

Recalled by Friday's Terrible Wind—Fire Added to Ugly Elements—Firemen Suffer Giant Task—Electric Service Interrupted—Busy Gossipers—State Fair Managers' New President.

The shrieking wind with only too little snow to make a full-fledged blizzard reminded George Sheaff of his experience as a soldier in the Aleutians. There was so much similarity that he frequently felt the urge to go out to lie down the tent. From his camp was above, George says, he could see the Bering sea on one hand and the North Pacific ocean on the other. Aleutian winds seldom venture his far south. As a native Californian would say—they performed the unusual Friday.

Regularity Knocked Out. February's weather thus far has almost completely wrecked regularity here. In the Aleutians it would be considered regular. But anyone old enough to think far in the rear is not surprised at this month's vicious outburst of wrath. It has the latent power of tremendous ugliness, though it has been rarely exposed.

Heroic Firemen. Last Friday's contrast with January's exemplary decorum gripped people with one worst fear—possible fire outbreak. And a very serious one did happen, as related in today's Herald. Volunteer firemen worked valiantly and suffered intensely in battling flames that devoured Gerald Ellyson's residence and their indispensable service deserves high praise and generous support.

Noble Response. The Ellyson loss, which was tragically complete, prompted a group of Wayne Goodfellows to invite donations as a means of softening the blow, and the generous response rang true to the town's proverbial humanity. And the person who takes from his substance to alleviate distress has an easier time living with his conscience.

Telephones Burdened. Another storm thought put into bald reality by personal inspection is the tough assignment falling to the lot of the telephone service when the elements go on a rampage. Demand for telephone use was far beyond the ordinary last Friday. The force at the local office was increased. Too few cords were available to answer all calls promptly. Therefore, some delays were unavoidable. And on stormy days the most useless conversation takes place. Someone hangs to a phone to explain how to make a pie or hem a garment or detail an experience at the last bridge party. While the effort is being made to get a call through for a fire or a case of sickness or some other emergency, it is apparent that an operator should be privileged to shut off a stream of social inanity to meet an urgent demand. In a rush day less trivial talk would contribute to speed and efficiency.

Indispensable Electricity. Another inevitable cold weather hostility Saturday morning was suspension of electric service in a downtown district for forty-five minutes. An ailing transformer had to be fixed. All machines depending on electricity for power and heat quit. All heating furnaces subject to electric control retired from active duty. As cold weather penetrated more and more the indoor atmosphere, the service was suddenly restored and the danger of being dispatched via freeways was happily averted. Temporary suspension sharpened appreciation of the usual, with few interruptions in the past. It emphasized realization of dependence on electricity in many ways.

Thoughtless Damage. The idle gossip is moved more by thirst for sensationalism than by desire to cause actual character damage. The habitual gossip, usually with no capacity to separate the false from the true, grabs for attention, forgetting injury to an absent and helpless victim.

West Point Man Named. Ever since we can remember—and we can remember a long time—Ed M. Bauman has been secretary of the Cuming county fair, one of the best in the state. Recently he was elected president of the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers and his record of achievement in the fair business is assurance that he will make good. He will lend his advice to the task of making county fairs better.

Planning to Build And Remodel Soon. D. Hall plans to construct a California style, five-room frame bungalow on the corner of 7th and Main streets. A. E. Davidson is the contractor for the project which will start soon. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will move into the new home and will rent the house next to it which they now occupy. The Halls also plan to remodel the house they own at 6th and Sherman. The house will be raised, painted and a bathroom added. Work will begin soon. Mrs. Bessie McCright, who works for C. D. McCullough, and who lives in the house, will remain there.

Family Escapes As Home Burns

Coach Gerald Ellyson Loses All Property in Blaze During Blizzard.

Coach and Mrs. Gerald Ellyson and three small children escaped in their night garments in a sub-zero blizzard Friday morning when fire starting from the furnace destroyed their home at 520 West 5th street, together with the furnishings and all the family's clothes. About 25 firemen battled six hours to control the blaze which was fanned by a high wind. A second alarm was sounded to get more help. Several firemen suffered from frostbitten faces and ears.

Coach Ellyson put on his robe and went to the basement Thursday morning about 8 to attend to the pipeless furnace in which he used an oil burner. Mrs. Ellyson, Sally, 7, Larry, 3, and Nancy, 2, were still in bed. When Mr. Ellyson came up from the basement in the one-story home he noticed fire coming out of gold air ducts and also around the hot air register. Coach Ellyson carried the children out of the home to Mrs. Aug. Fischer's next door while Mrs. Ellyson notified the fire department and sought safety at the Fischer home. Mr. Ellyson then went back to try to save some clothing but the house was all aflame and he was unable to enter.

Firemen responded promptly and worked until after noon trying to save the property and also to keep the fire from spreading to nearby homes. Mr. Ellyson borrowed clothing from Fritz Sund and joined the fire fighters. Volunteers took turns fighting the blaze and battling snow and wind. They warmed themselves at Mrs. Fischer's home where Mrs. Fischer, Mrs. Julia Haas and Mrs. Harry Kinder prepared hot coffee for them.

Coach Ellyson bought the property last fall from Ed. Bales. The house is valued at $3,000 and some insurance is carried on it. A small amount of insurance is carried on the furnishings. The Ellyson family went to the home of friends, the Dean Schrams, Friday and remained there until Saturday when they moved to one of the new barracks type huts east of the Quonsets on 7th street.

Members of the college staff, the Red Cross, business men and friends went to work at once to provide clothing and furnishings for the family. Wayne Goodfellows collected $504 Friday and gave the sum to Mr. Ellyson that evening. The college faculty and students conducted a collection of money, home furnishings and clothing the first of this week. Coach and Mrs. Ellyson and family came here last fall from Pender. Mr. Ellyson attends college under the GI bill and assists with coaching. He has charge of the boxing team which put on the polo benefit bouts and which entered the Sioux City Golden Gloves tournament this week. Mr. Ellyson was in service in the cavalry during the war.

MODERN MACHINES AID SOLUTION OF WINTER BARRIERS

In the old days, people were housed up or holed in for weeks at a stretch during winter. The pioneer landscape had few groves, fences or buildings to hinder the wind-swept snow. Huge drifts made roads impassable. Sleds were used, and they surmounted barriers with difficulty. Settlers ventured out only if pressed by necessity. Advent of the automobile hastened road improvements, and people have become accustomed to cleared highways and city streets. Modern conveniences have not only facilitated getting around, but have eased living in innumerable ways. The past week's weather has done more interfering with the regular order than can be recalled in many years. The determination to employ modern aids promptly, largely solves winter snow and Sunday afternoon, nursing, nutrition, first aid, water safety and accident prevention.

Mowers Bought By Country Club

Box Social Held Wednesday Will Help Improve Park Grounds.

The Wayne County club this week ordered two mowing machines to be used in keeping the grounds in good condition. One is a five-gang fairway mower. The committee expects to order a tractor this week, this to be used to pull the mowers. Seed for the greens and fairways has been ordered.

The club secured the services of Carl Thomsen as caretaker. His duties will begin as soon as weather and grounds permit work. He will care for the grass and trees. Additional memberships have been coming in since several from Laurel and Wadsworth are promised to join as soon as the grounds are ready for use.

Blaze Destroys Home Saturday

Fire in Sub-zero Weather Takes Property on Willers Farm.

Fire of undetermined origin, swept by a sub-zero wind Saturday morning about 2, destroyed the Herman Willers farm home to which Mr. and Mrs. Paul Muegge and small child had moved Wednesday last week. Only a few pieces of furniture were saved from the bedroom, and the family lost all clothing.

Pilger firemen made the run to the Willers farm seven miles northwest of Pilger in a 50-mile house. They were unable to save the house but prevented the blaze from spreading to other property. The house had been unoccupied for a time. The Muegges came there from Plainville.

Plan Campaign in March To Raise Funds for Welfare Service.

The Red Cross conducts its annual drive in March for funds with which to carry on welfare services throughout the world. Prof. J. R. Keith is county Red Cross chairman and Dr. R. W. Casper heads the membership campaign.

One of the services rendered locally by the Red Cross is the home nursing instruction now being given to school students and adults in the county. The Red Cross serves the armed forces and veterans in camps and hospitals, in clubs and canteens, with supplies, with nursing and medical staffs, in first aid and water safety activities for army and navy, with relief for prisoners of war, and in home service.

In war and disaster, the Red Cross provides emergency relief to all in need. Education, health and general welfare programs are conducted by the Red Cross. Included in these are activities in schools, civilian blood donor program, nursing, nutrition, first aid, water safety and accident prevention.

YOUNG PERSONS IN MAJORITY AT LATE CITY CONVENTION

THE late municipal convention and ward caucuses attracted larger groups than usual—mostly young persons apparently imbued with interest in a progressive community. No contests enlivened the proceedings. Nominations were made without flourish, and they are accepted as men who will serve well. Rival candidates could be put on the ticket only by petition or by writing in names. Most towns have two parties and name competing candidates whether there are any vital issues or not. Competition among equally desirable candidates is deemed advisable in arousing a study of local affairs. The two-party system, practiced in Wayne for a number of years, has petered out through lack of participation.

Dr. Nast has her doctorate from the University of California where she also taught botany. She earned her A. B. and M. A. degrees at the University of Wisconsin where she also held a teaching assistantship.

ship, Dixon county, perished while trying to get a load of wood.
 In February of 1873, Henry Harden who had settled not far from Concord, went to see a neighbor, and was accompanied by his grandson. A suddenly descending blizzard hurried their start home, but they were so blinded by snow and numbed by cold, that they could not proceed far. Mr. Harden was never seen again, but the grandson's frozen body was found two days later in the sleigh.

As has often been recalled, the longest and toughest winter was in 1880-1881. Of that memorable storm-ridden period, the History of Dixon County has this to say: "In this year (1880) this country had a short autumn. On October 15 a great storm of snow covered everything and plunged the country at once into winter. The winter thus commenced continued until the next April. The Missouri river was frozen over November 18, and remained so until in the spring it broke up and swept away a large amount of property. The winter which thus commenced so early, found farmers ill prepared for it. The corn was not all harvested and preparations for the housing of livestock were in many instances not completed.

"The winter showed no mercy. A succession of storms swept across the country in untiring and persistent rapidity. Railroads in all sections were blocked by snow, till regular trains became a novelty and more accidents were caused than ever before during the same length of time in the history of railroading."

Great Britain's socialist government is turning out to be such a flop that no one over there wants to admit he voted for it. The failure is so pronounced and distressing that it may well lead Americans to hesitate in moving in the same direction. The dismissal of Churchill as prime minister appeared a grievous error. People on the outside, disposed only to make an unbiased appraisal, figured Churchill the greatest statesman in England and one of the greatest in the world. He led during trying war years, and his high purposes rang true to the best interest of his country. Turning him down seemed unjust and ungrateful. But the English thought they knew best. It now looks as though they had changed their minds.

A writer babbling about the virtues of communism is referred to by the Lincoln Journal. The writer confesses a desire to destroy capitalism and redistribute property so that all would share equally. With no capital, no one would be employed, and many of those who received hand-outs would soon be busted and aching for jobs. The crazy theory thus proposed would not work long to the advantage of anyone.

A federal district judge in Detroit dismissed a portal-to-portal suit involving the Mt. Clemens Pottery Co. Other courts will have similar cases to decide. A layman is not likely to understand when portal-to-portal pay rightfully begins. He will also wonder how that pay can be computed to the satisfaction of an employing industry. Some would move more slowly than others. Some might stop en route for one purpose or another. How could the allowable amount be determined with certain accuracy? Or would unionneers consider that a trifle not worth mentioning?

The Nebraska unicameral has more bills than usual to consider, and it would appear nothing in the way of proposed legislation had been overlooked. Importance of the business in hand transcends that of any previous session in several years. Demand is for more cash with which to operate, and the tax structure must be strengthened accordingly. The unicameral will do well if it finishes sufficiently early in the spring to allow farm members to reach home in time to help wean the annual crop of new calves.

Addressing a postal supervisors' dinner in New York, Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan launched a Truman presidential boom for 1948. We doubt if anyone is surprised. The president's nomination is just as certain as his election is uncertain.

Miss Jeffra C. Davenport, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Davenport, formerly of northeast Nebraska, was christened by the Rev. Frank Hayes of Washington, D. C., in the famous Falls Episcopal church at Falls Church, Va. Com. Frank R. Eldridge of the U. S. coast guard served as "godfather" at the ceremony, while Mrs. Alexander Wiley, wife of Sen. Wiley (r. Wis.), and Mrs. Karl Stefan were "godmothers." Mr. Davenport, a native of Elgin, Neb., is well-known to northeast Nebraskans, having been a resident of Stanton and Norfolk.

Twelve New Zealand students are in the United States taking courses in American colleges at their own expense. It is reported they want to learn about this country's standards of living and the form of our government. Students from several other foreign nations come here for the same purpose at the expense of the United States.

Several government departments report they may voluntarily discharge 110,000 unnecessary federal employees. Majority party leaders in congress have set the number of unnecessary workers now employed by the government at more than one million. These job holders may lose their positions when congressional appropriations committees refuse to appropriate finances for personnel and functions not indispensable.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Campbell of Gresham, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zurbick of Verdon, Neb., were recent visitors of the Third District member, Mr. Campbell and Mr. Zurbick were chosen as representatives of a Nebraska farm organization to discuss the nation's agriculture program. Making Progress
 THE movement to fix a limit on the presidential tenure is making headway in Washington. The house has passed a measure leading to a constitutional amendment, and the senate is expected to do the same thing.

No president should want to continue in office more than two terms. One six-year term would be better. It would discourage playing politics while carrying the largely increased burden of executive leadership. Commenting, the Norfolk Daily News says:

"What has disturbed many political observers is this growth of executive power over the individual. A president with the attractive personality of Franklin D. Roosevelt would under any circumstances be hard to defeat as long as he chose to run. But his power over the voters was tremendously increased by the voting funds in his hands of those of his appointed agencies, to be distributed among the people. At one time it was estimated that 13,000,000 voters were directly or indirectly profiting from United States government checks. The argument that if you defeat us, the opposition will take your benefits away from you was a powerful weapon in the hands of the campaigner.

"Even though the Republicans are in power and are pledged to a policy of decreasing executive authority, the president is going to remain one of the most powerful government executives in the world. The weapons by which he can extend his term and his authority will continue to be great and effective.
 "So congress is about to consider a measure to clip the wings of an ambitious president by limiting the time he can serve. There may be reasons against the policy, but there are also tremendous ones in favor of it. It should be discussed thoroughly on the basis of today's conditions."

Suffered in Early Days
 THE severe weather of the past week reminds old settlers of the terrible blizzards that swept the unbroken prairies in pioneer days. The History of Dixon County mentions an especially tough storm that struck Logan valley February 12, 1872. Joseph Bolson, living southeast of Concord, had gone two miles for a load of wood, and the blizzard which suddenly appeared, caused him to lose his way, and he was later found frozen to death. In the same storm a man named Austin, living in Logan town-

Marry at Rites Held in Trenton

Miss Marybelle Schmitt Is Bride of M. A. Campbell On January 25.

Miss Marybelle Schmitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Schmitt of Trenton, former kindergarten teacher in Wayne city school, became the bride of M. A. Campbell, son of S. E. Campbell, of Grinnell, Kan., Saturday, January 25, at St. James church in Trenton. Rev. Father Joseph V. Bollard performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with five-branch candelabras, carnations and pedestal baskets of seasonal flowers. Mrs. Farrel of Culbertson, Neb., was organist and Leo Frank was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pearl slipper satin with a full sheer skirt tapering into a train. The dress was fashioned with long pointed sleeves and fitted bodice with sheer yoke embroidered with seed pearls in floral design. Her three-quarter length double tiered veil of net edged in lace and styled with lace panel inserts fell from a tiara of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Delphine Schmitt, who served her sister as maid of honor, wore a peach lace and marquisette gown with a matching veil held in place by sweepstays. Her bouquet was of peach and orchid gladioli.

Robert L. Schmitt, brother of the bride, was best man. Dean Campbell, nephew of the bridegroom, and Francis Rottler served as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

For going away the bride chose a two-toned grey wool suit with a pink sapphire blouse and black accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

After a short trip the couple will live at Grinnell, Kan. Mrs. Campbell attended Kearley State Teachers College and Iowa State College at Ames. The last year she had been teaching in North Platte.

Mr. Campbell, a Kansas attorney, served the past four years as a lieutenant in the U. S. navy.

Telephone Staff Meets Stress of Heavier Demands

A visit to the Wayne telephone office last Friday morning during the fire and storm emergency makes one more conscious of the grave responsibility resting on the staff. It also prompts one to be more sympathetic with the operators in their problem of handling a vast amount of service in a short time and with limited equipment.

Friday brought an all-time high with 7,700 local and 458 toll calls placed. The previous high was 6,000 local calls at the holiday time and during another recent storm. The normal load is 3,500 to 4,000 local calls and 300 tolls.

Bad weather necessarily boosts the number of long distance and local calls which the office must handle. Storms also lead people to call members of their families and friends to inquire about their comfort and to visit. Add to these calls the many that result from a serious fire emergency and one finds the telephone office swamped and almost helpless.

The office has four girls on duty from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. and Friday two additional ones were serving by taking toll calls at auxiliary equipment and by pulling cords. A system of lights informs operators when a conversation is finished and the cords are then available for others. In bad weather, due to more calls and longer conversations, operators are helpless to provide cords for other connections. During the fire emergency they were especially anxious to put calls through but were stalled by lack of sufficient cords. Each number appears on the switchboard twice so that if cords are in use in one section, those in another may be used.

Normally it does not require more than ten seconds to complete a call connection, but Friday the operators often had to wait for people to conclude conversations before they could give service to others.

So intense is the strain on the girls at the board that Miss Madeline Kauffman arranges a 15-minute rest period in each four-hour shift. But often the girls decline to take their relief because they are anxious to serve.

When power was off for a time in the storm Saturday morning the office was obliged to use the hand crank to generate rings.

Equipment ordered will provide a fifth position on the switch board and 120 additional cords. This will enable the office staff to meet the demands for service. So far, the telephone company has been able to service all who could get telephones. Many who are on two-party lines will have their individual lines as soon as the new equipment arrives. Delivery is expected in June.

Soil and Water Practices Told

Albert Watson Is Speaker At Land Conference Held in City.

Conservation practices on the Albert Watson farm four miles north of Wayne prevent loss of soil and water and increase fertility of the land. Methods followed in accomplishing these results were described by Mr. Watson in an address at Sioux City last week Tuesday at a land resources conference. Mr. Watson is chairman of the board of supervisors for Wayne county soil conservation district and is also vice president of the state association.

Mr. Watson explained that the 220-acre farm he operates is hilly. The soil is mostly Moody silty clay loam with some Marshall and a few poor areas of Crofton clay. The problem is to maintain soil fertility and conserve moisture.

Mr. Watson raises each year about 120 acres of corn, 80 acres of oats and 50 of broom, alfalfa and red clover hay. Sixty acres are in pasture, 30 acres being bottom land in permanent pasture, and 10 acres are in windbreaks and yards. Mr. Watson fattens 100 cattle and 150 hogs each year.

All the crop land on the Watson place is hilly and intensive conservation measures are necessary to control erosion.

In starting conservation practices Mr. Watson first seeded all water ways to broom grass, thus providing stable channels to carry off all surplus water which the soil might not be able to absorb during exceptionally heavy rains. Next a system of diversion terraces was built to lead the water slowly to these waterways. These terraces are safety valves for the conservation program. When all other means of controlling heavy rains fail, these diversion terraces lead the water slowly to the nearest grassed waterway where the clear silt-free water is permitted to filter slowly down the grassy channel.

Contouring is not the solution to drought and erosion problems but it is of vital importance. It slows up water and gives it a chance to soak into the soil.

The partner of contouring is wise use of crop residues. Mr. Watson practices an intensive system of crop residue management and has not used a plow for several years. Throughout village operations the heavy surface covering is disturbed as little as possible. Unlike plowed land, the surface of the soil does not seal over during heavy rains but remains open and porous. This permits rapid absorption and retards evaporation in dry weather. In soils rich enough to provide heavy vegetation, this practice controls run-off and erosion. In poorer soils, manure or some other fertilizer should be used to stimulate plant growth.

In extremely wet years Mr. Watson finds that he sometimes runs into a deficiency of nitrogen by not plowing, but even then the yields equal those of farms on which plowing is practiced. In dry years this system usually produces astonishing results. Mr. Watson duck-footed an alfalfa field which produced 51-bushel corn while the best on other alfalfa land in the neighborhood was 15 bushels.

Another necessary conservation practice is proper rotation of pastures. Mr. Watson has his pastures in five fields, giving one set of pastures for the cow herd and one for the steers. When a pasture gets short stock is moved, giving the pasture a chance to recover, avoiding bare spots where weeds grow and maintaining vegetation that holds water.

Turnrows are grassed, and no end rows in corn fields cause loss of soil.

Grass has an important place in the Watson program. Pastures are grazed; hay is cut from meadows and larger waterways; and seed is combined from bromus on smaller waterways.

Mr. Watson practices a very short rotation program. Corn is rarely grown on any field, more than one year at a time. Oats follow corn with red clover seeded in all oats. Part of the clover is permitted to remain and hay and seed harvested the following year. The remainder is subcultured in the spring and the field planted to corn. Nitrogen is thus maintained. Since all oats and clover are combined, the supply of humus becomes greater. Nothing is ever burned.

Through combination of diversion terraces, grassed waterways and crop residue management no soil is ever lost. By feeding all crops to livestock, by good rotation and by conservation of all crop residues, the fertility is constantly increased. By contouring, by keeping all trash on the surface through proper tillage, enough soil moisture is maintained to make full use of the increased fertility. Water seldom leaves the farm but what does is clear water. It contains no silt to fill dams and choke water courses.

Win Five of Eight Bouts in Boxing

Wayne State Teachers College boxing team, at Macy Wednesday evening, February 5, walked off with five of the eight bouts on the card. Library News

Once upon a time. . . The tales begin, tales of children of other lands, fairies with magical powers and animals that talk, in the story hours at the public library. Each Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the children gather and even the weather has failed to dampen their enthusiasm.

Has it been a long time since you have read "The Rubaiyat" by Omar Khayyam? Maybe you never read it. In either case you will like to see the beautiful new copy at the library. It is beautifully bound and illustrated with color and the print is excellent. Another very beautiful and interesting book is Outdoor Life's "Gallery of North American Game." This is a large book with 30 full-page color portraits of America's favorite game animals and birds by Francis Lee Jaques, who for 20 years has been the staff artist of the American Museum of Natural History. The text is written by 12 prominent naturalists and it is certainly one perfect book that will thrill every sportsman, hunter and lover of the outdoors.

We have John Steinbeck's new book, "The Wayward Bus." As usual, it is a fine piece of writing, although the book does not have the social significance of most of his other works.

"Thursday's Blade," by Frederick Davis, is an unusual new mystery, and "Fair Adventure," by Janet Gray, "The Bride Goes East," by Romilly, and "Secret Honeymoon" are new on the Love Story shelf.

"City on the Potomac," by Harry DeVore is a lovely book of travel. It is Washington done in prose and ink. This is one of the Cities of America series. If you like it, we will order more of the series until we have all of the great American cities.

Vet's Corner

Rep. Rankin, democrat of Mississippi, author of a bill in the last congress to pay all vets a lump sum of $1040, equal to $20 a week for one year, is persistent in his attacks on the GI bill, stating that it is unjust. This proposed federal bonus bill has been approved by Rep. Allen, democrat from Alabama. Rankin kept repeating that "on the whole millions of veterans haven't got a dime of benefits," are getting no benefits from the GI bill. The left-over democrats in congress have become bonus conscious lately, whether or not it is to harass the republican majority which has no intention of putting through a federal bonus this year or next. Rankin's harping on the bonus may stir up a fuss and more than the republicans bargained for at this time. Rankin contends that only the veterans who are attending school, receiving training benefits, self-employed or securing loans benefit from the GI bill as it stands now.

their procedure in securing VA authorization for out-patient treatment for service-connected disability. The VA must receive notification within 15 days from the date the treatment begins. In an emergency case, the VA medical officer at the Lincoln regional or Omaha sub-regional office must have notification within 72 hours after the veteran has been admitted to the hospital in order to authorize and pay for hospitalization and treatment. The veteran should always tell the physician in advance if contemplated treatment will be at the expense of the VA. Non-service-connected disabilities are not eligible for treatment under the program.

Q. Is any pension payable to dependent parents if the death of a veteran was not due to service-connected disabilities?
A. No.

Dixon County Notes.

From Northern Nebraska Journal, Ponca, for February 3, 1937: The Iowa end of the railroad bridge to Sioux City will rest on Prospect hill but how the train will get down from the bridge to the city is a question involving considerable thought. Possibly the problem will be solved by using a toboggan slide down which to shoot the cars one after another. But the Nebraska side presents more of a problem as there is no hill closer than Jackson. At points between South Sioux City and Jackson the bridge would have to hover over the country at an altitude of 60 feet. Perhaps passengers may compass the intervening void by means of a balloon or be discharged from the bridge into town through a long wooden spout. Perhaps a block and tackle or some other such means would enable passengers to ascend and descend in safety. When it is necessary to take aboard "meaty" men, it might be well to use an endless, revolving chain. The bridge company will of course work out a solution.

The railroad surveyors were working along Springbank to Brady's station. . . Hawkeye vicinity was visited by Union Pacific men interested in building a line to North Platte. . . Everyone is laying in a supply of wood in anticipation of another blizzard. . . Several are talking of erecting brick buildings in the spring. . . Henry Ernst has been improving machinery in the planing mill. . . Father Martin sold half interest in the Dakota City Argus to D. C. Dible. . . The railroad boom is increasing the price of land. . . Dr. Porter's class in shorthand is progressing well. . . Value of Dixon county property is estimated at $1,700,000 and expenses of operating the county will be $25,500 or 15 mills on the dollar. . . The Union Pacific may place a line from Norfolk to Sioux City by way of Concord and Jackson. . . Ponca would like to have a cracker factory, canning factory, paper mill, pork packing establishment and woolen mill. . . A fire that started in the Dorsey stable was put out just in time to prevent a wholesale destruction in the block. This fire emphasizes the need for fire protection. . . The new First Na-

THERE'S PLAY AS WELL AS WORK

A Korean better swings at a hot one in a game with a U. S. Army team

THE U. S. Army has announced that young men who are able to measure up to physical and mental requirements, and who enlist for three years, can now choose any one of six famous divisions on duty in the Far East. They include the 1st Cavalry, 6th Infantry, 7th Infantry, 11th Airborne, 24th Infantry and 25th Infantry Divisions.

These units, all cited for their war achievements, are today engaged in maintaining a just, democratic peace in Japan and Korea. The young man who joins one of them, following his initial training in the United States, will have an exceptional opportunity for useful, interesting work-travel and education.

He will enjoy good living conditions, with plenty of sports and recreation. There are baseball and football fields and equipment, motion picture theaters, and facilities for skiing and sightseeing during free time. Overseas pay, 20% above the new, high Army pay scale, makes the job even more attractive.

The number of openings in these famous divisions is limited. Full information may be obtained at the nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station, Room 7, Post Office Building, Wayne.

Check for $981,660,783

On rural routes everywhere in America, on snowy highways of the north, on sunny by-ways of the south, live the 5,500,000 ranch and farm families who produce America's supply of food. It's a big supply, too, the greatest in the world. From your farms and ranches in 1946 came livestock, dairy and poultry products and crops to the value of about twenty-three billion dollars, according to latest available government estimates. Meat animals and dairy and poultry products accounted for about 60 percent of the total farm cash income, current estimates reveal. Agriculture, the nation's most essential industry, is "big business" in every sense of the phrase.

Of all your cash income last year, $981,660,783* came from Swift & Company in payments for livestock and other agricultural raw materials. We purchased your livestock and other products and converted them into millions of pounds of quality meats, valuable by-products, other foods and products. Part of the money you received from Swift came from our meat packing plants, dairy and poultry plants and buying stations. Another portion of the money paid out by us was for soybeans, cottonseed, peanuts and other raw materials.

Swift provides a wide, ready, year 'round market for your livestock and other products—and out of every dollar we receive in a year from sales, we return, on the average, 75¢ to you. Last year, 1.3¢ out of each dollar of sales was profit. Part of this amount was paid out as dividends to the 63,365 shareholders as a return on their investment. Part was retained in the business for future needs.

*The actual amount paid for livestock and other agricultural products is greater than shown by the amount of the subsidies paid by the Government.

Returns for Savings. It is not the investment of a few rich people that has built Swift & Company, but the pooled savings of 63,365 people. Among them you'll find farmers, ranchers, lawyers, doctors, mechanics, business people—folks from every walk of life...including 29,941 women.

The savings these shareholders have invested in Swift & Company provide the plants and facilities—the tools with which we handle your products. The return for their thriftiness comes to them as dividends paid out of the company's profit. In 1946 that dividend amounted to $1.90 a share.

Soda Bill Sez: ... what's wrong with people is not their ignorance, but the number of things they know that aren't so.

For People ... By People

We at Swift & Company think of our business as being owned by 63,365 people, the shareholders and their families, and operated by 66,000 employees. We provide essential services for agricultural producers and many other large groups of people. Employment is created for other thousands who work for railroads, trucking firms, livestock commission houses, stockyards companies, and the suppliers who furnish us salt, sugar, boxes, barrels, machinery and a thousand-and-one other things. A part of the business of thousands upon thousands of retailers everywhere in the nation is in purchasing Swift's quality meats and other products to millions of American families.

In return for all the effort that made these services possible, the folks who work for Swift earned $164,013,099 in wages and salaries in 1946. This sum is 88% of the total remaining after all bills except taxes were paid, and is ten times more than the company's total net profit.

FEED VALUES ARE SOIL VALUES

by Wm. A. Albrecht University of Missouri
Recently a farmer friend of mine told me, "I've moved to another farm where I get bigger yields in all my feed crops. But even though I shovel much more corn and pitch a lot more hay, I can't get my calves to market as early. I'm just not growing as much meat per acre."
This man doesn't realize that feed bulk is no indication of feed value. Livestock will not gain more on larger rations unless the feed value of any crop is derived from the basic plant food elements found in the soil. The crop must first build up the woody structure that makes up its bulk. Then, if soil conditions are right, the plant will store up a supply of the raw materials of protein, vitamins and mineral compounds. Thus, whether a crop offers anything more than bulk and fattening power depends on the condition of the soil on which it grew. Livestock may be fed great quantities of feedstuffs produced on poor soils and still fail to gain weight. It is soil that has been guarded against erosion, fertilized properly, and carefully managed, that grows nutritious crops. Such soil will produce crops that give better feeding results and make more meat per acre.

"WHERE DID THAT $1,308,364,155 GO?"

During 1946 Swift & Company received $1,308,364,155 from the sale of its products and by-products. By the end of the year the Company had earned a net profit of $16,394,739, which is slightly less than 1.3¢ on each dollar of sales.

What happened to the rest of that money?

Well, the largest part was paid to farmers and ranchers who sold us livestock and other agricultural products. They got $981,660,783* or 75¢ out of the average sales dollar we received for products sold, including all by-products such as hides, wool, soybean meal, etc.

The next largest portion of our sales dollar went to all Swift employees. Their share of the dollar was 12.6¢.

Fuel, barrels, boxes, paper, salt, sugar and other supplies took 4.8¢ out of the average dollar.

Transportation took 2¢ (Meat travels, on the average, over 1,000 miles from producer to consumer.)

Taxes took another .1¢. All other expenses, including depreciation, interest and miscellaneous business costs, amounted to 3.3¢.

All these costs taken out of the sales dollar left 1.3¢. This was Swift & Company's net profit in 1946—a profit of only 1/4 of 1¢ on each pound of the millions of pounds of products and by-products handled.

Who Will Operate Your Taverns Next Year?

Within a few weeks, the duly elected officials in your town will grant licenses to those who will locally retail beer during the next year.

Who will these tavern-keepers be? Will they be men of whom you approve? As you may know, you and all citizens have an obligation to take an active interest in these matters.

If you know of anyone applying for a beer-selling license whose record does not warrant his receiving it, it is your right and duty to protest. A public hearing in your town gives you the opportunity.

The beer industry backs you in your desire for the best possible beer-selling conditions. It wants, as much as you do, to have its products represented only by those who diligently observe the State's excellent liquor control laws. It urges you to perform your duty as a citizen and help select good licensees.

per capita in 1946. He also states that his objective is an increase of about 25 per cent for bakeries and industries and 20 per cent for restaurants and hospitals.

Mrs. Lulu Nordeen of Norfolk, Neb., national soloist for the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization, recently sang at the 21st annual Women's patriotic conference on national defense meeting in Washington. She enjoyed lunchon with the Third district member in the house of representatives restaurant. She reported that although there were many fine sights to see in the east, she wouldn't trade them for northeast Nebraska.

Washington, like many Nebraska cities this year, is behind the "financial eight ball." Only 48 per cent of land in the district, excluding streets and alleys, is taxable.

Progress is being made in the legislative branch of your government. With a Republican majority in both house and senate, members of the 80th congress are drawing up plans to cope with the reconversion, food, housing, veteran, foreign relations and rural problems of 1947.

At the same time, GOP leaders are calling for a clear cut income tax policy. Republican party members desire a lower income tax rate and a tax structure that can be understood by the common man.

The Third district representative is especially interested in soil conservation, tree planting, improved farm-to-market roads, extension of rural electrification, flood control and reclamation.

A check of weekly newspapers in the Third congressional district reveals that farmers realize the danger of soil erosion to future crops. This action and interest shown by Nebraska farmers is welcomed by your congressman. He is extremely desirous of seeing more brome grass planting and waterways constructed to protect the Cornhusker state's fertile soil.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz and servicemen who were stationed in near Washington during the war in Nebraska's navy, on February 4 instead of February 3, as announced last week. Sam Rayburn of Texas, former house speaker, John R. Young, District of Columbia commissioner, James Barnes, representing the Todd Shipping Company, Dr. Walter Biocorn, dean of George Washington University school of medicine, Carl Vinson of Georgia, former chairman of the house committee on naval affairs and now ranking minority member of the armed services committee in the house, J. Sterling Cole of New York, who will be chairman of the naval affairs subcommittee of the committee on armed services, and Charles Upham, national manager of the American Road Builders Association are other outstanding people to whom similar commissions have been awarded in recent years.

Former Northeast Nebraska ice men who were stationed in or near Washington during the war, would be amazed at the small number of soldiers, sailors and marines visiting the nation's capital these days. During the war, GI Joe found the District overflowing with khaki-clads and bell-bottom trousers, most of whom were "queuing up" for rooms and meals. Today it's a different story. Muffin is back in style and only one USO canteen is operating in the city's business district. However, the GI's war-time hero—Kilroy—is still in town. The following was seen scrawled on one of our national monuments here:

"When I arrived here, I cried with joy. Because I got here before Kilroy."

Plans for increasing the nation's sugar ration during 1947 are being studied by a special house committee set up to investigate American's food shortages. Representative August H. Anderson (C-Minn.), chairman of this committee, informed the Third district representative the other day that his group hopes to bring about an increase in sugar for U. S. housewives. Mr. Anderson states that he has as his objective a minimum of not less than 35 to 40 pounds of sugar per capita for the home this year compared to 25 pounds

Highlight of Washington's revenue difficulties is the fact that out of 30,999 acres of land in the district, 13,073.39 untaxable acres are owned by the federal government and foreign governments.

Nebraska's Fourth district representative, A. L. Miller, has been named assistant to House Majority Whip Leslie C. Arends of Illinois.

Some Nebraskans who help to provision the navy and who follow professions touching the navy's recruitment and educational programs, are making cruises aboard naval ships. The United States aircraft carrier "Valley Forge" is on a shake-down cruise from Virginia to the Caribbean and return.

Among the Nebraskans aboard this carrier are Russell Hopley of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company of Nebraska; Lynn Campbell of the Byron Reed Company of Omaha; and Chris J. Abbott of the Abbott Cattle Company of Hyannis, Nebraska. Four Nebraska educators, E. H. Hayward, Peru state teachers college; Theodore S. Oppenheim, Doane College, Crete, Nebraska; James Tollman, Assistant Dean of the University of Nebraska; and Frank J. Viner, Dean of Creighton University at Omaha, recently enjoyed a trip aboard a naval vessel.

Patrons at a cafe in La Junta, Colo., will have added incentive to eat there until March 15. The new owner, Richard F. Jacob, 15 years with the internal revenue department, is offering to help his guests with their income tax returns.

In East Weymouth, Mass., Sam Schofield bought 64 bars of army surplus soap, each stamped: "Save soap to win the war." This was signed, "Commander in Chief, Abraham Lincoln."

It's midwinter and southern Idaho is covered with snow, but Farmer Oscar Johnson of near Idaho Falls is threshing. Winter caught him with 27 acres of wheat and barley cut but unthreshed. So whenever a favorable day arrives, he calls out the threshing crew and hauls away a few hundred bushels.

Oscar Lange of Detroit is looking for his missing farm house near Capac, Mich., and for a thief who apparently was hard hit by the housing shortage. Mr. Lange came to inspect the farm he bought November 5 and notified Sheriff Ferris E. Lucas that the one-story frame building had been removed from its foundations. The only clue came from Marshal Stanley Glassford. He reported seeing a house loaded on a parked truck in the village a few days previously.

An Omaha druggist displayed two piggy banks to a customer. The customer bought one and left. The other bank was left on the counter next to the cash register. That night at closing time, the druggist picked up the bank. It seemed heavy. He examined it. It was nearly full of nickels, pennies and dimes. It also had a few street car tokens and two slugs.

Mrs. Daniel Sutton of Rochelle, Ga., blissfully wed for 71 years, has this recipe for marital happiness: "He's the boss, so let him know it." She and her husband celebrated their 71st wedding anniversary last week.

From the state mine inspector's report on mine accidents at Bismark, N. D.: "Claimant: Valentine Weinand. Nature of injury: Sprained wrist. Cause of injury: Mule wouldn't move so driver struck mule on head with left fist, causing injury to left hand and wrist."

The housing shortage at Reading, Mass., eviction and all, proved a boon to 5-year-old Albert Jarvis, Jr. Evicted from their home, the Jarvis family has been offered temporary quarters in the fire station, directly above a shiny red truck.

Laborites G. M. Sharp and A. L. Symonds of London, complained in the House of Commons that men with big feet can't find socks to fit them, even at the premium prices manufacturers are supposed to get. Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the board of trade, promised gravely that the matter would be investigated.

The housing shortage has increased studying in public libraries in Chicago. The American Library association said that more readers are seeking books which reflect, or solve, their individual problems. "No one reads war books," the association said. "The reaction against them is emphatic."

Two railroaders sat side by side in an early-morning streetcar bus in Omaha. "Too bad you didn't catch my signal to you yesterday morning," said one. "I got your highball just too late," agreed the other. "Yeah, there were two people got off and the empty seats were right alongside me. I gave you a whistle. But two women came back quick and grabbed 'em."

The Nebraska state highway patrol get some strange requests and complains with many of them, but there's a limit to everything. During a recent snowstorm which reduced visibility to zero a woman inquired about the weather between Grand Island and Kearney. When told, she replied: "If I go to Kearney this morning, can you guarantee that I'll get home safely tonight?"

Marshall Stone, Arkansas City, Kan., installed an all-glass front in his clothing store. When the job was completed it looked just like there was no front at all. Mr. Stone had only one worry—that some customer might attempt to walk through it. The merchant can't explain it, but he did just what he hoped his customer wouldn't. His glasses were knocked off, but otherwise he and the glass front were unscathed.

A mongrel dog which probably got tired of leading a life of a guinea pig took a runout powder at the University of Chicago laboratories. The dog, identified merely as No. 96, was playing a key role in a series of nutrition experiments over several generations to determine the best food for dogs. He sneaked out of the laboratories when a door was left open.

It cost two would-be bandits $5 when they attempted to rob Grocer Joseph Williams at San Francisco. One laid a $5 bill on the counter and asked for a package of cigarettes. When Mr. Williams punched the cash register, the other made a threatening gesture with a hand in an overcoat and said: "This is a stickup." "Start reaching," Mr. Williams retorted as he pulled out a gun of his own. The two fled. Mr. Williams fired two vain shots. When the gunsmoke cleared away he saw the $5 bill and cigarettes still on the counter.

A woman called O. E. Heath, director of the postoffice information section, about mailing a parcel post package. "Is it all right if I weigh it on the bathroom scales?" she inquired. She was told that a bathroom scale is as good as any for the purpose.

At Phoenix, Ariz., the defendant had just pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and mistreating his wife. Justice Harry E. Westfall upbraided him for the frequency with which he got into trouble. "How long have you been coming in here?" the magistrate asked. Quickly the defendant replied: "Ever since you married me." The judge imposed a small fine.

On meatless Tuesday in Ottawa, a patron thrust a struggling sheep on a pop-eyed waiter and barked, "Make me a mutton sandwich."

A man who slept in a Vancouver home bathtub would neither leave nor pay rent.

In Tokyo ricksha boys and pedestrians sprinkled their best to try to comply with U. S. speed-limit signs of 35 miles per hour.

A pajama-clad ex-paratrooper in New York bailed out of his second-story bedroom and landed unhurt. He explained, "I could swear that I heard the sergeant yell 'Jump.'"

A Council Bluffs resident, Ernest Medley, begged police to re-route planes that flew low over his house. He complained that the wind from the propellers blew off his hat and the suction pulled off his bedcovers.
