VA Helps 2,879 State Veterans

Lincoln—More than 2,879 World War II veterans in Nebraska have received assistance from the Veterans Administration's guidance and counseling service in planning their educational and training objectives under the GI bill and vocational rehabilitation acts.

Ashley Westmoreland, Lincoln regional office manager, said this special VA service offers information about schools, training and employment opportunities, as well as advice on what courses are best suited to the veteran's individual desires and capabilities as determined by special aptitude tests.

The guidance service, he explained, is a mandatory measure for disabled veterans before they are certified by VA for enrollment in educational or training courses, and is given to them free of charge.

He added that similar counseling is available to non-disabled veterans who have certificates of eligibility for study under the GI bill. There is no cost to them except that incurred for transportation to and from the VA guidance center. Application for the service can be made at any VA office.

Safety Authorities Score Nebraska's Safety Conditions

Traffic conditions in Nebraska, responsible for an average of five deaths each week during the first nine months of 1948, were given a raking over recently by experts.

The Nebraska Safety Council, which realizes many of the state's shortcomings beforehand, heard from Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, and Amos Neyhart, administrative head of the Penn State Public Safety Institute.

Dearborn spared no feelings in telling the Nebraskans, among other things, that: This state has too little control over its drivers through licensing; that the personnel of the state safety patrol, now 106 persons, should be doubled; that too few miles of Nebraska highways are included in no-passing zones.

Neyhart pointed to the poor driving records of Nebraska teenagers and recommended more classes for drivers in our high schools. The Safety Council, which has made progress in its brief two-year history under Hastings' Dwight Havens, decided at the close of the two-day session at Lincoln to ask the Legislature for some remedies. The council would:

- 1. Tighten up the licensing laws by establishing a chauffeur's license and making parents and guardians liable for 16 to 18-year-olds behind the wheel.
2. Set up a board of review for "repeaters" whose licenses could be revoked if their holders were adjudged highway menaces.
The council also urges expansion of driver education, including training courses in secondary schools, and uniform standards for school buses, as well as proper training, licensing and inspecting of their drivers.

VA Releases 1948 Report

Lincoln—The veterans administration in Nebraska operated a $1-million-dollar business during 1948 in administering the benefits voted ex-servicemen by congress, a year-end report by Ashley Westmoreland, Lincoln regional office manager, revealed today.

For disability compensation, subsistence payments to veteran students and the many veteran benefits administered by the VA, the Lincoln regional office expended an average of $2,924,000 each month during the year. The Lincoln office has jurisdiction over 152,000 veterans, 114,000 of whom saw service in World War II.

THE VA's vast rehabilitation and education program drew more than 9,933 new applications from World War II veterans during the past 12 months. Westmoreland said, and added that 307,000 now enrolled in educational courses or taking on-the-job or farm training.

Subsistence payments to the veteran-students averaged $1,261,000 each month, while tuition fees to schools cost the VA another $602,000 monthly. Another benefit of the GI bill—loan guarantees by the VA—attributed during the past 12 months, 2,311 veteran-borrowers in the state who made home, farm or business loans totaling more than $10,724,000. Of that amount, Westmoreland said, VA guaranteed or insured $5,314,000.

DURING THE YEAR, 1,780 applications for disability compensation the bulk of them from World War II veterans, swelled the total of those now receiving monthly checks for illness or injury suffered during service to 14,797. This Westmoreland said, represents more than 9 per cent of Nebraska's entire veteran population. He added the average cost each month for disability payments is $660,000. Statistics show the VA hospital at Lincoln admitted 3,202 veterans in need of medical care during the past 12 months, while in that period 2,952 patients were discharged.

IN THE SAME length of time, VA's out-patient service for veterans and with war-incurred disabilities rendered 19,573 individual examinations and treatments, and the program by which veterans with ties may have the work done at the service-connected dental disability-agency's expense, brought 6,383 applications. Meanwhile, VA's contact service in the state, in assisting veterans and their dependents to obtain the benefits to which they are entitled, made 109,476 personal contacts.

Entry Date for High School T. B. Contest Extended

Omaha—Because of an unusually active interest being displayed by high school students throughout the state in the annual high school newspaper story contest, the Nebraska Tuberculosis association has extended the deadline in this year's competition one week, to Jan. 15. This is the final date on which entries may be received in the offices of the association in Omaha.

Many entries have already been received, including news stories, editorials and cartoons. For those wishing to make last minute entries, the subjects on which they may write are: "What We Should Know About Tuberculosis," and "How Our Community Fights Tuberculosis." The winning student will receive a $25 savings bond, as will those whose entries are judged second and third best. The winners' schools will be rewarded with equipment for their newspapers.

The contest and many other important activities toward the fight against tuberculosis are financed wholly through the sale of Christmas seals which, despite the after-Christmas season, have not as yet reached the quota in Nebraska. Latest reports show that a total of $155,534 has been received by Seal Sale chairman throughout the state, toward a quota of $175,000, an amount necessary to maintain the program of the association during 1949.

Dr. J. Harry Murphy of Omaha, president of the association, reminded everyone this week that "we can still use any monies that are received to help us in our battle against tuberculosis." Africa's most famous gold district is the Rand near Johannesburg. Tierra del Fuego is a large island south of the Straits of Magellan.

Urges Veterans to Beware Racketeers

Lincoln—The veterans administration today warned veterans of a racket which may be operating in Nebraska involving solicitors who offer to sell forms for the purpose of obtaining the refund of all money paid into their GI insurance.

Ashley Westmoreland, Lincoln regional office manager, said the racket is being worked in several near-by states by men who claim to represent a veterans' news publication.

"If anyone tells a veteran that a form must be purchased for any government payment by the VA, it is an outright swindle," Westmoreland stated.

to pay GI insurance premiums the VA will do it without expense to the veteran."

Westmoreland urged veterans to notify the Better Business Bureau or the police if they are solicited by anyone offering to sell any forms they claim are necessary to obtain any benefit from the VA.

At the same time, he emphasized that GI insurance dividends will not be payable for several months and that forms for that purpose will be supplied by VA at the proper time.

Cats Drill For Loop Contest

Seven torrid weeks of Nebraska college conference basketball competition will engulf the Wayne State Wildcats beginning Jan. 7 when they tangle with Kearney State at Wayne in the second loop essay for the northeastern Nebraskans into the league race.

After the Friday night tilt with Kearney, the league's highest scoring quintet, Wayne, will meet Nebraska Wesleyan university at Wayne on Saturday night, Jan. 8. Both games will be played in the Wayne city auditorium. There will be preliminary games both nights between the "B" teams of the colleges. "B" games start at 6:30 p.m.; varsity games at 8 p.m.

OTHER HOME GAMES for the Wildcats in January include Peru State on Jan. 15 and Doane college on Jan. 16.

Midland college will entertain the Wildcats on Jan. 11 at Frisco. Midland grabbed a conference win from the Warriors before the holidays.

In other competition Wayne started the season slow by dropping two tilts to Morningside college of Sioux City. The first one went 62 to 52 against Wayne, but the Wildcats improved considerably to lose a heartbreaker in the second game 44 to 43. South Dakota university bumped Wayne 59 to 43 in an early season go.

During the holidays, Wayne split a double header against two Missouri colleges at Springfield. Drury college succumbed 46 to 44 but Southwest Missouri Teachers clambered over a Wayne stall to beat the Wildcats 43 to 40.

KEARNEY STATE, meanwhile, has been playing lots of basketball against classy intersectional rivals. Coach Don Meek is sharpening the Wayne attack and defense to hold the Kearney score to a minimum.

Kearney, Nebraska Wesleyan and Midland all beat Wayne once during the 1947-48 season when the Wildcats earned second place in the Nebraska College conference.

Wayne Blue Devils Down Roseland Quintet, 32 to 28

(by Paul Einung)

The Wayne Blue Devils downed Roseland, 32 to 28, last Thursday evening in a fast and exciting battle.

Wayne led the whole game, but the first quarter score, 6-5, was the closest. The Blue Devils widened the narrow margin, 12 to 8, at half-time and still more, 28 to 20, in the third period. Roseland put on a last hope rally late in the fourth quarter with baskets by Dwayne Krabel, Gene Auten and Dick Porty. The score was 28-30 when Dick Berry's foul in the closing seconds put Wayne out of danger.

DON TIETGEN was high pointer with 18 tallies with Dick Berry and Jack Fisher tied for second with 4 points each. Dwayne Krabel led the Roseland scoring with 11 points and Paul Geodert came second, making 10 counters.

The Wayne second team lost to the Roseland reserves, 14 to 24. Dwayne Atkins and David Meyer earned 5 points each while Maurice Proett and Reno Pfeil made 2 points each.

Wayne Loses to Wakefield 25-31

Wayne High dropped a well-played basketball game to the Wakefield five on the city auditorium here Tuesday night. The score: Wakefield 31, Wayne 25. It might be said that the game was won on a little black mark on the floor, commonly known as the free throw line.

Both teams counted a total of 11 baskets each to break even on floor play at 22 all. But, Wakefield added nine more valuable points on gift tosses, while Wayne connected for only three. And that was the final margin for the visitors—six points.

The performance of Bill Anderson, Wakefield's center, was undoubtedly the best on the floor. He counted 15 of the winning points while holding Wayne's center, Don Tietgen, to nine points. Anderson's play was hard, fast, dependable.

For Wayne, Guard Dick Dion topped the scoring list with four field goals and two free throws for a total of 10 points. Tietgen was close on his heels with four field goals also and one free throw for a nine point total.

Making all of his field goals of the entire game in the first quarter, Tietgen was largely responsible for Wayne's lead at the end of the first period. Dion added one basket to give Wayne a first quarter lead of 10-7. A lead was maintained through the second quarter until a few seconds before the buzzer, when a Wakefield basket put them in front at the half, 17-16.

During the third quarter, the visitors added only five points and Wayne but three, and the frame ended with Wakefield ahead 22-19.

Soon after the fourth period got under way the locals pulled up to 20 points on a good free throw by Dion, and then Wakefield started their successful freeze-out play. They took no chances at the basket unless the way was clear for a lay-up shot. They were able to keep possession of the ball most of the last six minutes, holding Wayne to five points during the quarter and netting six for themselves.

The work of Wayne's guards was creditable and held scoring by both Wakefield forwards to three field goals. Hype was allowed but two baskets by Dion Ring, guarded by Alan Cramer, got away for only one bucket. (Cramer, listed on the score book as left forward, was played at the guard position).

The box score follows:

Wayne (25)	fg	ft	pf
Baller, f	0	0-2	3
Cramer, f	1	1-1	2
Tietgen, c	4	1-3	5
Dion, g	4	2-4	4

For Wakefield, high pointer was Nimrod with 12 points. Swenson accounted for 10 points, and other scoring was scattered.

State Capitol News

The 61st session of the Nebraska legislature opened Tuesday, Jan. 4, with all 43 members in attendance, but minus the presiding officer, Lt. Gov. Robert Crosby. Bad weather conditions kept Crosby from convening the session, so Sen. Earl Lee of Fremont, ranking member of the majority,

The first day was spent in organizing, with Sen. Lee nosing out Sen. Arthur Carmody of Trenton for the position of speaker of the unicameral. Lee is a veteran of four legislative sessions and was chairman of the judiciary committee in the 1947 session.

Daniel Garber, former state senator from Red Cloud, was named sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. H. H. Hansen of Lincoln, postmistress; and Rev. E. C. Hansen of Lincoln was re-elected chaplain.

The committee on committees completed organization by selecting Sen. Harry Pizer of North Platte, chairman, and went right to work Tuesday evening selecting chairmen and members of the various standing committees. The committee on committees has three senators from each of Nebraska's four congressional districts, elected in caucus by the members from those districts.

Unanimously elected chairman of the legislative council was Sen. William Metzger of Cedar Creek. Sen. William Herr of Chadron will serve as vice chairman. Elections were necessary as both officers, Sens. Fred Seaton of Hastings and Roy Carlberg of Pender, were defeated for re-election to this legislative session.

Seventeen bills were introduced the first day of the session, an unusual record, according to Clerk Hugo Serb. Among them were bills to reconstitute the school laws and enlarge the purpose for which all school districts may issue bonds; and two bills to repeal the controversial community property law, one introduced by Sen. O. H. Persson of Wahoo and the other by Sen. Lester Anderson of Aurora.

The Ray Engels spent last week-end visiting relatives. They were at the Fred Vessler home in Dorchester Friday and Sunday, at the Henry Engel home in Friend and for dinner Saturday and at the Ben Engel home in Beaver Crossing for supper.

Nineteen years ago this past November we moved to Wayne and bought a small two personnel creamery and with the loyal support of each of you it is now a fourteen personnel creamery...

During the past nineteen years we have tried to pay the producers of milk, cream, poultry and eggs as high a price as they could get any place in the state.

Pasteurized milk and our daily delivery service was begun eighteen years ago. During these years a daily service has been maintained and we have not missed one delivery during that time.

The past year Homogenized milk and the Coverite bottle cap have been added and the equipment for this has been installed.

We intend to remain in Wayne and maintain a partial office at the Creamery to carry on our apartment house business as in the past.

The New Session Begins

As the new year begins, so does a new session of congress which, by its acts, can have much to do with what happens to the United States as the boom period comes to an end.

President Truman made many promises during his successful campaign, and it is predicted that he will ask congress for a program that will out-deal the New Deal and out-spend it, too. Naturally, if this comes to pass, more revenue will be needed to pay the cost—something that can be accomplished only by increasing taxes in a period when taxes already are too high.

Meanwhile, the administration also has the report of the Hoover economy committee, which has been busy investigating various phases of governmental operation and has pointed out many savings that can be made. Congress may not like some of the suggested economies, because to put them in effect will mean the lopping off of much of the patronage distributed by congressmen.

Surely the president and congress realize the vital necessity of holding spending to a minimum. Not only must they give deep consideration to any legislation which would permit increased spending, before enacting it, but they also should carefully weigh the findings of the Hoover report. It clearly shows how tremendous savings can be effected; there can be no valid reason why these suggestions should not be carried out.

The president derided the 80th congress as the "do nothing" congress. It was republican controlled. But the new congress is one of his own choosing. If the administration and congress fail to accomplish anything this time (and we don't mean out-spending and out-dealing the New Deal), they will have no excuse for their failure.

Good Luck, Gentlemen

This week two Wayne county officials, Judge J. M. Cherry and Commissioner Mark I. Swihart, are retiring after long periods of public service. Both men have served the county faithfully and conscientiously in jobs that are bigger and far more important than many people realize. The Herald joins Wayne countyans in extending to them a vote of gratitude for their service to this area, and we wish them the best of everything in the future.

The New Year

Sioux City Journal: If we Americans could have our way in the world there would be no envy or jealousy, or hatred or fear or suspicion or hostility or aggression anywhere on the planet. If we could we'd make a contribution toward the elimination of all misunderstanding among the nations of the world. If we were permitted by circumstances to do so we'd extend the hand of fellowship overseas to every race, every nationality, every government, assuring all of them of our eagerness to make it a better, more livable world.

So we look into 1949 expectantly for that is our way, praying for understanding, for adjustments of international disputes, for freedom for all and the blessings to be found in it. We don't know what the new year holds, but surely we'll make up our minds on one thing—that we shall do our duty by ourselves and by others as we see it, that we'll face to the front together and unafraid, willing to take whatever comes in the course of human events and make the most of it according to our talents.

To Get More Fun for Your Money. Knowing Scotty we are sure that he should be well qualified to write a book with such a title. It is a good book with honest-to-goodness sound ideas on the subject. You will not only enjoy reading it because he wrote it, but because it will actually help you to do exactly what he says it will do, and that is get more fun for your money. He speaks often in the book of his wife, Eddy, and the children, and how they figured out their money problems, and he also mentions the time when he worked for a newspaper in a small Nebraska town and what he learned about fun and money there. Wayne people who read the book will have the feeling that they are having a chat with an old friend.

An Autobiography Everyone Should Read
 Walter White is a Negro with skin so light that anyone who does not know the facts would take him for a white man. He has written the story of his life and work and called it "A Man Called White." It is a story of a man who chose to remain a Negro—a stirring record of action in his people's cause. It is not a bitter book but it is about as bitter as Negro-like it has ever been written before. We in the Midwest who are not faced with the racial problem are apt to be indifferent and that very indifference is as much a crime as though we had shown actual prejudice and hatred. To passively condone an action renders one just as guilty as taking part in it.

Tells Christmas Doings of Former Wayne Residents

In a letter to The Herald, dated Monday, Dec. 27, Laura Lyons of Long Beach sends holiday greetings to friends and reports on the doings of former residents of this vicinity.
 "Ella Piepenstock Miller entertained relatives over Thanksgiving. Mr. and Mrs. Merle Roe spent Christmas in Long Beach at the home of their daughter, Marjorie, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rupp."
 "I was sorry that Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Ingram were absent the day I called on them while in Alhambra."
 Paul Rethwisch has purchased a ranch near Merced, 88 acres and his family will move there in the first of January. Martin and Darrell will miss their Bellflower band concerts, having been members for several years, and accompanied the band to San Francisco, where it won honors.
 "Mr. and Mrs. Roy Palmer drove from Michigan to spend the winter. They have eight brothers and sisters to visit and are enjoying the places of interest. The latter, the former Ada Woodruff, was a student at the Normal school and made her home with her grandmother, the late Mrs. Gildersleeve."
 "I made a holiday call on Mrs. May Davies Goldie. She is recovering nicely from a broken left wrist."
 "CONSTRUCTION" begins in January on the new First Baptist church of which Dr. Winfield Edson is pastor. His wife is the daughter of Dr. J. T. Anderson, former president of Wayne State Teachers college. I see the latter and his wife occasionally. This new sanctuary will be located on Pine avenue at Tenth street. It will have a 90-foot front and a very up-to-date pretentious entrance. In addition to the seating capacity of 1450 in the main auditorium, a memorial chapel for former Pastor Knight will seat 260 and a prayer chapel will seat 75. A parking space for 75 cars will adjoin the structure.
 Miss Lyons reports that it rained some during a heavy shower which started the day before she wrote. Rainfall was still below the normal amount to date.
 "ON JAN 1 at 2 a.m., Long Beach returns from Pacific daylight time to standard time. This is the day of the Pasadena Rose Bowl parade and football game, which the writer does not expect to attend."
 "There were 70 bands with 300 drum majors and majorettes on the evening of Nov. 25 to usher in the holiday season. I was ill with a cold and so could not see them although I could hear the drum-beats one block east. Santa Claus rode the only float in the three-hour spectacle."
 "People in buildings felt the earthquake three weeks ago, but those walking on the street knew nothing of it. No damage was done here."
 "Rainbow pier, which was partly wrecked by a storm some years ago, is being repaired at a cost of $127,000. It is hoped to be opened for auto driving May 1."
 "By Feb. 1, Artesia street bridge in North Long Beach should be opened for traffic. It is costing $200,000 and is badly needed."
 "THE VETERANS' Memorial stadium in Lakewood village will soon be under construction. Many other improvements around the city are being made."
 Mrs. Lyons closed with best wishes to all.

by JAMES C. OLSON, Superintendent STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY
 During the Civil War the people of Nebraska territory faced a problem not encountered by many residents of the Union. They not only were called upon to fight the rebels, but had to defend themselves as well against an enemy at their own back door. This enemy the Indians—was much more real in the minds of many of the settlers than the soldier of the South.
 The demands of the war caused the government to withdraw all but token forces from the frontier posts like Fort Kearney and Fort Laramie, thus removing the settlers' principal source of protection against the Indians. In addition, Nebraska Territory was called upon to furnish its share of a call amounting to nearly one-ninth of the white population.
 The residents of the territory were more than a little disturbed at this turn of events. Most of them thought that with the regular army forces removed, the territorial militia should remain at home to protect life and property from the Indians.
 At Niobrara, the citizens staged a riot in an attempt to prevent the embarkation of troops on the steamboat Omaha. Four persons were killed and several more were wounded.
 By 1862 the situation was so serious that Governor Alvin Saunders ordered all male citizens between 21 and 45 remaining in the territory to enroll for military service. At the same time he notified recruiting agents from other states to cease their work immediately and all citizens of the territory were forbidden to enlist in any Governor's authority.

 The Nebraskans had genuine cause for alarm. All along the frontier, the Indians seized upon the Civil War as an opportunity to exact revenge on the whites who had taken their land. During 1862, southern Minnesota ran red with blood drawn by Sioux on the warpath.
 And in Nebraska two years later, in Randolph Friday to visit Mrs. Ross Bernard.

far east as though settlers might be driven from the area entirely. Suffice to say, they were not. The territorial militia, the Pawnee Scouts, and such units as could be spared from the regular army carried the day, and shortly after the end of the war, peace was restored to the region.

Be an Early Bird!

And Be Ready to Get Into the Fields at the First Breath of Spring

There's still time, before spring work, to get every piece of machinery on the farm in good shape, so that you can work straight through from spring to fall with a minimum of trouble. Farming is no picnic, no matter how good your tools are. But if they're ready to fall apart, farming can be a nightmare. That's why it is a good idea to repair your equipment now. Don't wait until the last-minute rush if you want to avoid delays which may keep you out of the fields when you ought to be working in them.

30 Years a Welder 27 Years in Wayne

January 1, the start of a new year, marked the close of our 30th year in the welding business. In our opinion, welding has become more than a business... it is a profession that requires a skilled operator who has had many years of experience, working with the finest of modern equipment, to produce a welding job that not only looks good, but IS GOOD.

Rather than trying to branch out with a number of sidelines, we have devoted all our time to welding and to radiator repair, and we believe the experience we have gained has earned many satisfied customers for us.

We have new cores for all makes of radiators, and our service includes radiator cleaning and installation.

To the farmers and townspeople of the Wayne area, we want to say: "Thanks for your confidence in us and thanks for the business you have given us. We intend to keep on serving you in the future as conscientiously and as carefully as we have in the past."
