Mexico Presents Great Contrasts Mrs. A. R. Davis Finds in Travels

Mexico is a country of great contrasts, deep poverty and immense wealth, adobe huts and Spanish mansions, hot deserts and snow-capped mountain peaks, barren wastes and abundant growth. These contrasts impressed Mrs. A. R. Davis who arrived home Monday last week from that country.

The 17 in the, conducted tour were from all parts of the states and they traveled in four cars with four English-speaking guides and a Mexican manager.

One impressive sight in Mexico is the way people and donkeys carry heavy loads. Women and children are often seen with heavy burdens, and men carry huge timbers on straps across their foreheads. Donkeys pack all manner of loads with straps and baskets.

The sight of unclothed children with protruding stomachs reveals the malnutrition that is prevalent. All homes are fenced. Even adobe huts have fences, though some are only of twigs. The superstition is that the fence keeps away evil spirits.

Women of the poorer class have public laundry places or wash their clothes in streams and lay them on stones or grass to dry.

Wealthy people are very conservative in Mexico, Mrs. Davis found. The Spanish or Mexican miss has a "coming out" party when she is 15. As the affairs opens she dances with each young man.

Mexicans are superstitious. When Mrs. Davis bought a piece of silver at a market, the Mexican crossed himself. The guide explained that the man made his first sale of the day and thanked God for it. One of Mrs. Davis' silver pieces is a heavy carved silver bracelet about six inches wide and a jade bracelet.

Little boys are always begging for coins. One even hears them tap on train windows to ask for money.

In Mexico City. The party stayed in Mexico City at Hotel Reforma where many movie stars stop and where President Truman was to be entertained. The hotel is beautiful with many dining rooms and lounges. Costly paintings were on the walls, and beautiful girls modeled evening gowns. Just outside the organ grinder played.

Mrs. Davis visited the Church of the Virgin of Guadalupe. The carved altar is covered with gold leaf and rails are of solid silver. The sick and blind were entering and leaving. Some approached the altar on their knees. They were praying and kissing a glass box. Indian children danced outside the church as a pledge for some answered prayer.

Also in Guadalupe Mrs. Davis saw the Pyramids of the Sun and Moon. These were made by hand centuries ago. They resemble those of Egypt. The party traveled up the death road to the citadel where prisoners traveled before execution. Beautiful gardens are around the citadel.

At an exclusive night club in Mexico City the party had a many-course dinner at 9 with floor show and two orchestras. At another Spanish garden night club guests saw stage show, singers, dancers, floor show and recording orchestra.

In the old section of Mexico City Mrs. Davis found narrow streets and humble homes.

Sees Black Statue. A three-century-old cathedral on the site of Cortez church replaces the temple where human sacrifices were made. Hand-carved wood is covered with gold. There Mrs. Davis saw the figure of the Black Christ. Legend tells that an enemy of the viceroys placed arsenic on the feet of the Christ statue because the viceroys kissed the feet each day. Just before the officer kissed the feet, the statue turned black. Murals in the court house in Cortez picture the history of Mexico.

The party visited a monastery with underground tunnels which were dug by human hands. The passages are low, deep and dark and visitors carry candles. The small temple is noted for its perfect acoustics. The least whisper is heard across the room perfectly.

The Xoehimilco floating gardens are called the Venice of Mexico. Visitors were in flower-paved boats with singing troubadours riding alongside.

Visit Large Arena. The bull fight in the greatest arena in the world was another experience. A ticket cost $14 and 75,000 people attended. Six bulls were killed by three of Mexico's best matadors. Troubadours wore red satin caps and picadors were in armor. Horses were blindfolded as the bulls charged into the ring. One matador threw six spears into a bull.

Toluca, the city of open street markets, presents everything in shops—fruit, vegetables, flowers, slippers, mats, etc. On entering Toluca cars drove through sterilized water and people walked through sawdust to protect against hoof and mouth diseases.

To West Coast City. Another trip took the party 300 miles to Acapulco on the west coast. They crossed a 15,000-foot peak over narrow, hairpin curves and then down to sea level. They stayed at Casa Blanca hotel where 50 rooms were reserved for American actors who are making the picture, "Captain of Castile." Caesar Romero, Tyrone Power, Lana Turner are among the stars. There the party dined on a roof garden under the stars at $10 a plate. Swimming and boating are sports, and huge waves and seagulls are interesting sights. Mrs. Davis tells that she tried to buy a monkey there but finally gave up the attempt when she learned about the quarantine rules at the border. She decided that the monkey might die of old age before she got it home.

Travelers went to Taxco, the silver city, where they saw silver that is more pure than sterling molded into beautiful objects. Mrs. Davis found that Mexicans make money through the exchange. They give $4.85 for an American $5 bill. "What would they do without the American traveler. We are 'taken' and yet we think the trip was well worth it."

Marry at Service In Wayne Church

Miss Dorothy Lyons Is Bride Of Edward Grone Here Sunday Afternoon.

Miss Dorothy Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Lyons, and Edward Grone, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Grone, both of Wayne, were united in marriage at Redeemer Lutheran church in Wayne Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. S. K. de Freese, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The altar was banked with ferns. As Harold Arp of Omaha sang "Because," the 16 tapers in the candelabra were lighted by Miss Bonnie Faye Kugler. Miss Kugler wore a blue gown with a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Martin Ringer accompanied Mr. Arp and played the wedding marches and soft music during the service. Mrs. Ringer had a corsage of white carnations. Mr. Arp also sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white net fashioned with fitted bodice of brocade lace and cap sleeves. Her two-tiered finger-tip veil fell from a coronet of seeded pearls. The veil was trimmed in wide rows of Paris lace. She carried a bouquet of red roses tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Alice Grone, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. She wore a blue net formal with satin top and fitted bodice. Her circular veil of blue net was attached to a tiara of matching flowers. She carried a colonial nosegay.

The bridegroom wore a blue tuxedo suit with white carnation boutonniere. Warden Lyons, brother of the bride, was best man. He wore a brown suit with a white carnation boutonniere.

Mothers of the couple wore blue dresses with white carnation corsages.

A reception for 125 guests was held in the church basement following the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated in blue and white, her chosen colors. An arch with a miniature bridal couple was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Grone by Warden Lyons. This topped a three-tiered wedding cake decorated in blue and white and baked by the bride's mother. Blue candies were placed on each side of the cake. Harold Arp, accompanied by Mrs. Ringer, sang "The Lord's Prayer" for the reception.

Waitresses were Miss Leoma Barner, Miss Olinda Barner, Miss Bette Ann Ottman and Miss Verdelle Niemann. They wore black dresses with white aprons. Miss Helen Mann had charge of the guest book and gifts. She wore a blue net formal with a white carnation corsage.

The couple left for a week's trip after which they will make their home on a farm south of Wayne. The bride chose as her going-away costume a fuchsia suit with black accessories.

Mrs. Grone was graduated from Laurel high school. She had been working in Wayne three years. For the last year and a half, she served as secretary-treasurer for the Wayne county AAA committee.

Mr. Grone had been home with his folks the past year and a half after 38 months of service.

Twins Pass-Away. The twins son and daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rohan of Pittsburgh, Pa., March 5, died last Saturday. Mrs. Rohan is the former Dorothy Horrell of Wayne.

The very important collection for the relief of the European war victims will be taken up Sunday. Read the archbishop's official letter carefully and be assured that all you give to the suffering and needy will be used for their relief and not wasted. The following is the letter:

"Our Holy Father, Pope Pius XII, recently said: 'There looms over vast territories of Europe and the Far East the specter of the most appalling famine and starvation, which, in itself, is worse than war.'"

"To help in this fight against a real enemy - starvation - to help in this fight for food for the starving millions of the world, the Catholic church in America, through its bishops, priests and people, will surely harken to the cry of the hungry and desolate and render assistance in the name of Christ."

"On Sunday, March 16, in all of the churches in the Archdiocese of Omaha a very special collection for the 'Bishops Relief Campaign Drive for Victims of War' will be taken up. This is an important annual collection. The complete proceeds will go to the suffering and the starving children and people in France, Germany, Italy, Poland, Belgium, Holland, Czechoslovakia, Croatia, Lithuania, Austria, Hungary, Greece and the many other countries in Europe and Asia."

where the need is great. Without any distinction of race, color and religion, those in need will be helped, especially the children, aged and sick.

"The money collected will again be dispensed by a committee of American bishops after a thorough study of needs, and is sent only to responsible people to distribute and in the form of clothing, food and medicine. Therefore, as your Archbishop, I say once again, this year, through this appeal - lend a helping hand to the needy; let not your zeal of Christian charity grow cold; let your help to starving children and people be ever more generous this year on Sunday, March 16. At least $7,000,000.00 will again be needed, so that the American bishops can continue the work of the 'Bishops Relief Campaign Drive for Victims of War.'"

"I hope and trust that the faithful of the Archdiocese of Omaha will do their part and help in this great work of Christian charity. Only our help now, to buy bread, clothing and medicine, given with love, with our prayers and with tenderness will save their souls and bodies for the future.

"I am very happy to hear that the children of the Archdiocese are also doing so well during the entire Lenten season in collecting pennies, nickels and dimes for the starving children of Asia and Europe."

"So again this year your Archbishop appeals to you to be most generous in your tithings to the victims of war on next Sunday, March 16.

Asking God's blessing on you for your generosity to His poor and suffering people, I am,

"Yours sincerely in Christ," James H. Lyan, Archbishop of Omaha

Equalizing Salaries
 THE Saturday Evening Post points out disparity between salaries paid industrial leaders and those paid university teachers as reason why the latter are leaving the profession. Encouraging abandonment of the field of higher training is considered a deterrent to future crops of experts. A proper readjustment is urged. The Post comments in conclusion:

"Our plea is not that industry lay off or that the universities necessarily attain salary levels equaling those of industry. As a matter of fact, some industries have shown a splendid spirit of co-operation through the establishment of scholarships and fellowships and financial support of research foundations and special research projects. Some universities, too, are satisfactorily compensating a handful of their staffs. We merely suggest that the business world appreciate the need for conservation of the academic research from which it draws its technicians, and that university authorities make every effort to reduce the gap between the salaries they pay and those paid by business."

Extra Wind
 H. J. GRAMLICH, general agricultural agent of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway system, says soil in the middle west is in good condition despite more wind than usual. Here is his observation:
 "There has been a large amount of wind this winter. Many hillsides have been swept bare of snow and considerable dust has been in the air. Blizzards have been all too frequent in the midwest with the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, area probably the hardest hit. There, an eighteen inch snowfall piled up drifts eight to ten feet high. It is a rather common assumption that dust storms have been prevalent because of very dry soil. While the top soil is rather dry at this time, the sub-soil is in wonderful condition. The great plains states had

The supreme court has taken another crimp in the czar role of John L. Lewis. It has made it advisable for the boss to call off another threatened coal strike. David Lawrence, columnist, advises an amended law to authorize intervention in strike calamities. It will be agreeable to people generally for congress to supply any lack needed to prevent industrial tieups. People are out of sympathy with any policy that permits paralysis of producing centers. And plainly, suspended production is as hard on strikers as on the rest of the population.

Building officials have issued a report from New York, following investigation of disastrous and fatal hotel fires, in the hope of future preventives. Many things are proposed, but not a word against smoking cigarettes in bed or imposing other restrictions on guests. According to the reporting committee, preventing fires or limiting their scope, once started, is up to hotel owners.

According to a report, Russia has 6,000,000 of the world's communists, Italy 2,200,000, the United States 74,000 and Great Britain 43,000. There are still too many communists in this country, but not enough to carry elections or determine public policies.

Three ways are proposed to take the place of the gas tax in supplying old age assistance. One is a sales tax, another a cigaret tax and the third to put the state into the wholesale liquor business. The least objectionable one would seem to be a sales tax.

Dean Roseoe Pound, formerly of Nebraska, speaking recently at Princeton, declared: "Education toward a world order must begin at home. We should begin by educating ourselves toward a universal ideal, not striving to educate all peoples to our model."

Recreation programs are offered as ways to combat juvenile delinquency. Facilities to furnish an outlet for youthful energy are worth all they cost in keeping children on the right track and away from vitiating influences.

Schuyler is making substantial progress. At a special election last week it endorsed a proposed bond issue of $250,000 for school improvements. The vote was nearly two to one.

The civilized world looks to the Moscow conference with hope for lasting peace. The only hindrance to desired ends is the soviet union whose actions arouse suspicion.

SPRING

February was an unusually cold month, made easier to tolerate, however, by absence of deep snow. March is uncertain. If it were uniformly agreeable it would be exceptional. If it has ugly streaks of cold and snow it will be annoying but not surprising. Any kind of weather can happen in March. April is not always in a mood to harmonize with spring-time ideas, but it is more successful than its predecessor in getting rid of lingering winter and ushering in seasonable spring-time. In contrast with average weather in past months here, about, winter has been the toughest ever known in Europe where fuel and food have been scarce. Suffering from the unusually severe elements has been serious. Spring with moderate temperatures will be a signal relief to countries stricken by meagre supplies. Spring comes with the vernal equinox on March 21. Whether the weather will observe that date or not remains to be seen.

INCOME TAXES.

Only a few days remain for filing income tax returns. March 15 is the date. Many procrastinators will tear their shirts to get under the wire. In connection with this unpleasant subject is an article in the current Coronet magazine. An expert explains how over-payments to the government may be made through ignorance or carelessness, and that such errors may remain "never discovered and uncorrected." Over-payments are due to failure to understand allowable deductions, and high-tops in the revenue department have no way of detecting too few deductions. Therefore, no restitution can be made. Coronet's expert writer says about seven out of every ten Americans over-pay. Hospital, surgical and medical bills and everything contributing to health repair furnish ground for deductions. Many things may be lawfully figured. Persons thoroughly familiar with the government's demands and the taxpayer's rights should be employed. The government should receive all it is entitled to under the law, but no more.

AS SEEN BY EARL STEFAN

Washington, D. C. March 13, 1947
 Former President Herbert Hoover has been holding "off the record" hearings with congressional appropriations committee members. He wants the congressmen to understand fully the economic crisis that faces Europe before more money is contributed for relief.

The United States has already contributed approximately $6,500,000,000 for foreign relief. Mr. Hoover figures that we will have to spend about $1,500,000,000 more. The former president believes in establishing a stable government in all liberated countries and also feels that some powers known to be building up their armies can well afford to start producing food for their own people.

Mr. Hoover wants a "realistic viewpoint" on Uncle Sam's program of feeding the world. "Give them food, clothing and medicine, but make them help themselves. Check all distribution carefully so that it will go to the hungry men, women and children," he told a group of senators and representatives.

It is reported that the former president is going to remain in Washington for several weeks to aid congress in carrying out this program.

Large bond holdings of government funds worry those who fear inflation with the surplus funds obtained from previous bond sales, including those purchased by individuals and private corporations. The amount of bonds outstanding has been reduced. About 90 per cent of the bonds so retained were purchased from banks. In 1940, the grand total of bank deposits, including bonds, checking and savings accounts, was about $70,000,000,000. Now such deposits are reported to be $163,000,000,000.

General George C. Marshall, the new Secretary of State, Moscow-bound, made his last appearance before a house appropriations subcommittee on Capitol Hill last week. Every indication points to the fact that the new secretary is planning some general "house-cleaning" in his department.

Apparently the Germans developed a process of technicolor film production that even surpasses America's best. The other night employees of the commerce department were shown a special film of this nature which was used as a "morale booster" by Hitler during the war. Everyone who saw the picture (it was produced in 1943 at Berlin) agreed that it was one of the most "picturesque" movies they had ever seen. All scientific developments of the Germans are now being studied by technical advisors of our commerce department. These advancements in science will soon be made available to the American producer.

Here's another angle on America's sugar shortage:

It seems that a large supply of sugar is tied up in the Dutch East Indies and very little of it is being made available to the world because Holland's navy is blockading these ports.

Some of our transports entered those ports the other day loaded to the brim with "scarce commodities." These ships were scheduled to bring sugar back to the United States. However, the officer in charge of the convoy was notified before sailing time that if the ships tried to leave the island ports they would be fired upon and sunk.

While this squabble continues, the United States rations its sugar supply.

Spokesmen for the war department have informed congress that it will require more than $3,100,000,000 a year to pay officers and enlisted men of the army. It is reported that there will be about 1,070,000 enlisted men and approximately 140,000 officers in our army at the end of this year.

Four former secretaries of the treasury have told congressional appropriations committee members that $31,500,000,000 is more than enough money to keep the federal government in business for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The Lacook Akeley copy of the Magna Carta can still be viewed in the Library of Congress. The famous document will be shown here for two years.

European countries have a tremendous amount of money invested in the United States. Recently a 500-room apartment house in Washington owned by Holland interests was sold for a large sum of money. The sale attracted considerable attention. It is reported that Holland owns large blocks of stock in some of our largest railroads.

State Railroad Commissioner John Knickerhohn of Grand Island and Emerson Kolkner of Wahoo, assistant state attorney general, were guests last week at the Nebraska delegation breakfast.

THERE'S A GREAT DAY COMING HERE

There's EXTRA SAFETY in the Tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

While many postwar products are still in the dream stage, one is not... the new postwar B.F. Goodrich Silverflown that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

It's been produced... and what is more... it's the past twelve months it's been delivered to car owners in greater quantities than any tire in B.F. Goodrich history.

Of course, many car owners have heard about the thousands of extra miles of service from the broader, flatter tread that covers more road area and gives greater protection against skidding. They know about the 35% stronger cord body that gives better resistance to road shocks and bruising. It's no wonder the factory's outstanding production has been taxed keeping up with this extra demand.

But this is one product you can take out of your dream book... it's here. If you'll be needing new tires soon... check with us today for the tire that's worth much more but costs no more—the B.F. Goodrich Silverflown that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

It's Your Duty to Report Faulty Tavern Conditions

You and the other public spirited citizens of your town want your local taverns to be operated in an orderly, lawful manner. It is your wish that the tavern owners shall obey the spirit and the letter of our liquor control laws. That they shall not sell liquor to minors, that there shall be no gambling, no after-hour sales, that proper sanitation shall be provided, etc.

It is the wish of public officials and this Committee that you be watchful of any violations you may have observed, and report them to the local governing body. Licenses will be up for renewal within just a few weeks. Now is the time to report any conditions which you feel are not right. Only by such cooperation is the local governing body in the best position to pass on the merits of tavern operators seeking renewal licenses.

Bridegroom Breaks Leg As He Is Enroute to Rites At Chicago Church.

One contained $25, the second, $34.

Hal Tegan, bear keeper at the Brookfield Chicago zoo, says he heard reports indicating there have been blessed events in the rocky, granite in which Regina, mighty female Kodiak bear, spends her winters. Mr. Tegan said that noises drifting up from the rocky cavern, tiny grunts and a series of faint snorts, led him to estimate that the zoo is going to have two bear cubs this spring. But he won't know definitely until about April 1 when the hibernating period ends.

The Wayne county prosecutor at Detroit, Mich., considered the legality of an unusual request made to the county board of auditors. Edward Pokorney wants to hire a safe cracker. Mr. Pokorney explained that an old safe, once owned by his office for years, has been in his office for years. He says it would be useful for safeguarding alimony payments that sometimes run into the thousands. But no one knows the combination, so Mr. Pokorney suggests hiring an expert to break open the strong box.

Gary Lee, 12, Portland, Ore., set out for school reassured that he had what it takes to get promoted. Gary left his home a few days before and wandered about in the cold and rain for two days because he was afraid to go home. His report card had no "A's" on it. He left a note for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Redburn, that said, "I've failed. Goodbye." The answer to the question of what's new at your library this week is that the majority of new additions has been in the children's or young people's department. We do have a few new adult books, though. One is a novel by Norman Collins called "Dulcimer Street." This is a typically English book, about some people in London who lived in a rooming house at No. 10 Dulcimer street. It is a slow-moving tale, but excellent writing. Somehow the book makes you understand the ordinary middle-class Englishman and his problems and you feel like you had really come to know these characters in the story as though they were real people. "Philosopher's Quest," by Edman, who is a member of the Columbia University faculty, will interest the readers who are looking for a faith to live by. He offers us no easy one but opens a number of tempting avenues of thought, any one of which may lead us in the direction we want to go. We also have "The Picture Primer of Indoor Gardening," which is a little book with lots of information and good illustrations. For the young people who are at the age when etiquette begins to matter, there is a charming new book with the title, "Your Manners Are Showing."

STOP BUTTERFAT LOSSES

USE CENTRIFUGAL SEPARATOR URGES AMERICAN BUTTER INSTITUTE

YOUR CREAM BUYER KNOWS!

The American Butter Institute strongly urges farmers selling butterfat to do their separating with a good centrifugal cream separator. The purpose of this recommendation is (1) to help the butterfat producer earn more, (2) to eliminate waste and (3) to improve butterfat quality.

The chart at left shows comparative butterfat losses with hand skimming, water diluting and the centrifugal separator as given by the American Butter Institute. In addition to its far cleaner skimming the centrifugal separator produces cream of uniformly higher quality and fresh, warm, sweet skim milk for young stock, pigs and chickens.

Are you using these "hired hands"?
It often seems as though a farmer or rancher never has enough help. But did you ever stop to think that there are literally thousands of people who work for you that you seldom, if ever, see?
These unseen "hired hands" are the scientists of agriculture, who work for you the year 'round in agricultural experiment stations of the nation. Their accomplishments are many—and can benefit you directly in proportion to the advantage you take of their services. They've helped increase productivity of the land, helped develop better-yielding crops, better livestock and poultry. Yet, never satisfied that perfection has been reached, the experiment stations continue to explore the possibilities of further aid to agriculture.
The experiment stations in the 48 states are to the business of agriculture what our research laboratories are to Swift & Company. It is in the research laboratory that we put science to work for us, to improve our products and our business. It costs us money—but we consider it money well spent. Farmers and ranchers are indeed fortunate to have much of their research work done for them—and paid for out of public funds derived from taxes.
We like to think of these agricultural experiment stations as a vast bank of valuable scientific knowledge. To maintain the assets of this bank, millions of dollars from this year's $1,235,055,000 budget of the United States Department of Agriculture go to the various state experiment stations, to conduct experiments sponsored by the U. S. D. A. In addition, about $12,000,000 is provided by the states to staff and maintain the sta-

SIZE OF BUSINESS
By J. L. Tennant
Rhode Island State College
A farm business should be large enough to pay operating costs, interest on the investment, and family living expenses. A southern New England dairy farm, for example, should have at least 18 cows per farm; a poultry farm, 1,500 layers; a market-garden farm, 10 acres; a potato farm, 40 acres; and an apple farm, 20 acres.
Doing more business with the same capital investment is one way to lower costs and higher profits. With the larger business, the operator can spend more of his time at productive work. For example, workers on a dairy farm with 9 to 10 cows per man will be just as busy as on a farm with 15 to 18 cows per man. The gross sales and net income on the larger operation will be much higher because more of the time is used in producing milk. Reducing costs per unit puts the farm operator in a stronger competitive position.
If more crop land cannot be bought, perhaps it can be rented. Another plan is to check means by which crop production on present acreage can be increased. Ways to do this include: the use of lime and fertilizer; winter cover crops; higher yielding varieties; double cropping; drainage and terracing.
Another step toward efficiency is to install modern equipment which enables one person to produce more per hour. Overhead costs per unit of product can be lowered when each machine is used profitably for as many hours as possible.

A Big Market of Little People
A new outlet for meat has been developed! Hundreds of thousands of "little people" in America, the babies of the nation, are now eating meat. Swift's Meats for Babies and Juniors are specially prepared for them. These new products give today's babies a better chance, than ever before for robust health and full physical development.
The better the food, the better the baby! That's why doctors are so enthusiastic about Swift's Meats for Babies. They know that meat provides complete, high-quality proteins, the essential body-builders—iron, the blood-builder—and needed vitamins in natural form. They know, too, that these vital food elements in meat are most important when babies are young—actually building their bodies. And so, many doctors are recommending Swift's Meats for Babies and Juniors—strained for the very young and diced for older children.
This is but one example of the many ways Swift's research, distribution and promotion contribute to the nation's nutrition and build new markets for the products of your farm and ranch.
Mothers: if you'd like a free copy of a new informative booklet, "Meat in Your Baby's Diet," write Swift & Company, Dept. B, Chicago 9, Illinois.

Two Different Things
There seems to be a good deal of misunderstanding about two factors which are important in the marketing of livestock—grade and price.
Simply defined, the purpose of grading is to provide a convenient but necessary means for comparing qualities of the meat animals in a market; or for comparing the animals in one market with those offered for sale in another market. However, grading is not an exact science because it depends to quite an extent on the judgment of the person doing the buying or selling. Grades are standards which take into consideration the sex, weight, quality, conformation and finish of animals.
Now, let's have a look at price. Price is not a factor in determining grade. Just because some animals are in a higher grade does not mean that they always will sell for a higher price than animals in a lower grade. For example, it happens at times that a medium grade of cattle sells for as much or more than a good grade. Such a condition may come about when there is a heavy demand for, but only a light supply of, medium cattle; while on the same day a big supply and a light demand of good grade cattle will not bring so high a price.
The same situation may exist in the case of lambs. In communities where racial customs affect eating habits, there are times when carcasses of lightweight, thin, lean lambs sell for as much as the fat, well-finished, choice type. Again the law of supply and demand is in action.
Always remember that price and grade are two different things. Try to think of each separately, and we believe you will have a much clearer and truer picture of grading and marketing of livestock.

Martha Logan's Recipe for BEEF GOULASH
2 pounds beef chuck
1/4 cup flour
3 tablespoons fat
1 1/2 cups water
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup celery leaves
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 clove garlic
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/4 teaspoon sage
1 teaspoon caraway seed (optional)
1 teaspoon salt
Cut beef into chunks and roll in flour. Melt fat in skillet. Brown meat well. Add remaining ingredients. Cover skillet and cook slowly for 3 1/2 hours, or until tender. (Yield: 6 servings.)
Things are NOT always as they seem
Which of the two shapes shown at left is the larger? The white one or the black one? The white one certainly appears to be bigger. But actually they are exactly the same size.
In the livestock-meat industry, too, things are not always as they seem. For example, sometimes people think of Swift's total profits as being large. Yet the actual fact is that in 1946 dividend payments to shareholders were less than 4% on the shareholders' investment; the company's net earnings from all sources were 1 1/2% per dollar of sales . . . only a fraction of a cent per pound of product handled. That seems to be doing business on a mighty narrow margin—and it is!
