

Hard Frost Nips Vegetation—Wonderful World, But Often Managed Badly—Vandalism—Celestial Show—Need of Home Comforts—Newspaper's Duty—Print Paper Up.

The first severe frost Friday night had held off long enough to avoid damage. At this late date, observers would usually say it has been beneficial rather than harmful.

Rains the past few weeks have reinstated this area in the moisture belt. Conditions in mid-summer led to grave suspicions. Without a ground-soaked autumn, the prospect for next year would have been gloomy. We would have worried all winter. When Aquarius turned lowest, our mouths turned up and we released our worry to give more attention to others.

The first hard frost is a foretaste of winter. Its effect on vegetation re-emphasizes nature's miracle of growth, maturity, decay. Its touch of death to leaves and foliage turns them into myriads of delightful hues. When snow drapes naked trees in white crystals, people will be aroused to admire—unless or until Old Boras sweeps in to upset the serenity of the landscape by piling up impassable drifts. Many think the autumn is the most thrilling season of the year.

Has Everything. The world is rich in everything needed by its inhabitants, but raw selfishness has often caused mismanagement and brought want and misery. Some nations in the grasp of designing tyrants have been sunk low in the scale of living. Thus, the innocent suffer with the guilty.

Everybody wants peace and means of security. Most persons are honest and intend to be fair. Some extreme radicals or crazy dreamers get in the way of sound judgment—sometimes threaten to thwart orderly processes. A pious, nursed thought offered to save free institutions may in fact have the opposite result. The masses with feet on the ground must be alert to head off dangers.

The world is no doubt planned for proper use, with a noble purpose, not at present clearly understood, but it has been made the frequent victim of fantastic ideas and bold schemes—apparently now an over-supply of both. We cannot afford to sleep at the post of duty.

Inevitable. Boys who deliberately killed six valuable birds belonging in Lincoln park, Chicago, suggest a serious problem in child thinking. Why did they do that? Had they been permitted to cultivate a desire to destroy? Had idleness become a risk and unbearable? Couldn't they have found wholesome play as an outlet for surplus energy? How much better for children to work and learn to take pride in profits than to waste time, and then express their emotions in vandalism.

Wonderful Phenomenon. Wednesday of last week witnessed a meteoric shower, coming from the tail of the Gochini-Zinnor comet which was making a regular trip around the sun. The brilliant heavenly show was witnessed and admired by many Wayneites, causing no more damage or alarm than the switching of a cow's tail. Said comet's tail was many thousands of miles distant.

Too Often Neglected. Aged persons who are sometimes too feeble and helpless to assert their rights, may become victims of indifferent treatment. Relatives may think they are serving well by chucking them in to a home or institution maintained for the purpose. In places thus available, even if comforts aplenty are provided, needed home atmosphere is usually absent.

Children have received loving care when it was most needed. After they have become strong, it should not be too much of a personal sacrifice to furnish their parents, now entering the shadows, the satisfaction of filial sympathy, besides the assurance of due material support.

Unpleasant Duty. This newspaper does not relish reporting crimes. It reports arrests reluctantly. It recoils from the world's tragedies and pains. Driven by sense of duty, it gives the public only bare facts consistent with due service. We profoundly wish people could be more careful, think before they leap, weigh possible consequences in advance, avoid unnecessary risks and hurts, keep out of the clutches of the law. Until the millennium—now seemingly far off—our hopes cannot be realized, and in the meantime we will have to assume the responsibility of dishing out enough distasteful news to keep the public on rapport with what is happening.

More Production Hoped. Last week the print paper price was increased $10 per ton—sixth raise since January 1 last. One compensatory hope snatched from the boost is that production will be stimulated and needed supplies provided.

SIXTY-FOURTH YEAR

Active Interest Need of Times

C. Howard Smith Addresses Chamber of Commerce Group Tuesday

The Chamber of Commerce must take leadership in informing citizens about government issues and in helping them take active part in affairs, in the opinion of C. Howard Smith of Minneapolis, who spoke to directors and national affairs committee of Wayne Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon following dinner at Hotel Morrison.

Mr. Smith, who is national affairs advisor of the department on governmental affairs of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, outlined present trends in national legislation and techniques by which local committees can effectively influence desirable legislation.

Mr. Smith received his education at Boston University and served in World War I. During World War II he was manager for the committee for economic development at Richmond, Va. The national office recently assigned Mr. Smith to the northwest division with headquarters in Minneapolis to serve six states.

Mr. Smith declared that the program of the national Chamber of Commerce for better government can only be successful and achieved when all of the people take an active part, since this is their government. According to Smith, there never was a time in the history of this country when business needed congress and congress needed business as today.

The 1,900 local Chambers of Commerce, member organizations of the national Chamber, have today active national affairs committees. They are charged with responsibility of bringing home to the people of their communities a very definite message. First, every man, woman and child has a dollar and cent stake in this government; second, the people generally must become better informed on national legislation; third, local Chambers of Commerce must help educate their citizens on these issues; fourth, citizens must perfect the technique of self-expression and then let their representatives in congress know what they think so that they, the congressmen, will be better acquainted with the business man's point of view.

Mr. Smith further stated that all must be better informed on such important legislation as writing an industrial peace program, revision of tax laws, government control of business, housing and social security. These are all destined to come up before the next congress which convenes January 3, 1947.

E. J. Keefe introduced the speaker. Others present were Burr Davis, A. V. Teed, J. H. Morrison, H. E. Siman, Dr. Victor West, Adon Jeffrey, T. S. Hook, W. A. Crossland, F. S. Berry, R. G. Fuelberth, R. M. Carhart and H. E. Ley.

WAYNE NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1946

NUMBER TWENTY-THREE

MEETING PROOF OF LIVE INTEREST IN PUBLIC POLICIES

THE large number gathered in the municipal auditorium here Friday night to welcome the republican caravan and listen to the visiting speakers showed gratifying interest in public policies. Evidence of live interest was doubly gratifying in view of bad roads, due to late rains. The candidates who spoke did not direct attack on opposing democrats. Rather, they were critical of an alien ideology trying to terminate into American politics in the hope of using an existing instrumentality to gain control. * * * The candidates, who were nearing the end of their long tour, showed effects from colds and strained vocal cords. But the country they saw and the people they met were informing and stimulating. They will know more about the state and the thinking of its inhabitants as a result. They will admit that the hard experience was worth while.

Religious Phase Needs Emphasis

Dr. O. W. Warmingham Gives Message to Kiwanians Monday Noon

Dr. O. W. Warmingham, who addressed Kiwanians Monday, represents the American Youth Foundation which works on two premises: That the personal life of each one should grow symmetrically to his best possible accomplishments; that each should strive to be a leader in whatever profession he chooses. Dr. Warmingham was brought to the college campus here this week by the YMCA, YWCA, Lutheran and Newman clubs for Religious Emphasis week. The speaker added that each should be a leader in spiritual as well as material phases of life.

Spiritual ideals are essential for real living, the speaker stated. These need to be revived occasionally. Some find themselves immune to education, Dr. Warmingham noted. These folks can be happy and useful by getting into some line of work they like. All people are not alike, though they should be offered equality of opportunity. Humans are similar and yet dissimilar, mentally, morally and emotionally.

Dr. Warmingham thinks that differences among people make them happier. Those who differ and yet find an interest in their differences can harmonize these diversities to make life interesting and rich. A sense of humor is also essential.

The speaker was introduced by J. H. Morrison. C. L. Pickett appointed Rev. O. B. Proett, Carl Nuss and Jean Boyd on a nominating committee to select candidates for officers for next year.

The 47 present sang "Happy Birthday" for Dean Clarence McGinn.

Free shows for children, kids' party, window unveiling and decorations for streets and business windows for the holiday season were discussed Friday evening when the promotional and activity committee of the Chamber of Commerce met at Hotel Morrison.

The committee voted in favor of trimming Main street with wreaths and festooning. An order for 500 yards of festoons and 30 wreaths was placed with a Denver firm. It is expected that this trimming will be up by Thanksgiving day. Each business firm is also asked to place an order with the Chamber of Commerce secretary for roping for display windows. This will be in addition to the street decorations.

Attending the meeting last Friday were Ed. Meese, L. A. Finske, Geo. Sheaff, Carl Nuss, A. L. Swan, Milo Dier, Myron Fisher and E. J. Keefe.

Two Lose Lives In Car Accident

Arnold Emrich of Wayne, Is Driver of Auto in Fatal Mishap Wednesday

Rev. Nicholas J. Neuberger, 47, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic church in Fremont, and Walter Martin, 52, manager of the Hammond & Stephens printing company in Fremont, were fatally injured Wednesday evening, October 9, about 8 o'clock when cars driven by Mr. Martin and by Arnold Emrich, 31, of Wayne, collided two and a half miles south of Waterloo, Neb. The priest died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital and Mr. Martin was killed instantly.

Mrs. Martin, who was riding in the back seat of the Martin car, was thrown from the machine and suffered scalp and back injuries. She was taken to a Fremont hospital where her condition was reported serious a few days ago. Mr. Emrich, who was alone in his car, suffered broken ribs and knee cuts. He was in a hospital until Thursday when he was able to come to Wayne.

Mr. Emrich, who recently came to Wayne from Norfolk to take charge of the "Gem cafe, which he bought, had been in Omaha to see about cafe supplies Wednesday. Near Waterloo his car, which was going north, got off the pavement onto the soft shoulder. He was attempting to get the machine back when the car swerved and crashed into the southbound auto driven by Mr. Martin. The priest and the Martins were enroute to Omaha to a church meeting.

Patrolman Harry Carlisle, who discovered the crash while patrolling the area, said that both cars caught fire and were badly wrecked. Rev. Neuberger and Mr. Martin were pinned in the machine.

It says the presence of buckshot on the market increases the danger. * * * With others, Wayne county will be the scene of scurrying hunters. They will be up early, and they will tax hotels and cafes. They will hurry forth to bag the feathered prey. They should ask farmers before going on their places to hunt, and they should be alive to the perils involved in the annual pursuit for game.

Crowd Is Here For Party Rally

Republican Candidates Give Addresses Friday Night At Auditorium

A crowd estimated at more than 500 gathered at the Wayne municipal auditorium Friday evening to welcome the state republican caravan at a big party rally. Candidates and members of the political set-up spoke following a concert by the city band under direction of A. J. Atkins.

T. S. Hook, county chairman, presided. Bert Howard, state chairman, presented Mrs. Edna Donald of Grand Island, national committeewoman, who appealed to women to vote for constitutional form of government. Mrs. Arthur Bowring of Merriman, vice chairman of the state, urged Nebraskans to spread republicanism to the rest of the country. Since 60 per cent of the voters are women, she asked them to do all possible for the party. Auditor Ray C. Johnson and Walter F. Roberts, candidate for railway commissioner, were presented.

Val Peterson, nominee for governor, contrasted the mismanagement in Washington, D. C., with state government in Nebraska. He told that in five out of the last six years the per capita tax in this state has taken less money from the people than in any other state. Mr. Peterson stated that the war would not end legally as long as new dealers stay in power.

Mr. Peterson expressed the hope that Nebraska may have new highways and new farm-to-market roads as soon as materials are available. Improvement in the state's educational institutions is another objective Mr. Peterson has in mind. He urged the best possible agricultural college in the state, and he favors development of chemistry for full utilization of all farm products. The basis of democracy is a good education, Mr. Peterson, noted, and he concluded by expressing the confidence that the state can progress by improvements in education.

Congressman Karl Stefan warned against the inroads which communism is making in the United States. He noted the presence of "red" instructors in some schools. He complimented Senator Hugh Butler on the fact that observations made on his trip to South America had saved the nation millions of dollars.

Senator Butler expressed pride in what REA has done for Nebraska. The senator was a member of the agricultural committee and he was also on the irrigation and reclamation group. He is an ardent enthusiast for conservation of soil as a means of perpetuating American civilization.

The senator accused the new deal of financial bungling which has carried the nation farther into debt. He stated that there are now 300,000 more persons in the government payroll than there were on V-J day. A return to sound finance was urged.

Speakers praised the work of Mrs. J. Knox Jones of Lincoln, the former Virginia Bowen of Wayne, who had served as state women's chairman.

Recreation Helps Men Under Strain

Prof. and Mrs. John R. Keith Speak to Wayne Branch Of Red Cross Work

Recreation and music serve an important need in the lives of army and navy men at overseas stations and in convalescent hospitals, according to Prof. and Mrs. John R. Keith, who spoke to Wayne branch of AAUW Thursday evening at the Women's club room. Both were Red Cross recreation directors during the war. Prof. Keith at hospitals in this country. They found great compensation in being able to brighten the lives of these men.

Prof. Keith went to Australia and then to the New Guinea station which was a supply base for the 11th airborne and 8th infantry divisions. About 75,000 troops were there. Life was dull, hard intense and food poor. Prof. Keith's job was to build up stationary and mobile recreation units and to supervise activity. The Red Cross staff of 125 established many such units which provided pastimes for the men. Games, music and handicraft were included. Materials found on the islands and scraps of things used by the army were of value in handicraft. Strong island fiber was woven into belts and other articles; seashells were polished and made into necklaces.

The dark papuan natives of New Guinea are referred to as fuzzy-wuzzies. Their bushy black hair is so thick that they make fork-like sticks from bamboo to use in scratching their heads. Natives pound tree bark into tapa cloth, and they use colored vegetables to make designs on the brown material. The oblong tapa cloth adults. Children wear grass skirts. One who can get to sea can secure bright yellow, red and green cloth from foreigners to use as garments has become quite elite.

Prof. Keith brought home a drum similar to those which all natives have. This is made of a (Continued on Page Two) hollowed log with lizard, skin stretched over the end. Natives spend considerable time in dancing in circles or columns, beating the drums to different rhythms and chanting. One leads and the group then follows.

Prof. Keith spent his vacation time visiting art galleries and attending musical and dramatic productions in Australia. After coming to the states following V-J day, he was in the San Antonio personal distribution center for a time. In February he went to California to spend three months in school before returning here.

In Hospitals in States. Mrs. Keith spent her time with polio patients at Hot Springs, with convalescent air men at Oklahoma City, and with psychopathic cases at Fort Worth.

The Fort Worth hospital for mental patients is made up of four beautiful buildings connected by tunnels. Patients are classified according to their illness, about 150 in each ward. Only very heavy furniture is in the wards. No curtains or light pieces are allowed for they might be used by patients for injury to others or to themselves.

Reactions of mental patients must be watched constantly and the recreation director must switch her program to maintain the proper atmosphere. Participation in activities is voluntary, and 60 per cent taking part is figured as good. Mrs. Keith told of playing musical records in the presence of 250 patients, many in jackets and cuffs, and watching the tension disappear from the faces of these mentally ill men. Another time she treated each with a fresh pear. Other times lemonade was served in paper cups. These little things show the men that they are not outcasts and that they are not forgotten. Mrs. Keith found it most inspiring to see something, maybe a certain tune or a cup of lemonade, touch a responsive chord in the mental patient and bring a bright light back to his countenance. One of the happiest experiences was that of giving a special birthday cake to each on his anniversary.

When a man's mentality returns sufficiently so that he can be trusted, he wears a badge with his picture on it. The most thrilling time is when these men overcome their mental illness and are released to return home.

Mrs. Keith described the shock therapy which is one of the treatments used on mental patients. About 60 at a time are taken to rooms for the electrical shock which relaxes muscles and seems to do much in helping these men regain control of themselves. Only one is treated at a time, and Mrs. Keith played phonograph records to help calm nerves of those in the waiting line.

Helping these men who have given so much of themselves for others is a real inspiration, Mrs. Keith found.

Miss Gertrud Hackenberg presided and introduced Mrs. M. H. Hanawalt who presented the speakers.

Miss Lenore Ramsey, Mrs. Victor West, Miss Mildred Piper and Mrs. Howard Witt served Thursday.

Provide for Europeans. AAUW is bringing 39 European women to this country to study a year. They represent most nations of Europe. The aim is to promote better international understanding and to provide training that will help these women aid rehabilitation in their homelands.

Wayne branch plans a dinner meeting at the college student union Monday evening, October 28, when the state president, Mrs. Herbert Thies of Scottsbluff, will be speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Tietgen and J. N. Einung arrived home Monday from Manitowish Lodge, about 50 miles from Quibell, Ontario, Canada. They went 20 miles from Quibell by car and the other 30 by boat. Snow was heavy on the pine-covered mountains. Each of the men bagged a deer.

Win Over Peru Team Saturday

Strong Doane Eleven Comes To Battle Wildcats Here Friday Evening.

With their goal uncrossed this season, Wayne State Wildcats continued their winning streak Saturday when they defeated the Peru Bobcats, 7-0, in the Peru homecoming game.

As in previous Wildcat games, the Wayne line strengthened when the men had their backs to the wall. Peru drove to the one-foot line only to lose the ball on downs early in the second quarter. The Bobcats were in Wayne territory most of the afternoon but could not penetrate the Wildcat defense within the 20-yard line.

The Wildcats went on a 43-yard scoring march in the second quarter, with Mandl plunging over from the one-yard line. Cunningham kicked the extra point.

Starting line-ups: Wayne (7) Peru (0) Brady... Cyphers... Wenbourne... Sondergaard... Lee... Westphal... Peterson... Purtzer... Mandl... Bahe... Schmiedeskamp

Wayne came out of the Peru game in good physical condition. Doane is one of the favorites to cop the Nebraska college conference title and various football agencies are predicting them to win over Wayne, 13-0.

The Wildcats have been the underdogs in all their games this season but have showed that they should be rated on par with the favorites for the conference title.

Wayne's offense has been weak this year although the Wildcats won all of their games to date. They have scored a total of 45 points in the four games that have been played. The right spot is the defense in that they have held their opponents scoreless in all of the games.

The opening game at Mitchell, S. D., found Wayne on top, 13-0. The first home game was won by Wayne from Midland, 13-0, and then the next week the Wildcats came away with a 12-0 verdict over South Dakota University at Vermillion. The fourth game was played at Peru and Wayne won, 7 to 0.

The Wildcats will be strengthened by the return to full duty of Bill Miller and Mo Cunningham. Bill did not make the trip to Peru due to an injury to his neck, and Cunningham saw little service in the game last Saturday because of an injured rib. Both are expected to be in tip top shape for the affair Friday night.

The starting line-up for Doane will average 191 pounds in the line and the team will average 184. Wayne's starting line-up will average 183 pounds, with the line averaging 190 pounds.

With their goal uncrossed this season, Wayne State Wildcats continued their winning streak Saturday when they defeated the Peru Bobcats, 7-0, in the Peru homecoming game.

As in previous Wildcat games, the Wayne line strengthened when the men had their backs to the wall. Peru drove to the one-foot line only to lose the ball on downs early in the second quarter. The Bobcats were in Wayne territory most of the afternoon but could not penetrate the Wildcat defense within the 20-yard line.

The Wildcats went on a 43-yard scoring march in the second quarter, with Mandl plunging over from the one-yard line. Cunningham kicked the extra point.

Starting line-ups: Wayne (7) Peru (0) Brady... Cyphers... Wenbourne... Sondergaard... Lee... Westphal... Peterson... Purtzer... Mandl... Bahe... Schmiedeskamp

Wayne came out of the Peru game in good physical condition. Doane is one of the favorites to cop the Nebraska college conference title and various football agencies are predicting them to win over Wayne, 13-0.

The Wildcats have been the underdogs in all their games this season but have showed that they should be rated on par with the favorites for the conference title.

Wayne's offense has been weak this year although the Wildcats won all of their games to date. They have scored a total of 45 points in the four games that have been played. The right spot is the defense in that they have held their opponents scoreless in all of the games.

The opening game at Mitchell, S. D., found Wayne on top, 13-0. The first home game was won by Wayne from Midland, 13-0, and then the next week the Wildcats came away with a 12-0 verdict over South Dakota University at Vermillion. The fourth game was played at Peru and Wayne won, 7 to 0.

The Wildcats will be strengthened by the return to full duty of Bill Miller and Mo Cunningham. Bill did not make the trip to Peru due to an injury to his neck, and Cunningham saw little service in the game last Saturday because of an injured rib. Both are expected to be in tip top shape for the affair Friday night.

The starting line-up for Doane will average 191 pounds in the line and the team will average 184. Wayne's starting line-up will average 183 pounds, with the line averaging 190 pounds.

A varied pattern of world organization. The great challenge lies in finding ways of assuring human beings everywhere that freedom and opportunity which modern science and technology have made possible without jeopardizing those older civil and political freedoms which they have labored and sacrificed to earn.

Mr. Landreth has faith that mankind can meet the challenge. People everywhere show a readiness to cooperate in attaining this goal.

Nebraska Education
 IN his speech in Wayne last week, Val Peterson, republican candidate for governor, resented the idea expressed of late that Nebraska schools rank below an acceptable standard. He stressed gains made in Nebraska's educational system, but indicated an ambition to make them better. He favored improving the state's agricultural school and making it comparable to the best in the nation.

The candidate's position that Nebraska is not neglecting its schools is upheld by the following report reproduced from the Lincoln Journal:

"Another contribution to the debate over the standing of Nebraska in the field of education comes from Ames, Ia. Raymond M. Hughes, president emeritus of the state college, and W. H. Lancelot, professor of vocational education, in a book just issued, rate Nebraska's educational program as the fourth highest in the nation, exceeded only by Utah, Kansas and Oregon. The authors say the reason for that excellent record appears to be the serious effort put forth to secure education for its youth, coupled with a wise expenditure of the available funds. They regard this as particularly significant since Nebraska rated 28th among the forty-eight states in its ability to support education, as measured by income per child of school age. Five other factors were included, the state standing fifth in accomplishment; third in the degree to which accomplishment corresponds to ability; sixteenth in effort; second in efficiency, and tenth in educational level of its adult population."

Cherished Freedom
 IN Nation's Business Felix Morley writes of the indispensability of human liberty. Removing lawful individual rights by kings or groups is a danger pointed out by Herbert Spencer, English philosopher, in 1884. What he said then Morley applies to threats looming in 1946. Abridging freedoms which founders of this government had the wisdom to establish, impairs man both physically and spiritually. As Morley comments:

"As Herbert Spencer so clearly explained, it is not the character of the controllers; it is the fact of control which is important."

"We are now just a month from one of the recurring elections established by the founders of this republic so that those who came after could periodically review its purpose; clean house and whenever necessary, 'throw the rascals out.' Often, to the elector, the choice between parties or individuals may seem to lie between Tweedledum and Tweedledee. But always there are some who stand more clearly for the extension of governmental authority; others who are more interested in restricting that authority.

"To the voter of independent mind, the label of parties is not important. What is important to the citizen is that the issue between men and the state should continue to be one, over which there is political cleavage. If that issue fades, totalitarianism is triumphant."

Untenable Ground

THE attempt of a small group to discredit and punish the Omaha World-Herald because of disagreement over a disputed public issue is like trying to blast a planet out of its orbit with bean shooters. [Said group charged that newspaper with selfish motives in helping promote a musical enterprise whose funds are used to provide milk and shoes for needy school children, to support a summer-time fresh air camp and provide gift baskets at Christmas for youngsters who might otherwise be neglected.]

Withholding patronage from the music project to hurt the World-Herald would simply deny funds needed by a lot of worthy charities. However persons may sometimes disagree with World-Herald policies, it must be admitted by all fair-minded citizens that it does more to advance Omaha's growth and forward-looking activities than all other public-service sources combined.

The proposed constitutional amendment to raise additional funds of $8,000,000 for the state's schools is drawing increased fire from rival forces. The campaign and likely defeat will no doubt sharpen attention on legislative action to meet advanced financial demands. It will be found that the schools are highly efficient with teachers generally underpaid. It would seem each district should see that its faithful educational leaders are properly rewarded. It has been to the credit of teachers that they have usually served wonderfully well un-influenced by inadequate compensation.

Removal of meat controls, as announced by President Truman Monday night, will stimulate the meat industry, and is expected to increase supplies. Prices will no doubt go up, but they will be regulated in large measure by the consuming public. Indications are that government controls over all products and wages will soon end. Rents are mentioned as an exception. Junking government restraints on people's lawful and necessary activities will reinstate the old American policy of supply and demand.

The report of the New York Tribune reporter on his visit to a 40,000-acre cattle ranch in Oklahoma to see why livestock had not been marketed from that quarter brought very emphatic results. The ranch owner said he would not feed his cattle all winter at great cost if he could do as well by selling them now. He said his herds were too light to go on the market this year, and indicated no disposition to aggravate the meat shortage or buck the OPA.

The Paris conference is reported going forward with more promise and with more hope of an early and satisfactory settlement. The rebuffs Russia met in trying to run the show and capture undeserved advantages seem to have had a salutary effect. An occasional kick often proves more helpful than a lot of palaver.

Henry Wallace, retired secretary of commerce on suggestion of the president, is reported on his way to become editor of the New Republic. What he thinks will so tally with that publication's policy that he will be able to express himself without restraint or fear of losing his job.

Editor Woodson of the Sioux City Journal, quotes Dr. Herbert J. Stack, director of New York's center for safety education, as saying that "A person under the stress of a powerful emotion such as fear, anger or grief is dangerous behind the wheel."

ELECTION BALLOTS.

General election ballots were printed by the Herald last week-end under the careful supervision of County Clerk C. A. Bard. A change was ordered by the secretary of state in the labor referendum ballot just in time to make the correction ahead of printing. Some counties had already printed their ballots, and it is understood they will be required to reprint the ones carrying the proposed labor amendment. Labor union leaders have been trying to keep the proposition off the ballot, trying to find legal grounds to do so. But on the contrary, they should be glad to permit voters to express themselves in the good old-fashioned democratic way. Despite all the maneuvering to sidetrack the issue, the proposition will appear for approval or disapproval. * * * Printing election ballots is an exacting task. Every move has to be watched to prevent errors, and we believe none will be found in the Wayne county job.

major operation at a hospital in Sioux City Saturday. He is getting along as well as could be expected.

Miss Freddy Burnham, Mrs. Amanda Owens and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Madsen attended the 50th year celebration of the Eastern Star at Randolph. The only charter member, Mrs. Ella Thorndike of Wayne, attended and gave a good talk and also the grand officers gave talks. A 6 o'clock dinner was held in the basement of the Methodist church with beautiful decorations. Lunch was served by a committee at the close of the program. The anniversary cake was baked by Mrs. Nina Cunningham. Mrs. Thorndike received the 50-year pin presented by the Past Grand Worthy Matron Blanche Watson of Norfolk. Several chapters from different towns attended.

IMPOSSIBLE.
 The Norfolk Daily News discounts the effort of labor union leaders to persuade farm groups to cooperate with them in politics. The News points out the conflict between farm interests and labor union demands. That newspaper says in conclusion: "A brief union between groups of radical farmers and labor was formed in Minnesota and some other states, but it has bogged down and is of small influence there now. To reconcile political programs of the producing farmers and those of consuming labor is something that hasn't been done yet, and it isn't likely ever to be done. The suggested third party of farmers and organized radical political groups of labor isn't likely to materialize, nor to last long should the experiment be tried."

REPORT TO THE 16TH LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT AS TO WHERE THE NEXT LEGISLATOR SHOULD BE CHOSEN FROM:

The Legislator from the 16th District should be Power- and Irrigation minded.

Recently I made an inspection trip to the Central Nebraska (Tri County) Public Power & Irrigation Projects all the way from the Kingsley Dam north of Ogallala down the Platte Valley to Grand Island and Hastings.

They tie in with our Loup River Project here to give us an ample amount of Electricity at all times.

The Project also affords a much needed regulation of Platte River waters through their dams and reservoirs for irrigation.

The Plan to divert Platte River waters over into the Republican River Valley should be carefully scrutinized as it could shorten our supply of water.

These Power Projects are a big thing for our people here in Wayne, Stanton and Colfax counties.

Rural Electrification will help keep our boys and girls on the farm.

Who Gets Off Easiest Men or Women?

Maybe you saw that poll on who has the easiest life—men or women? Of course, the men voted that the women did, and the women vice versa.

It would be the same in our town—take any family. Thad Phibbs envies his Missus spending the day at home, with no hot office to attend to. And Sue envies Thad his luncheons with the boys; and his evening glass of beer with friends (while she cleans up the dishes in the kitchen).

Of course, none of it goes very deep. Thad knows way deep down that the Missus has plenty of work running a house; and Sue knows Thad's friendly glass of beer is well-deserved relaxation after a long hard day's work.

From where I sit, most husbands and wives may grumble now and then—but they know in their hearts it's a case of live and let live, give and take, that comes out pretty even in the end.

Modern Store Is Complete Except For Floor Tiling

The new Larson clothing store for men and boys is a credit to Wayne and its trade territory. The gum wood fixtures were built and installed here. Local help with one engineer from the fixture manufacturer, completed the job in the past four months. Color scheme in the store includes white ceiling, pastel peach walls and pale ivory wall paper. Fixtures are in a rich red-sh tan tone. Conditions beyond control delayed the tile floor covering. This is to be mottled red and will be put down as soon as the factory can supply. Twelve large fluorescent light fixtures illuminate the room to make it as nearly daylight as possible. Windows are most modern. They are finished in soft white with new type unit sections. The front is completely redecorated in buff and silver with the sign, Larson's Clothing Store, in red and white. Laurel firemen have a new truck.

Finances of State In Excellent Shape

Wayne New Pump House Is Built on North Main In Early Period.

Early Days from The Wayne Herald for October 16, 1930: Nebraska's financial condition is among the best in the midwest, according to report of the state commissioner. Kansas keeps taxes down through oil royalties, and Colorado through oil and mineral production. The state payroll of 348 is lower than in ten years in Nebraska. The city's new pump house at the north end of Main street is near completion. Mrs. J. R. Rogers, 95, suffered a broken hip at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Mines. Wm. Fehrs, who raises tobacco on his place in Leslie precinct, makes his own cigars. The tobacco grows to the height of corn and bears a cluster of pink flowers at the top. The large leaves at the bottom of the stalks are best for cigars. Mr. Fehrs dries these and feeds the other leaves to chickens. The late Steve Nichols gave $1,000 each to the St. Paul, Baptist and Presbyterian churches and to the Rebekah lodge. Clarence Dullerud and Miss Alice Thompson were married September 24, 1930, and will live near Wayne. Rev. S. David Sikes of Eugene, Ore., formerly of Carroll and Wayne, has published a new book. Briell addressed the farmers club on wireless electricity. . . The name of the Wayne college publication was changed from the Flame to the Goldenrod. . . Alexander Corkey, Presbyterian minister, sold stores to the New York Christian World and Evangelist. . . C. M. Craven moved into his new residence, and C. W. Salisbury went to the house Craven vacated. . . Elbert Shellington of Wakefield, Wayne college student, suffered a broken shoulder in football. . . Lambert Engelhart and Miss Emma VonSeggern were married here in October, 1912. . . Austin Abernathy of Sioux City, and Lloyd Alexander will give a musicale at Wayne Methodist church. . . Walter and Ed. Reetz of Wayne, and Ed. Tonnberg of Hooper, demonstrated 1913 Buicks in several towns in this vicinity. . . In another fortnight the Wayne city hall will be completed and ready for the reception planned by Mayor J. H. Kate. Miss Zoe Mellor and Stanley Huffman will be married October 30, 1912. . . An explosion in the Hoskins school heating plant damaged the furnace so badly that stoves had to be installed until repairs could be secured. . . Prof. J. T. ## Funeral Sunday At Local Church

Carl Walter Passes Away At Home in Wakefield Early Thursday.

Carl Walter, aged 77 years, 11 months and 27 days, resident of Dixon county for more than 50 years, passed away at his home in Wakefield Thursday morning, October 10, after being in failing health for some time. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from the Hypse funeral home at 1:30 and at English St. John's Lutheran church in Wakefield at 2 o'clock. Rev. Robert Kruse officiated. Burial was in Wakefield cemetery.

The choir sang several well chosen selections. Pallbearers were Wilbur Utecht, Fred Utecht, Lawrence Johnson, Harry Bartels, Jack Erwin and George Monk. Carl Walter was born in Cook county, Ill., October 14, 1868. In his early youth he moved with his parents to Washington county, Nebraska. After some years there he came to Dixon county and resided on various farms northwest of Wakefield.

Mr. Walter married Miss Meta Monk at Wakefield, November 3, 1893. After also 50 years devoted to agricultural pursuits, the couple moved to Wakefield to retire. Mr. Walter was a member of Immanuel Lutheran church northwest of Wakefield for many years. After he retired he affiliated with English St. John's church.

In 1943, the couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. This fall they would have celebrated the 53rd anniversary.

REPORT TO THE 16TH LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT AS TO WHERE THE NEXT LEGISLATOR SHOULD BE CHOSEN FROM:

Wayne County having had their man in the State Legislature for six years, there is a tendency to think that a candidate from another part of the district should be elected this year.

There might be some who think that a legislator from Wayne county could work harder for appropriations for the Wayne Normal, but that is a mistaken idea.

I have a lot in common with the Wayne Normal as my nephew, Lt. Allan D. Mitchell, played football for and graduated from the school in 1940. After he was killed in service in 1943 the Hesper-Mitchell V. F. W. post at Schuyler was named in his honor.

It has always been my belief that there is a great need for more and better Normal Schools.

All of our boys and girls cannot go to the State University.

I attended a Normal School myself three years.

82% right is the remarkable percentage of accuracy that Drew Pearson has rolled up for his famous "Predictions of Things to Come" (on your radio every week for the makers of Lee Hats). But you can bank on this store's prediction... not 82%... but 100%.

Yes, we predict that the crown of your pre-shaped Lee Hat will stay smartly creased for keeps. And we predict that once you've worn a pre-shaped Lee, you'll never think of wearing an ordinary hat.

It's the most revolutionary idea in fine hat-making in years. Pre-creased at the Lee factory by experts... you can jostle this hat... push it out of shape... but its crown springs right back into shape with a light touch of your fingers.

Yes, we predict you'll be delighted with a pre-shaped Lee.

Sioux Falls School Head Comes Here

Dr. Ernest E. Smith, president of Sioux Falls College, Sioux Falls, S. D., is coming to Wayne Baptist church for a preaching mission beginning October 27 and continuing through Sunday, November 3.

Dr. Smith was born in England. Orphaned at an early age, he was brought to Canada where very early in life he was forced to shift for himself. His rise has been phenomenal. He is a graduate of Toronto Bible college, Baldwin-Wallace college of Cleveland, and Northern Baptist Seminary, Chicago. After a successful pastorate of 13 years, during which he directed courses in religious education at Northern Seminary, he became a chaplain.

Sioux Falls College has grown to its largest enrollment under Dr. Smith's leadership.

The daily bag is seven cocks and possession limit the same. No hens are to be shot. All pheasants must have either the head, tail feathers or feet left on so they can be identified as cocks.

The entire state, excepting game preserves, is open for hunting of ducks, geese, brants and coots between October 26 and December 9. Hunting time is between a half hour before sunrise and a half hour before sunset. Daily bag limit is five ducks, two geese and brants and 25 coots.

Former Resident Writes from West

Nice fall days following rain are reported from Long Beach, Cal., by Miss Laura Lyons. A three-inch snow fell on Mr. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. DeLaney, the latter formerly Orpha Wirt, get who attended Wayne college, and their little son of Eagle Rock, spent a week's vacation with Miss Lyons. One day they went to San Pedro and crossed Los Angeles harbor on the ferry to Terminal Island. They visited Cabrillo park at the foot of the Palisades and the end of the breakwater. From the pier they boarded a motor boat and viewed the many boats as well as the immense Howard Hughes transport which is being completed in the harbor. This largest aircraft in the world is 220 feet long and has a wing spread of 320 feet. It is high enough for one to stand up in it from tip to tip. It took two days and cost $58,000 to bring the plane in three sections from Culver City. The cooperation of 23 utilities companies and 10 cities, towns and subdivisions was required in raising power and telephone lines and in handling traffic. The ship is powered by eight 3000-horsepower motors and is capable of carrying 700 persons. It is built almost entirely of wood and will cost over 20 million dollars.

The polio anxiety has almost subsided on the coast, though caution is still taken.

Mrs. Harry Miller, the former Ella Piepenstock, entertained relatives at Long Beach recently. Guests were her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Malheur of New York, her sister, Helen, and husband from Ocean Park, her brother and wife from Huntington Park, her brother from Redding, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Vogot.

Ponca held a festival Friday for opening of new pavement in the business district.

All visited the first grade where Deanna Schram and Ronald Stirtz played a marimba duet.

Fire prevention was discussed and story booklets were given to the students.

Young Folks Wed At Rites in Home

Miss Marianne March Bride Of Howell Roberts Here Friday Afternoon.

Miss Marianne March, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. March of Wayne, and Howell Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Roberts of Carroll, were married Friday, October 11, at 2 at the March home, the immediate families being present for the double-ring candle light ceremony performed by Rev. O. B. Proett.

Palms and ferns banked the fireplace in the March home with baskets of lavender and rose chrysanthemums in the foreground. Ferns and flowers and lighted white tapers were on the mantel.

Miss Jean Smolski sang "Because" before the ceremony. Miss Angie Sieckman accompanied her and played the wedding march.

Miss March was gowned in white brocaded satin made in princess style, with basque waist, full skirt and puffed sleeves. Her fingertip bridal veil was caught with orange blossoms. She carried red roses, the immediate families to which were tied sweetpeas.

Miss Virginia Meyer, who was maid of honor, wore orchid tulle. The basque waist was appliqued with flowers, and the skirt was full. Miss Ruth Roberts, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Her dress was of rose net fashioned with basque waist and full skirt. Each had a corsage of gardenias.

The bridegroom wore a grey suit. Morris Sandahl, who served as best man, and Duane Graber, who also stood up with him, wore dark blue suits. All three had boutonnieres of white chrysanthemums.

A reception followed at the March home. The tiered cake decorated with pink and white rosebuds and a miniature bride and groom, centered the table. Rose tapers tied with orchid tulle were all either side. Ice cream molds were in the shapes of wedding slippers and cupid hearts.

The young folks left Friday by car for Florida where they will spend about three weeks before returning to make their home in Wayne. Mr. Roberts had been attending the college and Mrs. Roberts was a senior at Wayne high school.

Benefits of Bill May Still Be Had

Although midnight October 5 was the deadline for enlistees to be guaranteed the full benefits of the GI bill of rights, including a free college education, men who enlist after that date will still receive benefits of the GI bill, provided they serve 90 days prior to the ending of the present war emergency, which means the signing of the final peace treaties.

Applicants who enlist in the regular army according to the above specifications will receive a guarantee of 12 months of schooling plus an additional month of schooling for each month served before the end of the war.

M. Sgt. Forest DeLaney of the Norfolk recruiting office, lists benefits of the regular army as follows: Choice of enlistment period, new high pay plus food, clothing and quarters, dependency allotments, promotion after six months, travel to all parts of the world, trade schools, life insurance and retirement pay for career soldiers.

Veterans' Corner

(By Wm. A. Lerner) Phone 218 - City Hall. Phone 173-J - Residence.

Veterans will now be able to contact the service officer at office hours by phoning 173-J. General information and emergency calls can now be taken care of by this added service made available by recent action taken by the county coordinating committee.

Inside dope on information you may desire from buying a suit of clothes to recent insurance changes is available in the service office. If you want a list of the colleges and universities, or suggestions for entering business, come in and have a visit. The "word" on topics of general interest, too exhaustive to be treated adequately in the Vets' Corner, may be had for the asking. You are being unfair to yourself and your future if you don't get all the "angles" you can on pertinent data relative to your own and your family's interests. In conclusion, remember that the Veterans' Corner is the information section for veterans by a veteran.

October 6-12 marks the inception of "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week." Employers should make an effort to do all that is possible for those who are physically handicapped by employing these worthy men.

Twenty-eight million Americans have some physical disability. A quarter of a million physically handicapped veterans are without jobs and are registered with the U.S.S.

Two and a half million Americans, veterans and non-veterans, have some physical handicap which interferes with their getting and holding suitable jobs.

After September 1, 1946, no leave will be granted in excess of 60 days. Any leave beyond that time will be paid in 5-year government bonds in $25 multiples. These bonds are not transferable or negotiable but may be used to pay premiums, loans or conversion costs on government or National Service Life insurance. All navy personnel may receive transcripts for their leave time by sending their requests to: Officer in Charge, Terminal Leave Section, Pers-8247, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.

Tools for Trainees. If training is completed, the tools become the property of the veteran. This does not mean that every training objective requires $100 worth of tools. The VA will pay for only such kinds of tools and in such minimum amounts as are commonly required to be employed personally by other employees.

In the same establishment and pursuing the same course of training. Under the regulations the training establishment must obtain an approved purchase order from the VA before buying the tools. Veterans making direct purchase will not be reimbursed.

Disability Pensions. Disability pensions were increased 20 per cent effective September 1. Full compensation, beginning August 8 was awarded unmarried veterans in VA hospitals. Previously they had been receiving from $8 to $20 a month.

Congressman W. O. Stigler, a member of the World War veterans' committee in the house of representatives, has introduced a bill to provide for the further training of veterans injured or disabled while pursuing a course of training under Public Law 346.

Surplus. Veterans are advised to get any surplus they may desire while the getting is good. Provisions are being made in the set-aside policy of the War Assets Administration to avail veterans of the diminishing supplies. Nevertheless, only a small percentage of the certifications already issued can be honored.

Withholding Properties. The limitations under certain government regulations require the builder to hold a completed house for a period of 60 days for exclusive sale to veterans. Many schemes are devised for causing the veteran to run around in unnecessary circles getting information, making applications for need-less documents, etc., all for the purpose of exhausting the 60-day period. At the end of that time the builder is free to sell the property to some other person in which the ceiling price and especially "reasonable value" is not a factor in the sale. The result is that the veteran in reality has no opportunity to buy the newly constructed home. The only recourse is unfavorable publicity and action to expel the selling agency from membership in the local real estate board. A great deal of this practice has taken place in states east of Nebraska where housing construction has been on a wider scale.

Inquiries are being made to this office pertaining to the time-curl for on-the-job training. The two-year training period has been set although longer training time may be secured by approval of the VA. For example, a particular two-year course of training merely gave a trainee a general background not sufficient to qualify him for immediate employment. The state agency might be persuaded to allow the employer to continue the instruction up to the limit of four years.

A total of 17 federal agencies, most of which have regional or state offices, have been listed as providing employment assistance in one form or another for veterans. A veteran who does not have a record or is extremely doubtful about the amount of leave or furlough which was charged against him during active service, can obtain the information from his service record by writing to: Demobilization Personnel Records Branch, Records Administration Center, AGO, 4300 Goodfellow Blvd., St. Louis 20, Missouri.

Eighty-two veterans of World War II, many of whom had voiced the ultimate fox-hole gripe, "wait till election time," have made it good by tossing their service caps into the congressional ring in all sections of the nation.

The veterans administration this week voiced a fear that at the rate veterans of World War II are using up their GI bill unemployment readjustment allowances, between 500,000 and 600,000 will have exhausted all such rights by January, 1947.

News about veteran housing, which is the veteran's No. 1 headache, comes from all quarters of the nation. The runaround the veterans are getting in housing has assumed the proportions of a scandal and constitutes the largest "black market" in our nation's efforts to meet the needs of its returning veterans. The many bottle-necks must be broken this fall or never.

Someone has left a pair of glasses, brown case, in the service office.

Q. Where can I get a brief summary of the program for returning of war dead from overseas and just how the program is to be handled?

A. Write to "At Your Service" department, 1419 Irving St., Washington 10, D. C., and ask for a copy of Army Times Report "Return of War Dead" and enclose five cents to cover postage and printing costs.

Why lose at bridge? Experts are waiting to help you. Not only books on bridge, but on games of all sorts await your enjoyment. Learn the rules through books at your public library. The latest book we have on bridge is called "Why You Lose at Bridge," by E. J. Simon, who is one of the greatest bridge players in the world today. He is also a writer with a nice wit, persuasive charm, and a refreshing absence of high-flown stuffiness.

Two new rental books this week are "The Agatha Christie mystery story," "The Hollow," and Warwick Deeping's new novel, "The Impudence of Youth."

Attention income taxpayers! Do you know how to figure depreciation in your trade or business property? Before you send in your tax return, why not consult Lasser's "Your Income Tax" for 1947? The library received a new copy just this week.

Cartoon books are still popular. We now have "The New Sad Sack," by Baker, and a book of Hazel cartoons from the Saturday Evening post, drawn by Ted Key.

Our new non-fiction this week is "The Great Globe Itself," by William Bullitt, and "Peace of Mind," by Liebman. Both of these books were condensed in Reader's Digest but there have been requests for the books by people who desired to read the complete versions.

A nice new order of books for older children has just arrived. These include mystery, biography, career and romance. They are for both boys and girls and such titles as "Tiger at City High," "Goal to Go" and "Batter Up," will get a big rush just at this season.

Book report season is here and we have been busy helping students select books. We have printed lists of books suitable for reports. Possible some adults would like to check these lists to see if they missed any good books while they were still in school. It is never too late to read a good book and the best sellers are not always the best books. In fact, they seldom are.

New mysteries received are: "The White Dress," by Eberhart, "You Leave Me Cold," by Rogers, and "One Alone," by Van Siller, a Crime Club selection. "The Wall Between," by Elsie Oakes Barber, will, we predict, be a good renter. It is the love story of a very human pastor of a church on the edge of a Connecticut city slum, and his gay, spirited, young wife. This author has the real novelist's flair for telling a good story. Her theme is a universal one—that of two people's adjustment to the problems of marriage—and she presents it with a moving sense of the poignancy of deep human relations.

This season of the year it seems appropriate to remind the hunters that we have a book about guns which would certainly be of interest to them. The Gun Digest, a complete guide to modern American rifles, shotguns, handguns and accessories and how to use them. We also have ordered two books on pheasant hunting and expect them to be here by the start of the pheasant season.

grip the swaying pole with his knees and was left dangling from his safety belt, screaming for help. Firemen came to his rescue with aerial ladders.

A good room is mighty hard to find. H. N. Bennett, moving van executive, put a $10,000 value on the one he lost in San Francisco. He filed suit against a San Francisco hotel for $10,750, charging that his belongings were moved out of his room while he was on a week-end hunting trip. Not only did he have no room on his return, he added, but $750 worth of clothes was missing.

The single butcher of a small town in southeastern Iowa sent the following letter to Earl W. Clark in Chicago, regional OPA chief: "You have failed to send me retail ceiling price list on meats in groups 1 and 2. I haven't anything to sell, but if you send me a price list I'll have something to read." Mr. Clark declined to name the man or community, "because he's the only butcher in town and everybody would know him."

Ed. Kentopp of Falls City, spent nearly all summer getting a new tire, a new battery, a new distributor and other necessary repairs for his car. Then a thief stole the machine. When recovered on a side road near Dawson, all of the new parts plus several more were missing.

A night club owner at Miles City, Mont., and a ranch hand glanced under a juke box and departed hurriedly in different directions. The cowboy returned with a rope, lassoed a rattlesnake and pulled the lariat taut while the proprietor severed the reptile's head with a hoe. Calm patrons looked on.

Residents of the village of Livingston Manor, N. Y., heard a crash and shouts for help, which seemed to come from somewhere up in the air. They did. A tiny airplane was tangled in the branches of a tree, its three unhurt occupants dangling anxiously some 60 or 70 feet above the ground. Villagers with ropes climbed the tree and rescued the trio.

At Elizabeth, N. J., Jay Jones went to sleep on the second-story porch of his home and awoke on the lawn 20 feet below. He brushed himself off, refused aid, and said the fall had not hurt him.

Navy Comdr. W. N. Thompson, Seattle, Wash., is in the eighth year of an international chess game that still does not appear near an end. Commander Thompson recently notified his opponent, Alfred Milner of Didsbury, England, of his 47th move. Commander Thompson originally took over the competition when a friend died in 1938, but he and Mr. Milner started a new game after a couple of exchanges of correspondence.

Sam Pecorado, Chicago park district official, reports his 150 male life guards frequently are lured into the water by fake screams of help from men trying to attract one of the 56 women guards. The latter complain that sometimes women bathers pull the same stunt for the male guards' benefit. The guards of both sexes are getting sick of it, Mr. Pecorado added.

Plunking two fistfuls of coins on a Chicago bar, a stranger announced: "This is bandit money," and ordered drinks for the house. A customer slipped into a telephone booth and called police. When the officers arrived, the stranger explained: "I meant one-armed bandits, slot machines. I hit the nickel, dime and quarter jacks."
