

Site for Municipal Swimming Pool—Highest Social and Business Standards—New Kind of School—Buttoning Vests—Bank Deposits Grow.

Martin L. Ringer, mayor for many years, reasons that when Wayne gets around to build a municipal swimming pool, it should do so on ground he has in mind in the east part of town, not far from the baseball park.

There were valid objections to a pool in Memorial park. Too far from town for youngsters to walk, and adjacent to the dangers of highway traffic were emphasized.

An easily accessible location, free from unnecessary risks, would be desirable. When seriously undertaking the task of building a pool, the site should be chosen with reference to greatest convenience and safety.

In Agreeable Contrast. Though there are too many modern faults—among them, an insatiable itch for more for less—less work, less production, more money, more idleness—we are convinced social and business standards are much higher than they were say 60 years ago.

Self-created codfish aristocracy was often based on an assumption—usually false—of more money than the average possessed. A shock frequently followed reading the last will and testament. Snobs sought the association of roles requiring a comparative show of intelligence.

More and better schools, more and better ways of being entertained and informed account in large measure for a vastly improved social order. It is not so uneven, not so much of a strain as it was 60 years ago.

And why shouldn't mental evaluations and reactions improve under changed conditions? If we can't improve what's the use? (But any 60-year-old memory who thinks the above is a wild hyperbole is invited to come forth with a reasonably rational contradiction.)

Nerve-Sore Child. A school to straighten out emotional disorders among children has been launched with promise of success in Delaware.

A number of memorials are planned in the new church. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Meyer gave the lot as a tribute to those serving and sacrificing their lives in World War Two.

Ladies' Aid served luncheon to out of town visitors after the service in the church parlors. In the group were Dr. and Mrs. Schrader, Mrs. M. deFreese, Miss Anna Kriehner, Mrs. E. Walling and the L. W. deFreese family.

Lay Cornerstone Of New Church

Dr. John Schrader, Fremont, Gives Main Address at Services Sunday.

Cornerstone of the new Redeemer Lutheran church, under construction at 5th and Lincoln, was laid at services conducted Sunday afternoon at 3 at the site in the presence of a number of members of the congregation and friends.

Rev. S. K. deFreese, pastor, presided. Rev. Walter Rowoldt of Pender, gave the invocation and the congregation sang "The Church's One Foundation." Rev. H. G. Knaub of Winslow, read the Scriptures.

The cornerstone in early biblical times was used to bind the walls together, stated Dr. Schrader. "Jesus Christ is the cornerstone. Let us promise to serve the Lord with all our mind, heart and soul."

Rev. Henning Pearson of Wisner, in his prayer, asked for a spiritual house abiding in the presence of the Father.

Laying the cornerstone followed with Karl Otte superintending the work and Lester Keiler of Wisner, chief mason. Lawrence Thomsen took part as president of the congregation, M. L. Ringer as secretary.

Miss Bonnie Hie Kugler sang the offertory solo.

Rev. R. J. Bulkley, in behalf of Wayne Memorial association, brought greetings and congratulations. He added that a new church makes all in the community stronger in faith.

Rev. W. F. Most of Omaha, former pastor here who left five years ago, expressed pleasure in the progress of the church. From Peter he quoted, "Who is he that can harm you if ye are followers of that which is good?"

Rev. deFreese mentioned that three charter members of the congregation are living. These are Mrs. Wm. Piepenstock of Wayne, Mrs. H. Goll and Wm. Kugler of California. Mrs. Piepenstock attended the service.

Rev. Paul deFreese of Hooper, offered prayer and the choir sang "Beautiful Savior." Rev. P. Pearson pronounced the benediction and Harold Arp, WOW radio station, closed the program by singing the Doxology.

One Man Killed In Circus Wreck

Eight Cars of Beatty Train Are Derailed Tuesday Near Hubbard.

One man was killed and six men hurt and damage estimated at $100,000 was done early Tuesday morning when eight cars of the 15-car Clyde Beatty circus train were derailed near Hubbard. The circus had shown in Sioux City Monday night and would have traveled through Wayne Tuesday morning to go to Norfolk where it was scheduled Tuesday. The engagement at Norfolk and one at Fremont Wednesday had to be cancelled and the circus management hopes to make the Lincoln date for Thursday. It was expected that the tracks would be cleared by Tuesday night. If the mishap had happened a half mile farther east the cars would likely have rolled down a deep ravine.

John Fisher, 40, of Lewiston, Pa., assistant boss canvasman, was killed by a heavy double-wheeled truck that rolled over him as he slept in a sleeping bag atop a flat car. The six injured were taken to a Sioux City hospital. They included a Filipino who had charge of lions, one who was in charge of monkeys and other helpers.

The derailed cars, in the middle of the train were carrying baggage, the canvas tent and poles. Cause of the accident is not known. About 360 feet of track were torn up.

Most of the 350 people with the circus were in end cars which remained on the track. Clyde Beatty himself was one of the first out and directed elephants in helping clear the track.

Animals which travel with the circus, known as the world's greatest wild animal show, were in cars at the fore part of the train and did not escape their cages.

The circus erected dining tents in Hubbard, a town of 189, to provide for circus people.

HIGH PIG MARKET IS GOLD MINE FOR FORTUNATE OWNERS

WE USED to hear that pigs were top mortgage lifters. They were when prices were down. Now that there are comparatively few mortgages to lift, high prices are going into surplus or needed improvements. (Note climbing bank deposits.) We understand an Iowa farmer recently grossed around $11,000 for one shipment of 225 pigs. The price per pound is 22 to 24 cents. Pigs multiply fast, and they put on fat rapidly if properly fed and cared for. A pig is not sensitive, his feelings not easily hurt. He is not uneasy about the atomic bomb or another war. He does not worry about being immolated to satisfy human appetites. The pig just wants to eat and sleep. He does not demand clean quarters—probably doesn't care but healthy growth is encouraged by having them clean. He is certainly a money-maker, and at this time of stiff market prices, he contributes most generously to his owner's bank account.

High Goals Set By Kiwanis Club

Reports of International Are Given to Local Group Monday Noon.

"Peace, Patriotism and Opportunity" was the theme of the 32nd convention of Kiwanis International in Chicago last week. Dean Clarence McGinn, F. S. Berry and Dave Theophilus gave reports of the meeting to local club members Monday.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, pastor of New York's historic Marble Collegiate church, gave the main address of the convention on the "Art of Living in Postwar Times." Dean McGinn, who gave a summary of this, said the speaker began by stating that all must give more than lip service and must do it fast to bring about a better world. The importance of how the individual lives is essential as the individual is the basic unit of world society.

Two things must be done to make a better world, the speaker stated. People must learn to think and they must be calm in their physical, mental and emotional life. Regarding thinking, Dr. Peale said that too many think negatively whereas they must think positively to get results. He quoted Ralph Waldo Emerson who said, "We become what we think." He cited the example of Eddie Rickenbacker and others who have thought and worked so intently on some line that they have accomplished their goals. Negative thought retards. But the individual and the nation can conquer all by all thinking positively. "We can build a new world if we think we can. Individuals and nations can rise to levels which they think they can."

The speaker urged calmness in physical, mental and emotional life. The worst disease of man is tension. Dr. Peale said that most of the moral turmoil of adults and young folks is due to nerves, and nerves can be healed only by one great physician, God. The peace that passeth all understanding is that given by religion. "We must have religion to relax physically, mentally and emotionally." Dr. Peale stated that all owe it to their bodies to provide exercise that gives physical relaxation. They must think beautiful thoughts to relax the mind, and must practice the art of affirmation to dispel fear and relax the emotions. "We can't doubt and have peace of soul."

The speaker described a man who accomplishes things as similar to a cyclone. There is great power in the storm but at the center is a calm. The man of tension does great things but his mind and soul are calm.

"Thoughts build your character. Relax to think and live beautifully."

Reports on Message. Mr. Berry reported on the address of Louis F. Budenz, former managing editor of the Daily Worker, official organ for the communist party. Mr. Budenz who expressed no apology for his services to the communist party and who concealed no secrets regarding the movement, told of the concerted effort of Russian communism to infiltrate all walks of life in the United States and other countries of the world.

Fireworks Featured. Mr. Theophilus told of the trip by car and the general convention highlights. Headquarters were in the Medinah temple. One program was in the outdoor bandshell in Grant park, and on the closing evening, Wednesday, the Kiwanians entertained 30,000 children of the Chicago area at Soldiers field. The youngsters are those whom Kiwanians have helped. A circus, glee club and midget auto races furnished entertainment. The program concluded with a huge fireworks display which featured the light of Kiwanis International, the Canadian and American flags and Kiwanis emblem. Among the musical treats at regular meetings were the male chorus from Wichita, Kan., male quartet from Chattanooga, Tenn., high school choir from Knoxville, Tenn., and glee club from Knoxville, Tenn.

C. L. Pickett also attended the convention but was unable to report Monday as he was out of town. Besides 47 members, Tom Quirk was a guest of Dean McGinn. Tom had accompanied the Kiwanians to Chicago.

Fremont Drubs Wayne 14 to 3

Erratic Pitching and Poor Fielding Prove Costly To Local Team.

Wayne's Pioneer baseball nine, playing under the Fremont lights Sunday evening, displayed some of the season's poorest brand of play to go down in defeat by a lopsided 14 to 3 count. Even in victory, the Fremont nine displayed only rare instances of heads-up baseball. Both teams committed five misplays during the evening.

Enockson, Wayne, mountebank, was the weakest point in the local defense. Pitching with a sore arm, he managed to whiff eight opposing batters, but issued nine free passes and hit three men. He was relieved for a short while in the 2nd inning by Johnson. The latter issued two passes and hit a batsman, prompting the recall of Enockson.

Fremont tallied four runs in the last of the 1st on two hit batters, two free passes and a triple by Sager, and added six more in the 2nd on three walks, a hit batter, singles by Haney and Hook and a double by Sager.

The locals rang the bell twice in the 4th on Moyer's double and singles by Weber, Page and Otto, and added their last run in the 5th on a walk and two Fremont errors. Fremont scored twice in 5th on two walks, a hit batter and a double by Weiche, once in the 6th on a double by Haney and singles by Sager and Hook, and the last time in the 8th on an error, a walk and Weiche's single.

Atmosphere, an unforgettable character; these are two of the elements in Natalie Anderson Scott's "The Story of Mrs. Murphy." This book is the story of Jimmy Murphy. The similarity between it and "The Lost Weekend" begins and ends with the fact that in both a chronic drinker is the central character. Jimmy grows from early manhood through years of accelerating disintegration to his degraded death in early middle age. It is considered an important sociological document.

For entertainment, read "Over at Uncle Joe's: Moscow and Me" by Oriana Atkinson. Mrs. Atkinson, the wife of Brooks Atkinson, correspondent of the New York Times, spent "ten grubby, tiresome, frustrated, fascinating months" in wartime and post-war Moscow. She does a remarkable public relations job for the Russian people. She observes them shrewdly and "sets down her findings with spirit, candor and humor. "I know more about Russia," is her modest claim, "than anybody who has never been there."

Asks Fair Deal for Nebraska Producers

Senator Hugh Butler, R-Nebr., in an address to the United States senate, criticized in strong terms the present practices of the department of commerce in the granting of licenses to various millers and export firms for the export of flour to foreign countries. "The present practice is to grant such licenses almost entirely to old established firms, thus virtually cutting out any newcomers who might desire to enter the export field," he said.

A number of Nebraska mills are interested in developing export outlets for their mills, as a means of increasing the market for the production of Nebraska farms, Senator Butler said.

Opposing the bill to continue controls over the export trade, the senator charged that it was really a measure to assist in the development of foreign countries while creating shortages at home. "I agree that we need restrictions to prevent tremendous quantities of such vital commodities as tractors, fertilizer, and petroleum from flowing abroad without restriction on the volume of such exports," he said. But one paragraph of the bill, he pointed out, would be used "for the purpose of establishing priority in production and delivery for export."

Marry at Service In Omaha Church

Miss Patricia Love Is Bride Of Allison Bahe Friday Afternoon in City.

Miss Patricia Love, daughter of Mrs. E. R. Love and Allison Bahe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bahe, both of Wayne, were married Friday, July 4, at 3 at Lutheran Memorial church in Omaha, Rev. W. F. Most, uncle of the bridegroom, officiating at the double ring ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives.

Baskets of flowers in pastel shades banked the altar and candelabra with white tapers on either side. Tom Bahe of Wayne, and Jamie Nyberg of Yankton, cousins of the young folks, lighted the tapers. Mrs. Ed. Bahe of Wayne, aunt of the bridegroom, sang "Oh Promise Me" before the ceremony and "I Love You Truly" as the couple knelt at the altar during the rites. Mrs. Bahe wore pastel pink linen suit with white accessories and corsage of pastel flowers. She was accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Reinemund of Omaha, who also played Lohengrin's march for the processional and Mendelssohn's for the recessional.

Miss Love, given in marriage by her uncle, Harold Nyberg of Yankton, wore light blue silk crepe dress with black hat and shoes and long white mitts. She carried a colonial bouquet of flowers in pastel shades.

Miss Marilyn Goede of Omaha, cousin of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaid. She wore pastel pink dress with white accessories and a ping corsage.

Mr. Bahe's suit was blue. He was attended by Rodney Love, brother of the bride, who wore grey. Each had a white carnation boutonniere.

A reception followed in the church parlors where the bride's colors of white, blue and silver were carried out in decorations and refreshments. Mrs. Ed. Bahe and Mrs. Harold Nyberg poured. Miss Marilyn Goede assisted with the gifts and had charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Bahe left by car Friday for Denver and other points in Colorado and Nebraska. They will return the last of this week to make their home in Wayne.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bahe are graduates of Wayne high school and have attended Wayne State college. Mr. Bahe will manage the bottling plant which his father is constructing here.

Besides parents of the young folks, those from out of town who were in Omaha Friday for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bahe of Davenport, Neb., Mrs. August Nyberg and Wm. Most of Wayne, grandparents of the young folks, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nyberg, Jimmie and David of Yankton.

Marry at Service In Wayne Church

Miss Marsaline Longe Bride Of Dale Langenberg Sunday Evening.

Miss Marsaline Longe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Longe of Wayne, and Dale Standley Langenberg, Ph.M. 3c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Langenberg of Hoskins, were married Sunday, July 6, at 7 at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Wayne, Rev. T. J. C. Schult officiating at the double ring service in the presence of relatives and friends.

Two tall baskets of blue and white gladioli and candelabra bearing white tapers were on either side of the altar.

Mrs. W. C. Swanson played the organ prelude and the wedding marches. She also accompanied Miss Bonnie Kugler who sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "I Love You Truly" during the service. Mrs. Swanson wore white formal and Miss Kugler, blue. Each had a white corsage.

Miss Lavonne Longe, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of white pussywillow taffeta made with off the shoulder line and bustle effect. Miss Dawn Langenberg of Hoskins, and Miss Shirley Longe, sisters of the couple, were bridesmaids. They wore dresses of aqua styled like that of the maid of honor. All wore white lace mitts, carried colonial bouquets of blue daisies and wore white daisies in their hair. Their rhinestone bracelets were gifts of the bride.

Linda Lake, who served as flower girl, wore a white gown made like those of the bride's attendants. She carried daisies in a white basket, and her ring was given to her by the bride. Gary Longe, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. He wore a sailor suit and carried the rings on a white heart-shaped pillow.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white satin made in princess style with sweetheart neckline of seeded pearls in feather scroll, long train and leg o' mutton sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught in a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried two white orchids on a white Bible.

Mr. Langenberg was attended by Clarence Bronzynski of Winside, as best man, and also by Duane Riggert of Hoskins, and Lawrence Smith. Ushers were Don Peters of Wakefield, and Melvin Meyer. The bridegroom wore his dress navy uniform and the other men wore dark suits and white carnation boutonnieres.

Mothers of the couple wore black with white accessories and white carnation corsages.

A reception for 150 was held in the church parlors where flowers and candles in the bride's colors of blue and white decorated the tables. The three-tier cake with miniature bridal couple and ice cream molds were in the colors. Mrs. Ben Ahlvers, Mrs. Henry Kugler, Miss Ann Young, Miss Louise Bressler and Miss Helen Thielman were in charge in the kitchen. Miss Bonnie Bathke, Mrs. Melvin Meyer, Miss Elaine Test, Mrs. Don Pedersen, Miss Ethel Wilson and Miss Nadine Pentico, who served, had aprons alike of white trimmed in blue. Miss Blanche Martin was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Clarence Bronzynski had charge of gifts.

Enfeebling Socialism

GOVERNMENT paternalism was boldly discredited in an address by H. W. Prentiss, Jr., president of the Armstrong Cork company, and past president of the National Association of Manufacturers, before the centennial celebration of the American Medical Association at Atlantic City, N. J., early in June. He attacked the threat of socialism. Multiplied government payrolls, increased taxes, subsidies to groups, unemployment benefits — the government doing things that could better be done by citizen generosity! He sounded alarm over the growing tendency to saddle personal burdens on the government, destroying self-reliance and local responsibility.

The speaker mentioned that Germany tried to placate its people with a so-called social security program in 1880. We adopted a similar system some ten years ago. Great Britain recently delivered itself over to socialism, and has since had all kinds of trouble. Government hand-outs have not worked well where tried abroad. They have enfeebled human fiber. If we could not stand more, we would be hurt more by a policy of helping those who would be enriched and strengthened by helping themselves.

Plainly, the speaker would cut government costs, stimulate individual resources and bring the American people back to self-reliance. He would agree with President Cleveland, who once said people should support the government, not the government support the people. The speaker declared: "Shall we let our priceless heritage go by default? Shall we permit the old historical cycle to repeat itself in America: From fetters to faith, from faith to freedom, from freedom to folly, from folly to fear and from fear back to fetters once more?"

The United States is going to continue atomic research in hopes of finding peaceful uses for the product. This was brought to light recently when David Lilienthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission, appeared before a house appropriations subcommittee.

Many midwest universities are to be a part of this gigantic plan. The research will be conducted by our top scientists. In fact, already many of these scientists believe a cure for cancer can be developed from atomic products.

ance and utter fear, have enough trouble without inviting more.

Soviet union bosses angle for American aid, and then turn coldly away in response to pleas for practical cooperation. They want donations, but no advice. They refuse every attempt to settle international problems and give helpless nations a square deal. The Russian dictatorship makes plenty of promises, but violates any or all of them without compunction.

The United States does not want war with Russia, as it did not want war with Japan or Germany. It foolishly permitted shipment of vital war material to Japan and tried to palliate differences up to the hour of the Pearl Harbor attack. We were caught entertaining a futile hope. We do not want to do that again. Let Russia do something to justify confidence.

Two disagreeing ideologies can live peacefully if Russia tries to do so. It has been offered every chance to cooperate. It has boldly trampled on the toes of small nations and brazenly defied the voice of America, its ablest defender in time of greatest peril. It is still hoped the soviet union will awaken to a sense of obligation, to a realization of its own future security.

Favors Unions

THE current Saturday Evening Post charges the national government with favoring labor unions during the past fifteen years, concluding with this advice: "The government can recapture the respect and confidence of 'all the people' only by being above petty favoritism. If the question of union membership and collective bargaining is really to be left to the individual's free choice, government propaganda to influence his choice is wrong. The unions would be far better off if they had not sought government favors. In the long run, the union movement will be far stronger, far more respectable and respected, when it learns to stand on its own feet."

The cornerstone of the Omaha World-Herald's planned new building was laid Thursday. Speaking in the course of the ceremony, Publisher Henry Dooley expressed confidence that the structure would be completed and ready to occupy in 1948. He explained that the newspaper's growth in recent years had made present quarters inadequate. The World-Herald is a wonderful newspaper in a great state. No matter where a Nebraskan journeys, or where he hangs his hat, he is thrilled as he recalls the World-Herald. It has been a consistent leader on uniformly high ground.

Another proposed income tax reduction bill has been launched in congress in the belief that sufficient votes can be mustered to override a likely presidential veto. The recently defeated tax bill was to have become effective July 1. The new one, if passed, will become law next January. Taxpayers will appreciate the relief, convinced, as they are, that the government's running expenses will stand a lot of reducing.

Pondering veto of the tax and labor bills, Louis Bromfield, columnist, concludes the president has slipped farther in statesmanship and clinched additional reasons for his retirement.

It will be remembered, played an important role in the history of atomic energy. It has a very able "metaphorical group," according to members of the atomic energy commission. It was at Ames that the first large quantity of pure uranium was produced. Plans are now being prepared for a laboratory there which will cost about $1,000,000.

But atomic energy's big problem today is security. It's going to be a difficult task screening all of the personnel involved. Every laboratory technician who will be associated with the new product must be investigated and cleared by the federal bureau of investigation. Individual investigation takes as much as eight to ten months in some cases.

At the present time there are about 4,000 directly employed civilian personnel working for Manhattan district (the organization that developed the atomic bomb).

The atomic energy commission wants an additional 5,800 employees by June, 1948.

Army engineers are being asked to investigate more thoroughly flood conditions along the Missouri river. It is thought that now is a better time to finish one of the three proposed dams on the "big muddy" than to try to finish all three dams at one time. Experts have informed congressmen that it may require from six to eight years to complete the Fort Randall, Garrison and Oahe structures. One of these dams could be completed within three to four years, it has been reported.

Speaking of floods, the reconstruction finance corporation has listed Nebraska as a "disaster area," because of the recent heavy rainfall and tornados.

An RFC statement says: "Our Omaha Loan Agency will accept disaster loan applications from persons in Nebraska who might need financial assistance to rehabilitate their property damaged by floods or tornados."

New Yorkers must have blinked their eyes in amazement recently when local newspapers advertised the sale of Polish ham in the "big city." This came as quite a surprise to congressmen, too, who have asked to send meat and other foodstuffs to Poland to feed what is reported to be "hungry people."

Members of congress have been informed that the United States has only 12 years supply of oil for our own use. So serious has the problem become that an embargo on oil exports went into effect in this country June 30, 1947. The largest oil reserve in the world is said to be located near Iran and Arabia.

Latest figures on foreign relief being asked of congress, include: $725,000,000 for relief in occupied areas; $250,000,000 direct foreign relief; $400,000,000 for Greece and Turkey; $305,000,000 for UNRRA payments; $73,000,000 for international refugee work; $137,000,000 export-import loans; $137,000,000 for Philippine aid; $50,000,000 for foreign liquidation surpluses to be distributed; and an expected loan to Korea between $300,000,000 and $600,000,000.

Town Meeting of the Air Thursday night compared the civilization of the present century with that of the immediately preceding century. One speaker surveying the world with its discord and often hatefulness, didn't think the present was anything to brag about. Another speaker expressed an appreciation of improved mental reactions in America. He pointed out that people in this country no longer treat human distress indifferently. Time was when suffering abroad caused comparatively little sympathetic attention. Now horrors of the late war sink deeply into human consciousness. People are eager to afford relief. The speaker mentioned stressed growing humane qualities. Seeing and emphasizing the good, he was refreshingly optimistic.

FIRST SIX MONTHS

In January a seer predicted a year of extraordinary disasters—a series involving many deaths and much property destruction. He may have figured a tendency that way. People have been prosperous and careless. They have been prone to risks. That growing disposition may have increased fatalities in the air and on highways. Floods and tornados have been numerous and unusually severe. They left a trail of death and property and soil losses. Railroad wrecks added to the record of disaster. Altogether, the first six months have been calamitous in one way or another. Before the end of last year bad hotel fires aroused efforts for greater safeguards. Recent airplane wrecks have prompted attention to defects with promise of remedies. It is hoped the last half of the year will permit the world to fare better. Strengthened precautions will help.

Spraying of Corn Proves Effective
Spraying of 2-4-D in corn fields to kill cocklebur and bindweed is getting results, according to Dixon County Agent Howard Gillespie. Spray implements are attached to tractors and the spraying is usually done during the last cultivation. Spraying seems to pay well where cockleburs are dense and the cost is not prohibitive.

Let's Whip THE BLACK MARKET

We don't like the black market any more than you do. Our business is based on selling new and reconditioned goods at established prices, plus giving year-around service and carrying a full stock of parts.

Now and then we are faced with the temptations of the times. For instance, we have many buyers for every John Deere Tractor we can get. Some people need a tractor so badly they might be willing to pay 20 . . . 40 . . . or even 60 per cent more than the regular list price. They don't want to, but they are desperate and we could take advantage of them. The same goes for combines, and most other implements—but we don't operate our business that way.

Some of you have the same temptations. The thought of making an easy dollar by selling your implements runs along the same pattern. Maybe you have a comparatively new piece of farm equipment that somebody is trying to buy for more than you know it is worth. But if you sell it and pocket the cash, the black market takes over. Finally, some other farmer has to pay more than he should. Later on, you might discover that you couldn't get along without that implement, so you could become a victim, too. In the end, everybody loses but the black market operator.

Or maybe you are the farmer who needs a certain piece of equipment so badly that you are willing to pay almost any price to get it. Your overhead is high, and without proper equipment you either can't produce the crops, or the cost of production soars.

You are the man we are most interested in serving, and production of new implements is increasing. We suggest that you avoid the black market operator, who will take advantage of you.

We are John Deere dealers, proud of the company's 110 years of honest merchandising and fair dealing. We pledge that we will do our very best to allocate fairly to our customers . . . that we will not take advantage of present conditions . . . that we will sincerely and aggressively battle the black market. We want your friendship when it is all over . . .

Big Celebration Attracts Crowds

Census Taken in Early Days Showed Farms in Area To Be Smaller.

Early Days from the Wayne Herald for July 9, 1931.

Wayne's golden jubilee celebration proved a great success with thousands attending the three-day observance. Because of rain on Saturday, the closing day, the performance was held Sunday and 2,800 packed the fairgrounds grandstand for the event. The monument honoring pioneers was unveiled on the court house lawn by Jane VonSeggern, granddaughter of J. T. Bressler, one of the county's earliest settlers.

Peter Nissen, 30, of near Altona, died July 3, 1931, from injuries suffered when a truck struck his car near Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. Nissen and four children and Mrs. Nissen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, were taking two cattle to Sioux City in a trailer attached to the Nissen car. Mr. Nissen was out of the car hitting the battery when accidentally hit by a passing truck.

The Walter Savidge company returned from Dakota because of grasshopper devastation and the route of the carnival will be rearranged.

Geo. Frahm captured a coyote in Brenna precinct.

The Sateway company has leased the Dr. T. B. Heckert building and will open a grocery store.

Griffith Garwood, 67, early resident of Carroll, died July 5, 1931.

Mrs. H. H. Cruickshank of Wakefield suffered severe burns on the hands when a gasoline stove exploded. The back porch of the Cruickshank home was burned.

Fire damaged the Albert Macklin home near Wakefield.

P. A. Theobald is remodeling his lumber yard office to represent an English bungalow.

Ray Philbin and Miss Ellen Shaughnessy were married July 4, 1931.

A new census taken indicates that Nebraska farms are growing smaller. Wayne county has 714 that are 100 to 174 acres.

Boyd and Knox counties have been granted $800 each in state aid to help rid the areas of grasshoppers.

W. H. Rees of Carroll underwent an operation in Wayne.

Early Wayne Events.

From Wayne Herald for July 10, 1913: Winside was the mecca of northeast Nebraska July 4, 1913, for about 5,000 people journeyed there by special trains, automobiles and buggies to attend the celebration. Weather was hot and the temperature soared to 109. Henry Ley bought a steam launch for use at Crystal Lake. Home talent presented the play, "The Witching Hour," at the opera house. Cliff Penn was chosen to teach manual training which has been added to the city school course. Wm. Brune, 64, died at his home southwest of Wayne July 7, 1913.

New families move to Wayne each week. They come here because this is the center of an exceptionally rich agricultural county, because of the excellent educational advantages and because the city is progressive. Wakefield celebrated the Fourth with a picnic at the Frank Holm grove north of town. Byron Busby was nominated candidate for Wakefield postmaster.

Dixon County Notes.

From Northern Nebraska Journal, Ponca, for June 23, 1937: The Iowa volcano is behaving but people of that vicinity say there is no telling when an eruption may occur. Prospects for crops are good since the drouth was dispelled. Plums, raspberries and wild grapes also promise good yield. Every part of Nebraska is proving rich enough to produce good yields.

The Illinois railroad is being extended to Sioux Falls. N. S. Porter is said to be the new superintendent of the Indian agency.

The Fourth will be an eventful day. The Covington, South Sioux City & Dakota City street railway system is like a bubble in the water. It has come and gone. Covington refused to vote a franchise for the company to use the streets, so the project has been given up. It is said the next move will be to secure a motor line over the proposed route.

It appears that a three-fourths interest in the 347 acres of the celebrated Massey land has been sold to Mr. Davenport of Rock Island, Ill., for $7,500. This is only part of the Massey land holdings of about 1,000 acres. The transaction does not reveal any information that uncovers the mystery surrounding the land.

Special excursion trains will be run to Hartington and Randolph. A camp meeting is in session at Randolph. Deputy Treasurer Wheeler, who drove from Wakefield to Ponca, reports the land and crops to be more beautiful than any he has ever seen.

A perambulating rope walker came along Saturday and stretched a half-inch rope 45 feet from the ground, between the top of the Ayres store and the top of the Dorsey bank. Using only a long pole to balance himself, the man walked, pranced, tumbled, lay down and performed other daring feats on the rope. If he had fallen he would have broken his neck. A crowd of at least 1,000 watched him.

Some 20 years ago a steamboat sank in the Missouri near Lime kiln and just recently a jug was found to come from that sunken ship and float to shore.

A move is on foot in non-partisan judicial ticket at the next election. A new church bell has arrived and as soon as it is in place it will call Southwick people to services each Sabbath.

Baptismal Rites To Be Conducted In German Castle

An occasion which will be of special importance in American and German families is the christening which will take place soon in the 13th century castle of Count and Countess Robin Adleman in Ludwigsburg, Germany.

Judith Ann, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Wayne Walters, and Count Michael, son of Count and Countess Adleman, will be baptized at joint ceremonies with each couple serving as sponsors for the other couple's baby. The infants will wear the royal robes, and the occasion will call for a special celebration. Judith Ann is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fuesler of Wayne.

The 50-room castle is one of the historic landmarks in Ludwigsburg. The Walters family have become good friends of the Adlemans since Capt. Walters has had charge of the prison camp in that city.

Mrs. Walters has sent home many articles which have been given to them for kindnesses shown. One is a pewter plate of the 13th century bearing the House of Adleman crest of arms. The count also presented them with a fan carried in court by his grandmother. The fan is of grey satin with hand-painted pink roses. It is 150 years old.

Rations are so meagre that Germans are most grateful for food or smokes given them by Americans. On one occasion Mrs. Walters gave a German woman some food for her sick husband and the lady rewarded her with a cut-glass dish which is a family heirloom.

One Hollander asked the Wayne folks to save him a half pound of coffee if possible for a lady friend. The man had escaped from a nazi prison and the lady had allowed him to be sheltered in her home for a year.

Even cigaret stubs are prized and German people either smoke them or trade them for something they want.

When David Walters was 2 years old the women who help Mrs. Walters had no means of buying toys so they made some for the child. One was a mother rocking a baby in a cradle and the other is two children on a teeter. The dolls and all are made from scraps which the Germans saved. One of the prisoners made David a three-foot model ship. The child speaks German better than English.

Crystal tumblers and family heirloom demitasse cups, which appear to be heavy brass and silver, were given the family by a prisoner whom they befriended. China pieces given them are from a factory that closed more than 100 years ago.

Unusual gifts are hand-made dolls, one in royal garb and the others in native peasant dress.

They have hand-carved and hand-painted heads.

Tiny hand-carved doll furniture was made for Judith Ann by prisoners. The collection contains a man carved from a solid piece of wood, also several dogs done by hand from solid pieces. Wooden plaques, miniature oven and bookends are also carved and painted by hand. A scarf of fibre and hand-pounded pewter and silver plates are included.

The German genius is shown in the binoculars electric sweeper, three electric toy trains and a toy automobile which Mrs. Walters sent. The toy car, only about four inches long, is equipped with four gears forward, one reverse, and one running light gear. It has a brake, gear change and clutch.

Capt. and Mrs. Walters and two children live in the furnished home of a German banker. The officer is responsible for all prisoners in the city. His tour of duty is out next fall and he may reenlist.

Attest: WALTER S. BRESSLER, City Clerk. Seal.

There's FUTURE IN FERTILITY

Proper use of fertilizer on your farm may help you reach new levels of crop production. Even so-called "rich land" balanced diet can produce surprising results.

Yes, fertilizing pays, but merely applying fertilizer is not enough. Improper application is a waste of money... can even do more harm than good. Experience has shown that small amounts of fertilizer properly placed produce greater gains than large amounts poorly placed.

Study the three methods shown here. Use all three for maximum results... eliminate extra operation. Stop in and talk to us about modern equipment for improving your soil and increasing your profits.

THREE METHODS...

- PLANTING—Fertilize while you plant. Greatest return from small amount of fertilizer. Stimulates early growth. Young crops grow faster than weeds—mature earlier.</

Officer Abashed In Making Arrest

Disappearance of Child Is Cause of Fatal Attack For Grandfather.

A state patrolman had a lump in his throat after he "arrested" a traffic violator that was wandering from one side of the highway to another at Columbus. The officer found that the violator, a white gelding, was blind and the horse was trying its best to dodge cars by locating them through his sense of smell. The patrolman guided the animal which had wandered from home, to safe shelter and fed him well.

Greta-Mary Gale, 2 1/2, who disappeared from Lee's camp in Lassen national park, Calif., Sunday last week, was found Tuesday wandering in wild, mountainous terrain. lieved that this is the first elephant ever to travel by plane.

An absent-minded mother in Omaha called a policeman to help her solve her problem. She had bought some much-needed medicine for the baby and had poured some into a spoon and the medicine was gone but she couldn't remember whether she had given it to the baby or taken it herself.

It was a big check Herb Riley of Central City, received from Lincoln. It read $9,000,000.76. Riley said it would be a profit of nine million for him for the check should have been for $16.76. The bank gladly corrected the error made when someone's finger slipped on the check-writing machine.

Hiram R. Gale, 100-year-old commander of the Washington-Alaska Grand Army of the Republic, was the only Civil War veteran at the annual convention in Spokane.

Modern Farm Fly Control

Farm fly control is certain with two new Dr. Hess products.

1. Dr. Hess Barn Spray—a wettable powder containing 50% DDT. Mix with water to spray barns, milk houses and other farm buildings. Flies die after lighting on sprayed surfaces. One or two sprayings last throughout the fly season.

2. Dr. Hess Stock Spray—for use on animals. Contains thanite and DDT. Thanite, fastest fly killer known, gives quick knockdown and kill at milking time. DDT builds up residual effect for killing flies on animals in pasture. One pint Stock Spray in water makes 2 1/2 gallons of spray.

So, here's a modern fly-control program. We can supply both these products. Satisfaction guaranteed.
