

The 1946 convention of the National Reclamation association will be held at Omaha October 9 to 11. Efforts are being made to have Secretary of the Interior Krug attend this meeting.

Here's what the price control compromise does: 1. Restores price and rent control until June 30, 1947, but with sharply curtailed OPA discretion, and divided authority.

Looking at the picture of the flooded business district in Plymouth, Pa., while contemplating moisture needs here, is like trying to satisfy an empty stomach by feasting one's eyes on a pictorial exhibition of steaming viands.

Among early-day reports is one telling of a run-away team of horses on Main street in 1912. That was about the time automobiles were coming into use, and the airplane was definitely on the way.

statement and conversion of National Service Life insurance. The house originally provided for full payment in cash. Then, the president recommended payment in bonds because of the excessive impact of full cash payment on the nation's fiscal and economic structure.

The house passed a bill giving OPA another 26 million dollars. This added to the $75 million given the agency recently makes a total of $101,000,000 that OPA says will be enough to run it until February 15, 1947.

The new atomic energy commission is already at work. Funds for this new agency come from the "Manhattan" project. Members of congress have been assured that the secret of the assembly and detonation of the atom bomb is in no danger of being revealed.

Farm machinery production is insufficient to meet the needs of United States farmers. Nevertheless, 50 million dollars worth of tractors were exported in the six months ending April 1, 1946, and 14,500 tractors are allocated for shipment in the coming six months to mountainous middle European countries where three or five acre farms are general and tractors are of little use.

President Truman has signed the rivers and harbor bill H. R. 6597, and the flood control bill, GEORGIA. The state of Georgia is a disgrace to the south—especially to the rest of the union. Its election of low-brow Talmage for governor on a bitter race issue was followed by the lynching of four Negroes on the flimsiest sort of ground.

Proposed (Continued from Page One) good reason otherwise to judge persons who have had the courage to seek restrictive measures for future liberty. We want to keep Nebraska out of the class too frequently dominated by labor radicals who have no ceiling on their demands regardless of consequences.

H. R. 6407. The flood control bill contains authorization for the following projects in reclamation territory: Missouri river basin under plans of the department of interior, $150 million, and Missouri river basin under plans of army engineers, $150 million.

Congress refused to appropriate three million dollars for the construction of a fertilizer plant in Alabama. Shortage in the supply of commercial fertilizer is the basis of argument favoring expansion of existing government facilities.

The 1946 convention of the National Reclamation association will be held at Omaha October 9 to 11. Efforts are being made to have Secretary of the Interior Krug attend this meeting.

Here's what the price control compromise does: 1. Restores price and rent control until June 30, 1947, but with sharply curtailed OPA discretion, and divided authority.

4. No controls can be imposed on poultry, eggs, petroleum or tobacco unless the board orders. In no event can the board reconrol these before August 21.

5. In addition, the board has the same broad power to order removal of ceilings on other commodities it was granted in the recently vetoed bill.

'PURGE' FAILURES. Highest political sagacity does not necessarily flow from Washington's political leaders. When the late President Woodrow Wilson was angling for party support, he broadcast a plea for a democratic congress.

Harry Truman jumped feet first into a bitter Montana primary to defend his old senate side-kick, Burton K. Wheeler, against a "smear campaign" and to testify on Wheeler's labor record. Wheeler, a 24-year veteran of the senate, promptly lost to Leif Erickson, a former member of the Montana supreme court. It looked as if the old axiom that it's suicide for a party head to interfere in primaries was still working but Truman, undaunted, served notice he'd "stump the country" if necessary to help retain a democratic majority in congress.

Games Next Sunday.
 David City at WAYNE.
 Tekamah at Wahoo.
 West Point at Fremont.
 Pender at Schuyler.

Convincing proof of Tekamah's right to leadership in the Pioneer Nite League was displayed Sunday evening under the Tekamah floodlights, when the top-spot team humbled Wayne's second place nine by a 6-0 count.

"Lefty" Conklin, Tekamah hurler, was well-nigh invincible, facing only 29 Wayne batters—two more than the minimum—during the nine innings. Although receiving only 11 strike outs, he held Wayne to three scattered singles while being given faultless support by his teammates.

Bud Best was decidedly off form in his pitching for Wayne. He was pounded for a total of 10 hits, before being relieved by Dickens in the 7th.

Tekamah's scoring drives were aided materially by poor defensive play on the part of the Wayne nine which committed six errors.

Tekamah started its scoring in the bottom of the 2nd, pushing over two runs on singles by Kranda and Conklin, and a double by Fitch.

It tallied two more in the 4th on Fitch's single and a pair of errors.

The loop leaders added one in the 6th on Clements' triple and singles by Smith and Wachtler.

Their final score came in the 7th when Smagacz, first man to face Dickens, connected for a tremendous home-run drive over the left field fence.

The box score:

Marry at Service In Laurel Church

Miss Eileen Werner Bride of Timothy N. Terry at Rites Thursday.

The marriage of Timothy N. Terry, Wayne college student, son of Mrs. Anna Terry of Meadow Grove, and Miss Eileen Werner, daughter of Mrs. Faye Werner of Meadow Grove, took place Thursday, August 1, at Immanuel Lutheran church at Laurel, Rev. H. K. Niernman officiating at the double ring service.

Miss Marie Beche sang "Because" as the couple marched to the altar and "The Lord's Prayer" at the close. She presided at the organ, playing the marches and soft music during the ceremony.

The bride wore a beige suit and the bridegroom a conventional blue suit. Mrs. Anna Terry and Mrs. Faye Werner were witnesses.

Mr. Terry recently returned from service as signalman on the USS Shipley Bay. He was in the navy 34 months, entering as a volunteer and taking boot training at Farragut. He was in the Pacific most of the time and saw action aboard the White Plains in the Marshall islands, Saipan, Philippines and Okinawa. He is now taking pre-engineering at Wayne.

Mrs. Terry is a graduate of Meadow Grove high school. The couple will live in a Quonset hut in Wayne.

Is Seeking Divorce. In a petition filed in district court July 30 Lucille Olson seeks divorce from Martin E. Olson. The couple were married in 1918. W. A. Crossland is attorney for the plaintiff.

Wayne Man Wins In Wisner Contest

Roy Langemeier's 1904 Maxwell car was one of the features in the Junior Livestock show parade at Wisner Friday. The car won the prize as one of the oldest cars in Nebraska in a contest in Omaha a few weeks ago.

Riding with Mr. Langemeier in the parade was Henry Becker of Wisner. Both were in black face and costumes appropriate to the age of the car. They won second place in the clown class.

Will Go to Coast.

Mrs. Effie M. Lund, who sold her home to Chas. Temme and who has a furniture auction next Saturday, plans to go to Los Angeles. Her son, Harry Robinson, arrived from Los Angeles Tuesday and his mother will accompany him home after 21 innings.

GROUND ALFALFA IS SHIPPED OUT

A good many cars of ground alfalfa hay have been shipped from Wayne the past few weeks by Lloyd Morrison of Salina, Kan. Mr. Morrison has a portable grinder here. He buys hay stacks at farms, grinds the hay, sacks it and brings it to Wayne depot for car loading. The ground hay goes to various parts of the country to be used as an ingredient in mixed feeds for stock and poultry.

In Search of Information.

W. A. Lerner is searching for information about a baseball game played between Madison and Wayne about 30 years ago, and any who know about it are asked to contact him. It is reported that the game ended in a scoreless tie after 21 innings.

Will Be Married At Wayne Church

Miss Alice Smolski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smolski of Wayne, and Fredrick Francis Reifert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reifert of Hartington, will be married at St. Mary's Catholic church here Monday morning, August 19, at 9 o'clock. Both were freshmen at Wayne college the past year.

Indians Visit Here.

A band of 41 Indians from the Pine Ridge and Roosevelt reservations was in Wayne Friday on a booster trip for the rodeo held in Norfolk Saturday and Sunday.

Robert Dale who attends school at Ames, spent the week-end with his parents, Prof. and Mrs. F. G. Dale.
