Science of Radio Improving Fast

Eugene Flaherty and KSCJ Engineers Give Program For Kivans Club.

Frequency modulation, which is fast replacing amplitude modulation in radio, gives assurance of greatly improved reception...

Mr. Flaherty mentioned that in 1926 the science of the telephone and telegraph branched out into radio. In the First World War, Major Armstrong produced the vacuum tube which helped eliminate static.

The Federal Communications Commission in 1941 looked over Armstrong's idea and okayed it. The recent war diverted attention. Recently many stations have been licensed.

AM stations are fast changing to FM. Mr. Flaherty said KSCJ used FM to teach students during the war. The station will broadcast on this frequency as soon as the equipment is available.

DIFFERENCES OVER BEST WAY TO PLAN COLLEGES' FUTURE

OPPOSITION to eliminating "teachers" from the designation of state schools, like the one in Wayne, changing them to liberal arts colleges and putting control of all state-supported schools in the hands of one board is based in some quarters on suspicion of giving advantage to the university.

On the contrary, those favoring the proposed plan point out that the university is already overcrowded and that so-called teachers colleges could accommodate many more than are now enrolled in them.

It is emphasized that the teacher distinction repels persons who do not want to teach. It is further urged that one-board control with a normal sense of impartial service would prompt equally liberal treatment of all state educational institutions.

Overflowing university enrollment in contrast with that in other state schools is offered as proof that advantage could not be made less by adopting a one-board plan. In any event, policies of fair distribution of funds in harmony with needs should manifestly govern action of the legislature.

Ask Poultrymen To Enter Contest

Developing of Meat-Type Chickens Is Urged by National Group.

Wayne county poultrymen will compete with poultry breeders of ten north central states in the 1947 phase of the nation-wide Chicken-of-Tomorrow program.

All that is required for Wayne county poultrymen to become a part of this important breeding program is a flock of 50 baby chicks hatched between April 7 and 12, Slade said.

The importance of poultry farming in Wayne county, Slade said, is reflected in the latest report from the census bureau which shows that 94 per cent of the county's farmers received income from poultry. These producers, according to the report, have more than 438,000 chickens and sell nearly 1,800,000 dozen eggs.

FAMOUS WAYNE LOT ACTION REAPPEARS IN SUPREME COURT

According to a Lincoln report, the Wightman lot case in Wayne has again bobbed up in the supreme court.

The legal advisers failed to detect errors, and as a result, a costly road to perfect title was opened. Previously, other pieces of property were sold in the same manner. The Wightman experience brought a halt to faulty short-cuts in conveying city property.

Morrison won over Hospers, Ia., 38-24, in the first round of play, defeated Leeds, 37-32, in the second round, and won from Peduzzi Oilers Friday, 51-32.

The Sioux City tournament play concluded the season for the Morrison quintet. A game with a Lincoln team was cancelled Saturday because the players were in Sioux City.

Wins Two Fights And Loses Third

Earle Wenbourne Has Good Record in Tournament Held in Chicago.

Earle Wenbourne of Anthon, Ia., Wayne State boxer who was Golden Gloves champion in the 160-pound class in Sioux City, won two fights in the tournament of champions in Chicago last week and lost in the third bout, the quarter-finals, to Johnny Hornick of Cleveland. The Chicago tournament is for boxers west of the Alleghenies and the other such meet is in New York for those east of the mountains.

In the first bout Tuesday evening last week, Wenbourne decisioning Joe Snyder of Centralia, Ill. Wenbourne won each of the three two-minute rounds and there was no doubt about the decision. Snyder had participated in 50 amateur fights and this was his sixth loss. He had had considerable experience on army teams. Snyder is 6 feet, 2 inches tall and Wenbourne found him a good boxer.

In the second fight Tuesday night, Wenbourne decisioned Joe King of Toledo. "It was a tough fight for the Wayne boy but his excellent condition and good training paid off," comments the Sioux City Journal.

Wenbourne was decisioned by Hornick of Cleveland Wednesday night. Hornick, who intends to turn professional, is more of a slugger than boxer. He is a hard hitter and the fight was close. It is believed that Hornick received the decision because he knocked Wenbourne down once in the second round.

Wenbourne received most of his boxing experience in the navy. He represented Kansas City last year in the Chicago tourney. He was then in the light heavyweight class for 175-pound fighters. This year he took the middle weight crown at Sioux City in the 160-pound class to earn the right to represent that city in the national event.

The Wayne student left February 22 and arrived home last Thursday.

Just before he entered the ring, Wenbourne received from Coach Don Emery a telegram which read, "Good luck. We are counting on you. Emery and the boys." Wenbourne appreciates this and other good wishes from local friends.

Game Is Cancelled.
The basketball game planned here Friday night between the Omaha Chiefs and the Quality Market was called off as the Omaha group had car trouble at West Point.

Vet's Corner

President Truman signed legislation permitting World War II veterans to reinstate their National Service Life Insurance without a physical examination. The former dead line had been February 1. Now it is August 1. The cost to reinstate a lapsed policy is payment of two monthly premiums, for month in lapse and current month. These liberal provisions should encourage every veteran whose policy has lapsed to reinstate all or part of his lapsed insurance.

Veterans who were discharged with teeth needing repair are eligible to make application for outpatient treatment. Bring a certified copy of your discharge to county service office and application will be processed and forwarded. You are entitled to this care at government expense.

Your county service officer attended both the mid-winter convention of the American Legion and service officer school at Grand Island February 17 and 18. He attended a district convention held in Pierce February 27. Six county service officers were among the 40 veterans present. Fred Waggoner, regional insurance officer of Lincoln, held a school on National Service Life Insurance.

Judge Anderson, VA field contact representative, spoke on claims, pensions and dental care.

Don't fail to forward insurance premiums despite the fact that your insurance status is uncertain. This is the statement from main office in St. Paul. The immensity of correspondence in this office has prevented immediate attention to many cases.

Any veteran of any war who feels that he has a claim right should contact the county service office.

NOTE: Widows, children of World War II discharged veterans. If your husband or father died within three years after his discharge from the armed forces, and you are NOT receiving death compensation or pension from the Veterans Administration, you may qualify for monthly payments under the social security act (Title II, PL 719). The receipt of government insurance is no bar to receiving this benefit. Neither the type of work the veteran did when he entered the service or was doing at the time of his death is important. If no widow or child survives dependent parents may file application for these benefits. Consult nearest office of the social security administration (205 S. 19th St., Omaha).

Q. Under what conditions may an employer dispense with the services of a veteran who is taking on-the-job training?
A. There are practically only two reasons why an employer may dispense with an employee's services in the on-the-job training. These are unsatisfactory service and if the employer can prove that the veteran is unable to continue his training. In that case other arrangements are made at once.

O. May a veteran receive a readjustment allowance at the same time as terminal leave pay?
A. The Veterans Administration has ruled that veterans leaving the armed forces are not eligible for unemployment or self-employment allowance while they are receiving terminal leave pay.

Library News

You can find a new magazine on the library racks now called '47. It is a small magazine, in case you have never seen a copy, about the size of Reader's Digest. The list of contributing authors is especially good. What makes it different from other magazines is that it is owned and controlled by people who write, paint and photograph professionally. It is not a reprint of their work which has appeared in other magazines nor will any of the material appear in any other form later. Altogether it is a high class, interesting magazine and we think the reading public will be glad to find in their library.

The office of alien property has sent to the library a list of all the foreign-owned patents which have been seized by the government and are now available to American manufacturers on liberal licensing terms. You do not have to be a big manufacturer to use some of these patents and it is a wonderful opportunity for a start in some business which otherwise would be impossible because of the cost of the patent.

Have you been looking in some of the old dictionaries for some of the new words and phrases in science, aviation, radio, medicine and motion pictures, and having trouble finding them? You will be able to find them in the "New Words Dictionary" at the library, so if you are "stumped" on a word, come in and try this dictionary.

"Design for Treachery," by Clare Saunders, will be found on the rental shelf. It is, of course, a mystery. Among the biographies is "But Look, the Morn," the story of the childhood of MacKinlay Kantor. He was born in Webster City, Ia., in the early 1900's and his recollections of those days will make many readers happier than a great number of things they are likely to be reading today.

Did you enjoy "Laura and Bedelia"? If so, you will probably like the new one by the same author, called "Stranger Than Truth." You will find this on the rental shelf.

Miss Jeanette Riley was the story teller for the children last week.

"We have found the country newspaper to be our most effective advertising medium," declared Raymond R. Low, president of the American Reserve Life. Since the country newspaper is so close to the hearts of Nebraska people, we have found it the best possible way to carry our message to them."

Interesting recipes for Lenten menus

If you're looking for ways to make Lenten meals interesting and satisfying, then you'll enjoy trying these recipes. They'll make good additions, too, to year-round menus. MACARONI AND CHEESE DE LUXE—If you've ever felt that macaroni and cheese is humdrum, then you should try this recipe!

To 4 cups cooked macaroni (2 cups uncooked) add 1 1/2 cups whole kernel corn, 1 cup cooked celery, 1 cup sliced cooked or canned mushrooms, and 1/4 cup chopped green pepper. Mix 2 cups grated cheese with 2 cups well-seasoned medium white sauce and stir until cheese is melted. Pour cheese sauce into macaroni mixture and mix well. Pour into well-greased 2-quart baking dish, sprinkle with additional grated cheese and paprika. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) 30 minutes, or until cheese is melted and flavors blended. Serves 6.

KEDGEREE—Kedgerie is a New England dish with an East Indian origin. Since it tends to be on the dry side, serve with it a creamed vegetable, a green salad and mixed pickles for a crisp touch.

To 3 cups cooked rice, add 2 cups cubed cooked fish, 4 hard-cooked eggs, coarsely cut, 2 tablespoons each chopped onion and parsley, 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine, salt, and pepper. Toss together lightly with 2 forks to keep pieces whole. Place in double boiler for about 30 minutes, or until hot. Serves 6.

Pep Assemblies Precede Games

Students of Wayne Prep Are Preparing to Compete in Declamation

Wayne prep held assemblies Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in preparation for the tournament games played those nights. A meeting was held to organize teams for the various concessions at the tournament. Seniors have ordered caps and gowns for their graduation in the spring.

Many students are busy working up their entries for the declamation contest to be held in March.

Grade Six News. Ruth Beck, Joyce Ingram, Shirley Kingston, Mary Jo Lindahl, Nancy McGinn, Jeanette McPherran, Wilma McPherran, Joann Powers and Jackie Victor assisted in concessions at the basketball tournament.

Special reports on progress in communication were given in history last week by Jimmy Ehlers, Mary Jo Lindahl, Nancy McGinn, Tommy Myers, Joann Powers and Jackie Victor.

Grade Four Notes. The story of the purple heart decoration was part of the Washington club program. Mary Ellen Christensen brought her brother-in-law's purple heart award for the class to see. Talks this week in the club meeting were on "Sports." Finger painting was repeated with improved results. Pictures are being used for room decoration.

After a story, "Setting Back the Clock," was read, soap was made in the classroom. Each student had a small cake to take home. Volcanoes were studied when reports of the Mt. Etna eruption came into the news.

Third Grade News. The miles traveled this week have been by stage coach, covered wagon or on horse back. Each child is reading library books related to travel. The trip with Mr. and Mrs. Sanders to England is being illustrated by the group.

Children have made maps showing the location of their own homes as well as places of business nearby in any community. Miss Higgins has been in charge of this activity. How animals obtain food and protect themselves are science units. The film about dooryard birds was a good motivation for spring bird study.

The children follow press and radio reports about Byrd.

In Second Grade. Interest in a balloon filled with hydrogen gas led all to think of other things that fly. The class learned the main parts of airplanes. Peep shows concerning the development of Nebraska are being prepared. A large frieze about pioneers is completed and is in place.

"Life in Old Louisiana" is a movie shown. "Alice in Orchestra" is being read. Charlene Myers left Wednesday for California.

First Grade News. Row Peterson reading tests are being given over the Blue Barns Little Frog and Little Deer. Those having perfect scores are Gary Blecke and Rachel Speck. Ronnie Stietz, Deanna Schram, Patty Sweigard, Gary Kingston and Wally Bressler were close seconds.

All saw the picture of the Boston tea party. Pictures were made by the children to help them interpret the picture. "Yankee Doodle is a song that the first grade like both for singing and to play on the marimba. Miss Hallstrom has been teaching some poetry and some of the memory gems are being memorized.

Miss Jessen has been getting art pictures from Longfellow's poems. "The Old Clock on the Stair," and "Children's Hour" are two favorites. Pioneer stories are of much interest.

Kindergarten Notes. Students are working on their circus unit. They can match the color words of their balloons. They made a large mural of circus animals. They have drawn circus animals they will put in a book and have studied the habits of these animals.

"If" and "The Clown" are two poems the students know. Interesting books have been loaned by Jerry Kingston, William Burke and Patricia Sherry. Julie Brown brought a permanent needle for the phonograph and also loaned some records. John Kessler also brought some records.

Money Is Given To Girl Scouts

BPW Club to Have Charge of Convention Banquet Here in April

Business and Professional division of Wayne Women's club, meeting Tuesday evening last week in the club rooms, voted to give $100 to girl scouts. The money will be used for repairs and equipment for the scout cabin.

The club also made substantial cash contributions to three families who lost heavily in recent fires in their homes. These are Conch Harold Elyson, W. H. Hoguewood and Paul Pawelski.

Members will have charge of the semi-formal banquet which will be held the evening of April 17 in the auditorium as a feature of the Third district convention of federated clubs.

For the program Tuesday Phyllis Foster played a flute solo, "By the Brook." Charles Messerschmidt played piano solos, "The Bees in the Clover" and "The Song of the Birds." Jerry Korff, Bob Baller, Larry Johnson, Charles Messerschmidt, Paul Koplin, Betty Lou McCullough, Marian Kugler, Virginia Pruitt, Ruth West, Evelyn Roberts, Joan Pawelski and Patty Wimer sang "All Through the Night," "The Harp of the Winds," "Slumber Song" and "Village Talk." Mrs. Ralph Sellhorn and A. J. Atkins were accompanists.

The program was in charge of Miss Madeline Patton, Miss Bernice Langenberg and Miss Eleanor Edwards.

Mrs. Corrine McCullough, Mrs. Mary Ellis, Mrs. Marcella Larson, Miss Marybelle Samuelson, Miss Patty Love, Mrs. Alice Reifert, Miss Kathryn Lerner, Miss Dorothy Temme and Mrs. Beulah Jones served.

The club meets again next Tuesday.

Officer Arrives In Tokyo, Japan

A cable from Tokyo Saturday informed Mrs. H. B. Lane that her husband, Lt. Col. Lane, had arrived there at a replacement depot and was awaiting assignment. After the officer reaches his assigned station he will apply for passage for his wife and son, Tom, who are in the Paul Mines home. Mrs. Lane will be placed on the priority list in Washington and will be notified when passage is available. She expects to go in the summer and will probably sail from Seattle.

Lt. Col. Lane left San Francisco February 7 on the transport, General Blatchford, and reached Tokyo February 28. The ship stopped in Hawaii and Guam enroute to Japan. Personnel of the boat included wives of army men who have been in Guam for some time, also officers and enlisted men going to duty with the army of occupation.

The ship did not offer the best of accommodations for women and children. Only dependents on board were those going to Guam. The officer reported the weather at Guam humid and hot. He was informed that most dependents going to Japan travel on recon-verted hospital ships which offer better conditions for families.

The ship experienced severe storms at sea and most people were obliged to spend much time in bed.

On Honshu, the main Jap island, conditions for housing families are better than in most sections there. Railroads are good and trains are used for travel as most of these in the army of occupation do not have cars with them. Japs are so small that they jump in and out of the train windows. Highways are poor and parts of the main road on island permit only one-way travel.

Electricity is available throughout Honshu but it is of low voltage and transformers are required to enable army personnel to use electrical appliances in their homes.

The most serious problem for occupation forces is the lack of plumbing facilities.

Lt. Col. Lane is informed that pearls and kimonos are favorite souvenirs bought by Americans after reaching Japan.

Win in Game Here. The Council Bluffs Kiwanis basketball team won over the Morrison Hotel team here Thursday evening in a game played for the benefit of underprivileged children.

W. H. Swett Back As Fund Director

Winthrop H. Swett, former Chamber of Commerce secretary in Wayne, has returned to this country to take a position as assistant director in fund raising for the midwestern area of the American Red Cross after eight months spent in the Philippine Islands as advisor in fund raising to the Philippine Red Cross.

Under Mr. Swett's direction, the Philippine Red Cross, in the first fund drive since liberation of the islands, raised 130 per cent of its $40,000 peso quota. This is the largest amount of money ever raised by any organization in the history of the islands and has laid the foundation of a strong independent national Red Cross there. Mr. Swett, who has been with the Red Cross since 1942, was director of fund raising for the St. Louis chapter before going to the islands.

Mr. Swett was in Wayne two years and came here from Sioux City where he had served six years as executive secretary of the family welfare bureau and county director of relief.

Club Plans Third District Convention to Be Held Here in April

Wayne Women's club plans to ask the city council about the possibility of cutting a door between the club rooms kitchen and the main part of the auditorium. No 1947 Slump
 SOME expert economists have advised that there will be no business recession during 1947, that labor and commodity demands will keep up. This opinion, which is reasonable, is in conflict with the more lugubrious predictions made by the gloomy Gus variety. We prefer to pin faith to optimistic conclusions, especially in view of unsatisfied demands the world over. Production is still far below requirements, and it is likely to continue so for a number of years. Foreign wants are numerous and pressing, and no prospect of an early sufficiency is apparent. Prices may go down somewhat. Labor markets may be eased by increased supply with a disposition to seek jobs rather than dodge them, but there seems no present indication of a serious slump. In a few years, unless in the meantime wisely prevented, we may feel a series of economic shocks.

Congressman Stefan is profoundly disturbed by the activities of communist termites in this country. The congressman has been at the seat of national government long enough with a close-up view of world affairs to know what he is talking about. It is strange, indeed, however, that any considerable number of Americans conversant with totalitarian strangulation abroad, would fall for communism or any other alienism. But if, as the congressman suggests, strange and subversive influences are working in this country, an alert citizenry should see that they do not make dangerous headway. Anyone not convinced that free enterprise as practiced here is the best system in the world, ought to move out.

Relatives with fat bank accounts would not look to an impoverished uncle for dough with which to improve and carry on without expecting to be told to jump into the nearest lake. Why should the federal government be less realistic in dealing with the states? Instead of asking the Washington government—already deeply in the red—to dig up for numerous needs, why is not each state required to make its own improvements and pay its own way? Most states have well filled treasuries. The federal government is in debt over its ears.

Former President Hoover's report to the president on distress observed in Germany, says civilian needs there "have sunk to the lowest level known in one hundred years of history." He urges a loan—not a gift—to enable former enemies to produce and attain self-support. The German nation will be less a threat to the peace of the world if it is helped on the way to sufficient production. He thinks revenge on crushed and helpless people, many of whom were not in sympathy with Hitler, is inimical to the future of civilization.

Forward-looking citizens will approve the city's steps to buy a new engine for the power plant to meet increased demand for electric service. Consumption has been growing steadily the last few years, and enlarged demands are in prospect. An investment of more than one hundred thousand dollars in a new unit will pay in actual returns. Wayne must keep up equipment to supply a growing population, and to do so a new engine is necessary.

As far as we can learn, "dollar days" last week-end were turned to advantage by a multitude of shoppers journeying here from near and far. Customers received what they wanted, and they were served promptly and courteously. It was unusual to offer such a wealth of bargains at a time of high prices. People came, saw, bought and were satisfied. The special events reemphasized Wayne as a superior trade center.

A Lincoln report says the unicameral is making unprecedented headway in getting rid of bills. In forty days sixty-five bills were passed. That is considerable more speed than was shown in 1945. Perhaps present solons have more energy with greater powers of understanding and decision. Perhaps they anticipate an early spring and look to getting home sooner.

Norman Thomas, usually critical of America with suggestions for its improvement, devoted a recent article to showing its superior points—its unity and humanity—in a population of racial and religious mixtures. He says: "We have a heritage and a history which justify faith in man's capacity for freedom and fair play."

A little more work and a little less play would develop a reliable man. Too much leisure with easy indifference to future security is dangerous.

THE RIGHT TIME.
 Referring to needed improvements at state institutions, the Norfolk Daily News quotes Senator John S. Callan as saying this is "an inappropriate time to build." The News wonders when the time is appropriate. Would it have been in 1930 when business was sagging and times were generally tough? Would it have been in 1940 when war was in the air and about ready to start? Agriculture is now prosperous with plenty of money in circulation. This would seem to be the time to expand to meet demands, to remove the perils of firetraps, and to rescue inmates from utter inadequacy. The News says: "The legislators who have visited state institutions concede the deplorable conditions. Why, then, isn't this, when the need is admittedly urgent and great, when farm prices and incomes are high, when people are buying as they have never bought before, and laying up savings in almost unprecedented amounts—why isn't this the time to build?"

JUST DEMAND.
 The World-Herald voices demand for congressional action that will insure impartial rights to labor and management. It calls attention to laws favoring labor and to pre-election pledges for an effective remedy. That newspaper concludes: "The demand is not for jug-handled law, for biased law. It is to put an end to that kind of law and to establish equality of right and of duty, applying to members of unions the same as to other citizens. The demand is that no man or group be privileged to paralyze the national industry, or to spit upon contractual obligations, or to resort to force and violence. Labor leaders who brand this demand as springing from hostility to the workingman, from a desire to put him in chains, do a sad disservice to those who are presumed—often mistakenly—to represent. And lawmakers who, out of fear of reprisals at the polls, cringe before threats and run away from campaign promises, will face a day of heavy reckoning. It is to be hoped there will not be many of that sort to discredit the new congress."

Couple Has Basis Of Understanding

Appetite of Goats Causes Loss of Animals and Barns in Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Talamini, who just celebrated their 26th wedding anniversary, should have a good understanding of international harmony. Born in Italy, Leo met his future bride from Meridian, Miss., in Washington. Their daughter was born in Hamburg, Germany, and was educated in Rome and New York. Leo is employed by a French perfume house named after a Russian prince. The New York couple celebrated their anniversary at Salt Lake City, Utah, recently.

Rev. Peter P. Powder, Rockford, Ill., says that if his goats didn't have such strange appetites he would have three goats now instead of two and two barns instead of none. Mr. Powder discovered one of his two adjoining barns afire, rushed in and saved two of his three goats. The third perished in the flames which consumed both barns. One of the goats, Mr. Powder told firemen, had nibbled the insulation off some wiring, exposing the wire and causing a short circuit which started the fire.

The Eureka fire company of Rockville Center, N. Y., which is the oldest of Rockville Center's six volunteer fire groups, has been collecting trophies for 51 years for its fighting skill. Recently, when no one was in the fire house, the trophies, fire records, a pool table and other accessories went up in flames.

Pigeons flying around Chicago's loop, and there are thousands, are steering clear of the Northwestern railroad station when they want to take a rest. Robert Russell, 19-year-old student at Los Angeles, couldn't have picked a worse place to have an accident. The scene was just outside the police traffic record bureau. Officers reported Mr. Russell's car struck three machines on one side of the street, careened into a fourth on the opposite, all the cars were owned by policeman.

Judge John R. James, Kansas City, Mo., has been trying for several months to obtain a new chair. Hearing a divorce action, he tilted back.
