WIN $250.00

Try THIS PUZZLE

Here's How To WIN $250.00
Nothing Else To Do

All you do is to get the largest number of towns shown in this map composed entirely of the following letters:
N-O-I-A-V-T-M-U-Y-S-E-R

For example Blockton cannot be used because there is no B or L or C in the list.
Vestry can be used because it contains the letters V-E-S-T-R-Y all of which are in the list. Letters may be used more than once in a single name. There may be only a few towns that count, but if you find one more than anyone else, you win the first prize of $250.00 plus $50.00 extra if you are prompt.

So YOU think you can find all the names on the map that contain only the letters N-O-I-A-V-T-M-U-Y-S-E-R

Nothing to Buy — Nothing to Sell

Looks as if anyone can do it, but just try. Starts out nice and easy, but I bet before you are thru, you'll be seeing letters where there aren't any. Then you will have to start all over again and that will be just dandy, but if you do try, you may win $250.00 and I'll bet you could use this money couldn't you? Then go ahead and solve this puzzle.

YOU COULD USE $250.00 CASH RIGHT NOW — COULDN'T YOU?

So if you would like to have fun and make an easy $250.00 cash besides, then send your answer quick. WIN first prize and you will get $250.00—Second Prize $100.00—Third Prize $50.00—Fourth Prize $25.00—Fifth Prize $10.00, so whether you win $250.00 or $10.00 you will be paid real cash money. You may send your answer any time—up to the close of the contest midnight Feb. 15th, 1948, but hurry, send it right now because I will give $50.00 extra to 1st Prize Winner for promptness if you send your answer within five days from the time you read this announcement.

SEND NO MONEY—RUSH YOUR ANSWER

Hurry—send your answer right away. Both the $250.00 and the $50.00 may be yours—win them both. Send no money—there is nothing to buy or nothing to sell. Just send your answer within five days from the time you read this announcement

Prep Girls PE Class Marches At Convocation

The girls physical education class took part in the college convocation Tuesday morning. They presented the grand march in formal dress. Barbara Morey and Patricia Buck preceded the marchers, carrying their batons. Lulu Way directed the group.

Registration for the second semester was completed Wednesday.

The pep club had charge of concessions at the boxing match, Jan. 15.

Fifth Grade News.
The geography and history of Nebraska have furnished the center of interest for reading during the past week.

Demonstration lessons in spelling for Prof. George Costerisan's class and in geography for Dr. M. B. Streeb's class were part of the class activity.

The addition of common fractions with results which can be reduced to lower terms, is the arithmetic skill now receiving attention.

Fourth Grade.
Wednesday was kodak day. Larry Barres took indoor pictures. Roger Anderson and James Brackens took outdoor pictures of the class and teachers.

Two days of art lessons were devoted to finger painting. The finished designs are being used for room decoration.

Third Grade.
Friday Mr. Costerisan's class observed an English lesson. A poster showing winter sports has been made for the room. Miss Frey had taken pictures of the group and sent each child a print. They wrote letters to thank her.

Miss Lorenzen is leaving for Sidney where she will teach a fourth grade.

Spelling tests over the semesters words are being given.

Second Grade.
Wednesday the second graders had their hearing tested by Dr. Katherine Merry.

The class is learning about the different kinds of bakeries and the people who work in them.

Gary Kingston, Gary Blecke, Robly Myers, Patty Sweigard, and Deanna Schram had perfect spelling scores last week.

The second grade participated in the convocation program at the college Tuesday.

Kindergarten.
The pupils have made tambourines for their music store. In connection with the study of music they have had several instruments demonstrated for them. Dickie Tempero played the violin; Miss Williams, the cello, and Darlene Anderson, the clarinet. Connie Johnson played the record, "Tubby the Tuba." The best directors for the rhythm band have been Walter Meyer, Steve Tempero, Sandra Foster and Dickie Jugel.

Pupils made a chart about good things for breakfast and are keeping health charts.

James Hogan treated the pupils to candy.

THE WAYNE HERALD

73rd Year — No. 37 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, January 22, 1948 Sec. 2—Pages 1 to 8

In Old Nebraska

By James C. Olson
Supt., State Historical Society

Seventy-six years ago this January the newspapers of Nebraska were filled with accounts of one of the most spectacular sporting exhibitions ever produced in the history of the state—the great buffalo hunt of the Grand Duke Alexia, son of Alexander II, czar of Russia.

The grand duke was in America on a good will tour, and someone decided that no trip to America would be complete without looking at the wild and woolly west. So General Philip Sheridan of Civil War fame arranged to conduct the Grand Duke on a buffalo hunt in western Nebraska.

The arrival of the royal entourage in Omaha enroute to the buffalo fields was the signal for a hilarious celebration in Nebraska's metropolis. The Grand Duke was dined and wined at the home of former governor Alvin Saunders and as soon as the dinner was completed the public rushed in to meet the Prince.

And a gaily assorted public it was too. Everything from young men in full dress, to unshaven and unwashed frontiersmen with their trousers stuffed in the tops of their boots.

When the prince's train pulled out of the station in Omaha a little before 3 a.m., the visiting dignitary was tendered a last gesture of western hospitality when someone in the crowd called out, "goodbye Alex."

Finally the special train arrived at North Platte and the party set out for its hunting grounds on the Red Willow. It took half a dozen wagons and ambulances, a score of saddle horses and a company of cavalry to get the group to its hunting camp.

When they arrived they found the famous Indian Chief Spotted Tail and his braves waiting for them. That night the Indians put on a war dance for the grand duke which was so realistic that it sent shivers up the spines of the soldiers watching the demonstration. Too many of them had suffered the consequences of the real thing.

The next morning, with Buffalo Bill leading the way, the grand duke went in search of his buffalo. He finally came upon an old bull and, getting almost close enough to touch with him with his gun, he fired. Needless to say, he got another—this at a hundred yards with a heavy Navy revolver.

This ended the hunt and the party returned to the railroad to be carried back to civilization.

Any who are interested in reading further will find a carefully detailed and highly interesting account in "Pioneers, Indians and Buffaloes," by Judge Bayard H. Paine of the Nebraska state supreme court.

Mrs. Lyons Says Californians Not Fooling About Sun

According to Mrs. Laura E. Lyons, who writes from Long Beach, Calif., the California state chamber of commerce is not fooling when they say it doesn't rain there. Her part of the state has had only 3.63 inches of rain so far, compared with more than 15 inches in 1947. It is the driest period since 1898 when less than 5 inches fell.

She writes, "I read with interest of Wayne post office doing so much holiday business. The post office building here is entirely inadequate with 800 regular employees—in 1939 there were but 300. During the Christmas rush there were 821 extra employees with a cash business of $346,527. Helicopters will soon be used."

The Freedom train is expected to be on Long Beach sidetracks in about a month. Mrs. Lyons says schools will not be closed, owing to congestion, but each school will send representatives to report on the historical documents.

The correspondent reports she had luncheon recently with Mrs. May Davies Goldie, who was an early Nebraska normal college student when Prof. J. M. Pile was president. Her husband, Walter Goldie, published the Nebraska Democrat at Wayne several years ago. Her son is employed in Arabia, from where he writes that the situation is very quiet where he is stationed.

Mrs. Lyons explains that since a big auto concern is expanding throughout the district in which she now lives, she will have to move soon.

Mayor and Mrs. Burton W. Chace, of California Heights, Calif., who were former residents, were hosts to dignitaries and the parsonage committee of California Heights Community church at a dinner honoring Bishop James C. Baker of the California area of Methodists. Mr. Chace worked in a Wayne bank several years ago.

Returns from Hospital

Charles Lapham, who underwent a major operation at a local hospital recently, returned home last Thursday.

Brother Dies

Mrs. C. C. Peterson attended funeral services Saturday for her brother, Herman Strohbeen who died at his home in Sioux City Thursday.

To Leave City

Mrs. C. C. Peterson leaves this week to make her home with a sister-in-law in Sioux City. After spending some time visiting relatives and friends, she plans to be employed in the city. The Emil Siefken family will move to Mrs. Peterson's house on West First.

Mrs. Ray Perdue spent the weekend at the Allen Perdue home near Carroll.

A New Threat
 New York news item: "Husbands who grumble over the wife's inefficiency around the house will be left without a leg to stand on this spring when housewives come home from city college with diplomas in homemaking. The diplomas will be awarded for courses in food and nutrition..."

In this innocent appearing paragraph may lie real cause for alarm. Men with an eye to the future will begin preparing now for what soon may lead to severe gastro-nomic upheavals.
 Briefly, this homemaking diploma thing appears to be a subtle expansion of the "new look" movement which obviously was designed as a means of concealing faults that ordinarily would be discernible to any man, even if his eyesight were below par. Since the advent of the "new look," even a high class yogi can do little more than guess.

And now, to pile even more woe on the already harassed male, comes this new threat—diplomas in homemaking—just another way of concealing something. If the biscuits she bakes are harder than a first sergeant's heart—what can you do about it? The diploma says she knows her stuff, and to her way of thinking, that will be proof enough. The suffering male's only recourse, in the interest of preserving marital harmony, is to keep still about her cooking and lay in an ample supply of bicarbonate of soda.

And don't think the midwest's traditional isolationism is any safeguard against the spread of homemaking diplomas. Just remember the "new look." Even after it gained an ankle-hold in the east, we midwestern men were smugly secure in our belief that the knee was here to stay—in sight, that is.

Well, sir, it could... and did... happen here. The midwestern woman proved to be just as susceptible to fashion's dictates as her eastern big city sister. From a knee-length start, the shades were swiftly pulled, and now it's mostly a matter of guesswork.

Very soon, now, if homemaking schools take hold, you can expect a diploma testifying to the wife's homemaking ability to take its place on the wall beside the "Home Sweet Home" sampler and junior's perfect attendance certificate on the wall of your home.

And thereafter, if your stomach disapproves of something you had for supper, you'd better figure you stepped out for coffee too many times during the afternoon and let it go at that.

Marshall Plan in Reverse
 Christian Science Monitor: The Marshall plan was devised to aid Europe. Now comes an opportunity for Europe to aid the Marshall plan.

From its very inception, even before it deserved to be called a plan, the Marshall program stressed this key rule for recipients of aid: They must help themselves.

This meant not only that Europeans must work with their hands. In fact, before manual labor can make the most of American "dollars"—that is, the things that dollars will buy—there must be headwork. That is the basis of help.

Library News

When we think of reading, most of us think of reading for pleasure and relaxation, or study. We came across a comment of Mr. Donley this week who said to Hennessy:

"Readin', my friend, is talked about by all readin' people as though it was th' only thing that makes a man better than his neighbors. But th' truth is that readin' is th' next thing to this side of goin' to bed 'r' restin' th' mind. Believe me, Hennessy, readin' is not thinkin'."

In all truth, it doesn't take much thinking to do a great deal of the reading of what is published today but there are some books which do make you think in spite of yourself. One which falls into this classification is "The Silent People Speak" Robert St. John. Famous radio commentator, lecturer, and author of "From the Land of the Silent People," has revised "mysterious Yugoslavia" and has come back with the provocative story he found as "The Silent People Speak."

A new book in the library this week, written in a lighter vein, is the novel by one of America's favorite authors, Mary Roberts Rinehart. It is her first novel in twelve years and is called "A Light in the Window."

Mrs. Stuart Baller told stories for the children last Saturday. Many clever new books for the children have been put into circulation with intriguing titles, such as, "The Saggy Baggy Elephant," "The Squeegy Bug" and "McElligot's Pool." The illustrations and stories are even more clever than the titles so it is no wonder that the children these days love to read.

"Thanks Neighbor...!"

Remember that zero morning when the fellow next door gave you a push that started "Old Betsy"... and got you off to work on time?

Appreciated it, didn't you? And you'll gladly return the favor anytime he needs a nudge.

Well, that same kind of neighborliness helps a lot in getting the most value out of party line telephone service. Everyone on the line appreciates the thoughtfulness of short calls... allowing time between them for others to use their phone... replacing the receiver softly when the line is in use.

Yes, the simple business of being a good neighbor usually means you'll have good neighbors.
