Warning

Of the Nebraska States Safety

Warning

Council warns against the danger of drinking befuddling hard liquor before trying to handle the steering wheel of a motor vehicle. His warning follows:

You drivers who feel you can drink and also drives safely are warned that you may be only kidding yourselves. Our records will bear me out on this, for last year, 17 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents had been drinking.

drivers involved in fatul accidents had been drinking.

In connection with wrinking and driving, I would like to ask, what would you think if the engineer of a crack limited on even a freight train took a few drinks before starting out on important run? You would think it highly insensible, wouldn't you? Or, if the driver of a city or cross-country hus indulged in a few drinks, yous would, probably write a letter to the president of the bus company. Obviously, neither the engineer or the bus driver does this, but, how do you behave as the driver of your own that? Do you take these, and other chances, behind the wheel of your automobile? Some driving do. Be alert to avoid getting hurt in a flighteny accident. Frequently youl must think—not only for yourself, but for the other fellows well.

erous unaccustomed hardships. The Post erous unaccustomed hardsh hails his return with this:

He is back in overalls who only yesterday wore a sports coat; he limps who so recently leaped. By way of welcome, he found a stack of bills in his mailbox. He suffers a hundred miseries, including a mild general collapse, and for symptoms he could rin any medical dictionary a close second. His feet bear the mark of a bribken-pop-bottle beach, his zers are full of sand; even his evebrows feel alien. He needs est, quiet, sympathy, the hundred dollars, and new piston rings. Det he lout cry, "Are you glad to be back!" For this stricken man, sick, some and disordered, is going through a bad experience. He lises brought a sunburned mass back to the grindstone For him this is the He is back in overalls who only yesterda

The Omaha World-Herald quotes Edgar Howard, Columbus' veteran editor and stalwart democrat, as saying he will not support President Truman for re-election on account of his former connection with the Pendergast political machine. In voting for a republican, he expresses preference for Speaker Joe Martin with whom the Nebraskan served for a series of years in the disergence of the democratic nation. his disagreement to the democratic national convention. This would disturb the convention, though not likely do much to him der the incumbent's renomination.

A Lincoln report states that Gov. Val Peterson is taking lessons in flying. He is said to get up at dawn and sail into the sky shortly afterward. We approve of early rising, but urge extreme caution in handling airplane controls. He says this being air age, he thinks everybody ought to learn to fly. Not all possess the prerequisite of perfect vision and steady nerves. We know one fellow who wouldn't venture into the air with the aid of the world's best pilot.

By this time Great Britain must see from experience the fallacy of socialism, nationalization and shrinking independence. Its citizens must by now realize the mistake in depending too much on the government and too little on the individual. A recharted course along democratic lines is common sense. Out of the bog of socialism with the least possible delay would assure an easier and richer future.

The brutal murder of a Virginia couple west of Omaha last week reveals the most diabolical ingratitude on record. The couple kindly extended traveling aid to two young men. Both benefactors were coldly slain by recipients of special favor. Travelers cannot be justly regarded selfish for passing up hitchikers and running no chances after the late tragic experience.

Some rain and cooler elements the past Some rain and cooler elements the past week refreshed the struggling corn and stimulated hope. Despite drouth, many say the crop will turn out better than expected. Fields vary in outlook. Near one that is hurt may be one that shows encouraging promise. Contouring and hybrid seed have proved powerfully resistant.

The Death Dodgers . . .

Two daredevil stunt aces of the Jimmie Lynch Death Dodgers try their hand at driving open convertible coupes with wheels on the ramp at better than 80 miles an hour. They will be seen here when the Jimmie Lynch Death Dodgers come to the fair for one-day only, September 11, giving two performances, at 2 and 8 p. m. See the "Dive Bomber Crash," in which Don Reynolds, behind the wheel of a stock sedan traveling at better than 80 miles an hour, hits a ramp and soars through the air 35 feet and with a terrific nose dive crashes into parked cars, completely demolishing them. Other noted stunt aces who will appear on this huge program are Bill Williams, Nick Francis, Tommy Coopwood and a score of others. Earl Shipley and his clowns will perform some of the mest unbelievable hair raising stunts.

Whenever the name Hanneford is mentioned, thoughts whenever the name name for is mentioned, thoughs immediately turn to the famous Australian family of horsewomen and horsemen, as this clan has produced the greatest of all time. They will be featured at the fair Sptember 13, and their varied routines are certain to prove that old Dobbin still has important place in the entertainment world with the more modern types of thrill acts and beauteous chorus numbers. Every member of the Hanneford clan is an accomplished artist on a horse, and the act this year presents the youngest professional rider in the world. This slip of a teen-age girl will leap on and off the rosin-backs with the agility and skill of a veteran—and a veteran she is, as she teethed on a bridle ring.

The Melody Time Revue, a fast moving musical show with a line of ten gorgeous beauties, will spark the entertainment with the verve and zest of Broadway. The Melody Time Revue was specially created for the fair by masters of the outdoor show world. The pick of the beauties with talent were chosen to furnish the required, feminine pulchritude, while special musical scores, unique lighting effects and specially designed costumes were created to make the revue a sensational presentation. Music, dancing, singing and gorgeous scenery will be combined under dazzling lights with scintillating costumes to provide the fair with one of the greatest revues of its kind ever staged in the open air. Each of the dancing beauties is trained in the art of stage terpsichorean presentations and several are soloists in a series of specialty numbers.

Three Days of Music

A maze of electrically-driven contrivances that appears to be the creation of some Rube Goldberg mind, but that turns out to be a unique pair of parallel bars, is the device that will be used by Chuck Brown to evoke laughs and gasps of admiration from audiences at the fair September 13. Brown has opened a brand new vista in parallel bar acts with his unique device which looks at first like a senseless conglomeration of metal bars, poles, rods, etc. Under Brown's side-splitting chatter, however the contrivance opens seemingly by itself, into a set however, the contrivance opens, seemingly by itself, into a set of novel parallel bars upon which he performs.
