

Triumphant age was given deserved recognition among northeast Nebraska banks at the annual meeting of Group Three, Nebraska Bankers' association, at Norfolk last week.

Reports of early-day bank salaries suggest the care with which finances were managed. The chief executive received $75 per month and his assistant $20 per month.

We recall the halcyon days—halcyon because the United States was free from wars or threats of war.

There was more peace than plenty in the old days. Jean pants, cotton shirt and straw hat, costing a total of $2, constituted a boy's summer wardrobe.

The old days may have been sadder, because of no automobiles or airplanes or atomic bombs, but anyone who thinks they held more advantages than the present is plainly blind to facts.

Plenty of Moisture. The ground is said to contain an abundance of moisture—considerably more than a year ago.

Garden planting has been the order of late. Persons who understand horticulture and who have the required muscle and patience will profit in many ways.

Neglected Cemetery. A report comes to the Herald that the pioneer LaPorte cemetery, southeast of Wayne, shows shameful neglect—overrun with weeds and rubbish, tombstones out of order, sometimes overturned.

Predicts Science To Attain Much

Dr. W. G. Ingram Tells Club About Advancement Made During Year

In addressing Wayne Women's club on "Some of the Highlights in Science of the Past Year" at the club rooms Thursday Dr. W. G. Ingram of the college science department predicted some of the developments of the future to be the following: Television on telephone and radio; static-free radio; broadcasting of odors and colors by radio; cure or preventative for TB, cancer and polio; car that will run 50 miles on a gallon of gasoline; a dress material that will have different designs under various types of lights; a house decoration system that will redecorate the home by pressing a button for different type of light.

During 1946 basic science research passed for the most part into the hands of the army and navy. The government spends $100,000,000 a year for research for branches of service and this is four times the expenditure for research in all universities in 1938. There is a danger that the country's research will become one of pure military effort. If the consequences are very likely to be far reaching, Germany has been an example of this. Though nearly all advances were stimulated by war and the cost great—$25,000 for example to train a pilot—cannot be figured as yet for science progressed as much in one year as in 10 years of peace time.

Through the ages sciences have advanced in this order: Mathematics, physics, chemistry, biology, psychology and sociology. "Perhaps we should close our laboratories and let social science catch up."

The year's most important scientific advance was an outgrowth of the atomic bomb research. The Bikini demonstration proved that enormous quantities of radio active materials produced rays thousands of times more powerful than all the radium in the world. Some of these rays were produced by the explosion itself and others by the rays from the explosion striking and transforming common elements such as salt and carbon. The great piles of uranium that have been used to make atomic bombs can still be used to make other radio active products.

Now cheap isotopes can replace expensive radium to treat cancer, leukemia and other diseases. The radioisotopes will find many uses in nutrition and in plant growth. Among other scientific advances in 1946 were the following: Remote flight control for planes, rockets and shells; the synchrotron or atom smasher; a vaccine that may prevent attacks of influenza which causes more deaths than war; nitrogen "mustard", a war gas injected to treat leukemia which is a form of cancer affecting white blood cells; eniac, which is an electronic numerical integrator and computer, its first job doing in two weeks what would have required 100 experts a year to accomplish; flying wing, a plane without a tail, rudders or cockpit, carrying 25 per cent more load on the same power; biological warfare, development of botulinum toxin which can be scattered by plane to cause death of men and animals; the ram jet, the simplest engine with no moving parts, it being essentially an open tube with flames roaring out the rear and thrusting the tube forward; and cancer research.

Regarding cancer research Dr. Ingram explained that Russia is making notable advance in this line. Scientists are working with a South American parasite. The serum produced is called KR and has been 90 per cent successful in killing cancer cells in 13,000 mice. It has been used on some humans but cannot be classed as a cure as cancer may return after years.

Some product highlights of the year, Dr. Ingram noted as the following: DDT insecticide, which was a wartime service to the armed forces; ketchikan color photography which enables one to develop films in 90 minutes; streptomycin, an anti-bacterial drug which may be effective on TB; snooper-scope which projects an infra beam and picks it up in the dark; weed killers, developed in the army's biological warfare.

The trumpet trio, including George Barlow, Kay Laestad and Leatha Harbaugh, played "The Trumpeters," by Agostini. Mrs. John R. Keith was accompanist. The first two played a cornet duet, "The Swiss Boy," by de Ville. Leatha Harbaugh was accompanist. The club allowed convention bills and bought a $100 bond.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. F. S. Berry, Mrs. J. H. Foster, Mrs. Julia Haas, Mrs. Chas. Heikes, Mrs. Chas. Riese, Mrs. Carl Wright, Mrs. Verne Thompson, Mrs. James Maben, Mrs. Ed. Perry and Mrs. Adelaide McEachern.

Members meet May 9 at 2:30 in rooms 2 and 3 in the basement of the student union for installation of officers and annual reports. The group then goes to the lounge for a style show in charge of Miss Ida Warner. Hostesses will be students of the home economics department and Miss Rhoda Austin.

Vet's Corner

The Nebraska plan for agricultural training on farms or ranches under public law 346 or public law 16, 78th congress, developed by the state department of vocational education in cooperation with the United States veterans administration, has been approved. A contract whereby the veterans administration will provide funds to the state department of vocational education for conducting the program through local high schools of the state has been signed. The program is now ready to swing into operation. The demand in some communities will be such that a training program should start yet this spring and continuing during the summer. Other schools will wait until next fall. The veterans who enroll in this program attend school four hours a week for a period of 50 weeks. The course is known as the "Institutional-On-Farm" program. Please notify your county service officer of your interest in stated program. Veterans not living on farms but who are interested in taking such training as a life objective are eligible. Farm veterans interested are urged to make wishes known to county service officer as soon as possible. L. D. Clements, state supervisor of vocational agriculture, wishes a report on the number of veterans interested in this program in order that steps may be taken to set up the program. Enrolled veterans will receive subsistence pay of either $63 or $90 monthly depending upon dependency status.

Over 6,000 veterans declared eligible for hospitalization by the veterans administration during February were emergency cases. More than 900,000 veterans have withdrawn temporarily or permanently from vocational rehabilitation or job-training since the inception of these two programs.

Over 3,500 veterans from World War I are carried on veterans administration rolls as amputees (loss of hands or feet or both). The veterans' administration now has 268 full-time chaplains representing 29 churches in its 136 hospitals and homes.

Veterans' administration boards rated 845,000 cases for disability compensation during the month of January, 1947.

The state of Ohio, in recognition of the services rendered by her sons who served in the 42nd Rainbow division, has designated U. S. highway 42, as the Rainbow division memorial highway.

Veterans' organizations are urging an increase in subsistence allowances for veterans who are in schools. An asked subsistence increase is 15 per cent to combat the 19 per cent living cost increase the past year.

The sub-committee on education of the house veterans affairs committee has been asked to secure legislation on the requested increase.

As of April 1, 1947 there were 4,731,060 veterans of World War II drawing compensation.

Looking for Tax Sources
 IT LOOKS AS THOUGH the state's unicameral would have to find more cloth to make its tax garment. More money than now in sight will be needed to meet requirements. Passage of the popular Schroeder bill to gravel mail routes will absorb the one-cent-per-gallon gasoline tax hitherto used for assistance and the latter will have to be given support in some other way. The cigarette tax which has been approved, has been headed for the general fund.

The reassessment bill has been killed, and so increases in valuations will be up to assessors. The fact that many valuations for tax purposes have neglected to rise since depression years, will add reason for hikes.

The proposed sales tax which was turned down in committee and levied on the floor, is slated for consideration by the unicameral body this week. Since it is among few remaining tax sources, it may gain legislative favor despite pressing objections and memory of the "white spot."

School districts may take a hand by increasing levies. Rural schools with too few pupils, may cut costs by consolidations. That would be practical and economical and disturb nothing but traditional pride. Unicameral members will necessarily do some earnest thinking in the direction of taxes. State buildings are often dilapidated, new ones are needed and salaries are usually too low. Something tangible to draw on is apparent. The legislature will not want to adjourn until it has been able to meet reasonable demands.

Foreign Policy
 TOWN-HALL of the Air discussed the United States foreign policy Thursday night. Four speakers—all close students of world affairs—sharply disagreed. Two expressed the belief that interference in Europe would bring war. Two thought it would prevent war.

But it does not appeal to reason for the United States to stand in a corner and look on while foreign dictators map out plans for aggression and conquest, and then be called in to settle questions involving freedom. That has been done twice within recent memory at fearful cost in loss of life and treasure. Other losses—defeated hopes, bitter anguish and broken hearts—have been inexpressibly great.

It is costly to prevent another world conflagration, but not so costly as to loaf along until threats make resort to arms inevitable.

Fires on Farms
 THE Omaha Journal-Stockman notes the extra fire hazards on farms in the spring of the year. It says property valued at $100,000,000 was lost through

Congress
 As Seen By
KARL STEFAN

 Washington, D. C. April 24, 1947
 "The best propaganda is no propaganda at all. All we need to do is portray American life as it is."
 Those are the words of Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America. They were uttered last week, according to The Washington Evening Star, when the motion picture official spoke to a meeting of the Washington Advertising fires on American farms last year. It mentions these causes:

 "1. Thirty per cent from matches and careless smoking habits.
 "2. Twenty-four per cent from faulty stoves, furnaces, chimneys and the like.
 "3. Twelve per cent from misuse of gasoline and inflammable fluids.
 "4. Ten per cent from faulty wiring and electrical appliances.
 "All of these items deserve consideration. The third is of prime importance now that spring work is beginning. Caution must be exercised in the use and handling of tractor fuels."

The peace conference over in Moscow with little accomplished reminds people that Russia which has been the main obstacle, may have in mind a sort of "cooling off" period before arriving at a basis for permanent peace. We hope that is true. However, we have well-grounded doubts. That it would like to drive America out of Europe seems a more reasonable soviet reaction. With the United States gone, Russia could ply its ruthless force for a considerable time without fear of interference.

Youths cannot and should not be guaranteed unearned luxury and ease, but they should be guaranteed an orderly world in which initiative and talent may be exercised without unnecessary restraint. Children need a fair mixture of work and play, due incentives for both and freedom from parental stupidity or government impositions that impede a wholesome unfolding of desirable qualities.

State Senator John Callan denies that he is maneuvering for the democratic nomination for governor in 1948. It is likely most members of the unicameral feel they are headed for the governor's chair. And a fellow engaged in public service may find ample compensation in the excitement of running without pinning much hope on the chance of winning.

The United States News reports, as the result of a careful survey, that Nebraska ranks eighth among all states in increased income since 1940. Average in the nation is 11.7 per cent, in Nebraska, 15.4. The record should not lead to wild spending, but on the contrary, it should encourage necessary repairs and improvements.

Columnist Louis Bromfield notes a strong swing away from the "new deal philosophy of scarcity, high prices, subsidies, support prices and relief in all forms toward production and abundance and low prices. The one philosophy is that of the socialist state, the other that of free enterprise."

Wage increases announced by Big Steel and General Motors may be expected to stimulate production. The way these two giant industries promise to get along ought to help others iron out differences and pull together for needed output.

Black-top hard surfacing as applied in this part of the state has not proved successful. Considered over a long period of years, concrete would be cheaper, always more dependable.

The building spirit is taking hold here as fast as material and workmen become available. New structures are going up in all parts of town, and many others are planned.

club at which time Mr. Johnston said he was opposed to the recent actions of Henry Wallace.
 However, the two sentences can have a far reaching effect and their meaning is concise and clear. There are those in and out of government who say we Americans must maintain "cultural relations" with other nations so the rest of the world will know what our country stands for.
 Certainly within the last two weeks we have heard voices in the air telling us that unless we propagandize the world about democracy our cause will be lost. We've been told through the radio and press that certain types of American culture are needed to compete with communism.
 What is back of it all? The answer is plain. The office of information and culture of the department of state is simply defending its cause and attempting to justify its claim for more appropriations from congress for the fiscal year 1948.

 Many projects carried out by OIC may be classified as "good propaganda." Others are still on the doubtful list. Among those are the broadcasts we are making to Russia and certain art exhibits which a New York Times writer recently classified as "left wing."
 "The United States can be well proud of its film industry. In his talk here, Mr. Johnston pointed out that in some countries in the Russian orbit, U. S. films outdraw soviet pictures, although Russia issued free tickets to the soviet films and furnished transportation.
 "The question now arises do we need to spend more money to educate the world about Americans when we can already see that our motion picture industry has and is making tremendous headway in the field of U. S. culture without the help of government funds?
 "What is wrong with trying to save the taxpayers a dollar or two? Why shouldn't we 'portray America as it is'?"
 According to the budget bureau calculations, the United States foreign aid actually rendered and pending between July 1, 1945 and February 28, 1947 is summarized as follows: Direct assistance to civilians from military civilian supplies, $342,000,000; government relief in occupied areas, $1,450,000,000; British loan, $3,750,000,000; export-import bank loans, $2,011,700,000; surplus property transfers, $1,050,000,000; lend-lease aid (post war), $1,848,000,000; maritime ship transfers, $107,000,000; Philippine relief, $695,000,000; post-UNRRA relief, $350,000,000; Greek-Turkish aid (pending), $400,000,000; assistance through international organizations—UNRRA (U. S. share), $2,617,000,000; International bank (U. S. share), $635,000,000; and international relief organization (pending), $75,000,000.

FOR UNITED EUROPE.
 The Sioux City Journal quotes Senator Fullbright as expressing the conviction that Russia's threats offer "the best argument in the world for a United States of Europe." The idea is that if the soviet union does not wish to cooperate in promoting a peaceful, self-governing order, let it hold aloof and whistle along alone. Make it easy for Russia to join the European group, but if it persists in refusal, let it stay out. A United States of Europe would present strength that even recalcitrant soviet leaders would have to respect. If that national union could be developed, suggests the Journal, "soviet Russia would be compelled to realize that she definitely had missed a most important bus." Adds the Journal: "There isn't a bit of sense in anyone saying that the forward-looking, peace-loving nations of the world that believe in national integrity, are to be thwarted by Russian refusal to cooperate with the rest of humanity."

schools training veterans, has been extended to all eligible non-profit schools and hospitals in the United States.
 The right of veteran-aided schools to purchase surplus at 75 per cent of fair value expired March 31. In an amendment to order 7 to regulation 14, WAA not only restored this right, but extended it to more than 130,000 additional schools and about 23,000 health institutions.

The house discussed long and loud last week a new labor bill. Debate was quite spirited, although lacking some of the political punch evidenced when the chamber took up the individual income tax reduction bill. Many democrats crossed party lines and joined the republican ranks in calling for labor legislation that will prevent strikes on the part of employees working for public utilities.

The house bill, as reported, contained these provisions: Prohibits closed shop (already a law in Nebraska), industry wide bargaining, sympathy strikes, certain boycotts, jurisdictional strikes, mass picketing and violence; prohibits withholding of union dues each month of employer to be turned over to the union unless permission is given by the worker in writing; protects a non-striker in his right to go to and from his place of work; requires a secret vote by the majority of the employees, on the employer's offer of settlement before a strike can be called; prohibits recognition of a union as bargaining agent when one of its members is a communist; requires annual financial reports by unions; makes unions and industry liable for violation of contracts; prohibits unions from making contributions to political parties; limits union initiation fees to $25.

When a group of Nebraska Indians, visiting this office, attended a hearing of the house public lands subcommittee on Indian affairs recently, they objected to a painting entitled, "War Whoop," showing an Indian brave scalping a white man.
 "We've buried the hatchet," the Indians said in effect, "and we don't believe paintings of this kind represent the true feeling between our group and the white man."
 Subcommittee Chairman D. Ewart (R-Mont.) has ordered the painting to be moved.
 Now comes a suggestion from William E. Hawkins, jr., a real estate agent, of West Redding, Conn., who says the picture should be replaced with one showing a white man scalping an Indian.
 "You know, if this should be done," Mr. Hawkins said, "it might serve as a constant reminder against further abuses of our Indian population."

CHILD HEALTH.
 The state department of health calls attention to the first week in May as designated to give emphasis to child health. It is vital to the future to keep the minds and bodies of children healthy. Several smaller nations are said to have surpassed our record. The report continues: "We cannot build good health in our nation in a day or a year. It is a long-time process. It means not only a sound physical environment, but also a social and emotional setting which will help the child achieve security within the family circle. All mothers must have proper care before, during and after childbirth if we are to make certain that our children are well born, and their mothers protected from avoidable dangers. We must provide better nutrition, better environment, and medical care, including the correction of physical and mental handicaps as far as correction is possible. Parents cannot achieve that goal unaided. Communities, states and the federal government must offer safeguards and services that will help parents to insure the vigor and well-being of the youth of our state and nation."

Need Clean Pens For Young Pigs

Losses among pigs are smaller for the farmer who provides clean farrowing ground and new pasture, or rather fresh or non-contaminated pasture, according to Dixon County Agent Howard Gillaspie.
 Where the permanent central farrowing house is used it is very essential that the house be cleaned thoroughly before farrowing time and kept clean, the extension service advises. These pigs, while growing, must not be permitted to exercise on the hog lot (that has been in use for several years. It is difficult to grow little pigs on the same ground year after year.
 Though it is often difficult to change hog lots, it will pay good dividends to rearrange the fencing around the central hog house so that hog lots can be rotated in three or four cycles.

Has Wild Proposal To Avoid Accidents

Woman With Big Bank Roll Can't Afford Radio to Check on Time.

Representative C. W. Jeffrey, Cheyenne, Wyo., calling the number of traffic accidents involving California drivers in Wyoming "appalling," introduced a bill in the state legislature to require California cars entering the state to carry two red flags, three feet square, fore and aft; have two bells, six inches in diameter and capable of being heard 500 yards. California's department of motor vehicles director Edgar E. Lampson answered: "If Wyoming passes the law we'll encourage California motorists to choose another route east. Besides those dangerous cowboy drivers, that state's full of mountains and there's too much snow on the roads."

Policemen at the Bloomington, Ill., station daily for months have given the correct time and temperature to an unidentified woman telephone caller. She said she was "too poor" to buy a radio and get the information. Finally they had an old radio repaired as a gift for the caller but before giving it to her one officer investigated. "She lives in a better home than any policeman could afford and she has a fat bank account," he told his fellow officers. The radio went to the police clubrooms. The woman calls every day for the time and temperature.

Richard W. Ruth, 33, Los Angeles, was ordered to prison for up to 14 years by a judge who revoked his probation on conviction of issuing a worthless check. Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke was told that Ruth, while on probation, issued several hundred dollars worth of worthless checks to finance a business in Santa Monica which would protect bankers and merchants from forgers and bad-check artists.

"May I have your ticket, Lieutenant?" Carl H. Linn, president of the Omaha Kiwanis club, was shocked when the waiter put the question to a guest speaker. It wasn't that the waiter had asked the guest for the ticket. It was the title given the speaker, Major General Wm. Livesay, commanding officer of the Fifth army western states area training command. President Linn related the incident in introducing the general.

An 11 million-dollar expense bill hit a snag before it was passed by the Michigan state senate at Lansing, Mich. Republican Senator Edgar F. Down refused to vote money "for expenses of escaped prisoners." Another republican, Senator Otto Bishop, hastened to explain the $778,250 item, smallest on the bill. "That's not to help escaped prisoners," he assured Mr. Down. "That's to recapture them."

A Pennsylvania state senator proposed a new state song but declined to sing it himself. "I am not in good voice," Republican Senator Geo. R. Wade told his colleagues after he was reminded of a long-standing custom that sponsors sing the songs they propose.

Andrew P. McDonald, a lover of good cigars, came to his 9th floor Chicago office recently. Some one had broken a fire escape window and stolen some of his precious cheroots. Mr. McDonald opened his office door a few days later. A cold blast swept his face. The thief had struck again. More cigars were gone. Two non-smoking detectives were assigned to the case.

Edward Berrigan, 78, was under treatment in a hospital in Saugus, Mass., for shock and exposure after being trapped 54 hours in the rungs of a rocking chair. The man told authorities that he fell, entangling his feet in the rocker, and didn't have the strength to disengage himself. His plight was discovered by a neighbor who observed lights burning in the house during the day.

Don Robertson, Chicago salesman told Springfield, Ill., police on his arrival at headquarters with an overtime parking ticket that he was prepared to pay up to $15 and take the usual tongue-lashing "I get up north" in Chicago. Police politely told him to put away his billfold. Because he had responded so promptly they told him he would have to pay only 5 cents, the amount he had forgotten to put in the parking meter. Mr. Robertson was so surprised he paid the nickel and donated $10 to the policemen's pension fund.

Three gunmen kidnaped Taxi Driver Gordon E. Darling in his own cab in Los Angeles but it was all right, Mr. Darling told police. The taxi driver said that the men waved guns at him, ordered him to drive them around, argued about what places to rob and finally called the whole thing off. They gave him $18 and a "good night, Bub."

For Second Time Coveted Hand Is Dealt in Cribbage

For a second time within three months, a coveted 29 hand in cribbage has been dealt in Wayne, this time to Wm. J. Vath. Mr. Vath, who was playing with Mr. Reed and Mr. Philip of Sioux City and E. Kostomlatzky at Hotel Marriott Thursday, had three fives and the jack of diamonds and turned up the five of diamonds. Mr. Vath has been playing cribbage 50 years and this was the first time such luck has befallen him. As is customary after such a deal, the deck was properly wrapped and placed in the cribbage and the dealer told him to go. Ed. Johnson is the other Wayne man who had the good fortune to get a 29 hand. He had such a deal when he was playing with Walter Lerner.

Help Is Needed To Boost Quota

Only $125 of the $450 quota for the cancer fund has been received, which shows that the quota is far from being filled. This total does not include amounts taken in from cans, which is not expected to be more than $40. Mrs. F. S. Morgan, local chairman of the drive states, "Four hundred fifty dollars is a small quota for a rich county like Wayne. Let us get behind the program with resolution, so that personal solicitation will not be necessary." The Nebraska division of the American Cancer Society is active in carrying on a well-planned program of cancer control. Much of the program was instituted and started as a result of the 1946 campaign for funds. Many universities and hospitals throughout the United States are carrying on research work to find better ways to beat cancer as well as to attempt to find methods of locating cancer in early stages. "Such work cannot be continued without help from everyone," states Mrs. Morgan.

Wedding Service Held in Concord

Miss Genevieve Kardell is Bride of A. M. Knittel At Concord Church.

Miss Genevieve Irene Kardell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kardell, and Albert M. Knittel of Gregory, S. D., were married Saturday evening at 7:30 candlelight service at Concordia Lutheran church in Concord. Rev. J. Y. Sutherland performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends.

Baskets of white lilies and pink snapdragons were placed on either side of two candelabra with white tapers. Other candies burned on the altar.

Miss Vandelyn Johnson of Dixon, sang "Because," "Always" and "O Perfect Love." Miss Arlene Nelson of Dixon, accompanied her and played the wedding marches. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk made from material which had been sent by the bridegroom from Japan. The gown was fashioned with high neck with ruffles around the yoke and long bodice and silver sequin trim. Her veil was fingertip length. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses.

Miss Hazel Nygren, a second cousin, was bridesmaid. She wore a pink net formal over satin and carried a pink carnation bouquet. Miss Elinor Kardell, the bride's sister, was junior bridesmaid. Her formal was of white silk, material of which came from Japan. Her colonial bouquet was of red roses and white carnations.

Donald Kardell, the bride's brother, was the bridegroom's attendant. Keith and Kenneth Erickson were ushers. Each wore a blue suit with a white carnation boutonniere.

A reception for 50 relatives and friends followed at the bride's home. Pink and white were used in the menu.

The couple went to Gregory to see Mr. Knittel's relatives before coming to Concord to reside on a farm.

Mr. Knittel returned last October after serving two years in the army, much of the time overseas.

ON THE SIOUX CITY MARKET

Fat cattle prices figured 25 cents or more lower Monday at Sioux City although good bids tended to ease the down turn. Receipts here and at other major markets were liberal. Fat steers ranged from $13.00 to $25.00, fed heifers from $17.00 to $23.00. Killer cows were 25 to 50 cents lower, prices ranging from $11.00 to $18.00, heiferettes to $20.00. Bulls were 50 cents off, $16.00 down. Stockers and feeders scarce, steady. Butcher hogs ruled steady to 25 cents lower at $20.50 to $23.00. Sows steady at $16.50 to $17.00. Stags cleared from $15.00 down and feeders looked 50 cents lower at $20.00 to $22.50. Fed lambs were active, 25 to 40 cents higher at $21.00 to $22.65. Slaughter ewes scarce, steady, quotable to $10.50 for best woolskins. Feeders absent from the market, quoted steady or around $19.50 for best westerns.

Among shipments from this vicinity were the following: Kermit Fork, heifers at $21.25; Geo. H. Farran, steers at $22.00; Chris Weible, steers at $21.25; Kenneth Eddie, steers and heifers at $20.25; Herbert Gerleman, hogs at $21.25.

STOP
DOSING YOUR STOMACH FOR CONSTIPATION

WHEN constipation hangs on and you have that listless, "half alive" feeling chances are it's your stomach but your intestinal tract that's at fault. Sluggish intestinal muscles permit waste to accumulate... gas is formed and often you feel miserable, nervous and out of sorts.

For real relief... take the new, improved, Adlerika the Tone-Up laxative. It moves waste quickly but gently to relieve constipation and gas. You'll enjoy a new feeling of pep and vitality when your digestive system is in perfect order. Try Adlerika today and you'll learn why over 20,000,000 bottles have been sold. Caution: take only as directed.

News Reaches Door Of Falls City Firm

Reporter Calls for Items As Fire Breaks Out in Home of Mayor.

News in the form of a car out of control came to the doorstep of the Falls City Journal. A car driven by Adolph Herman leaped the curb, missed several carrier boys' bicycles and knocked off the newspaper's screen door. Mr. Herman explained that the car belonged to his son, and that he was not familiar with its operation.

A reporter for the Clara City Herald, a weekly newspaper at Clara City, Minn., telephoned Mayor John Barney and asked, "Any news today, Mayor?" "Yes," shouted Mr. Barney. "Hurry! Call the fire department! My house is on fire!" The reporter relayed the report to the fire department and firemen raced to Mr. Barney's home and extinguished a blaze on the roof.

Joseph Giknis, 40, of New York, was stuck for two hours in eight inches of molasses in a tank car. A police emergency squad finally pulled him out. Mr. Giknis was trying to recover a wrench dropped into the car. He couldn't get out.

Police at Springfield, Ill., sought a dissatisfied customer who suddenly fled from a Springfield department store without exchanging the shoes she complained were too large. Clerks checking the sale said the woman had a lot of nerve in the first place. The shoes turned out to be a pair which had been stolen from the store a few days previously.

Dan Sullivan who counts the coins from parking meters in Springfield, Ill., has collected a 20-pound assortment of slugs because the machines aren't particular. Mr. Sullivan said the devices have "accepted" tavern trade checks, foreign coins and plastic sales tokens from Missouri and Colorado.

A $3,350 shaving brush was put on the market at Newark, N. J. The price includes tax, of course. An excited sales manager for the manufacturing firm described it as "the world's finest brush for the best kept man." The brush boasts a solid 1/4 carat gold handle, the "finest genuine badger hair available" and was hand carved, naturally.

Police Judge P. James Pellicchia, Jr., looked at the 70-year-old defendant at Newark, N. J., who was charged with loitering in Pennsylvania station while under the influence of liquor. Looking the judge straight in the eye, the defendant quoted I Timothy 5:23, "Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities." Judge Pellicchia checked the court Bible and rendered his verdict, sentence suspended.

A man dropped into the office of County Collector Clifton Hulse, at St. Joseph, Mo. He said he wanted to pay taxes on some property he owned. Mr. Hulse checked the records and found the taxes were delinquent 30 years ago and that the property had been sold for taxes two years later.

Mount Pulaski has a new fire engine, but it is not red like most fire trucks. When the city's red fire truck burned, the city council decided that the new fire engine would not be red because there were too many privately owned trucks painted that color. So the city has a white engine to carry firemen to fires.

Wilkie Ogg, assembly sergeant-at-arms at Sacramento, Cal., stood by as hundreds of Townsend club members started to push their way into the meeting hall. "Proceed very sedately, please," the general Mr. Ogg told the oldsters. A second later he spoke up again. "Take it easy, kids!" It worked.

Clerk of District Court Robert Smith isn't one to see a birthday pass without proper observance. Mr. Smith learned that Lillian Tybiring, secretary to the county board, was celebrating her birthday. He promptly sent his entire office staff across the hall to sing "Happy Birthday."

Drawn by advertisement of a "special" price on shoe repairs, a young man took two pairs of shoes to a cobbler in a downtown department store. A sweet young thing was the clerk. "May I help you, please?" she asked politely. "I want these shoes half-soled," the man said. The girl took the shoes, gave him a claim check and then left him standing open-mouthed with this inquiry: "And do you want oir spedal?"

A tiny magnet removed a sewing needle from a girl's stomach at Pittsburgh, Pa. The unidentified girl, 16, swallowed the two-inch needle. Surgery was impossible because the girl has diabetes. Scientists made the magnet from a new metal alloy.

Duplin County Sheriff Ralph J. Jones and his deputies captured a big still at Goldsboro, N. C. The operators fled at the approach of the officers. Sheriff Jones put one of his pet bloodhounds on the hot trail. The dog bristled at a pile of brush. A search revealed 10 gallons of moonshine whisky.

To Attend Meeting. County Agent Walter R. Harder will be in Norfolk this Thursday for an electrical equipment conference for county agents and home agents.

Deputy Collector In Business Firm

Clifton McIntosh, deputy collector of internal revenue in charge of Fremont division for 13 years, Wednesday announced his resignation from the treasury department to form a partnership with Walter C. Witthoff, Fremont accountant, as accountants and income tax consultants.

The new firm, to be known as Witthoff & McIntosh, will start business May 1 and continue the business started in February, 1946, by Witthoff, with offices in the Stephens National Bank building at Fremont.

McIntosh, who is a native of Sidney, Nebr., attended the University of Nebraska and was graduated from Notre Dame University, South Bend, Ind. He is married and has four children.

Witthoff originally came to Fremont as an accountant for the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., when that firm operated Nebraska Ordnance plant at Mead. He is a graduate of Ohio university, Athens, O. is married and has three children.

McIntosh's successor, not yet announced, will be named by G. W. O'Malley, collector of internal revenue at Omaha. The Fremont division covers 18 northeast Nebraska counties, and McIntosh visited this community many times during his term as deputy collector.

During the past 13 years, despite imposition of many new federal taxes, and great increases in existing taxes, businessmen and the public of this area have been "very cooperative" with the internal revenue bureau, McIntosh said Wednesday in announcing his resignation.

Bring Health Unit To Dixon County

Nebraska state health department is scheduling its health mobile unit in Dixon county at the request of the Schoolmen's and Teachers' association. Other organizations are cooperating. The unit will arrive June 24 and be in the county nearly a month.

The health mobile unit served 41,263 persons in the state with chest X-rays from November, 1945, to November, 1946. The X-rays revealed tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer and orthopedic defects. However, the majority of X-rays showed the chest organs in good condition. Many of the people did not know of their defects and they found that by a little care they can be cured.

All persons over 10 or 12 years of age are invited to plan to have chest X-rays taken when the unit is in Dixon county.

In City Hospital.

Julius Kirchner is in a Sioux City hospital where he underwent an operation. Mrs. Kirchner went to the city Saturday.

Layette Is Sent By Local Unit

Wayne unit of the American Legion Auxiliary has completed a layette which will be given to the baby of a disabled GI. Mrs. Frank Heine, chairman of child welfare in the unit, had charge of the project. Mrs. Ray Shalander, president, sent the layette to Omaha to Mrs. Helen Magnuson, child welfare chairman in the district. Mrs. Magnuson will see that the clothing reaches a deserving family.

Laurel Commercial club will purchase six picnic tables with benches attached to be placed in the city park.

To Be Graduated At Naval Academy

Midshipman Donald P. Harvey, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Harvey, will be graduated as an ensign this June from the naval academy at Annapolis, Md. He is a member of the first group of midshipmen to go to the military academy, West Point, N. Y., under the program of exchange visits. The exchanges give future officers of both services a chance to examine undergraduate life and training techniques at both institutions.

Thurston county board appointed E. G. Conger clerk of the district court to succeed Wendell Bougha who resigned May 1.

Wakefield Department --- Wayne Herald

BY MISS EMELYN GRIFFITH

College President Addresses Seniors

Plans Are Made for Closing Events of School Term in Wakefield.

Dr. Victor P. Morey, president of Wayne college, will deliver the commencement address for 29 Wakefield seniors Friday, May 23.

Rev. C. W. Wiberg will give the baccalaureate sermon Sunday, May 28.

The junior-senior banquet will be held May 9.

Ruth Fischer won a $25 award Monday last week in an original oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion.

The topic for the orations was some phase of the constitution. Other students who competed are Clarence Fisher, JoAnn Gustafson and Eunice Johnson.

Judges were Mrs. Vernon Van, Mrs. Walter Moeller and Rev. Robt. Evans. Students who took part are members of a speech class taught by James Kooztz.

The Wakefield chapter of Future Farmers of America held a parent-son banquet in the school auditorium Wednesday evening when 120 guests were present.

"White Gypsy," a two-act opera presented by 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th graders Wednesday evening last week was well attended.

Directors were Miss Helen Witt, Mrs. Eunice Hanson, Miss Elberta Shelington and James E. Kooztz. Miss Elsie Collins was accompanist.

Fund Is Growing For Hospital Here

Donations for the community hospital to be constructed in Wakefield total $50,014 and contributions are still being accepted.

After all gifts are received, a board of trustees will be formed to decide upon a hospital location, plans for construction and selecting a doctor.

The Wm. Thomsens visited last week Sunday afternoon at Rudolph Long's.
