

In Dixon County in Early Days — Homogenized — Drunken Motoring — For Towns Like Wayne — Corn Better Than Expected.

What was called the Ionia volcano was a phenomenon in the early days of northern Dixon county. The Missouri river bluffs area of that county furnished a lot of geological discoveries that enhanced the curiosity of pioneer minds. One explorer dug the petrified bones of a plesiosaurois out of the rocks. It was 30 feet long, mostly stomach and tail few fishy brains. This prehistoric specimen was patched together and put on exhibition. Coal mine shafts in the bluffs revealed a poor grade of fuel. Discovery of gold was reported, but the report proved only the figment of a daring imagination.

The Ionia volcano attracted much attention. Its flames could be seen from across the river in the then Dakota territory. People drove considerable distances to the volcano and had picnic dinners under neighboring trees. Indians regarded the phenomenon as a source of evil spirits, and were careful to keep a safe and comfortable distance from it. But as a matter of fact, the volcano was no more than a hill of burning lignite. In time it was swallowed and ended by the encroaching waters of the Missouri. Anyway, it provided speculative interest and plenty of excitement for first settlers.

Modern Mixing. "Homogenized" has been trotted to popular use these days. It means to make things homogenous. It appears to mean so far a proper mixing of all the elements in milk or peanut butter. If it keeps up its present pace it will no doubt be extended to many other things. It is said to make a drinkable or an eatable more palatable and more nourishing. It could go beyond food and drink and tackle world problems.

Liquor and Motoring. Mixing liquor with motoring has moved official Omaha to find and apply needed remedies. Juvenile drinking excess in the city is charged with an appalling tragedy, the death of one young person and the injury of seven others. The report charges that more than half of the liquor violations involving minors in the state, have occurred in Omaha, while that city has only one-sixth of the state's licenses. Vigorous steps have been taken to prevent sales to minors, and it is hoped in that way to reduce tragedies believed due to hard liquor.

Manager Plan. The city manager plan which is being urged in some large cities, notably Omaha, is considered unnecessary in a town like Wayne. Here citizens serve as mayor and councilman as a patriotic duty rather than for pecuniary advantage. Considerable deserved honor accrues to public service, but the pay is inconsequential. There is little or no rival politics in the municipal affairs of a comparatively small community. Problems are considered from the standpoint of the public welfare. For towns like Wayne the present system is deemed more economical and no less efficient.

On the Curtis Foot Farm. Curtis Foot whose farm is situated one and one-half miles south of Wayne on the paved highway, will realize forty bushels of corn per acre on some favored spots. The yield over the county varies, and is generally larger than formerly estimated. Mrs. Foot reports that she had 500 chickens, but that she has had some losses which she attributes to badgers or skunks, or both. She says members of the family have been on the look out to catch the man-eaters with much success so far. Chickens are too costly to lose.

Officers Elected By Kiwanis Club

Albert Watson Gives Talk on Balanced Farm Plan Monday Noon. Wayne Kiwanis club officers, elected by unanimous acclamation Monday, are: President, Milo Dier, vice president, Ralph Carhart, treasurer, Herman Lundberg, and directors, Supt. Stuart Baller and Adon Jeffrey.

The importance of well balanced farm program was stressed by Albert Watson who spoke to Kiwanians Monday. Mr. Watson, who was presented by Wallace Buck, began by noting the privilege of living in an area with the rich soil that is found here. To illustrate the depth of soil, Mr. Watson told that one foot was dug 132 feet before shale was reached. This means that northeast Nebraska is a region of rich, rich soil.

Top soil is the richest and its fertility can be maintained by good farming practices. Mr. Watson advised allowing vegetable growth to decay and return to the soil rather than burning it. Humus is built through decomposition. Good soil can be maintained for a long time by crop rotation, Mr. Watson stated. Fertility can be maintained by rotation and plowing growth under. Nitrogen, also important in fertility, takes care of itself when crops are rotated. Nitrogen can also be added through commercial fertilizer.

Conservation of good soil can be attained by terracing, contouring, gassing waterways and arranging slow run-off, Mr. Watson said. The speaker recommended a balanced farm program of stock and crops. One-third of the farm should be in grasses and good use of these should be made in hay, silage and grazing. Mr. Watson stated that Wayne county should have more cattle than it feeds. Cattle on grass and silage can be finished on corn, thus producing more meat and a more balanced program. Good farming gives the entire community more security and better citizenship.

The board of directors reelected Russell Larson to club membership. Besides 30 members, C. W. Buck of DeWitt, with his son, Wallace Buck, and Harold Westhoff with Ed. Meese.

PAVING EXTENSION TO BE COMPLETED ON THE TIME DUE

THE paving improvement in the northwest part of town promises to be finished according to schedule, as reported by Mayor L. W. McNatt. At the council meeting last week a neighboring area was added to that previously undertaken. Paving costs more now than formerly, but people have more money and can pay easier than when times are less flush. Initial paving in Wayne somewhat more than twenty years ago was done at peak price, but was an improvement that would likely have been postponed if the wherewithal to do it had been scarce. No one would surrender the paving advantage.

Wayne State vs. Hastings Friday

Wildcats Aim to Chalk up First Grid Victory Of Season

Although slightly battered by wind officiating and more weird football at the hands of the Doane college football eleven and officials, Wayne State certainly is ready to whip into the Hastings college crew Friday night at the Wayne football field.

The Wildcats are gunning for their first victory of the season and are going to be mighty hard for the Hastings team to hold.

Several Wayne students will be out of town Friday to take advantage of the teachers' convention vacation, so towns people and friends of the college are assured of excellent seating facilities for the game.

Prepsters Win For Homecoming

Six-man Team Upsets Leigh, 47 to 20, in Free-Scoring Game.

Wayne Prep's six-man football team continued to ride the crest of the victory wave last week-end, upsetting the strong Leigh team, 47 to 20, Friday night on the college field. This was Prep's homecoming game and was the team's third straight triumph.

Leigh, previously beaten only by Hopper, was a slight favorite and gave Prep a tough battle during the first quarter. The free-scoring contest began with Prep moving 50 yards in a sustained drive to Leigh's 10-yard line. From this point Harder scored on an end sweep, and then place-kicked for two more.

Just before the first quarter ended, Leigh connected with two long passes which brought the ball to Wayne's 15. Leigh's third aerial into the end zone was good for a touchdown, and a drop-kick knotted the count at 8-8 when the quarter ended.

Prep regained the lead just before halftime when Harder broke loose and streaked to a touchdown. Wayne led, 14 to 8, when the half ended.

In a wild third quarter, Wayne scored three times and Leigh once, making the score 33 to 14. Leigh again took to the air in the final quarter and counted six more points. But Tom Quick crossed the goal line twice for Prep before the game ended, bringing the final count to 47-20.

Although there were no injuries, both teams played hard, bruising football. They tackled hard, blocked viciously and showed great spirit throughout the contest.

Wisner Defeats Blue Devils, 8-7

Wayne to Meet Unbeaten Allen High Gridders October 22.

Wayne High dropped a narrow 8-7 football game at Wisner Friday afternoon in a contest that was both figuratively and literally "hot." The Blue Devils led through most of the afternoon, with Wisner's final two points coming in the last few minutes.

Jim Sund scored Wayne's touchdown after a second quarter pass to Jim Killion had put the ball in play territory. Although Wayne penetrated to the 1-yard line once and to the 10 another time, bad breaks kept the locals from further scoring. Don Tietgen was in the clear for one touchdown but stepped out of bounds on the 1-yard line. Players said they could not see the sideline marking.

Wayne seemed touchdown bound again in the fourth quarter until a fumble cut short the threat. A long Wisner pass was then intercepted by Wayne near the goal line and the officials ruled that the ball was carried into the end zone and downed for a safety and the winning points.

Dion, Mahen and Shultheis played good defensive ball for Wayne. Wayne's entire line played well except for the one Wisner drive which netted the touchdown. Jim Sund intercepted two Wisner passes.

Don Tietgen, quarterback, was injured in the first half and saw no second half action.

Wayne players in action were Killion, Dion, Dranselka, Mann, Butler, Goo, Shultheis, Ellis, Tietgen, Rethwisch, Sund, Fisher, Mahen, Smith and Horrell.

Wayne meets Allen at the college field Wednesday, October 22, at 8 p. m. Allen is undefeated in four games this season.

Unusual Decisions Baffle Wildcats

Loss to Doane Grid Team, 24 to 7, After 'Gift' Touchdowns.

Wayne State's Wildcats suffered their first defeat of the current grid season at the hands of Doane college, 24 to 7, last Friday night, and came away from the fracas muttering the classic expression, "We wuz robbed."

And, according to reports to The Herald, the Wildcats were more than justified in their opinion because of a couple of "unusual" decisions from the referees, both of which resulted in touchdowns for Doane.

The first half was fairly even, with neither team able to score, although Doane threatened three times. Doane's first questionable counter came in the third period when Moe Cunningham of Wayne intercepted a pass intended for Gene Valenta of Doane. The catch was made in the end zone and Valenta promptly tackled Cunningham, who dropped the ball when he hit the ground, according to local reports. However, the officials ruled that it was a simultaneous catch by the two players and gave Valenta possession of the ball and a touchdown.

Doane made the extra point, and a few minutes later Hugh Morrison of Doane place-kicked a perfect field goal from the Wayne 11, making the score 10 to 0 at the end of the third quarter.

The opposition chalked up another touchdown in the final period on what local spectators and players opine was another debatable decision. This occurred when Ken Kasparek of Doane took a punt to the Wayne 20 and was tackled. At this point Kasparek fumbled to Morrison after the whistle blew, and Morrison carried the pigskin over the goal line. Furthermore, the locals say Doane was called for clipping on this play, but the touchdown was counted anyway.

By this time the Wildcats were convinced they hadn't a chance. Doane scored once more on a pass into the end zone, and Wayne marked up its lone touchdown in the closing minutes when Warren Berg took a short pass and sped 80 yards. The try for the extra point was good.

worked well where tried and is to be made an annual practice. Leading children to do right is believed more effective than relying entirely on force.

A recent news report from Moscow boasts of an unprecedented harvest, and an American-licensed newspaper in Berlin wonders why the soviet union is taking food supplies from Germany. If Russia has an abundance why strip other countries that have too little? The cruel Russian policy appears to spread hunger among countries that do not fall for its communist rule. It shares not in the least in world relief. There appears no deviation from its evil course.

Jack Kroll, director of the CIO Political Action Committee, denies any possibility of labor group's support of a third party movement. He explains that the committee will work through existing political parties. He evidently means that party lines will be disregarded and that candidates will be labeled. If friendly to the CIO, they would be favored; otherwise they would be marked for opposition.

Reversed
 The Norfolk Daily News mentions Nebraska's superior record of bond purchases as one proof of substantial prosperity in contrast with experiences of earlier days. Time was when the middle west, including Nebraska, had to look to the east for needed money. Conditions have been reversed. The News comments in part:

The midwest has had a rapid and substantial rise in its economic level within the times of many of us. We now have spare money which we are "hoarding" by turning it into Uncle Sam's securities. This part of the nation has come into its own.

We used to be told that when the east was prosperous the western farmer thrived. We went through some periods that made us wonder about that. But we now have very substantial evidence that the prosperity of the west is the best basis upon which the industrial east can build its prosperity. When the farmer has plenty of money to spend, there will be few factories idle. Our money flowing east for farm machinery, automobiles, tractors, building hardware, household equipment, etc., gives the east a surer foundation for good wages and sound profits, than western money flowing east to pay the interest on mortgages which kept the farmer impoverished.

Congressmen touring western Europe and carefully inspecting conditions there have usually returned convinced that American help, carefully administered, is not only essential from humanitarian motives, but to prevent growth of pernicious communism. Time magazine makes this observation in the course of treating American delegations: "The attitude in most respects reflected U. S. citizens at their best—neighborly people, willing to help and prompted by humanitarian impulses, but nevertheless hardheaded and cautious."

Halloween, October 31, is made the occasion of wholesome public activities, including parades and music, in some towns, to discourage the devilment which often resulted in vandalism in past years. Entertainment of youngsters is considered paramount. The idea is to cultivate noble rather than destructive impulses. The plan has Nebraska's former governor, Dwight Griswold, is reported fully measuring up to his task as leader of American administration in Greece. Products of the midwest's great plains country usually do not disappoint expectations. Besides executive ability, the former governor has a saving sense of humor. That helps him in discharging grave responsibilities.

Addressing officers and members of the State Historical society in Lincoln last week, W. C. Meierhenry of the University of Nebraska gave high credit to rural communities by saying they are the "rich preserves" of typical Nebraska heritage and he called for strengthening of small-town home life as the "hope of American progress along democratic paths."

General Charles de Gaulle's decisive victory over communist forces in France stimulates hope. It encourages the belief that the soviet union's influence in Europe is not so great as many had feared. Peace-loving peoples everywhere grab favorable indications, and the election result in France is one of them.

Encouragement is found in the government's determination to uproot alleged communist-controlled spy rings in this country. Enemies of our form of government might well be shipped to the more agreeable atmosphere of the soviet union.

City authorities may insure easier and more certain observance of parking rules by keeping painted strips properly renewed. Thus, clearly marking spaces also accommodates more cars. Some take too much room, others not enough.

Republican Candidates Taft and Stassen are apparently friendly rivals. They exchange compliments, and neither appears to fear the other. Their manner of campaigning leaves an agreeable taste.

We note with warm approval the extra efforts of the churches in labors of evangelization. The world was never more in need of emphasis on spiritual values.

LIVESTOCK
 The Saturday Evening Post points out that a short corn crop encourages decreased livestock production. The government is coming to the rescue by a long-range farm program to increase such production. The Post comments: "Except for a brief period during the war, our livestock numbers have not kept pace with the growth in population. People also are eating more meat when they can get it. Stimulated by steady employment and high wages, meat consumption rose from an average of 133.5 pounds per person during the 1937-41 period to 152.8 last year. The agriculture department's long-range program puts greater emphasis on soil conservation and getting more land into grass and forage crops, which would automatically stimulate beef and dairy cattle production."

"AUNT MARTHA"
 The Aunt Martha idea as a partner for Uncle Sam does not make much sense. This is the way Editor J. E. Lawrence of the Lincoln Star treats the subject: "The plan of some individual or individuals to rig up a synthetic 'Aunt Martha' as a partner for our Uncle Sam is doomed to failure, just as would be the creation of a 'Minnie Hifler' as a mate for John Bull. Symbolic names for nations or peoples are not created on order any more than are national anthems. They come into being spontaneously and, like Topsy, they just grow. Uncle Sam has been in existence since the war of 1812, and it's seemingly a little late for him to be getting hitched. During that conflict, Samuel Wilson, known to his neighbors as 'Uncle Sam,' was federal inspector of beef at Troy, N. Y., and as such passed on supplies for the army. One contractor marked the barrels of meat sent by him with his own initials and 'For U. S.' One of Wilson's workmen supposed these letters meant 'Uncle Sam' and so informed his fellow workmen, who accepted the idea. The story spread and spread and spread, and in the course of time 'Uncle Sam' became the colloquial name for the Federal government. 'Aunt Martha' is more than a century too late."

Homogenized Milk

FIRST... It's Pasteurized
THEN... It's Homogenized

Homogenized milk offers our patrons the same protection as pasteurized milk because it is pasteurized BEFORE it is homogenized. The homogenizing process places the pasteurized milk under tremendous pressure. This breaks down the fat particles so they won't separate from the rest of the milk. Have it delivered.

Demure as dynamite — its charming bib-effect tucked around the edges and continuing to the shoulders, buttoned by a trio of exquisite "Cameo" buttons. The graceful sleeves "billow" into concise little cuffs. The whole effect is an excellent expression of the superb simplicity of the new longer silhouette. Done with JOYCE HUBERT'S certain instinct for purity of line. In Connoisseur Colors: Venetian Glass Wine, Precious Mink Brown, Ming Green, Eastern Sapphire Blue and Black. Sizes 10 to 20.

THE WAYNE HERALD

73rd Year — No. 24 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, October 23, 1947 Sec. 2—Pages 1 to 8

Brother of Wayne Man Is Injured

Claude Heikes of Dakota City, brother of Charles Heikes of Wayne, was seriously injured October 13 when his car collided with another at an intersection of two country roads about four miles southwest of Dakota City. Mr. Heikes suffered a skull fracture and chest and limb injuries. His condition is reported as satisfactory at a hospital in Sioux City.
The driver of the other car suffered shock, scratches and a cut forehead.
Charles Heikes and daughter, Mrs. Kermit Andrews, were in the city Tuesday to see him.

Reserve Officers Sought by Army

Former warrant officers, flight officers and non-commissioned officers of the first three grades, who have had six months or more of active military service are eligible to make application for direct commission in the officers' reserve corps. All applications must be made before December 31, 1947.
Information on qualifications and how to apply may be had upon request at the office of the Nebraska State Senior Instructor for the Organized Reserve Corps, 7th Floor, Federal Office Building, Omaha, or the sub-offices at Lincoln, Grand Island, North Platte and Scottsbluff.

Suggest Method Of Saving Feeds

Livestockmen at the University of Nebraska have suggested several ways in which Nebraska farmers might cooperate with the federal government in saving feed and grain. County Agent Walter E. Harder said.
Dr. L. E. Hanson, swine research authority, points out that it requires about six bushels of corn and 50 to 60 pounds of good protein supplement to put a 100 pounds of gain on a hog. If no supplement is fed, corn requirements are about 12 bushels per 100 pounds of gain. Fifty to sixty pounds of protein supplement will save about 300 pounds of corn for every 100 pounds of live weight increase on young pigs.

Prof. M. A. Alexander, well known sheep authority, says grain can be saved through more efficient feeding practices. A lamb on full feed will make the most economical gain when it is fed about equal amounts of grain and roughage. Clean feed yards, clean water, dry bedding and regular feeding hours mean faster gaining lambs.

Extension Dairyman C. W. Nibler says many Nebraska farmers who milk cows can save feed and still make money for themselves. All records show that low producing cows are unprofitable and can be culled. Last year cows on which actual production records were kept showed that when they produced 156 pounds of butterfat they returned only $53 above feed costs. Cows producing twice as much, or 300 pounds of butterfat returned $141 above feed costs.
Nibler says cows which cannot produce more than 150-175 pounds of butterfat in a year can be marketed and feed will be saved.

Build Seed Supply.
Anyone interested in helping build up a supply of certified Ranger alfalfa seed is asked to see County Agent Walter R. Harder.

Plan Five Meetings.
Five district meetings to finish up the 1947 corn yield contest are scheduled at Holdrege, Nebraska City, Columbus, Hartington and Ord. The one at Hartington is January 16.

Sherman Toppers Meet.
Sherman Toppers 4-H club met September 26 with Merle Rudebusch in the John Rudebusch home. Records were turned in to Harry Nelson. The meeting October 21 is with Eugene Samuelson.

We've Come a Long Way from the Longhorns

Longhorns by the millions ranging the western grasslands from the Gulf Coast to Montana . . . building empires . . . making history and legend on the great cattle trails! That was sixty and more years ago. Then the railroads came, much of the range was fenced and the fate of the longhorn was sealed. Short-horn, Angus and Hereford bulls came in from the east. Gradually, the longhorns were bred out of existence, until today only a few isolated "museum" herds are left.

This is one story of continuing livestock progress, of better animals developed to meet changing conditions and needs. Who knows but that in another fifty years today's "best" may look as old fashioned as longhorns do now.

With hogs, one amazing change is in the increased speed and efficiency of producing pork. Three years once was needed to raise a hog to market weight. Today, pigs often weigh 200 to 250 pounds at six months or less. Straight line and cross-bred breeding experiments, seek even more efficient hogs to make weight in the same short time, but produce more meat.

In lambs, development is directed toward "dual-purpose" breeds. Certain breeds have been best for wool but not best for meat. Others produced the meat but were lacking in wool. Researchers have made progress on breeds of lambs to produce both meat and good wool economically.

A first step in the improvement of any animals or any herd is to use proven sires on dams of known productive ability. The eye alone is not enough. To know production records and ancestry is vital. Bull grading programs offer greater certainty in choosing a sire. Weighing young animals at weaning time and marking them is important, especially in the selection of gilts. A "touch system" of sheep grading is proving helpful in culling large bands in little time.

On any matter pertaining to livestock breeds or breeding, Swift & Company has no favorites. We serve the interests of producers of all breeds, in all parts of the country. We urge you to watch carefully your farm publications, and the bulletins of your state agricultural station, and the accomplishments of successful breeders for latest news about the kinds of livestock which you raise.

Behlen DRYING EQUIPMENT

Behlen Drying Equipment has proved to thousands of users that the vottest corn can be dried thoroughly, quickly and inexpensively.

Behlen drying not only improves the quality, it enables you to pick early, when mechanical pickers work best.

This year, with much of the crop throughout the entire cornbelt almost certain to be wet and soft, the demand for Behlen Equipment has tremendously increased.

Production of all the equipment, including the amazing Behlen Forced-Draft Dehydrator, has been more than doubled. However, farmers who wait until fall may not be able to get this equipment in time to prevent heavy soft corn losses.

Come in and see us about your Behlen Drying Equipment—now.

Track Down the Facts

These are the tracks of the coyote. They look like dog tracks, but there are differences which the expert tracker can see. In the livestock business, too, sometimes things are not as they seem to be.

For example, some people say we waste our grain by feeding it to animals. Instead, they think we should eat the grain ourselves. They do not realize that the millions of head of cattle and lambs that are marketed every year are little more than grass turned into meat. It is true that many of these animals are fed a certain amount of grain and other concentrates to turn them into finished meat animals. However, if it were not for cattle and lambs, 779,000,000 acres of land in the United States would produce little, if any, food for humans. To put it another way, about 61% of the total land of our nation consists of grazing land which cannot be used for producing other feeds and food.

Martha Logan's Recipe for UPSIDE DOWN CHILI PIE
(Yields 6 servings)

1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon shortening
1 cup cooked kidney beans
Sauté meat and onion in melted shortening. Add beans, seasonings, and tomatoes. Cover. Simmer gently about 15 minutes. Pour into a greased 9-inch pie plate. Top with corn bread batter. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

Corn bread

1/2 cup sifted flour
3/4 cup yellow corn meal
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour mixture, stirring until well mixed. Stir in shortening. Pour over chili in pie plate.

Packers do not make livestock prices

In their day, the hardy, self-sufficient longhorns were the best bred for the open, unfenced ranges. In a land without transportation they actually took themselves to market. But the tough longhorns couldn't match newer breeds in beef production. Calves from Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus bulls and from thrifty longhorn dams grew faster. They produced more and better meat from less feed. Blockier and of heavier frame, they yielded more of the more popular meat cuts. They were better money makers for farmers and ranchers. Such results encouraged selection of better foundation stock.

Each improvement in meat production has been met by increased demand for popular cuts on America's dinner tables. Livestock producers and meat packers have worked hand-in-hand to encourage greater demand for meat. But Swift & Company plays no favorites among breeds of beef producing animals. We do not make markets. . . we find them. In our buying of livestock we transmit to producers the knowledge of the kinds of meat that are preferred in various sections of the country.

The price producers receive for their livestock is governed by what the packer can get for the meat and by products.

Will It Pay Me to Specialize?
by M. T. Buchanan
State College of Washington

"Should I specialize in some crop or enterprise, or should I diversify my operations?" Many farmers and ranchers have to find the answer to this question. For instance, in the state of Washington there are 63 distinct types of farming in this one state alone. And they should consider that the types of products which come from farms in different areas of the United States are not accidental. They are caused by the inter-action of physical and economic factors. The operation of these two forces has been hastened by mechanization, development of better crop varieties, breeds and disease-resistant strains.

Specialization, of course, leads to increased efficiency in the use of labor, equipment, capital and buildings. Marketing is an easier task and more time is available for maintenance of equipment and for planning new and better methods. A great deal of the increase in production of agricultural products has resulted from specialization. Farms have increased in size. Proportionately, the amount of labor needed has decreased, allowing more labor for use in other ways.

Specialize or diversify? There's plenty of "real life" evidence to help you in reaching a decision. Go visiting. See how your neighbor does it. It's your problem and even if you decide to make no changes from your present plan, you'll get a lot of ideas on how you can do your work better.

Ever hear of poor, old TANTALUS?

Now we know just how he felt

According to Greek mythology, he was bound with chains. Food and water were placed just beyond his reach.

It's "tantaling" to us too, not to be able to get extra gas to you for that new gas heating equipment. But this winter, both you, the customer, and your gas company will have to sit, like Tantalus, powerless to get at the vast resources of available gas.

Like Tantalus, too, it is a steel shortage that is causing the trouble. If he just had a few more links in the chain that bound him, he could have food and drink. If we just had the steel for the gas pipe lines, manufacturing sets, and other plant equipment, then we could deliver that gas to you—and everybody would be happy.

In the meantime, we assure you that there will be plenty of gas for automatic cooking, automatic refrigeration and other household needs, excepting new house-heating installations.
