Mrs. Keith Speaks On Red Cross Work

Memorial Rites Conducted For Three at Women's Meeting Friday.

"Operation Recreation" was the theme of the address given by Mrs. John R. Keith, who returned recently after serving as Red Cross recreation director in veterans' convalescent hospitals in southern states.

Mrs. Keith explained that she and Prof. Keith wanted to perform some active service during the war. Prof. Keith went into Red Cross work and went to New Guinea. Mrs. Keith decided to do similar work and served in the states.

Much of Mrs. Keith's experience was in wards for polio patients. She dealt with men well on the way to recovery as well as those in wheelchairs and those who were helpless. A cheerful mental attitude is one of the most important requisites to recovery. Red Cross workers, grey ladies and hospital attendants aim to keep all cheerful. Those who are disabled have to make adjustments that are often difficult, but the men are exceptionally good sports through it all.

Red Cross workers plan special entertainment for patients. Picture shows are held twice a week. Games, parties and teas are arranged. Since it is found that patients' funds are usually low at the end of the month, the Red Cross plans a special party at that time.

Memorial services were conducted for the late Mrs. Clyde Oman, Mrs. Anna Juhlin and Mrs. Roosevelt Peterson. Mrs. R. W. Casper presented Miss Nell Fox who read the 123rd Psalm. Mrs. Willard Witse gave a tribute to Mrs. Oman, Mrs. Frank Heine to Mrs. Juhlin and Mrs. Leonard Strong to Mrs. Peterson.

Refresherments were served to about 100 by Mrs. H. F. Ley, Mrs. A. T. Cavanaugh, Mrs. A. T. Clay-comb. Mrs. C. M. Craven, Mrs. F. G. Dale, Mrs. C. A. Bard, Mrs. M. L. Ringer, Mrs. V. A. Senter, Mrs. R. D. Shalander, Mrs. M. N. Foster and Mrs. C. P. Lapham.

Three Wayne County Farms Entered In State Soil Conservation Contest

Soil conservation practices followed by Bernhard Spittiger, David Rees and Albert Watson are listed as entrants in the state contest conducted by the Omaha World-Herald. These were picked among more than 20 outstanding ones in Wayne county.

On David Rees Farm.

David Rees, who lives five miles west of Carroll, began his soil conservation farming early in 1941. He is a supervisor of the Wayne county soil conservation district, and if supervisors are to "practice what they preach" it can be stated without reservations that Dave Rees certainly does just that.

Soon after he began contouring, Mr. Rees realized that his slopes were too steep and long for contouring alone. He tried a few terraces to break up those long slopes and to date he has 8,500 feet of terraces built, with more to come.

Another soil and moisture conservation measure practiced on all the cropland is the proper management of crop residues. Stubbles are duckfooted or disced instead of plowed or burned. Mr. Rees is attempting to rebuild the organic matter in the topsoil since much of the organic was lost from the farm by erosion before a soil conservation program was started.

At Albert Watson Place. One of the dream farms of a soil conservationist is the 240-acre Albert Watson place four miles north of Wayne. This is one of the most outstanding soil conservation farms in northeast Nebraska and will prove tough competition in any soil conservation contest.

sible to keep stock cattle, milk cows and young calves separated, and green grass is available to all in the various pastures.

Mr. Watson finishes at least several carloads of beef cattle every year which use nearly all the grain and forage produced on this farm. This year an upright silo with a capacity of 190 tons was constructed next to the feed yard.

Mr. Spittiger practices crop residue management on all of his cropland. He duckfoots or discs his stubbles in the fall during seasons when no sweet clover has been seeded. In the spring this ground is again subsoiled tilled and then the corn is listed shallow in this seedbed, leaving some of the trash on the surface.

The U. S. marine corps office in Norfolk is urging all who are planning to enlist in the marine corps by October 5 to do so at once rather than to wait for that date which is a deadline for benefits under the GI bill of rights.

Because of heavy enlistments, the processing of men has slowed down. Applicants should enlist in sufficient time to have examinations before October 5.

Mr. Watson is showing the way to better farming practices on his entire farm and the success of his accomplishments makes his farm stand out as an example of that which is best in farming.

Mr. Watson probably has one of the best equipped and most efficiently operated farms in this part of Nebraska. He uses and produces some certified seeds almost every year. He has produced thousands of pounds of broom seed during the last several years.

never plowed but all tillage and seeding, operation are such that crop residues are left on or near the surface of the ground.

Mr. Watson and Mr. Rees have also experimented with mulch farming with good results. Information on this method may be secured from the county agent, the soil conservation office or the agricultural college in Lincoln.

Suggest Methods To Stop Erosion

Stubble mulch farming, contour farming, terracing and grassed waterways are probably the answers to the erosion problem in Wayne county, according to Dr. F. L. Duley and J. C. Russel of Lincoln, who were here Tuesday and Wednesday last week inspecting farms and fields on which the stubble method of farming is being done.

Five people had all words spelled correctly on the Friday test.

Second Grade News. The 2nd grade is busy learning how to keep well and how to know what we should eat. Miss Bearinger asked the nurse, Mrs. Palmquist, to talk about bodily cleanliness, proper care of hair, teeth and nose, proper care of hands and feet. All were weighed and measured. Health of the child has a great deal to do with his success or failure in school.

New Radio Series To Open Sunday

Official opening of the 14th Lutheran hour is set for Sunday, October 6, when Dr. Walter E. Maier returns to the air. "Bringing Christ to the Nations" rounds out 13 seasons of service to Christ and country. The new series of programs will be inaugurated in conjunction with a mass meeting held in Constitution hall in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Maier, professor of Old Testament interpretation and history at Concordia Theological seminary, St. Louis, Mo., has been speaker on the Lutheran hour since its beginning. He has seen the program grow from a small broadcast over two stations in the midwest to "the world's most widespread broadcasting system."

At present the Lutheran hour is heard in English, Spanish and Portuguese over 905 stations in the United States, Canada, and the following territories and foreign countries: Alaska, Argentina, Australia, Bolivia, Brazil, British Guiana, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Dutch Guiana, El Salvador, Ecuador, Fiji Islands, Guatemala, Haiti, Hawaii, Honduras, Mexico, Mozambique, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, Tangiers, Tasmania, Uruguay, and Venezuela. It is estimated that more than 15,000,000 people listen to the Lutheran hour each week.

The cost of so vast a program of gospel preaching is gigantic. The present budget calls for $24,000 a week, a million and a quarter dollars a year.

The Lutheran hour may be heard every Sunday in this territory over WJAG, Norfolk, KORN, Fremont, KFOR, Lincoln, KBON, Omaha, KMA and KFNF, Shenandoah, KSO, Des Moines, and KTRI, Sioux City. Consult your favorite station for time of broadcast.

The Larsons spent a week at their lake cabin when Mrs. Larson's brother-in-law, Chas. Ruoff, and daughters, Arlene and Beverly, of Sioux City, visited them.

LaVern Larson Clegg and her husband and baby visited relatives recently in Salt Lake, and Hanna, Wyo.

School Aid Bill Opposed by Group

County superintendents of District Three, meeting in O'Neill last Thursday, went on record as opposing the proposed eight million dollar school aid amendment on the ground that it is a long way from what is needed by Nebraska's smaller schools. They recommended that a school aid amendment should be worked out more slowly and carefully to supplant the present proposal which they termed as unsatisfactory.

The delegates agreed that there should be more than one final examination for 8th graders.

Miss Marie Wright of Wayne, was among the 15 superintendents in attendance.

Thomas Kerwin bought the McDonald hotel in Emerson from Mrs. Ruth Ryan.

"And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me."

Never has humanity needed more to be lifted above the glaring brutality of the hates, injustices, fears, sufferings and death of sinful life than in the midst of our war torn and tortured world.

The call to World Wide Communion first takes us back to a small bare Upper Room where a group of common men in the warmth of love and before the revelation of truth learned the reality of the redeeming power which alone is able to create new life and build a new world.

This year the Lord's Table shall be set by world Christians in strange lands and on far seas, in ruined chapels and within great cathedrals, in hospitals, under trees in the tropics, on cold wastelands of the north, in internment camps and prisons — everywhere praying that His Spirit may dwell within each one, giving courage, leading to victory, recreating, reconstructing, bringing lasting peace, binding and holding all races and creeds, all colors and classes in one great Fellowship — His Kingdom.

If New Yorkers don't quit misusing the city's troughs, says the ASPCA, poor Dobbin won't be able to enjoy a clean drink of water. The society's inspector of troughs reports he is always collaring folks washing fish; and some people use the troughs for laundry, leaving tell-tale soapsuds.

Library News

Fortunately the library had gifts from two sources, namely, Clifford Brown and Robert Bickert. Most of them are text books and just at this time, with more students using the library than in years, the gifts were exceedingly welcome. Included are science texts, both chemistry and physics, economics, American government, mathematics from algebra through calculus, and language books which are almost all German and French. We are sure these will be very useful this year especially and for many years to come.

If you are not a Reader's Digest subscriber you will be interested in the new anthology sent out with this magazine. It contains a selection of articles published over the past 25-year period which they considered most helpful to you. Personality development is stressed and all the articles are similar to those found in your Life magazine.

The Literary Guild October selection, "Lord Hornblower," will be interesting to those who have followed this series of C. S. Forester. If you are not one of these readers you will want to be if you read "Lord Hornblower." Other new fiction titles this week are "That Girl Jennifer" by Randall, "Christmas Hill" by Peggy Dern, and "The Heart Divided" by Frances Moore.

The new western this week is "Frontier Doctor" by Bradford Scott. The new mystery is "Matter of Policy" by Sam Merwin, Jr. Did you ever have the idea that you would like to write? Maybe after reading some of the late books you have thought that perhaps you could do that well yourself. But seriously, if you are interested come in and look over the book, "Writing Fiction," by Derlet. It is a stimulating and instructive book on the writing of all forms of fiction by an author who has written and published over 40 books and 3,000 shorter pieces in magazines here and abroad. He is editor of a book publishing company and teacher at the University of Wisconsin.

5 EASY STEPS TO BETTER CREAM - BETTER BUTTER - BIGGER CREAM CHECKS

- USE A NEW DE LAVAL SEPARATOR
A new De Laval Separator will skim cleaner... earns more... and cost less per year of use. It produces smoother textured cream, best for churning unadorned and unadorned. Cream tests do not vary. In short, a new De Laval Separator will quickly pay for itself and earn additional profits for years to come.
- KEEP COWS CLEAN
Clean milk and cream begin with clean cows. Keep the flanks clipped and wash teats, udder and flanks with a clean cloth and warm water just before each milking.
- COOL CREAM PROPERLY
Cream should be cooled promptly. This can be done by mechanical refrigeration or by a simple, homemade cabinet type of cooler utilizing a continuous flow of cold water.
- DELIVER CREAM IN GOOD CONDITION
Cream should be kept cool until delivered to the cream station or creamery. During warm weather covering the cream can with wet burlap will aid materially in keeping cream cool while being delivered.
- WASH SEPARATOR AFTER EACH TIME USED... IN 2 MINUTES!
Your De Laval Separator should be washed immediately after each time it is used. With the "wetting agents" now available at grocery stores and creameries it can be done easily and thoroughly in 2 minutes. Because of its design and construction the De Laval Separator is easiest to wash.

Every effort is being made to improve the quality of cream delivered for buttermaking. Poor quality cream cannot make the best quality butter - nor yield the greatest profit to the producer. Gravity setting and water separation methods waste butterfat and yield poor quality cream.
Observance of the five simple steps outlined above will result in better cream, better butter... and better income for you. Why not talk it over with us today?

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh.
Bert Childers and the Melon Patch
Bert Childers put an ad in the Clarion the other day. Here's what it said:
"Planted more melons than I can eat this year. Stop by and pick as many as you want. All free."
As you can guess, plenty of folks sent their kids over and plenty of the parents came too. Stripped Bert's melon patch in no time. And as they went away, Bert offered the kids to lemonade, and offered the grownups a glass of ice-cold sparkling beer.
Naturally it puzzled some folks... but Bert explains: "It gives me a kick to share things when I can afford to - whether it's the melons, or the lemonade, or beer. I guess I just like to indulge my whims."
From where I sit, if we had more "self-indulgent" people like Bert - who believe in share and share alike, live and let live, this tired world would be a whole lot better off!

In Early Wayne Files.

From Wayne Herald for October 3, 1930: A. B. Clark will modernize his residence north of the library. Wm. Roberts of Winside, received word of the death of his father in Savannah, Ill., in September, 1912. Gov. Aldrich is expected to visit Wayne.

Orl Beckenhauer of West Point, father of Wm. Beckenhauer of Wayne, died in September, 1912. The 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Page of near Wisner, died and was buried in Wayne in September, 1912.

Miss Elsie Miller and Ernest Ekerott were married September 30, 1912. Miss Marguerite Chace left for Washington, D. C., to attend school. H. M. Damm and daughter, Emma, F. M. Hostetter, Fred VanNorman, Emil Splittgerber and Perry Beneshoff returned from Van Tassell, Wyo., where they registered for homesteads. The state normal horseshoe team, headed by Dean H. H. Recorded in Ponca.

From Northern Nebraska Journal, Ponca, for September 16, 1886: Corn is worth 20 cents a bushel. Sod shanties will soon be a thing of the past in Nebraska. An amateur minstrel troupe was organized at Lyons. North Bend is investing in brick to rebuild a burned district. The normal school at Peru opened with an attendance of 200. The W. R. Wilson elevator at Stanton was destroyed by fire with a loss estimated at $7,000. Beatrice lost 20 business houses in fire with a value of $60,000. The most complete exhibit seen by visitors at the Omaha fair has been the display of Nebraska rain. Omaha's paved streets are being examined by officials from other cities contemplating the same improvement. Prospects for corn have increased in Nebraska, whereas the outlook is not so good in some states. Several families are starting out for Washington territory. New parlors and fans have arrived at Ponca stores. Several new buildings are under construction in Ponca. The fair takes place in Ponca next week and it is hoped that wind and rain will suspend during the time. Mr. Massey, the man who bought land along the river for a gold mine, is now working with a party of railroad engineers in the southern part of the state. It appears that the talk about extending the railroad from Ponca was all bosh. Big crowds are attending the camp meetings near Martinsburg. A good house and lot for sale in Ponca for $350. The ferry will operate between Dakota and Nebraska so residents from across the river may attend the Ponca fair, the round trip costing $1.25.
