

In Rural Communities — Nebraska's Safety Patrol — Wins High Rating — Farm Conservation — Drawbacks — Vital Questions.

In a world of multiplying troubles and threats, rural communities are in comparison fortunately situated. The metropolitan center appeals to persons who like crowds, like major attractions and lots of excitement. The country offers more security and more freedom from sore nerves.

The big city has fewer mutual friendships. Next door neighbors often remain strangers and seldom cultivate acquaintance. In the country everybody speaks to everybody and proves sympathetic and helpful. Rural advantages are not surpassed by city advantages.

For Special Training.
Captain C. J. Sanders of the Nebraska safety patrol, announces special training for sixteen members of the state patrol at Ashland during this week. Sgt. H. J. Brit of Norfolk, is among the six.

Subjects to be covered in the training are: Psychology in detective service, tracing the fugitive, identification of individuals, sketching the scene of the crime, photographing the scene of a crime, fingerprints at the scene of the crime, tracks of vehicles, traces of footprints, traces of tire tracks, traces of tracks of vehicles, traces of tracks of vehicles, traces of tracks of vehicles, traces of tracks of vehicles.

Captain Sanders says this course will be separate from the regular patrol training. All of the officers attending his class have had previous training in the regular course of criminal investigation given to all patrolmen, which is a part of the curriculum of the patrol school.

The officers who have taken this specialized training will annually devote their time to patrol duties and will always be available for criminal investigation when called upon by local authorities.

Laudable Project.
Third grade pupils under the direction of their teacher, Miss Hazel Reeve, completed a community project in time for entry at the county fair, and on it they won a superior rating. In a booklet were pictures and stories of Wayne's industries and advantages. The work is very meritorious. It reflected understanding and appreciation of the home town.

Hot Weather Returns.
Drouth will give farm contouring and conservation a big boost. It will also speed irrigation wherever it can be made practicable. September heat which followed rains and some nights of near-freezing, is not uncommon for the month and can now do no serious damage.

Florida Hit Hard.
Florida has enough advantages of climate to attract many visitors every year, but it has some things that are terrific assaults on life and peace of mind. One of them is the occasional hurricane one of which swept the southern state's coast southwest last week causing great damage. No state is without drawbacks. Even Nebraska has a few.

The Senator's Visit.
Senator Wherry's visit to Wayne in the course of a tour of the state, enabled people to ask questions and get information firsthand. Those who visited the senator here were not slow in questions relating to domestic and foreign politics. We think the senator's visits are eminently worthwhile. He imparts vital information, and his leadership is strengthened by gaining popular reactions. People show they are conversant with pressing problems, and reveal a likely interest in likely trends.

Two Are Injured In Car Accident

Mrs. Henry Rethwisch and August C. Wittler Are In Mishap Nearby.
Mrs. Henry Rethwisch of near Wayne suffered severe cuts and bruises and August C. Wittler, Jr., 19, of Wayne received minor injuries when vehicles they were driving collided about 9 Saturday morning.

The mishap occurred three miles west of Wayne on the road leading out from First street. At the accident scene, the road leads directly into the James Milkken farm place and also intersects with a north-south highway.

Mrs. Rethwisch, driving a new pickup truck, was leaving the Milkken place to go to her home a short distance east. Mr. Wittler, coming from the south, struck the pickup just behind the cab. Sheriff Hays Tietgen reported. The impact threw the pickup over on its left side, and both vehicles were locked together when they stopped.

Mrs. Rethwisch was removed from the pick-up and brought by ambulance to a Wayne hospital for treatment and observation. She sustained deep cuts on the neck, forehead and one leg, also severe bruises. She was reported in satisfactory condition Monday morning when further X-rays were taken. State Board Takes Action on Proposals at Meeting Held in Lincoln.

Granting of the liberal arts degree in addition to the education degree is favored for Nebraska teachers colleges by the state board of education. Meeting at Lincoln September 15, the board passed a resolution to this effect in response to an invitation of the legislative council which sought reaction of the group on this matter.

Board members feel that the granting of liberal arts degree is an important step in education. California has followed the policy of allowing teacher training institutions to grant liberal arts degrees for a number of years and that state is a leader in preparation of teachers. An instructor is required to have four years of college to teach in elementary grades in California and five for teaching in secondary schools.

Minnesota legislature recently granted teacher training colleges the right to grant liberal arts degrees. The state board members feel that the plan makes teacher training colleges stronger and enables them better to serve their area.

Incident to granting liberal arts degrees, the board in its resolution favored dropping the word, "Teachers" from the titles of the schools. The proposal is to name the schools the Nebraska State colleges at Wayne, Peru, Chadron and Kearney.

Wildcats to Open Season in Fremont

Starting Line-up in Game With Midland Released By Coach Emery.

Wayne State Wildcats make a belated entrance into the 1947 football season when they tangle with the Midland eleven at Fremont Friday evening, September 26.

Coach Don Emery will rely on speed and drive to make up for a light team. He's gloomy over the outcome of the game and the season because the Wildcats will have to enter Nebraska college conference play without pre-season games.

Since the conference teams all boast stronger eleven than the 1946 teams, Emery regards the coming play as tough competition. However, the Wildcat team is determined to better last year's record of four wins and three losses.

Eighteen lettermen and several strong recruits give the Wildcats a well-balanced team with experience and drive backed two or three deep on most positions.

Big Maurice Cunningham of Anghon, Ia., playing his last year at Wayne State, will be a mainstay in offensive play. Added to him are Jim Anderson, Wakefield, Mason Moritz, Stanton; Warren Borg, Wakefield; Allison Baber, Wayne; Galen Moyer, Scribner; and Ray Schmiedeskamp, Walthill, for backfield assignments.

Line-men with experience and promise for this fall include Robert Wolverton, Stanton; Leo Clapper, Sioux City, Ia.; Darrin Cypers, Ponca; Rex Johnson, Wayne; Edgar Lee, Newcastle; James Morrison, Wayne; Vernon Harder, Anthon, Ia.; Earl Wimbourn, Anthon, Ia.; Leo Otto, Pierce; and Dick Peterson, Norfolk.

Starting line-up against Midland Friday night is: Peterson, No. 38, LE; Harder, 30, LT; Wimbourn, 32, LG; Clapper, 23, C; Johnson, 29, RG; Morrison, 41, RT; Otto, 28, RE; Anderson, 21, QB; Cunningham, 43, LHB; Baber, 25, RHB; Moyer, 26, FB.

Game Captains will be Cunningham, 43, and Peterson, 38.

FOOTBALL SEASON—

and fast. Coach Emery has changed from wingback to modified T formation. He hopes in this way to capitalize on speed. Men show good passing and he will use more passes this year. The team is a little weak on replacements but a number of freshmen are showing up well and will see action.

Bleachers which have been moved from the ball park to the college field will provide seating for about 1,000. Coach Emery said that he hopes "the new stadium will be ready next year."

The coach stated that Nebraska university has a tough schedule but has a much improved team.

Urges Consideration

Assistant Coach Meek told how spectators can help the team by encouraging men. If criticisms are necessary for the team or coach, he suggested that they be given carefully. Players are under great pressure and they are easily influenced by what others say.

Coach Meek urged that people look not only at those handling the ball but also at blockers, those executing plays and others to get the most from the game. The whole team forms the working unit.

The speaker concluded by asking consideration for officials. They have a difficult role and can only do best work when they are not hampered.

Dr. Victor P. Morey presented

Coach Emery who introduced Coach Meek.

Besides 52 members, Bob Jennings of Norfolk, was with Wilmer Griess, Prof. Milton Hassel with Prof. John R. Keith, and Don Gibeau of Sioux City, with W. C. Swanson. The speakers were guests of the club.

Russia's Attitude
 RUSSIA'S Andrei Y. Vishinsky descended to the mudsills of personal vituperation in false charges of war mongering against the United States in his speech before the U. N. assembly. He holds misrepresentation of America's leaders and this country's foreign policy. He charged the United States with fomenting trouble with the soviet union. An expressed opinion is that his blast was so "fantastic" that it would defeat itself.

In conflict with Vishinsky's disturbing tissue of falsehood is an encouraging note sounded by Ernest C. Roper, who spent ten years in Russia in an official capacity. He thinks the soviet union's mad bosses are bluffing. He says Russia is far behind the United States in production, and adds that five more five-year plans would be required to put Russia's steel output within two-thirds of America's present production. Mr. Roper believes nothing is to be feared from Russia's military machine for the next 25 years.

That is reassuring to a country that is sick of war and sick of war talk. But keeping alert and prepared is a vital safeguard.

Approved Policy
 THE policy of the National Broadcasting Company to keep crime stories off the air until 9:30 p. m. to prevent children from hearing them is generally approved. It is one more step to keep impressionable youths from becoming victims of bad influences. The Lincoln Journal comments in conclusion: It will not permit glorifying or justifying of crime or criminals, nor any cynical or condescending attitude toward them. Lurid super-realism is taboo, as are detailed descriptions of crime, calculated to induce nightmare in young

Advice to Farmers

THE Norfolk Daily News quotes Senator Capper of Kansas as advising farmers in part as follows: "Canny farmers are plowing back a part of their current large earnings into their farms. They are constructing new buildings or repairing old ones, buying modern, labor-saving equipment, fencing their fields, buying fertilizers to improve fertility, using better seed, improving their livestock, investing liberally in soil conservation. The News comments: Money, he says, invested in these things is one of the best investments because it will be a big factor in keeping young folk on the farm."

Walter Winchell, sensational radio news spalter, is reported to have charged Nebraska's Senator Wherry with allowing someone of contrary political affiliation to write his speeches. This the senator hotly and properly denied, adding that he always prepares his own speeches. And it is doubtful if he ever needs or accepts any help.

Speaking at Hastings recently, Representative Knutson of Minnesota predicted congress would pass a tax reduction law to be made effective in 1948. Congressmen who are circulating among constituents have doubtlessly discovered a uniformly strong demand for a sharp tax cut.

The death of ex-Mayor LaGuardia in New York reminds us that he lived too hard to have lived as long as one would expect. He was a dauntless fighter for what he thought was right.

The cost of living promises to be a live political issue in next year's presidential campaign if it continues up. Each political party will endeavor to saddle responsibility on the other.

The same complaints have been made by other organizations but up to now none of these has moved to make any corrections. Until some one does so, we will have our unicameral as it is now."

They Passed The Test!

Every beer retailer must first make application for license to the local governing body; the notice of application is published; citizens may appear to challenge the applicant's fitness, and appeals may be made to the state Liquor Control Commission.

Persons engaged in beer retailing in your community have passed the test as to character, reputation, good citizenship, local residence, a record for law observance, financial responsibility and suitable tavern location. They have passed the test!

Our laws are adequate to the need for selecting good licensees and maintaining good tavern operations. These laws and the law enforcement officials have the complete support of the Nebraska Committee, through its program of beer industry self-regulation.

Stanton Winner Over Local High

All-Conference Don Kane Scores Five Times for Mustang Team.

Stanton high's Don Kane, all-conference halfback last year, scored five times to give his mates a 33-0 win over Wayne high's injury riddled club at Stanton Friday.

Stanton made only four first downs to two for the locals, but shook the fleet-footed Kane loose for long scoring jaunts, three times on pass and lateral plays.

Injuries cost the Wayne team heavily. Lowell Rethwisch, who was to have started at right half, was lost for the season with a torn ligament. Warren Ellis, regular quarterback, will be sidelined for three or four weeks with recurrence of an old knee injury. Don Tietgen, halfback who took over at quarter, picked up a broken nose and gave way to Jim Sund. Dick Dion, LeRoy Sievers and Don Shulteis were also shaken up in Friday's encounter.

Wayne opens the home schedule Friday night against Madison on the college field at 8. The Blue Devils are working overtime for a drouth ending victory; and a good game is in prospect.

tember 20, 1894: "Postmaster Childs received from William Huse of Ponca, the nestor of north Nebraska journalism, a copy of Volume I of the Wayne County Review, published at LaPorte by Huse and Hunter and edited by C. E. Hunter, now postmaster at Wakefield. The officials at that time were: C. E. Hunter, clerk; Solon Bevins, treasurer; A. A. Fletcher, judge; Enoch Hunter, sheriff; John T. Bressler, surveyor; Moses Sherk, superintendent; I. O. Richardson, Joseph Beckenhauer and Charles Erxleben, commissioners. The paper bears the date of May 22, 1875, and in the local columns we note that the editor is attending the constitutional convention; that rattlesnakes are beginning to sing, and that it is a very late spring."

Notes in Ponca Files.

From Northern Nebraska Journal, Ponca, for September 1, 1887: The train between Chicago and Sioux City has cut its time by 35 minutes. Wayne county fair is in progress. Central hotel has at elegant new bus to meet trains.

Foundation for the new Baptist church in Ponca is complete. A man stopping at Ponca has a new type of fuel which he proposes using. It is oil and water and great things are claimed for it.

The teachers' association will meet each month. Nine bands entered the contest at the GAR encampment in Norfolk. Ponca hand took first place, Wayne second and Neligh third. Races, balloon ascension and shooting tournament will be among features for Dixon county fair in Ponca.

Gomes & Jewell of Springfield, Ill., bring their biggest balloon and will ascend to 1,000 to 6,000 feet. The new amphitheatre will seat 600.

The coal mining company working near Ponca seems to have perfect faith in the enterprise. The men of experience are working day and night and are getting into the bluffs. The coal is fully as good as the Ford Dodge coal. The vein in which the miners are now working measures two feet in thickness. Several pieces weighing 500 to 600 pounds were found. The mine has been named the Mina Knapp for the first lady who visited it.

The stock sale at Martinsburg proved that that town is a most suitable place for auctioneering.

Wakefield Wins Over Bloomfield

Trojans Make Good Record In Opening Football Game Friday.

Wakefield's Trojans opened the football season Friday evening by defeating Bloomfield, 19 to 0 in the game played at Bloomfield. This was the first game for both teams.

Wakefield scored early in the first quarter when quarterback Bill Anderson, passed to right halfback Harold Hypse from the opponent's 40 yard line. Hypse went over for the touchdown. The conversion point was made good by a pass to Bill Erickson. A 70-yard drive early in the second quarter, ending in a 10-yard pass from Anderson to right end Fred Schlines, accounted for the second score. Left halfback Dick Pospishil made repeated attacks in the line driving. Attempt for extra point failed, making the score 13 to 0 at the end of the half, in favor of the Trojans.

Despite the fact that Bloomfield's lineup out weighed the local eleven, by ten pounds per man, Wakefield continued their determined drive and scored again in the third period. This was a result of a series of ground drives and passes ended by a pass from Anderson to Schlines on the five yard line. Schlines went over for the score. The conversion attempt failed, making the final score 19 to 0.

Coach Harold Elyson commended the team on their outstanding performance in both the backfield and line. Bill Anderson completed nine out of 13 attempted passes against Bloomfield's two from six attempts. Anderson found ready targets for receiving in Harold Tell, Fred Schlines, Harold Hypse and Bob Erickson. Ralph Connors made a good showing in the line.

Penalties in the first and third quarters nullified two possibilities of scoring for Wakefield. Johnson received a deep gash between the eyes and Tell a slightly wrenched knee.

Jessies had been ordered for the team members early in the year and failed to arrive. In final attempt to get them here for the first game, Coach Elyson phoned to Omaha and Ray Russell, manager of the firm, flew to the Wayne air port Thursday evening in his private plane to deliver the jerseys. The starting line-up and positions are: Harold Tell, left end; Gordon Dahlgren, left tackle; Dale Kinney, left guard; Ralph Connors, center; Warren Johnson, right guard; Bob Fredrickson, right tackle; Fred Schlines, right end; Bill Anderson, halfback; Dick Pospishil, left halfback; Harold Hypse, right halfback; Bob Erickson, fullback.

Wakefield team goes to Lyons Friday for the next game and will meet Wayne October 3 for the first home game of the season.

Form Pep Band.

... and You'll Use a McCORMICK-DEERING

These four features—sturdiness, close skimming, easy turning and easy cleaning—answer every demand a cream producer can make of a separator. The McCormick-Deering gives you every one!

It's hard to make a cream check grow if butterfat is slipping through a worn-out machine twice a day. That's why so many dairy farmers recognize the importance of the self-centered stainless steel bowl in the McCormick-Deering that gets all the cream—even with milk that has cooled.

Farm wives find cleaning a cinch with the stainless steel supply can, bowl, discs, covers and spoons. All parts come out bright and shining, right in keeping with the rich color and smooth lines that make the McCormick-Deering separator so attractive.

See this great cream saver in our store now. Four sizes give you choice of 500, 750, 1000 and 1250 lbs. per hour.

Head and Tail Lights Are Required for Horses in New York Town.

Charles Bishop, 91, of Littleton, N. H., was puzzled as to how his friend, Myron Northey, has lived to be 101 and takes no precaution on his diet. To satisfy his curiosity Mr. Bishop walked 25 miles to consult his companion.

A new ordinance passed in Hempstead, N. H., declares that after sundown, horses must be equipped with head and tail lights.

Jose Reinaldo of Mexico City, had some explaining to do when police arrested him on the charge of intoxication. He assured the judge it was only orange juice with a little DDT.

In Denver, Richard Junk, 9, fell from a tree and broke his arm. He wanted to keep his injury a secret, so made a few discreet inquiries about the technique of bone setting and did a capable job on his own arm.

An Omaha hunter spied a dove sitting calmly on a telephone wire.

He loaded his gun, aimed carefully and fired; the dove sat still. The hunter shot again; the dove remained on his perch. In last attempt the would-be hunter picked up a rock. Then the dove flew away.

Mrs. Lucy Nostrand of Milwaukee, was injured by a running cow as she stepped off a bus at a busy downtown intersection. The hit-run cow and several others, all refugees from a meat company shipment, were rounded up by police.

Jo Ann Reetenwald, telephone operator in Grants, N. M., brought out the city's volunteer fire department 100 per cent, but there was no fire. She was swatting flies and aimed a one at rest on a new automatic fire switch. She missed the fly but got results.

Judge John E. Springer of Palo Alto, Calif., fined Mr. Safety First for violating a traffic law.

A store in San Jose, Cal., believes in advertising the truth. Customers said the kitchen step-stools they purchased were "terrible." So the store advertised:

"Red and white stools, regular $1.98. They are terrible, yours for 49c."

Charles Books of Milwaukee, found a sure cure for his violent sneezing spell. He was seized with an attack and lost control of his car. It climbed a telephone pole, and stayed there. Mr. Books eased himself out, walked away to call a wrecker. He wasn't hurt—nor was he sneezing anymore.

Landlord Abraham Weiner couldn't outstay the moon. He vowed he'd stay in jail "until the moon turns green" rather than refund rent overcharges. Relatives posted the necessary amount for his freedom.

Aunt Helen watched as Frances, 4-year-old, brushed her teeth. When Frances finished she held out the brush. "Do you want to brush your teeth, too?" Her aunt said, "Oh, no, I wouldn't think of using your toothbrush." "Oh, that's all right," Frances said. "It isn't mine. It's my brother's."

Louis Martin, jr., 14, was practicing for a neighborhood circus with other playmates of the neighborhood when a leap from a rope went wrong. He fell, picked himself up, walked a mile to his home. Doctors found he had broken both arms.

In Wilkes-Barre, Pa., 60 pupils are on an indefinite vacation. The school bus driver said the road was too rough and refused to risk the children's safety. Classes will remain suspended until the road is fixed.

In a Chicago garage, customers are confusing the hoots and toots. The owner nursed to health a baby owl he found last May. A card of explanation is placed on the dashboards of stored cars so customers won't be frightened by the owl's snooping.

Parks Air College in St. Louis, Mo., had to call off its rain-making experiment because of a heavy downpour.

In Texarkana, Ark., a badly injured would-be suicide was being rushed to a hospital in a careening police car. The patient came to long enough to caution the driver, "Drive carefully, or you'll kill us all."
