Asks Support In Bond Drive

Residents of Wayne county have been asked by W. C. Coryell, county chairman of the U. S. savings bonds division, to give their support to the security loan campaign which started April 15 and continues to June 30.

"The security loan has as its objective, the selling of savings bonds to the largest possible number of individuals for the purpose of providing security for the individual and at the same time strengthening the national economy," said Coryell.

"Our country has made a splendid record in all of the war loan drives. That record was made possible through the help of a volunteer committee, supported by thousands of individual bond purchasers. We hope that the security loan will meet with the same generous response from volunteer bond sellers and purchasers."

During the drive, security loan savings bonds may be purchased by individuals through banks and post offices. Many persons will be reached at their places of employment through the payroll savings plan. Retailers of the state will actively promote bond sales.

Nebraskans purchased $18,443,369 of E, F and G series U. S. savings bonds during March. This was an increase of $5,005,000 over February sales. "E" bond sales for March totaled $12,168,318, an increase of $2,669,844 over February "E" bond purchases.

The residents of Wayne county invested $199,000 in E, F and G series U. S. savings bonds during March. Of this amount $68,200 was in E series, which are sold only to individuals.

Will Observe 50th Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. William Kant of Winside will observe their golden wedding anniversary April 28. All of their children expect to be home for the occasion and friends and neighbors will be welcome during the open house periods from 2:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon and 8:00 to 10:00 in the evening.

William Kant, son of Otto and Ottilie Hoffman Kant was born in Eushtin, West Prussia, Germany, Oct. 27, 1874, and came to America with his family in Feb. 1892. They came directly to Winside, to the farm home of the late William Hoffman, uncle of Mr. Kant, and the latter worked for Mr. Hoffman for two years. He then worked for his step-father the late Gustav Rehms for four years.

Emilie Rehms, daughter of Leo-pois and August Bronzynski Rehms, was born at Mischnon, West Prussia, Germany, Aug. 14, 1876, and came to Winside with her mother in 1881, joining Mr. Rehms who had come to America the year before. The family settled on a farm five miles south and a mile east of Winside which Mr. Rehms had purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. Kant were married in Winside, April 28, 1898 by Rev. Klaus, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Their first home was on the farm now occupied by the John Wagner family south of Winside. From there they moved to the place now farmed by Fred Shipley. In 1902, they purchased the home place where Otto Kant now lives.

In 1939, they retired and moved to Winside which has been their home since.

Mr. and Mrs. Kant had eight children, seven of whom are still living: Ella, (Mrs. Anita Dangberg) Winside; Emma, Santa Barbara, Calif.; Amanda, (Mrs. Fritz Dim-mel), Winside; Lydia (Mrs. Everett Witte), Winside; Otto, Hoskins; Tillie (Mrs. Leland Lowry), Denver; and Elsie (Mrs. Conley Roberts), Detroit. Louise, twin sister of Mrs. Witte, died at the age of four.

Paul Dangberg, Dickie and Billie Roberts, Gary and Jane Kant and Mary and Sally Witte are grandchildren.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kant enjoy comparatively good health. Like the average early settlers, they found the struggle for a livelihood in the eighties and nineties anything but encouraging but carried on nevertheless and were rewarded as the times grew more prosperous. They are quite excited about their approaching anniversary which is an important milestone in their lives. The fact that all of their children will be here is of particular significance to them.

Winside is the only home either has had since they came to America. Mr. Kant has been a resident 50 years and Mrs. Kant for 67 years. Anniversary plans include a service, family picture and an evening dinner.

How to cook frozen fish... fry, bake, broil
by Carol Drake

Packaged frozen boneless fillets and evenly sliced fish steaks are a good catch. They are ready to cook when partially thawed, and are done in a matter of minutes.

Fish has a fragile constitution. Sustained high heat or long cooking will toughen fish protein just as it will eggs. So remember that very high heat does to an egg and cook fish accordingly with exception of broiling. Cook only until fish flakes at point of knife and no longer.

Cooking times and temperatures given in the following directions are for partially thawed fish.

FRYING. Dip fish fillets or steak in egg first, then in slightly beaten flour mixed with a tablespoon of lemon juice, then in more flour, crumbs or corn meal. Put in pan with melted shortening, cook over moderate heat, turn only once, serve piping hot.

Fillets, 1/2 inch thick... 2 minutes each side.
Steaks, 3/4 inch thick... 3 minutes each side.

BAKING. An oven temperature of 400°F., just moderately hot, is right for this method. It is really an oven-fry when fish is placed in a greased pan, brushed generously with oil or butter, and baked. No turning is necessary; no odor in the house.

Fillets, 1/2 inch thick... 15 minutes.
Steaks, 3/4 inch thick... 20 minutes.

BROILING. Every rule has at least one exception. High heat should be used when broiling frozen fish. The whole broiling operation is simplified if the fish is arranged on a greased shallow pan instead of directly on the broiler rack. Brush fish with oil or other fat, season; place only 2 inches from the unit. Bake at least one hour during cooking. Do not turn.

Fillets, 1/2 inch thick... 5 minutes.
Steak, 3/4 inch thick... 12 minutes.

Cats Compete In Sioux City Relays Friday

Start Season With Victory

Wayne State's Wildcats were pointing this weekend for the annual Sioux City relays on April 23 as Coach Don Emery kept his large squad pacing through a rugged schedule.

The Wildcats got a better break on the weather this spring than last and will have a well-balanced team to crack the Nebraska College conference tournament in Lincoln in May as well as other regional competition.

The performance of the Wildcats in a quadrangular meet at Sioux City, April 13 against Morningside College, Omaha University, and Buena Vista college, pushed Wayne State in the forefront of sectional schools. Wayne scored 59.4 points while Morningside placing second, grabbed 36.3, Omaha was third with 33.4 and Buena Vista fourth with 24.

The Sioux City relays Friday is a spotlight sporting event of the area, and this year promises to be a bigger show than ever. Wayne plans to garner some topnotch wins in the day of field and track contests.

Coach Emery has some problems with his team in that he's short of talent for some events, however, he and Don Meek, field coach, have 45 eager candidates to mold the Wayne squad from.

Biggest problem for the track season might be caused by construction of a new, concrete stadium recently authorized by the state board of education. The 3,000 seat structure should be completed in time for the 1948 football schedule. Contractors have assured that they will not disturb the college's track anytime that is absolutely necessary during their work which started this week.

At any rate, the Wayne State Wildcats will have one of the top

District Track Meet

The district track and field meet will be held April 30 and May 1 at the college field. Winners and runners-up qualify for state meet competition. The Husker conference meet will be here May 4.

teams in the Nebraska College conference.

For the convenience of Wayne State followers who might want to watch the Wildcats perform, the following is the schedule of events at Sioux City in which Wayne will participate.

100 yard dash—10 a.m. (preliminary).
High Hurdles—10:30 a.m. (preliminary).
High jump, pole vault, shot put and discus—10 a.m.
High hurdles—2 p.m.
2-mile relay—2:35 p.m.
100 yard dash—2:40 p.m.
880 yard relay—3:25 p.m.
Medley relay—4:05 p.m.
Mile relay—4:45 p.m.
The Sioux City relays are held in the large public school stadium of that city.

The Wayne Wildcats will participate in a triangular track meet at Lincoln April 29. Northeastern Nebraska people will see their high school teams perform in an annual class B and C district meet scheduled for the college athletic field on April 30.

Along the Highway

By Nebraska Good Roads Association

Increasing attention is being given by editors throughout Nebraska about the importance of counties employing qualified engineers to supervise the building and maintaining county roads and bridges. Editor Frank H. Smith, Platte Journal, Cass county, in an editorial which appeared in the Journal said, "Cass county left the brunt of raging floods last spring that did untold property damage. Every city and town in the county is suffering business losses as a result of these conditions."

Continuing Editor Smith says, "What Cass county should and must do if it expects to have decent roads and bridges is to put a qualified engineer at the head of our roads and bridges. Pay him a salary that will secure an engineer with ability, place him in charge and give him the responsibility of equipment and building. It takes know-how to be successful in business and farming and it takes an equal amount to be successful in the operation of government. Good roads and bridges come under the latter category."

According to a highway engineer, John Billiter, Sidney, armour coat highways in that section of Nebraska are going to pieces so rapidly that the state has been unable to keep up with the repair work. The worst strip of road includes Highway 19 from Sidney south to the Colorado line north to Dalton, and from Dalton to the junction of highway 26 which was bituminous mat and seems to be standing better than No. 19. The highway between Kimball and Gering is so bad," according to Billiter. "He adds that armour coat is the offender. Bituminous roads are holding up better, although they are showing considerable damage."

F. H. Kliesch, state engineer, Lincoln, has announced the following awards of high way Wayne-Laurel to Lee and Johnson, Sioux City, Ia., $158,932; west of Scott bluff, Platte Valley Construction Co., Grand Island, $49,862; Merna-Litchfield, Lee and Johnson, Sioux

HONOR ROLL

High Pressure

Washington's high pressure lobby has turned its attention to the third district of Nebraska in its continuing quest for more and more federal money.

Armed with few facts but plenty of mimeograph paper and an agile imagination, the limestone trust has circulated to several hundred Nebraska farmers a form letter loaded with distorted facts and false implications.

The trust, represented by the National Agricultural Limestone Association, Inc., was rejected because congress refused to appropriate money for unnecessary purchases including limestone fertilizers.

The form letter implied that your representative had voted against the entire agricultural program. A quick glance at the record proves how far from the truth this is.

This is but one example of the vicious pressure that comes in any election year from groups jockeying for federal dollars—your tax dollars. In their ruthless pursuit of federal appropriations, they do not hesitate to disregard truth, distort fact, employ threats or use the worst kind of pressure.

The only obstacle between them and your tax money is the common sense of the American people and the courage of public servants to resist them.

Notes on ERP: The European recovery program will add hundreds of jobs to an already heavy federal payroll. Among them will be many positions paying from 10 to 15 thousand dollars annually.

Flight and the Veteran: While the nation prepares to build an armada capable of commanding world air, some groups are working in the other direction.

Under any one of five proposed bills, flight training under the GI bill of rights would be withdrawn. Sponsors of these bills point out that government-sponsored, vocational programs were set up to advance the veteran in his vocation or prepare him for a vocation.

Army Seeking More Nurses

Your army, urgently needs nurses. An intensive procurement program to build the army nurse corps up to its authorized strength is now underway, it was announced this week by the department of the army.

Stressing the army's obligation to provide medical care for duty personnel, the office of the surgeon general said that it is essential that the procurement of 27,000 nurses of both active and inactive status be accomplished as soon as possible.

Former nurses who served with the armed forces less than three years during World War II may be commissioned second lieutenants. Those with more than three years service but less than ten years service will be commissioned first lieutenants.

Many believe the time is not far off when the public will airfields busy without federal aid. But until that time when America's growing but wobbly-legged aviation industry can discard its crutch of government support, your representative will firmly oppose all measures aimed at stopping flight instruction under the GI bill.

Nebraska's annual Indian delegation to the capital went home last week after a busy round of conferences in the office of Indian Affairs and hearings before house and senate committees.

Five Percent of GI Loans Paid in Full

Lincoln More than six percent of the 10,990 World War II veterans in Nebraska who purchased homes, farms and businesses with money borrowed under the GI bill have paid back in full, loans amounting to $2,234,675, says Ashley Westwood, manager of the veterans administration, Lincoln Regional office.

He said that despite the fact home loans can be negotiated over a period of 25 years, 474 veterans already have paid up $1,572,117 they had borrowed for dwellings. Another 174 paid off $332,547 in farm loans that can have up to 40 years to run, while $330,011 in business loans, which can stretch over a period of 10 years if of a non-realty nature and up to 25 years if real estate is involved, was repaid by 166 veteran-borrowers.

By contrast, he said, only 27 veterans in the state had defaulted loans which resulted in claims by lenders against the VA. For these the agency has paid out $11,978.

Westmoreland and VA had guaranteed nearly half the amount of the paid-up loans, or $1,114,323. He added the agency is authorized to guarantee a maximum of $4,000 for home loans and up to $2,000 for non-realty transactions.

Feeders' Day

Over 3,000 stockmen, county agents and others gathered at Lincoln Friday to learn the latest results in research of livestock feeding. Prof. M. A. Alexander told farmers that there were opportunities in feeding and raising sheep. However, the average farm flock of 10 or 15 sheep is too small to be an economic unit.

Prof. L. E. Hansen reported on the latest results with distiller solubles. Distiller solubles is a by-product of the alcohol industries. It contains from 20 to 70 per cent protein. It contains vitamins, but lacks some of the other protein feeds and is palatable. Hansen reported that solubles have been successfully substituted for soybean oil meal, linseed oil meal, cottonseed oil meal or tankage in the ration of the only supplement that solubles could not replace in these experiments was dehydrated alfalfa meal.

Prof. M. L. Baker discussed lots of stock or feeding trials at the university being fed the same rations the only difference being the day that the hay was cut. The cattle being fed the July cut hay were outgaining the other cattle.

Prof. W. J. Loeffel reported on work being done with urea that can be substituted for protein supplements in cattle rations. Loeffel reported success in substituting urea for proteins in cattle and sheep, however harmful effects were noticed when urea was fed to non-ruminants.

Clarence Wright from Shenandoah, Ia., explained how farmers in Eastern Nebraska and western Iowa could get along with western farmers in raising livestock. A report on the work done on their farms in Iowa that they have been showing cash gains on their farms and they do not have an acre of rich ground. He also said they practically no soil erosion and that they are building up soil fertility each year.

Dr. W. L. Boyd of the University of Minnesota told farmers that we now have suitable means by which we can control brucellosis or bungs disease in cattle. He reported that at least 25 counties in Minnesota were being free. The method they use is a test and quarantine and call for vaccination with strain 19.

In relation to foot and mouth disease, he reported that for the first time, researchers were able to grow the virus that causes this disease on artificial media. This will give researchers a nearly unlimited opportunity for finding ways and means to control this disease.

Talking with several farmers after the meeting, they reported they thought it was the most successful Feeders' Day ever held. Several farmers had their boys with them and thought the boys got more out of the meeting than they themselves did. Dr. Hansen is planning to have another Feeders' Day program some time in October at which time the new hog barn will be completed and the work there will be fully explained.

Marathon — the famous money saving tire is back in the Goodyear line — and a better "buy" than ever! Back with the economy, long mileage and safety — the extra value for your dollars that made Marathon the favorite of millions of motorists before the war... back with more and stronger cords in the rugged tire body for even greater protection against tire failure. Look at these features...

LONG WEAR — New specially treated cords and newly compounded rubber make Marathon the tire that "runs and runs and runs".

NON-SKID SAFETY — These famous Goodyear diamond blocks really grip the road. You get safer, quicker stops — especially on wet, skiddy roads.

"COMPACTING TREAD" — Inflation forces the sidewalls out, compacts the tread. This reduces tread wear, punctures, bruises and breaks.

For a really sensational "buy" in tires, see us for Marathons today! And remember "new tubes save tires".

A 'Bought' Election

Early returns in the Italian election, pointing as they did to a resounding defeat for the communists...

In part, it was a diplomatic victory. The offer of the democratic nations to return Trieste to Italy was a skillful move...

But the victory also was due in part to the European recovery program, which is pouring vast sums of money into Italy...

We, personally, dislike the idea of "buying" an election, and we doubt that it is a sound method of selling democracy...

At this time, however, the democracies have little choice. Something had to be done in a hurry to slow up the communists...

With this money we are attempting to buy a "breathing spell"—time in which to prove that a just democratic government offers the best solution to the world's problems...

According to a story in the daily press, two air force enlisted men "were killed when their light plane struck a horse and crashed."

Flight Training

In recent months there has been considerable agitation to cut flight training out of the GI bill of rights...

Congressman Karl Stefan, in his weekly news letter, points to the fallacy of this proposal in the light of the program to expand the nation's air force...

"To achieve air supremacy, we will need vast civil and military air fleets, and, of course, the personnel to man them and the necessary installations..."

It is true that some unscrupulous flight school operators may have been using the flight training program of the GI bill principally as a means of enriching themselves...

This certainly is not the time to drop flight training from the GI bill of rights.

Protect Your Life and Property with a FAIRBANKS-MORSE WATER SYSTEM

You've seen it happen. First a small blaze, and before long the whole farm—barn, sheds, house, equipment, everything—is a mass of flames. And all because there was no way to get a stream of water at the base of that "little fire" when it started. Did you ever stop to think what you could do against fire without plenty of running water?

It costs money to train our people in safe working practices. It costs money to keep tools and equipment in proper working order—hazard free. But the time and money we gladly spend for safety are returned in many ways—in reduced chance of personal suffering and disability... in the healthier morale of an accident-free atmosphere... in the better, more economical telephone service we can provide when everybody is on the job, every day. Model Wedding Gowns of Bygone Days

Wedding gowns worn in the past 60 years, modeled in the "Pageant of Brides" program presented for guest day meeting of the Methodist Women's society in the church Wednesday last week, were predominantly of the design featuring long skirt with train, fitted bodice, high neck and long sleeves. Heavy satins, brocaded silks, velvet, eyelet, chiffon and other dainty materials were used in a variety of fashionings. Early and late gowns might easily be interchanged, but quite different were the designs of the 20's when short skirts, long waists and colorful materials brought decided changes.

Leticia Scott welcomed the more than 200 guests and Mrs. Raymond Ellis introduced Mrs. S. A. Lutgen who was reader for the program. Mrs. Ylio Kessler led devotions. Mrs. Lutgen opened and closed the pageant with original verse about brides.

Janette and Jeanette Dawson, in blue formal, lighted the white tapers in candelabra at either side of the altar on which were baskets of flowers. Marilyn Gamble, accompanied by Mrs. C. N. Olson, sang "At Dawning" and "I Love Thee." Mrs. Olson furnished musical music throughout the program. Larry Brandstetter, as ring bearer, and Renee Wiltse and Judy Sutherland, as flower girls, the former in pink and the latter in white formal, marched to the altar where they were seated while the brides of many years came up to display their gowns.

The oldest gown modeled was that which Winifred McElroy wore when she was married to David C. Main at Vinton, Ia., May 23, 1888. This dress of 60 years ago was worn by Emily Wait. The gown is heavy silk fashioned with high neck, long sleeves and fitted skirt.

Second oldest, worn 55 years ago, was that of Emily Young who was married to Henry A. Preston, May 20, 1893, at Oakland, Nebr. This is of a tan silk material with dark trim and is fashioned along princess lines. Mrs. John Ward, who wore the gown, also carried the handkerchief and gloves which Mrs. Preston had for her wedding. Mrs. Preston found that Mr. Preston's initials of H. A. P. always spelled happiness in their home.

Mrs. Wildon Hammit Stirtz modeled a gown of 50 years ago, worn by a family friend, Mrs. Merrill Peon of Woodbine, Ia. This was white with lace insets. The lace and ruffled trimmed gown worn by Clara Smith when she was married to J. W. Jones at Lincoln, Feb. 14, 1900, was modeled by Mrs. Erville Hughes. Mrs. Victor West modeled her own princess gown with lace and ruffles, worn when she as May Royce, became the bride of Dr. West at Malvern, Ia., Oct. 5, 1904. A long blue gown with flounces, which Emily Wait modeled, was worn by her grandmother, Emma Bayer who became the bride of Herman Waterman in Omaha April 2, 1909. Mrs. Robert Merchant wore the gown which Minnie Bartel had when she was married to Charles Heikes Jan. 20, 1910, at Hubbard.

Mary Wells was married to L. A. Finske at Sioux City Oct. 12, 1910 and Emily Wait modeled her gown with lace insets. Mrs. B. J. Brandstetter wore the gown in which she, as Elsa Kemnitz, became a bride at Almond, Wis., June 11, 1910. Mrs. Erville Hughes appeared in the gown which Elizabeth VanBuskirk wore when she became the bride of Thomas Johnson at Hay Springs, Feb. 17, 1915. Mrs. J. W. Sutherland wore the dress which was Angie Fish's bride gown June 2, 1920, when she was married to Russell Preston at Belden.

Anna Granquist wore dark blue quite short gown, Sept. 8, 1920, when she was married to Lyle Gamble at Winside, and she modeled this at the pageant. When Rachel Preston was married to Charles Bull at Wayne, June 8, 1921, she wore a white gown with veil and pointed shoes. This was modeled by her daughter, Mary Bull. A white gown heavily beaded was modeled by Mrs. J. T. Bressler who as Helen Main was married in Wayne Sept. 20, 1922.

Mrs. Dave Theophilus, the former Maude Thomas, wore the white gown with side drapes, which she had for her marriage at Salina, Kan., June 15, 1922. Angie Bull, who was married to Clarence Preston Dec. 27, 1923, in Wayne, modeled her white gown with lace overskirt and long waist. Edith Huse was married to Don Wightman in Wayne, Oct. 9, 1926, and she modeled the pink and blue short dress. Mrs. J. R. Keith wore her long white satin gown, which was her dress June 14, 1930, when she as Mildred Bone became the bride of Fred Keith.

Anna Blanche Evans wore short, fancy white gown when she was married to Henry E. Ley June 7, 1930, at Homer and she modeled this. Mrs. Robert Merchant wore the net over satin gown which Doris Rice chose when she was married to Prof. Ralph Sellhorn at Peru, June 4, 1935. Mrs. Edgar Meese, who as Mildred Simons wore white velvet at her wedding in Glidden, Ia., Oct. 22, 1936, modeled her dress. Barbara Morey wore the fitted white satin which was the wedding gown of Dorothy Dempster who was married to Orval Brandstetter at Neligh, Feb. 21, 1937.

A white satin with train was modeled by Mrs. Ed Woltske, who as Rachel Brandstetter became a bride May 28, 1940, at LeMars, Ia. A full soft white gown was modeled by Mrs. Clarence Bronzynski who as Lois Gamble became a bride May 26, 1946, in Wayne. Mrs. A. W. Jones wore her water-silk gown when she was married to J. L. Jones, 3, 1946, when she was Joanna Lull, Raymond Heikes and Kermit Andrews were married in Wayne Feb. 15, 1947, and Mrs. Andrews modeled her brocaded satin gown. Barbara Bull wore her white satin gown in which she was married to Paul Sievers Feb. 15, 1948, in Wayne.

At conclusion of the march of brides, three generations of dresses in the Preston family were presented. These gowns included those of Mrs. Emily Preston, Mrs. Charles Bull and Mrs. Paul Sievers.

Marjorie Brandstetter closed the program with solos, "O Promise Me" and "Because." The children followed the brides in the recessional and the Dawson twins exchanged their taper lights.

Mrs. Willard Wiltse, Mrs. James Allen and Mrs. C. N. Olson were in charge of the pageant.

Guests were invited to the parlors where refreshments were served from a table decorated in bridal shades. Mrs. W. A. Senter and Mrs. Victor Morey presided. Mrs. W. A.
