

Room for Farm Women Urged—Free Cream and Turkeys—Town Meeting of the Air Program.

A comfortable rest room for farmers' wives and some one to keep it clean and orderly is a growing demand voiced by a writer in a recent farm publication. A woman comes to town with her husband and often has to wait for him before he is ready to journey home. She finds no place where she feels she can spend leisure time without intruding. Some Iowa towns providing suitable waiting rooms, are mentioned. It is believed that brought to town by farmers justifies the cost of needed conveniences. Let some local group imbued with the idea of improving and going forward, think of this matter and see what practical thing could be done.

Disturbing Revelations. Free hand-outs from the reformatory farm in the shape of cream, turkeys and vegetables to the executive mansion the last few years have been reported from a legislative committee investigation. It is also reported that Governor Val Peterson abruptly ended the practice on his introduction to office in January. The governor does not propose to see the law violated even in a comparatively small way. The governor seems to have both feet on the ground. He combines rugged honesty with a good assortment of polished brains.

The report states that an average of four quarts of cream were contributed to the governor's mansion each week, besides turkeys on holidays. Members of the old and retired board of control received gifts from the state. Cash values involved separately were not large, but in the aggregate amounted to considerable. People will agree with the governor that the practice is wrong and should be stopped.

Another deeply etched corn-belt principle reflected by the governor, is his pronounced aversion to the practice of accepting federal grants and then surrendering control to the general government. This spirit of independence was doubtless forged into his character while he was reared in the state's hinterland. The governor's opinion was based on a warning issued to a legislative committee that use of any hunting or fishing license revenue for state parks would cost Nebraska its share of the federal fund. As he notes, tax money is collected from the state, catted off to Washington, handling charge deducted with imposition of regulation. The governor does not like the idea of paying for the privilege of being bossed by swaggering upstarts of doubtful wisdom. Most people will agree with him.

Divorce Problem. Appalling number of divorces furnished the subject for Town Meetings of the Air Thursday night. Psychiatrists and others especially equipped spoke. They attributed shattered marriage vows and broken homes in part to a superficial regard for responsibilities. Old-fashioned home-building with sacrifice and hardship is frequently losing to frivolity and glamour. Young persons too often want to start at the top in plenty and luxury. They shrink from earning their way. They resist from paying the cost in ruggedity and denial. They think no more seriously of changing life partners than they do of changing garments. In dollars they receive too much for too little. They want the returns the other fellow earns without doing what the other fellow does. They are often too young, too green, too neurotic.

But as brought out at the meeting, the number of divorces is not so discouraging when contrasted with marriages that continue for life unimpaired. Most couples think seriously of obligations involved. Love for children and interest in their security and welfare modify differences and help smooth the way.

Scouting Builds High Citizenship

Executive H. W. Haun Gives Message to Kiwanians in Wayne Monday.

The valuable service of boy scouting in building high type citizenship was stressed by H. W. Haun of Omaha, scout executive, who spoke to Kiwanians here Monday. Mr. Haun explained that he has always found Kiwanians youth-minded, ready to assist in worthwhile movements for the benefit of youth. He has also found Wayne active in youth organizations. In picking a desirable community, many look for worthwhile youth projects just as they look for good schools and churches.

An Omaha Kiwanis club is sponsoring a scout exposition to show the educational program of the organization. Scouting is 37 years old in the United States. Mr. Boyce, a hard-headed business man who was traveling in England, was so impressed with a lad who declined a tip for a good deed because he was a scout, that he brought the organization to this country. He interested Theodore Roosevelt and others in the movement, and the organization was chartered by congress in 1916. Though scouting receives no funds from congress, it is responsible to that body for its progress.

Scouting is the largest American youth organization and its educational program ranks at the top internationally. Two of every three boys want to be scouts. Germany and Italy, where scouting was ousted during dictatorship, are reestablishing the youth training. High ideals of scouting are replacing the click of heels and guns that commanded youth under Hitler.

Putting on the scout uniform and learning the program are not enough, Mr. Haun noted. Boys must live the scout ideals. An Omaha judge has found that he never has had to sentence a boy scout in 20 years of service on the bench. It is also reported that not one of 1,000 negro scouts in Louisville has ever been in juvenile court.

International boy scout jamboree will be held in Paris this year and 1,000 U. S. scouts are expected to attend. French leaders are asking that the time be extended a week so that American boys may live with French boys in their homes for that time and help the French youths learn American scout ways.

In concluding, Mr. Haun spoke of the value of the close tie-up between churches and scouting as a means of building good citizenship among boys. Mr. Haun was presented by Supt. Stuart Baller. Milo Dier reminded Kiwanians of the Council Bluffs-Morrison basketball game here February 27 for the benefit of underprivileged children.

Besides 50 members, Mr. Haun, Prof. A. F. Gulliver, Rev. S. K. de Fosse and Rev. T. J. C. Schuldt were guests of the club. R. L. Jennings was with Wilmer Griess and Dr. H. Tempero was with Dave Theophilus.

POINTS TOUCHING WAY TO BRING UP HEALTHY CHILDREN

THE Nebraska department of public health quotes the following from the United States Children's Bureau "Children can be one's greatest satisfaction in life. They can give their parents more happiness and also more fun than anything else. Around children develop many home interests that keep the parents together and help maintain their youth and their joy in living. In order to help your children be healthy and have happy, useful lives you will want to do many things for each child during his babyhood, such as the following: See that the baby's birth is registered; See that he has a complete physical examination as soon after birth as possible and another when he is about a month old; Take him to a doctor regularly for general supervision; See that he lives in a home that is healthful; Supply him with clothes that keep him comfortable and give him freedom to grow and to use his developing powers; Encourage his development but never try to force him ahead faster than he wishes to go; Play with him; Help him develop good habits; See that he has plenty of undisturbed sleep; Keep him clean; Give him as much sunshine and fresh air as the weather permits; Give him enough clean, good food, at regular times; Keep him away from all sick people; Make sure he is given inoculations to protect him against diphtheria and smallpox (and whooping cough and tetanus, too, if the doctor advises it); Try to give him a peaceful, happy babyhood—this can best be done by seeing that he lives in a peaceful, happy family."

FARMERS GETTING SETTLED AHEAD OF USUAL MARCH DATE

FARMERS, scheduled to change places, are already beginning to move and get settled ahead of March 1, usual time for that task. They evidently propose to take advantage of favorable weather and not run the chance of encountering storms and intense cold. They don't know whether March will come in with lamb-like mildness, or roar in like a lion. If the former happens, they will be no worse off. If the latter, they will escape a lot of hard, disagreeable experiences. So, between now and the first, friendly elements will see many movers on the roads and highways. New homes will be put in order early, and plenty of time will permit getting ready for the springtime rush of farm work. Weather in the spring is important, but uncertain. Plenty of rain without prolonged cold will start the season well, firing an early hope for a year of successful agriculture.

Socialistic Government Fails in Great Britain

Socialism in the British isles has destroyed individual initiative and has become so intolerable that it is near collapse, according to Dick Pinkham who, with Mrs. Pinkham, arrived home from a visit there. The Wayne folks found that people don't care whether or not they work and all are resting on government shoulders. England is in its second year of socialism.

Everything in England is nationalized. One who works earns the equivalent of $25 a week and keeps $8. If he does not work, the government takes care of him. As a consequence very few have the desire to work.

Government clinics check health and provide free medical and hospital care. The government even furnishes free burial for the dead.

Homes are built by the government council and are rented at reasonable fees. Stoves and utensils are provided. A sister of Mr. Pinkham's rents a three-room council home for $17.5 a week.

So terrible were the bombings in England and so slow the building that many families live in basements or in single rooms. Often six or seven families are in a single house.

The radio, which is government controlled, is not good. A fee of $10 a year is charged each home using a radio, but the programs are not worth that.

Business is completely crippled by government regulation. No one may enter business without permit.

Shows Improvement. People are told how much they may buy and where they may buy it. Each family is ordered to buy from a certain grocery, dairy, coal dealer, etc. In case a family wishes to change from one grocer to another he must take the matter before the ministry of food and show good cause why he needs to change. The government keeps track of supplies in all the firms and allots the right amount to serve the customers assigned to it.

An adult is allowed one egg a month and a child under 5 gets three eggs a week. Mr. Pinkham reports that he was allowed one ounce of lard, two ounces of butter, two ounces of oleo, two ounces of bacon, 10 ounces of mut-dip and four loaves of black bread made from shorts and bran per week. He was permitted a quarter pound of sugar every two weeks. Each is allowed all the vegetables that the market affords.

Children are given special consideration in all matters, the Wayne folks found. They are fed milk and other foods for lunch in school at a cost of 12c a day.

The government encourages large families by paying $1.25 a week for each child from the time of birth until he is 16 years of age.

Clothing and fuel are rationed strictly and the cold has been very penetrating this winter. Mr. Pinkham reports. A family is allowed two tons of coke for the winter. The coke is coal with the gas removed.

Suffer Much in Bolds. Adults have suffered much from the air raids too. The home of Mrs. Pinkham's mother, Mrs. A. Willis, and her sister in Cardiff, Wales, was bombed. The family was moved to Bath, England. The flat in which they lived in Bath was also the target of a bomb and 18 in the apartment building were killed. Mrs. Pinkham's mother, sister and niece survived.

Mr. Pinkham's father, Fredrick Pinkham, and others of the family live near a cemetery in Cardiff. A bomb that struck the cemetery uprooted stones which fell through their home. The senior Mr. Pinkham, who is 85, was buried beneath this debris for a half day before he could be rescued. Members of the family suffered minor injuries.

Children who remember the war air raids are very nervous

Speaks to Group On Coast Guard

Panel on United Nations Conducted for Branch Here Thursday

The services of the coast guard, dedicated to saving lives, were explained for Wayne branch of AAUW in the Women's club room Thursday evening by Mrs. Don Emery who served in the SPARs, women's branch of the service, as lieutenant (jg) for a couple of years. The word SPAR comes from the first letters of the motto, Semper Paratus—Always Ready.

Mrs. Emery trained at the coast guard academy at New London, Conn., and was selected for communications service in which she took special work at Mt. Holyoke, Mass., and Washington, D. C. She was stationed at Elizabeth City, N. C., the coast guard air station, as communications officer. Radar, radio and code were in her line of duty.

Getting supply ships through the ice-jammed north Atlantic, furnishing air protection to ships going through the sub-infested waters, and rescuing survivors of ships in distress are a few of the valuable services performed by the coast guard.

Miss Ruth Williams, chairman of Social Studies, introduced Mrs. Emery.

Panel on United Nations. International Relations study group with Miss Carol Stoddard chairman, sponsored a panel discussion on the United Nations. Miss Ruth Paden presided. Besides Miss Paden and Miss Stoddard these participating were Mrs. H. D. Griffin, Miss Gretta Hackenberg, Miss Lettie Scott, Miss Stella Traster, Mrs. Clara Heylman, Miss Wilhelmina Johnson and Mrs. W. R. Harder. United Nations, organized at San Francisco conference in June, 1945, is dedicated to maintain peace, establish friendly relations among nations, stimulate international cooperation and harmonize actions. Membership now includes 55 nations. Chief divisions are the international court, general assembly, security council, economic-social council, secretariat and trusteeship council.

The general assembly is the United Nations forum, the policy-making body which determines procedure on disarmament, international police force, atomic energy, etc. The international court provides advisory opinions. Trusteeship council formulates recommendations on trustee territories, helping dependent peoples. The secretariat, headed by the secretary general who is the "first internationalist," brings before the group matters that threaten security. The security council is dedicated to maintain peace by settling disputes that threaten serving as a clearing house and handling issues through the regional settlement plan. The economic-social body promotes high standards of health, education, etc., bringing respect for human rights everywhere. Specialized agencies under this branch deal with rehabilitation, food, trade and other subjects that often lead to trouble.

One of the specialized services is the scientific and cultural organization which works on the principle that since wars begin in men's minds, the defenses of peace must also start in men's minds. When men learn to live together, wars will cease.

Miss Jessie Boyce asked that contributions to the fellowship fund be given to her by March 1. Mrs. H. D. Griffin, Miss Mildred Piper and Mrs. F. W. Nyberg were appointed on a committee to prepare a poster for the national convention in Dallas and Fort Worth April 18 and 19.

Miss Helen Gildersleeve, Mrs. Celia Pearson and Miss Ruth Williams served.

Miss Frances Jane Kell Is Bride of Clarence Witt Of Winside.

Miss Frances Jane Kell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Kell of Norfolk, and Clarence O. Witt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Witt of Winside, were married at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Grace Lutheran church in Norfolk, Rev. W. C. Rohwaldt officiating.

The ceremony was performed before an altar decorated on each side with baskets of white snapdragons and candelabra with white candles. Miss Ruth Rehwaldt played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the processional. She accompanied Mrs. Bernard Ptak, who sang "Oh Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of faille, the bodice of which was fashioned with a net yoke, a peplum with cut-out designs and sleeves of leg o' mutton style ending in points at the hands. The full skirt of faille was designed with an overskirt of net and fell into graceful folds of a long train. Her fingertip illusion veil was edged with lace and cascaded from a seed-pearl tiara of Mary Queen of Scots design. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white Madonna lilies tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Bernice Wille was maid-of-honor and Miss Nadine Hoefs served as bridesmaid. They wore gowns fashioned alike of white faille and net. The bridesmaids were styled with sweetheart necklines and short puff-sleeves and the full net skirts were gathered at the waistline. Each carried a colonial bouquet of white, carnations tied with wide blue tulle bows.

Mothers of the bridegroom and bride wore black and each wore a corsage of white roses.

Fred Witt of Winside attended his brother as best man. Theodore Witt and Frank Weible, both of Winside, brother and cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception for 100 guests was given in the church parlors after the ceremony. The serving table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with Madonna lilies and smilax. Rosettes of white and silver tulle centered with a lily and low crystal bowls of Madonna lilies, smilax and fern surrounded the wedding cake. White tapers in crystal candelabra were on each side of the cake. Mrs. G. M. Dudley and Mrs. Ralph Grim poured and Miss Rosella Klentz served the cake.

Mrs. Ottile Axen and Miss Marian Wagner were in charge of the gifts. Miss Clara Berner was in charge of the guest register. Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. Clarence Kruse, Mrs. Norris Fauss and Miss Helen Witt assisted at the reception.

and often scream and run when they hear planes. Dogs on the island are easily startled.

Standards Are Low.

The "I don't care" attitude—the result of the war and the socialistic government—has resulted in low moral standards on the islands. Saloons, called pubs there, are numerous and are open even on Sundays. Mr. Pinkham estimates that 95 per cent of the women smoke and drink. This includes elderly women as well as young ones. People are always in the bars and in night clubs and shows.

Years ago people in Britain were very faithful about attending churches. During the war an estimated 85 per cent of the churches were destroyed by bombings and little effort has been made by the socialistic government to rebuild these. And the people don't seem to want to go to church anyway. Mr. Pinkham found. The Wayne folks were most discouraged at the attitude of the Britishers toward their churches.

Divide With Others.

In spite of the food shortage in Great Britain, that nation is sending supplies to the British-occupied zone in Germany. They do so on the principle that they fought for freedom and justice and they want to carry these principles to all so as not to endanger the peace of the world again.

Some 390,000 German prisoners of war are still in England 18 months after the war ceased. People of Britain are demanding that these men be sent back to their own people. Some have 5-year-old sons whom they have not seen. The Pinkhams found some of these prisoners near Devon. A sympathy for them is developing among the people of England.

The Polish army is still in Britain and many can't understand why these soldiers are not returned home. In fact the Pinkhams saw most all nationalities but never an American. They learned that the British think the world of the American G. I.

Mr. Pinkham visited the old church at Devon, where he was christened, and found the names of many G. I.'s there on the registry.

In London the Pinkhams saw Mrs. Tom Jenkins, the former Mattie Jones-of Carroll, and her husband and two children. Mrs. Jenkins owns the farm near Carroll which is occupied by Robert Jones. Mr. Jenkins operates a dairy on the west side of London. Mrs. Jenkins was born at Carroll and went to Wales 21 years ago. The Wayne folks also visited relatives of Dave Hamer in Wales.

Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham had just visited their native land 21 years ago but they are most happy to be back after finding that the England they knew before has changed so much.

The Wayne folks enjoyed the trip home on the commodious and luxurious Queen Elizabeth, a ship in the Cunard white starliner.

Another disclosure is charged to neglect in preventing fire hazards in the state capitol. Reports and pictures reveal careless disregard of due protection rather than any fault with the structure which required about ten years to build at a cost of around twelve millions of dollars.

No defect is reported in construction. Numerous fire hazards are mentioned, and they are attributed to perilous indifference to safety. Electric wires are said to be strung over floors, around radiators, over nails, under rugs, and some of the cords are badly worn.

This deplorable condition would appear to have resulted from lack of sense of responsibility. Too much thirst to hang on with little or no thought of service. The state fire marshal suggests that the head of each department be made responsible for fire safeguards in his area.

There hasn't been mention of it in the daily newspapers but in the social headquarters for the "One Thousand Club," an organization of the democratic party, established during the 1944 national political campaign, to better party interests, is located only four doors away from the apartment of Sen. Hugh Butler (r-Nebr.) in the Hay-Adams House near Washington's business district.

An amusing incident occurred recently when a group of Nebraskans called on Nebraska's senior senator. It seems the Cornhusker state citizens were looking for Mr. Butler's apartment when a member of the "One Thousand Club" approached them and asked if they cared to join the democratic party's exclusive organization.

A major share of the metropolitan papers receive their coverage through the combined news services of Associated Press, United Press and International News Service. However, a few of the "big city sheets" have their own correspondents on the scene.

Members of Ohio's congressional delegation were "busting their buttons" with pride the other day in honor of the late President William McKinley's birthday. Each year, the Ohioans proudly issue red carnations to each member of congress for the occasion.

The Rev. H. Calvin Knoek, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Scottsbluff, Nebr., gave the opening prayer at a recent session of the house of representatives. He was also a breakfast guest of Rep. A. L. Miller (r-Nebr.) at the Nebraska delegation meeting.

Sen. Francis J. Myers (d-Penn.) let congressmen know recently that Pennsylvania raises potatoes second to none. Along with their regular lunch, solons were given "spuds a la Keystone State." On the cover of the congressmen's menu was a tear sheet relating that Pennsylvania potato growers are conducting a promotion campaign.

February 24, the feast of St. Matthew, the apostle.

It is our sincere hope that every member of the parish will make an earnest effort to enter into the spirit of Lent; it is a time for penance and self-denial. Our blessed Lord tells us that unless we do penance we shall perish. He also says that if any man will be my disciple let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow me. Lent is also a time to build up our characters by denying our appetites and bringing our passions under the control of the spirit. This world is filled with sorrow because many have ceased to control their passions and evil inclinations. The spirit of man should be the dominant factor in human behavior. Otherwise the animal in man will dominate to man's detriment. So let us realize that we are God's children and so live as to glorify our father who is in heaven and who wishes us to have peace on earth and eternal happiness hereafter.

It is our sincere hope that every member of the parish will make an earnest effort to enter into the spirit of Lent; it is a time for penance and self-denial. Our blessed Lord tells us that unless we do penance we shall perish. He also says that if any man will be my disciple let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow me. Lent is also a time to build up our characters by denying our appetites and bringing our passions under the control of the spirit. This world is filled with sorrow because many have ceased to control their passions and evil inclinations. The spirit of man should be the dominant factor in human behavior. Otherwise the animal in man will dominate to man's detriment. So let us realize that we are God's children and so live as to glorify our father who is in heaven and who wishes us to have peace on earth and eternal happiness hereafter.

Damaged Cable Is Soon Repaired

Water seeping into a damaged cable west of the new apartment which Edward Seymour is erecting near 4th and Lincoln Thursday caused 95 telephone lines serving 166 homes in the northwest part of Wayne to be out of commission for a few hours. Service went out about 3:30 in the afternoon. Most of the lines were back in operation by 8 that evening and others shortly afterward.

Local workmen, assisted by a cable specialist from Norfolk, worked steadily until they completed the repairs at 4 Friday morning.

Workmen some time ago digging in the vicinity of the new building accidentally struck the telephone cable with a spade. Water from melting snow this week seeped into the cable and caused a short which put the lines out of commission.

Diplomacy Is Seen As An Urgent Need

Industry and Self-Denial Are Virtues Pioneers Always Cultivated.

Early days from the Wayne Herald for February 19, 1931. Looking ahead and using diplomacy are the two big issues of the present, according to Rev. W. E. Haislett of the Baptist church in speaking at a Kiwanian dinner. Self-denial, law-defying issues of the present are more dangerous than the problems of earlier years. New ways of thinking, loving and feeling on a world scale have arisen. We must face life today and we dare not fail.

Many people need to learn industry and self-denial if they wish prosperity and safety, in the opinion of Bert Hyatt. Mr. Hyatt recalls that in 1884 he drove to Wayne to market 50 bushels of corn at 10c a bushel and he expected to buy a pair of shoes and a dollar's worth of sugar. He decided to pay a $5 obligation and went home without either sugar or shoes. Mr. Hyatt recalls that the winter of 1884-85 was dry and free from snow, much like 1930-31, and that he sowed grain in February and had a good crop, due to springtime moisture.

John Binning, 84, died February 15, 1931.

Rev. H. Hopman who was called to Missouri, was persuaded to remain as pastor of Grace church.

Ray R. Larson, district chairman of boy scouts, was awarded a merit badge for saving R. P. McKittrick of Wakefield, from drowning when the two were boys. It was in 1907 that they were swimming near the dam at the old mill north of Wakefield and McKittrick went into deep water.

The September, 1930, wedding of Miss Dorothy Hanson and James Killian was announced.

Miss Mildred Hanson and Melvin Larsen were married February 14, 1931.

A large barn on the Emil Tarnow farm near Wakefield was destroyed by fire. A pony and horse were also lost.

The Winside-Wayne highway is being surveyed.

Miss Bertha Koehlmoo and Emil Schulz were married February 15, 1931.

New floodlights were placed on 4th and 5th street intersections on Main.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kroger of Newcastle, formerly of Wayne, February 17, 1931.

A daughter was born February 15, 1931, to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Splittgerber of Altona.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Adams of Wakefield, February 13, 1931.

Rollin Cramer of Wakefield, suffered cuts when stones thrown by children broke the windshield of his car.

Carl Carlson of Wakefield, died in February, 1931.

Alexander Carlson, 70, of Wakefield, died February 11, 1931.

J. A. Frydenlund bought the J. E. Malloy parlor at Pender.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Morris of Carroll, observed their 58th wedding anniversary February 19, 1931.

South Sioux City voted $16,000 in bonds for a plant to remove iron from city water.

Rekamah will vote on issuing $125,000 for a new school.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Burmester of Carroll February 9, 1931.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meech of Winside, February 11, 1931.

Miss Esther Strate and Albert Meierhenry of Hoskins were married February 15, 1931.

Miss Hilma Helander, 56, died at Concord in February, 1931.

In Early Wayne Files.

Conn went to Philadelphia to attend a national meeting of educators . . . Gauble & Senter bought a touring car to be used in the country in their clothing business . . . Miss Jessie Beechel and Harry Bessire will be married March 5, 1913 . . . Wm. Meller marketed cattle in Chicago at $8.75 . . . Mrs. Christine Russman, 60, died in February, 1913 . . . Miss Ida Hinnersich and Frank Kopping were married February 19, 1913 . . . Business men from Bloomfield, Randolph, Carroll and Sholes met to discuss the possibility of a railroad line and help quarter-block from Mrs. D. C. Main and will erect a new residence . . . According to the Wayne Herald of February 22, 1894, E. Cunningham bought half interest in the Graphic and the paper's name was changed to Wakefield Republican.

The Ponca Journal for March 3, 1881 says that "Now that we have no mails and few people come to town and few incidents happen worthy of mention, the business of finding local news is very thin."

Recorded in Ponca.

From Northern Nebraska Journal, Ponca, for February 10, 1887: A train of excursionists going from Boston to the ice carnival in Montreal plunged off a bridge and fell 50 feet to the ice below, many people being killed . . . A wagon bridge costing $250,000 may be built over the Mississippi river at Clinton, Iowa . . . Ponca is a lively place each Saturday . . . Several loads of boys went to Elk Point to the skating rink . . . The U. P. engineers who recently planned a new railroad line from Norfolk to Sioux City through Dixon county, have gone to Stanton and it is reported that they will survey a line from Stanton to Sioux City . . . Whether or not Ponca gets another railroad and a railroad bridge, there is one certain fact, that is that Ponca is a lively, growing and prosperous town. It is a city of 2,000 and for business its equal is difficult to find.

Fred Jeffrey has established a photograph gallery at Martinsburg after mastering the art . . . Cannon and Fields have dissolved partnership and each will have his own livery service in Ponca . . . Rose Hill literary society meets each Saturday evening at Rose Hill school . . . Wood hauling is the principal occupation of farmers . . . Fine winter weather one day. Next day finds everyone huddling beside the fire . . . Hay is getting scarce . . . Postmaster Warnock added another row of boxes in the Emerson post office . . . Emerson needs a coal dealer.

Miss Laura Lyons Writes from West.

Gardeners and farmers report welcome rains, according to Miss Laura Lyons of Long Beach, Calif.

Miss Lyons' uncle, W. W. King of Carson, Iowa, who was spending the winter in California, became suddenly ill and has been taken to the home of his son at Carson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Corrington and son, Arnold, of Laverna, Sask., Canada, visited Miss Lyons recently. Mrs. Corrington is the former Mary Beckman. The family plans to stop in Wayne county enroute home and will visit Mrs. Corrington's two brothers here. Mrs. Corrington recalls that she and others of the family had walked eight miles from their ranch northwest of Wayne to Belden when a team could not be spared from field work.

Geo. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wilson, sr., who lived in the neighborhood northwest of here until 1906, called on Miss Lyons. The Wilsons moved to Kansas. He inquired about the Wilson and Obdykes threshing machine crew of about 25. Wm. Young is about the only one of that group remaining here. Mr. Wilson may locate in Long Beach.

Wayne Is Third In Golden Gloves

E. Wenbourne Takes Middle Weight Crown to Earn Trip to Chicago.

Wayne college boxers, with Gerald Elljsson coach, placed third in the Sioux City Golden Gloves event which closed Thursday evening. Wayne scored 8 points. Mohahan Legion post team of Sioux City took the trophy with 14 points, and the Indian school of Flandreau, S. D., was second with 11. Ten teams were entered. In a bout the closing night, Earl Wenbourne TKO'd Darrell Chadwell of Mitchell, S. D., in the second round to take the middle weight crown and earn an all-expense trip to Chicago to participate in the national boxing event. The first round was fast and Wenbourne had the best of it. The Wayne man caught Chadwell with a one-two in the second round and dazed the Dakotan. The referee stopped the bout because of Chadwell's cut eye. Wenbourne leaves next Saturday for Chicago.

Four Wednesday Night.

Wednesday night, Lawrence Nelson, Wayne, lost to Al, Sizman, Sioux City, who went on to take the title in the bantam weight class.

John Sherlock, Wayne, was TKO'd by Albert Walker, the negro welter, in the 3rd round. Sherlock was ahead on points up to the time he ran into one of Walker's devastating left hooks. Walker won the Golden Gloves title in the finals Thursday night.

Earl Wenbourne, Wayne, defeated Pete Valandea, Indian boy from Winnebago, in Wednesday night's middle weight feature at-

In defeating the high-scoring Wakefield town team 64-54 in the finals Thursday.

Daren Cyphers, Wayne, fighting with a badly damaged left hand, lost an extremely unpopular decision to Mar Richards from Chamberlain, S. D. Richards won the light heavy title the following evening.

In Matinee Bout.

In the fights Wednesday afternoon, Wayne college won two and lost two of the bouts. John Sherlock, Wayne, scored a narrow win over Emmet Walker, Winnebago, by virtue of stiff right and left hooks. Weight of each was 147 pounds.

Lawrence Nelson, Wayne, defeated Anthony Chingway of Flandreau, S. D., in the 118-pound class. Nelson drove his blows home right through Chingway's defenses. He used a left hook to best advantage.

In the best heavyweight fight ever staged in Sioux City, Ralph Hawkins of Sioux City Legion outlasted Hiram Hanson, Wayne. From the opening bell, the two fighters never let up until the final bell sounded three rounds later.

In a battle that was close all the way, Eddie Sokolowsky of Sioux City Legion edged Keith Boughn, Wayne. Boughn was rough on in-fighting, but Sokolowsky reached Boughn with rights and left hooks. Each weighs 147 pounds.

Tuesday Night Events.

Wayne college won four and lost two decisions Tuesday night.

Keith Boughn, Wayne, defeated Francis Unzicker of Mitchell, S. D., 147 pounds, in a battle that was hard and well fought throughout.

John Sherlock made short work of his bout with James Shell of Denison, Ia., 147 pounds, when he caught Shell with a terrific right to the jaw. The bout was over in one minute and 10 seconds of the first round.

In one of the shortest bouts on record, Earl Wenbourne stopped Jack Wauding of Sioux City Legion in 19 seconds. Each is 160 pounds. A left jab and right cross did the work.

Daren Cyphers turned in the fourth consecutive win for Wayne Tuesday evening when he decisively Wesley Hicks of Sheldon, Ia. Each weighs 175 pounds.

Wallace Heaton lost to Harvey Jagemann of Mitchell in the 147-pound class. Dewayne DeCora of Winnebago took less than one round to earn his victory over Russell Monteith of Wayne. Each weighs 135 pounds.

In Opening Bout.

Raymond Stolpe, Wayne, was edged out by Dewayne Stone of Sioux City, 135 pounds, for one of the two losses for Wayne Monday. The other loss came when Clifford Sovereign, Wayne, bowed to Raymond Baer, Flandreau, S. D. Both boys were hard punchers and on numerous occasions stood and slugged it out. Baer was last year's Golden Gloves light weight title holder.

Keith Boughn, Wayne, decisively DeWayne Anderson, Sisseton, S. D., in the 147-pound class Monday night. Both boys throw plenty of punches, but Boughn won a hard-earned decision.

Wallace Heaton scored a two-round TKO over William Alvey, Vermillion, Monday. Each weighs 147 pounds. After trading a number of blows, Heaton put over a hard right to the jaw and Alvey went down for a nine count in the first round.

Application Seeks Boost in Rates

In order to meet the much higher costs of providing telephone service, the Northwestern Bell Telephone company has filed application with the Nebraska state railway commission to reprice its local telephone service. This would be the first statewide adjustment in more than 21 years.

Cost of everything used in furnishing telephone service has increased. Since 1939 the company's payroll in Nebraska has risen 128 per cent and wages are two-thirds of the cost of telephone service. Other costs have increased greatly. Poles are now 85 per cent more than in 1939; cables are up 50 per cent; copper wire has advanced 75 per cent; and switchboard costs are 43 per cent higher.

The company is furnishing more local and long distance service than ever, but in spite of efforts to keep down costs the telephone expenses have gone up faster than revenues. Even with the tremendous business during and since the war, Manager W. G. Schultz explains that earnings in Nebraska have been little more than they were in the worst depression years.

War restrictions and present day shortages have affected the industry. The supply situation is getting better and everything possible is being done to meet the service needs of telephone customers. The company spent $3,380,000 since V-J day for service improvements and new facilities and will spend more than $20,000,000 in the next few years to keep pace with demands in Nebraska.

No changes are asked by the company in long distance rates.

Did you know George Washington had stage fright and sold out in public? As a result, he wrote so many letters and essays that almost every thought he ever had has been preserved on paper. He wrote to his wife, his children; and in his letters he put many of the intimate things, the little everyday jokes and opinions of people that are missing in the records of most great men. These make good reading, and you will find Washington's biography at the library also.

Another interesting biography is that of Katherine Tupper Marshall, the wife of George Marshall. She calls her book "Together, the Annals of An Army Wife." It deals with the 15 years of Mrs. Marshall's life as an army officer's wife. It is very interesting and worthwhile reading.

"Dunkerley's" by Howard Spring, is a sequel to "Hard Facts," written just before the war. It is a complete novel in itself, but those who read and liked the earlier book will want to read this one. "Mountain Time," by Bernard DeVoto, is a novel about a doctor. A great many of this type have been written lately but this one seems to us to be a rather incredible story. A serial version of this novel appeared in Collier's.

Two new mysteries for the week are "The Fifth Dagger" by Dorothy Quick, and "The Body Missed the Boat" by Deneb Jams. These are both new authors for the Wayne library.

The house appropriation committee will send a crew of hospital "experts" into the field to investigate VA army and navy hospitals, chiefly to ascertain the operations costs, as compared with similar costs in other public hospitals.

Chairman John Taber says his committee is determined to find out why VA hospitals operate at a cost higher than other government hospitals. Taber believes that there are many employees and that they are paid too much for what they do. Other aspects of the VA hospital administration concentrated on will be "malpractice" on the part of physicians who sign contracts with the VA "without ever seeing a patient."

GI Insurance.

February 1, 1947, was the deadline set for reinstatement of National Service life insurance without a physical examination. Veterans who wish to reinstate now must pay a fee to the examining doctor in addition to the premium for the month policy lapsed plus a premium for the current month. The proposed legislation to extend the reinstatement period six months passed the house but that is as far as it has gone to date.

Emergency Care.

Some veterans are under the impression that the government will pay the costs of maternity cases for one year after discharge from the service. This is not the case. Who is eligible? All wives of servicemen of various branches who are in one of the lower four pay grades, providing the maternity case for which application is being made began before the serviceman's date of service discharge. All infants born of mothers whose husbands at some time during the maternity cycle in question were in one of the lower four pay grades are also eligible for care during the first year of life. The EMIC forms 1 and 2 are available at the county service office.

Higher Costs Make it Necessary to Reprice Local Telephone Service

The much higher cost of providing telephone service has made it necessary for this Company to file an application with the Nebraska State Railway Commission for an adjustment in the price of local telephone service. This would be the first state-wide adjustment in over 21 years and we want our customers to know the reasons why this is necessary.

Payroll More Than Doubled

The cost of almost everything used in the furnishing of telephone service is much higher. Since 1939, our payroll in Nebraska (which is about two-thirds of the total cost of providing telephone service) has increased 128 per cent, the larger part of which is due to increases in wage levels.

Other telephone costs have increased greatly, too. For example, telephone poles now cost 85 per cent more than they did in 1939, cable costs are up 50 per cent, copper wire costs are up 75 per cent, and switchboard costs are up 43 per cent.

Expenses Have Gone Up Faster Than Income

The Company is providing more local and long distance service than ever before. Nevertheless, in spite of all our efforts to keep down costs, telephone expenses have gone up faster than revenues.

The income of this Company in Nebraska has been inadequate for many years. Even with the tremendous amount of business during and since the war, Company earnings in this state have been only a little more than they were in the worst years of the depression.

Good Service Is Our Aim

For several years we have been handicapped by not being able to obtain enough equipment and materials, due to restrictions imposed by the war and to present day shortages affecting industry. Everything possible is being done to overcome this handicap and to improve service to our customers. The supply situation is improving and increasing progress is being made.

To provide good telephone service and to extend it to meet public requirements, we have spent $3,380,000 in Nebraska since V-J Day for service improvements and new facilities. We will need to spend more than $20,000,000 more in the next few years to keep pace with the economic growth of Nebraska.

Repricing Only Solution

Much study has been devoted to our problem of making both ends meet. Every practical method of keeping costs down without impairing service has been and will be adopted. We are still face to face with this hard fact: good service can be provided and needed improvements made only if the prices we charge produce sufficient revenues to meet the full cost of providing the service. In order to do this job, earnings must be adequate to attract the necessary capital.

In general, the present prices for local telephone service in Nebraska were established in 1925; that is, there has been no state-wide adjustment in prices for more than 21 years.

The prices included in the Company's application for some of the principal classes of service in this exchange (not including Federal taxes) are as follows:

WAYNE
Business, 1-party	$5.25
Business, 2-party	4.50
Residence, 1-party	3.00

You Have "Say" In Selecting Your Town's Beer Licensees

It is the purpose of this Committee, and the desire of the beer industry, that beer be sold in your town under conditions you approve.

Remember, it is NOT the beer industry that issues the licenses which permit tavern-keepers to sell beer in your town. The citizens of your town do that, and through local and state governing bodies.

With license-granting time just ahead, this Committee urges you to take an active part in determining just who the licensees shall be.

Make certain that good tavern-keepers are selected. Take advantage of your privilege to report any conditions that should be corrected. Don't be one who holds back and then complains afterward. Appear at the public hearings to be held, or file a written protest or criticism, if you feel one is warranted.

Do your duty as a good citizen now.

Plumbing Upset In Illinois City

Bacon Page Marker Proves That Meat Shortage Is Thing of Past.

Pontiac, Ill., plumbers are so busy plumbing these days that none of them wants to work for the city. Unless one of them plumbs the other plumbers' plumbing, they're all going to run plumb out of work. The city code says no new plumbing work may start without an inspection permit from the city plumbing inspector, a job none of the Pontiac plumbers seems to want. After L. M. Shugart quit the job the city council appointed Fred Harris but he wouldn't accept. The council now says it can't find any plumbers who will.

The public librarian at San Diego said she had found evidence that the meat shortage is over. Between the pages of a returned book apparently placed there as a marker, was a slice of bacon.

San Francisco is no place for wrongdoers. Newest member of the San Francisco police force is 26-year-old navy veteran Dick Tracy.

Like a bolt from the blue, something struck red-haired Florence Jacovets, 20, Los Angeles, on the head and knocked her to the sidewalk as she passed under a fire escape. It was a bolt from the blue about an inch long dropped by workmen repairing the fire escape.

An indignant motorist stormed into police headquarters at Johnson City, N. Y., slammed a parking ticket on the desk and declared: "Your blasted parking meters don't work." The motorist said he had deposited a nickel and cranked the meter four or five times. Patrolman Patrick Morisey smiled. "That's funny," he replied, "our meters are all automatic. There aren't any cranks on them."

In Burns Lake, B. C., rancher Joe Corbett who was out boating lost his false teeth overboard. Six years later he had his second set stolen by a rat but got them back. Two months later he swallowed them.

Robert Lantz of Salem, Ore., while tying his baby daughter's shoes, gave an all-out sneeze that dislocated his shoulder and bounced the baby into a corner.

The sheriff at St. Clairsville, Ohio, sick and tired of locking up John Brown, barred him from the Belmont county jail.

Dwight Gressley, service station attendant in Phoenix, Ariz., was found shot to death, his dead body slumped over an unfinished letter: "There is a wave of robberies out here and those guys shoot and ask questions afterwards."

Henry Roy, 102, of Bethune, France, learned that he had at last been made a Knight of the Legion of Honor. After he murmured, "Now I can die... happy," he died.

Hailed before a magistrate on a loitering charge, Thomas Coll, Pittsburg, Pa., was identified as the writer of a recent letter to the newspapers praising city police as "the best in the world." "What do you think of the police now?" asked Magistrate Frank Zappala. "I still think they're efficient. The officer only did his duty," responded Mr. Coll. "Case dismissed," said the magistrate.

Matthew Kline, 69, Philadelphia, was taken to a hospital after being struck by an auto. Mr. Kline had suffered a slight shoulder injury in the auto accident. A routine X-ray examination was ordered, and the technicians were startled to discover 24 pellets in the shoulder. State police were called. Mr. Kline then recalled that he stumbled while carrying a shotgun in search for a groundhog 12 years ago.

There was a reason if guests at the Newhouse hotel thought they heard canaries warbled competitively in the annual show of the Salt Lake Canary club at the hotel. The show was held in the Seagull room.

When Russell H. Fraser's home burned down in the hills east of Oregon City, Ore., his friends wanted to help him build another. But they had no lumber. So they went into the woods, felled trees, hauled them to a sawmill and carted the resultant lumber back to Fraser all in one day. The next day they began building the home.

At Weldon, Ill., a Corn Belt Electric Co-operative lineman climbed a utility pole to determine what caused Farmer Myron Seal's lights to go out and found a dead rabbit in the transformer. He surmised the rabbit was the prey of a hawk which had dropped it on the transformer, causing a short circuit.

Peoria, Ill., firemen summoned to the home of Mrs. Roy Huston found the house filled with smoke, the result of a clogged pipe leading from the furnace to the chimney. Mrs. Huston said her husband was in the hospital and she was unable to clean the pipe. The firemen cleaned the pipe for her. Then the firemen made the supreme effort. They helped scrub the house of smoke and soot.

Mason county infantile paralysis campaign leaders at Indianapolis, Ind., wondered why the response to their "March of Dimes" mail campaign was so slow. They took a good look at the cards they had been mailing and found that Indianapolis dimes apparently were marching to Detroit. The return address on the envelopes read, "Abner E. Larned, Chairman, National Bank of Detroit, Mich." The cards were sent to Indianapolis by mistake from national headquarters.

A bandit pressed a large pistol against Wm. Solan, Chicago, an automobile salesman, and started searching his pockets. He poked around 13 pockets in Mr. Solan's clothing and didn't find any money. "If he had gone to the last pocket, my watch pocket, he would have found where I kept my money," Mr. Solan told police. "I had 10 pennies and a dime, to be exact."

Gene Brumley, Jefferson City, Mo., bought a new automobile last spring. He loaned it to a relative and the car was wrecked in an accident. He had the car repaired and four days later his garage burned. He had the car repaired again and somebody stole it. Later he got word it had been recovered in another county and was being held for him. But he's not going after it until the ice gets off the highways. Not "that" car.
