

Park Suffered from Too Little Participating Interest—Labor Unions and Agriculture—Balancing National Budget—As to Broken Hips.

A majority voted in favor of improving Memorial park, but not enough of a majority to reach the statutory requirement of sixty per cent. More than 200 failed to vote.

The Wayne proposition was perhaps approached with too little apathy on the part of too many. Of 3,000 inhabitants, it is probable no two entertained exactly the same opinions.

Hazards of travel on the highway for children were mentioned. It was evident that the bonds proposed could not include a swimming pool.

Next time clearer understanding should be developed, with greater citizen unity expected. If a swimming pool would be more desirable in the east part of town, that could be made a separate issue.

Stanton has fair grounds, swimming pool, golf course, community center and everything of the kind in one big park. Schuyler and Reed Point the same.

There has been no increase in fees nor in the cost of rooms," stated Dr. Good. "Income producing activities are so operated as to consistently earn a small profit and yet render services at extremely low cost to the students.

The army college training program was operated on a non-profit basis, yet payments were received for services and rentals. Dr. Good said that the use of Terrace during that time enabled the college to keep up bonded retirements.

Dr. Anderson raised the faculty rank in the North Central association of colleges and secondary schools from below the 25th percentile to the 88th percentile.

"Salaries have increased steadily since the depression low of 1937," stated Dr. Good. Total increases average $60 per month.

Farm electrification is an investment on the part of the government. It advances the necessary cash and gets it back with interest. Loaning and donating are in no way related in the practice of economy.

As soon as this area's broken hips get into shape to walk and put on a parade, they may be expected to organize a select club. Wayne could supply a fairly sizeable nucleus for a nation-wide organization.

SIXTY-FOURTH YEAR

Tribute Is Paid To College Head

Kiwanians Hear Messages Honoring Dr. Anderson Who Leaves Soon.

Dr. L. F. Good gave a tribute to Dr. J. T. Anderson for his years of service to Wayne college since 1935, at the Kiwanis meeting held Monday.

"Dr. Anderson's life has been so devoted to and so inextricably interwoven with the life of Wayne college that to say anything about his life is to give the history of the college over the past 11 years," stated Dr. Good.

Dr. Good enumerated and explained the number of achievements brought to the college as a result of Dr. Anderson's efforts. Among the physical improvements achieved through aid of WPA funds are the willow bowl, football field, landscaping, tennis courts, concrete curbing and sidewalks, and renovation of furniture and buildings.

Terrence hall was built in 1938 and the student-union building in 1939. The buildings were erected on a self-liquidating plan with some WPA money allowed for the student union.

Bonded indebtedness in 1935 was $105,000. Terrace hall cost $150,000 and the student-union $55,000. Bonds retired amount to $206,000, leaving $104,000. Approximately $9,000 is on hand for further retirements.

Interest rates have been successively reduced from 5 per cent in 1935 to 2.5 per cent at present, with a plan to go into effect soon which will make interest on the remaining bonds 1 1/2 and 1 1/4 per cent.

Dr. Good continued by saying that Wayne has one of the most beautiful campuses in the mid-west. "In spite of low appropriations the buildings and grounds have been kept in good repair and attractive. A few years ago Wayne was recognized as outstanding in its dormitory facilities among all teachers colleges in the United States."

"There has been no increase in fees nor in the cost of rooms," stated Dr. Good. "Income producing activities are so operated as to consistently earn a small profit and yet render services at extremely low cost to the students. The cafeteria and grill are operated at a small profit but at low cost to the students."

Honor Pioneers Through Service

Val Peterson Suggests Ways To Improve Nebraska in Years to Come.

The best way to honor pioneers is to show the imagination and faith they had, stated Val Peterson, republican nominee for governor, who gave the address before a good crowd at Dixon county old settlers' picnic last Thursday in Allen. "They did a good job of building. We shall have a hard time to equal or better their record."

Mr. Peterson enumerated ways to build a greater and more prosperous Nebraska, among these being the Pick-Sloan engineering plan for the Missouri basin, the development of chemistry for use of the state's agricultural products, soil conservation practices and sound political and economic policy.

The Pick-Sloan plan will irrigate a million more acres of land in Nebraska, control floods that take valuable moisture and soil, develop wild life and recreational facilities, improve municipal water systems along the river and serve other advantages.

Chemurgy finds industrial uses for farm products. Mr. Peterson explained that "if we made all the rubber used in the United States in the last 25 years from alcohol produced from grain there would not be one surplus bushel of grain. And we would have seen no such farm depression as we witnessed." Rubber is only one of 600 known articles made from industrial alcohol, Mr. Peterson stated. The Omaha farm crops processing plant alone uses immense quantities of Nebraska grains and potatoes for industry.

The speaker commended the soil management practices of the state. The greatest fertility of the soil is in the top inches and this is the state's most precious resource. Soil conservation that has been done has been very important but much more can be accomplished in this line, Mr. Peterson is confident.

Nebraska's sound political and economic policy has attracted national attention and Mr. Peterson believes in its continuation. For instance, Nebraska college of agriculture has been worth hundreds of millions of dollars to the people and Mr. Peterson is certain that it can become much stronger. He is ambitious to see Nebraska have an agricultural college as good and as strong as the Ames college is in Iowa. This is but one of the ways of helping Nebraska become greater and more prosperous.

Wakefield Junior Legion team defeated Allen Junior Legion, 18-2, in a seven-inning game played as a feature of the picnic. Tilt pitched and Kruse caught for Wakefield, and Sorenson pitched for Allen. Miss Leola Grimm sang several vocal selections at the celebration. Betty Conner played a clarinet solo. Both girls were accompanied by Miss Vena Green. At the request of early settlers, the Legion will hereafter have charge of the picnic.

TRIBUTE IS PAID—

Anderson's character on Wayne college. He said that the high standards set for Wayne college pupils and teachers were greatly appreciated by parents of the students.

Dr. Anderson Responds.
Dr. Anderson expressed his appreciation for the praise given him and gave a farewell to the Kiwanis club. He mentioned that he had enjoyed the fellowship and friendship with the Kiwanis club in Wayne.

Dr. Anderson related some of the proposals he had hoped to accomplish. The stadium he had mentioned. A library and auditorium combined was another. Dr. Anderson asserted that Wayne college has the best library of books but a new building is needed. He had planned an auditorium over the library. Dr. Anderson has presented the plans for such a building to the normal board and hopes that such a plan can be carried out.

Another proposed improvement is a new industrial arts building where physical education and industrial arts for men would be given. The present industrial arts building would be used for physical education for women.

Dr. Anderson would like to change the name from Wayne State Teachers College to Nebraska State College at Wayne. Such a change would attract more students for courses other than teaching. Along with the name change would be the hope of granting a liberal arts degree.

Because teaching standards are being raised and with the probability that a master's degree will be a requirement for high school teachers, Dr. Anderson believes that Wayne college should grant such a degree.

Dr. Anderson concluded his talk by saying that public opinion is a strong point. "If public opinion is created in the right direction, it is good in that direction. The Kiwanis club should continue to aid Wayne college to grow and expand."

Forty-two members were present. Dean McGinn had two guests, Dr. V. P. Morey and Dr. W. G. Ingram. Dr. Ingram took moving pictures of Kiwanians as they left the meeting and these will be given to Dr. Anderson.

Darkened World

IN Nation's Business, Felix Morley points out the pathetic condition of the world and especially of Europe. He quotes Prof. Arnold Toynbee, research professor of international history of the University of London, who warns against the disintegration of western civilization. Morley says European nations are completely shattered—"broken in a moral as well as in a material sense, to the extent that if the choice of deserting Europe to settle in America were offered to any 100 Europeans, chosen at random, probably 99 of them would leap at the opportunity, yet only a century ago 99 per cent would have chosen to stay put."

The torch to lead the world to salvation is in the hands of the United States—most fortunate country in the world. Faith in human nature is mentioned as the force behind world leadership, and the author does not say whether this country has faith because it is fortunate, or whether it is fortunate because it has faith. Morley emphasizes the value of self-control above state control, the importance of self-reliance and self-assertion.

As suggested, dangers right now are over the slavery of communism on the one hand and the freedom of democracy on the other. Utter subordination to government as demanded by Russia, or emancipation from government as supported by the United States, must be settled by sensible compromise to avoid another armed conflict which would push the world farther into darkness. Morley quotes these words of hope from Herbert Hoover:

"The jeopardy to mankind by famine gives to us an opportunity to change the energies of the world from killing to saving life. These months can bring the glow of a new faith, and a new hope for the dawn of a new era, to mankind."

Morley concludes: "Magnificent is the potential destiny of a free republic which is in the emergency guided by its traditions, its resources, its humanitarianism and its leadership, to lift the saviour's torch."

Maupin Writes

AN ARTICLE in last week's Herald anent the proposed constitutional amendment to modify labor union powers in Nebraska, and prompted by a query from W. M. Maupin, brought from that worthy old-timer a long communication—too long to reproduce verbatim.

Maupin disclaims sympathy for wrongs committed by labor radicals, but apparently condones them by trotting out long-ago injustices practiced on labor by fat corporation heads. We were not in sympathy with impositions on labor when labor organizations were weak, nor are we now in sympathy with undue labor union endeavors to impose on weakened industry and indirectly on the helpless public. We shrink from the evident attempt to capture the reins of government and enforce a controlled economy.

Maupin scratches the remote past to find evils in industry, seemingly to justify modern labor union encroachments. He grants wrongs in present-day labor union methods, and just as readily, we grant old-time injustices in big employing institutions. We criticized the power thirst of bygone plutocrats, as we now criticize the rising threat of the CIO-PAC combination.

As to freedom of work, upheld by Mr. Maupin—truckers trying to enter New York City some years ago to market farm produce were prevented from doing so because they did not belong to the union. That interference is one of many examples to show forcible denial of the right to work in free America.

We think Maupin is as critical of organized labor's wrongs as we are, but he does not see the need of curbs as we do.

To Insure Peace

THE terrible consequences of a third world war led the Sioux City Journal to stress the need of preparedness to warn other nations and to insure permanent peace. It says in conclusion:

"The United States, the foremost industrial nation in the world, possessed of the greatest technique and skill and familiar with scientific truths that long have been applied in metallurgy, engineering and the like, ought to continue without letup the development of equipment for offensive and defensive war, staying ahead as it were of all others as long as our head start on them makes that possible. For we Americans do not and cannot know what lies ahead, whether it is to be an era of unbroken peace or one disturbed by a push button war such as the world now sees is already here. If a war should come again and we still led the way we'd have a chance to survive. Moreover, the greater progress we make in this field the more, perhaps, we may be able to impress other nations with the idea that the wise thing for them and for us is to make the peace permanent and positive."

President Truman's joy over defeating his source of party discord for a congressional renomination in Missouri may reasonably be expected to end in the election of a republican in November. It seems Congressman Slaughter did not travel along with the president. The latter marked him for defeat, and succeeded. The winner, Enos A. Axtell, who had the backing of the CIO-PAC and the Pendergast machine of Kansas City, will be opposed by Albert L. Reeves, jr., republican. Both contestants are war veterans.

On his return from a world-girdling trip, Senator Hugh Butler of Nebraska, expressed the conviction that all members of the house and senate should contact other nations and peoples, the better to understand conditions and the more wisely to act in shaping interlational policies.

Sickening fanfare in the execution of criminals is offered by Columnist Philip Wylie as proof of our lack of civilization. If necessary to due punishment, an execution should not be made the occasion of a sensational show.

The Chicago Journal of Commerce predicts a doubling of college enrollments everywhere in America as one desirable consequence of the war. The college in Wayne should and will be on the alert to acquire its share.

In the absence of known causes for polio, the Central City Nonpareil suggests getting rid of flies and practicing greater cleanliness as preventives. Both suggestions are sound even if they relate in no way to the dread disease.

PROBLEMS OF LEARNING

(Norfolk Daily News)

A Nebraska City young woman asked a poser of a judge who had just fined her for driving a car without having a driver's license, though her mother was with her teaching her to drive. "Where can I learn to drive?" she asked the judge. "I can't obtain a license until I can drive, and I can't drive until I have a license." The young lady was born thirty years too late. We didn't have those technicalities in the early 1900's.

UNEQUAL EQUALITY

(Pathfinder Magazine)

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes once said: "It will need more than the 19th amendment to convince me that there are no differences between men and women, or that legislation cannot take those differences into account."

Holmes' philosophy still prevailed when the Senate defeated, 38 to 35, a proposal to submit to the state a constitutional amendment to guarantee equal rights for women under the law.

The same proposal has been introduced in every Congress since 1928 but never before received a vote.

One argument against it is that the proposal would create chaos by wiping out state laws protecting women.

'A CITY IN RUSSIA'

(Omaha World-Herald)

According to a story that has been going the rounds, a native German in the Russian zone of Germany asked a Soviet official:

"What is the meaning of this word UNRRA that is stamped on all the supplies we have been getting?"

"UNRRA?" repeated the Russian, "Why UNRRA is the name of a city in Russia where all these things are made."

The story may be pure fiction but it illustrates a basic truth.

UNRRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration) was set up in the days when it was hoped and expected that the United Nations would be an effective agency. On that assumption the United States contributed 72 per cent of UNRRA's funds—which means approximately 72 per cent of UNRRA's supplies.

But as matters turned out, this child of the United Nations was put to work in a world still divided by power politics. It was put to work, among other places, in the vast areas which lie behind Soviet Russia's iron curtain. And in those areas, it goes without saying, Russia received credit from the people for distributing relief supplies which were 72 per cent American.

There is another angle to UNRRA which long has galled Americans.

Russia maintains in its zone in Germany an army estimated at 700 thousand men. To a considerable extent these troops "live off the land." That is, they eat German food. As a consequence there is not enough food left to meet the minimum needs of the German people. So UNRRA feeds them.

It adds up to this: The United States, through its 72 per cent contribution to UNRRA, is helping to maintain a huge Red army in Germany, Austria and the satellite countries—an army far larger than Russia needs or ever will need for mere occupation duty.

Those are among the reasons why the United States has withdrawn its support from UNRRA, which is now scheduled to pass out of existence this fall.

No doubt the United States will continue to care for the displaced persons in territory over which it has accepted jurisdiction. No doubt it will continue to do what it can to combat starvation, the world around. But it will do so in its own name, not in the name of a United Nations which—temporarily, let it be hoped—has been elbowed aside by power politics.

CORN.

A drive at the close of the week to Norfolk by way of Pileger and back by way of Hoskins and Winside revealed a wealth of good corn. Pastures were usually green. Few heat-damaged corn fields appeared on the stretch between Wayne and the junction fourteen miles south and on to Norfolk. Corn from Norfolk to Wayne along the north highway was spotted. One field was green, the next one burned. We are informed that the crop on ground recently enriched by clover suffered most. But the corn generally showed more promise than could have been expected from too prolonged drouth. Aside from some fields that have been hurt and will have to be used in the shape of silage, an occasional rainfall in August will insure an abundance of good corn. This is greatly needed.

THE PEOPLE'S INTEREST

(Norfolk Daily News)

The feeling that, because there are no major work stoppages at the moment, labor relationships are smoothing out and an era of peace coming on, is slightly jarred by certain happenings of the last few days.

A New York dispatch of yesterday, for example, tells of new tactics in a dispute between a CIO union and Press Wireless, Inc. In order to force other communications agencies to bring pressure to bear on Press Wireless, the CIO union placed a ban on all press messages from abroad. This left correspondents in Europe but one way to move their dispatches—the telephone.

The CIO union is thus using what amounts to censorship as a weapon in order to compel a settlement between about 300 workers and one employer. The distribution of news from overseas is at the mercy of a few men. The right of the newspapers to publish and the people to read what is going on across the ocean is interrupted as a result of a dispute over wages or working conditions. This CIO organization, we believe it will be generally conceded, is going beyond reason in trying to force an acceptance of its demands by this means.

Another strike which has had little publicity, but which has rather far-reaching effects has been called in several cities by the International Typographical union. In their dispute with the commercial printers in Chicago, and Washington, D. C., and we believe in some other cities, the printers not only insist that their employers adopt the constitution and rules of the union as a part of the contract, they push their wage demands far beyond what seems a reasonable level. They insist they will not go back to work until a basic wage of $3.02 an hour is granted. And they go further with demands for, not double time, but triple—$9.06—for holidays, if they work. And when they go on their three weeks vacation, they insist on receiving double time, or $6.04 an hour for the full period.

Strikes have reduced the output of General Motors by 1,000,000 cars and there were on August 1 strikes in ten supplier companies which were still holding up auto production and throwing men out of jobs.

Has the public an interest in these things?

The public is the victim, because it is the public who pays the bill, and it is the public that has to go without automobiles.

When union spokesmen say we shouldn't legislate on labor matters, except to increase the power of the unions, they should have their attention called to these instances in which the people pay the penalty.

BANKS AID 4-H

According to L. I. Frisbie, state 4-H club leader at the agriculture college of the University of Nebraska, banks are cooperating on a larger scale than ever to give practical aid to 4-H boys and girls. Every effort to help 4-H club activities makes for better and more useful citizenship. With reference to bank support, Mr. Frisbie states: "Among the special evidences of banker help to 4-H boys and girls are listed scores of donations of baby beehives, dairy bulls for herd improvement, pigs and poultry. One bank presents $5 bills to all 4-H livestock purple ribbon winners at the county fair and many others offer special cash premiums. Loaning money direct to 4-H girls and boys to finance purchase of calves and pigs for exhibition purposes is common practice in many Nebraska banks. One bank has loaned money to finance the purchase of more than 600 calves, and another reports that over a six-year period of loaning money for dairy calves, beef calves and pigs, every loan made has been repaid in full by the business-like girls and boys who borrowed."

Loan Is Available On Crop of Oats

C. H. Gibbs, chairman of the Dixon county AAA committee, has announced that a loan of 48 cents per bushel is now available on the 1946 crop of oats. Oats grading No. 3 or better and having under 14 per cent moisture and which is stored in an approved structure, will be eligible for a loan. Oats must be stored in the bin 30 days prior to sealing and sampling. The loans will be available through December 31, 1946, and will mature on demand on April 30, 1947. Applications are now being taken at the AAA office in Ponca. Each application must be accompanied by a $3 preliminary service fee for each bin of oats.

Pressure Canner May Be Borrowed

A pressure canner is available at the county agent's office in the court house at Wayne for home-makers who wish to use it for canning corn or other garden products. W. R. Harder asks that those wishing to use the canner write or call several days in advance so as to help avoid conflicts. Borrowers from quite a distance are encouraged to use it with their neighbors for several days in order to save travel. No charge is made for use of the canner.

Grasshopper Bait Is Available Here

Grasshoppers are appearing in small numbers in some parts of the county, according to reports to County Agent Walter R. Harder. These small infestations should be poisoned this year. Poison hopper bait is available through the county extension office. This bait is ready mixed and is distributed without charge to farmers who use it for insect control. Farmers should notify the county agent in advance so that necessary arrangements can be made in releasing the bait to them.

CONTOURS AND TERRACES

Boost Crop Yields MORE than 30 per cent average increase in crop yields—that was the reward of 9,000 farmers recently checked on results of their soil conservation program. Terraces and contours were responsible for much of this extra yield. By holding rainfall, they provided "natural irrigation" for slopes. Almost all crops will respond to better moisture control. If you have sloping fields, farming on the contour, terracing or strip cropping almost certainly will pay you a profit. Terracing is no longer a job for engineers and heavy machinery. You can build terraces successfully with your regular farm equipment. Allis-Chalmers has developed practical methods of terracing, strip cropping, and building grassed waterways with your farm tractor and tractor plow. Norfolk Daily News: Randolph Midgets squared matters with the Norfolk kids Sunday afternoon by taking the big end of an 8-4 score in a game played at Ta-Ha-Zouka park. Norfolk last week won at Randolph, 6 to 2. Randolph scored five runs in the first three innings and were never headed. Left Fielder Hughes led the winners by getting two singles. Lindstedt and O'Day each clouted a double and single for Norfolk, and Slobodny collected a pair of singles. The visitors took advantage of seven Norfolk errors. LaClair, Randolph hurler, kept Norfolk's seven hits scattered.

THERE'S ONLY ONE WAY. (Norfolk Daily News) American taxpayers will join President Truman in the hope that the federal budget can be balanced the coming year, but they will have little confidence that it can be done. Before the war they heard annual promises from President Roosevelt that at last we were in sight of a black ink total on our federal accounts, and every year they were disappointed. This year, the advance estimates place the federal income at $41,500,000,000, an increase of $5,500,000,000, with an income of $39,600,000,000, an advance of $8,100,000,000. This leaves a deficit of $1,900,000,000, a decrease of $2,600,000,000, and the president has hope that the estimates will turn out so wrong that the deficit may be entirely wiped out. What put doubt into the public mind that federal finances can at last go into the black, is that there is so little disposition to stop looking for new places to spend money. Even the loudest talkers about balancing the budget, with one or two exceptions, are discovering daily some place where this amount or that should be spent. They are able to find so few places where really appreciable amounts can be cut out. The president, in his no doubt sincere desire to bring outgo down to income, will be plagued by his political friends who want to dip into the treasury. CIO, the American Veterans committee and others are thinking up uses for millions more of federal spending in the name of security. They want, for example, a federal law providing for the payment of $25 a week to every wage worker thrown out of employment because he refuses to cross a picket line. This might run up into billions. It would certainly encourage work stoppages that would still further delay the reversion of industry to civilian production and keep consumers waiting for goods they need. The way to balance the budget is to stop spending for doubtful purposes. Will congress and the president be able to bring themselves to do that? Senator Byrd, always a foe of useless spending, warns: "The largest peacetime deficit was in 1936, which was 4 1/2 billion dollars. Without rigid retrenchment, it is possible that the deficit this year will be twice that amount." "Rigid retrenchment" are the magic words.

trade was extremely uneven and $1.00 to $2.00 lower, the top for butchers $22.50 and for sows $20.25. Last week's porker top was $24.50, highest in history. ON THE Sioux City MARKET Except on feeder cattle, livestock prices worked lower Monday on the Sioux City market, with unsettled trade attributed to Decontrol Board hearings being held in Washington to consider restoration of price controls on livestock and meats rather than to the fact that a newly crowned Sioux City Sue and 22 other beauties visited the market and were photographed there by Life magazine. Slaughter steers, yearlings and heifers sold steady to 50 cents or more lower in spotty, uneven trade, with the day's top $27.25, a half dollar under the all-time high of $27.75 set last week. Canner and cutter cows were strong to 25 cents up, but better cows barely steady, with the over-all price range $8.00 to $14.00. Stockers and feeders, meanwhile, sold strong to a quarter higher, with 1275-pound Nebraskas at a new all-time peak of $21.00 and others at $19.25. The former top on feeder steers was $19.00. Feeding heifers stopped at $15.25. Hog

Pioneer Nite League Team Closes Regular Season by Defeating David City.

Wayne's Pioneers closed their regular season schedule here Sunday afternoon by scoring a 4 to 1 victory over the David City entry in the Pioneer Nite League. The victory enabled Wayne to retain its second place spot in final top standings and assured the team of participation in the post-season play-off which starts this Thursday.

Good defensive play on the part of both teams featured the game throughout. Although Wayne received only seven safe blows and David City but five, batsmen of both nines had little trouble finding the offerings of the opposing hurlers, but usually drove the ball onto the ground of the diamond. David City's infielders participated in 15 assists, and Wayne's men were just a shade less busy with a total of 13.

Wayne's starting pitching, Bud Best, received six strikeouts in the seven innings he worked, and was nicked for all of David City's five hits and the one score. Dickens, who relieved him in the 8th, faced only six men and struck out one. Heavican, regular second baseman for the Schuyler Pioneer team, was on the mound for David City and failed to strike out a single Wayne man.

The visitors opened the scoring in the top of the 3rd, running in their only tally when Armogast walked and went to second when Retzlaff caught Shonka's fly ball and threw wild to Benton. Burkholder singled sharply, scoring Armogast.

Wayne pounced on Heavican in the bottom of the 4th for three hits and three runs, enough to win the ball game. Johnson led off with a single. Retzlaff followed with another single, sending Johnson to second. Page hit a hard grounder which went through Hensche at short, Johnson scoring. Retzlaff moving to third and Page taking second. Weber was out, second to first, and King fled to third, to make Wayne's scoring seem almost at an end for the inning. But Best came through with a clean single, sending both Retzlaff and Johnson scampering home.

The last score of the game came in the bottom of the 5th. Benton, first up, singled, was sacrificed to second by Peterson, and scored when Hafemeister missed Retzlaff's ground ball.

Anibal Cassarino of Uruguay Gains Farming Ideas in Wayne

The similarity between Uruguay and northeast Nebraska in topography and farming operations is one of the factors that brought Anibal Cassarino here to spend four weeks getting new ideas to take with him to South America. The company wanted him to gain experience in one of the best agricultural sections so Mr. Cassarino has been learning about farm machinery—selling, servicing and keeping repair stocks. Mr. Cassarino arrived on his first trip to the states last December. He spent six months in Massachusetts, then came to company headquarters in Milwaukee and afterward to the Sioux City office. He was here four weeks and returned to Sioux City Sunday. After 10 days in Sioux City he goes to Milwaukee, Waukegan, Chicago, Detroit, Washington, D. C., and then to New York. He expects to leave New York in late October or early November by plane for his home.

Mr. Cassarino, with his father and four brothers, make up the firm of Cassarino Hermanos S. A., meaning Cassarino brothers' company, in Uruguay's capital of Montevideo. The firm was founded 80 years ago, in 1866. Anibal Cassarino, the only one of four sons and a daughter who is not married, has traveled extensively to gain new ideas for the family firm. He has been in all parts of South America and just before the war he traveled in Europe, visiting most countries there.

The Cassarinos have three companies. They are the exclusive Allis-Chalmers distributors for the entire nation and have had the agency for two years. Another company distributes automobiles, planes, bicycles and motorcycles, and the third deals in cattle and the dairy business. Mr. Cassarino came at this time especially to gain new post-war ideas in farming and farm equipment. Strikes in this country and in Uruguay have led Mr. Cassarino to return to South America earlier than he had planned; but he will likely make the 6000-mile trip again later.

Unions in Uruguay. Farmers are not organized into unions in Uruguay, but industrial workers are. The UGT, union of general workers, is the largest labor group. Strikes that have been prevalent recently and which now have been settled were promoted by this group. Wage increases of 20 per cent were granted. The union is not as powerful and not as rich as in this country. Mr. Cassarino believes that the principles of the union are good if the organization is managed by a conscientious leader who does not take advantage of his authority. The government-authorized wage increases have boosted the cost of living about 25 per cent since last winter in Uruguay.

Allis-Chalmers farm equipment is sent from Milwaukee to Montevideo. Some equipment is shipped ready for operation and other machines are in parts which are assembled there.

Feed Many Cattle. About 90 per cent of the farming in Uruguay is feeding of cattle and 10 per cent is cultivation of the land. Mr. Cassarino says that about 45 per cent of the farm work is done with machinery and 55 per cent with horses. Machinery is expensive because of the shipping cost.

Uruguay is on the Atlantic coast, and the country has rich soil and gently rolling hills, no mountains. Corn and oats are the principal farm grains that are raised, and much land is in natural grass. Wheat is more plentiful in Argentina, and Uruguayan ships in enough to supply its needs. Most of the grain in Uruguay is fed to cattle and the meat is shipped. Corn and oats yield slightly less than in this area, perhaps 45 bushels of corn to the acre, though Uruguay does not use the acre as a unit of measurement.

Cattle can feed all year on natural grass as no snow falls there. Though the climate is much like this area, winters are not so cold and summers are not so hot, due to the ocean breezes. Harvest is just the opposite from this area. The planting season starts in September. Oats are harvested in December and January, and corn in March and April.

Is Small Nation. Uruguay, the smallest of the South American countries, is about the size of Nebraska and part of South Dakota. The population totals about two million, and half of the number live in the capital, Montevideo, a modern city of European style. Buenos Aires, the capital of Argentina, across the river, 60 miles away, has two and a quarter million. Uruguay has a half dozen cities of about 90,000 population and the rest of the people live in small towns and on farms. Farms near cities vary from 250 to 300 acres, and those farther out range from 500 to 1,000 acres. The farming system is much like this state's. The land owner usually lives on his holdings and he provides housing for his helpers. Labor is cheaper and the cost of living is less in the country.

A couple of years ago the government voted a farming law which requires that the land owner insure his employees and pay a minimum wage. An unmarried man gets $30 a month and board and room. A married helper gets somewhat more.

Farm equipment used in Uruguay is the same as that used here, though often different models are selected.

Government Democratic. Uruguay has a democratic form of government. The president is elected for four years, and this fall the term of Dr. J. J. Amegaza expires. This president, who was elected in 1942, is one of the best lawyers in the country and has made an honest effort to operate the government well. As in all free countries, he is the victim of considerable criticism. Congress is made up of the deputies and senators, the two houses of about equal size. Each department, war, navy, agriculture, education, etc., has a minister at its head.

Fast Air Service. Uruguay is connected with the world by air and by steamer. Pan-American Airways have daily service to and from that nation. The trip by air to Miami requires four days and to New York five days. The country is also connected with London and other big centers. New ships are under construction in this country for enlarged steamer service between the nations.

Customs in the states and in Uruguay are basically the same. Only details differ, Mr. Cassarino finds. Meat is the principal food for people of Uruguay. Residents there have a light breakfast later in the morning than Americans. They have a heavier lunch between 12 and 1, tea at 5, and a heavy dinner about 9:30 in the evening.

The working week in Uruguay is 48 hours, fixed by law, with pay for extra hours. The usual time for working is 8 to 12 and 2 to 6. Two hours are given at noon as all go home for meals. The Uruguaians do not have time for sleeping in the middle of the day as is the habit in some places.

Have Free Education. Uruguay has an excellent system of free education. Mr. Cassarino reports that nation votes heavy taxes for support of education and practically all take advantage of the training. At least 90 per cent of the primary and high schools are free. Colleges and universities are owned by the government and these are free to all. The only cost is for board and room and books. Any who cannot afford books may use the free ones at libraries. High schools and colleges conduct free night instruction for those who are working during the day.

Colleges are specialized. The college of agricultural engineering offers seven years of theory and practice. The veterinary school provides six years of study. The college laboratories are available free and most farmers take advantage of the veterinary service. Many experimental farms are conducted. The best instructors available are in government schools.

Spanish is the universal language in Uruguay, but schools teach English. And Mr. Cassarino speaks a highly polished English.

Religious freedom is the rule in Uruguay. About 80 per cent of the people are Catholic, but Lutheran, Baptist and other denominations are found. The church is entirely separate from the government.

Soccer Is Main Sport. Baseball and football are not known in Uruguay. The national sport is soccer. British football. Professional leagues play soccer and national champions compete. Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay have the strongest soccer teams in South America. Montevideo's large stadium is packed with 60,000 for games, and crowds gather hours ahead of time to see the classics. Soccer leagues hire professional players at high salaries, and the international games are played at different centers each year. Basketball, tennis, polo and golf have some popularity.

In his travels, Mr. Cassarino has found conditions good and he feels that they will soon be back to normal. He likes the United States and thinks the people here are most friendly—but "there's no place like home."

Library News

The scientific influences of our times are reflected in "Current Biography, 1945," the guide to "who's news and why," just added to the reference collection of the library. Headlines news about the atomic bomb, radar, and DDT accounted for a marked increase in the number of scientists included, although many military figures and notable personalities in 31 varied professions are to be found in this yearbook published by the H. W. Wilson Company of New York.

One of our new books for vacation reading is "Skinny Angel," by Thelma Jones. It is the story of all people who strive to live graciously on soup-bone salaries. Being married to a school teacher was a great trial to mother, especially when that school teacher was so firmly wedded to his profession, lacked her own infectious sense of humor, and insisted on keeping chickens in the attic. Her parents had pointed out that being a schoolman's wife would be an education in itself. Mother found out that this was true, though scarcely in the way her parents had meant. Everyone loved mother for her gaiety and her plump beauty—though her plumpness was a trial which she accepted philosophically. "At least when I get to heaven," she often said, "I can be a skinny angel." It is this gaiety that readers will remember, this portrait of a fun-loving woman whose life could never subside.

Spoonhandle, by Ruth Moore, is another book now on the rental shelf. It is about Maine and tells a story as old as Eve, for it deals with the struggle between love and meanness of spirit, between human dignity and greed. In the Stillwell family you will find people who represent both sides of American life. Pete and Agnes, money-grubbing and careless of the rights of others and Hod and Willie who care more for peace and dignity than for money. Hod, who left college after three years because he "didn't want to become an educated darned fool," finds himself when he falls in love with Ann. And Willie discovers an almost creative joy when he befriends the orphan Donny, whose father was lost at sea.

Mrs. Walter Harder, the children's librarian, is taking her vacation this week and next.

THANK YOU

for waiting for delivery of your NEW CHEVROLET

We are doing our best to see that you get your new car as quickly as possible

We want to thank our customers and prospective customers for your friendly patience while awaiting your new Chevrolet.

We know it is a hardship to wait for needed transportation; but we believe you will understand that we, and Chevrolet, are as eager to deliver cars as you are to obtain them. Unfortunately, production so far this year is far under expectations. Chevrolet Motor Division sums up the situation thus:

"Even though our rate of production normally exceeds that of any other manufacturer, we have been able to build, up to July 1, only 12.4 per cent as many cars as we had built up to that date in 1941. Production is still far below normal, because of frequent shortages of essential materials and parts. Strike after strike at the plants of our suppliers has seriously impeded our progress toward full production, and the cumulative effect severely hampers every manufacturing and assembly plant. In June we were able to build only 29.2 per cent as many cars as we produced in the same month in 1941."

While production is restricted, so—in proportion—are shipments of cars to us. As production increases, we are assured of getting our proportionate share of the total—and as quickly as cars are received, we will speed deliveries to our customers.

Remember—Our CAR-SERVICE is your best CAR-SAVER. Keep your present car "alive" until you get delivery of your new Chevrolet by bringing it to us for skilled service now and at regular intervals.

Marry at Service Held in Bertrand

Miss Deloris Holthus Bride Of Howard Muller Sunday At Church Rites.

Miss Deloris Holthus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Holthus of Bertrand, Neb., and Howard Muller of Denver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Muller of Wakefield, were married Sunday, August 11, at 2:30 at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Bertrand, Rev. Mr. Matuschka performing the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Geo. Nelson, organist, played Mendelssohn's march and also accompanied Miss Phyllis Erickson, who sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer," the latter while the couple knelt at the altar.

Miss Holthus wore a white chiffon gown fashioned with a train. Lace edged the sleeves and the bottom of the waist. Her veil, trimmed with lace matching that on the dress, fell from a beaded coronet. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

Mrs. Donald Keiss of Kearney, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Her dress was of pink eyelet pique fashioned with fitted bodice, square neck and full skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Miss Elvera Holthus, sister of the bride, and Miss Ruth Elmeier were bridesmaids. They wore dresses of blue eyelet pique fashioned like that of the matron of honor. Each carried a colonial bouquet of asters and daisies.

Mr. Muller was attended by his brother, Emil Muller, of Wakefield. The men wore dark suits and white carnation boutonnières.

Marcella and Maxine Muller of Wakefield, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls. Their formal dresses were of blue eyelet pique.

Myron Monsiegger of Scribner, and Donald Keiss of Kearney, served as ushers and also lighted the candles.

The bride's mother wore beige crepe and a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother wore grey crepe and pink roses.

A reception was held at the bride's home. A three-tiered wedding cake decorated in pink and white centered the serving table on the lawn. Waitresses were Phyllis Holthus, Ardelle Pastenau, Marlene Suhr and Kathleen Matuschka.

The couple left for Yellowstone national park. The bride chose a tan mesh dress with copper-colored accessories for travel. After their trip, the young folks go to Denver where their address will be 511 South Sherman.

Mrs. Muller was graduated from Bertrand high school in 1942 and the past year had been employed with the Gates Rubber Co. at Denver.

Mr. Muller was graduated from Wakefield high school in 1940. He received his B. S. degree in mechanical engineering in 1944 when he was graduated from the University of New Mexico. He worked on the atomic bomb at Los Alamos, N. M., in 1945 and at present is employed with the Gates Rubber Co. in Denver.

Putting the heat on "busy" signals

Drops of hot solder by the million seal the connections on telephone equipment such as this. Before it can take its place with other equipment to help relieve today's heavy load of calls, a lot of intricate, time-consuming handwork must be done.

The building of equipment for civilian needs was nearly at a standstill during the war but now we are working without letup to make up for those years and to get ahead of the game, too.

To meet this pent-up demand and to expand and improve service requires a program that will cost well over $100,000,000... to be spent in the next few years in the five states in which this company operates.

This money must come, not from "war profits" — for the telephone company made none — but from investors attracted by earnings comparable to those afforded by similar investment opportunities.

Wayne Fire Department REQUEST

Members of the Fire Department are frequently delayd in answering alarms because of the congestion of telephone calls put in after the alarm is sounded. The telephone operator tries to give the location of the fire to members of the Department as they call in. Every member of the Department knows a code word which he gives to the operator and when this word is given the operator knows it is from someone entitled to the information. However, it appears that many people have the habit of immediately taking down their phone and asking central where the fire is. Central cannot distinguish between calls from firemen and calls from other parties. This many times causes delay in getting the information to the firemen.

We know we have a swell bunch of citizens in Wayne and that none of them would knowingly want to hinder the Department.

For this reason the Fire Department requests that no one other than a member of the Department or someone calling for them put in a telephone call for three minutes after the alarm is sounded. This will give members time to get the information and will help the Department in rendering better service.

Your compliance with this request will certainly be appreciated.

Your old car is IN THE HOME STRETCH

This new Engine Clean-up Program may be the one thing that will give it stamina for the final spurt

You're probably seeing some new cars, these days. And they're mighty welcome to the eye. For their arrival means your old one can be replaced in the reasonably near future.

But this last stretch may be the hardest one of all. Chances are the engine is dirty. Sticky deposits, long accumulating in that old engine, may suddenly clog the oiling system—with disastrous results.

To meet the situation, your Standard Oil Dealer offers a new, economical, five-point Engine Clean-up Program. It includes the use of two remarkable new Standard Oil Products—Stano-Purge and Stano-Vim—which do an effective cleaning job without requiring expensive dismantling of the engine.

New, Economical, 5 Point Engine Clean-up Program 1. STANO-PURGE—Purges crankcase and engine. Cleans oil screen. Removes deposits tending to clog oil lines and channels. 2. STANO-VIM—Introduced through carburetor air intake, it cleans out deposits in valve area. Restores pop, power, smooth engine operation. Treatment includes cleaning the air cleaner. 3. OIL CHANGE—Oil Filter Replacement. Fresh oil always helps keep an engine clean. A clean filter keeps the oil clean. 4. RADIATOR FLUSHING—Old engines need efficient cooling. 5. FAN BELT CHECK-UP—A worn belt is an untimely risk—if your car is old, chances are you need a new belt. At your Standard Oil Dealer's
