Most towns in the early days expected to become metropolitan enters. Like others with feet planted on solid ground, Wayne no longer has such an illusion. But it has reason to expect healthy growth, and continued development of its policy to serve well a steadily lengthening list of patrons.

Herald's Anniversary.

The present owner of the Herald ook possession thirty-six years or this month. We were used to adequate equipment, and so we were not discouraged by what constituted the plant. We soon installed a rebuilt linotype. In a few years this was displaced by a new one. Then an Intertype was added. We were bored by hand-fed machines. A new Model-A Duplex took care of the newspaper. Two automatic presses facilitated turning out jobs. The plant was modernized in all respects, and not a thing here when we came, is in use now.

We have tried through the years of justify generous treatment and fine sense of appreciation. We ave used our own judgment in andling the Herald's public series. nave used our own judgment in landling the Herald's public bolicies, and have endeavored to subordinate narrow selfishness to arge and, generally helpful objectives. We figured that what would unid a bigger and better community would benefit this newspaper. We still think so.

Times were hard in 1896—three tounds of butter, three pounds of beefsteak or three bushels of corn or a quarter. A laboring man was lad to get $1 per day. White-colared fellows squeezed along on little more. A national campaign was n progress. Grover Cleveland was not with the word was not be democrated and with the word of the progress of gold speech. The loopulists, given birth by calamious conditions, also nominated the boy orator of the Platta. We were too much engrossed in matrimony to pay affention to politics, but we remember votting for Wm. McKinley and attributing renewed prosperity to his election.

Reporting on the results of a national survey of bank lending in 1945 made by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Mr. Ley said that in Nebraska it shows that farmers use only a sixth of the bank credit available to them. However, 84.8 per cent of the 111.

The 423 banks in the state made 250, 472 loans to 94,934 farmers last year for a total amount of $316,43,000. On January 1, 1946, these blanks had farm loans outstanding of $71,457,000. On the same date these banks had $502,895,000 additional for agricultural loans had the farmers needed it.

tional for agricultural loans had the farmers needed it.

That the credit extended by the banks to their farm customers is a useful tool of agriculture is shown by a breakdown of these over-all figures, he added. Last year 84,307 farmers procured farm production loans in an aggregate amount of $300,472,000. Farm real estate loans were made to 1,322 farmers for a total of $4,569,000. On January 1, 1946, there were outstanding in the banks $60,205,000 in farm production loans and $6,377,000 in long-term farm real estate arm production loans and $6,377,-00 in long-term farm real estate oans. Loans on crops in storage nsured by the Commodity Credit Corporation were made by the banks to 9,305 farmers for a total of $11,402,000. A total of $4,875,-000 in CCC loans remained outtanding at the beginning of this ear.

ear. "The fact that Nebraska farm-"The fact that Nebraska farmers have found it necessary to use only a small part of the bank credit available to them indicates that they are in a far stronger financial position today than they have been for many years," Mr. Ley said. "During the war years farm incomes have been high and farmers have wiscly used their earnings to pay down debt and accumulate savings in War Bonds and bank accounts.

accumulate savings in War points, and bank accounts.

"The high level of bank assets and the high degree of liquidity of the banks assure Nebraska farmers of ample bank credit in the future to meet all of their needs. At the end of last year, Nebraska country banks had an average of cash and United States government bonds equal to 90 per cent of ment bonds equal to 90 per cent of cash and United States govern-ment bonds equal to 90 per cent of their deposits. By contrast, in 1929 country banks in this state had cash and government securi-ties equal to less than 37 per cent of deposits. The high ratio of liquidity is one of the most promisfinancial well-neing of our tarm community. Providing bank credit to meet the needs of agriculture for constructive purposes is only one of the services being rendered by the banks to their farm customers, Mr. Ley pointed out. Working with their state association and with the American Bankers Association's agricultural commission, the banks have been promoting a program which will result in many benefits to the farm community.

which will result in many benefits to the farm community. "One immediate aim of this program," Mr. Ley said, "is to prevent post-war inflation. The banks are encouraging their farm customers to continue to save through purchase of U. S. savings bonds, and avoid going into debt to buy farm land at high prices. The average price of farm land in Nebraska is now 37 per cent above the 1935-39 average. Bankers are watching this situation closely and are urging their customers to keep in a safe financial position.

ing their customers to keep in a safe financial position.

"For the long-term, the banks are encouraging farmers to engage in well-rounded and diversified farm production, and are placing particular emphasis on conservation of the productivity of the soil. Another part of this program is concerned with the education of farm youth through sponsoring activities of 4-H clubs and Future Farmers."

RECENTLY in Tennessee Political

Upsetting
The young men took over, cleared away the barnacles and introduced a program to reduce the government overhead.

Another political revolution is gaining promise in Michigan. A former Nebraskan, Kim Sigler, is campaigning as a republican for the government, and in the state's history. He goes into the small towns and rural precincts and tells voters what he thinks without any fooling. He spreads neither imagined (evils nor fantastic pledges. As politicians recover from the shock, they rally to his support.

Nebraska's democratic state convention last week witnessed a clash between youth and age. The latter refused to ease up on controls, and the former lacked sufficient strength. William Ritchie, old-timer who won the state chairmanship, tried to placate the youngsters by distributing important appointments among them. Ritchie is a political dynamo, but he has what would seem a hopeless task in trying to reunite divided ranks and modify the blunders of the national administration.

Young persons both north and south evi-

Young persons both north and south evidently propose to have an influential hand in politics with determination to help shape state and national policies. Their willingness to accept responsibility would appear to promise well for the future.

HOW to avoid be

Emotional

Ups and Downs

ceived from Bass River, Cape Cod, Mass. Reasoning is based on the power of the mind for good or ill. Emotions with disturbing influences, like anger, sorrow, fear, worry, envy, malice, Seclusiveness, faintheartedness, pedantry, boastfulness, servility, moodiness are mentioned as contributing to mental and physical weakness. Best endeavors are prevented by distressing emotions. On the other hand, cheerfulness, joy, laughter, sympathy, understanding, modesty and other similarly pleasing emotions stimulate vigor and fortify endurance.

The author might well have added that disagreeable emotions not only aggravate fatigue, but invite poor health and put beyond reach intended goals. We judge the author's idea is that cultivating emotions that uplift and dismissing those that depress and harass insure desired ends without impairing either mind or body. He would nurse good thoughts and banish unhealthful ones. His plan is certainly aimed in the right direction.

menacing soviet union to its senses. Russia talks peace while giving affront to other nations, including former allies in arms, making demands utterly in conflict with avowed pledges, and marshaling military forces in trouble-burdened areas. It acts in bad faith.

If Russia were not a brutal ingrate, wholly devoid of conscience, and indifferent to the world's miseries, it would cooperate fairly with nations that shared their blood and treasures when the world was threatened by nazlism. Secretary Burns and other trusted leaders are telling Russia what is what. They are taking ground that needs to be held firmly. The soviets must be made to understand that nations are not to be forced into communist slavery. A show of force is all that is within the mental grasp of Russian leadership. That could prevent another world conflagration.

A report last week-end stated that the CIO proposes to wind up existing strikes and prevent additional ones until after election. The idea is to restore quiet along the labor front and keep it so while smart leaders try to influence voters and angle for more power. This is an admission that wholesale work stoppages outrage the public which is struggling and hoping for normal production. But the interim of strike suspensions will likely fool no one. People have good memories, and they are not so dumb they cannot anticipate renewal of post-election troubles. Overwhelming defeat of CIO's plan to control congress and hog-tie the nation would be a valuable deterrent.

Wahoo, about the size of Wayne, had its first strike last week when 100 workers walked out of the poultry processing plant of the Blue Star Produce Co. Employers on the one hand and employees on the other disagree as to what was the matter. Plant managers explain they had been trying to do what the strikers contended had not been done. So, it would appear, the two sides see eye to eye and an amicable settlement would be easy. The first full-grown strike in a comparatively small community must be exciting.

Four drowned, many homeless and millions in losses from excessive rainfall in Illinois, across the Mississippi river from St. Louis, last week-end, contrasted with too little moisture in the middle west. Frost and nipped vegetation in Canada contrasted with the overheated Nebraska atmosphere. Like some other things, weather lacks proper distribution.

The Sioux City Journal notes extra-ordinary advantage to republicans if they could persuade the democrats to nominate either Senator Pepper or Henry Wallace for second place with President Truman in 1948. Evidently the Journal thinks either would bog down the ticket.

Chairman Robert E. Hannegan of the democratic national committee, charged republican members of congress with crippling needed postwar legislation. This would be disturbing if his party members were not clearly in control of both the house and senate.

To satisfy what was reported a popular demand in Merrick county, a rodeo and carnival are scheduled as principal attractions for this year's fair to be held at Central City. Response will prove or disprove the fair board's decision.

People of this area will be glad to know People of this area will be glad to know of state contracts to regravel highways leading to Wayne. In the past year, gravel on roads heteabouts had become exceedingly thin—little to see or feel.

ALL-TIME RECORD.

Despite damage in spots from too little moisture, the nation over offers prospect of an ali-time high in corn and other production. Time magazine contains this encouraging report: "The miracle worked by sun, soil, rain and the hardworking U. S. farmer was almost awesome. For four years of war, despite woeful manpower shortages and the hazards of frost, drought, insects and disease, the nation's farms had produced bumper crops with machine-like regularity. Now, in defiance of the odds, the land was heavy with crops once more. They were so prodigally good that the U. S. would be able to go on feeding half a world and still provide bigger meals for the dining-room tables of its own well-fed people. ""On the basis of conditions on August 1, the department of agriculture predicted that the total yield would exceed 1942's all-time high by 3 per cent. Most of the increase will come from record crops of wheat and corn. Wheat output is expected to reach 1,-160,366,000 bushels, 28 million

Wayne City Schools

Welcome Students!

Welcome Teachers!

The Wayne City Schools belong to you, Mr. Citizen of This Community. It is one of the biggest assets you have. It is being made better. For the first time in the history of the school, four high school teachers have master's degrees. In addition, seven have been spending the summer taking graduate work. Five grade teachers have A. B. degrees or the equivalent. Very few schools in the state can match these teacher requirements. Our thooks are up-to-date and our library facilities are excellent. The building is one of the cleanest in the state. Yes, Wayne children are getting the finest education possible. Yet, the best is none too good, for they are our citizens of tomorrow.

farming practices established by the early

The farming practices established by the early settlers of our country were based upon the management of virgin soil on farms of comparatively small acreage. Erosion was not a serious problem and when it was noticed, caused no particular alarm. Today, we are faced by alarming losses of productive topsoil—losses which cannot be regained but which can be prevented or reduced by practical soil handling practices which will insure the heritage for the future.

Why not discuss your erosion control problems with the county agent or soil conservation engineer?

Wayne Loses in Play-off Games

Local Pioneer Team Loses Two Games During Week To Drop from Series.

To Drop from Series.

Wayne's entry in the Pioneer Nite League was eliminated from the post-season loop play-off series by a battling Fremont team in two straight games during the past week. Playing the first game at West Point last Thursday evening, Fremont dropped Wayne by a 4-2 count, and repeated its victory play on its home diamond Sunday evening to win, 6-4.

The two losses climinate Wayne from any further Pioneer Nite competition this season. The team however, has several other games on tap for the remainder of the year.

Are you in the summer dolofarums? If you can't get away for that needed vacation come into the library and look at the new pictures of all the national parks and places where the lucky ones go on their vacations. These are exceptional pictures—three dimensional and in color—you will feel just like you had taken a quick trip yourself. If you would like to check out the machine and films for an evening, the whole family could enjoy them.

Good hot weather reading is found in The World In His Arms, by Rex Beach. It is a thriller in typical old Rex Beach style. It is a long time since this author has published a book but his writing has not changed. It may be that your reading taste has changed but if you used to like Rex Beach, thehances are that you still will.

Mignon G. Ebehart has written a new novel thriller called Five Passengers from Lisbon. This ran in serial form in a magazine before publication in book form but if you have not read it in the magazine you will like her new mystery.

Do you remember reading The Sun Was My Undoing, by Marguerite Steen? Or maybe it was The Matador by this author which you thought was such a good book. Now she has written Bell Timson and it is going to be one of the best sellers on the fall list without a doubt. The book shows the author to be very versatile. It would be impossible to say that this was a typical Steen book because there is no such thing. Each book she has written shows its own individual style and the subject matter and characters are so different that there is nothing to type as typically Marguerite Steen. The only thing the books she has written have in common is that they are all good books.

Number of Long Distance Calls More Than Doubled

Tremendous Load on Telephone Lines Makes Delays Unavoidable During Busiest Calling Hours

Long distance is jammed with calls. The volume of long distance calls is now more than twice as heavy as before the war and over 25 per cent higher than the war-time peak. Because of the great number of calls lines are so crowded that sometimes it is not possible to handle all calls

NEEDED EQUIPMENT ENGINEERED.

AND ORDERED Long before the war was over, we anticipated an increase in demand for telephone service and the needed equipment was engineered and ordered. The factories which produced only war equipment during the war, were promptly converted to peacetime needs and now are turning our more equipment than ever before—but they could do even better if it were not for the acute shortage of copper, steel, lead, cotton and other basic materials. Great amounts of equipment are need-almost everywhere and while this Company is getting its share, it will be some time before enough can be provided to take care of all requirements.

THE BIG NEED IS FOR EQUIPMENT-NOT OPERATORS

Our switchboards have a full force of operaty are working their fastest to handle calls. But vily volume of calls exceeding the capacity of the ards and lines, especially during the busiest hour, some delays are unavoidable.

Every hour of the business day carries a heavy traf of long distance calls. However, if you can make your lo distance calls. A.M. or after 3 P.M. they are like to go through more promptly. We are doing our very best to solve the problem but prolonged shortages together with the tremendous increase in calls have loaded equipment to expectly. As soon as our orders can be filled, we will add more equipment and more lines. Until then, we ask your understanding and continued cooperation.
